In the Discipline (page 171, paragraph 418, edition 1898) we read, "The object of this institution shall be to advance the cause of Christianity by disseminating religious knowledge and useful literary and scientific information in the form of books, tracts and periodicals." Thus ample provision is made for furnishing suitable literature for every department of our church work, as well as for family and individual use. Of the various and innumerable books that are made or kept in stock we can only note in general as follows: There are the Holy Scriptures, in numberless forms and styles; church histories and religious biographies, together with doctrinal, theological, practical and devotional works of all sizes, styles and prices, and adapted to all ages and conditions of life. Two books of chiefest interest to our people, next to the Bible, are the Discipline and Hymn Book, both of which are of inestimable value; the former as containing the doctrines, rules and polity of the church, and the latter as comprising the very best hymnology of the day, both new and old.

Time and space will not allow the mention in detail of the vast number of valuable books provided for use in our Sunday-schools and Epworth Leagues, and of thousands of tracts on almost every conceivable topic and for use on every occasion of religious service or pastoral work and visitation. We are not wanting in an adequate supply of periodical literature in the way of quarterly, bi-monthly and weekly publications, of which we make special mention as follows:

The Methodist Review is a bi-monthly, edited by the brainy Dr. J. J. Tigert, who is assisted by a corps of able contributors. Each number is brimful of the best thought of the day on church, religious, scientific, literary and other timely topics. It is a meritorious publication, and should be read by every traveling and local preacher, and by the leading laymen of the church.

The Christian Advocate is a weekly religious newspaper, and is the connectional organ of our church. It is most ably edited by Rev. E. E. Hoss, D. D., assisted by Rev. J. W. Bonwell, D. D., of our own Conference. For religious information, for versatile and timely matter, and for all that a religious paper should stand for, it is the equal of any on the continent, and better than any other for our Southern Methodist people. This invaluable paper is deserving of a far wider circulation and more extensive reading than it has ever attained among our people.

The Epworth Era is published in the interest of the Epworth League work and for the benefit of our young people generally. It is a sprightly, instructive and inspiring weekly, edited by Rev. H. M. DuBose, and is worthy of a far larger patronage than it is receiving.

Of Sunday-school periodicals we have the Magazine, a monthly; the Children's Visitor, weekly and monthly; Quarterlies and Lesson Papers—all under the editorship of the Sunday-school editor, Rev. J. Atkins, D. D., and his assistant, Rev. L. F. Beaty. These are all excellent, and of great value to those for whom they are designed. The Magazine is indispensable to all Sunday-school officers and teachers in order that they may keep up to date in plans and methods of work, and in understanding of the lessons being studied, and thus be equipped for the best service possible. No preacher or worker who would keep abreast with the Sunday-school work of the day can afford to be without it. The Visitor is a charming paper for the children and youth. It is well suited to all young hearts, however old may be the bodies that bear them. No person, old or young, can read this bright and cheery sheet without being refreshed in spirit. It will prove to be a religious educator and comforter in any home which will entertain its weekly visits.

In the interest of our missionary work we have the Review of Missions, The Woman's Missionary Advocate, Little Worker, and Our Homes, all of which publications are valuable for imparting information and stimulating interest in the cause of missions, both home and foreign. The Twentieth Century Education is a monthly paper published by authority of the General Board of Education in behalf of the educational interests of the church.

In addition to the above-named connectional periodicals, there are about sixteen local papers, of which number is the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, the special organ of our Conference, which needs to be read by those who would keep in touch with our local church interests and work. It is edited and published by Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., assisted by Rev. M. M. Black, for the Louisiana, Mississippi, and North Mississippi Conferences.

Thus we see that all diligence is being used for supplying printed matter suited to all occasions and circumstances for the religious development of the individual and the advancement of Christianity in the world. In order that these purposes be accomplished, the books and papers must be circulated and read. In this, as in every other good work, the preachers must lead. From the beginning it has been one of the requirements of a Methodist preacher "to see that all the people within the bounds of his charge be duly supplied with our books and periodicals."

Mr. Wesley looked diligently to this phase of the work, and urged its faithful performance. He deeply lamented any seeming neglect of it, and on one occasion, when there had been apparent negligence by some of the preachers, he exclaimed, "Oh, why is this disregarded!" Once, when the question was asked in a Conference, "What can be done to revive the work of God where it is decayed?" one of his answers was, "Be more active in dispersing the books."

Our fathers in the ministry were assiduous in this part of their work. In the days of horse-back circuit riding, when travel was well-nigh incessant, preaching almost daily, and pecuniary support scanty, almost every preacher carried in his saddle-bags a lot of books and tracts, and solicited orders for the church papers. They did not deem this as in the least degree unbecoming their high calling and work, but as needful to reinforce their ministry and make it the more effective. While this is an age of changed and changing conditions in many respects, there remains the same great necessity for this part of pastoral work as existed in former days.

The pastors of to-day have more available means and helps for this service than those of the past, which they should utilize with all diligence, lest it appear that "the children of this world are wiser in their generation than the children of light."

Our church rules forbid the "singing those songs and reading those books which do not tend to the knowledge or love of God." This we hold as a wise injunction, in view of the known evils of corrupt or trashy literature.

In order to its observance, parents and teachers should use all endeavors to keep from the home and the school all books and papers of pernicious or doubtful tone or tendency, and to supply those that are calculated to improve piety and stimulate to good works. If we do not introduce good reading matter into Methodist homes, it is probable that others will inject that which is not good. Especially are our young people in danger of being poisoned and corrupted by bad books and papers. The class of reading that they indulge in will have a plastic power on their character and lives. How important, therefore, that they have that which will tend to godliness and attach them to the church.

There is hope of a family that reads and prizes its denominational literature; but if parents speak disparagingly of their church books and papers, and treat them with indifference and introduce others in preference, it does not require a prophet to foretell the results. The children will in all probability be lost to the church, if not to the God and heaven of their parents. Then, let us begin betimes with the children and encourage them to read good and useful books and papers, such as are suited to their capacities and needs. Let us use all diligence in cultivating their tastes and habits on this line. This may be done by putting suitable books and papers in their way and recommending them to their consideration.

Let all who have the care of souls be assiduous in sowing the good seed, lest while they sleep the enemy sow tares.

Correspondence.

NOTICE.

To the Pastors and Presidents of Epworth Leagues in the Shreveport District—

DEAR BRETHREN: As president of the District League, I would like to call your attention to a resolution passed by the late Conference held at Keatchie. The resolution requests each pastor to send to Dr. DuBose for the necessary literature, for distribution, for organizing a League, and then to call his young people together and organize them into an Epworth League. The presiding elder was asked to assist in this good work, and I am sure you will find in him a ready and willing helper.

Another resolution was passed endorsing the Holston plan, and requesting all the Leagues of the district to render a hearty compliance to its plan, which, simply stated, is to see that the missionary assessments are paid in full, by (1st) "Raising a surplus to meet any deficit that may remain on the charge after the pastor has done what he could." (2nd) "To meet, after the assessments on the charge have been paid, any deficit that may be on the district." (3rd) "After the district has been paid out, to meet any deficit that may remain on the entire Conference." That simply means that we are asked to help the unfortunate brother bear his burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

The deficit on this district last year was only $331 on both collections; $247 on foreign missions, and $84 on domestic missions. I am sure with a little self-sacrifice we can wipe this reproach out.

Let every League in the district do its full duty, and send the amount raised to your treasurer, Mrs. S. J. Woodruff, 1213 Spragne street, Shreveport, La.

The Leagues of the district were asked to contribute 5 cents per capita for the publishing of the Minutes of the District League Conference, and $1 each to pay for the programs. I would be glad if those Leagues that have not already done so would immediately remit these amounts to Sister Woodruff.

Yours respectfully,

WM. G. EVANS.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY MOVEMENT IN THE SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.

For about a month and a half the forces of the Shreveport district have been resting on their arms, and yet the good work of taking subscriptions has not been allowed to stop. We have not begun to measure up to our responsibilities yet in this matter. Who is to blame I am not able to say, but I have noticed that wherever the pastor is interested the people are more than apt to be; and where the cause is intelligently presented from the pulpit and in private, and the people see what the church expects of them, they are ready to respond liberally.

Some of the charges of this district have responded liberally to the call for thank-offerings. Mansfield, with 169 members, has given $375. First Church, Shreveport, with a membership of 482, has pledged about $850, and may yet run it up to about $1000. South Bossier circuit, which has 243 members, has pledged $300, and will raise about $100 more. Benton, with 49 members, responded to Bishop Galloway's call with $161, and the Red River circuit about a year ago pledged $212 50.

The whole district has raised about $2500, and may be counted on to run the amount up to $4500, or possibly more.

The canvass in earnest will start again early in September, when the committee expects to visit one or more places in each pastoral charge. Let each pastor prepare the ground well by preaching on the subject of Christian education and in private interesting those who should give liberally. In this cause, let us work while it is day. WM. G. EVANS.

W. F. M. S.

Edited Weekly by North Mississippi, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences.

EDITORS.

N. Miss. Conf...Mrs. J. F. Evans...Eupora, Miss
Miss. Conf....Mrs. E. D. Jones...Carlisle, Miss
La. Conf.....Mrs. T. P. Fullilove..

The request comes to us, "Call the attention of the women to the Century Fund." So much has been well said and written on the subject, that it seems almost useless for my pen to trace a word. Those who read and listen have heeded, and those who blind their eyes and stop their ears can not be reached.

Since the recent tragic fate of our missionaries in China, we hear from the world the same cry which has ever emanated from the Anti-christ: "Ah! ha! our eyes have seen it;" and lake-warm Christians are tempted to repeat the words of Judas, "Why such waste?"

We know not the Why? and Wherefore? of the mysterious workings of Providence, but we do know that God still holds the reins of the universe, and all the rage of devils will not prevail against him. Our hearts are grieved beyond measure at the sad fate of our missionaries, but until we can view their translation from eternity's stand-point, we dare not question God's justice and mercy. They passed through the fiery furnace, and, doubtless, emerged on heaven's side without the smell of fire on their garments. We must live strictly by faith until we can comprehend the words of Jesus, "And some of you shall they cause to be put to death, . . . but there shall not a hair of your head perish." The missionaries were ours, and we are bereaved, but they were God's in a higher sense, and he knows how and when to call his own to their reward.

China is saturated with martyrs' blood, and becomes therefrom a fertile field for the seed of the church. Humanity clamors, "Eye for eye, tooth for tooth," but divine nature ever exclaims, "Father, forgive them; they know not what they do!"

Our wise rulers (ordained of God as instruments of vengeance) will in time mete out justice where it is due. "And shall not God avenge his own elect? I tell you that he will avenge them speedily." Vengeance belongs to God, and our part in the economy of Providence is manifestly to press forward against the enemies of the Prince of Peace.

The Savior did not say, "Go slowly, and retire when the enemy presses hard;" but, "Go into all the world;" "Endure persecution;" "Endure hardness—yea, endure death, if need be," and, "Lo, I am with you to the end." The end may be martyrdom, but "I am with you to the end."

Missions has never been child's play with the missionaries. Complete surrender of everything, including life, if necessary, is their offering. Nothing but entire consecration could ever thrust brave men and gentle women into the heart of heathendom. Alas! that the playing and halting should be found in the home workers, who measure their sacrifice by a few dollars.

Even in this terrible crisis, when faint hearts are quailing at home, the clarion call comes backward over the seas from our veterans at the front: "China must be redeemed. May the glorious opportunity of this persecution against missions produce unity among the great missionary churches! When the campaign gets free again the spirit of reform, it will tax all our resources to provide for the demand. We must show that we are in earnest, and for once rise to the occasion—the grandest in the history of world-wide missions. No more playing at missions—no more one-man concerns."

To meet this hastening demand, the opportunity has been prepared beforehand, and is laid at our door in the great Century Offering asked of the church. Have we responded to the extent of our ability? In the safety and abundance of our Christian homes, have we proven our grief for the martyrs and our faith in God by an offering involving sacrifice—aye, by any offering at all?

The call is urgent, and the opportunity is a question of life or death for the missionaries—end, alas! possibly spiritual life or death for us.

There are only four months left us for this Century Thank-offering. Sisters of W. F. M. S., is there nothing else we can do? Let us bring the question down to individual application and ability. Can we not provide "a wisp of straw" to some beast of burden as he toils under the load of timbers being carried up to the Temple? There may be a "crown" hidden in an old bonnet worn another season, while the cost of a new one goes over these seas. Would there be any sacrifice in this? Do we feel right? Feeling is a strong motive power when work is projected, but feeling alone never set a star in any crown.

Why can't we plan and execute great things in this extremity for our Lord! How many life-members have we in our auxiliaries? If there is a single honorary life-member in the State Society, it has not been reported. Why can't we make our efficient, faithful officers life-members or even honorary life-members, beginning with our worthy president? The compliment would be appreciated, and all the money could be credited to the Century Fund.

MRS. T. P. FULLILOVE.

Shreveport, La.

The Women's Missionary Conference of the Greenville district was held at the Methodist Church in Gunnison, Miss., July 28-30, 1900.

The Conference opened with a consecration service, Saturday, at 8:30 P. M., conducted by Rev. W. McIntosh, whose earnest words inclined many hearts to a better life, and many pledges were made to that effect.

A large congregation assembled on Sunday to hear the Conference sermon preached by Bro. McIntosh. He gave us a vision of the crucified and risen Lord walking among his churches, and made us feel that we can not fail while God is with us. He will conquer in China and everywhere else in spite of "wars and rumors of wars." An interesting children's service was held at 5 o'clock P. M. After an entertaining talk by Mrs. McIntosh and some recitations by the children, Mrs. G. C. Jones organized a juvenile society with twenty members. In the evening Mrs. McIntosh gave a delightful account of the Ecumenical Missionary Conference, and spoke of the unwavering faith and unfailing zeal of the returned missionaries.

The business sessions were unusually pleasant, and showed that our society has grown and is vigorous and advancing.

Mrs. J. D. Davenport, of Gunnison, is now district secretary, Mrs. G. C. Jones, who has done such efficient work, having resigned to accept the place of Conference treasurer.

MRS. J. R. COUNTISS, Sec.

The Christian Life.

The exact difference between the sinner rich in this world's goods, and a Christian poor in earthly substance as they approach the last river, is this: The one is going from his treasures, the other is going to his. How much better those riches which endure, the treasures which moth and rust can not corrupt, and so secure that thieves can not break through and steal. Not that earthly treasures are not of value to the Christian when used for God's glory, but if, in setting the heart upon them, greater riches are neglected, they become a curse rather than a blessing. Let us see to it that whatever our earthly condition may be, we "lay up treasures laid up for eternal."—Central Methodist.

If a steward goes after a backslidden member for quarterage, he never to speak to him about backsliding, by what process of logic does that steward prove that he does not think more of the backslider's money than of his soul? If a preacher hunts up a careless member of his flock to secure a contribution on benevolent collections, but does not hunt him up to inquire after his carelessness of spiritual life, how can that preacher demonstrate that spirituality is worth more in his mind than "full collections?" Echo answers "How?"—Midland Methodist.

Regeneration is the beginning of life, and not the termination of religious aspiration.—Richmond Advocate.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI NOTES.

I spent a day or two in Oxford, Miss., recently, and while there had the pleasure of meeting the president of the woman's college. I was quite favorably impressed with him—in fact, my conversation with him led me to believe that he has a genine love for his calling. He has come rapidly into favor with the people of Oxford. To have won high praise from men like Dr R W. Jones, and other members of the faculty of the State University, is evidence of merit and appreciation any teacher might be proud of.

I was sorry to learn that the presiding elder of the Grenada district has been indisposed, and has been quietly resting at home during the hot weather.

Rev. J. R. D. King, of Coffeeville, is having a good year. He is a good preacher and an industrious pastor, and, of course, such a man is in demand everywhere.

While at Grenada I caught a glimpse of the handsome face of the venerable president of Grenada College. The outlook for this school is good; better, perhaps, the president thinks, than any time in the past.

If one should tarry long around Winona, he will certainly see the coming or going of the industrious book-man, who keeps constantly on hand a good supply of new books; and as they are furnished by the Methodist Publishing House, they are equal to any in the land. All young preachers should read at once and master Bishop Candler's new book.

H. J. S.

"Good Beginnings Make Good Endings."

You are making a good beginning when you commence to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for any trouble of your blood, stomach, kidneys or liver. Persistently taken, this great medicine will bring you the good ending of perfect health, strength and vigor.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C.A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

J.C. MORRIS CO. LTD-

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas
T. G. MACKIE, L. MIEG, O. K. LINCOLN, JR
324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
AXES, ALARM TILLS, CAGES, CLOCKS, CROQUET, BASKETS, BASEBALLS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, DUSTERS,
Enameled Steelware, Freezers, Fishing Tackle,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASSWARE, HAMMOCKS, Japanned Ware, Ice Chests,
KEGS, LADDERS, LAMPS,
MARBLES, NAIL PULLERS,
OARS, OIL TANKS, REFRIGERATORS, ROPE, TINWARE, TRAPS, TWINES, PAPER, PADLOCKS, SOAPS, STATIONERY, WATER COOLERS, WHIPS, WOODENWARE,
Etc. Trade Solicited.

DR. LETELLIER'S Sunflower Tablets.

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any druggtore, or will be sent postoald to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Tract Bld'g, New York City.

Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

MARTHA WASHINGTON COLLEGE and Conservatory of Music,
ABINGDON, VA.
41st YEAR.

A postal addressed to Rev. W. M. Dyer, Abingdon, Va., will secure a handsome, artistic year book, illustrated in colors, telling of the refining influence of this superior Virginia school; the eight-acre lawn with more than a mile of walks; extensive grounds for outdoor games; high course of study; scholarly faculty; work in music, art, elocution, and physical culture; and circulars giving testimonials from highest sources in the South. Three large brick buildings. Modern conveniences. 111 boarding students past year.

Items from the Field.

MEETING AT BELVIEW, MISS.

I have just closed a meeting of great spiritual power and blessing at Belview, Miss. A backslidden church was revived, more than twenty sinners saved and eighteen added to the church. I have recently finished my church-building at Lula. My whole charge is doing well.

W. L. GRAVES.

Lula, Miss., Aug. 20, 1900.

JACOBY, LA.

I have been acting as an independent missionary in Pointe Conpee parish, but will be under the direction of my pastor, Bro. Parker. I closed a meeting at Latanache on the fifth. Eight will unite with the church. Organized a Sunday-school with 25 members. The Lord has been with me.

(REV.) S. B. WILLIAMS.

Jacoby, La., Aug. 17, 1900.

MEETING AT M'ANERNEY.

Have just closed a great meeting at McAnerney, a little church of 38 members. We held 17 services, had 5 or more conversions, and 14 additions to date. My brother, Rev. E. S. Lewis, preached 7 times for me. He won all hearts. The old-time power rested on the people, and sinners came to the altar and were converted. Quite a number of the conversions are church members. We have a Sunday-school there of 70 members.

T. W. LEWIS.

Carrollton, Miss., Aug. 20, 1900.

REVIVAL AT POPLARVILLE, MISS.

Assisted by Revs. W. M. McIntosh and T. J. Norsworthy, we have just closed a meeting of eleven days at Poplarville, Miss. These brethren are most agreeable co-laborers. It is a delight to be associated in a meeting with them. They rendered fine service throughout. Congregations were very large and attentive. We had about forty accessions to the different churches; about half of these to our church, seventeen of whom we received in a class last Sunday. No doubt the number of conversions and reclamations exceeds the number of accessions.

Our Poplarville church has been revived and steadily moving forward during the year. In Lumberton and Poplarville we have had about forty-five accessions. The Lord has smiles graciously upon us.

B. S. RAYNER, P. C.

Aug. 22, 1900.

LETTER FROM REV. K. W. DODSON.

It was all, I suppose, have our musing moods, at which times we contrast the present with the past and the old friends with the old; and if a preacher—our present charge and people with a previous one. Well, I find myself a victim to these moods, and while in this spell, I am tempted to write. While previous to coming to Louisiana, though I had lived in different States, I had belonged to but one Conference, and when my name was read out, "Transferred to the Louisiana Conference," I felt as though I had sailed out on a new sea, of which I knew but little. My name was considered by a cabinet, no one of the members of which I knew personally, nor did any of them know me. They all must have been kindly disposed toward me, for, at any rate, I received a splendid appointment.

I find that while there are difficulties peculiar to this locality, there is a more fraternal feeling among the Methodists here than I have seen elsewhere. Our presiding elder (and I suppose the others in this Conference are similar) manifests an unusual and abiding interest in his preachers and in their personal welfare. The preachers and laymen also have given us the hearty handshake of welcome. I have almost been made to feel that I was born and reared in Louisiana, and in or near New Orleans. My charge (one of the best in the Conference) received us kindly, and spared no pains to make us feel at home; looking carefully after our interests and supplying our wants. But I hardly need say more about my people, as most of the readers of the ADVOCATE know something of the good people of Algiers Church.

K. W. DODSON.

FISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS

GRAND MEETING ON THE LANESVILLE (LA.) CHARGE.

This scribe has just closed a ten days' meeting with Rev. Chas. F. Staples at Pine Grove Church, the strongest organization in the bounds of Lanesville charge. It was a grand meeting, resulting in twenty-eight professions of faith and twenty accessions to the church. The membership was much revived, and the work of God will go mightily forward in that elect community under the leadership of Bro. Staples, who is a godly man and earnest pastor, assisted by some of the noblest men and women that grace North Louisiana.

The meeting was an old-time revival, attended by old-time revival power, and we gladly sang "The Old-Time Religion" one night when ten were converted to God at one altar service. We had no wild-fire or strange doctrines, and the orthodox altar methods were used and blessed of God. God baptized us with his spirit, and made the plain gospel efficacious in the salvation of men.

We must return to these old-time methods, and each presiding elder's district should have a camp meeting under orthodox control; the conditions now demand it in all this Southern territory. God will bless us. We indorse your editorial on field preaching. Our candlestick will still be gold, and shed a brighter light, if we honor the gospel and the heaven-favored methods which made our early history a succession of victories, and we will soon rebuke the charge of worldliness and apostacy laid at our doors by certain "come-outers." God our Father has not forsaken his children who favor neither formalism nor fanaticism, but will yet give us the souls of men for our hire, as he has in the former days.

COURTLAND P. SMITH.

Minden, La., Aug. 20, 1900.

WORK DURING VACATION.

During vacation most of my time has been spent in revival work. On account of lack of time, I had to refuse a number of earnest requests for meetings. My first meeting was with Bro. J. B. Kent at Donaldsonville. The heavy rains interfered with the services. The meeting resulted in a quickening of the faith of the church members. The next meeting was with Bro. J. H. Montgomery at Sulphur City. The members of the church were revived and a few new ones were added. We found both these brethren in good favor with the people of their charge, and they have a bright prospect for a good report at Conference. I next assisted Bro. W. R. Harvell in three meetings on Bonita circuit. We preached at Bonita ten days and witnessed a gracious revival during that time. The power of the Holy Ghost came down upon some hardened sinners, and we saw them brightly converted. The members of the church were greatly revived, and with renewed energy have begun to work for the success of the church. Before Conference Bro. Harvell hopes to have a church-building completed at this place. At Mt. Carmel Church we heard the shouts of new-born souls; some of the services were pentecostal in character. Christians received "the gift of the Holy Ghost" and mourners were converted unto God. At Bartholomew Church we found a comparatively well-organized membership. We had some very good personal workers. The meeting from the very start showed signs of careful preparation for a revival. Prayer had been made for it, and the people expected God's presence to be manifested. Mourners were earnestly seeking the salvation of their souls at every service. We had "seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord." Hearts were filled with the Holy Ghost and souls were being saved. In each meeting we had accessions to the church. Bro. Harvell is beloved by all the people of his charge, and he is meeting with wonderful success. He is a faithful pastor and an earnest gospel preacher. The people of his charge had been prepared for the meetings, and this account very much for why we witnessed such signal manifestations of God's power.

I am now with Bro. Bogan at Bayou Barbary. We expect an outpouring of the Holy Ghost, and the signs are for a good meeting. I have two more meetings to hold, after which I will return to Vanderbilt University.

ALBERT S. LUTZ.

Aug. 16, 1900.

Pimples

Are more than a disfigurement of the skin; they are a handicap to a young man, alike in love and business. The pimply face looks dissipated and both merchant and maiden look askance at the unfortunate fellow whose face is his misfortune. An almost certain cure for pimples and similar disfiguring eruptions is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies the blood of the corrupting cause of ordinary eruptive diseases, cleanses the skin and builds up the body with sound wholesome flesh. "Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I am well pleased with your medicines," writes John A. Calloway, Esq., of No. 218 26th St., Columbus, Ga. "In 1894 I was working at night and I broke out in lumps all over, and when these left the skin peeled off. I took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two of Doctor Pierce's Pellets, and I do believe that I am sound and well. I have a good appetite, but before I commenced treatment I had no appetite at all. My eyes were sunken and my face was pale. I had pimples and brown spots on my face. Now these are all gone. I have used many kinds of medicines but received no benefit. Last year I weighed one hundred and thirty-four pounds, and now I weigh one hundred and forty-five. Please accept my thanks. I am so glad I found the right kind of medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS. UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY.
Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O.
Mention this paper.

BELLS
Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established
BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY
THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College
New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.
Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.
Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.
A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.
Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.
Address GEO. SOULE & SONS.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change. . . .

DIRECT LINE TO
Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

Beef Steak in a Bottle.

That fresh, juicy beef, ready for digestion, can be made into a delicious cordial is a marvel, but chemistry has accomplished it. Sick people at a distance from markets and needing the nourishment afforded by beef tea can procure Dicks' NUTRITIVE ELIXIR and find it the best liquid food and stimulant known. For loss of appetite, weak digestion, debility, typhoid fever, and consumption it is invaluable.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE.
NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO
Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,
AND TO ALL POINTS
North, -:- East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between
NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers.

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A. J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A. E. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.

YOU SAVE $40

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.
H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the WELLINGTON
has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to
H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.
and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.

Forty-sixth Session opens Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1900. Situated in the highland region of North Louisiana, on Kansas City Southern Railroad, on the dividing ridge between the Red and Sabine rivers; nearest point not less than twenty-five miles from either river. Just closed one of the most prosperous sessions in the history of the college. Send for illustrated catalogue.

T. S. SLIGH, President.

Business College, Bowling Green Business College.
Southern Normal School. Normal College.
TWO SEPARATE SCHOOLS UNDER ONE MANAGEMENT.
One Thousand Students Will be In Daily Attendance During the Coming Year.

HUNDREDS of the leading PROFESSIONAL and BUSINESS MEN of the country are GRADUATES of these Institutions. The following courses are taught: Primary, English, Teachers', Preparatory, Scientific, Classic, Elocution and Oratory, Vocal Music, Instrumental Music, Law, Business, Short-Hand, Type-Writing, Penmanship, Telegraphy, and Civil Service. Any student who enters the BUSINESS COLLEGE will have the privilege of entering the SOUTHERN NORMAL SCHOOL and pursuing any Literary branch or branches taught without extra charges. We give two months' tuition free with every five months' scholarship issued by the Bowling Green Business College.
The magnificent new building will be ready for occupancy by the first of September, 1900.
Be sure and mention course wanted when you write. Catalogue free. Address H. H. CHERRY, General Manager, BOWLING GREEN, KY.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M.M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1900.

FORWARD IS THE WATCHWORD.

The great question before the church to-day is not so much whether she will continue to educate, but whether she is to educate efficiently and sufficiently. We must see to it that the education imparted in our Methodist colleges shall not be inferior in quality to that imparted in State schools and secular institutions of learning founded by private munificence, and that the educational advantages offered at our schools shall compare favorably with such advantages elsewhere. To abandon this work would be suicidal; nor can we afford to let our colleges live at a half-dying rate. We must make them equal to the best in the land.

Methodism has from the very first been an evangel of light and of spiritual liberty. John Wesley, her great founder, was one of the most scholarly men of his time, and was a most zealous promoter of Christian education. Said Dr. Hoss, in his fraternal address before the late General Conference of the M. E. Church:

"Methodism believes in a gospel of light. It must be true to the old traditions and educate. Let the State do what it will, the Church is bound to look out for a higher training of her youth. She has some lessons to teach them which the State has no voice to convey, and at whatever cost, she must sustain, enlarge and endow her seats of learning. Is it a note of narrowness to add that they in turn must be true and loyal to her interests? A church college is no better than any other, unless it is better."

All around us are signs of material progress and prosperity. Railroads are being projected and extended, factories are springing up here and there like magic, forests are being rapidly cleared, and the wheels of commerce were never so busy as now. Finer court-houses and government buildings are going up in numerous parts of the country. Our naval authorities are doing their utmost to keep our navy equipped with the finest guns and war vessels to be had. More elegant and comfortable homes are in general evidence. It is plain, then, that the demand of the times is for improved methods and appliances in all lines of endeavor.

But is progress to be confined mainly to industrial and commercial affairs? Is the better equipment of our schools to be regarded as inferior in importance to the furnishing of shops and factories and farms? Shall we be so unwise as to care more for fine stock, fine implements, fine houses and fine fare than for fine schools, cultured minds, and Christian character? How ready men are, Southerners not excepted, to put money into business enterprises that promise a goodly dividend in earthly coin! Yet how slow most of them are to invest, even in small degree, in Christian colleges that produce magnificent returns in character, culture, and self-help—yea, in all that truly enriches the world!

There is no lack of interest in education in this country. In fact, this is one of our American hobbies. It is the church's duty, however, to turn this interest in the direction of symmetrical education. While there is no lack of liberality toward universities like Harvard and Yale, and certain other large institutions, the smaller colleges, especially those in the South, are for the most part left to take care of themselves. Yet these are the very institutions that are of the greatest benefit to the average boy and girl, and that are doing most to leaven society with truth and knowledge.

The hope of the nation lies not in her vast material resources, nor in the vastness of her population, but in the intelligence, integrity, and faith of her citizens. For the production of these essential qualities we must look in large measure to Christian schools, the yearly output of which is far more valuable than the product of our mines and factories and farms.

Says the editor of the Pittsburg Advocate: "The great university of to-day, with its thousands of students, does not devote the attention to character-building which a real college should give, and our smaller schools are making a fatal mistake in so far as they are aping their more bulky neighbors, and striving to become mere mind-shaping machines. The world wants men, not mere mental prodigies. The heart is worth as much as the mind, and character is more to be sought after than learning."

While Methodism has no reason to be ashamed of the educational work she has already done, it is evident that she must now provide more adequately for her schools, or suffer serious loss. Should the church alone show lack of enterprise? Ought we to rest content with old methods and appliances when the times urgently demand better?

MEN WITHOUT A COUNTRY.

On account of the large degree of civil and religious liberty which the people of this Republic enjoy, it used to be supposed that this was the last country in the world where the doctrines of anarchism would find advocates. In fact, not until a few years ago was it believed that anarchism could find promoters at all in this land of freedom, of equal rights, and of matchless advantages. As the editor of the Times-Democrat well says:

"From this wild dream we were awakened by the Chicago Haymarket affair, which brought to light the fact that anarchism had flourished in the shade of the American flag, and had spread as fast over this country as in any part of Europe; that the anarchists had their clubs, their orators, even their newspapers; and that they taught the same doctrines here as abroad—that all government is wrong and must be struck down; that a democracy, with its police, is as objectionable as an empire with its soldiers."

For several years past anarchists have been forgotten, but it has been made plain by recent developments that they are still here in considerable numbers, and that they are too dangerous to be let alone.

It turns out that the anarchist who, a short time ago, assassinated the King of Italy, lived for a year in Paterson, N. J., which, it seems, is the home of a large number of anarchists. Shortly after the occurrence of this tragic event several hundred of them held a meeting in Paterson, in which they expressed much gratification over the death of the King, who was one of the best rulers Italy has ever had. Several citizens of that city who protested against letting these enemies of government use the public schools at night to teach and propagate their doctrines, have received threatening letters from them.

On the fifth instant an anarchistic riot occurred in Chicago, in which twenty-five people were badly bruised in a struggle with forty-five policemen who were summoned to quell the disturbance. A mass meeting had been called at a certain hall where speeches were to have been made anent the execution of the King of Italy. Five persons were arrested and a large quantity of anarchistic literature was secured by the police.

During the present century sixteen or more prominent rulers have been assassinated, nearly all of them without the least justification growing out of tyranny or cruelty; while a number of unsuccessful attempts have been made upon others, among them being the Queen of England. The majority of assassins, it appears, hail from Southern Europe, the Italians unfortunately having a bad pre-eminence among them.

Anarchism is libertinism run mad, and is one of the most pernicious and monstrous doctrines ever propagated among men. The anarchist dreams of a time when every man shall be free to do absolutely as he pleases, when there shall be no restraint of law or society, when all government shall have been abolished. According to his program, marriage is a grievous wrong, the holding of property a crime, and organization is impossible and indefensible. Not only so, but anarchism repudiates even the government of God, its fanatical aim being to make man superior to everything in the universe but himself. "If there be a God," said a leading anarchist, "I will tear him from his throne." Yea, its hellish schemes and fiendish deeds are but the legitimate offspring of blind atheism and unbelief. The man who wholly disbelieves in God and in future retribution is ready to commit any crime.

During the bloody reign of terror in France, near the close of the eighteenth century, after the revolutionists had done their utmost to subvert the influence and institutions of Christianity, so frightful was the resulting chaos, that when Robespierre became dictator, he realized that the Revolution had gone too far, and though he wished to sweep away Christianity as a superstition, he did not believe that a state could be founded on atheism. Said he: "The idea of a great Being who watches over oppressed innocence, and who punishes triumphant guilt, always will be popular. If God did not exist, it would behoove man to invent him." Rightly has it been said that "anarchism is the philosophy of despair."

Since toleration and liberty seem not to have had any effect in taming and reforming the propagators of anarchy and of the justifiableness of assassination, it looks as if the time had arrived in this country when sterner measures will have to be used to suppress these dangerous enemies of society and of government. They that take the sword must perish with the sword.

There must have been some ground for the recent rumors of anarchistic plots against the life of President McKinley. The welfare of our country, as well as respect to the welfare of Europe, demands that the United States shall not be allowed to become the spawning ground of anarchism. All persons suspected of being anarchists, or known to be such, ought to be rigidly excluded from our shores. Anarchistic newspapers also ought to be suppressed.

LET US WORK WHILE IT IS DAY.

The season allotted for the prosecution of our great Twentieth Century Movement is swiftly drawing to a close, and in a few months more the most magnificent opportunity the church has yet had for expressing gratitude for signal blessings, and for equipping herself for more effective service, will have completely and finally passed away. While many of our people have responded nobly to the call for a generous thank-offering to be devoted to the endowment and enlargement of our educational institutions—none of which are as fully equipped as they should be—there is a vast number in our Zion who have not yet been reached by the worthy educational movement now in progress, and who seem to think that they have no part nor lot in the matter. Now is the time for Methodism to demonstrate anew her ability to reach the rank and file of her membership, and to arouse deep and general interest in the momentous work of Christian education. Every pastor in Southern Methodism should be upon his mettle, and should resolve that no charge of lack of zeal and perseverance shall be laid at his door.

This movement is too important and too opportune for us to be satisfied with partial success. No leader or church member has done enough until he has done his best. Faithfulness and enthusiasm in presenting the claims of this movement will tell just as surely as these qualities do in other directions. Of course, there are a few mean-spirited Methodists here and there who do not believe in thank-offerings or in "eddication," but we are loth to believe that their tribe is very numerous.

The night cometh when no man can work, and now is the hour for every pastor who has not already done so to press the battle. In a few weeks the brethren will be so busy getting ready for Conference that it will be well-nigh impossible to push the Twentieth Century Movement vigorously. Above all, let us not fail to pray daily for a mighty quickening of the spiritual life of the church. Let us not dishonor God by doubting his readiness to bless our Zion. Hardly a day passes that does not bring glorious tidings of the outpouring of God's spirit upon workers here and there.

"SOUL, IS IT WELL WITH THEE?"

What can exceed the madness of the man who repeatedly trifles with his conscience, and persistently puts away thoughts of his duty to God and of the issues of eternity? Can God be annihilated by means of refusal to acknowledge him? Does forgetfulness of death stay his approach for a moment? Do not hundreds of business men hug to their bosoms the vain excuse that they have not time to be religious? And yet we owe every moment of our existence to the mercy of God.

Says the editor of the Central Advocate with striking truth: "Ah, soul, thou canst not laugh aside the grave; thou canst not jest aside eternity; thou canst not with thy buyings and sellings crowd aside the judgment bar of God. Oh, soul, what will it profit thee to have drunk life's rich wine to-day, if through an endless eternity thou must taste the dregs? Soul, the time is short. The judge is at the gate. To-day is thy judgment day. Soul, is it well with thee?"

A NEW BOOK.

THE MAKING OF A MAN. By James W. Lee. New and revised edition. 12 mo. 377 pages. Cloth. Price, $1.25. Chicago, New York, Toronto: Fleming H. Revell Co.

When this book first appeared several years ago it attracted wide attention, and elicited very favorable comment from thinking men. It is in reality a bright, able and highly instructive volume, and is calculated to deeply impress the reader with the nobility of man's nature, the grandeur of his destiny, and with the providential provision that has been made for every human want and aspiration, whether pertaining to the physical, social, intellectual, moral, esthetic, or spiritual nature. The author is a man of large intelligence, philosophic mind, and keen penetration, and evidences thorough mastery of his subject. He believes strongly in man's immortality and spiritual worth, and dwells upon the importance as well as the means of making the most of ourselves. In this book materialistic theories are antagonized and punctured, and man's divine origin is set forth in clear and convincing light. It is a book to stimulate thought, inspire hope, and fortify faith. The author, in revising it, has availed himself of recent developments in philosophic thought, and in other ways has enhanced its interest and value. We heartily commend it to all who are interested in the study of man, the crowning glory of creation.

CRYSTAL SPRINGS CAMP MEETING.

The annual meeting on the famous Hennington Camp Ground, near Crystal Springs, Miss., was begun Thursday evening, Aug. 9, and closed the following Wednesday evening. It was an occasion of great grace and power. The writer has never attended a meeting there that was so full of earnest work on the part of the preachers, and so free from questionable methods and sensational preaching. The Spirit of God was present and honored all the work. Many sinners were happily converted, and Christians by the score were edified and strengthened.

Bishop Key and Rev. Lewis Powell, of Nashville, did most of the preaching. Their sermons were delivered in demonstration of the Spirit and with power. It was old-time Methodist preaching that awoke joyous response in hundreds of hungry hearts. Bishop Key preached seven times. Every message was evidently from heaven. They were pure gospel sermons, delivered with great simplicity and earnestness. The Spirit fired the good Bishop's heart, and stirred the hearts of those who heard him.

Bro. Powell preached thirteen times. His sermons were all good. The association acted wisely in engaging him for the meeting. His presence and work were productive of great good. He will attend the meeting next year. Certainly the association could do no wiser thing than to have him come again. Bro. Powell's preaching was scriptural and intensely spiritual. Immense congregations heard him from time to time, and all were delighted.

The attendance of preachers was very small. Revs. R. J. Jones, J. T. Leggett, W. B. Lewis, W. T. Griffin, H. C. Brown and T. W. Adams were present. Bro. Brown and Bro. Leggett preached one sermon each. Their sermons were greatly enjoyed. Bro. Lewis was so much afflicted with a carbuncle that he could do but little. Bro. Jones was full of work from beginning to end of the meeting, giving general direction to the services, and frequently leading the congregation in fervent prayer. Rev. T. W. Adams contributed his mite to the success of the meeting by conducting the morning prayer services and by preaching three sermons.

The association made delightful provision for the comfort of the preachers. Nice rooms in the new and handsome hotel were fitted up for them, and they were fed most bountifully and richly at the cottages of the tenters.

No account was kept of the number of persons converted. Every worker was too busy trying to lead souls to Christ to give any thought to counting those who professed. Many were converted. Taken altogether, it was the best meeting held there for many years past. T. W. A.

NOTES.

No Christian can be blameless who is not guileless.

***

Bishop Fitzgerald is sojourning in the mountains of North Carolina.

***

While the gospel can be propagated in spite of ignorance, it is not the friend of ignorance.

***

The membership of the M. E. Church in Chicago has doubled twice in the past fifteen years.

***

The camp meeting at Talisheek, La., will begin on Thursday before the fifth Sunday in September.

***

We had a pleasant call, on last Monday, from Rev. F. G. Hoontt, the faithful pastor at Covington, La.

***

Rev. J. E. Dickey, of Atlanta, Ga., has recently secured sufficient funds to obtain a fine telescope for Emory College, Oxford, Ga.

***

The Midland Methodist, of the twenty-second instant, was a "missionary number." It was a highly creditable and edifying issue.

***

We regret to learn that Rev. W. F. Rogers, of the Corinth circuit, North Mississippi Conference, is very ill with fever. Earnest prayer is requested for his recovery.

***

A card from Rev. J. E. Cunningham, the pastor at Rosedale, mentions that he expects to start soon on a trip to the Ozarks to visit relatives and get a needed outing.

***

We regret to learn of the illness of Rev. R. C. Callaway, of the East Grenada circuit, North Mississippi Conference. His work is temporarily being attended to by a faithful local preacher.

***

The delegates to the Louisiana Conference from the Opelousas district are: W. L. Doss, of Gueydan; C. Girard, of Lafayette; A. Hoffpanir, of Rayne, and Geo. Price, of Lake Charles.

***

A brief note from Presiding Elder Dye, of the Durant district, says: "This district will do no great thing, I fear, because of the failure in crops, both corn and cotton. Still we are striving for victory."

***

The Sunday-school Magazine, for September, appears in a new and very tasty cover, and as to contents, exhibits the highest excellence. We congratulate Dr. Atkins and his assistant upon the splendid service they are rendering as Sunday-school editors.

***

Rev. B. F. White, pastor of Dryades Street Church, is now taking a much-needed vacation, most of which will be spent at Alexandria, La. Accompanied by his wife, he left the city last Saturday for Opelousas, where he went to pay a short visit to his only living sister. He will be absent about three weeks, during which time his pulpit will be filled by Rev. W. D. Kleinschmidt, of this city.

Presiding Elder S. S. Keener, of this city, has been suffering for the past ten days from a severe attack of rheumatism, and in consequence has not been able to fill his appointments for two Sundays. We are glad to learn that his condition is now much improved.

***

The corner-stone of the new Fourth Avenue Methodist Church, Louisville, Ky., was laid with appropriate ceremonials on the twenty-second instant. Addresses were delivered by Bishop Morrison and Dr. Lloyd. It is claimed that when completed, this will be the finest Methodist Church in Kentucky.

***

Secretary Scarborough has kindly favored us with a copy of the Third Year Book of the Sunday-school Board of the Mississippi Conference. It is a neat and splendidly prepared pamphlet of a hundred, or more, pages, and is packed with interesting and profitable information regarding Sunday-school work.

***

Reports of gracious revivals are coming in thick and fast from various parts of the field, and indicate most plainly that there is far less occasion than some of the brethren think for raising the cry that the church is cold and dead. Read the revival notes in the ADVOCATE and other church papers, brethren, and take courage.

***

We note with pleasure that our highly esteemed friend, Rev. Henry Beach Carre, of this city, who has been absent a couple of years in Germany doing post-graduate work, has completed his course of study and is now on his way home. He expects to reach the Crescent City early in September. A joyful welcome awaits him.

***

Pastor M. L. White, of the Carthage (Miss.) charge, continues to meet with gratifying success in the holding of protracted meetings. He has just closed two fine meetings, one at Singleton Church, and one at Rocky Point. He writes that twenty persons were added to the church and many were moved to a better life. He was assisted by Rev. H. P. Moore.

***

We announce with much sorrow the death of Rev. John Akin, a faithful local preacher of our church, who passed away on the twentieth instant at the home of his son at Weldon, La. Bro. Akin was eighty-four years of age, and had been preaching sixty-five years. All of his life was spent within the bounds of the Lisbon and Summerfield charges. He had been a regular subscriber to the ADVOCATE from its first issue. A good and useful man has entered into rest.

***

The following gratifying report was received a few days ago from Rev. J. B. Randolph, of the North Mississippi Conference. He says: "We have just closed our second protracted meeting on the New Albany circuit. Rev. H. T. Gaines, of Iuka, and Rev. J. B. Herron, our local preacher, were both with us and rendered faithful service. The Lord blessed us wonderfully. The entire church was strengthened spiritually. We had 12 conversions and 17 accessions to the church."

***

The August number of the Review of Missions is devoted to the subject of "Medical Missions," and contains several papers of extraordinary interest. We do not see how anyone can read these articles without being thoroughly convinced of the duty of the church, not only to continue such work, but to engage in it more extensively. The results recorded are nothing short of marvelous. The Review of Missions is undoubtedly a superb missionary periodical, and never fails to contain highly attractive and edifying matter. Each number is adorned with several fine illustrations.

***

We quote below some wise words from Editor Glenn regarding the circulation of the official organ of Methodism in Georgia. If the name NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, be substituted, his remarks are equally applicable in this section, and we say "Amen" thereto: "In the midst of your revival work, brethren, don't forget the Wesleyan Advocate. Bishop Candler said recently: 'Your religious literature underlies all your church work. Its circulation is, therefore, a matter of vital importance.' Push the interests of the Wesleyan. Busy as you are with other matters, you can not afford to neglect the best interests of Methodism by neglect it."

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS
Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss. EDITOR.

LOUISIANA.

REV. H. R. SINGLETON, Ruston, La. ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

We have heard a dozen echoes from the Atlanta Conference, and all pronounce it a great success. We believe it will tell greatly for good in our beloved Leagnedom.

We want to thank Baton Rouge, New Orleans, Crowley, Lake Charles, and a few other places, for the nice batch of news we hope they are going to send in to the editor next week.

Louisiana is in the rear of the line on League matters. We have as fine a class of young people as there is in the world. They are as devoted as any to their church; they are capable of taking a place in the very front of every good movement, and yet they have not done so in this. What is the trouble? District chairmen, let us use the opportunity you have in your hands. The whole matter of League extension in the State has been placed almost wholly in your hands. You can do it if you will. Ask the pastors of the charges where there are no Leagues to let you visit his church and organize a League. Then organize the District Leagues into a district organization as soon as possible. Let us enter into the new century with 150 Leagues in the State, and then let us double that number in the first year of the new century.

REPORT FROM CALHOUN, LA.

MR. EDITOR: On the eleventh instant we closed an eight-day meeting at Calhoun, Rev. H. R. Singleton doing the preaching. His preaching was well accepted. While no great excitement prevailed, yet sinners were converted and believers edified.

Saturday was made rally day, dinner on the ground. At 11 A. M., sermon on Twentieth Century Movement; at 2:30 P. M., an able missionary sermon. A subscription of $45 was taken on Twentieth Century Movement. This, added to $17.25 previously taken up, makes $61.25 for Calhoun. Much sickness prevailed, or results would have been better. Absent parties will subscribe later. Sickness has been a great hindrance to protracted services throughout the work.

H. W. LEDBETTER.

Calhoun La., Aug. 22, 1900.

NOTICE.

The program for the Sunday-school Rally Day for foreign missions will be ready about Sept. 1. They will be sent free of charge upon application.

We trust that as many schools as possible will observe this day.

W. R. LAMBUTH.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 23, 1900.

If you Feel Depressed
Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.
Dr. W. E PITMAN, Lynchburg, Va., says: "I have used it in nervous depression and dyspeptic troubles, with good result."

WARM WELCOME TO A NEW PREACHER.

We reached this progressive little city on Friday, the seventeenth instant, after a long, tedious trip. We found a neat, well-furnished parsonage, and one of the handsomest and best equipped churches in the Conference. The people have been exceedingly kind to us, and welcomed us with open hands and hearts. Our every want has been most generously supplied. The climax of their kindness was reached last night in an over-abundant "pounding." Now that the "storm" has subsided and the "calm" appeared, our store-room presents a pleasing aspect; all needed substantials, enough to last us till Conference, or longer, and delicacies enough to satisfy the most fastidious epicure. While the church is not in the desired working condition, we have visited a goodly number of the membership, and have met with encouragement and sympathy on every hand, and feel confident that we can secure a good report by Conference. We desire the prayers and sympathy of the brethren in this work, and trust that God will lead us to accomplish the needed work here.

ROBT. W. VAUGHAN, P. C.

New Iberia, La., Aug. 24, 1900.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

The new Methodist Church at Poplarville, Miss., is to be dedicated by Bishop C. B. Galloway, D. D., on the third Sunday, sixteenth day of September, proximo. Former pastors are invited to be present. These, with other parties who expect to attend, will please notify me, and entertainment will be provided. A great day, and greatly to be enjoyed, especially by those who have labored so hard for the erection of the building, is expected. God be glorified.

B. S. RAYNER, P. C.

Lumberton, Miss., Aug. 22, 1900.

REVIVAL ON THE INDIANOLA CHARGE.

A card from Rev. W. H. Sanders, the pastor at Indianola, Miss, dated Aug. 24, says:

"Closed a meeting at Fair View on the Indianola charge last Sunday, the nineteenth instant, with 24 accessions to the church, and more will join later. Was assisted by Revs. L. A. McKeown and G. W. Harbin. The whole community was generally stirred and the church sprung to a greater activity than it has had for years. The work done will remain, for it was the work of the Holy Ghost. People shouted at church and shouted at their homes."

Bishop Charles B. Galloway recently spoke to the State Baptist Assembly at Mt. Vernon, Ohio. C. K. Warner, writing to the Western Advocate, says: "His theme was, 'A Southerner's View of Education and Patriotism.' As a finished product of a cultured mind, it certainly stands in the front rank of eloquent addresses. Profound thought uttered in rich, melodious tones, beautiful similes, thrilling in illustration and argument, and a peroration that held the audience in breathless attention, were characteristics of this truly marvelous address. The applause at the close amounted to an ovation as the eager multitude pressed round to grasp the hand of this leader of our sister church and representative of our beloved and united country."

THE GATE CITY OF THE SOUTH.

The Gate City of the South is not only a great railroad and commercial center; her schools and colleges of various kinds are attracting annually thousands of students from all over the South. The Atlanta Dental College, whose announcement appears in this issue, shows an attendance of 200 students. Write the dean for a catalogue.

NEW YORK SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

To young ladies who wish to spend the Winter in New York for study or general culture Miss Bessie B. Clay's "School of Music and Home for Students" offers rare advantages. For references and particulars address her until Oct. 1st—Deerbrook, Mississippi. Permanent New York address, care of Steinway Hall.

Attention!
"Pharr Hall," Centenary College, will furnish pupils board - meals and room cleaning—at $8.75 per scholastic month. Terms will be cash in advance each month. The above cheap rates can not be offered on any other basis. The food will be wholesome and well prepared. Every effort will be made to give satisfaction, and to make both the "Hall" and dormitories home-like. Write the manager, L. L. UPTON.

Free to Inventors.
The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.
This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

NOTICE.

To Pastors of the Mississippi Conference:

Dr. Hammond urges me to send him on the twentieth of each month the statistics of the Twentieth Century Thank-offering. I am entirely dependent upon the reports sent to me by you. I suppose that your presiding elders have placed blanks into your hands for that purpose. Though it is late, fill out, please, the one for August and send to me, and then hereafter send each month before the twentieth day. Even though little or nothing has been done, nevertheless report, and oblige,

H. G. HAWKINS, Conf. Sec. Ed.

Madison, Miss., Aug. 25, 1900.

NOTE FROM BRO. M'DONALD.

MR. EDITOR: We moved this week to Providence Camp Ground. We will not have a camp meeting this year. Our move is to this place as a health resort. There are two other families here. We expect to start a Sunday-school to-morrow, and will begin a prayer meeting next week. Our circuit work is progressing very well. I will be much obliged for my correspondents to write me at Rockport, Miss. A goodly number of my charge are sick with chills and fever.

C. MCDONALD.

Rockport, Miss., Aug. 18, 1900.

President A. F. Watkins is to be congratulated upon having secured such a fine corps of teachers for the coming session of Whitworth College. On our first page will be found a full list of the new faculty, which has just been completed.

Thirty anarchists were arrested in Rome recently. They had barricaded their rooms, and were captured only after a fierce struggle.

ROYAL
The absolutely pure
BAKING POWDER
ROYAL—the most celebrated of all the baking powders in the world—celebrated for its great leavening strength and purity. It makes your cakes, biscuit, bread, etc., healthful; it assures you against alum and all forms of adulteration that go with the cheap brands.

Alum baking powders are low priced, as alum costs but two cents a pound; but alum is a corrosive poison and it renders the baking powder dangerous to use in food.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

Do You Know?
That when your bowels are disordered, and irregularities caused by change of diet or location exist,
Brodie's Astringent Cordial
Will correct all the troubles, and never fails, but
CURES
DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, CRAMPS, BLOODY FLUX, and Such Symptoms.

TESTIMONIAL.
July 28, 1899.
Dear Sirs:—I have used Brodie's Astringent Cordial in my family, and am using the third bottle. It always acts like a charm upon my children, correcting ailments of the bowels better than any medicine I ever tried. * * *
Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. A. W. MOORE.

Price: 50 cts. and $1 a Bottle.
I. L. LYONS & CO., New Orleans, La.
Sold by All Druggists.

For Sale at a Bargain.
The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

MISSOURI MILITARY ACADEMY.
New buildings. Campus 100 acres. Model school home. Faculty of men—not boys—Specialists from best schools of America and Europe.
YANCEY & PONVILLE, Mexico, Mo.

RANDOLPH-MACON ACADEMY
BANDOLPH CITY, Va., (S. W. Va.) Conducted by Randolph-Macon College. Best equipped in the South. Banks with best in U. S. Modern conveniences and appliances; gymnasium, etc. Terms low.
Address E. SUMTER SMITH, Principal.

Johnston Collegiate Institute
GREENSBURG, LA.,
Prepares boys and girls for high-grade colleges. Under the auspices of the M. E. Church, South. Affiliated with Vanderbilt University. Board, lodging and tuition, per session of 40 weeks, $100. Write for Catalogue.
Rev. P. M. BROWN, A. B., Prin.

Stanton College
For Young Ladies,
NATCHEZ, MISS.
Beautiful grounds and buildings, electric lights, pure artesian and cistern water. Home-life judiciously supervised. Bountiful fare and excellent health record.
Classical, Scientific and English Courses, Music, Art, Elocution, Phonography.
Chartered in 1893. Affiliated with University of Mississippi. High Standard; thorough work. Twelve teachers. Boarders limited and given individual attention. Apply early to insure choice of rooms. Terms reasonable.
J. R. PRESTON, President of Faculty.

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.
Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.
SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 64
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,282 42
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 06
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,326 56
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,236 62

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY
Are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.
Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.
Post & Bowles, New Orleans, La
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

Wesleyan Female College,
MACON, GA.
OLDEST COLLEGE FOR WOMEN IN THE WORLD.
Its graduates are everywhere. A Diploma from it is high honor. Highest Curricula for young ladies in this section of the South. Special and Elective courses. Every member of the Faculty a Specialist in his Department. One of the strongest Music Faculties on the Continent just organized, with the renowned Prof. Edouard Hesselberg, one of the world's greatest pianists, pupil of Rubenstein, as its Director, and with no teacher in it who has not had the best advantages that either Europe or America could afford. Art and Elocution Teachers that are unsurpassed. Every Department up to date. The present administration is determined to keep this noble old Institution in the fore-front of Southern Colleges. Large and beautiful campus. High elevation. Proverbially healthy. Not a case of protracted sickness during the entire year just closed. Magnificent buildings. Airy rooms. Steam heat. Electric Elevator. Steam Laundry. Hot and Cold Water. Excellent Bath Rooms. New Furniture. All Conveniences. Nearly enough students already enrolled for the Fall Term to fill the present buildings. New building to accommodate the overflow, to be erected if possible during this vacation. Rooms reserved for those who apply first. Fall Term begins September 12th. For catalogue, rates, etc., apply to J. W. ROBERTS, D. D., President, Macon, Ga.

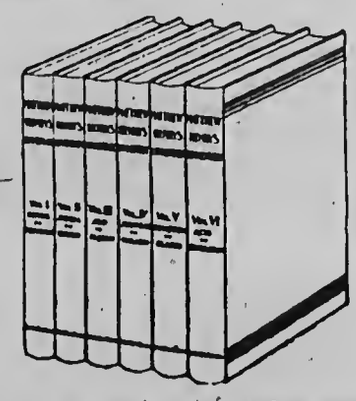
Matthew Henry's
Commentary
on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.
Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.
Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.



Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.
3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.
Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.
Cheapest and Best Commentary.
Best cloth binding—good type.
Write to
Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

For Sale at a Bargain.
A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

Forest District High School,
Montrose, Miss.
A Training School for Millsaps College and East Mississippi and Whitworth Female Colleges.
Fine location. Total expenses for month, including board and tuition, between $8 and $11. School opens Sept. 3rd.
For further information address
J. F. GALLOWAY, B. A., Principal.

IUKA NORMAL INSTITUTE
Iuka, Miss.
Nineteenth year begins Sept. 4, 1900. Terms reasonable—advantages superior. Satisfaction guaranteed to all working pupils. Write for the handsomest catalogue of the season.
H. A. DEAN, Pres.

POTTER COLLEGE
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
Bowling Green, Ky.
One of the most beautiful places in the world. High, healthful and inspiring. The finest accommodations. Thorough and progressive. Pupils from 27 States. 20 teachers. Come and see, or send for catalogue.

Chamberlain-Hunt Academy,
PORT GIBSON, MISS.
A Boarding School for Boys.
The buildings, now in course of construction, are the most complete in the South for a Boys' Boarding School. Fire-proof, ventilation, light and heating arrangements unsurpassed. All modern equipments. Dormitories newly furnished. Rates low owing to endowment. Military training, if desired. Healthful location in the "Hill Country." Home influence. Artesian water. Skillful instructors. Write for catalogue.
W. C. GUTHRIE, Principal.

ARUNDEL LITHIA WATER.
ANALYSIS: Nature's blending of those rarest of minerals, Lithium, Rubidium, Cæsium, with Sulphate of Magnesium, in a water of perfect purity.
FREE DELIVERY FOR THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.
OFFICE, 337 CARONDELET ST.
This Famous Water challenges Comparison with any Mineral Water on the Market.
All Physicians, who know anything about it, recommend and prescribe it in all diseases and derangements of the Kidneys and Bladder, and of the Genito-urinary organs, inclusive of Dropsy, Stricture, Rheumatism, Gaut, Stone in the Bladder and Albuminuria, in Pregnancy, Fevers, etc.
IT CURES. THAT FACT IS ESTABLISHED by the testimony of hundreds of the best people in the land, physicians included. If you doubt its virtues, TRY IT, and we GUARANTEE your testimonial will follow.
It is Clear as Crystal, Free from Sediment, Delightful to the Taste, Unequaled as an Appetizer, and an enemy to Indigestion.
For further Information Apply to New Orleans Office, or
Arundel Lithia Springs Com'y,
Lock Drawer 567, Meridian, Miss.

Grenada Female College
Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.
PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.
W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

The fire which destroyed the immense Swamp Root medicine plant of Dr. Kilmer & Co., July 1, was the most disastrous which has ever occurred in Binghamton. However, the Kilmers resumed business next morning, though not at the old stand, which is a heap of smouldered ashes. While the firemen were yet pouring water on the burning Chenango street establishment, the Kilmers were arranging to do business somewhere else.

That this great industry might not be crippled for a moment, through the courtesy of other prominent firms and citizens, the large factory and adjoining buildings on South street were vacated for the benefit of the Swamp Root people, and possession was taken immediately, and here, by Monday, July 8, this new, temporary factory will be turning out Swamp Root; the great Kidney Remedy, in quantities of about 60,000 bottles per day, and in two or three weeks' time the full capacity of more than four times that amount will be produced. The immense demand for Swamp Root will thus in no way be interfered with.

On the old site, with adjoining property which has just been purchased, will be erected immediately an absolutely fire-proof six-story structure, plans for which have been nearly completed.

Vanderbilt Training School,

Elkton, Ky.

JOSHUA H. HARRISON, Principal.

Well located; well equipped; intelligent community; good health; good work. For information address the Principal, Elkton, Ky. Next session will begin Sept. 4.

Cooper Institute,

AT DALEVILLE, MISS.,

is 9 miles from Lockhart on M. & O. R. R., Founded by Rev. J. L. Cooper in 1865. A High School for boys and girls. Prepares boys and girls for practical business life, and for Freshman and Sophomore Classes in College. Total expenses in literary department for entire session of nine months, one hundred and eight dollars; or, if paid in advance, one hundred dollars.

Write for Catalogue. Next session begins Sept. 19th.

REV. WALDO W. MOORE, A. M., Principal.

BELMONT SEMINARY,

BEDFORD CITY, VIRGINIA.

Opens on Sept. 12th. Academic course and music. Full corps of instructors. Modern building heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Climate and water unsurpassed. D. W. REAR, M. A., Prin., (C. of V.)

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

FACTS ABOUT PAINT When Your HOUSE, BARN or ROOF NEEDS PAINTING write SUTCLIFFE & CO., Louisville, Ky. Ask for Book No. 92. It tells how to buy and paint to best advantage. COSTS NOTHING. WILL SAVE MUCH

A RARE BARGAIN.

TEN VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to Sept., 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK, 124 Camp St., New Orleans.

Home Circle.

WANTED—A BOY.

Mr. A, the rector, is dying to-day,
With the hope of heaven on his face;
He'll be missed in the pulpit and home, when we pray.
Wanted—a boy for his place.

Mr. B, the judge, is dying to-day,
With the lines of true life on his face;
He'll be missed on the bench for many a day.
Wanted—a boy for his place.

Mr. C, the doctor, is dying to-day,
And a sympathy beams on his face;
He'll be missed in the homes, when disease comes to stay.
Wanted—a boy for his place.

Mr. D, the drunkard, is dying to-day;
Oh! the marks of sin on his face!
He'll be missed at the club, in saloon, in the fray.
Wanted—a boy for his place.

—Selected.

HOW A PORTER ROSE IN LIFE.

A young man once wrote to me from the country that he would like to have me get him a clerkship in a store. I wrote him to come down—that I would get a place for him. He replied that he did not like to come down until the place had been secured. I told him not to wait for that, so he came. The morning after his arrival in New York, I took him to a large jobbing house, and told the principal man there that I had brought from the country a boy who wanted a place. "What position do you want for him?" I was asked. I replied that I would like him made assistant to the chief porter. The principal said that he could give him that kind of position; but the young man called me aside, and told me he could do better for himself than to take such a place, as he had been a clerk in a country store a year. "Never mind that," said I. "Your being in a country store won't help you. Take the place I have gotten for you, and do the work better than it has ever been done before." He was not pleased, but took my advice, and started at wages of about five dollars a week; and I have no doubt he did the very best he could, for he was advanced several times in the course of the year. When he had been there something less than a year, he came to me, and told me that he had received a proposition for three years, at a thousand dollars for the first year, twelve hundred and fifty for the second, and fifteen hundred dollars for the third. I told him that was very good, but not to commit himself for any such length of time, as I believed there was something better and higher for him to do, and that he would soon be able to do it; but meanwhile to keep right along as he was, doing the work they gave him to do.

Before two years had elapsed he found a better position for himself elsewhere, and he achieved it by learning the lesson of beginning at the bottom and working up. He took up the new work in the same spirit with which he began the old—with the determination to master the work and do it better than anybody else had done it. He has been steadily going forward year by year, until to-day he is worth about two millions.—C. P. Huntington, in Success.

WORK AND HEALTH.

Much has been said about the evil effects of overwork and the necessity for proper periods of rest. The point has not been too strongly urged; but it must be remembered, at the same time, that the best health is enjoyed only by hard workers.

The athlete's arm attains its size by virtue of the greater quantity of nourishing blood attracted to it by the severe exercise which it undergoes. The mental athlete accomplishes his extraordinary amount of brain work only after years of mental training and effort. Rarely do the parts thus exercised fail. The neglected functions and organs are more often the cause of the "break-down."

Work is essential to health. Health in its perfection is found only where both brain and body are active; and it is possible that the keenest health has been enjoyed by the hardest workers in the fields of both mental and physical labor.

Sir Walter Scott, whose work stands as a monument to his industry as well as his genius, was, we are told, most indefatigable in his pursuit of physical exercise of all kinds, in many of which he excelled, and in which he could tire most men as easily as he could excel them in feats requiring long-sustained mental effort. Much the same thing is told of Goethe. These men fulfilled to the utmost the advice of the adage: "Work while you work, and play while you play."

Those whose enjoyment of life is largest, and whose accomplishment of work is greatest for the longest time, are those who go into their work and play in a whole-hearted fashion, or as it is often expressed, "for all they are worth." For such health is supplied in greatest measure.

The best health is not to be found in the indulgence of "loafing," which is neither rest nor work; it is generated rather by the alternate exercise of brain and muscle. By this means both are flushed with the fluid which gives health and life to all the tissues—the blood.—Baptist Standard.

THE NEW CANCER CURE.

All forms of Malignant Growths Cured by Dr. Hathaway's Serum Treatment.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.

Dr. Hathaway's New Serum Treatment for the cure of Cancer and other malignant growths is as much of an advance in medical science as was vaccination for small-pox. Thousands of cases treated and cured by him have proved this. The method is entirely unlike any other.

T. T. Osby, of Tula Rosa, N. M., stated: "For several years I had what was supposed to be a pipe sore on the lip. It finally developed into a Cancer. In Oct. 1898, I consulted Dr. Hathaway & Co., and then applied their Serum Treatment. One injection cured me."

Mrs. I. N. Rogers, 133 N. Rozborn St., Memphis, Tenn., states: "I had a Cancer in the corner of my eye that extended down on my cheek and nose. Several so-called Cancer doctors and their burning treatments failed; but Dr. Hathaway's new Serum Treatment cured me in six weeks without pain."

Full information, together with Dr. Hathaway's New Book on Cancer, will be mailed free.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D., DR. HATHAWAY & CO., 420 B. Main St., Cleveland Block, MEMPHIS, TENN.

"DID GOD SEND YOU, SIR?"

A gentleman saw two children before him in the cars, a boy and a girl. Both looked tired. They were dressed poorly, but neatly, and were traveling alone.

Toward noon the little girl got up from her seat. Presently he found her kneeling on the floor, with her head bowed in the cushion. Was she sick? Did she find this an easy way to sleep? No, she was praying.

"What are you doing, my little girl?" he asked her when she got up.

"I was saying, 'Our Father who art in heaven,'" she said.

"And what were you saying it for now?" he asked again.

"I am so hungry," she said.

"We have been traveling two days," said the boy, "and our luncheon is all gone."

The gentleman wished he had something in his pocket, but it was empty. At the next stopping place he went out himself and bought something for the children to eat.

When he handed it to the child she said, looking up with a blush of joy upon her face: "I knew it would come! Did God send you, sir?"

Yes, God sent the gentleman. The child did not see how the ears were to furnish the "daily bread," going so fast, and no pantry. But the Son of God taught her to pray, "Give us this day our daily bread," and the little girl believed it. She asked him, and God knows ever so many ways to answer our prayers. You see he used a kind gentleman to answer hers.

There is a small word in the Bible of which some people may ask: "What does it mean?" The word is "faith." What is faith? It is asking God, believing and trusting him. This is what the little girl did, and it is the kind of asking which God wants us to do.—Our Young Folks.

THE EXTRA STITCHES.

Two young girls were engaged in stitching flannel dresses for the poor of the parish.

"Now we have completed our garments, our work is finished for this season at least," said one of the two girls, with a sigh of relief.

"No, no; wait a moment, just a few moments more," replied the other; and going into an inner room, she returned with some skeins of crimson silk and a few knots of ribbon and lace.

"Why, what are you doing?" asked her companion with surprise, as the deft fingers swiftly fashioned a dainty edging of crimson silk, frilled in the soft lace at neck and sleeves, and fastened on the bright ribbon here and there.

"These extra stitches just take a moment," was the answer, given with a blush, "and I want to make the dress pretty for some mother's baby."

As the great pile of dresses was distributed to the needy that cold Winter, one hard-visaged woman burst into tears, and hid her face in the folds of a little dress trimmed with lace and ribbons.

"Oh, to think of some one doing this for my poor baby! I didn't think anybody cared," she sobbed.

"God cares for you and your baby," said the reverent voice of the pastor, who had long sought an opportunity to reach this hardened heart. And for the first time the woman was willing to listen to the sweet old story.—Selected.

A GAUGE OF CO-EDUCATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP.

Miss Mary E. Woolley, the new president of Mt. Holyoke College, is the daughter of a Congregationalist minister. She was graduated at Wheaton Seminary, Norton, Massachusetts.

In 1891 Miss Woolley went to Dr. E. A. Andrews, the president of Brown University, and asked permission to enter that institution as a special student in history. This permission was granted.

During her first year in Brown, Miss Woolley was a marked figure on the campus and in the library, where she usually could be found in the afternoon poring over some old Latin book or hunting out some buried historical fact. Her quiet, steady manner of work was an inspiration to the men, and many of them did more faithful work because of her presence in the class-room. Great things were prophesied of her. Dr. Andrews predicted that some day Miss Woolley would be at the head of some one of the large women's colleges. She was not only interested in the studies, but in everything else pertaining to college life, and was thoroughly up on the victories of the Brown ball nine.

She was asked what she found to be the difference between the men and the women in the college. Her reply was characteristically frank: "The girls study harder; the men think more."—Saturday Evening Post.

OH, WOMAN! WHY

WILL YOU SUFFER?

G.F.P. GERSTLE'S FEMALE PANACEA will relieve you of all irregularity and cure any form of female disease. It has cured cases that for years had baffled all medical skill. Don't wait, but begin its use NOW, TO-DAY.

BUY G. F. P. AT THE DRUG STORES.

FOR YEARS I was afflicted with female complaints and could get no relief. I suffered a great deal from the Whites, but several doctors failed to cure me. I heard of G. F. P. and began using it. I was better before using one bottle and will soon be in perfect health, thanks to G. F. P. MRS. J. P. HUNTER Laurens, S. C.

Write for free advice to the Ladies' Health Club, care of L. Gerstle & Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., concerning the treatment of your complaint.

SNUB NOT AT ALL.

Don't snub a boy because of his physical disability. Milton was blind.

Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretending. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log cabin.

Don't snub a boy because he chooses a humble trade. The author of "Pilgrim's Progress" was a tinker.

Don't snub a boy because of his dullness in lessons. Hogarth, the celebrated painter and engraver, was a stupid boy at his books.

Don't snub any one; not alone because some day they may outstrip you in the race of life, but because it is neither kind, nor right, nor Christian.

Do not snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare, the world's poet, was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name.

Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes. When Edison, the inventor of the telephone, first entered Boston, he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches in the depth of Winter.—Great Thoughts.

GETTING THE GREATEST GOOD FROM BOOKS.

"Summer reading is often largely composed of fiction, and if we choose good novels and bright, wholesome short stories, we are not exactly wasting our time, although every one of these long Summer days ought to give us a return in something besides entertainment and amusement," writes Margaret E. Sangster, in the July Ladies' Home Journal. "I fancy that most girls would be the gainers by keeping on hand a good, strong book, a volume of history, or biography, or travels, or essays, and devoting a portion of their time to it each morning or each afternoon consecutively, keeping a bookmark at the place where they break off, and moving it on day by day. If, added to this, each girl would keep near her a little blank memorandum book in which she should enter dates, copy passages which impress her as worth remembering, or write her own comments on what she reads, she would gain an incalculable store of mental wealth by the Summer's end."

BREAD AND BEER.

"Bread is strength, beer is weakness." There are in the United States every year about 65,000,000 bushels of grain used in making beer. The grain will weigh on an average about fifty-three pounds per bushel, which will make forty pounds of flour and sixty pounds of bread, so that the 65,000,000 bushels of grain would make 3,900,000,000 loaves of bread that will weigh one pound each. If we employ one hundred bakers to bake this bread, and each man can bake one hundred loaves every hour, working ten hours a day, it will take the one hundred bakers one hundred and seven years to bake the whole batch, and have them work 365 days in a year.—Exchange.

Teachers Furnished.

If any one is in search of a good teacher, the East Mississippi Female College has a number of former graduates well trained and equipped. We shall be glad to help any one get a good teacher without any charge.

Address, J. W. BERSON, Pres.
Meridian, Miss.

16,000 frs. National Prize at Paris

QUINA-LAROCHE

A Ferruginous Tonic

Pleasant to the taste; assimilate quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach troubles, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.

22 rue Drouot PARIS

E. Fougera & Co. Agents, N. Y.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA, NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES. Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY. Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments. Fall Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens October 14th

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address Secretary of University.

GROCERY MONEY SAVED

Is grocery money earned. And you save it when you buy here.

Hundreds of housewives are glad they sent for King's Price List. They're saving money every week. You might just as well be saving, too.

The Price List shows the littleness of prices; the goods speak most eloquently of the qualities.

The combination wins.

Send for Price List now.

I especially solicit out-of-town trade.

KING'S, DRYADES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Elizabeth Training School,

PETERSBURG, TENN.,

Prepares boys and girls for university course or for business. Its Students enter Vanderbilt University, University of Tennessee, and other high grade institutions. Located in the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains. High and healthful. Careful oversight, thorough instruction and superior moral influence. Six teachers. 220 Students from six States. Total expense for 10 months, $152. Send for catalogue.

W. E. MILLER A. B., Prin.

MONEY SAVED

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1st.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves	Arrives
Memphis and Local	4:05 p. m	10:30 a. m
Vicksburg & Meridian Ex.	7:30 a. m	5:10 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Old Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. A.

THE continual breaking of lamp-chimneys costs a good deal in the course of a year.

Get Macbeth's "pearl top" or "pearl glass." You will have no more trouble with breaking from heat. You will have clear glass instead of misty; fine instead of rough; right shape instead of wrong; and uniform, one the same as another.

Our "Index" describes all lamps and their proper chimneys. With it you can always order the right size and shape of chimney for any lamp. We mail it FREE to any one who writes for it.

Address MACBETH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sherwood Music School

FINE ARTS BUILDING, 203 Michigan Av. CHICAGO.

William H. Sherwood and Walton Perkins, Directors.

Highest Standard of Art. Faculty of eminent teachers. Catalog free on application.

Fall Term Opens September 10.

WILLIAM R. PERKINS, Sec.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,

MILK · DEPOT,

SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.

CONFECTIONERIES.

DELIVERY FREE.

1733 Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Suite 303—New Orleans National Bank Building,

606 Common St., New Orleans, La.

OBITUARIES.

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

IN MEMORIAM.

THOMAS NORMAN NORRELL was born in Claiborne county, Miss., near Port Gibson, July 4, 1815, and died April 3, 1900.

When but a small boy, six years of age, he lost both parents, and his boyhood life was quite a hard one. For several years after the death of his parents he lived on the old homestead with his brother-in-law. After this he lived here and there, wherever he could find a home, until he reached manhood. His early life was filled with hardships, and his educational advantages were very limited, yet he was fond of reading, and in this way acquired much information, which, to some extent, stoned for his lack of schooling. When quite a young man he moved to Hinds county, Miss., and thence to Rankin county, where he made his home until his death, except a few years spent in Yazoo county, near Satartia, and the last year of his life was spent at Terry and Stees's Creek, Miss., with his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Ellis.

Bro. Norrell was happily married on Feb. 25, 1845, to Miss Frances Parker, of Brandon, who was a fit companion for him in every sense, and who preceded him to the better world only two months. Their married life was exceedingly happy. I don't think I ever knew two more congenial spirits, and two more thoughtful of each other. To them were born seven children, two of whom went to heaven in their childhood. Three daughters and two sons remain to do honor to their departed parents. The two sons are holding honorable positions in the government in Salt Lake City.

Bro. Norrell was converted at a camp meeting held at Sinai, in Rankin county, Miss., in 1854. One of his daughters writes of him: "Small child though I was, I remember how promptly and unfalteringly he took up his Christian duties. On the night of the same day on which he was converted he held family worship, and from that day we had worship in our home." It was here, perhaps, that his graces shone brightest, revealing the hidden man in patience, cheerfulness, pious counsel, and in deep concern for his welfare, interest, love for its inmates, which was fully reciprocated.

Bro. Norrell was in many respects a strong man; very decided in his convictions. While charitable to other denominations, he was a loyal, ardent, joyful Methodist, rooted and grounded in the faith, knowledge and experience of Methodism. He believed in the class meeting and enjoyed the prayer service. It was in his home the preachers always met a cordial welcome. It was here I first learned to love and appreciate him. He was liberal to his church. As a steward and trustee, he looked well to her interests. He was a true friend and a safe counselor to his pastor. He was once elected and represented his county in the State Legislature. By industry and economy he had accumulated something more than a competency. He was a Mason, and was buried with Masonic honors by the fraternity. He often expressed himself in his later years as ready and willing to go when the Lord should call him. After the death of his companion, which was just two months prior to his, his wish to depart seemed to be intensified, and he seemed only to live in anticipation of that call. Having arranged all of his affairs, he was ready. The morning preceding his death he said to his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Ellis, "I have nothing to do but to die, and if it is the Lord's will, I hope it will come soon." That evening, at five o'clock, he passed peacefully away. Thus ended a beautiful and useful life. May the surviving children follow his godly example, and finally be reunited with their parents, and constitute an unbroken family that shall live with Christ forever!

Written by his former pastor,

J. F. ROBINSON.

IN MEMORIAM.

"Friend after friend departs;
Who has not lost a friend?"

WILLIAM WINANS DOUGLASS was born Dec. 7, 1832, in Wilkinson county, Miss., and died at his home near Oliva Branch, La., May 10, 1900. He was taken with a severe chill May 8, followed by a stroke of apoplexy, from which he never rallied, dying peacefully at 3.25 P. M., May 10. He was educated at Centenary College, and for a number of years engaged in school teaching, of which he made a success. The Civil War coming on, he was among the first to enlist in defense of his native land. He joined Company E of the First Louisiana Regiment of Cavalry, C. S. A., commanded by Col. John S. Scott, who was a half-brother to our friend. He served through the war, making a true and gallant soldier.

December 8, 1864, he was happily married to Miss Sarah J. Packer. Of this union were born nine children—four sons and five daughters. Of these, four sons and four daughters, all grown, with their mother, are left to mourn the loss of a loving, devoted husband, and a kind, indulgent father.

After the war he engaged in farming, and settled near Oliva Branch, which occupation he followed up to his death. He came of Methodist stock, his father being a local preacher in that church. He was a member of the M. E. Church, South, for more than thirty years, serving as steward, Sunday-school superintendent, and trustee. He was a liberal supporter of the church, and was ever the preacher's friend. For more than twenty-five years his house has been the preacher's home, and many an itinerant's heart will be made sad when it is learned that he is no more. That he had his faults, we admit, but he possessed many noble qualities, and his errors were of the head, and not of the heart.

Warm, generous, noble-hearted Douglas; many deeds of love and kindness, many acts of mercy hast thou done for the needy and distressed; kind and obliging as a neighbor and friend, nobly standing up for truth and right. The writer knew him intimately for more than twenty years, and a better, truer friend he never had, and by his death feels that he has sustained a personal bereavement. He will be sadly missed in the community where he lived, but, oh, how sadly will he be missed by the dear ones left behind! The large number of sorrowing friends and neighbors that attended his funeral attest the high esteem in which he was held. Although our friend left no testimony, being unconscious during his short sickness, yet we have a hope that all is well with him. We know that human sympathy avails not in an hour like this, but we would say to the loving wife, so sadly bereft; to the dear children, whom he loved better than life: You know where to find him; then it is your privilege to meet him at the beautiful gate, where he will be waiting and watching for you.

Farewell! farewell! my beloved friend; I hope to meet you in the city.

A FRIEND.

BLOUNT—WILLIAM BLOUNT was born in Posey county, Ind., Aug. 19, 1817, and died at his home in Lawrence county, Miss., May 14, 1900. He moved from Indiana to Mississippi when a mere lad. He was twice married—first, on July 13, 1838, to Miss Mary Loflin. Ten children were born to them, six of whom are living. In October, 1894, his wife was taken from him and carried to her reward in heaven. In November, 1895, he was married to Miss Susan Williams, who still survives.

Bro. Blount was an acceptable member of the Methodist Church for sixty years, and much of this time he was steward, in which capacity he was faithful and true. Much of his time was devoted to the interests of the church, and in contributing to her support he took the lead. He attended church regularly until a year or two ago, when he became so deaf that he could not hear the preaching, and about nine months ago he lost his eye-sight, and so spent his last days upon earth in physical blindness. During his last illness, which lasted about fifteen days, his suffering was great, but he bore it patiently and with resignation, and when death came he was both ready and willing to go—yea, more, he desired to "depart and be with Christ." Just a short time before his death he was questioned concerning his future prospects, and his reply was, "That is all right, and I had rather go than to stay." These words brought great comfort to the hearts of his grief-stricken wife and sorrowing children, and this scribe was present and shared in their joy.

In the death of Bro. Blount we sustain a great loss. Such separations are indeed grievous, but our loss is his gain, and if we will only follow his example, it is only a question of time as to when we shall meet him in that world where sickness and sorrow are unknown, and sad partings are no more.

M. A. THURMAN.

Mt. Carmel, Miss.

HOW'S THIS?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price, 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Some one has said this true and discerning utterance: "His salary may be small and his family large, his trials are many and his open triumphs few, but to the eye of anyone who rightly estimates the opportunities of this life and the rewards of the next, the lot of the ordinary country minister is one to be desired of God, and his lowliest work such as may be mentioned with thanksgiving and praise before the throne of the Most High."—Exchange.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Not a day passes over the earth but men and women of no note do great deeds, speak great words, and suffer noble sorrows. Of those obscure heroes, philosophers and martyrs, the greater part will never be known till that hour when many that were great shall be small, and the small great.—Charles Reade.

PIMPLES

on the face, eczema, tetter, freckles, blackheads, ring worm, blotches, and all skin disorders can be cured with

HEISKELL'S OINTMENT

Price 50 Cents a Box.

HEISKELL'S BLOOD AND LIVER PILLS

Purify the blood and tone the system.

Price 25 Cents per Bottle.

JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philadelphia.

THROW AWAY

YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of

CHILLIFUGE

will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

A High-Grade Institution for LADIES.

SHORTER COLLEGE, ROME, GEORGIA.

Situation beautiful. Climate delightful and invigorating. Health record unparalleled. Home comforts, careful supervision. Young girls received. All live with the faculty in the college. Buildings worth $150,000. Equipment excellent, well appointed laboratories, good gymnasium, etc. Faculty large, and composed of able and experienced professors. Courses extensive and thorough, in line with those given in the leading universities. A large Endowment, ensuring students superlative advantages at moderate cost. The Trustees grant a number of scholarships to deserving young ladies. Art and Elocution departments ably conducted. Music Faculty unsurpassed in America; musical equipment excellent. A PRIZE PIANO (gift of a generous friend of education), to be awarded for the best work. This is a two-thousand-dollar Hallet & Davis Piano—perhaps the grandest musical prize ever offered in any college in the world. During the past term all space was filled. Young ladies would do well to make early application for admission in September. Write President Simmons for a catalogue, which will be sent free, postpaid.

Emory College

Forty miles east of Atlanta. Situation high and healthy. No liquors sold in county. Intercollegiate games prohibited. Full college courses offered leading to A. B., B. Ph., and B. S. Degrees. Entire necessary expenses within $200. 63rd annual session begins Sept. 19, 1900. For catalogue and full information, address

C. E. Dowman, President

A SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY, BY DENTISTS, FOR DENTISTS.

The Atlanta Dental College has a corps of ten experienced teachers. Largest School in the State and in the South. Owns and operates its Chemic, Pathologic, Bacteriologic, and Cosmic apparatus within the College Building—a self-contained school teaching Dentistry by Dentists. Located in the heart of the city. For further and fuller particulars, address

WM. CRENSHAW, D.D.S., Dean.
Prudential Building, Atlanta, Ga.

FOUNDED 1838. CHARTERED 1854. Present Management Began 1899.

THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE and Conservatory of Music.

High in grade, thorough in scholastic requirement and pre-eminently religious, the WOMAN'S COLLEGE proposes to be what its name implies.

The First Year under the new management eminently successful. Boarders, 89; music pupils, 160; number in orchestra, 47.

The buildings are excellent, thoroughly equipped and furnished, large campus, modern conveniences. The Faculty thoroughly trained, experienced and reliable.

Few schools, if any, in the South offer better advantages for a high-grade academic or musical education. New Pianos for practice, and Ensemble playing given special prominence. Classes in Physics and Chemistry have the benefit of weekly lectures at the University.

NEXT SESSION OPENS SEPT. 12, 1900.

For illustrated catalogue address, REV. J. W. MALONE, A. M., President, Oxford, Miss.

Edward McGehee College for Girls,

Woodville, Miss.,

Will open its thirty-ninth annual session Wednesday, September 5th, 1900. Thoroughly equipped for work in the Departments of Mathematics, English, Sciences, Languages, Music and Elocution. Buildings are new and commodious, in perfect repair, and filled with the comforts of a refined home. Located in the hill country, it is free from malarial and other fevers. For Catalogue and terms address

MISS GEORGIA SWANSON, President, Woodville, Miss.

PEOPLES AND MORGAN'S SCHOOL.

FAYETTEVILLE, TENN.

A Training School for boys. Endorsed by Vanderbilt University. Thorough preparation for college or business. Healthful location. Fine Library. Good Dormitory. Board in family, $10 per month, or in Dormitory, $8. Tuition, $5. Next term begins Aug. 22. Write for circular.

R. H. PEOPLES, R. K. MORGAN, Principals.

References: Chancellor J. H. Kirkland, Dr. E. E. Hoss, Dr. Jno. J. Tigert.

W. W. Carre & Co

LUMBER,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to September, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to October, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewa in connection with the above offer.

BELMONT COLLEGE FOR YOUNG WOMEN, Nashville, Tenn.

Regent, Rev. R. A. Young, D D. LL D. Principals: Miss Hood, Miss Heron

"THE IDEAL COLLEGE HOME OF THE SOUTH." Suburban and city life combined. Electric cars to North entrance. Attractions of Park persuade to out door exercise. Eight schools in the hands of skilled specialists. Schools of Music, Art and Elocution employ methods of best Conservatories in this country and abroad. Diplomas conferred by schools. Lecture course studiously selected. Best lectures, concerts, recitals, etc., liberally patronized. Christian influences. Students attend church of their choice in city. Send for handsomely illustrated blue and bronze Catalogue and other College Literature. (Students from 34 States.)

VIRGINIA COLLEGE

FOR YOUNG LADIES. ROANOKE, VIRGINIA.

Opens Sept. 18, 1900. One of the leading Schools for Young Ladies in the South. Magnificent Buildings, with all modern improvements. Steam heat, electric light. Bath and toilet rooms on every floor. Campus of ten acres. Grand mountain scenery in Valley of Virginia, far-famed for health. Twenty-five American and European teachers. Thorough courses leading to Degrees of B. A., and M. A. Unsurpassed advantages in Music, Art and all branches. Students from 30 States. For catalogues address

MATTIE P. HARRIS, President, Roanoke, Virginia.

JOB PRINTING

- - All Kinds - -

AT THIS OFFICE.

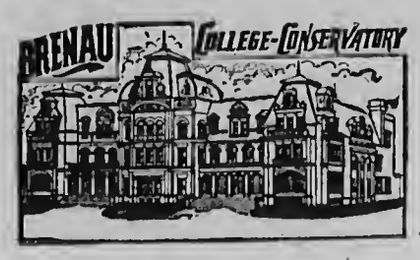
The Mooney School for Boys,

FRANKLIN, TENN.

Its certificate admits to a score of the best colleges in America, Vanderbilt University among the number. Its pupils take front rank. Discipline, instruction, and home life are all that could be asked, while expenses are moderate.

Write for a catalogue.

W. D. MOONEY, A.M., PRINCIPAL.



BRENAU

COLLEGE—CONSERVATORY,

GAINESVILLE, GA.

Located among the foot-hills of the Blue Ridge. A splendid Faculty of Specialists. Full courses in Literature, Science and Art. Diplomas awarded in departments. 160 boarders last year. 232 pupils in Conservatory. Director honor graduate of Royal Academy of Music, Rome, Italy. Normal Courses in Literary and Music Departments. 35 elegant pianos. Pipe organ. Beautiful concert-hall. Large campus. For handsome catalogue, address BRENAU, Gainesville, Ga.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to September, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

American troops sent to China on the transport Hancock have been landed at Taku.

A mob has burned the Japanese tempel at Amoy, China. Marines have been landed to restore order.

Further fighting has taken place near Tien Tsin. The Chinese were driven back with small loss to the allies.

The Black Flags, a band of savage and ruthless pirates, are reported marching on Peking to attack the allies.

The 1300 Cuban school teachers who have been in the United States for some time have sailed from Philadelphia for Havana.

The allies are said to have an insufficient force to police the city of Peking, and street fighting continues at intervals.

The situation at Peking is unchanged. The allies are waiting instructions from their governments before occupying the imperial city.

Detachments of the allied army are reported occupying the imperial city of Peking and holding positions at the palace gates.

There was a small race riot in New York, on Sunday, started by the shooting of a white boy by a negro. Several arrests were made.

President McKinley is seriously considering withdrawing the American troops from Peking, now that the legations have been relieved.

The War Department has again called upon Gen. Chaffee for a full report on the conditions in Peking. He has not yet answered former requests.

Under the ruse of the Boers demanding the surrender of the British garrison at Bank Station, De Wet crossed the river toward the Orange River Colony.

The population of New Orleans, according to the official count of the returns of the twelfth census, is 287,104. In 1890 the population was 242,039.

A report from Chee Foo says it is rumored that Russia, Germany and Japan have declared war on China, and invite England and the United States to retire.

William Jennings Bryan made a speech to a large audience at Manhattan, Kan., on Aug. 24. He declared that a policy of imperialism was impossible without a large army.

An experiment in rice culture is being made on Black Creek, near Scranton, Miss. It is estimated that seven acres planted in the grain will yield 350 bushels this year.

New Orleans is included among the cities selected by the Postoffice Department at which the pneumatic tube service investigation ordered by Congress will be conducted.

Because the general manager of the Taff Valley railway refuses to meet a representative of a labor union, not a pound of coal is moving in Cardiff, and 30,000 colliers are idle.

James Wilson, a negro ventriloquist, who made a rag baby cry on a street corner in Chicago, was mistaken for a kidnaper and chased by a mob. He narrowly escaped rough treatment.

The Italians at Louisville have protested to the papal legation at Washington against the refusal of Very Rev. Dr. Bonchet to conduct a solemn mortuary service in honor of King Humbert's memory.

Many transports with troops aboard are pouring into Taku. Late arrivals of United States troops include the Fifteenth Infantry, the Third Artillery and 500 marines, who are camped at Tien Tsin awaiting orders.

The Italian Government is taking precautions to prevent outbreaks Wednesday, when what is described as a popular demonstration against the Vatican for its treatment of Queen Margherita will take place.

The negro Peck, who caused the Akron, O., riot, last week pleaded guilty to the charge of attempted criminal assault, and was sentenced to life imprisonment and sent to the penitentiary. There was no demonstration.

Chinese Consul General Hoyow, at San Francisco, says there will be great danger in keeping United States troops in China. He fears there will be a terrible uprising all over the empire when it is learned that Peking is in the hands of foreigners.

South Carolina is to have an Interstate and West Indian Exposition in Charleston, Dec. 1, 1901, to June 1, 1902. The intention of this exposition is to show to the world the developments of South Carolina and the South during the last quarter of the Nineteenth Century.

WRITTEN IN BLOOD is the record of Hood's Sarsaparilla—the pure, rich, health-giving blood which it has given to millions of men, women and children. It is all the time curing diseases of the stomach, nerves, kidneys and blood.

All liver ills are cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

Although the reports from South Africa indicate that the pacification of the Transvaal is making but slow progress, it is evident that, as far as the Orange River Colony is concerned, all resistance has ceased. The only considerable band of Free Staters remaining, that under DeWet, has gone north into the Transvaal, with the intention of joining General Botha, closely pursued by Generals Methuen and Kitchener. The remaining forces of the Boers are massing along the Delagoa Bay railroad, with a view to making a last stand there.

LEMONS AS MEDICINE.

They regulate the Liver, Stomach, Bowels, Kidneys and Blood as prepared by Dr. H. Mozley, in his Lemon Elixir, a pleasant lemon drink. It cures biliousness, constipation, indigestion, headache, appendicitis, malaria, kidney diseases, fevers, chills, heart failure, nervous prostration, and all other diseases caused by a torpid or diseased liver and kidneys. It is an established fact that lemons, when combined properly with other liver tonics, produce the most desirable results upon the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and blood. Sold by druggists. 50c and $1 bottles.

Rev. John P. Sanders Writes:

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.: I have been relieved of a trouble which greatly endangered my life, by using Mozley's Lemon Elixir. My doctor declared my only relief to be the knife, my trouble being appendicitis. I have been permanently cured and am now a well man. I am a preacher of the M. E. Church, South, located in the town of Verbena, Ala. My brother, Rev. L. E. Cowen, recommended the Lemon Elixir to me. Ship me a half-dozen large bottles C. O. D.

Mozley's Lemon Elixir

Cured me of a long-standing case of chills and fever by using two bottles.
J. C. STANLEY,
Engineer E. T., Va. & Ga. R. R.

Mozley's Lemon Elixir

Cured me of a case of heart disease and indigestion of four years' standing. I tried a dozen different medicines. None but Lemon Elixir done me any good. TULES DIEHL, Cor. Habersham and St. Thomas Sts., Savannah, Ga.

Mozley's Lemon Elixir

I fully endorse it for nervous prostration, headache, indigestion and constipation, having used it with most satisfactory results, after all other remedies had failed. J. W. ROLLO, West End, Atlanta, Ga.

Situation Wanted.

A young lady, who is a graduate of a Southern college, desires a situation as teacher. Address, I. H.,
Bridgeville, Miss.

Free Kindergarten Training-School.

The Training-school of the New Orleans Free Kindergarten Association offers an opportunity to well-educated young women who wish to fit themselves for the kindergarten profession. The rate of tuition is low, and board may be obtained at moderate prices. The new term begins October first. For full information address, Miss Katharine W. Hardy, 1202 Annunciation St, New Orleans, La.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.
Address
REV. W. C. BLACK.

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co, 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Wanted.

A first-class male teacher, a married man preferred, in a town with about 150 educable children. Submit references with application; also state salary expected. Address E. A. Snthoff, or T. H. Riggle, Escatawpa, Miss.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Iuka Normal Institute, the pioneer normal of the South, manipulated by Pres. H. A. Dean, who is widely known as one of the foremost common-sense educators in the land. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

MARRIAGES.

WILLIS WEAVER.—At the residence of the groom's sister, Mrs. W. M. Hutson, Lees ville, La., Aug. 5, 1900, by Rev. J. M Alford, Mr. L. W. Willis and Miss Zula Weaver.

Dickson Normal College,

Both Sexes.

No malaria. No Yellow Fever. A most delightful health resort. Weakly boys and girls grow strong and vigorous. Strong faculty, thorough instruction, splendid advantages in all departments. Special advantages to young ladies and those wishing to teach. Lowest rates of any first-class school in the South. For handsome 48-page catalogue, address,
T. B. LOGGINS, Dickson, Tenn.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sardis	Sept. 15, 16
Como	22, 23
Senatobia	20, 30
Arkabutla, at Brooks	Oct. 5
Cold Water	0, 7
Batesville	13, 14
Courtland, at Pepes	20, 21
Burgess, at Love Joy	26
Eureka, at Mt Olivet	27, 28
Hernando	Nov. 3, 4
Longtown	8, 9
Pt. Grove	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's	17, 18
Wall Hill	28
Cockrum	24, 25
Tyro	Dec. 1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Okolona station	Sept. 2, 3
Houston and Wesley, at Houston	8, 9
Tupelo station	16, 17
Okolona circuit, at Egypt	23, 24
Buena Vista cir., at Pleasant Grove	29, 30
Montpelier circuit, at Palestine	Oct. 6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie	9
Shannon circuit, at Shannon	13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona	15
Tremont circuit, at Hopewell	20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem	27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at ——	Nov. 3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton	5
Aberdeen circuit, at ——	10, 11
Quincy circuit, at ——	17, 18
Aberdeen station	25, 20

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Water Valley—Wood Street	Sept. 1, 2
Oxford station	8, 9
Grenada station	15, 16
Grenada circuit	22, 23
Toccopola circuit	29, 30
Paris circuit	Oct. 6, 7
Pittsboro circuit	13, 14
Ebzy circuit	15
Slate Springs circuit	20, 21
East Grenada circuit	22
Coffeeville circuit	27, 28
Minter City	Nov. 3, 4
Charleston	10, 11
Cascilla	12
Water Valley circuit	17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street	24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec. 1, 2

R. G. PORTER, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

West Point	Sept. 2, 3
Starkville station	9, 10
Macon	16, 17
Shuqualak, at Salem	22, 23
Winston ville, at Hickory Grove	26
Hebron, at Hebron	29, 30
Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct. 6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity	13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel	20, 21
Tibbee, at Mayhew	27, 28
Columbus station	Nov. 4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill	17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs	23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 108, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona station	Sept. 8, 9
Greenwood station	15, 16
Valden circuit, at Valden	22, 23
Carrollton and Mc Nerny, at McAnerny	29, 30
Winona circuit, at New Hope	Oct. 6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb	13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona	20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green	27, 28
Itta Bena and Idon, at Itta Bena	Nov. 3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt	10, 11
Carrollton, at Edon	17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead	24, 25
Indianola	Dec. 1, 2

The trustees of church property will please have their reports ready at the fourth Quarterly Conference, made out according to Discipline.

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sallis, at Bethel	Sept. 15, 16
Tom Nolen, at Tom Nolen	22, 23
Enpora, at Enpora	29, 30
Cumberland, at Shady Grove	26
Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct. 6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula	13, 14
Belzona, at Belzona	20, 21
Kosciusko station	7 P. M. 28
Kosciusko circuit, at Smyrna	27, 28
Ethel, at Tabernacle	Nov. 1
Ackerman, at Salem	3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel	10, 11
Chester	17, 18
Louisville	24, 25
Rural Hill	27
Pickens	Dec. 1, 2
Durant	7 P. M. 2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

CORINTH DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Mantachie, at Center Star	Sept. 1, 2
Belmont	4, 5
Marietta, at Ozark	8, 9
Burnt Mills, at Forest Grove	11, 12
Jacinto	15, 16
Booneville circuit	19

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Holly Springs station	Sept. 1, 2
Abbeville, at Liberty	8, 9
Shawnee, at Mt. Hope	12

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.
Memphis, Tenn.

GREENVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Gunnison	Sept 1, 2
Bollvar	8, 9

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas	Oct 0, 7
Sharon, at Sharon	13, 14
Canton	14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street	20, 21
Terry, at Byram	27, 28
Silver Creek	Nov. 3, 4
Lake City	4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope	10, 11
Benton, at Midway	11, 12
Tranquil	17, 18
Yazoo City	18, 19
Camden	24, 25
Fannin	Dec. 1, 2
Brandon station	2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues. 0
Steen's Creek	8,

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Providence, at Camp Gronnd	Sept. 1, 2
Westville, at ——	8, 9
Mt Carmel, at ——	10
Pearl, at Mt. Moriah	11
Caseyville, at Bethesda	15, 16
Summit, at Johnston	22, 23
Lincoln, at Bethel	29, 30
Tylertown, at Water Holes	Oct. 6 7
Adams, at Pisgah	9

Let the preachers in charge see to it that the books are on hand, that Ques 20 may be fully answered. Please do not entrust this matter to anybody.

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

FOREST DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Morton, at Zion Grove	Sat and Sun Sept. 1, 2
Rose Hill, at Hopewell	Sat and un 8, 9
Trenton, at New Prospect	Sat. and Sun 15, 10
Shiloh, at Clear Creek	Sat. and Sun 22, 23
Decatur, at Good Hope	Sat and Sun 29, 30
Chunkey, at Concord	Sat. and Sun Oct, 6, 7
Newton and H., at Hickory	Sat. and Sun 13, 14

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Hermanville	Sept. 1, 2
Warren	8, 9
Angutilla	15, 16
Rolling Fork	16
Utica	22, 23
Satartia	29, 30

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Shubuta, at Quitman	Sept. 2, 3
Daleville, at Andrew's Chapel	8, 9

G. A. GUICE, P. E.

NATCHEZ DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchez—Jefferson Street	Sept. 2, 3
Natchez—Wesley Chapel	1, 2
Roxie	8, 9
Lebanon	15, 10

W. L. G. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—THIRD ROUND

Vancleave, at Mt. Pleasant	Aug. 25, 26
Hattiesburg	Sept. 2 3

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Sept 1, 2
Montgomery, at Colfax	5
Bunkie, at Wh to Chapel	8, 9
Dry Creek	15, 16

J. D HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Ft. Jessup and Many, at New Hope	Sept. 1, 2
Zwolle, at Forest Hill	4
Mansfield	0

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Indian Bayou, at Bethel	Sept. 1, 2
Prudhomme, at Long Point	8, 9
Plaquemine Brusle, at P. B.	15, 16
Crowley	22, 23
Lake Arthur	29, 30
Grand Chenlere	Oct. 6, 7
Lake Charles	12, 14
West Lake	20, 21

Special attention is called to questions to be called at these third Conferences.

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson	Aug. 30
Baton Rouge—First Church	31-Sept. 3
Baton Rouge circuit	30-Sept. 2
Live Oak, at Palmetto	4, 5
Port Vincent, at Maurepas	7-9
Ponchatoula, at Springfield	10, 11
Franklinton, at Mt. Hermon	15, 16
Kentwood, at Tangipahoa	18, 19
St. Helena, at Day's Church	19, 20
Amite City	21-23
Wilson, at Pine Grove	28-30
Clinton	Oct. 2, 3
Baker, at Brookstown	4
St. Francisville, at Tunica	0, 7
Bluff Creek Camp Meeting	Aug 17-26

Let there be full written reports in answer to Ques. 13, 15 and 18. Wherever possible, let the cause of the American Bible Society be presented during the quarter. In answer to Ques. 20, let all the Church Registers be produced, and ample time will be allowed for a thorough inspection of same. Let there be full reports upon the Twentieth Century Thank offering.

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Waterproof, at Wesley	Sept. 1, 2
Bonita, at Jones	8, 9
Monroe	9, 10
Floyd, at Oak Grove	15, 16
Delhi	22, 23

J. M. HENRY, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Valley circuit, at Blocker	Aug. 30
Arcadia circuit, at Arcadia	Sept 1, 2
Haynesville circuit, at New Salem	7
Homer, at Arizona	8, 9
Gansville circuit, at Stloam	15, 16

B. F. CRAWS, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Carondelet Street	Sept. 2
White Castle	9
Burgundy Street	16

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

This is the true liberty of Christ, when a free man binds himself in love to duty. Not in shrinking from our distasteful occupations, but in fulfilling them, do we realize our high origin.—F. W. Robertson.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two-thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Positions Guaranteed

We guarantee a good paying position to all music students who graduate at our Conservatory of Music. It is now the largest in the South, with 9 able music teachers and 242 music students, with a great German pianist at its head. Literary courses in connection. Work compares favorably with that done at Boston or Cincinnati, and at one fourth the cost.
For catalogue write to
J. W. BERSON, Pres.,
Meridian, Miss

EPWORTH PIANOS

Epworth Pianos are extra sweet toned, well made and durable. They have that rich, sustained, sympathetic tone that appeals to musicians.
They are used and endorsed by such song-writers as E. O. Excell, Chas. H. Gabriel and others.
We ship on approval—direct to homes and churches—saving retail dealers expense and profit—big item.
Buyer gets benefit of better piano, or lower price—or both.
No matter where you live, or what piano you expect to buy, or how you prefer to pay—write us today.
We will send catalogue, factory prices and full information by return mail.
Don't wait. Write to-day.
Mention this paper.
WILLIAMS ORGAN & PIANO COMPANY
Methodist Book Concern Building—Chicago

10,000 AGENTS WANTED.
FOR LIFE & SPEECHES OF BRYAN
The "Life" is written by Mrs. Bryan. The Speeches revised by Mr. Bryan, but he is not pecuniarily interested in its publication. A golden opportunity for agents. Don't miss it. One agent sold 57 copies in one week; another 67 copies in 10 days; another 17 copies first day. Everybody will buy it; Democrat, Republican, Populist and Prohibitionist. The demand exists. It is only necessary for agents to supply it.
$200.00 GIVEN for selling 200 books in 3 months. Other liberal inducements. Will guarantee good parties a salary. Distance is no hindrance as freight is paid. Credit given. Circulars, instructions, outfit etc., free, but 25 cents must be sent for mailing. Act quick.
R. H. WOODWARD CO., Baltimore, Md.
NOTICE—We also desire to employ agents for selling our book on the "Paris Exposition," beautifully illustrated. We also publish "Life of McKinley" and other campaign books.

PATENTS
promptly procured, OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade Marks," FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 26 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

HOLLINS INSTITUTE
Opens its 58th session Sept. 19th, 1900, with accommodations for 225 Young Ladies (boarders), 30 officers and teachers. Eclectic system. Diplomas are awarded in all departments. Departments presided over by University graduates, located in a region of surpassing beauty and rest-ort of health. Mineral waters. Sulphur and Chalybeate. Apply for catalogue to
CHAS. L. COCKE, Supt., Hollins, Va.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. Dr. D. R. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.
Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for 2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot cordwood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE,
(ESTABLISHED 1850.)
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.
A. F. WATKINS, D. D., President. REV. M. L. BURTON, V. Pres. and Bus. Mgr.
The session will open Sept. 12, 1900. Unusual advantages are offered by this historic institution.
Campus large and beautiful. Buildings commodious, being thoroughly repaired.
Hot and cold water in the dormitories. Electric lights in every room.
Healthfulness unsurpassed. Course of study comprehensive and thorough.
Faculty carefully selected. Our facilities for doing work in the Departments of Music, Painting, and the Industrial Arts are very fine.
Our Motto: "Do Right."
Our Aim: The development of the highest type of Christian womanhood.
Our Charges are moderate. Write for a Catalogue.
A card addressed to WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE, Brookhaven, Miss., will receive prompt attention.

BELHAVEN COLLEGE (For Young Ladies), JACKSON, MISS.
One of the most thoroughly equipped High Grade Schools in the South. Buildings new and modern, heated by steam and lighted with electricity. Both rooms for hot and cold water on all floors. Beautiful campus of twelve acres of native forest trees. No school for girls in the South can show such a health record. During the past Winter, noted for epidemics of pneumonia, la grippe, measles and small-pox all over the State, there was not a single case of any of the above diseases, or any serious case of sickness of any kind, in the college. The Faculty is composed of specialists in all departments - In Music, Elocution and Art the College offers exceptionally fine advantages. The authorities of the New England Conservatory of Music and Elocution say: "Of all our pupils from the South, those from Belhaven College stand not only in the highest rank in their classes, but are regarded, without exception, as possessing those womanly traits of character and that degree of intellectual development which command instant respect and admiration." Next session begins October 1st, 1900. For our beautiful catalogue, address
L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., President.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.-NO. 36. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2298

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

President McKinley has given the other nations which signed the arbitration treaty at The Hague a reminder that this government is very much in earnest in carrying out the provisions therein for the arbitration of international differences, by requesting former Presidents Harrison and Cleveland to accept appointment as United States representatives on the Arbitration Board. Each of the powers which signed the treaty is to have four representatives on the Board. In view of the probability of misunderstandings and disputes between the allied powers now operating together in China, the early formation of the Board of International Arbitration would seem to be wise.

The situation in China, or at least in Pekin and the immediately surrounding country, is absolutely unknown in Washington at this time, owing to breaks somewhere in the line of communication. The messages which have been received during the past three or four days have been a week, or more, old, and have contained little that throws any real light on the situation. There is a growing suspicion that messages are being held back by the Chinese, who control a portion of the land wires over which Pekin messages come, and that those which have come through have been purposely mutilated.

Those interested in the work of the Central Union Mission are much pleased with a favorable report made by the assistant attorney for the District of Columbia on an application of the mission to be exempted from the payment of water taxes, not only because it asks the commissioner to grant the request, but because it officially endorses the religious status of the mission. The claim of the district assessor was that the mission should pay the water tax because it charged a small fee for lodgings. The report of the attorney said on that subject: "The churches of our city derive income from their pew rents, colleges and other educational institutions charge and collect tuition fees, but they are all exempt from this tax, and properly so, on the ground that there is no profit to anyone in such income, if it can be so denominated, the same being wholly consumed, with many thousands of dollars in addition, in the religious, charitable and educational work to which the institutions are devoted. The Central Union Mission stands upon precisely the same ground in this respect, and, it is respectfully submitted, is entitled to the same consideration and action." The report quotes the act of Congress authorizing the commissioners to furnish water free of charge to orphan asylums, charity schools and institutions, and all churches, and then says: "In view of the apparent intent of Congress, the highly commendable nature of the institution, and the authorities, which justify a liberal construction of such exemption, I am of the opinion that the Central Union Mission is to be deemed a 'church' within the meaning of the provisions of the act of Congress quoted. That being so, the commissioners are authorized to furnish Potomac water to it without charge to an amount to be fixed by the commissioners, any amount in excess of which is to be charged for at the prevailing rate."

In acknowledging receipt of the Washington contribution for the India famine sufferers, the executive chairman of the New York committee quotes the following cablegram sent by U. S. Consul Fee from Bombay, Aug. 23: "Famine distress is appalling. Thousands will die of starvation unless rescued. Money is needed to buy both food and blankets. Are suffering from lack of clothing is terrible. The condition of destitute women and deserted children is specially pitiable. Many boys and girls are in heart-rending need."

A committee representing the Christian Endeavor, the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, and a number of Washington churches, has arranged for semi-weekly religious services, Wednesday and Sunday evenings, at Fort Meyer, where four companies of United States regular troops recently brought from Porto Rico are stationed. The sermon at the initial service was preached by Dr. E. Trumbull Lee, of Cincinnati, his theme being, "What Is Your Life?"

Reports from postal agents have caused the Postoffice Department to begin an investigation of the methods of numerous so-called investment companies, which are believed to be nothing more than lotteries under a respectable name. If the suspicions of the postal officials are shown by the investigation to be well founded, fraud orders will be issued against a lot of these concerns.

Rev. F D. Power, in an able sermon on the superiority of Christianity to all other religions, said: 'Christianity, compared with all other religions, stands pre-eminent. Christianity alone can point to evidence. It is historic. From the first hour to the present its origin and progress has been registered in contemporaneous and independent records, which the world accepts. Tacitus, Setonius, Pliny, are witnesses that can not be silenced. Christianity alone can show the fulfillment of its Founder's prophecy. It has become a great tree, shooting forth branches in which the fowls of the air have taken refuge. It makes all things new. It causes the wilderness to be glad and the desert place to blossom as the rose. It breaks the stony heart, sets free the guilt-burdened and earth-bound spirit. Which shall it be—Buddha, Socrates, or Christ? The religion of atheism, of morality, or of the Son of God? Nirvana, annihilation, uncertainty, or heaven? As the Lord loves you and calls you, and alone takes you and pardons you, comforts you and keeps you, and brings you home after the storm and peril are past, let it be Christ, now and always."

Washington, Aug. 29, 1900.

LAYING THE CORNER-STONE OF OUR CHURCH IN CUBA.

The following letter from Dr. David W. Carter, superintendent of our Cuban Mission, has just been received:

"MY DEAR BISHOP: I received your letter at Matanzas, and on my return found one from you awaiting me here.

"We had an excellent and very successful corner-stone laying. Inclosed I send you a program which, with some slight variations, was carried out. Mrs. Leland sang a sweet solo, not on the program, and added to the interest.

"The day was lovely. The blue sky arched over us, the sea breeze fanned us, and as it was 4 P. M., the tall building west threw its grateful shadow upon us. The streets on both sides of our walls were filled with people. They sat on the walls, on the building stones, on the curbing. They crowded all the neighboring houses. They stood and sat in uncomfortable positions through a two hours' service. The men uncovered and everybody was orderly, respectful and at times sympathetic. Carts and hacks turned back, and did not disturb us by passing. We had an organ, a piano, a violin, a flute, and a large chorus of adults and children to make our music.

"At a low estimate, one thousand interested spectators were present.

"I stood on the wall of the building, and for about forty-five minutes spoke on 'The Mission of Protestantism in Cuba.' It gave me an opportunity to disabuse the minds of the people of some errors and prejudices. The Lord enabled me to speak with ease and liberty, and I am sure good was done. It was the largest Spanish-speaking audience I ever addressed.

"As soon as we can get into our new house we shall move right forward. We took a collection and got $61 (U. S. currency). You should have seen Baker; he was one big, radiant, perspiring smile.

"Per contra: Late in the evening Baker's cook was passing the Carmelite Church, when one of the barefoot brothers was fuming, sweating, and kicking his pulpit, and jumping up and down, and affirming that his religion was the only one, the holy, apostolic, Catholic and genuine article. The Cubans know him and his brand of religion only too well.

"If we are not stopped for lack of funds, we hope to be in our church by Oct. 15. I do hope you will be able to secure the funds to finish this church without a break or hold-up. The moral effect will be very fine, and will be a demonstration to Matanzas that when we put our hand to a thing we can do it.

"These solid stone walls sunk deep into the ground tell them another thing: That we mean to stay here; that we are not simply here, as they have heard from many sources, while the United States army remains. They see we are rushing up our church at the very time the troops are leaving. They will believe in us, and more and more join us.

'Baker says to write you something like the following, and that you will see its resemblance to something you wrote him not long ago:

"'Send on the money!'

"'P. S.—Send on the money!'

"'P. S.—Send on the money!'

"'N. B.—Send on the money!'

"With love and esteem,

"DAVID W. CARTER."

Havana, Aug. 21, 1900.

That is a thrilling communication. It describes an occasion which marks an epoch in the history of the city of Matanzas—nay, more, in the history of Cuba.

Methodism has entered Cuba to stay until the island is redeemed. When Paul and Silas and Luke and Timothy brought the gospel first to Europe, entering the continent at Philippi, the event meant more than the battle fought by the Imperialists and Republicans of Rome, near that strategic city.

This corner-stone laying at Matanzas means more to Cuba and the Cubans than armies, captains-general, and new Constitutions.

The work must not stop. It must not be delayed even.

Some weeks ago, after the lot had been paid for and $2,500 of the building fund had been secured, I thought Bro. Baker was delaying too long the beginning of the work. Hence I wrote him a letter punctuated and postscripted with the exhortation, "Build that church." Now he rejoins, "Send on the money." It is a fair response.

It will require $4,000 to complete the house. As intimated, we have $2,500 secured. I want the remaining $1,500 by the fifteenth of October.

I echo Baker's cry throughout the church, "Send on the money."

Will every man, woman and child who reads this letter send me a contribution at once? "Send on the money." W. A. CANDLER.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 28, 1900.

Communications.

THE RELATION OF OUR FOUNDER AND EARLY LEADERS TO THE CAUSE OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION.

(A paper read by Miss Mattie Lacy, of Shreveport, before the Shreveport District Epworth League Conference at Keatchie, La., Aug. 3.)

Daniel Webster says: "Knowledge doesn't comprise all which is contained in the word 'education.' The feelings are to be disciplined, the passions are to be restrained, true and worthy motives are to be inspired, a profound religious feeling is to be instilled, and pure religious morality inculcated under all circumstances. All this is comprised in education."

Religion and education go hand in hand. Our studies have disclosed the fact that this is a Christian nation—that Christianity is wrought into the very bone and fiber and blood of our civil and social institutions. It is well for us to be reminded whence came our great educational systems and enterprises, and by whom they have been so well guided and nurtured. We should know to whom the America of to-day is so great a debtor. The spirit of Protestantism is the spirit of enlightenment, and has ever been the promoter and pioneer of education. It is a fact of history that with the revival of religion there has been the revival of letters. A quickened spiritual life in the church has inspired the nation with an increased mental activity.

Great men, by natural law, come forward in groups, but to insure the success and unity of a movement, there must be a solitary pre-eminence. While Charles Wesley, George Whitefield, John Fletcher and Thomas Coke were mighty auxiliaries, it is around John Wesley that the religious movement of the eighteenth century, called Methodism, centers. He was born at Epworth, England, in 1703. He had the great advantage of a noble, pious ancestry, and his early surroundings all conspired to prepare instruments fit for the kingdom of God. John Wesley was a graduate of the University at Oxford. While a student there his mother exhorts him: "Now, in good earnest make religion the business of your life, for, after all, that is the one thing, strictly speaking, necessary." This excellent advice was not lost upon him. He was ordained a deacon at the age of twenty-two. As he grew older he became more anxious to do good, and realizing that the world was his parish, set about his life-work. Following his rule, "We would not make haste; we desire to barely follow Providence as it gradually opens," Wesley began to prepare for the education of the children of his preachers, and for Christian education generally. He enlarged the school at Kingswood, and out of it grew the Kingswood School so famed in Methodist annals, for above half a century Methodism's only college; one of Wesleys favorite haunts; the alma mater of scores who did great service in Church and State; a homestead in which Methodism lingered till 1852. The visitor of to-day finds there a reformatory for vicious youth. Wesleyan pupils have been drawn away to ampler accommodations and more convenient localities. Through Mr. Wesley education by the church was put on the right basis, and the Wesleyan educational system in both hemispheres are the fruits of that handful of corn waving like Lebanon.

Methodism has determined the modern theological idea of God, and has thereby asserted its intellectual superiority. The idea of God is the touch-stone of learning and culture. Wherever Methodism has built a chapel it has kindled the fires of religious literary inspirations, and transformed the whole tone of English literature. Bishop Asbury said, "It is as much our business to educate the people as it is to get them converted." And after a consultation with Bishop Coke, they decided to establish a college—a real Methodist college, the first in America. It was situated at Abingdon, Md., and was named Cokesbury for the two Bishops, Coke and Asbury. These Bishops issued a circular to the church in 1784, giving the object and plans of the proposed institution. In setting forth the purposes of the school, they say: "The last, though perhaps not least, object in view is the establishment of a seminary for children of our competent friends, where learning and religion may go hand in hand; where every advantage may be obtained which may promote the prosperity of the present life without endangering the morals and religion of the children to those temptations to which they are exposed in most of the public schools."

This is an object of importance indeed, and here all the tenderest feelings of the parents' heart are ranged on our side. Our first object shall be to answer the designs of Christian education by forming the minds of the youth, through divine aid, to wisdom and holiness; by instilling into their minds the principles of true religion. We had reason to expect that the early colonists of America would be the ardent friends of the best education. A large proportion of the pioneer ministers were men of the highest culture, and some had distinguished themselves in scholarship and literature; many of them graduates of Oxford and Cambridge. These men, of course, became the leaders in all educational movements, and to them and their co-laborers this great Republic is indebted for the ardent spirit and the elaborate schemes of our national enlightenment. They very early championed a system of schools, as they said, to the end that learning may not be buried in the graves of our forefathers in Church and Commonwealth. The fathers were wise enough to discern the certain peril of divorcing learning from religion. They accepted the maxim of Bacon, that, "In knowledge without love there is something of malignity," and provided that the schools they established should be the homes of serious and sanctified learning; that intellectual culture and spiritual principle must be bound in immortal wedlock.

The first institution for the promotion of higher education in American colonies was born of religious conviction. One of its early rules adopted for the spiritual culture of the college was: "Let every student be plainly instructed and earnestly pressed to consider well that the main end of life and studies is to God and Jesus Christ, which is eternal life, and, therefore, to lay Christ at the bottom as the only foundation of all sound knowledge and learning." Is it any wonder that this is still one of our foremost institutions of learning to-day?

DISTRICT DOTS.

Some things I observe have a tendency to discourage me. Some of our preachers inform me that the congregations at the quarterly meetings are not as large as they are at the ordinary services. A presiding elder is very apt to think that his coming is the cause of the falling off. Then he naturally concludes the people don't care to hear him preach. Then the conclusion comes that he is in the way of the success of the gospel, and ought to pray for grace enough to give place to a man who can do better. This change could hardly be made during the year, so he has to go on as best he can under the discouragement until Conference convenes. My observation is that a discouraged man is shorn of his power, and can't do much. Of all the people who need encouragement at every turn, the presiding elder is the most needy.

Another thing: Some of our preachers seem to have a rule that the week before quarterly meeting they spend away from the work. Instead of staying among their people to get them ready for the meeting, they take a sort of semi-vacation, and get home Friday or Saturday, and nobody is ready. I think if the preachers would try and interest their people more deeply in the quarterly meetings, it would make those meetings more successful, and the preachers would reap the benefit. If the preachers take no interest, or very little interest, how can they expect the people to be interested? The enthusiasm of the preacher is the measure of the enthusiasm of the people. I have known very few congregations go ahead of their preachers. Now, these two things I have mentioned pester me no little. I don't want to be in a position where my presence hinders the work of the Lord, and I don't want to occupy a place that some one can take and do better work than I am doing. But while I might swap two preachers in our district, I have no authority to swap myself and another preacher. I suppose I must suffer the pestering and discouragement with what grace I have until next Conference.

On the other hand, there are some things which encourage me. When I see a preacher go to a place where he is a perfect stranger, and where they have been talking for years about building a church, and take right hold, and in a few months have a handsome "house of the Lord" ready for dedication, that does me good, and I feel like somebody is some account after all. If the preachers will just listen, men and women will talk for a whole generation about building a church, and never even lay the foundation. Talk that does not issue in deeds is the merest babble, and people will babble if you sit still and listen.

When I see a preacher diligently looking after "all" the interests of the church, and faithfully doing "all" the duties of his office, hope springs up anew. It seems to me that some preachers think that some of these duties are too small and trivial for their notice. They are so high, and having set their eyes heavenward, they do not look down at such matters. The man that always walks with his eyes turned toward the skies will have many more falls than the man who occasionally looks down to the ground. When this one falls he does not fall as hard, nor is he half as much surprised and shocked by the tumble. I have seen preachers fall, and they have been perplexed to know why. The matter is plain to other people. Solomon says, "A prudent man looketh well to his going," and "ponder the path of thy feet." The "path" of a preacher's feet is paved with the duties of his office! His "going" is simply doing duty faithfully and heartily. I know a preacher that nine-tenths of the churches in any Conference would consider themselves scandalized if he were appointed to serve them; yet, by his scrupulous attention to his work and his diligent faithfulness in discharge of duty, he has won his way to the heart of every presiding elder he has ever had, and is constantly growing in the love and esteem of those he serves. He simply takes the Bible and Discipline, and works according to the directions they give. Such a man rarely fails. St. Peter, referring to duties, says, "If ye do these things, ye shall never fall." There is a man of this kind on our district, and I always come away from his work in better spirits. He puts iron in my blood.

After all, I suppose these discouragements and encouragements, these risings and failings in feeling, are best. A dead level on either extreme would become monotonous and tiresome. The air in the low ground may be too heavy, but that on the mountain-top is too thin to support robust life. So I go along as best I can, and make the best possible use of this variety. P. E.

The grand difficulty is to feel the reality of both worlds, so as to give each its due place in our thoughts and feelings, to keep our mind's eye and our heart's eye ever fixed on the land of promise, without looking away from the road we are to travel toward it.—Augustus Hare.

FREEDOM.

BY JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

We are not free: Freedom doth not consist
In musing with our faces toward the Past,
While petty cares and crawling interests twist
Their spider threads about us, which at last
Grow strong as iron chains to cramp and bind
In formal narrowness, heart, soul, and mind.
Freedom is recreated year by year.
In hearts wide open on the Godward side,
In souls calm cadenced as the whirling sphere,
In minds that sway the future like a tide.
No broadest creeds can hold her, and no codes;
She chooses men for her august abodes,
Building them fair and fronting to the dawn;
Yet when we seek her we but find a few
Light footprints, leading mornward through the dew;
Before the day had risen, she was gone,
And we must follow; swiftly runs she on,
And, if our steps should slacken in despair,
Half turns her face, half smiles through golden hair,
Forever yielding, never wholly won.

—Exchange.

Communications.

DEGRADING THE MINISTRY.

A preacher's influence and usefulness depend much upon his reputation and the esteem in which he is held by the people. To degrade him unjustly is, then, not only a grievous wrong, but an injury to the cause of Christ.

Preachers, so it seems to this writer, are frequently degraded in consequence of being judged by false criteria. The amount of salary received, or money collected for other purposes, is made the test without due consideration of circumstances.

Not long since I heard of a worthy and influential layman, who, in addressing a preachers' meeting, expressed deep concern for preachers who were receiving such inadequate salaries. In reply, a city pastor remarked that people generally paid for what they got. The idea expressed was that if the salary paid the preacher was small, the services rendered by the recipient were poor. Now, this statement did did not lack much of being a mean misrepresentation of a large class of preachers. Preachers are, usually, when measured by financial success, misjudged by those who are to a large extent ignorant of the difficulties with which they have to contend. But the critic referred to above had come up through the tribulation of "Hardscramble" and "Post Oak circuits," and it is a little difficult to understand how he could have forgotten the "things" that were "behind." Perhaps he was like the young lawyer who said to the writer that his head had grown much since he had quit the farm, and begun the practice of law, though he was about thirty years old when the change was made. This city pastor must have imagined when his salary flowed in readily, and the collections were secured easily, that his head had grown.

Much criticism is indulged in of preachers on hard appointments by people who know but little of the difficulties of the work. A presiding elder may fail to fully understand the difficulties of a country charge. In these charges he is usually regarded as a "big man," and the "best foot is put foremost" when he is present by the people, who are perfectly willing for their pastor to be their scapegoat.

It is a well-known fact to preachers in the country charges that wealth is leaving the circuits continually, and finding its way to the large towns and cities.

Another fact ought to be considered: The country church usually has but one sermon a month, and that frequently in the afternoon, from head, throat, and lungs much wearied by a forenoon service. I submit that there is some difference between one sermon a month and eight sermons a month. The masses of the people, especially in these country charges, depend upon the pulpit largely for religious instruction and inspiration, and in proportion to its success in making an intelligent and consecrated membership will this membership patronize our church papers. The ministry, however, having such limited opportunities can not be as potential in the accomplishment of these ends as should be the case.

Liberality in supporting the institutions of the church is largely in proportion to religious training and favorable circumstances. But the poor country circuits and missions being to a large extent without either, we should not expect them to do great things, nor should we censure their pastors when they have done the best that could be done with the means at hand.

In answer to the foregoing it may be said that the people of some country circuits are liberal in their support of the church. This is true, but, as a rule, they are small circuits, the membership of which is possessed of considerable wealth and intelligence, and whose liberality is the outcome of religious training under favorable circumstances through several generations. That some men are what they are is largely due to what their grandfathers were. An intelligent and high-toned ancestry means much. There is a disposition on the part of such people to have neighbors of the same sort. Hence, in the settling of the country, people of this class predominated in some sections. It was the result of seeking congenial environments. The man who has come down through such ancestry and environment has a wonderful advantage over the men whose fathers never took a church paper, and never gave more than one dollar a year for all church purposes, and that for his whole family. The young man reared under favorable environments has a wonderful advantage over the one who was brought up in a community, the leading spirits of which criticise the church and ministry for their fancied mercenary spirit, and by example and precept teach the young people to hold on to their money.

I know of a circuit (and it is typical of a large class of circuits) that paid its pastor considerably less than $300 last year. This charge is composed of six churches. It usually pays about thirty per cent. of the collections ordered by the Annual Conference. In the bounds of this charge Hard-shellism is strong and somewhat aggressive; Universalism is felt as a deadening leaven; Campbellism is making an earnest struggle for possession. Other churches are in the field looking out for themselves. In several communities in this charge our people are divided by the holiness movement. Evangelists from a distance are paid to hold meetings. Those who would be loyal to the church seem to be discouraged and backslidden. The claim is made by this people that financial burdens have been placed upon them in the form of collections much too heavy to be borne.

Deep-seated, outspoken prejudice against preachers who have much to say about money in the pulpit is prevalent, and the disposition to resent the addition of a new collection is very apparent; yet the pastor will be expected to make a good report on the "Twentieth Century Thank-offering" claim. To say he does not feel a proper interest in the educational work of our church would be to slander him; yet, because he can not accomplish the impossible, he is criticised through the church press.

The picture of the charge to which attention has been called in the foregoing has not been presented in colors too dark. The whole truth would have made it darker. The very life and perpetuity of the church seem threatened. The people need to be taught 'again which be the first principles of the oracles of God." And with stoveless churches but little can be done during the Winter, so the pastor has about eight Sundays in which to lift ten collections, besides the Twentieth Century Thank-offering for Education.

Now, there is no degradation in doing such work, but in being unjustly classed or graded after the work is done.

H. M. J.

BAPTIST BLUFF.

A PLAIN STATEMENT.

In the ADVOCATE, of May 3, 1900, appeared an article written by the undersigned on the baptism of Jesus. Rev. A. L. Johnston, under the nom de plume of "Crispus," took up the subject in the Baptist Chronicle, of Alexandria, La., and without any reservation offered me $1,000 in gold if I would mention the name of any reputable scholar on earth who denied that Jesus was immersed. Instantly I sent the name of Matthew Henry, that distinguished commentator whose commentary has been in demand 160 years, who denies, in his comment on Matt. iii, 16, that Jesus was immersed. To this my critic replied, depreciating Matthew Henry's scholarship. In that reply he stated that Dr. Eaton, of the Western Recorder, Louisville, Ky., was the one who was offering the money. I then sent a few testimonials as to the merits of Matthew Henry's Commentary and scholarship of the man himself, one of which was by the late Pastor C. H. Spurgeon, of London. To this Bro. Johnston replied, confessing himself in error in offering $1 000 for the name of a reputable scholar who denied that Jesus was immersed, but that the offer was that of a wealthy Baptist layman who desired that his name be withheld, and the offer was one of "$1,000 in gold for the production of a single passage in Greek, of the classic or New Testament period, where 'baptizo' meant sprinkle or pour."

I communicated with Dr. T. T. Eaton, LL.D., here spoken of, and he replied, offering the money for a passage where "'baptizo' meant sprinkle or pour." In the same letter he expressed the belief that the New Testament was included, as being Greek of the New Testament period, though, as a matter of fact, no Greek copy of the New Testament now in possession of Christians dates any further back than about the fourth century. The preliminaries being arranged, I sent the Greek of the New Testament of Holy-Ghost baptism ("baptisthesesthe"), Acts i, 5, arguing that it was "poured," or 'shed forth." Also ("baptismois") Heb. ix, 10, where, under this Greek word, Paul describes the "divers washings" of the Mosaic dispensation. I also sent two citations from the classic Greek. Dr. Eaton replied that I had not translated the words "sprinkle" or "pour;" therefore, there was nothing in my passages cited. I reminded him that the offer was not one of "translation," but one of "meaning," and begging him to send down the thousand dollars to the First National Bank of Alexandria, La., and designate the Revs. R. M. Boone and A. L. Johnston as his agents, so we could place the terms before the courts of the State of Louisiana. (Those who have ever heard of either Bros. Boone or Johnston know them to be "dyed-in-the-wool" Baptists, and, therefore, capable of managing the Louisiana end of a contest.) To this Dr. Eaton declined, still insisting that as I had not presumed to translate the citations, there was no case. Beautiful way to escape a contest, when his original letter and offer was for a passage where "baptizo" meant to sprinkle or pour.

In the same letter he also objected to a law-suit, quoting I. Cor. vi, 1 7, where Paul advised against going to law before the "unjust" and "unbelievers," to which I replied that the times had changed, and the judges are now just, and most of them believers, and, therefore, in a case like this the very persons to determine a case between brethren are followers of Christ themselves.

Dr. Eaton, in all of his letters, suggested that the case could be determined by professors of Greek who might be agreed upon, of first-class colleges, which would be satisfactory if we could get them together, but this is almost impossible. Then my contention was that our courts, being in the habit of deciding questions, are more divested of sentiment than ordinary men of any class.

I took occasion to remind Dr. Eaton that if his position was so secure, why did he fear a contest or suit at law? That he now had the chance to help his side at my expense, since, if I lost, he would not only save his $1,000, but would not have any costs to pay. Here the matter stands. So I have decided that they were both games of "bluff" intended to influence people who do not know the Greek often paraded, but, when called, found to be bluff. That I do not translate the word "haptisthesesthe" "pour" is readily explained. First, the translators did not translate the word at all, but transferred it; then the word "baptize," by usage, has become sacred. We well know its meaning, and Dr. Eaton knows it, too, and if he thought he had a ghost of a chance, he would rejoice (I hope I am not too harsh) to make me pay $200 in court costs, and be defeated in the bargain.

I pointed out that, in accepting the challenge, I certainly had some rights, and all I called for was the deposit of the money in Louisiana, and have Revs. R. M. Boone (editor of the Baptist Chronicle) and A. L. Johnston (Louisiana State missionary) designated as his agents. So all along they back down.

H. S. JOHNS, P. C.,
M. E. Church, South, Montgomery, La.

[Methodist papers requested to copy, and send copies to above address.]

Hugh Price Hughes says the main business of the minister is not to coddle the saints, but to collar the sinners.—Exchange.

HOW WE ARE GETTING ON AT LEXINGTON.

Last Sunday, the nineteenth of August, was not rest day with the Lexington pastor; not according to the common acceptation of the term "rest." The Sunday-school superintendent, usually punctual, was absent, and the pastor conducted the school instead. Preached at eleven A. M., opened the Epworth League at 5 P. M., and made a talk on the current topic, intemperance; preached again at 8 P. M. It was warm. The mercury, I suppose, up in the nineties. There was limp and wilted linen at the close, but I enjoyed the day and the work.

We were favored, lately, with the presence and preaching of Bro. R. H. B. Gladney, of Pickens. Union services were held on Sunday, July 29, at the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches. Bro. Gladney preached at the Presbyterian Church in the morning, a strong, appropriate sermon. Rev. Mr. Siler, the Presbyterian pastor, preached an earnest sermon in the Methodist Church at night. During the days following, until Saturday morning, Bro. Gladney remained with us in labors abundant, doing some excellent preaching and working zealously for the Master's cause. He greatly endeared himself to our people by his earnest labors and excellent spirit. They will be glad when he can visit them again. At the Sunday morning service, on the twenty-ninth, an appeal was made for the India famine sufferers, resulting in a contribution to this worthy cause, which, added to what had been collected before, and something paid in afterwards, amounted to $53.97, contributed and forwarded from Lexington. There is much unity of spirit between the different churches in the community. The Presbyterian, Baptist and Episcopal Churches were represented in the meeting at the Methodist Church, and shared in its benefits. Several persons were led to profess their love for the Savior, and believers were edified and strengthened. The meeting closed on Sunday night; Rev. Mr. Tull, of the Baptist Church, and his congregation worshiping, on the occasion, with their Methodist brethren. Children's services at the church and cottage prayer meetings in private homes were a helpful feature of the meeting. Bro. J. B. Mitchell dropped in upon us one day. All enjoyed his delightful song services. If there could be an inter-denominational song contest, and "Jim" should enter the lists, he would likely carry off the gold medal, as he has several times done in the collegiate oratorical contest.

T. C. WIER.

OUR METHODIST RITUAL.

MR. EDITOR: I have just read an article in the ADVOCATE, of the second instant, by a "P. E." regarding the Ritual for the morning service. I must admit that, until this year, I had not carefully read Paragraphs 216 and 219, and considered the Discipline obeyed when the form was observed at the eleven o'clock service on Sunday.

Paragraph 219 says, "Let the Lord's Prayer be used on all occasions of public worship in concluding the first morning prayer," etc.

Now, I can not think that any Methodist preacher would wilfully disobey a law so easily obeyed. I am glad "P. E." called my attention to it, and caused me to read it more carefully. I have promised myself to read the whole of the Discipline more carefully, and obey it, whether my people will or not. How would it do to read Chapter VI., Section 1, publicly to our congregations two or three times a year? I intend to do so. It is sad, but true, that many of our people do not kneel at church. I wonder if the preacher would read the law, and exhort Methodists to kneel and repeat the Lord's Prayer, if there would not be more universal kneeling down.

Once, when I had vainly tried to get a congregation to kneel during prayer, I asked them to memorialize the General Conference to insert an exception in the Discipline for that particular congregation, to read, "The preacher kneeling and praying, the congregation sitting," and yet I was only closing my Sunday morning prayer according to the Ritual. I hereby beg the pardon of that congregation, and pray the Lord to forgive me.

I am glad of that article, and accept the reproof in the spirit in which I think it was given,

H. B. TREVILION.

Fernwood, Miss., Aug. 3, 1900.

Home Mission Society.

EDITORS.

Mrs. J. B. Stone, of North Miss. Conference
Conference Officers of Mississippi Conference
Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Louisiana Conference

REPORT OF CONFERENCE TREASURER OF MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE

FOR THE QUARTER ENDING JUNE 1, 1900.

Amount remitted of adult membership dues	$121 90
Amount remitted of Young People's and Juvenile	$ 2 85
Total amount remitted	$124 75
Gain in dues during quarter	$ 40 28
Amount remitted for Baby Roll members	$ 2 00
Amount remitted for Twentieth Century Fund	$ 46 75
Amount remitted for Preachers' Wives' Loan Fund	$ 5 00
(Name of patron, Mrs. Jennie D. Norsworthy.)
Amount remitted from adult mite-boxes	$ 10 70
Amount remitted from baby mite-boxes	$ 4 38
Value of supplies sent off	$ 69 70
Amount remitted from scholarships	$ 28 50
Amount of Contingent Fund (retained in local treasury)	$ 47 02
Number of parsonages reported	8
Total value of parsonages reported	$10,180
Amount expended on station parsonage during quarter	$ 20 55
Amount expended on circuit parsonage during quarter	$ 30 00
Number of parsonages aided by auxiliaries	3
Parsonages helped by Conference (Homechitto)	1
Amount reported on local church work	$104 00
Value of supplies given locally	$ 64 15
Total amount raised for relief of needy	$ 29 70
Famine sufferers in India	$ 10 75
Reported by voucher for Baby Roll members	$ 1 25

MRS. T. B. HOLLOMAN,
Conference Treasurer.

We are glad to note that the financial report for the first quarter shows an improvement over any quarterly report yet made. Let each auxiliary treasurer endeavor to make full reports, so that the annual report will be full. The fourteenth annual report shows our membership to be 583. If each member will be faithful, we ought to have over $300 to invest in needy parsonages at our seventh annual meeting.

The report for Mississippi in the fourteenth annual report shows a marked increase in number taking Reading Course, there being 28 last year and 63 this year. We also notice that there are 109 parsonages in the Mississippi Conference and 120 charges, leaving 11 homeless preachers. How white is the harvest! The following question has been asked by a member; will be glad to have it answered: "Will you tell me how to make people build a parsonage—people who are able financially, but totally indifferent?"

The treasurer of Escatawpa Auxiliary, Mrs. Lester, states that, in reporting the local work, she gave the amount for the quarter ending Nov. 30, $26.20, instead of the year's work, $93.66 which would make a total of $101.76 dues and local work, instead of $34.30, as it appears in the Minutes.

ANNA S. HARMON.

Items from the Field.

FINE MEETING AT EUDORA, MISS.

We have just closed a great meeting at Endora, Miss., on Cold Water charge. Had quite a number of genuine old-time conversions at the altar. Thirteen joined the Methodist Church, and some united with the Baptist Church. A number of backsliders who had quit coming to church were reclaimed and started anew. The Holy Spirit was perceptibly present in mighty, awakening power. We rejoice that the gospel still has its old-time power to break the hardest heart.

L. M. LIPSCOMB.

FINE MEETING AT GUNTOWN, MISS.

I have just closed a glorious meeting at Guntown. The church was wonderfully revived. Many say it has been the best meeting that has been held for several years at this place. Four accessions to the church, with more to follow. Some men brought into the church who mean much to the church. The young people were wonderfully revived, and we expect soon to organize an Epworth League. The Lord has blessed us wonderfully. Pray for us.

ROBT. A. CLARK, P. C.

Guntown, Miss., Aug. 23, 1900.

REPORT FROM TOMNOLEN CIRCUIT.

We had a good revival at Edgeworth Church, Tomnolen circuit, last week. I received nine persons into the church at the close of the meeting. I was helped by Rev. A. H. Mitchel, a former pastor, and Rev. Luther Sheppard, of the Baptist Church. Each of these brethren preached twice, and assisted otherwise in the services. Our South Union Church was destroyed by fire last February, but our heroic little band is now rebuilding in a better way, and will have the house ready for use in a few days.

R. I. ALLEN.

Calooga, Miss., Aug. 23, 1900.

SHARON CHARGE.

In connection with our third Quarterly Conference for the Sharon charge, Jackson district, Mississippi Conference, we commenced our series of protracted meetings, on July 28, at Forest Grove. In consequence of ill health, I was not able to reach the appointment until the twenty-ninth. Bro. Holloman, my presiding elder, was compelled to leave that evening, and, owing to my ill health and lack of ministerial help which we expected, we closed on Monday night with a fine state of feeling and religious purposes.

On the first Sabbath in August we commenced at Mt. Pleasant: still without any ministerial help and still sick; but we had a real spiritual feast until the following Tuesday.

On the second Sabbath we commenced at Lone Pine, with our health much improved. Bro. N. B. Harmon, of Canton, came to our relief on Monday, and for two days did faithful and efficient work. We closed on Tuesday night with six applicants for membership and the church greatly revived.

On the third Sabbath we commenced at Sharon with a full house and fine interest manifested. Bro. N. B. Harmon came on Monday, and laid his soul and body on the altar of the gospel, preaching twice a day, for five days in succession, with the power and demonstration of the Holy Ghost. He left me on Saturday morning. On Sunday morning we had a packed house, with great interest manifested. We received that day twenty-eight into the church and nineteen of them by baptism. It was a most wonderful meeting, not only in the saving of souls, but also in the spiritual uplift of the church. I have heard of several families, and some of them members of our church, who have set their feet upon cards and dancing, saying there shall be no more of it in their houses. There were no modern clap-trap methods adopted, but the old Methodistic altar, and the simplicity of the gospel delivered in the spirit of Christ and the power of God to save.

F. M. WILLIAMS.

Sharon, Miss., Aug. 29, 1900.

The Christian Life.

JUST THREE THINGS.

"I once met a thoughtful scholar," says Bishop Whipple, "who told me that for years he had read every book he could which assailed the religion of Jesus Christ, and he said he should have become an infidel but for three things:

"First, I am a man. I am going somewhere. To-night I am a day nearer the grave than I was last night. I have read all such books can tell me. They shed not one solitary ray upon the darkness. They shall not take away the only guide and leave me stone blind.

"Second, I had a mother. I saw her go down into the dark valley where I am going, and she leaned upon an unseen arm as calmly as a child goes to sleep on the breast of its mother. I know that was not a dream.

"Third, I have three motherless daughters (and he said it with tears in his eyes). They have no protector but myself. I would rather kill them than leave them in this sinful world if you blot out from it all the teachings of the gospel."—Selected.

IS YOUR SOUL INSURED?

"Pa," said a little boy, as he climbed to his father's knee and looked into his face so earnestly, as if he understood the importance of the subject. "Pa, is your soul insured?"

"What are you thinking about, my son?" replied the agitated father. "Why do you ask that question?"

"Why, pa, I heard Uncle George say that you had your house insured and your life insured, but he didn't believe you had thought of your soul, and he was afraid you would lose it. won't you get it insured right away?"

The father leaned his head on his hand and was silent. He owned broad acres of land that were covered with a bountiful produce, his barns were even now filled with plenty, his buildings were all well covered by insurance; but, as if that would not suffice for the maintenance of his wife and only child in case of his decease, he had, the day before, taken a life policy for a large amount; yet not one thought had he given to his own immortal soul.

On that which was to waste away and become part and parcel of its native dust he had spared no pains, but for that which was to live on and on through the long ages of eternity he had made no provision. "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"—Exchange.

OBITUARIES.

A TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Whereas, The death of our brother, Smylie E. Montgomery, has brought to us very strongly his efficiency, faithfulness and long service as the secretary of our school, and has caused us deep sadness; And, whereas, We desire to express our sentiments; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the Sunday-school of the Jefferson Street Methodist Church, hereby give testimony to the high merit and genuineness of character, as well as trust in God, of our fellow-worker, Mr. Smylie E. Montgomery, who, on June 16, last, departed this life; that we recommend for earnest consideration his sincere and steady following of the Master; that we sorrow because of the separation from our brother; and that we hereby tender to his mother and sisters our deep sympathy.

MISS FLORENCE KERN,
RICHARD F. REED,
Committee.

FAIRCHILD — JOHN STURGES FAIRCHILD, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Fairchild, was born Oct. 1, 1896, and died July 2, 1900. Little John's stay was short, but full of comfort to the family. His bright smiles and cheerful face will be missed around the home. This is the second time death has visited this home within twelve months. A. C. FLOWERS.

KELLER—MALISSA KELLER was born Feb. 5, 1892, and died May 21, 1900.

Little Malissa suffered intensely for sixteen days, not having a moment's peace or quiet, unless under the influence of some narcotic. Her case was very stubborn from the first, and soon got beyond the control of the attending physicians. All was done that could be both by faithful nursing (her aunt's) and skilled medical aid; but God took her unto himself. She died conscious and resigned to God's will. May God console and comfort the grief-stricken family! W. T. WOODWARD.

BELL—LEWIS ROBERT BELL, son of R. R. and Mrs. M. E. Bell, was born in Starkville, Miss., Oct. 19, 1896, and died at Wesson, Miss., June 7, 1900, at 8:05 o'clock A. M.

He was an unusually interesting child, and was possessed of many charms and attractions. He had a handsome physique, a bright and vivacious mind, and a kind and lovable disposition. He won his way at once into all hearts. Wherever he went he carried sunshine with him, and every circle he touched was brightened by his presence. He was the pride and joy of the home from which he was taken, and his departure has left upon it a shadow that will never be wholly lifted. Though his life was brief, he has left behind impressions that are imperishable and memories that will never cease to be cherished. May God comfort and sustain the sorrowing parents! Your child, dear friends, is safe, and your separation from him is only temporary. R. A. MEEK.

HACKLER—MRS. SARAH S. HACKLER, the subject of this notice, was born in Jefferson county, Miss., March 15, 1820, and died at her home in the same county, May 7, 1900. She was a daughter of Gabriel and Abigail Scott, who were among the pioneer Methodists of Mississippi. The numerous descendants of this sainted couple have generally been substantial members of our church.

Mrs. Hackler joined the Methodist Church at Cane Ridge when but ten years of age. Giving her heart and life to the Savior in childhood, she developed into one of the most devout and well-rounded Christians I ever knew.

On January 21, 1841, she was married to Mr. Wm. A. Hackler. She became the mother of five daughters, all of whom are married, and walking in the footsteps of their now sainted mother. They were all permitted to be with her in her last illness to minister to her comfort, and to receive her parting blessing.

It was my privilege to be the pastor of Mrs. Hackler, first and last, for six years, and I can testify to her beautiful and consistent life. She was a model mother. Her children and grandchildren will not soon forget her sweet influence and motherly counsel. May they all meet her in heaven! W. B. LEWIS.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS.

"Good Beginnings Make Good Endings."

You are making a good beginning when you commence to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for any trouble of your blood, stomach, kidneys or liver. Persistently taken, this great medicine will bring you the good ending of perfect health, strength and vigor.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

I. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas
T. G. MACKIE, L. MIES, C. K. LINCOLN, JR
324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
AXES, ALARM TILLS, CAGES, CLOCKS, CROQUET, BASKETS, BASEBALLS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, DUSTERS,
Enameled Steelware, Freezers, Fishing Tackle,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASSWARE, HAMMOCKS,
Japanned Ware, Ice Chests,
KEGS, LADDERS, LAMPS,
MARBLES, NAIL PULLERS,
OARS, OIL TANKS, REFRIGERATORS, ROPE, TINWARE, TRAPS, WINES, PAPER, PADLOCKS, SOAPS, STATIONERY, WATER COOLERS, WHIPS, WOODENWARE,
Etc. Trade Solicited.

ARUNDEL LITHIA WATER.

ANALYSIS: Nature's blending of those rarest of minerals, Lithium, Rubidium, Cæsium, with Sulphate of Magnesium, in a water of perfect purity.

FREE DELIVERY FOR THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.
OFFICE, 337 CARONDELET ST.

This Famous Water challenges Comparison with any Mineral Water on the Market.

All Physicians, who know anything about it, recommend and prescribe it in all diseases and derangements of the Kidneys and Bladder, and of the Genito-urinary organs, inclusive of Dropsy, Strictnre, Rheumatism, Gout, Stone in the Bladder and Albuminuria, in Pregnancy, Fevers, etc.

IT CURES. THAT FACT IS ESTABLISHED by the testimony of hundreds of the best people in the land, physicians included. If you doubt its virtues, TRY IT, and we GUARANTEE your testimonial will follow.

It is Clear as Crystal, Free from Sediment, Delightful to the Taste, Unequaled as an Appetizer, and an enemy to Indigestion.

For further Information Apply to New Orleans Office, or

Arundel Lithia Springs Com'y,
Lock Drawer 567, Meridian, Miss.

DR. LETELLIER'S  Sunflower Tablets.

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any drugstore, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Tract Bld'g, New York City.

Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

ALLMAN—ONIE MAURICE ALLMAN was born Feb. 24, 1899, and departed this life for "life more abundant" June 13, 1900. Though his life was so brief a span, yet he seemed to pass with boldness and rapidity from infancy to childhood, from childhood to youth. His sickness, which was of short duration, was serious from the very first, but through it all he passed with more than childish heroism. Everything that a skilled physician could do was of no avail, and so the Great Physician sent his messengers; and just as the midnight hour was slipping into the past, just as the morning hour came in sight of the present, the angels bore the spirit of little Maurice to the "sinless summerland."

To the bereaved ones we would say: Weep not. Little Maurice is an angel now. He's a "dear one in glory looking this way." The Savior has taken him up in his arms and blessed him. His face is wreathed in smiles of heavenly peace; his brow is radiant beneath "a crown of life." May God sustain and comfort the sorrowing ones, and lead them through the highway of holiness into the light of perfect day!

J. W. CAMPBELL, P. C.

FELDER—Bro. LEVY FELDER was born on the twenty-eighth of September, 1822; was married December 16, 1847; joined the M. E. Church, South, in October, 1848, and died April 24, 1900. His wife, Mrs. Martha Felder, and four children, together with a host of grandchildren, are left to mourn their loss, though their loss is his gain. His funeral was preached by Rev. J. J. Golden at Topisaw Church, in Pike county, Miss.

The subject of this sketch was a son of John Felder, who lived to a ripe old age, then passed to his reward on high, some twenty years ago, or more. Bro. Felder, if I mistake not, was one of the founders of Topisaw Camp Ground, one of the oldest, if not the oldest, camp grounds in South Mississippi, located 10 miles east of Summit, Miss. He was a quiet, peaceable man in all godliness and honesty; one who feared God and worked righteousness. For some years prior to his death he was almost an invalid; yet such was his love for the house of God, he with his good wife could be seen on all proper occasions wending their way quietly to the sanctuary of God to take part in the service of the same.

I was their pastor two years, viz.: in 1894-95, and it was but seldom their faces were not seen in the congregation to encourage their pastor when he arose to preach. He belonged to a large, influential Methodist family. May the God of love watch over and take special care of "Aunt Martha" and her surviving children, and guide them all to the land of sweet rest! is the prayer of a former pastor. H. P. LEWIS

Fannin, Miss.

HUNTER—SALLIE GLADYS, the eldest daughter of Mr. George H. and Mrs. Viola Van Hunter, was born in Waterproof, La., April 13, 1890, and departed this life at her father's home, in Waterproof, La., Monday, at 1:30 o'clock P. M., June 4, 1900. She was sick only a short time, from Tuesday, May 29, to June 4. During her illness she suffered excruciatingly, yet her mind was clear and bright to the last. She would ask those waiting on her if they thought she would die. She herself thought she would die from the first of her sickness. The doctors, friends, and all around her did what they could for her relief. She was very ladylike and gentle in disposition and deportment. If she made a request of anyone, 'twas with an "if you please." "None knew her but to love her; none knew her but to praise." She was devoted to her parents, looking after her mother's interest as if she was the elder and not the child. She was her father's pride and hope. While she was dying he exclaimed, "My hopes are blasted; my pride is gone." She was dedicated to the Lord in baptism last year by the writer. She was very much interested in the Sunday-school, of which she was a member. She was generally prompt in attendance at Sunday-school and church. She seemed to feel the responsibility of house-keeping, and performed those home duties with alacrity and cheerfulness. Often, when meeting her, she would greet me with such a (bright) cheerful smile, as if she felt that her pastor was one of her best friends. A short time before death she wanted to get up and say her prayers. On being told she was too weak, and that the blessed Lord could and would hear her pray lying down as well as being up, she then prayed and seemed perfectly satisfied. Shortly afterward she passed away in much suffering.

She leaves a father, mother, two brothers and three sisters to mourn her loss, and prepare to meet her in a better world. Her favorite song was, "Pass me not, O gentle Savior." She loved to sing the "beautiful" Sunday-school songs. O may these bereaved ones determine to meet their dear beloved Gladys in the beautiful home prepared for them by the dear Savior! Her pastor,

R. A. DAVIS.

Whereas, God, in his all-wise providence, has seen fit to remove our beloved little schoolmate from our midst, we, the Waterproof Sunday-school, beg leave to submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the death of Sallie Gladys Hunter this Sunday-school has lost one of its prompt and zealous members, whose presence gave hope to the older members.

Resolved, that we hereby tender to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy in this, their sorrow, and would point them to that One who alone can give consolation.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread on the Record of our Sunday-school, a copy be furnished to the family of our deceased member, and a copy be sent to the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE.

Respectfully submitted,
S. AUGUSTA DAVIS,
ELIZABETH W. GORTON.

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. Dennis, of 828 East College St., Jacksonville, Ills. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I sought relief among the medical profession and found none. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine I weighed ninety-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-six pounds—more than I ever weighed before. I was so bad I would lie from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing down pain, and such distress every month but now I never have a pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. Correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS.
UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY.
Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O.
Mention this paper.

BELLS
Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address,
Old Established
BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY
THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College
New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations

A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.
Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P PACIFIC ROUTE

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change. . . .

DIRECT LINE TO
Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT
anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE.
NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO
Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,
AND TO ALL POINTS
North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between
NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI
Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers!

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.
J. L. BOYD, D. P. A. J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A. R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

YOU SAVE $40

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, ... Miss.
H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, ... Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.

and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.

Forty-sixth Session opens Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1900. Situated in the highland region of North Louisiana, on Kansas City Southern Railroad, on the dividing ridge between the Red and Sabine rivers; nearest point not less than twenty-five miles from either river. Just closed one of the most prosperous sessions in the history of the college. Send for illustrated catalogue.
T. S. SLIGH, President.

WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE,
(ESTABLISHED 1859.)
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

A. F. WATKINS, D. D., President. REV. M. L. BURTON, V. Pres. and Bus. Mgr.

The session will open Sept. 12, 1900. Unusual advantages are offered by this historic institution.
Campus large and beautiful. Buildings commodious, being thoroughly repaired.
Hot and cold water in the dormitories. Electric lights in every room.
Healthfulness unsurpassed. Course of study comprehensive and thorough.
Faculty carefully selected. Our facilities for doing work in the Departments of Music, Painting, and the Industrial Arts are very fine.

Our Motto: "Do Right."

Our Aim: The development of the highest type of Christian womanhood.

Our Charges are moderate. Write for a Catalogue.

A card addressed to WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE, Brookhaven, Miss., will receive prompt attention

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorised Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1900.

THE GOSPEL CHALLENGES TRIAL.

There are some non-professors of religion in almost every community who, while they admit the truth and excellence of Christianity, claim to be deterred from becoming Christians because of a strong fear that they will not be able to live righteously and consistently. Such persons often say that rather than bring reproach upon the church and be looked upon as hypocrites, they prefer to take their chances on the outside, forgetful, alas! of the fact that Jesus has said: "Whosoever shall deny me before men shall be denied before the angels of God." Thus to excuse one's self from becoming a Christian is to commit the serious mistake of condemning a thing before it has been tried. Not every person, of course, who assigns such a reason for his non-acceptance of Christ is really sincere in what he says. We believe, however, that not infrequently men and women, because of self-distrust and weakness of spiritual vision, which prevents them from perceiving the wonderful efficacy of Christianity in the individual life, remain out of the kingdom of heaven.

How hard it is at first for a sinner, even though he be deeply penitent, to realize that God is able to deliver him from sin and make him a new creature! The soul that has long been captive to Satan, and that has struggled repeatedly, but in vain, to be free, comes after awhile to disbelieve in the possibility of personal goodness and doubts the ability of God to save. Is it not strange that any man could thus be deluded when we have the testimony of countless multitudes, both of the living and of the dead, that the gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation unto every one that believeth?—that the promises of God are never failing?

Yes, Christianity challenges trial. It says to the weak, the burdened, the sin-sick: "Come to Christ and find sweet relief." The very commands of Christ, as some one has said, are enablings, and yet how frequently church members, as well as non-Christians, give place to the belief, born of the devil, that it is impossible to serve God faithfully and maintain one's integrity in certain trying occupations or circumstances. How prone we are to forget the teaching of the Apostle Paul upon this point: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able." (I. Cor. x, 13.) Shall we not believe that the great God who made the heavens and the earth, who guides the stars in their orbits, and takes care of even the sparrows, is able and willing to give victory to every soul that longs to be delivered from Satan's chains?

One of our exchanges relates the following striking experience of a man who several years ago was in the depths of despair and degradation, but who is now a useful and happy Christian. Says the brother referred to:

"Taught to be an atheist, degraded by sin and poisoned with impurity, convicted of sin, but unable in my own strength to overcome the obstacles, I walked down by the lake, and as I looked over the tossing waters I realized there must be a great overruling power, and in my frenzy I cried out, 'O God, if there be a God, come into my life and take the evil out of it.' And God came and has kept me ever since."

Similar miracles of grace are constantly being repeated wherever men are willing to take Christ as their shield and portion. Grace is just as efficacious now as when it transformed Paul from a persecutor of the church and a blasphemer of the name of Christ into an illustrious and faithful apostle of Christianity. Consolons of the sustaining grace and presence of the blessed Master, hear him as he exultingly affirms: "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."

AN UNWARRANTED TEST.

During the present perilous state of affairs in China, the godless outside of the church and the faithless inside are wagging their heads at the missionaries, and saying, "Where is now thy God?" Some even make the insolent and wicked charge that if the Lord had sent them to China, he would preserve them from all bodily harm and mischief. When our Lord was hanging upon the cross, the chief priests and scribes uttered the same diabolical sort of railing against him, saying: 'If he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him. He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him."

To assume that God will in every instance deliver his true servants from physical danger and death is utterly contrary to experience and Holy Writ. While God causes "all things to work together for good to them that love him," and while he holds his servants, as it were, in the hollow of his hand, nowhere has he promised that any of them shall be entirely exempt from peril and persecution. The Master taught his disciples to look for persecution, saying unto them: "Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his Lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you."

That our heavenly Father does often wondrously deliver his children out of danger now as in days of old, is true beyond all question; but to assert that if evil or death overtakes the righteous, they are not in the path of duty, is to make a monstrous charge, and, in short, subjects his followers to a test nowhere warranted in God's Word.

If the justice of such a test be admitted, then it inevitably follows that Christ was an impostor, that the Apostle Paul was either fearfully deceived or an infamous deceiver, and that every disciple who has ever suffered martyrdom for the sake of the truth was God-forsaken and cruelly, yea, devilishly deluded.

It is not physical pain and death that we are to dread most. Says the Master: "Fear not them which kill the body, and after that, have no more that they can do. Fear him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hell; yes, I say unto you, Fear him."

THE "SECULAR NEWSPAPER CHRISTIAN."

Pastors are all acquainted with the "secular newspaper Christian," who feeds his mind upon the pot-pourri furnished by his morning daily, who readily accepts the "advanced views" therein set forth, and swears by the principles it advocates. As the Rev. R. F. Bishop well says of him in a thoughtful article in the May-June number of the Methodist Review: "He gets an abundance of good reading, he will tell you, in his daily paper, and has neither the time nor the inclination for anything additional. But whoever knew such a man to be either enthusiastic or reliable in any branch of church work? How careful he is not to be righteous overmuch! How knowing is that look, and how well practiced that shake of the head with which he deprecates excess of zeal and unwise expenditure in missionary and temperance work! He is extremely careful, however, as a rule, that it is neither his zeal nor his money that is thus wasted."

GRUDGE BEARING.

What a pity that so many church members are given to grudge bearing, and to the exhibition of an unforgiving spirit! No man can be right with God who is not right with his fellow-men, whether in the church or out of it. The disciple who imagines that he can be at once with others either in heart or in act, and still be in a justified state, is grossly self-deceived. As Dr. A. Coke Smith well says: "It is easy to say, 'I forgive'; it is not so easy to do. It is comparatively easy to refrain from doing violence to one who injures us, but it is often hard to feel kindly toward him." What is impossible, however, to the natural man, is possible through the grace of Him who died even for his enemies.

POLITICAL ROTTENNESS.

It has been proven beyond the possibility of a doubt that gross frauds were perpetrated in the recent primary election in Mississippi. We are glad to see that the papers of the State, almost without exception, are speaking in thunder tones in condemnation thereof. We hope the friends of good government will continue their warfare until the culprits are discovered and brought to justice. The elective franchise is the most sacred right of citizenship, and to tamper with it so as to defeat the will of the people is the greatest of all political crimes. The toleration of such methods will prove a veritable Pandora's box of political woes.

DEATH OF THE WIDOW OF BISHOP PARKER.

It is with feelings of the deepest sorrow that we announce the death, in the sixty-first year of her age, of Sister Ellen K. Parker, widow of our lamented Bishop Parker, which sad event occurred in this city on last Monday evening, at 6:10 o'clock, at the home of her son, Rev. F. N. Parker. Sister Parker had been ill for several months, but until shortly before her demise her condition was thought to be much improved. Sister Parker was a Christian of most lovable and saintly character, ever faithful in duty, and zealous of good works, and in her death the church has lost one of its brightest, most useful, and cultured members. She had resided in New Orleans since 1858, the date of her marriage. It falls to the lot of few to be so greatly and generally beloved as Sister Parker was. She leaves three sons to mourn her loss—namely, John B. Parker, Rev. Fitzgerald S. Parker, and Rev. F. N. Parker—whose grief is shared by a wide circle of friends. The funeral took place from Rayne Memorial Methodist Church, of which she has been a member for many years, on Tuesday, the fourth instant, at 3:30 P. M., and was largely attended, the services being conducted by Drs. W. H. LaPrade and S. S. Keener. A suitable memoir will, doubtless, be furnished the ADVOCATE in due time.

DEATH OF REV. ALFRED E. CLAY.

On Saturday evening, Sept. 1, Rev. Alfred E. Clay, President of the Louisiana Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, passed away at his home in this city after an illness of several weeks' duration. He was born in Chester, England, June 29, 1852.

He came to New Orleans in November, 1872, and shortly thereafter joined the Louisiana Conference of the M. E. Church, South, continuing in the itinerant ranks for about twenty years. He then located in order to give his whole time to the work of child saving. He was the founder of the Waifs' Home in this city, and also of the Waifs' Industrial Home at Beauvoir, Miss. He was unquestionably a philanthropist of the noblest type, ever busy in work of charity and mercy, his labor of love being attended with the most remarkable success. In rescue work he had few equals, and to unprotected, unbefriended childhood was a veritable angel of mercy. His name will long be held in loving remembrance. He was buried from the Rayne Memorial Church last Sunday afternoon, his remains being followed to their last resting-place by a large concourse of sorrowing friends.

A HAPPY EVENT.

At the residence of the bride's sister, at Love's, Miss., on Aug. 26, at half-past three o'clock, Rev. J. H. Smith, of the North Mississippi Conference, and Miss Zilpha Williams were united in holy matrimony by Rev. L. M. Lipscomb. The groom is a fine spirit and a strong gospel preacher, the beloved pastor at Hernando, Miss. The bride is a refined, educated Christian woman. The happy couple took the train immediately for Hot Springs, where they will spend part of the honeymoon. May Heaven's choicest blessings attend these wedded hearts and lives as down the pathway of life they go hand in hand!

L. M. LIPSCOMB.

THE FOUNDATION OF GOD STANDETH SURE.

The hour is one of crisis in the Orient. The smoke of battle and the noise of contending forces obscure the vision and confuse the understanding. It is well, in the midst of these conflicting elements, to be reminded that beneath our feet the foundation of God remains sure, and that in advance of the church the star of hope leads on to the peaceful, but triumphant conquest of the world through the gospel of Jesus Christ. The following letter from Bishop Galloway, which rings out like the blast of a silver trumpet, has been received by the Secretaries of the Board of Missions. While not intended for publication, it is given to the church as a reminder that she should gird herself afresh for the battle:

MY DEAR DR. LAMBUTH: For some weeks the conviction has been forcing itself upon me that now is our great missionary opportunity. Instead of discouragement, we have occasion for highest joy and divinest hope. Old faiths and hoary superstitions are in the agony of death. The throes of a new birth are being felt. The truth has been doing its destructive work, and the day has dawned for planting and building. When the present troubles are allayed and order has been restored (which will speedily come), China will have been made fully ready for new conditions and a larger life. Her wide-open mind will show a generous and eager hospitality to the truth. Let us, then, get our recruits ready and hurry them to the front. I would have them go on to Japan and be ready to move upon the field at a moment's notice.

Now is the time to ring out a clear note of inspiring hope and certain victory. O, for the silver trumpet of our Apostle Paul! In the midst of greatest discouragement his clear vision rejoiced in an assured and speedy triumph. Lifting himself to the full, majestic height of his faith in a God mighty to save, he sounded out the jubilant words: "Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure."

The perils of our brethren in China have become the church's opportunity. Doors will now stand wide open and invite our coming. We have everything to encourage—nothing to stay our efforts, or dampen our zeal, or arrest our forward movement.

The life of a missionary, always precious in the sight of God, is now, as never before, precious in the eyes of the nation. But I sat down only to make a suggestion, not elaborate an argument. My idea is that every missionary at home ought to be advised to get ready at once to return, and those accepted for work should be in readiness for orders. Above all, we need a ringing appeal to the church to give her faith for a great forward movement.

Truly and fraternally,

CHAS. B. GALLOWAY.

The Secretaries have exerted themselves to the uttermost in preparation for this emergency. Three missionaries and their wives, members of the Japan Mission, will sail, Sept. 6, from San Francisco. The only members of the China Mission in this country are Dr. and Mrs. Fearn. They await orders from Bishop Wilson, who is in Japan. Others have been accepted and will go to the front as soon as funds are forthcoming and the situation permits. Never in the history of our missionary work has the church been so under the necessity of proving her faith by a noble liberality.

A double challenge comes to her from the Orient. The finger of God, on the one hand, points to the door of opportunity in Japan, Korea and China; and on the other the generous gifts of the Chinese officials, literati, and merchants, continued even during the disturbances in the north, and amounting to $20,000 for the Soochow University, should serve as a stimulus to provide adequately for those institutions which have grown up in answer to our prayers. The China Mission has for half a century been the subject of our petitions. Our missionaries have "sown in tears, now they reap in joy." The increase in membership during the last three years exceeded the ingathering of the first twenty-five, while the growth of the native church during the last decade has been greater than that of the forty years preceding. The field is white for harvest, and with the choicest young men in our ministry offering to go, our beloved church will not fail to furnish means. Let us have offers for the support of individual missionaries and a united effort throughout the connection to secure the regular missionary collections in full in every charge.

W. R. LAMBUTH.

Mission Rooms, Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 30, 1900.

A GREAT TWENTIETH CENTURY COLLECTION.

BY BISHOP CHARLES B. GALLOWAY, D.D.

The Methodist Recorder (London) of recent date gives a graphic and inspiring account of the great meeting during the session of the British Wesleyan Conference, in the interest of the Twentieth Century Fund. In many respects it was the most notable occasion of that historic Conference. The principal speaker was the Hon. R. W. Perks, who was followed by the ex-President, Rev. Frederick W. McDonald, Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, and others. There was grave anxiety about the complete success of the magnificent movement. The proposed five million dollars had not been secured. True, wonderful things had been achieved, but the goal was not yet reached. Three million eight hundred and forty-five thousand dollars had been pledged, and one million six hundred thousand was in bank, but that was not the expected and promised five millions. All felt that another mighty effort must be made, or the church would be discredited. Mr. Perks was optimistic, Mr. McDonald was felicitous and persuasive, but Mr. Hughes rang out a note of alarm and appeal. Interest kindled into enthusiasm, and enthusiasm soon disdained all efforts at restraint. An honored layman arose and offered $50,000 in addition to his former subscription; another gave $25,000, and still another $25,000. After a while the meeting had to adjourn for regular Conference business, but was resumed again in the evening. The climax of the speaking was reached when the venerable Dr. E. E. Jenkins, with long hair white as the driven snow, but with the fire of immortal youth in eye and voice, consecrated himself to the complete triumph of the enterprise. He was followed by the aged Dr. Rigg, possibly the greatest statesman in English Methodism. No wonder the hearts of the young men took fire when these veterans sounded the martial notes of victory.

When the evening meeting adjourned, over $225,000 had been subscribed, and everybody felt that complete success was absolutely assured. Under this impulse the sum remaining will be secured. Circuits that have subscribed will increase their pledges, and individual givers will double their gifts. All honor to the mother church of Methodism! Thank God for such leaders and statesmen! And the generations will rejoice because of such loyal and liberal laymen.

What an appeal to the powerful and wealthy Methodism of America! Let us of the Church, South, awake to the momentous interests of this mighty movement, and demand that a like success shall crown our efforts. We can not afford to fail. I pray that the scenes of the British Conference may be repeated in every Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Will not every pastor see to it that his people have ample opportunity to show their appreciation of God's signal mercies to our great Methodism? Current and local expenses must not be allowed to sidetrack this enterprise, so vital to the future of our church.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 23, 1900.

—Nashville Advocate.

NOTES.

Bishop Duncan recently dedicated a new church in Newberry, S. C.

***

The gifts for the year to Ohio Wesleyan University reach $105,000, with $55,000 more in pledges.

***

Bishop Morrison recently dedicated our handsome new stone church at Highland, Ky. It cost $15,000.

***

It is a lamentable fact that less than forty out of every hundred members of our church contribute to missions.

***

The great majority of men who expect to be saved by morality are men who have no morality to speak of.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

***

Rev. J. M. Alford, the popular pastor of Leesville, La., charge, is to be married, Sept. 6, to Miss Carrie Walland, of East Baton Rouge parish.

***

Gen. Lew Wallace expects to write another historical novel, with its scenes laid in the far East, which he will visit again with this end in view.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Western North Carolina Conference has paid into the treasury in Nashville $1,600 on the Twentieth Century Fund, and there is more to follow.

***

Miss Minnie Cowan, of Oxford, Miss., left for Sherman, Texas, on the twenty-ninth ultimo, to resume her work as teacher of Latin and Metaphysics in the North Texas Female College at that place.

***

On account of ill health, Rev. B. W. Bailey has given up his work at Moss Point, Miss., and Rev. J. W. Chambers, ex-president of Whitworth College, has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by his removal.

***

Miss Elizabeth Cowan, one of Oxford's talented and accomplished young ladies, has accepted the Chair of Chemistry and Physics in the North Texas Female College, Sherman, Texas, for the ensuing scholastic year.

***

We learn that Rev. H. T. Cunningham, of the North Mississippi Conference, has decided to become a college boy again, and will enter Millsaps College in October. He will be a member of the Senior class, and expects to be graduated in June, 1901.

***

Bishop Galloway preached last Sabbath at the Kinsfolk Camp Meeting, near Brownsville, Tenn. Next Sabbath, the ninth instant, he is to dedicate a new church at Poplarville, Miss., and on the Sabbath following he will preach the opening sermon at Whitworth College.

***

We are extremely sorry to learn that Rev. W. S. Shipman, of the North Mississippi Conference, has been deeply bereaved in the death of his brother, James Shipman, who passed away on Tuesday morning, the twenty-eighth ultimo. He left a wife and three small children.

***

Christian activity is an important part of religion, but it is not the whole of it. Some professing Christians, in their zeal to do good, forget to look after their own inner life, and, in consequence, fall into sin, and bring reproach upon the cause of Christ. It is not enough to perform acts of benevolence, to be known as dispensers of charity; we must also keep the heart pure, and keep ourselves unspotted from the world.

***

A friend in Natchez sends us the gratifying news that Presiding Elder W. L. C. Hunnicutt has recovered sufficiently from his recent severe illness to be able to return to his home at Gloster, Miss. On Sunday, the twenty-sixth ultimo, he held the regular quarterly meeting service at the Jefferson Street Church, and made a very impressive talk. As he was not strong enough to stand during the service, he spoke from his chair. We trust that this godly itinerant will soon be entirely recovered.

***

Says the Central Advocate: The varied services of the Metropolitan Church Temple in New York are a modern instance of becoming "all things to all men." Monday evening is given to discussion of current events; Tuesday evening to instructive lectures; Wednesday evening to the public prayer meeting; Thursday evening to an evangelistic service; Friday to asking questions which the pastor, Rev. S. Parks Cadman, is expected to answer at sight, and Saturday evening is occupied by a concert. The usual Sunday services are rendered more impressive by a robed choir of about 150 voices.

***

On the twenty-eighth ultimo, Oxford, Miss., was the scene of a notable wedding, the contracting parties being Dr. Dabney Lipscomb, the distinguished professor of English in the University of Mississippi, and Miss Edwina Fulton, of Birmingham, Ala., a niece of Chancellor Fulton. The happy event occurred at the residence of the brides uncle, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. D. Heddleston. The bride is said to be a most charming and cultured young lady, and Prof. Lipscomb is to be congratulated upon his good fortune in winning so rare a jewel. May their wedded life ever be attended with sunshine and prosperity!

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS
Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

REPORT OF VISITING COMMITTEE OF MILLSAPS COLLEGE.

The committee appointed by Bishop Duncan at Vicksburg to visit Millsaps College have done so, and, as far as was convenient, examined into the standing of the school and its work. The buildings are in very good repair, and, with the present wide-awake Board of Trustees to look after such things, they will be kept in fine condition, so that when visitors come they may be impressed with the neatness of the surroundings. This, while it seems to some to be unimportant, is an index to the general management. Clean, bright walls and a neatly kept campus, while they do not cost much, are worth a great deal to a school.

The school offers to the people of Mississippi as fine advantages as can be had at any college in the South, and it is certainly in reach of any energetic young man, being as cheap as any in the State. We predict that the Law Department will prove even more successful than it has been in the past. This department has already made a splendid record. There is good reason for believing that it is one of the best law schools in the South.

The commencement made a profound impression upon the large crowd that attended. There were thirty graduates, and the speeches of the class were pronounced by those who attended to be as good as were ever heard upon a college rostrum, and some of the visitors had attended like exercises in the very best schools in the country. Ridpath once said, "The boys of the colleges discuss the realities of the next quarter of a century." If we may judge, the boys turned out at Millsaps College are not only well disciplined mentally, but they are trained morally and spiritually, so that they can be trusted to meet coming emergencies.

It would be a very difficult thing to estimate the worth of this school to our church in the State. It will be a fountain of wisdom and inspiration that will touch every part of our Mississippi Methodism. Considering its magnificent management and grand possibilities, it is the duty of every Methodist to consider himself a committee of one to work for the building up of the school. It is indeed a shame for a Methodist to send his son anywhere else when his own school affords such opportunities. Let everyone who visits Jackson go out and see for himself, and he will be convinced. Let every preacher in our connection attend all the public exercises, so as to be informed about the work, and he will go back to his work a self-appointed agent for Millsaps College.

GEO. M. HULL,
For the Committee.

Sterns Creek, Miss., Aug. 24, 1900.

A WORD FOR GRENADA COLLEGE.

Methodists in North Mississippi Conference have an opportunity as well as a valuable possession in Grenada College. The annual session, which closed in June last, gave evidence of vigorous life and bore good fruit from the patient, earnest toil of the faithful workers. Frank acknowledgment is due from the trustees and other friends of the school to President McIntosh and his assistants for their effective service. We are assured by the president that there is good prospect for a full school the coming session. Almost enough engagements are made to cover the capacity of the present building. The success of this school is very gratifying; warrants all that we can do in its favor. The immediate need now is additional building.

At a recent meeting of the trustees a building committee was appointed to take in hand the erection of the new building as soon as sufficient funds are in hand to begin—say $5,000; the whole cost is to be $10,000. Six thousand of this is to come, as will be remembered, from that part of our Twentieth Century Thank-offering which falls into the hands of the Conference to distribute. Grenada will give the four thousand balance. That building will greatly enlarge the capacity and convenience of the school every way, and will open the way to earnest work in the endowment of the college and its full equipment as such. This great aim, coupled with what we are to do for Millsaps College, ought to spring our purpose afresh to pay in full our quota of this thank-offering. We shall follow the dictate of wisdom, if just at this time we concentrate our energies on these two schools and make them all we need in college work—Millsaps for young men, Grenada for young women. This is practically the view adopted by our Conference last Winter, and will be found to be the only one that will satisfy the real conditions of the case. The design of our General Conference in this great Twentieth Century movement was to build up the schools we have at home; and in pursuance of this both the trustees of Grenada College and the Conference Board of Education urge the concentration of our money and our patronage on that school. We ought to seize the opportunity we have, and as speedily as possible bring this great enterprise to its best service in the higher Christian education of our young women.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN.

NEW ORLEANS PREACHERS' MEETING.

Present: Keener, LaPrade, Dodson, Lowery, Fontaine, Atkinson, F. N. Parker, G. D. Parker and Wynn. Absent: Foster and White.

Additions reported: Algiers, 2; Carondelet, Rayne Memorial, 1; Parker Memorial, 3.

Attendance at services: Dr. LaPrade thinks attendance at his church during the Summer will compare favorably with last Summer. Dodson's prayer meetings are remarkably well attended. G. D. Parker sounded the note of progress at Carrollton.

Revival service will be held at Gouldsboro, beginning Sept. 10, led by Rev. J. J. Smylie.

Mission work on Lowery's charge is taking on large proportions.

Hereafter Preachers' Meeting will meet every Monday. At next meeting "City Mission Work" will be discussed. Rev. P. O. Lowery will open the discussion. C. D. ATKINSON.

FOOD AND SLEEP are necessary to life and health. If you can't eat and sleep, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It creates a good appetite, cures indigestion and dyspepsia, overcomes nervousness, and gives sweet, restful, refreshing sleep.

The favorite cathartic is Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

CHANGE OF DATE.

Our church at Poplarville is to be dedicated by Bishop Galloway on next Sunday, ninth instant, instead of sixteenth instant, as previously announced. A great day is expected

B. S. RAYNER, P. C.

Sept 3, 1900

Malaria Is Common These Days.

Malarial fever appears to be very prevalent this year all over the South. This means an epidemic of La Grippe in the Winter and Spring, unless steps are taken to conquer the Malarial seeds. We call attention to the advertisement of Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic, a medicine which is made in the South, by a man who understands the disease and conditions, who guarantees a cure, or has your money refunded.

THE PRESENT CENSUS.

The present census will show at least one thing that will surprise the casual observer, and that is the wonderful growth of dentistry and the perfection of teaching the same in our Dental Colleges. While there are about fifty of these in this country, none can boast of better results than the Atlanta Dental College, whose catalogue before us shows an annual attendance of 200 students. Read their announcement elsewhere in this issue.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Iuka Normal Institute, the pioneer normal of the South, manipulated by Pres. H. A. Dean, who is widely known as one of the foremost, common-sense educators in the land. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

NOTICE.

To the Pastors and Sunday-school Superintendents of the Jackson District—

DEAR BRETHREN: Please permit me to call attention to the notice of Dr. Lambuth in the last issue of the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, referring to programs for Sunday-school Rally Day for missions. Whether you have or have not been organized hitherto as a mission school, please secure these programs and observe the day.

Our Boards of Missions are calling as never before for our support in their work. The recent disturbances in China make, if possible, a stronger appeal to our loyalty to the Master and his cause. Moreover, China is only one of the half-dozen fields into which our missionaries have gone, and less than one-fourth of all the men employed are in that field. Again, if those who have felt moved by the Holy Ghost to go, feel called to remain, it is our duty not to desert them in the field. More than ever they need our sympathy, our prayers and our money.

According to the law of our church, every Sunday-school should be organized into a missionary society and the children enlisted in the cause of missions. At the session of our last Annual Conference there were reported in the Jackson district 39 Sunday-schools with 2179 officers and pupils. Though one of the smallest districts in the Conference, we stand second to one only in collections for this cause—the Seashore, which reports more than a thousand in Sunday-schools than do we. The per capita in our district is greater than in any other in the Conference, and yet it is only 12 cents per member. Can, yea, will, we not go greatly beyond this during this year? Why not a dollar from every member? Children, help your pastors.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Makes hot breakfast-breads wholesome—no yeast germs, no alum. Makes cake, biscuit and pastry of superior fineness, flavor and delicacy. Makes food that will keep moist and sweet. Is most economical, because it is the purest and greatest in leavening strength. In the easy, expeditious preparation of the finer cakes and pastries, Royal is indispensable.

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Not only will they spoil the cake, but alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

Brodie's Liver Pills
FOR
Biliousness, Dyspepsia,
SICK HEADACHE, WEAK STOMACH,
AND ALL
Disorders of the Liver.

TESTIMONY.
I have used Brodie's Pills for many years in my family, and have found them invaluable in all cases, and, as a Liver Pill, do not think they have an equal. GEO. H. WILEY.

Sold By All Druggists.
Price, 25c. a Box.
I. L. LYONS & CO., Prop's,
NEW ORLEANS LA.

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

Johnston Collegiate Institute
GREENSBURG, LA.,
Prepares boys and girls for high-grade colleges. Under the auspices of the M. E. Church, South. Affiliated with Vanderbilt University. Board, lodging and tuition, per session of 40 weeks, $100. Write for Catalogue.
Rev. P. M. BROWN, A. B., Prin.

Stanton College
For Young Ladies,
NATCHEZ, MISS.
Beautiful grounds and buildings, electric lights, pure artesian and cistern water. Home-life judiciously supervised. Bountiful fare and excellent health record.
Classical, Scientific and English Courses, Music, Art, Elocution, Phonography.
Chartered in 1893. Affiliated with University of Mississippi. High Standard; thorough work. Twelve teachers. Boarders limited and given individual attention. Apply early to insure choice of rooms. Terms reasonable.
J. R. PRESTON,
President of Faculty.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.

Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.

SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 64
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,282 42
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 06
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,325 36
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,235 42

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY
Are unsurpassed for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.
Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.
Post & Bowles. New Orleans
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

East Mississippi Female College,
MERIDIAN, MISS.
Session opens Sept. 19. . . . J. W. BEESON, A. M., PRESIDENT.

Commodious Brick Building, hot and cold baths, sewer and gas connections, pure water from a bored well 314 feet; 361 students; 185 boarders, 30 teachers and officers, 242 in music, 47 in elocution, 26 in stenography and book keeping, high curriculum, thorough instruction, healthy location. Said by those who know it best to be the most religious, most flourishing, the cheapest for the advantages, in short, one of the Best Colleges For Young Ladies in the South.
Trained teachers, specialists in all departments. Teacher of Languages A. B. from Wellesley; Teacher of English A. B. from University of South Carolina; Teacher of Mathematics and the Teacher of Science post-graduate student of University of Chicago, Teacher of History and Philosophy A. M. from Potter College. Department of Domestic Science to be established. Admits to Wellesley, Vanderbilt University, University of Chicago with advanced standing without examination.
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
With a native of Berlin, graduate Kullak's Conservatory, (Germany), as Director; Fine Teacher of Stringed Instruments, Fine Vocal, Art and Elocution Teachers.

A Few Scholarships of Free Tuition to Worthy Girls. For beautiful Illustrated Catalogue, write to J. W. BEESON, A. M., President.

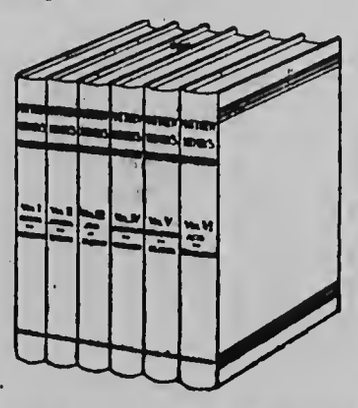
Matthew Henry's
Commentary
on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.

Doddridge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.

Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.



Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.

3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.

Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.

Cheapest and Best Commentary.

Best cloth binding—good type.

Write to
Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

Forest District High School,
Montrose, Miss.
A Training School for Millsaps College and East Mississippi and Whitworth Female Colleges.
Fine location. Total expenses for month, including board and tuition, between $8 and $11 School opens Sept. 3rd.
For further information address
J. F. GALLOWAY, B. A.,
Principal.

Dickson Normal College,
Both Sexes.
No malaria. No Yellow Fever. A most delightful health resort. Weekly boys and girls grow strong and vigorous. Strong faculty, thorough instruction, splendid advantages in all departments. Special advantages to young ladies and those wishing to teach. Lowest rates of any first-class school in the South. For handsome 48-page catalogue, address,
T. B. LOGGINS, Dickson, Tenn.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy-five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two-thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Grenada Female College
Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.
PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.
W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co. Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Chamberlain-Hunt Academy,

PORT GIBSON, MISS.

A Boarding School for Boys.

The buildings, now in course of construction, are the most complete in the South for a Boys' Boarding School. Fire-proof, ventilation, light and heating arrangements unsurpassed. All modern equipments. Dormitories newly furnished. Rates low owing to endowment. Military training if desired. Healthful location in the "Hill Country." Home influence. Artesian water. Skillful instructors. Write for catalogue.

W. O. GUTHRIE, Principal.

Vanderbilt Training School,

Elkton, Ky.

JOSHUA H. HARRISON, Principal.

Well located; well equipped; intelligent community; good health; good work. For information address the Principal, Elkton, Ky. Next session will begin Sept. 4.

Cooper Institute,

AT DALEVILLE, MISS,

is 9 miles from Lockhart on M. & O. R. R. Founded by Rev. J. L. Cooper in 1865. A High School for boys and girls. Prepares boys and girls for practical business life, and for Freshman and Sophomore Classes in College. Total expenses in literary department for entire session of nine months, one hundred and eight dollars; or, if paid in advance, one hundred dollars.

Write for Catalogue. Next session begins Sept. 19th.

REV. WALDO W. MOORE, A. M., Principal.

BELMONT SEMINARY,

BEDFORD CITY, VIRGINIA,

Opens on Sept. 12th. Academic course and music. Full corps of instructors. Modern building heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Climate and water unsurpassed. D. W. READ, M. A., Prin. (U. of V.)

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

FACTS When Your HOUSE, BARN or ROOF NEEDS PAINTING write
BOUT SUTCLIFFE & CO., Louisville, Ky.
PAINT Ask for Book No. 92. It tells how to buy and paint to best advantage.
Costs Nothing. Will Save Much

A RARE BARGAIN.

TEN VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to Sept., 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
[illegible] Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

TWO LOVERS.

Whose baby is loveliest?
Mother's own.
All round the world—north, south, east, west—
Hers alone!
For whether it be a Chinese tot,
With eyes aslant and a shaven crown,
Or a dear little girl of the Land of the Free,
Or a toddling Prince in Londontown,
Or the one rare treasure a Soudan slave
Hugs to her heart, all wee and brown—
Each in its mother's gentle pride
Is fairer than all the world beside.

Whose mother is loved the best?
Baby's own
She whose cheek was first caressed—
She alone.
For whether she be an Eskimo,
Or colored mammy, or stately queen,
Or a wandering organ-grinder's wife,
Jingling and boating her tambourine,
In every land where children are
The baby eyes from their deep, serene
Gaze, rapture-bound by the tender grace
In the mother's bended, love-lit face.

—Woman's Home Companion.

A HINT TO THE BOYS.

Every boy can not be a President, or a Senator, or a high officer in the State or Nation, try as hard as he may. But tens of thousands of them can become useful men, and all in the same way of diligence and honest effort. It is a good thing to know how some have climbed up the ladder of fame, to encourage others to earnest effort, even if they never climb so high. Here is something about the United States Senator from Texas, Hon. Joseph W. Bailey, as related in the Washington Post:

Although he has served five terms in Congress, Mr. Bailey is only thirty-six years of age. While not the greatest man in that body, he deserves considerable credit for what he has accomplished. He was born in one of those little way-back country villages in Copiah county, Miss., too small to be noted on the map and almost too insignificant to be named. His father, it is said, kept the local tavern, and Joseph might have been there yet, had it not been for an old man in the town who had some property, and who thought he discerned in the boy the making of something better than a village do-nothing. He took Joseph in hand, gave him a talking to, and what was more to the point, made him an offer, if he would behave himself and go to school, to defray the cost of his education. The lad agreed, stood by his bargain, and, by the time he was twenty, was a member of the bar, and five years later had been elected to Congress.

When Bailey made his start in politics a wise man to whom he went for advice told him to "make a specialty of the Constitution." He was warned that this was rather old-fashioned advice, and that people would probably laugh at him at first, but that he must stick to it, study the instrument until he could actually dream in its phraseology, and master all the literature bearing on the subject. Then he was to speak on it, and defend it whenever he saw it attacked. That is what Bailey has done, and whatever reputation for statesmanship he may have acquired is mostly along this line.—Selected.

MISS GOULD.

Miss Helen M. Gould is to-day one of the most popular women in the United States. Indeed, her fame has gone wherever the English language is spoken, and she is praised for her good deeds.

Most wonderful of all is the fact that this young woman, who belongs to a family which is often cited as the typical example of the unfair working of the law of competition in America, has captured the love and reverence of the workingmen. This phenomenon is worthy of a moment's attention. It shows that the workingmen have no objection to wealth and no hatred for those who enjoy it. Probably Miss Gould has done more to break down the barriers of distrust and suspicion between the rich and the poor than all the philanthropic reformers in the United States taken together.

She is probably as rich to-day as she was a year ago. She has given away many thousands of dollars, while probably her income has been increasing. Had she given even larger sums to some church or college, no one would have blessed her. Mr. Rockefeller has given to churches and colleges ten and twenty times as much as she without at all exciting the love and reverence of working people.

What is the difference? What has Miss Gould done that others do not do? With the gift she has given the giver. She has not considered the costly furniture of her home too good for the usage of sick soldiers or wounded firemen. Her furniture was defaced, her rugs were soiled. It cost something to repair the damage; but a thousand dollars spent in that way captures more hearts and wins more love than millions spent in gifts which are not warmed by the loving service of the giver.—Christian Register.

THE NEW CANCER CURE.

All forms of Malignant Growths Cured by Dr. Hathaway's Serum Treatment.

J. Newton Hathaway, M. D.

Dr. Hathaway's New Serum Treatment for the cure of Cancer and other malignant growths is as much of an advance in medical science as was vaccination for small-pox. Thousands of cases treated and cured by him have proved this. The method is entirely unlike any other.

T. T. Osby, of Tula Rosa, N. M., stated: "For several years I had what was supposed to be a pipe sore on the lip. It finally developed into a Cancer. In Oct. 1898, I consulted Dr. Hathaway & Co., and then applied their Serum Treatment. One injection cured me."

Mrs. I. N. Rogers, 133 N. Rozborn St., Memphis, Tenn., states: "I had a Cancer in the corner of my eye that extended down on my cheek and nose. Several so-called Cancer doctors and their burning treatments failed; but Dr. Hathaway's new Serum Treatment cured me in six weeks without pain."

Full information, together with Dr. Hathaway's New Book on Cancer, will be mailed free.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.,
Dr. Hathaway & Co.,
420 B Main St., Cleveland Block, MEMPHIS, TENN.

A BOY'S RELIGION.

If a boy is a lover of the Lord Jesus Christ, though he can't lead a prayer meeting, or be a church officer, or a preacher, he can be a godly boy, in a boy's way and in a boy's place. He need not cease to be a boy because he is a Christian. He ought to run, jump, climb, and yell like a real boy. But in it all he ought to be free from vulgarity and profanity. He ought to eschew tobacco in every form, and have a horror of intoxicating drinks. He ought to be peaceable, gentle, merciful, generous. He ought to take the part of small boys against larger ones. He ought to discourage fighting. He ought to refuse to be a party to mischief, to persecution, or deceit. And, above all things, he ought, now and then, to show his colors. He need not always be interrupting a game to say he is a Christian, but he ought not to be ashamed to say that he refuses to do something because he fears God, or is a Christian. He ought to take no part in the ridicule of sacred things, but meet the ridicule of others with a bold statement that for things of God he feels the deepest reverence.

HOW NELLIE GOT RIGHT.

Nellie, who had just recovered from a serious illness, said:

"Mama, I prayed last night."

"Did you, dear? Don't you always pray?"

"Oh, yes; but I prayed a real prayer last night. I don't think I ever prayed a real prayer before. I lay awake a long time. I thought what a naughty girl I had been so often. I tried to reckon up all the bad things I had done; there seemed to be lots of them. And I tried to remember what I did in one week, but there seemed to be such a heap; then I knew I had not remembered them all. And I thought, What if Jesus had come to me when I was ill? Then I thought about Jesus coming to die for bad people, and he delights to forgive them.

"So I got out of bed and kneeled down and tried to tell Jesus how bad I was; and I asked him to think over the sins that I could not remember. Then I waited to give him time to think of them; and when I thought he had remembered them all, I asked him to forgive them. And I am sure he did, mama, because he said he would.

"Then I felt so happy, and I got into bed and did not feel a bit afraid of God any more."

"Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven and whose sins are covered." (Rom. iv, 7.)—Reformed Church Record.

A TRIBUTE TO WORKINGMEN.

"I have preached," says Rev. J. S. Reajer, "the gospel in two States, in the largest cities and smaller towns. Since I began my active life at the age of thirteen years, until the present, I have never known an honest, industrious Christian workman to be among the disgruntled ones, nor in all these years have I seen a workingman's home void of comforts and blessings for himself and family, unless the man was a patron of the saloon. Several of my charges have been composed entirely of workingmen, and nowhere have I found more nobleness of character, contentment, prosperity, and happiness, and in no other charges were the church finances so cheerfully and earnestly met as in these congregations composed of workingmen and their families." No higher or more richly merited encomium can be pronounced upon any class of men. Only the homes of those toilers who have fallen victims to the saloon are destitute of comforts of life in this country. Industry, sobriety, frugality, and Christianity make the homes of workingmen thresholds to paradise.—Religious Telescope.

WARMING THE BED.

There was a register in the children's room, but it was only opened for an hour or two before bedtime. Dot and May made ready for bed in mama's warm room, keeping very still so as not to wake the baby. Then they scampered in and cuddled down under the blankets like little balls.

"Dot," said May one night, "I don't like to lie in a heap; let's lie out straight."

"But it's so cold," shivered Dot.

"O, I know!" cried May. "Let's play our feet are missionary, and the cold bed is a heathen country. We can send them down, and, then, when they get cold we can bring them home to visit, just as missionaries do."

"Why, yes," said Dot; "and my feet can go to China, and yours to India."

So the brave little feet started immediately on their journeying, and mama was astonished a little later, as she listened at the door, to hear Dot say sleepily, "Good night, May; I think China is almost warm."—Mrs. Grace M. Austin, in the Christian Advocate.

GOOD MANNERS.

Don't be too hurried, or too rich, or too poor, to have good manners.

One cold and stormy evening last Winter a prosperous-looking business man stopped in the vestibule of a large office building, on his way out, and attempted to light a cigar. An urchin with an armful of papers also stood within the arch, stamping his feet on the stone step to warm them as he lustily cried his wares.

The wind blew out the last match the fur-coated broker had about his person, and he turned to the boy and said:

"Here, boy, give me a match."

The lad eyed the gentleman furtively as he inquired:

"Say, mister, is that a demand or a request?"

Instead of being angry at this reproof, the gentleman—for he was such—replied kindly:

"A request, my boy, a humble request; and I'll take a couple of evening papers, too, I guess," he added as he received the match from the youngster's hand, and passed him a quarter. "And you may keep the change."—Selected.

DRUNKENNESS AMONG WOMEN.

The thirtieth annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union met in Philadelphia last week. Mrs. Lake, of this city, read a paper on drunkenness among women which is positively startling. She brought forth authorities to show that it is on the marked increase. Commenting, Zion's Herald says:

"It has been rumored for some time that certain department stores in the larger cities were building up quite a trade in selling to women intoxicants to be drunk on the premises, and that the facilities afforded women for indulging in intoxicating liquors were responsible for much drunkenness. Such reports are easily started, but it is hard to ascertain the facts. No single evil can be fraught with more serious consequences than drunkenness among women, and no field offers wider encouragement for inquiry. All lovers of the home, whether they call themselves Protestants or Roman Catholics, total abstainers or moderate drinkers, prohibitionists or supporters of license, are in duty bound to heed this warning note."

A ROYAL MOTHER.

The religious instruction of her children Queen Victoria regarded as a sacred duty to be delegated to no one else. Of the little Princess Royal she wrote in a memorandum: "I am quite clear not only that she should have great reverence for God and religion, but that she should have the feeling of devotion and love which our heavenly Father encourages his earthly children to have for him, and not one of fear and trembling; and that the thoughts of death and an after life should not be represented in an alarming and forbidding view, and that she should be made to know, as yet, no difference of creeds; and not think she can pray only on her knees, or that those who do not kneel are less fervent and devont in their prayers."—Selected.

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

Free Kindergarten Training-School.

The Training-school of the New Orleans Free Kindergarten Association offers an opportunity to well-educated young women who wish to fit themselves for the kindergarten profession. The rate of tuition is low, and board may be obtained at moderate prices. The new term begins October first. For full information address, Miss Katharine W. Hardy, 1202 Annunciation St, New Orleans, La.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co, 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Attention!

"Pharr Hall," Centenary College, will furnish pupils board, mending and room cleaning—at $8.75 per scholastic month. Terms will be cash in advance each month. The above cheap rates can not be offered on any other basis. The food will be wholesome and well prepared. Every effort will be made to give satisfaction, and to make both the "Hall" and dormitories home-like. Write the manager,

L. L. UPTON.

Millions use Pearline The Modern Soap

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. Dr. D. R. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,

NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES, Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY. Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering.

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments. Full Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens October 18th.

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address

Secretary of University.

GROCERY MONEY SAVED

Is grocery money earned. And you save it when you buy here.

Hundreds of housewives are glad they sent for King's Price List. They're saving money every week. You might just as well be saving, too.

The Price List shows the littleness of prices; the goods speak most eloquently of the qualities.

The combination wins.

Send for Price List now.

I especially solicit out-of-town trade.

KING'S, DRYADES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

Elizabeth Training School,

PETERSBURG, TENN.,

Prepares boys and girls for university course or for business. Its Students enter Vanderbilt University, University of Tennessee, and other high grade institutions. Located in the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains. High and healthful. Careful overs ght, thorough instruction and superior moral influence. Six teachers. 221 Students from six States. Total expense for 10 months, $152. Send for catalogue.

W. E. MILLER A. B., Prin.

MONEY SAVED

In the end by taking the

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrives
Memphis and Local.....	4:00 P. M.	10:05 A. M.
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:00 A. M.	6:50 P. M.

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Cis-Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. A.

JESSE FRENCH PIANOS

AND ORGANS HAVE BEEN RECOGNIZED AS THE MOST POPULAR INSTRUMENTS IN THE WHOLE SOUTHWEST FOR NEARLY THIRTY YEARS.

Our FACTORIES are among the LARGEST in the U.S.

CATALOGS FREE

Jesse French Piano & Organ Co.

HOME OFFICE ST. LOUIS MISSOURI

Branches Agents & Representatives in all Large Cities

Sherwood Music School

FINE ARTS BUILDING, 203 Michigan Av. CHICAGO.

William H. Sherwood and Walton Perkins, Directors.

Highest Standard of Art. Faculty of eminent teachers. Catalog free on application. Fall Term Opens September 10.

WILLIAM H. PERKINS, Sec.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,

MILK DEPOT,

SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.

CONFECTIONERIES.

DELIVERY FREE.

1733 Prytania St., Cor. Pelymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Suite 303---New Orleans National Bank Building,

606 Common St., New Orleans, La.

OBITUARIES.

(Continued from Third Page.)

STEPHENSON—Miss ELLA MAY STEPHENSON, daughter of John and Mattie Stephenson, was born near Tyro, Miss., May 24, 1879, and died June 5, 1900. She was converted in 1894, joined the M. E. Church, South, in 1899, and lived a devout Christian from that day till death. Hers was a smooth, gentle and well-poised disposition. Her aptness, diligence and industry were covetable; her ideal of a Christian was biblical. Fatal disease began making visible inroads on her strength in June, 1898, thus making her a sufferer for two years, and she, with reluctance, laid aside womanly aspirations, sweet anticipations, and bright hopes, till the future, out of Christ, seemed misty and pleasureless; yet her disposition and Christian qualities grew sweeter and more glorious with the endurance of affliction. The stronger death clamored for victory, the higher did her Christian-winged faith soar; and as she sank into the arms of death, she wholly consigned her spirit to the tender, sure care of Jesus, whom she loved so dearly. She died the death of the righteous, and passed from earth to glory with praises on her honest lips. We laid her remains kindly away in Tyro Cemetery, where, ever after, the tread and voice of many friends will be soft and low because of their great regard and true love for the silent sleeper.

Mother, sisters and brothers, dear,
Weep not for the loved a hopeless tear,
For on thy hearts hope is engraven
Of a peaceful union all in heaven.

W. N. DUNCAN, Pastor.

Tyro, Miss.

WIYGUL—Whereas, It has pleased the Father of all spirits (who taketh away his breath, and we die; who sendeth his spirit, and we live) to call our devoted friend, neighbor and sister from the duties and afflictions incident to life in this world; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we all yield submissively to the providence of Him who is too good to do wrong and too wise to err.

Resolved, That our church, in the death of Sister ANNA MAY WIYGUL, has lost one of its most consecrated members.

Resolved, That our Home Mission and Aid Society have lost one of its most useful members.

Resolved, That our Sunday-school has lost one of its most devoted teachers.

Resolved, That the inhabitants of Nettleton have sustained a great loss in the death of one of its most beloved ladies, a worker at the bedside of the sick, a comforter of the distressed, an accession to society, a true Christian at home and in our community, a loss deeply felt by all who knew her.

Resolved, That we all do hereby tender our most heartfelt sympathy to the husband, daughter and mother of the deceased, and that the Tupelo Journal and the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE be requested to publish the resolutions, and that a copy of the same be sent to the husband and mother of the deceased.

(Signed)

K. M. HARRISON, Pastor,
E. N. TRICE, Pres't Aid Society,
EUGENIA ROBERTS, Supt. S. S.,
Methodist Church, Nettleton, Miss.

GROUNDS—JESSE G. GROUNDS was born in Claiborne parish, Oct. 3, 1837, and died in Bossier City, May 2, 1900. This good and faithful man joined the M. E. Church, South, in boyhood. He was in usual health up to his death, and finished a day's work, when a stroke of apoplexy seized him, causing instant death. It was a terrible shock to his family and friends. The afflicted ones mourn not as those without hope, but recognize the fact that their loss is his eternal gain. He was reared in a Christian family, and had good educational advantages in youth. Oh, how much we miss him and his genial, inspiriting presence, for he was one of nature's noblemen, and he exemplified his religious principles in every-day life. He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss, and also a host of sorrowing friends and relatives. May God's grace sustain them amid the gloom of separation until we all meet again in glory land!

ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

BABINGTON—SISTER VIOLCHIA, daughter of T. M. and Attie Babington, was born in Franklinton, La., Feb. 2, 1886. She joined the M. E. Church, South, in October, 1895 in her ninth year, and died June 2, 1900, near Franklinton.

Dear young Vick came to her death by drowning. She was a rather remarkable child, the favorite of all who knew her. She was beautiful, intelligent, and sunshiny. She was studious at school, affectionate and dutiful to her teachers, several of whom have written to the bereaved parents. One says, "Vick was a precious little girl, and one that we greatly admired." Another, "Victoria was always a sweet, loving pupil." She was prompt and constant at Sunday-school, and took great pleasure in her lessons. She was deeply pious, took much interest in church work, and was attentive at public worship, and supported the institutions of the church. In our "Twentieth Century Thank-offering" her name is enrolled, and that with a liberal subscription. For a child at fourteen she was well rounded as a Christian, and will be greatly missed in the community; but in the family her loss is most keenly felt. Obedient and deeply affectionate to her parents, and kind and loving to her brothers and sisters, she was the sunshine of the household. May the Lord bind up the bleeding hearts of the mourning loved ones who remain!

ROBERT RANDLE,
Her Pastor.

Franklinton, La.

CARR—Sister EMMA JANE CARR (nee Whitmire), the amiable wife of Bro. Joseph Carr, was called to her eternal reward on the evening of April 4, just at sunset. Her beautiful life has ended here below, but her soul has taken its flight to the God she loved and served faithfully ever since she was about ten years of age, at which time she connected herself with the M. E. Church, South, at Center Ridge, where her active Christian mother, Mrs. Jane Whitmire, and her father, Rev. Robert Whitmire, have been faithful workers in the Lord's vineyard for many years. She was born Jan. 28, 1874, about three miles from the place where she departed this life. In Winston county, on the twenty-third day of December, 1894, she was happily married to Bro. Joseph Carr. God blessed their union with four bright children, whom she committed to him on her dying bed, and exhorted her devoted husband to be sure and raise them right, and all of them to meet her in heaven. Her death was quite unexpected, as she seemed to be in fine health, and was only sick two days. She died singing, "Jesus, lover of my soul." On the fifth of April her remains were laid away to rest in Center Ridge Cemetery.

May the consolation of God's grace ever abide with her relatives and many friends, and especially rest upon her motherless children and her broken-hearted husband!

J. W. HALL, Her Pastor.

BAUGH—Mrs. ALICE KATE BAUGH, whose maiden name was Alice Kate Beard, was born Dec. 13, 1851, and was married to John W. Baugh, of Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 10, 1871, and departed this life near Sherard, Miss., May 24, 1900. She was the mother of eight children, five of whom preceded her to the land of bliss.

Mrs. Baugh, with her husband, moved near Sherard, Miss., several years ago, where she lived until the day of her death, and by her quiet manners and kind deeds she won for herself the love, friendship and respect of all classes of people. She joined the M. E. Church, South, at Sherard, Miss., about six years ago, and took great interest in supporting all its institutions. She was a faithful and valuable member of the Ladies' Aid Society. She was permitted to live until her three surviving children were all grown, and was blessed with fairly good health until the early Spring of 1900, when she became ill with continued fever, and kept growing worse until the end came. On the morning of May 25, 1900, a host of sorrowing friends and relatives tenderly laid her to rest in the family burying ground just in front of the house where she lived. She leaves a husband, three children and three grandchildren, who deeply mourn her loss.

W. D. PARRISH.

Hillhouse, Miss.

NEAL—Miss MARY JANE, daughter of the late Rev. Wm. B. and Mrs. Rachel M. Neal, was born in Auburn, Ala., June 24, 1856. She joined the M. E. Church, South, at an early age. Being an invalid from infancy, she was very seldom permitted to attend upon its ordinances, but she could, and did, help to support its institutions. Hers was a life of almost perfect resignation, and often her suffering was intense, but she bore it very patiently.

Miss Mary lived with her father till his death, about eleven years ago. After her father's death she remained in Alabama about twelve months, when she came to Hillsboro, Miss., where she resided with her brother, Dr. V. M. Neal, until Sunday, May 27, 1900, when the death angel summoned her to "Come, . . . inherit the kingdom of her Father." A little mound of clay in the Hillsboro Cemetery marks the place where her bones await the resurrection morning. May God bless the bereaved ones!

THOS. J. O'NEIL.

Deafness Can Not Be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Before affliction is digested, consolation ever comes too soon; and after it is digested, it comes too late. There is but a mark between these two, as fine almost as a hair, for a comforter to take aim at.—Sterne.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Here is encouragement to perseverance, that Jesus Christ, our Head, is already in heaven. If the head is above water, the body can not drown.—Flavel.

Chin Pimples

are local in nature. They yield readily to Common Sense Treatment.

HEISKELL'S OINTMENT

is a specific for Pimples, Freckles, Tetter, Eczema and all skin disorders. 50 cts. a box.

HEISKELL'S SOAP

clears the pores, makes the skin soft, smooth and white. Price 25 cents. Samples free.

JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philada., Pa.

WINE OF CARDUI

HEALTHY OLD AGE.

LARUE, BENTON CO. ARK., Aug. 4.

I am 49 years old and have been suffering with Change of Life. I had flooding spells so bad that none thought I could live. My husband got me Wine of Cardui and it saved my life. I am like another person since taking it.

MRS. E. B. TOWNSEND.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is the devout wish of nearly all people to live to a ripe old age. None of us want to die young. This universal desire can be realized if care be taken of the health in early and middle life. A little precaution then will add many years to our existence. Death can be kept away a long time. Happy, healthy old age will be the lot of the woman who promptly corrects the ailments which afflict her sex. In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female child safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. At the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that appears in her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. The remedy for their sickness is close at hand.

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT.
For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Dep't, The CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

LARGE BOTTLES OF WINE OF CARDUI SOLD FOR $1.00 BY DRUGGISTS.

WINE OF CARDUI

MISSOURI MILITARY ACADEMY

Fine new buildings, modern, practically fireproof. 100 acres. Fishing, hunting, swimming, boating. Faculty of specialists—MEN, not boys—alumni of twelve leading military schools and universities; educators of national reputation. Address

YANCEY & FONVILLE, Mexico, Mo.

Emory College

EMORY COLLEGE FOUNDED 1836 OXFORD, GEORGIA

Forty miles east of Atlanta. Situation high and healthy. No liquors sold in county. Intercollegiate games prohibited. Full college courses offered leading to A. B., B. Ph., and B. S. Degrees. Entire necessary expenses within $200. 63rd annual session begins Sept. 19, 1900. For catalogue and full information, address

C. E. Dowman, President

A SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY, BY DENTISTS, FOR DENTISTS.

The Atlanta Dental College has a corps of ten experienced teachers. Largest School in the State and in the South. Owns and operates its Chemic, Pathologic, Bacteriologic, and Ceramic apparatus within the College Building—a self-contained school teaching Dentistry by Dentists. Located in the heart of the city. For further and fuller particulars, address

WM. CRENSHAW, D.D.S., Dean.
Prudential Building, Atlanta, Ga.

FOUNDED 1838. CHARTERED 1854. Present Management Began 1899. . . . . .

THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE and Conservatory of Music.

High in grade, thorough in scholastic requirement and pre-eminently religious, the WOMAN'S COLLEGE proposes to be what its name implies.

The First Year under the new management eminently successful. Boarders, 89; music pupils, 160; number in orchestra, 47.

The buildings are excellent, thoroughly equipped and furnished, large campus, modern conveniences. The Faculty thoroughly trained, experienced and reliable.

Few schools, if any, in the South offer better advantages for a high-grade academic or musical education. New Pianos for practice, and Ensemble playing given special prominence. Classes in Physics and Chemistry have the benefit of weekly lectures at the University.

NEXT SESSION OPENS SEPT. 12, 1900.

For illustrated catalogue address, REV. J. W. MALONE, A. M., President, Oxford, Miss.

Edward McGehee College for Girls,

Woodville, Miss.,

Will open its thirty-ninth annual session Wednesday, September 5th, 1900. Thoroughly equipped for work in the Departments of Mathematics, English, Sciences, Languages, Music and Elocution. Buildings are new and commodious, in perfect repair, and fitted with the comforts of a refined home. Located in the hill country, it is free from malarial and other fevers. For Catalogue and terms address

MISS GEORGIA SWANSON, President, Woodville, Miss.

W. W. Carre & Co

LUMBER,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to September, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to October, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewals in connection with the above offer.

BELMONT COLLEGE FOR YOUNG WOMEN, Nashville, Tenn.

Regent, Rev. R. A. Young, D. D., LL.D. Principals: Miss Hood, Miss Heron

"THE IDEAL COLLEGE HOME OF THE SOUTH." Suburban and city life combined. Electric cars to North entrance. Attractions of Park persuade to out-door exercise. Eight schools in the hands of skilled specialists. Schools of Music, Art and Elocution employ methods of best Conservatories in this country and abroad. Diplomas conferred by schools. Lecture course studiously selected. Best lectures, concerts, recitals, etc., literally patronized. Christian influences. Students attend church of their choice in city. Send for handsomely illustrated blue and bronze Catalogue and other College Literature. (Students from 36 States.)

VIRGINIA COLLEGE

FOR YOUNG LADIES. ROANOKE, VIRGINIA.

Opens Sept. 18, 1900. One of the leading Schools for Young Ladies in the South. Magnificent Buildings, with all modern improvements. Steam heat, electric light, bath and toilet rooms on every floor. Campus of ten acres. Grand mountain scenery in Valley of Virginia, far-famed for health. Twenty-five American and European teachers. Thorough courses leading to Degrees of B. A., and M. A. Unsurpassed advantages in Music, Art and all branches. Students from 30 States. For catalogues address

MATTIE P. HARRIS, President, Roanoke, Virginia.

JOB PRINTING

-- All Kinds --

AT THIS OFFICE.

The Mooney School for Boys,

FRANKLIN, TENN.

Its certificate admits to a score of the best colleges in America, Vanderbilt University among the number. Its pupils take front rank. Discipline, instruction, and home life are all that could be asked, while expenses are moderate.

Write for a catalogue.

W. D. MOONEY, A.M., PRINCIPAL.

BRENAU

COLLEGE—CONSERVATORY,

GAINESVILLE, GA.

Located among the foot-hills of the Blue Ridge. A splendid Faculty of Specialists. Full courses in Literature, Science and Art. Diplomas awarded in all departments. 160 boarders last year. 232 pupils in Conservatory. Director an honor graduate of Royal Academy of Music, Rome, Italy. Normal Courses in Literary and Music Departments. 35 elegant pianos. Pipe organ. Beautiful concert-hall. Large campus. For handsome catalogue, address BRENAU, Gainesville, Ga.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to September, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Details of the march to Peking show that the Americans suffered many hardships

The striking colliers at Cardiff, in Wales, numbering about 50,000, have returned to work.

The Agricultural Department of North Carolina reports 244 cotton mills in operation in that State.

The Russian minister at Peking reports a rumor that Prince Ching has been appointed Regent of China.

It is reported that Lord Roberts has issued a proclamation annexing the Transvaal to the British Crown.

The Nicaraguan Congress has approved the commercial reciprocity treaty between that country and the United States.

Mr. Bryan will deliver a speech in opposition to the trusts before the Traveling Men's Association in St. Louis, Sept. 15.

A detachment of Kansas City firemen, on their way home from the Paris Exposition, were entertained by the Mayor of London.

The Germans have demanded that the Americans on the German concession at Tien Tsin vacate to make room for fresh German troops.

Kruger, Steyn, Botha, Lucas Meyer and Schalkburger left Nooigedacht, Aug. 23, for Nelspruit. The Boers are reported scattering.

President Woodworth presided over the deliberations of the National Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents at Milwaukee attired in a shirt waist.

Abont 1800 British prisoners, released at Nooigedacht, have reached Gens. French and Pole-Carew. Ambulances have been sent out to pick up the sick.

The Acting Viceroy of Canton has suppressed all the native newspapers, on the ground that they have been publishing false news, detrimental to the maintenance of peace.

Missionary Green, of the China Inland Mission, his sister, wife and their two children, who were held prisoners by the Boxers for some time, report that they were well treated.

It is announced that the American-Russian proposal in favor of the withdrawal of the allied forces from Peking has met with favor at European chancelleries and is almost certain to be adopted.

The area affected by the bubonic plague at Glasgow, Scotland, has spread to Govan, on the left bank of the Clyde. A boy died there Saturday, and the medical authorities have certified that he was a victim of the disease.

The Southern Railroad's legal department has passed upon the shirt waist man, holding that "so long as a man is decently dressed, whether he has on his coat or not, his appearance can not be offensive to any sensible person."

It is said that Secretary of War Root is responsible for the flop of the administration to Russia and the turning down of Secretary of State Hay over the Chinese question. A serious split has occurred in President McKinley's Cabinet.

Chung Li, a member of the Tsung Li Yamen and profect of police, visited the Austrian representative at Peking on Sunday and was arrested because of the Chinese official's complicity in the attacks on the legations. Chung Li was military governor of Peking.

The Fairbanks Scale Company's building on Canal street, this city, was burned to the ground on Aug. 31. The Morris office building, which adjoins it, also caught fire, and was almost completely gutted and all but totally destroyed. The damage to both buildings is estimated at $300,000.

Mayor Capdevielle, Acting City Attorney McLonghlin and Chief of Police Gaster stated that the Sunday law was rigorously in force in New Orleans. Lack of uniformity in the law's enforcement throughout the State has been criticised. Jefferson and St. Bernard parishes were wide open.

Li Hung Chang, according to the Associated Press reporter at Shanghai, is trying to make trouble among the allies. Earl Li has had a conference with the French consul. He had told the Americans and British that Russia has promised to withdraw from Peking regardless of what the other nations do.

The "Atalanta," formerly owned by George Gould, and recently purchased and converted into an armed cruiser by the Colombian government, is shortly to sail from New York on a secret mission. From advices received it is stated that war may grow out of the strained relations between Colombia and Venezuela on account of the latter's alleged sympathy with and aid to the Colombian revolutionists.

For Nervous Women.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. J. B Alexander, Charlotte, N. C., says: 'It is pleasant to the taste, and ranks among the best of nerve tonics for nervous females."

Labor Day was celebrated on Sept. 3 throughout the country. It being a legal holiday, business was generally suspended at the national capital and in the cities in the North and West. Many thousand members of trades unions joined in the parades and enjoyed outings at the various parks. At Chicago Hon. Wm. J. Bryan and Gov. Roosevelt and other prominent members of the Democratic and Republican parties viewed a parade consisting of 35,000 men. After the parade Messrs. Bryan and Roosevelt and other speakers made addresses at Electric Park.

Salem Camp Meeting.

Salem Camp Meeting will be held as usual this year. Following a time-honored custom, the first service will be held Thursday night before the second Sunday in October. All brother itinerants, and local brethren also, are cordially invited to "come up to the help of the Lord against the mighty." We are expecting great things from the Lord this year, and know we shall not be disappointed.

J. W. Campbell,
P. C. Americus Circuit.

Americus, Miss., Aug. 31, 1900.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.

For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.

For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure.

For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.

Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.

50c and $1 bottles at druggists.

Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. Rev. C. C. Davis,
Eld. M. E. Church, South,
No. 28 Tatnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.

R. L. Rocco,
206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. Beall,
Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

Cheap Excursion to Denver and Colorado Springs.

On Sept. 3 and 17 the Texas and Pacific railway will sell round-trip tickets to points in Colorado at $39.30, good to return until Oct. 31. Apply at office of T. and P. road, 207 St. Charles St.

A. S. Graham, P. & T. A.

For Sale at a Bargain,

A scholarship in Mooney's School Franklin, Tenn.

Rev. W. C. Black,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Situation Wanted,

A young lady, who is a graduate of a Southern college, desires a situation as teacher. Address, I H.,
Bridgeville, Miss.

Positions Guaranteed.

We guarantee a good paying position to all music students who graduate at our Conservatory of Music. It is now the largest in the South, with 9 able music teachers and 242 music students, with a great German pianist at its head. Literary courses in connection. Work compares favorably with that done at Boston or Cincinnati, and at one fourth the cost.

For catalogue write to

J. W. Beeson, Pres.,
Meridian, Miss

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

MARRIAGES

Fisher—Anderson.—At Raymond, Miss., Aug. 5, 1900, by Rev. E. H. Mounger, Mr. Alfred T. Fisher and Miss Mary Anderson.

Brewer—Holland.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. John Holland, Aug. 29, 1900, by Rev. R. S. Lawson, Mr. W. H. Brewer, of Leflore county, to Miss Nancy Holland, of near Cascilla, Miss.

Campbell—Newcomb.—At the residence of E. McBain, Esq., Floyd, La., Aug. 14, 1900, by Rev. Wm. H. Hatfield, Mr. Geo. M. Campbell, of New Orleans, to Miss Laura E. Newcomb, of Pilcher's Point, La.

Scott—Kilbourne.—At the residence of the bride's father, Kilbourne, La., Aug 21, 1900, by Rev. Wm. H. Hatfield, Mr. Fred N. Scott, of Winnboro, La., to Miss Hattie T. Kilbourne, of Kilbourne, La Miles-Page.—At the residence of Mr. Davis Page, father of the bride, Sunday afternoon, July 22, 1900, by Rev. W. L. Linfield, Mr. W. L. Miles and Miss Fannie Page, both of Scott county, Miss.

Dubose—Liles.—At the residence of Mr. Joe McLemore, near Pulaski, Miss., Sunday afternoon, Aug. 26, 1900, by Rev. W. L Linfield, Mr. Harmon C. Dubose and Miss Ollie B. Liles, both of Scott county, Miss.

Read What Is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful"—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault, Minn

See our offer on another page.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Okolona station	Sept. 2, 3
Houston and Wesley, at Houston	8, 9
Tupelo station	16, 17
Okolona circuit, at Egypt	22, 23
Buena Vista cir., at Pleasant Grove	29, 30
Montpelier circuit, at Palestine	Oct 6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie	9
Shannon circuit, at Shannon	13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona	15
Tremont circuit, at Hoewell	20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem	27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov. 3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton	5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar	10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Sonie's Chapel	17, 18
Aberdeen station	25, 29

W. W. Woollard, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sardis	Sept. 15, 16
Coino	22, 23
Tonatibia	29, 30
Arkabutla, at Brooks	Oct. 5
Cold Water	6, 7
Haleaville	13 14
Courtland, at Pepes	20, 21
Burges, at Love Joy	26
Eureka, at Mt Olivet	27, 28
Hernando	Nov. 3, 4
Longtown	8, 9
Pt. Grove	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's	17, 18
Wall Hill	23
Cockrum	24, 25
Tyro	Dec. 1, 2

W. S. Lagrone, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Water Valley—Wood Street	Sept. 1, 2
Oxford station	8, 9
Grenada station	15, 16
Grenada circuit	22, 23
Toocopola circuit	29, 30
Paris circuit	Oct. 6, 7
Pittsboro circuit	13, 14
Ellzy circuit	15
Slate Springs circuit	20, 21
East Grenada circuit	22
Coffeeville circuit	27, 28
Minter City	Nov 3, 4
Charleston	10, 11
Cascilla	12
Water Valley circuit	17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street	24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec. 1, 2

R. G Porter, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Holly Springs station	Sept. 1, 2
Abbeville, at Liberty	8, 9
Shawnee, at Mt. Hope	12

J. W. Honnoll, P. E.

Memphis, Tenn.

GREENVILLE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Gunnison	Sept 1, 2
Bollvar	8, 9

J. W. Dorman, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

West Point	Sept. 2, 3
Starkville station	9, 10
Macon	16, 17
Shuqualak, at Salem	22, 23
Winstonville, at Hickory Grove	26
Hebron, at Hebron	29, 30
Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct. 6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity	13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel	20, 21
Tibbee, at Maybew	27, 28
Columbus stat on	Nov. 4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill	17 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs	23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. Sullivan, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona station	Sept. 8, 9
Greenwood station	15, 16
Valden circuit, at Valden	22, 23
Carrollton and Mooneriy, at Mooneriy	29, 30
Winona circuit, at New Hope	Oct. 6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb	13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona	20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green	27, 28
Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov. 3, 4
Mo Nutt, at McNutt	10, 11
Carrollton, at Edon	17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead	24, 25
Indianola	Dec. 1, 2

The trustees of church property will please have their reports ready at the fourth Quarterly Conference, made out according to Discipline.

J. H. Mitchell, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sallis, at Bethel	Sept. 15, 16
Tom Nolen, at Tom Nolen	22, 23
Enpora, at Enpora	29, 30
Cumberland, at Shady Grove	26
Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct. 6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula	13, 14
Belzona, at Belzona	20 21
Kosciusko station	7 P. M.. 28
Kosciusko circuit, at Smyrna	27, 28
Ethel, at Tabernacle	Nov. 1
Ackerman, at Ackerman	3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel	10, 11
Chester	17, 18
Louisville	24, 25
Rural Hill	27
Pinkena	Dec. 1, 2
Durant	7 P. M.. 2

T. W. Dye, P. E.

CORINTH DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Mantachie, at Center Star	Sept. 1, 2
Belmont	4, 5
Marietta, at Ozark	8, 9
Burnt Mills, at Forest Grove	11, 12
Jacinto	15, 16
Booneville circuit	19

W. M. Young, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Meridian—Central	Sept. 15, 16
Meridian—West End	16, 17
Meridian—East End	Wed.. 19
Lauderdale, at Bethel	23, 24
Meridian—South Side	Wed.. 26
Wayne, at Spring Hill	29, 30
Porterville, at Porterville	Wed.. Oct. 3
Winchester, at Winchester	6, 7
Leakesville, at Brelandsville	13, 14
Waynesboro, at Waynesboro	Wed.. 17
DeKalb, at New Hope	20, 21
North Kemper, at Shellen	Mon.. 22
Enterprise at Enterprise	27, 28
Pachuta, at Pachuta	Nov. 3, 4
Illinois ville, at Stoneby	10, 11
Vimville at Marion	17, 18
Matherville, at Winifred	24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon.. 20
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec 1, 2
Daleville, at —	8, 9

G. A. Guice, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas	Oct 6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon	13, 14
Canton	14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street	20 21
Terry, at Byram	27, 28
Silver Creek	Nov. 3, 4
Lake City	4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope	10, 11
Benton, at Midway	11, 12
Pranquil	17, 18
Yazoo City	18, 19
Camden	24, 25
Faunin	Dec. 1, 2
Brandon station	2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues.. 4
Sleen's Creek	8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. Holloman, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Providence, at Camp Ground	Sept 1, 2
Westville, at ——	8, 9
Mt Carmel, at ——	10
Pearl, at Mt. Moriah	11
Caseyville, at Bethesda	15, 16
Summit, at Johnston	22, 23
Lincoln, at Bethel	29, 30
Tylertown, at Water Lilies	Oct. 9 7
Adams, at Pisgah	9

Let the preachers in charge see to it that the books are on hand, that Ques 20 may be fully answered. Please do not entrust this matter to anybody.

H. Walter Featherstun, P. E.

Brookhaven, Miss.

FOREST DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Morton, at Zinn Grove	Sat and Sun Sept 1, 2
Rose Hill, at Hopewell	Sat. and nn 8, 9
Trenton, at New Prospect	Sat. and Sun 15, 16
Shiloh, at Clear Creek	Sat. and Sun.. 22 23
Decatur, at Good Hope	Sat and Sun.. 29, 30
Chunkey, at Concord	Sat. and Sun.. Oct. 9, 7
Newton and H., at Hickory	Sat. and Sun 13, 14

T. L. Mellen, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Hermanville	Sept. 1, 2
Warren	8, 9
Anguilla	15, 16
Rolling Fork	16
Utica	22, 23
Saturtia	29, 30

E. H. Mounger, P. E.

NATCHEZ DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchez—Jefferson Street	Sept. 2, 3
Natchez—Wesley Chapel	1, 2
Roxie	8, 9
Lebanon	15, 16

W. L. C. Hunnicutt, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Natchitoches at Natchitoches	Sept 1, 2
Montgomery at Shiloh	5
Hineks at White Chapel	8, 9
Dry Creek	15, 16

J. H. Harper, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST. THIRD ROUND.

Ft. Jessup and Many, at New Hope	Sept. 1, 2
Zwolle, at Forest Hill	4
Mansfield	9

John T. Sawyer, P. E

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND

Indian Bayou, at Bethel	Sept. 1, 2
Prudhomme, at Long Point	8, 9
Plaquemine Brule at Pt Hope	15, 16
Crowley	22, 23
Lake Arthur	29, 30
Grand Cheniere	Oct. 6, 7
Lake Charles	13, 14
West Lake	20, 21

Special attention is called to questions to be called at this third Conference

C W Carter, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson	Aug 30
Baton Rouge—First church	31-Sept. 2
Baton Rouge circuit	30-Sept. 2
Live Oak, at Palmetto	4, 5
Port Vincent, at Maringas	7-9
Ponchatoula, at Springfield	10, 11
Franklinton, at Mt Hermon	15, 16
Kentwood, at Tangipahoa	18, 19
St. Helena, at Bay's Church	19, 20
Amite City	21-23
Wilson, at Pine Grove	28-30
Clinton	Oct. 2, 3
Baker, at Brookstown	4
St. Francisville at Tunica	6, 7
Bluff Creek Camp Meeting	Aug 17-26

Let there be full written reports in answer to Ques. 13, 15 and 18. Wherever possible, let the cause of the American Bible Society be presented during the quarter. In answer to Ques. 20, let all the Church Registers be produced, and ample time will be allowed for a thorough inspection of same. Let there be full reports upon the Twentieth Century Thank-offering

F. S. Parker, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Waterproof, at Wesley	Sept. 1, 2
Bonita, at Jones	8, 9
Monroe	9, 10
Floyd, at Oak Grove	15, 16
Delhi	22, 23

J. M. Henry, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

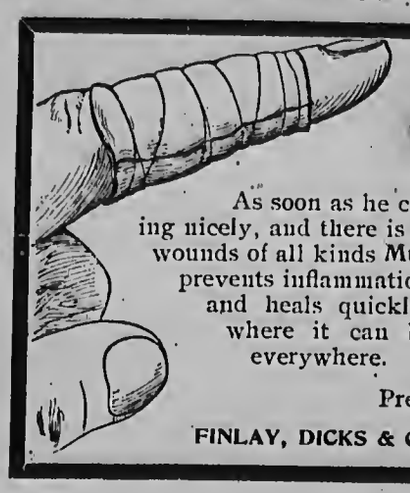
Valley circuit, at Blocker	Aug. 30
Arcadia circuit, at Arcadia	Sept. 1, 2
Haynesville circuit, at New Salem	7
Homer, at Arizona	8, 9
Ganeville circuit, at Siloam	15, 16

B. T. Drewa, P. E

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Carondelet Street	Sept. 2
White Castle	9
Burgundy Street	16

S. S. Keener, P. E.



He Applied
MUL-EN-OL

As soon as he cut himself. Now it is healing nicely, and there is no soreness. For cuts and wounds of all kinds Mul-en-ol has no equal. It prevents inflammation, takes out the soreness, and heals quickly. Always keep a bottle where it can be easily reached. Sold everywhere. Price 50c., $1.00, $2.00.

Prepared by

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

Money Is Made Operating Saw Mills on Southern Rivers!

BUT MALARIA, CHILLS AND FEVERS AND GENERAL BAD HEALTH AMONG THE WORKERS MUST BE OVERCOME, ESPECIALLY IN THE FALL MONTHS.

"I employed 100 hands on the Savannah River and there was great loss of time on account of sickness. I procured Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic and put the men on it. In a short time everyone of the men were well, and reported for duty. Only once afterwards did we need a doctor, and that was to attend an injured man." J. B. Lassiter, Hardeeville, S. C.

Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic Cures. Use No Other; It's All You Need.

A. B. GIRARDEAU, SOLE MANUFACTURER, SAVANNAH, GA.

HARTMAN STEEL ROD PICKET FENCE

fills completely all fence requisites as to beauty, utility and durability. Specially designed for lawns, parks, cemeteries, school grounds, &c. Looks best and is best when built with our steel posts. Illustrated catalogue free. HARTMAN M'F'G CO., BOX 105 ELLWOOD CITY, PA.

Or Room 121, 300 Broadway, New York City.

10,000 AGENTS WANTED.
FOR LIFE & SPEECHES OF BRYAN

The "Life" is written by Mrs. Bryan. The Speeches revised by Mr. Bryan, but he is not pecuniarily interested in its publication. A golden opportunity for agents. Don't miss it. One agent sold 37 copies in one week; another 65 copies in 10 days; another 15 copies first call. Everybody will buy it; Democrat, Republican, Populist and Prohibitionist. The demand is great. It is only necessary for agents to supply it.

$200.00 GIVEN

for selling 200 books in 5 months. Other liberal inducements. Will guarantee good salaries or a salary. Distance is no hindrance as freight is paid. Credit given. Circulars, instructions, etc., etc., free, but 25 cents must be sent for mailing. Act quick.

R. H. Woodward Co., Baltimore, Md.

NOTICE—We also desire to employ agents for selling our book on the "Paris Exposition," beautifully illustrated. We also publish "Life of McKinley" and other campaign books.

PATENTS

promptly procured, OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade Marks," FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 26 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges.

Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.,
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

HOLLINS INSTITUTE

Opens its 54th session Sept. 19th, 1900, with accommodations for 225 Young Ladies (boarders), 30 officers and teachers. Eclectic system. Diplomas awarded in all departments. Departments presided over by University graduates. Located in a region of surpassing beauty and noted for health. Mineral waters, Sulphur and Chalybeate. Apply for catalogue to

CHAS. L. COCKE, Supt., Hollins, Va.

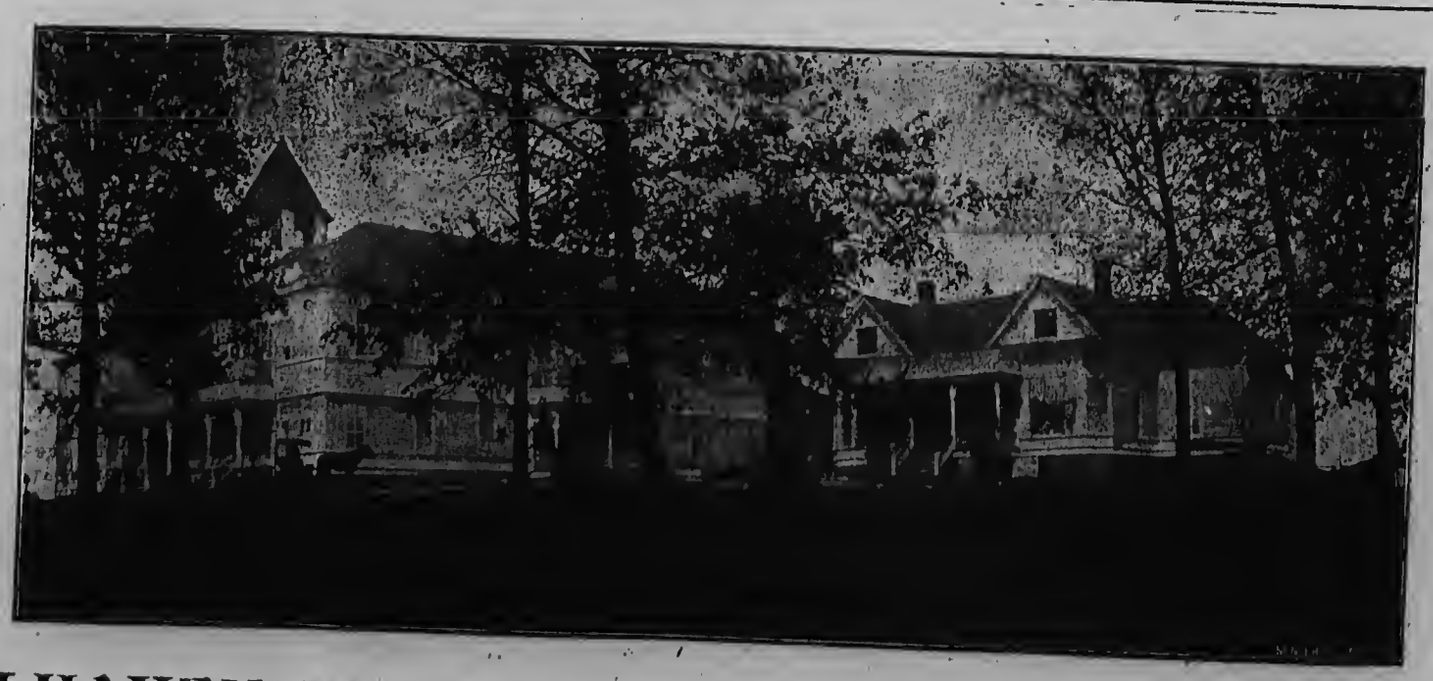
IUKA NORMAL INSTITUTE
Iuka, Miss.

Nineteenth year begins Sept. 4, 1900. Terms reasonable—advantages superior. Satisfaction guaranteed to all worthy pupils. Write for the handsomest catalogue of the season.

H. A. DEAN, Pres.

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
Stovewood, Coal, Coke, Charcoal, etc.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.

Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split oak and oak for 2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot cordwood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.



BELHAVEN COLLEGE (For Young Ladies), JACKSON, MISS.

One of the most thoroughly equipped High Grade Schools in the South. Buildings new and modern, heated by steam and lighted with electricity. Bath rooms for hot and cold water on all floors. Beautiful campus of twelve acres of native forest trees. No school for girls in the South can show such a health record. During the past Winter, noted for its epidemics of pneumonia, la grippe, measles and small-pox all over the State, there was not a single case of any of the above diseases or any serious case of sickness of any kind, in the college. The Faculty is composed of specialists in all departments in Music, Elocution and Art the College offers exceptionally fine advantages. The authorities of the New England Conservatory of Music and Elocution say: "Of all our pupils from the South, those from Belhaven College stand not only in the highest rank in their classes, but are regarded, without exception, as possessing those womanly traits of character and that degree of intellectual development which command instant respect and admiration." Next session begins October 1st, 1900. For our beautiful catalogue, address

L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., President.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.-NO. 37. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2299

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH,

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Communications.

BISHOPS—THE CHIEF SHEPHERDS OF ISRAEL.

A PRESENT GLANCE.

"Woe to them that are at ease in Zion," said a prophet of old, and some of our failures as a church—in Louisiana, at least—are due to the ease and indifference with which we of the ministry have treated the attacks from time to time upon our episcopal form of government. We have lost heavily in North Louisiana in prestige and power as a church, even where we have not lost in numbers. Falsehoods, glaring falsehoods, have been told about the imaginary "one-man power" in Southern Methodism, and they have been accepted by discontents as the truth, while we have looked on with complacent indifference. This ought not so to be. Let us give a reason for the faith that is in us. Error must be refuted with truth.

The claim has been made by agitators, who hoped to cause schism, that the ten men who now occupy the high office of the bishopric in the M. E. Church, South, are tyrants, or little "Popes," who ruthlessly destroy all freedom in faith and profession by sending to the rear preachers of the gospel who have refused to fit their gospel in the episcopal strait-jacket. We have yet to learn of a single instance of this kind. And we believe that a microscope in the hands of any honest man will fail to reveal a single case—clear case of such episcopal tyranny. Wherever any man has been degraded in the ministry, and lowered in position, it has been due to the growing inefficiency of the poor unfortunate. An erratic agitator who burns his incense at new altars with strange fires is apt to be degraded, and ought to be located; but no Bishop, single-handed, has the desire, nor do we believe that he will ever assume the prerogative of such degradation or location. The Bishop has the final right to make the appointments of preachers, but no sincere and loyal Methodist questions the fact of his entire candor in full consultation with the presiding elders, so that the best judgment of the whole cabinet is conserved and carried out when the appointments are finally made. If any man is degraded by this system, it follows that he is unworthy, in the judgment of his brethren, to occupy his former position. He is not as the victim of the judgment of a truly representative body of his peers, and certainly is not the scapegoat sent forth into the wilderness by "one-man power." The Discipline gives the Conference the right to locate by a majority vote any preacher that may be considered inefficient or unacceptable. The Bishop can not locate any minister.

The charge has been made that an organized effort on the part of Bishops and presiding elders for many years past has prevented the spread of the doctrine of holiness. Let every Methodist read the Bishops' address made before the General Conference of 1894. Our honored chief shepherds in that able document encourage both the attainment and profession of the experience of entire sanctification. Bishop Granbery, the sweetness of whose charity and the holiness of whose life are known to all our preachers in the Baltimore and Virginia Conferences, wrote an admirable letter to our chief organ, the Nashville Advocate, which he advocated scriptural sanctification. He is more truly sanctified—if a man's life be the true test—than any of the agitators who seek to destroy the peace of Israel with "independent organizations and come-outer" schemes. It would be unnatural and illogical for any of the Bishops or presiding elders to encourage or foster "come-outism." Did not the Master say, "A house divided against itself can not stand"? The church is a unit, the body of Christ, and there must be no separation into limbs and fragments which yet hold on to this divine body. It is the duty of each Methodist to spread scriptural holiness all over these lands, but it is not necessary, nor does the command of Christ enforce independent associations for that purpose. If members can not keep their vows of church membership to support the institutions of the church, they should quietly withdraw, and the peace of Zion can thereby be conserved—a peace which is the only guarantee of world-wide conquest.

There has never been a Methodist Bishop who looked with favor upon schism among the flock over which he presided as an overseer, and there certainly is good reason to hope that we may be spared the misfortune in coming years.

John Wesley did not hesitate to silence any of his preachers who became fanatical. The Bishops of the Southern Methodist Church do not assume to possess the authority which John Wesley exercised; nor would they dare to execute their duties with the show of power which sometimes marked the administration of Asbury. And these fathers of Methodism were holy men, and carried heavy responsibilities with Titanic courage and extraordinary common sense. What would the discontents of the present time say were they to feel the iron hand of Asbury? His rigorous government was needed in the formative days of Methodism. And the present government of Methodism has been needed to meet every crisis of our church history since our fathers fell on sleep. The Southern Methodist Church is the only true form of Wesleyan Methodism in existence to-day. It comes nearer being the ideal of John Wesley than any organization of the present century. It has been truly conservative and safe, slow to adopt questionable modifications in our form of ministerial supply, or limitations of the episcopal power. The changes which have come in the order of Providence, and by the wisdom of choice men composing certain General Conferences, have been the natural outgrowth of experience, and were made to fit new phases of our work as a church.

To our certain knowledge North Louisiana has been sown down with anti-episcopal teaching in the homes of many of our members, who, before the wolves in sheep's clothing came across their thresholds, were loyal and happy members of our beloved church. Much of this has been done secretly, with the designing voice and hand of proselytism; a great deal of the work was accomplished by assaults from the pulpit by partisan "wandering stars," who cared more for the loaves and fishes than for perishing souls; and a few cases of quiet tract distribution has played a part in the silent movement against Bishops and presiding elders. The Bishops and presiding elders do not know the extent of real defection from these time-honored institutions of our Methodism. The pastors, in many instances, can bear witness to the difficulty of raising the Bishops' Fund and the presiding elder's salary. This ought not so to be. Let us teach intelligently and boldly the importance and profit of strong supervision. Let us meet this question as calmly and as triumphantly as we have met every other question in the past one hundred and fifty years. We can show from God's Word and the practice of the Apostolic Church sufficient grounds for the bishopric as it exists in our church. We can plead the success of Methodism against every so-called democratic form of ministerial supply. We can show the need of the present hour in all of our Southland for the strong leaders who stand at the helm. We can point with commendable pride to the ten men who preside over the destiny of our church, and feel that beneath the bosoms of each of these mighty men there beats a brother's heart. Will not a comparison of these ten men with ten of the strongest men in any sister church or independent organization forever set at rest the cry of "one-man power" in the church which we all love? No holier men can be found to-day even among the leaders of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. Let us hold up their hands as we enter the twentieth century, and pray for all our shepherds—Bishops, presiding elders, and pastors—the baptism of the Holy Spirit, and we shall still continue to spread scriptural holiness over the lands and across the sea.

COURTLAND PRENTICE SMITH.

Minden, La., Sept 3, 1900.

A BROTHERLY PROTEST.

MR. EDITOR: Please permit me to enter a brotherly protest against any effort (however innocent the motive) to prejudice the readers of the ADVOCATE against one of the wisest and most loyal Christian women in our church. It is due Sister G. H. Mathis, and those who agree with her and those who differ from her, to state that she is honored and loved by her church, and the other good people of Columbus, for the good work she has wrought among our young people. Several of the most promising young men in the North Alabama Conference gratefully acknowledge that Sister Mathis helped to lead them to Christ, and that she taught them to work for him and the church. Some of the most distinguished Methodist preachers and Epworth Leaguers in a sister State have been her pastors, and they endorsed and encouraged her work. Among those worthy of special mention is a prominent member of the General Epworth League Board. Another is the gifted president of a State League Conference, and two others are very influential presiding elders.

Sister Mathis is fully competent to take care of any cause she may espouse, and she is able to explain and support any statements that she may please to make. When this faithful and efficient Christian worker returns from Monteagle, Tenn., it will be no trouble for her to show that she has a large company of "neighbors," among whom are some of the most distinguished and successful Epworth Leaguers in the church. Very fraternally,

J. A. BOWEN.

Columbus, Miss., Aug. 26, 1900.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Officials, from the President down, were greatly shocked by the news published this week of the barbarous and inhuman conduct of a portion of the allied army in China. Stories had been previously published alleging looting and other outrages, but it had been taken for granted that they were gross exaggerations, emanating from irresponsible parties seeking rather to make a sensation than to be accurate, but this last story, which gives horrible details of looting, and even murder, by the forces of the allied army which is in China for the purpose of upholding Christian civilization, is fathered by the Associated Press, which has a reputation for fairness and accuracy, and has consequently been received with confidence that was not given to the others. While it is not doubted that the story was sent in good faith, it is hoped by all, and believed by many, that the reporters of the Associated Press in China wrote from hearsay rather than personal observation, and that they have been imposed on. There was no hesitation at the Russian embassy in declaring that the story was false, so far as it related to the Russian troops, the actions of which it painted in horrifying colors. Secretary Root issued special orders to the American troops which went to China against looting, and he is very confident they have been obeyed to the letter. In none of the charges of looting and barbarous treatment of Chinese have American troops been implicated, but American troops are the allies of those charged to be guilty, and the charge is consequently humiliating to us.

The Chinese situation is not expected to materially change until the other powers act upon the proposition of Russia for the withdrawal of the troops from Pekin. Without making public reasons therefor, our officials express themselves as believing that the outlook is favorable to a peaceful and satisfactory settlement.

Rev. Nelson Millard, of Rochester, N. Y., occupied the pulpit of the Church of the Covenant, Sunday. In the course of a sermon on a rather unique text from I. Chron. xxvi, 18, "At Parbar westward, four at the causeway, and two at Parbar," he said: "Every man is tempted in the places where he is weakest, which is the cause of so many downfalls. Men very often think they are strongest in the very points where they are least so, and it is folly to believe that we will be ready for the emergency when it comes, unless we are always on the alert. You must guard not only the great points, but the little ones, for it is the latter which cause most trouble. We often hear of a man going wrong suddenly, but this is rarely the truth. They begin by degrees, and, without realizing it, their character is undermined. Those who fail in business are usually those who do not understand the details, and likewise those who fail in Christianity are those who have not been thoroughly instructed. While it is necessary that we consider ourselves sentinels, it is folly for us to attempt to fight alone. We must look to the Commander, by whose aid we are sure to come off victors." In a few explanatory remarks preceding the sermon Mr. Millard said that, according to the Revised Version, Parbar was taken to mean suburb, and the text referred to the two sentinels at the outlying gate and the four guards at the causeway, or more immediate entrance to the city.

Dr. E. Trumbull Lee, of Cincinnati, who has been temporarily filling the pulpit of Dr. Wallace Radcliff, preached a strong and scholarly sermon on the folly of Cæsar worship, his text being St. John xix, 15, "We have no king but Cæsar." The awful folly of the denial of Christ through love of earthly power was pictured in living historical colors, beginning with the choice of Cæsar by the Hebrews and the fearful consequences of that choice, and continuing with the awful scenes witnessed in Spain during the Inquisition and in France during the "Reign of Terror," and concluding as follows: 'We need to learn the lesson. Let us not boast of our powers, wealth, influence, and unparalleled resources, and forgetting Him whom our fathers adored, go on desolating His Sabbaths, breaking His laws, repudiating His claims, and thinking our civilization an immortal Cæsar, whose power is irresistible and eternal. And all who play with moral law prefer Cæsar to Christ. All who repudiate the gospel and the sacred claims of religious obligation, who forsake sanctuaries, and give themselves up to pleasure and the chase for fortune, have chosen Cæsar instead of Christ. Oh, allow no entanglement with Cæsar's service or household! Arise, and in penitence and faith exclaim now, 'We have no king but Christ,' and serve him faithfully. Let now 'No king but Cæsar' be succeeded by 'No king but Christ.'"

Rev. W. B. Irwin, of Steubenville, Ohio, preached from the pulpit of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Sunday, on "The Limitations of Divine Grace," his text being St. Mark vi, 5, "And He could there do no mighty work, save that He laid His hands upon a few sick folks and healed them."

Washington, Sept. 5, 1900.

EXTRACTS FROM THE LATEST COMMUNICATION FROM DR. Y. J. ALLEN.

[The extracts quoted below were kindly forwarded to the ADVOCATE by Dr. W. R. Lambuth.]

There are but few apologists for the Manchus, and many feel that their cup is full and their time has come to go. But for political reasons, if the Emperor be found alive (which is much doubted), it may be necessary to restore him and perpetuate the dynasty, as the Chinese would accept him and the liberal policy of reform which he inaugurated. If he is dead, the difficulties of the allies on reaching Peking will be a thousand-fold greater. For who can then take his place? Who will be accepted? There is the rub, and partition will stare them in the face, and possibly anarchy all over the country.

The viceroys and governors of the south—in fact, nearly all of China proper—have leagued together to protect the peace of their respective districts, and all have joined to co-operate with the foreigners in the protection of foreign life and property. So we hope that there will be no general disturbance in this region.

Our people (our own mission—male and female), except Dr. and Mrs. Park, have all come in, and I suppose they will come in soon. You need not be uneasy. There will, doubtless, be local riots here and there among and by people who have no work left them, but efforts will be made to relieve the situation by providing some relief; so no great disturbance is apprehended.

There never was such a crisis in the country since the Taipings. And I view it, terrible as it is, as the most hopeful sign for the future, "provided the foreign powers rightly grasp the situation." They now have it once more in their power to dictate the policy of China, and inaugurate such reforms as will secure its development and progress along the lines of Western Christian civilization.

I would insist on it, therefore, that our church and mission are now called on more earnestly and emphatically to take hold of and press forward the cause of the gospel in every form and department of it. Now, and in the near future, shall we need more than ever the enlarged equipment we are calling for, to-wit: the press and the university imbued with the gospel spirit. These are the mightiest agencies for the overthrow of the powers of darkness in China.

EXTRACTS FROM RECENT LETTERS FROM DR. A. P. PARKER.

Up to the present time we have been led to believe that there was not much, if any, probability of any disturbance in the Yangtse Valley. Evidence accumulates that the reactionary Manchu faction that are in control at Peking have been assiduously preparing for the past two years to expel all foreigners from China, and destroy all their works, root and branch, from off the land. Immense supplies of arms and ammunition, Krupp guns of large and small calibre, etc., have been secretly accumulated; forts have been built at all important points along the coast and up the river under foreign supervision; armies have been drilled and armed with Manser rifles, and the Boxers have been secretly encouraged. In a word, every effort has been made that when the time came to strike the blow, it might be an effectual one. But in the providence of God the outbreak has occurred before everything was ready.

Order is being maintained by the governors and viceroys south of the Yellow river, and we have good reason to believe that they will be able to maintain their position in opposition to the usurping Prince Tuan, whose edicts they have expressed their determination to disobey. There seems to be perfect accord between the foreign consuls and the governors and viceroys of the central provinces, and also in the south, in regard to the protection of foreigners and the maintenance of order. Nearly all the missionaries from the interior stations have come to the coast. Many of the missionaries up the Yangtse river still remain at their homes, and seem to be confident that the Chinese officials can and will protect them. There is no doubt whatever of their purpose to do so, and I believe they will succeed. We certainly have great reason to be thankful to the good Lord for inclining the hearts of these officials towards us, as otherwise our position, even here in Shanghai, would be by no means a safe one.

I have no doubt at all that the good Lord is going to do a wonderful work for China shortly, and that is why he is permitting the present fierce storm to blow over the land. Now is the time for the home churches to be getting their men and money ready, for as soon as those difficulties are settled, the country is going to be thrown open to mission work in a manner never seen before. The day of China's redemption draweth nigh.

The 20th Century Movement.

Notes on Twentieth Century Thank-offering in the Mississippi Conference.

BY H. G. HAWKINS, Conference Secretary.

Many of the pastors sent in their reports of the Twentieth Century Movement for August, but not enough did so for me to make a proper report of the whole Conference to Dr. Hammond. I so wrote him, promising to do better for September. I am utterly dependent upon the pastors in this matter, and, in order for me to make the report each month as Dr. Hammond asks, it will be necessary for every one of the 126 pastors to fill out the blank each month and send to me. This will require a little attention, and the expenditure of about ten cents, which will cover the cost of postage for the four months remaining until Conference.

Please fill out and send at once the blank for September. Do this, even though the status in the charge be not changed since the August report was made. And so do every month.

The Forest district has been the promptest, nine pastors from that district having sent in their reports. The Brookhaven and Natchez districts have been the most neglectful thus far, but we trust that this can not be said when the next "Notes" are written.

Rev. J. M. Weems, of Central, Meridian, reports $229.50 in cash and subscription, $112 of which has been specially directed. Whilst undirected subscriptions are preferred, yet it is entirely proper to direct that the offering made go to the school of the donor's choice. With the East Mississippi Female College right at Central Church, it is hoped that the gifts of her 523 members made to the cause of Christian education during the two closing years of the century will be at least $500.

The pastors of some of the very first charges of our Conference have made no report at all.

One brother pastor who has not raised a cent, nevertheless, according to the request made, sent in his report; and that is right.

Let it be distinctly understood that the Roll Book is to be kept among the archives of each pastoral charge for inspection in the ages to come. And each charge and each church should be strict in keeping all its records. According to the law as it now stands, the recording steward is the custodian of the official books of each pastoral charge, and he should not only faithfully keep those in present use, but should procure and hold those of former times.

LIFE.

BY PHILIP JAMES BAILEY.

We sometimes wonder why our Lord doth place us
Within a sphere so narrow, so obscure,
That nothing we call work can find an entrance—
There's only room to suffer, to endure.
Well, God loves patience; souls that dwell in stillness,
Doing the little things or resting quite,
May just as perfectly infill their mission—
Be just as pleasing in the Father's sight.
This to me is life—
That if life be a burden, I will join
To make it but the burden of a song.
—Exchange

Correspondence.

JAPAN MISSION CONFERENCE NOTES.

MR. EDITOR: The Japan Mission Conference met at Hiroshima, Japan, Aug. 1-7. Bishop Wilson was with us, and was very helpful, both in his preaching and in presiding. This is his fifth visit to Japan, but his welcome does not wear out. His deep interest in the work out here, in addition to the personal esteem in which he is held, will always insure him a cordial welcome among us. This year we had the additional pleasure of having Mrs. Wilson with us also. This is her second visit, and as she takes more kindly to the pen than does the Bishop, I trust that we shall have in the church papers the results of her keen observation and good judgment. Her letters, I trust, will do much good, both at home and on the field.

The session was a pleasant one, in spite of the hot weather. The spirit of harmony prevailed from the beginning to the end. The reports, generally, were not quite up to those of last year, but there is no reason for discouragement. The work at almost all points is in an encouraging condition. If the old proverb, "A new broom sweeps clean," applies to preachers, we ought to have an exceptionally good year's work this coming year. Four out of ten Japanese preachers remain to stand by their old congregations. Of the eight who were changed, one goes as a student to Trinity College, N. C. This matter of our young preachers going to the United States for study is not in favor with either native or foreign members of the Conference, but somehow or other every once in awhile somebody manages to slip through the lines. But to resume the matter of changes: Two missionaries were changed, three missionaries return to us from the United States, and one Japanese was admitted on trial; so that in the evangelistic work there are only five appointments out of seventeen left unchanged, and there are thirteen new brooms to go to work. If this proves to be the best year we have had in the Japan Conference, I am in favor of annual visits by the Bishops, for they seem to know how to turn the wheel. In fact, I am in favor of annual visits anyhow. In view of the above, however, you can hardly blame the Conference for adopting a memorial to the next General Conference to relieve the native preachers in foreign countries from the application of the four-year limit in appointment. The conditions out here are very different from those prevailing at home, and many of the reasons that render it advisable not to apply the four-year limit to missionaries are true in regard to the native preachers as well. They have no friendly constituency outside the church to which they have easy access. To a great extent, every man must personally gain access to outsiders. Even in the church itself the pastoral influence is much more a personal one than at home. The office itself, even in the church, does not carry with it the weight it does at home, so that, while annual appointments are necessary, with no limitations to the appointing power, we feel that, in many cases, it would be better for the Bishop to have the same freedom in the case of native preachers as he has in that of the foreign missionary; and besides that, it puts all the preachers in the Conference more nearly on the same footing.

The statistics were as follows: Members, 677; local preachers, 11; total, 688; net increase, 22. Admits baptized, 63; ten less than last year. Sunday-school scholars, 1,386; net gain of 71. There has been an advance in contributions to missions. In support of native preachers, the amount collected is somewhat less than last year, but the present Conference year has been only eleven months, and here, at W. Osaka, we had no native pastor to pay; so I think there has been no real decrease.

Grateful for the great blessings of the past year, and with faith in our unfailing Leader, we enter with much reason for encouragement upon the new year. Sincerely yours,

B. W. WATERS.

P. S.—I enclose appointments. My address will be Hiroshima, Japan.

APPOINTMENTS.

KOBE DISTRICT.

C. B. Moseley, P. E.

Kobe station, Ota Gisaburo.

Kobe circuit, C. B. Moseley, and one to be supplied.

Mikage, T. H. Haden.

Osaka and Sakai circuit, W. E. Towson, Yanagiwara Namio, and one to be supplied (Hayashi Seiko).

Kyoto circuit, J. T. Meyers and Nakamura Kinji.

Kwansei Gakuin—Biblical Department, T. H. Haden, dean; Academic Department, S. H. Wainright, principal; W. A. Wilson, professor; chaplain, S. H. Wainright.

Students at Vanderbilt, Ashida Keiji and Usaki Kegoro.

Palmore Institute, W. A. Wilson.

MATSUYAMA DISTRICT.

T. W. B. Demaree, P. E.

Matsuyama circuit, Tanaka Yoshihiro.

Tadotsu circuit, Murakami Hirosuki.

Oita circuit, W. R. Weakley and Imada Wakatsu.

Uwajima circuit, W. P. Turner and Mito Kichitaro.

Nakatsu circuit, W. J. Callahan and Takahashi Yukichi.

HIROSHIMA DISTRICT.

B. W. Waters, P. E.

Hiroshima station, B. W. Waters and Hori Minekitsu.

Iwakuni circuit, S. E. Hager, and one to be supplied by Sunamoto Teikich.

Onomichi circuit, one to be supplied by Kioshita Shinzo.

Yamaguchi circuit, W. A. Davis and Yanagiwara Naoto.

Student at Trinity College, Kugimiya Tokiwo.

At home on leave, C. A. Tagne.

WOMAN'S WORK.

Lambuth Training School, Miss Mande Bonnell, principal; Mrs. M. I. Lambuth.

Bible Woman's Department, Miss I. M. Worth.

Hiroshima Girls' School, Miss N. B. Gaines, principal; Miss L. O. Thomas and Miss Anna Laning.

At home on leave, Miss A. D. Bryan.

TWO CAMP MEETINGS ON THE BATON ROUGE DISTRICT.

DENHAM SPRINGS.

The second meeting at Denham Springs commenced July 31, and concluded Aug. 8, the initial meeting having been held last Summer under the pastorate of Rev. J. M. Alford. Since that time the camp ground has been recognized and adopted by action of the District Conference, by which a Board of Trustees was elected and instructed to receive the property tendered for purposes of worship, and to hold it for the church. No little discussion of the whole matter of camp meetings was had at the District Conference, and no little discouragement was expressed by several among the most earnest and successful pastors on the district at the meagre results attending these agencies of evangelism. Retiring individual opinion and doubts as to the expediency of organizing another camp meeting association, the preachers on the district went heartily into the movement, and did most of the preaching. Revs. Paul M. Brown, Robert Randle, F. N. Sweeney, S. S. Bogan, J. L. McManus, J. B. Cassity, and W. L. Hamil, of the district, were present, and aiding in the ministry of the Word. Rev. J. B. Kent, of Plaquemine, was in attendance by invitation, and organized and conducted an excellent choir, adding much to the profit and effectiveness of the services. Rev. A. W. Turner, being on a visit to family and friends in this, the region of his boyhood and youth, preached several times with great power, bringing scores of penitents to the altar.

The services were attended by approximately one thousand persons (the exact number could not be ascertained, as the Sunday gate fee had been abolished). Upwards of seven hundred admission tickets were sold during the week, and the number in attendance was much larger Sunday. The day of camp meeting certainly has not passed when so large a number of attentive and, in the main, reverent hearers can be gotten under the sound of the gospel. No cottages have yet been built upon the grounds; hence the number of campers was small. Those who came from a distance were entertained by the householders in the village or at the hotel. Prof. Ladner greeted all the preachers save one—your correspondent—who was indebted to the hospitality of Dr. J. B. Easterly, Jr. There will be a number of applicants for the privilege of building before the next meeting, and the resident attendance will be increased. This part of the audiences usually shows the larger per cent. of results, as more affected by the cumulative power of continuous preaching.

The services were all spiritual and edifying. Except at the nine o'clock morning service, when none were called, penitents presented themselves at the altar at almost every service. The total number who professed to be converted was twenty. Others there may have been, but no account was kept of any save those who bore a clear testimony. The experience of Christians was deepened and confirmed, and, no doubt, the results of the meeting will appear in the larger fruitfulness of many lives more closely united with Christ through these meetings.

The church at Denham Springs was increased by eight valuable accessions during the meeting, and it is evident that the influence of this new movement is being widely and most beneficially felt throughout the contiguous territory.

FITZGERALD SALE PARKER.

BLUFF CREEK CAMP MEETING
(AUG. 17-26).

A quaint, quiet spot in nature's sylvan shades, near a tiny stream threading its way through wild tanglewood and fields of blossoming cotton. The Kodak-eye treasures many a snap-shot taken en route. The worship of God is simpler so close to the heart of responsive nature.

The tabernacle, on a cash basis, would have cost nearly $1,000. At the left, as you enter, the tents are two deep; at the rear one deep, at the right two deep. The hotel is the hash-foundry by pre-eminence, at which the pneumatical preachers are entertained. Hospitality, elsewhere, fulfilled all righteousness.

The choir, under the spiritual guidance of Prof. Nettles, Rev. Notestine, Mrs. Notestine and Miss Dean, gave a tone and touch to the services which were sacredly helpful and holy.

The preaching, according to an authoritative opinion, was not second in point and power to that which is heard at the Seashore Camp Ground. It was truly an unusual series of sermons. Scotsville has never impinged upon the conscience a purer form of holiness, without controversy or contention, than was driven home at Bluff Creek this year.

The Board of Trustees consented to two innovations: no Sunday gate fees and no refreshment privileges on that day. This crippled their receipts, and Mr. Fear did not see how expenses could be paid. Over 800 tickets were sold, and, with other revenues, there was no deficit, but a slim surplus. Conservatives estimate an attendance of 2000 on Aug. 26—closing day.

The results are difficult to determine; not less than 36 clean, clear-cut conversions. The propositions were like an entomologist's pin stuck in the back of a sinner: he had no wriggling room. Many backsliders became forward-sliders. Even the preachers went to the altar; they are the hardest class of sinners to reach. Selah!

The presiding elder is a skeleton key which is able to unlock every door in Doubting Castle. He reminds one of a well-trained horse; he can do good work anywhere the church puts him. Rev. J. P. Haney, after a tedious trip, fell ill, and was unable to enter into the feast of good things, to the regret of his many friends. Verily, many souls were enriched by copious baptisms of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus. We came away with a deeper insight into blessedness of the communion of saints: Revs. Parker, Brown, Notestine, Hoffpauir, Sweeney, Wynn, Cassity, May, Harvill, Rutledge, in particular.

H. W. RICKEY.

NOTES FROM THE JACKSON DISTRICT.

Where we closed our last communication we have forgotten. Suffice it to say that we have not forgotten our promise to send notes, but time has failed us to tell of the round-about trips, swollen creeks, muddy roads and other hindrances to our traveling through the district decently and in order. For ten weeks we contended with almost a daily downpour of rain, yet lost not an appointment, and have had fairly good congregations. The pastors have been generally well, and have had some most encouraging meetings. We are closing up the third round with finances in much better shape than we once feared—a very bad prospect for an increase on the pastors' salaries over last year, and we hope also on the collections ordered by the Conference. Crop prospects throughout the district are not reassuring; the most sanguine not placing beyond 60 per cent., and some as low as 40 per cent. We are working to enlist the Leagues and Sunday-schools to co-operate with the pastors in securing collections in full.

A two weeks' trip over dirt roads and aiding in two meetings has brought us back to the district parsonage rather out of kelter, and which will necessitate our absence from one Quarterly Conference, which we very much regret, for we had hoped, despite the water and the heat, to be able to report not a missing day during the year. This has been to the writer a year of disappointments, every engagement made and every outing arranged for having been broken up by other appointments. Well, this is the price of the honor of the P. E. after a fellow's name, I suppose. So I murmur not. All in all, have had a good time, and the brethren have been kind. Soon we enter upon the home stretch in the fourth round.

The bed has claimed me for three or four days, though will be out next week.

T. B. HOLLOMAN.

Communications.

REV. A. B. NICHOLSON.

IN MEMORIAM.

Rev. A. B. Nicholson was born in South Carolina in 1826. At the age of four his parents moved to Florida. His father having no pastor, became the priest of his home, and the boyhood of our brother was spent in the home of parents who were devout members of the Presbyterian Church. On leaving home, he fell into skepticism, but he could not free himself from the teachings of his childhood.

We quote the following from notes left by Bro. Nicholson: "On the first Sunday night in July, 1849, I was most powerfully converted. I was licensed to preach in 1851; in 1852 was received on trial into the Mississippi Conference, and appointed to Bayou Pierre circuit. In 1853 I was sent to the Gainsville circuit; in 1854 was sent to the Franklin circuit; in 1855 to the Scotland circuit; in 1856 to the Georgetown circuit; in 1857-58 to the Brookhaven circuit; 1859, Pearl River circuit; in 1860, Brandon circuit; 1861-62, Raleigh circuit; 1863-64, chaplain in Confederate Army; 1865, Lake circuit; 1866, Scotland circuit; 1867-68, Bayou Pierre circuit; 1869-70, Bahalia circuit; 1871, Rocky Springs circuit; 1872, Scotland circuit; 1873-75, Summit district; 1876, Georgetown circuit; 1877, Ocean Springs circuit; 1878, Pearlington circuit; 1879, DeKalb circuit; 1880, Dover circuit; 1881, Spring Ridge circuit; 1882, Martinsville circuit; 1883, Providence circuit; 1884, Forest and Morton; 1885, Farmin circuit; 1886, supernumerary; 1887, superannuated, and remained so. I took into the church 3,300 members. I know eleven ministers who said they were converted under my ministry."

Bro. Nicholson had a pronounced religious experience. He never doubted his conversion. It was as distinct to him as the shining of the noonday sun. He was intensely emotional. To shout, to weep, to laugh, were the methods by which he showed his deep and overflowing love for God. To judge one's sermons by its results, Bro. Nicholson was a most excellent preacher. He possessed the gift of oratory, and at times there were spiritual shocks produced by his preaching. He possessed a strong personality, and nowhere was it felt more strongly than in the pulpit. He knew the way to human hearts. Few men could excel him in conversation. A fine vein of humor pervaded his style. There was no loss of enjoyment if one heard him repeat an anecdote. To spend Monday with him a brother pastor would forget that it was blue Monday.

The home life of our brother was attractive. On the twenty-fourth of December, 1855, he was married to Miss Adelia Graves, daughter of Wm. Graves, of precious memory. His love for his companion was as fresh, joyous, and tender as on the bridal morn. He was childless, but the children loved to visit his home, for children, like the carrier-pigeon, have the home instinct. He loved little children. In his declining years he had no spirit of carping. He loved his brethren. In the garden of friendship the flowers never faded. There the rarest flowers ever grew, and their fragrance was ever about you. How we loved him! We could not help it. His friendship would hold you like the sun holds the planets.

July 2, 1900, at his home in Hazlehurst, Miss., our brother passed peacefully away, like a weary child going to sleep at even-tide.

"It is not death to die,
To leave this weary road,
And, 'mid the brotherhood on high,
To be at home with God.

"It is not death to close
The eye long dimmed by tears,
And wake, in glorious repose,
To spend eternal years."

I. W. COOPER.

Items from the Field.

REVIVAL ON THE DEKALB CIRCUIT.

I have just returned from New Hope Church, on DeKalb work, where I have been assisting Bro. Mellard in a meeting. We had a good time, for the Lord was with us in great power. Bro. Mellard is a good preacher, stands well with his people, and is an all-round good fellow. I have had good revivals in four of my churches.

J. H. BASS.

Fern Springs, Miss., Aug. 30, 1900.

REVIVAL AT WHY NOT, MISS.

We began our meeting at Why Not, Aug. 26, and closed the thirty-first, with good results. After the first day Bro. H. M. Ellis did all the preaching, and it was accompanied by the Holy Spirit. There were seven or eight conversions, and two accessions on profession of faith, and quite a number of Christians expressed themselves as having been blessed by the services. Praise the Lord!

R. E. RUTLEDGE.

Vimville, Miss., Sept. 1, 1900.

EXCELLENT MEETING AT RICHLAND, MISS.

Recently I held a meeting at Richland, with splendid success. Out of a small congregation there were eleven conversions. The church was greatly revived. The following week I held a meeting at Goodman. Sickness hindered the meeting very much, but, nevertheless, the people who did come profess to have received strength and grace to press on toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

R. H. B. GLADNEY.

REVIVAL ON THE INDIANOLA CHARGE.

I have just closed a good meeting at Falsonia, on the Indianola charge, with the church greatly revived and twelve accessions. We have had fifty accessions to the church on this charge this year, and there will be others to join before the year ends. Bro. Mitchell held our third quarterly meeting at Fair View on the first of this month. Bro. Mitchell is a good man, a good preacher, and a good presiding elder. We are always glad to have him come.

W. H. SANDERS.

Indianola, Miss., Sept. 3, 1900.

ABBEVILLE, MISS.

We have just closed a meeting of ten days at Abbeville, which was truly a revival of great spiritual power. The backslidden in heart and life were reclaimed, and the membership of the church generally revived. Twenty joined the Methodist Church, and several were converted who will connect themselves with other churches. We had long felt the need of, and many earnest prayers had been offered for, just such an awakening. The Lord be praised that it has come. Rev. J. C. Park, of Winona station, was with us, and preached in his usual earnestness, and with much power, day and night, for eight days. Both young and old will welcome him at any time he may be able to visit Abbeville again.

A. W. LANGLEY, P. C.

Sept. 1, 1900.

REVIVAL ON THE TYRO CIRCUIT.

Rev. H. C. Parrott, of the North Mississippi Conference, reports a great revival on the Tyro circuit, at Mt. Vernon, where he assisted the pastor, W. N. Duncan. He writes: "There were thirty accessions to the church, and about forty conversions. Many were reclaimed, and the church is said to have been wonderfully revived. The pastor's salary has been fully provided for. Old members say that it was the best meeting held in many years. Bro. Duncan is in great favor with his people. Bro. Burt is very feeble. I am now in a revival at Hodges Chapel, on my own work."

WINONA, MISS.

We have about finished the third round on the Winona district. We feel that the year has not, by any means, been fruitless. The pastors have not been idle, but have been faithfully looking after the interests committed to their care. In many of the charges the brethren have had good meetings, and many have been added to the church, and the campaign has not yet ended. The Twentieth Century has been receiving attention. We have now promised nearly one dollar per member, and expect by Conference to exceed the dollar per member. We confidently expect to report all the collections ordered by the Conference paid in full, and also every pastor's salary paid. We think it time that a record of this kind was being established. We have paid off a debt of long standing of $900 on the district parsonage. We have a fine country and a fine people rapidly developing, and the church must not fail to keep pace with the growth.

J. H. MITCHELL.

Aug. 31, 1900.

REPORT FROM THE ABERDEEN CIRCUIT.

I have held four of my meetings, two of which were attended with great power (Tranquil and Grady's Chapel).

At Tranquil we had fifty conversions in and out of the church, with thirty-one accessions and more to follow. I baptized eighteen young men and women in one class. It was nothing less than the old-time power by which sinners were convicted and mourners converted at the altar. The membership has been greatly built up. The oldest citizens say they haven't seen such a revival at Tranquil in fifty years.

At Grady's Chapel we had forty conversions and twenty-six accessions, and on the last night of the meeting I baptized fifteen babies. Indeed, we are getting back to Methodism.

I was assisted in the two meetings by Rev. T. H. Porter, of Aberdeen circuit, who, with a plain and practical gospel, captured the people. Bro. Porter is fine help and a safe man anywhere.

I am now holding a meeting at Egypt, and the outlook is encouraging. I have had sixty accessions up to date, with one other meeting to hold. Praise God, from whom all blessings flow.

W. A. BOWLIN, P. C.

Sept. 3, 1900.

"John D. Rockefeller is an earnest and active Baptist," says the Presbyterian. "He believes in his denomination, and is devoted to its principles. He has given millions to its institutions. Neither he nor his family, male or female, has entered into what is known as New York City 'society,' though he lives in affluence and has a home of culture and refinement. He is no friend of the dance and has never, it is said, allowed his daughters to participate in its pleasures. He has brought them up according to the most rigid order of his church. He will not allow cards playing in his house. No member of his household patronizes the theater, though some of them have a box at the opera. All this is to his credit. It is something rare in one of his wealth and station. We wish there were more in high circles as careful about the training of their children and as strict in regard to the dance and theater."

To live in the presence of great truth and eternal laws, in which to be led by permanent ideals—that is what keeps a man patient when the world ignores him, and calm and not spoiled when the world praises him.
—Balzac.

REV. JOSEPH JOHNSON.

The Rev. Joseph Johnson, son of Joseph and Christianna Johnson, was born in Moore county, North Carolina, July 5, 1822; was brought by his parents, when a small child, to West Tennessee. He was converted at Burkheads Camp Ground, in McNairy county, Tennessee, Sept. 27, 1839, under the ministry of the Rev. Dixon McLeod, and joined the church at Mt. Pisgah.

He joined the Memphis Conference in 1846, in which he labored until the North Mississippi Conference was formed in 1870, including the territory in which he was living at the time. He was an honored superannuate of this Conference when he died.

He was happily married to Miss Cornelia R. Tuggle, Jan. 22, 1851. Eight children preceded him to the better land, while his wife and two children still live to mourn their loss.

On the twenty-sixth of July, 1900, at 4:15 P. M., in his comfortable home at Mt. Pleasant, Miss., surrounded by his weeping family and many friends, Bro. Johnson passed away, and has gone to reap that reward for which he so long and so faithfully labored. He was in the regular work for about fifty years, and the trial of his life was to retire when he was no longer able to do regular work. He was four years on the Corinth district as presiding elder, which he filled with fidelity and acceptability. He traveled over much of the territory of West Tennessee and North Mississippi, sometimes on large and poor circuits, which kept him for weeks away from his home, the place dearest on earth to him, and where he could have had every comfort, for he always had plenty of this world's goods. I knew him intimately for more than fifty years, and never knew him to fail to do his duty as a loyal Methodist preacher. He spent several years in the bounds of the White River Conference in Arkansas. In all his field of labor he has no enemy of whom I have ever heard. Yet he was not a negative character. You always knew where to find him when the battle was raging between right and wrong. If he had a fault, it was too much of the spirit of self-sacrifice, always looking out for the good of others. He gently breathed his last without a struggle, conscious to the last moment, though unable to speak for several hours before he died. The last word he uttered on earth that we could understand was in testimony to the fact that all was well. The whole community, saint and sinner, mourns their loss, and give vent to their feeling in such expressions as, 'Oh, how we shall miss him!" He gave directions as to where and how he should be buried, and he requested we put him away in the cemetery at Iuka, Miss., where he awaits the resurrection of the just.

J. W. HONNOLL.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 8, 1900.

OBITUARIES.

PRUITT—Mrs. M. J. PRUITT, daughter of Felix and Caroline Barnes, was born in Smith county, Miss., Dec. 25, 1839, and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Boykin, in Meridian, Miss, March 11, 1900. November 30, 1848, she was married to J. M. Pruitt, who died Feb. 23, 1888.

In early life Sister Pruitt gave her heart and life to Christ and to his church—an offering she never asked to be returned to her. Not only was her heart staid on him, and her heart thrilled with every privilege of the sanctuary, but the sorrow that swept over her soul in the death of her husband and five of her eight children only intensified her trust in the word of promise. She was called to Meridian, as she thought, to the dying bed-side of her daughter, and during her long watch in the sick-room the writer was often with her, and prayed and talked with her on the great interests of the soul, and she spoke of death as the entrance into closer communion with her Lord and the loved ones gone before. It was during this long vigilance that she contracted this last illness, and then fell on sleep in Jesus. May the mercies of "our Father" abide with the sorrowing ones!

J. M. WEEMS.

Meridian, Miss.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS. 25 CTS.

"Woman's Work is Never Done."

The constant care causes sleeplessness, loss of appetite, extreme nervousness, and that tired feeling. But a wonderful change comes when Hood's Sarsaparilla is taken. It gives pure, rich blood, good appetite, steady nerves.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

J. C. MORRISCO. LTD.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas
T. G. MACKIE, L. MEG. C. E. LINCOLN, JR
324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AXES, ALARM TILLS, CAGES, CLOCKS, CROQUET, BASKETS, BASEBALLS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, DUSTERS,
Enameled Steelware, Freezers, Fishing Tackle,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASSWARE, HAMMOCKS,
Japanned Ware, Ice Chests,
KEGS, LADDERS, LAMPS, MARBLES, NAIL PULLERS,
OARS, OIL TANKS, REFRIGERATORS, ROPE, PAPER, PADLOCKS, SOAPS, STATIONERY, WATER COOLERS, WHIPS, WOODENWARE, TINWARE, TRAPS, WINES,

Etc. Trade Solicited.

DR. LETELLIER'S Sunflower Tablets.

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any drugstore, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Tract Bld'g, New York City.

Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

MORGAN—Miss SALLIE MORGAN was born Feb. 12, 1876, and died July 6 1900. She professed religion and joined the church under the ministry of Rev. D. C. Foust, of the North Mississippi Conference. A bad form of indigestion was her trouble, from which she suffered three years. With patience and Christian fortitude she bore her affliction. As teacher in the public school, she was in demand, being watchful and attentive. She loved her people, and they, in return, loved her. She entertained hope of recovery up to one week before she died. She asked her mother if she thought she would recover. The mother looked into the face of her child (the most completely wasted frame that I ever saw), and told her that she could not get well. This did not disturb or unduly excite her. She said she was ready and willing to go.

Before the end came she called each of the family, and with coolness and deliberation spoke to them of her death, pleading with them to meet her in heaven. While in the twilight of two worlds she said, "I am going in the valley of the shadow of death, but I fear no evil."

Thus passed one of earth's jewels to the spirit world. Many mourn her departure. Her relatives and friends, who shall prove faithful and true to God and the church, will meet Miss Sallie in the land of Beulah.

R. A. ELLIS.

SPRATLEY—Entered into rest, April 11, 1900, SARAH JANE, wife of John Walter Spratley, of Warren county, Miss.

Sarah Jane Jones was born in Virginia, May 29, 1827, and married to J. W. Spratley, June 10, 1847. In the Autumn of that year the young couple moved to Mississippi, wherein was their home till God called the "quid wife" to that "better land," where, "safe in the arms of Jesus," she rests from the cares and sorrows of this world, where oft "the wicked" trouble and "the weary" sigh in vain to be "at rest."

Mrs. Spratley's world was her home. There she devoted herself to husband and children. But, though her charity began at home, it did not end there. She was ever ready to aid all whom she knew to be in trouble, to nurse the sick, and comfort the sorrowful; so, when her own long days and months of sickness and suffering came, the "bread" which she had "cast upon the waters" returned to her in the kind ministrations of grateful and loving friends.

For many years she was a consistent member of the M. E. Church, and always bore her burden with the patient resignation which should characterize a follower of the meek and lowly Jesus. Her only earthly wish was to have all her loved ones—husband, sons, and daughters—around her during her last days here below. That wish was gratified. For weeks all gathered under the roof which had sheltered them in the happy hours of childhood, and none left it till the dear old Christian mother, the ministering angel of that home, had gone from earth forever; gone before to wait for them in that heavenly home where there shall be no more parting and no more death, but life eternal.

A FRIEND.

Oak Ridge, Warren county Miss.

RATCLIFF—Miss DOCIA, daughter of C. M. and Emily F. Ratcliff, was born Sept. 22, 1879. Her mother died when she was only two years old, leaving her by special request to the care of her sister, Mrs. Campbell. When only eight years old death again deprived her of a mother. Her cousin, Mrs. Mollie Whatley, then took her, cared for, loved and raised her as her own, from whose home on the twenty-second of June, 1900, she quietly and peacefully passed from the scenes of time to those of eternity, where, unfettered and unobstructed by the obstacles of this world, her talents and faculties can develop amid the wealth of heaven.

When an infant her parents dedicated her to God. She was a dutiful child, petted and loved by all. As she grew up she became affectionate in disposition and thoughtful of others. She seemed to live to make others happy. She joined the Methodist Church three years ago, and lived a consistent member. She had just returned (three weeks prior to her death) from East Mississippi Female College, where she had, by diligence and self-denial, prepared herself for a useful life's work. While attending this college she professed the blessing of entire sanctification, and gave evidence of a genuine work by a devout Christian life. Her Bible was her constant companion, and its pages were well worn, thoughtfully and appropriately marked. She always spoke so happily of her future. In her last letter to her father she said she felt more and more each day her utter dependence upon God.

A few days before her death, when asked about her spiritual condition, she said, "It's all right with me."

She was grateful for favors shown her by teachers and friends. She loved devotedly her foster parents and foster brothers and sisters, who share so deeply in the grief of her aged father. She leaves also a host of friends who sadly miss her. Her name and influence will remain in the hearts and homes of all who knew and loved her.

To her bereaved father and other sorrowing ones we would say: Weep not; your loss is her eternal gain. Though we can not understand why God called her so early from a life of usefulness, we know it was for some wise purpose. May a compassionate Father pour into the sad hearts the balm of consolation, and enable each one to say and feel with that most of all illustrious sufferer, "Not my will, but thine, O God, be done!"

Her body was laid to rest in the New Hope Cemetery to await the resurrection morn. Her grave was covered with beautiful flowers by the hands of loving friends.

T. B. COTTRELL.

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

It's Worse For a Woman

To suffer with skin disease than it is for a man, for a smooth skin and a clear complexion are essential elements of female beauty. When the taint of scrofula is in the blood it will be sure to show itself soon or late. Often its manifestations are as repulsive as they are painful. Many people have been cured of scrofula in its most malignant forms by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This remedy is remarkable for its power to purify the blood. It absolutely eliminates the corrupting elements. It makes the blood clean and rich. It increases the action of the blood-making glands, and so increases the quantity of pure blood supplied to the body.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Jas. Murphy, of Ponda, Pocahontas Co., Iowa. "It has cured me of chronic scrofula, of twelve years' standing. I had doctored for the trouble until I was completely discouraged. I also had chronic diarrhea for twelve years. I am in good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a work for every woman, is sent free, on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps (to pay cost of mailing only), for paper edition. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS.
UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY.
Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O.
Mention this paper.

BELLS
Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established
BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY
THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.
Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.
Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.
☞ A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.
Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.
Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change . . .

DIRECT LINE TO
Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
NEW ORLEANS & NORTH EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO
Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,
AND TO ALL POINTS
North, -:- East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between
NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers!

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.
J. L. BOYD, D. P. A. J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A. R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.

YOU SAVE $40.

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent, Congress Street, Jackson, - - - - Miss
H. I. HOLDEN, Assistant Salesman, 416 West Capitol Street, Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN, 416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss., and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

Mansfield Female College,
MANSFIELD, LA.

Forty-sixth Session opens Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1900. Situated in the highland region of North Louisiana, on Kansas City Southern Railroad, on the dividing ridge between the Red and Sabine rivers; nearest point not less than twenty-five miles from either river. Just closed one of the most prosperous sessions in the history of the college. Send for illustrated catalogue.

T. S. SLIGH, President.

WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE,
(ESTABLISHED 1859.)
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.

A. F. WATKINS, D. D., President. REV. M. L. BURTON, V. Pres. and Bus. Mgr.

The session will open Sept. 12, 1900. Unusual advantages are offered by this historic institution. Campus large and beautiful. Buildings commodious, being thoroughly repaired. Hot and cold water in the dormitories. Electric lights in every room. Healthfulness unsurpassed. Course of study comprehensive and thorough. Faculty carefully selected. Our facilities for doing work in the Departments of Music, Painting, and the Industrial Arts are very fine.

Our Motto: "Do Right."

Our Aim: The development of the highest type of Christian womanhood.

Our Charges are moderate. Write for a Catalogue.

A card addressed to WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE, okhaven, Miss., will receive prompt attention

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1900.

One good act is worth a score of good intentions.

Living beyond one's means is only another name for dishonesty.

In order to be genninely holy, the Christian must beware of "pride of holiness."

Some one has wisely suggested that the worth of an education is to be measured more by what a man does with it than by its extent. Similarly, the religion of a believer is to be estimated more by what he does with it than by the amount he claims to have.

Dr. Josiah Strong asks: "What are churches for but to make missionaries? What is education for but to train them? What is commerce for but to carry them? What is money for but to send them? What is life itself for but to fulfill the purpose of Christ in the hearts of men?"

It is not a moral life that God demands, but a consecrated life—a life set apart from worldliness as well as wickedness, and devoted to unselfish and holy service. Men are moral ofttimes for purely selfish reasons, but none can be truly religious without putting God and duty first.

The more pressing our duties are, the more we should heed the Savior's injunction to watch and pray. Never a day should be allowed to pass without self-examination and the realization that all is well between us and God. As some one has said, "Act as if you expected to live a hundred years, but might die to-morrow."

Countless thousands are straining every nerve to be successful in business, not only ease, but health often being sacrificed in the effort to gain a fortune. But, alas! how few in this money-loving age are striving with all their might to be successful Christians! There is no folly so great or so ruinous as that of the man who is so bent upon temporal success that he fails to lay up treasure in heaven. "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

The portion of the island upon which Galveston is built is only a mile and a half across. The fact that no part of the city, the population of which is 38,000, is more than six feet above the sea level, has always rendered its situation dangerous. During the prevalence of the tempest the waters of the Gulf rose twelve feet, the streets being flooded to the depth of from six to ten feet, escape in that direction being rendered impossible. Yet "to remain in the houses meant to court death in the wreckage."

The value of most forms of service is determined more by quality than by the amount. A large output is usually desirable, but if secured at the cost of excellence, its worth is sure to be discounted. Who would not rather have a little of the genuine honey made by a bee than a quart of the insipid counterfeit turned out by a glucose factory? More commendable, and, yes, more profitable, is it to perform one or two duties faithfully than to undertake a dozen and slight them. It is written, "Cursed be he that doeth the work of the Lord negligently."

THE LOUISIANA SUNDAY LAW.

Thanks to the faithfulness and courage of Mayor Capdevielle, and the diligence of the police, the Sunday law has been splendidly enforced in this city during the past five or six weeks, the enforcement being better, in fact, than has ever been the case before, and the result has been highly gratifying to Christian people generally. The mayor, by his uncompromising attitude toward various forms of lawlessness, is showing himself to be a man who keenly appreciates the responsibilities of his position, and who is animated by a high sense of honor. Thus far he has given evidence of a plucky and commendable determination to do his full duty in the matter of putting a stop to flagrant and general violation of the Sunday law.

The strict enforcement in this city of the law mentioned has brought into more striking prominence, however, the outrageous and demoralizing state of affairs that prevails in the adjoining parishes of St. Bernard and Jefferson, where everything has been wide open on Sunday, and which, during the past few weeks, have become more than ever the favorite Sabbath rendezvous of drinkers, gamblers, and sports from the city, not the slightest attempt having been made until last Sunday by the authorities toward the enforcement of the Sunday and anti-gambling laws. The court records of Jefferson parish show that there have been no prosecutions since 1892 for violations of the Sunday law, either in Gretna or in Bucktown. The latter place is said to be lined with saloons, dance halls, and gambling dens, all of which have been doing a big business on Sunday.

Naturally enough, the permission of such open and extensive lawlessness in the two parishes named not only nullified in large measure the good effect of the strict enforcement of the Sunday law in the Crescent City, but also helped to breed discontent with such enforcement where otherwise it would not arise. The law was designed for the whole State; not for any part or parts thereof. Hence the authorities in each parish have no choice in the matter, but are in duty bound to do what they can to enforce it, or else be guilty of criminal negligence. It is monstrous that officers whose sworn duty it is to execute law should refrain from doing so simply because the gambling and drinking and whisky-selling element demand to be let alone. The better class of people in every parish in the State are heartily in favor of the Sunday law, and wherever it has been given a fair chance, the effect has been most wholesome.

We note with deep gratification that one day last week Gov. Heard, whom we believe to be a conscientious and thoroughly upright man, addressed identical letters to the sheriffs of St. Bernard and Jefferson parishes, urging upon them to enforce the Sunday law. We sincerely hope that, out of regard to their oath of office and to this emphatic utterance from the governor, these officers will proceed at once to put a stop to violations of the Sunday law. The letter of the governor to the sheriffs is as follows:

"My attention has been called to recent complaints in the public press of New Orleans, and in other quarters, that while the authorities of that city are earnestly striving to have the Sunday law strictly enforced within its limits, certain persons in your parish are openly violating this law in plain knowledge of, and without interference from, the authorities thereof, thereby profiting from enforcement in New Orleans.

"There are diverse opinions as to the justice or expediency of the law adverted to, just as there are in regard to other laws, but there can be no difference of opinion as to the duty of the officers charged with the execution of the laws. They can not undertake to discriminate between laws, enforcing the one and ignoring the other. Hence, so long as any law remains upon the statute book, it is the sworn duty of the officers charged with the enforcement of the laws generally to enforce such law.

"I would, therefore, enjoin upon you that you exercise the utmost vigilance in the enforcement of the Sunday law, so that the violators thereof may become convinced that it shall be executed as well as other laws, and that they will not be permitted to profit from the observance of this law by their neighbors.

"W. W. HEARD, Governor."

A copy of these letters has been forwarded to the Attorney General, asking advice as to particular steps to enforce the Sunday law in the two parishes named.

GALVESTON IN RUINS.

FRIGHTFUL HAVOC WROUGHT BY THE RECENT STORM

On last Saturday, Galveston, Texas, was visited by the most destructive storm ever known on the Gulf coast. For two days all communication was completely cut off from the outside world, the telegraph and telephone wires and bridges all having been swept away, and even when the news of the disaster reached Houston and other points, it was impossible to send relief promptly, on account of the destruction of boats and railroad bridges. It is estimated that 4,000 houses, most of them residences, have been wrecked, and that between 1,500 and 2,000 lives have been lost. The storm began raging between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday morning, but did not reach its worst until 5 P. M., nor did its fury abate till midnight. By 6 o'clock P. M. there was thirty-six inches of water in the lobbies of the Tremont Hotel, the highest point in the city. It is stated that just across the street, where the ground was lower, a horse was drowned. The wind blew at the rate of eighty-four miles an hour, huge waves direct from the Gulf being driven with frightful effect entirely over the island upon which the city is located. The fair Island City soon became a mass of debris, and the scenes of desolation, death and suffering produced by wind and wave beggar description.

As late as Monday the streets of Galveston were nearly all under water. Wires are in a hopeless tangle, and dead bodies are thickly strewn among the ruins. Almost the entire wharf front of the city is gone. Every ocean steamer at Galveston is stranded, and three large grain elevators were wrecked. The property loss, it is estimated, will aggregate fully $10,000,000.

To add to the horror of the situation, the waterworks power-house was wrecked, the cisterns were all ruined by the inundation of sea water, and a water famine is threatened. As the electric light plant also suffered serious damage, the city is for the present in total darkness at night and will remain so, perhaps, for some time. It will be impossible for many days yet to secure a complete list of the dead.

The press dispatches state that in the business section of the city during the storm "the water was from three to ten feet deep in stores. Stocks of all kinds, including foodstuffs, are total losses. Men in newspaper life are used to harrowing scenes, but the experience of newsgatherers on this fatal Saturday night beggars description. In making the rounds, it was nothing to see women and children emerging from comfortable and happy homes, dazed and bleeding from wounds, the women wading neck deep with babies in their arms. To add, if possible, to the calamity, the city is cut off entirely from the world."

On Monday a message was sent to President McKinley by the mayor and Citizens' Committee of Galveston, asking for prompt national aid in the way of food, money, and clothing. The President at once replied, expressing sympathy, and instructed the Secretary of War to furnish tents and provisions for the storm sufferers. A calamity so extensive and terrible arouses the sympathy of all classes, and Galveston's pathetic appeal for assistance, we are glad to say, is meeting with a most generous response from every quarter. For the present, relief will have to be carried to the unfortunate city entirely by boat.

The worst feature of the situation now is the lack of fresh water, which will have to be carried by boat to the sufferers. It is three miles to the mainland, and only a few small vessels are available. Drinking water can not be obtained nearer than twenty miles. The 35,000, or more, survivors are indeed in the most desperate plight, being threatened with starvation and disease, and most of them being left homeless. But few houses in the city are said to be habitable.

Miss Clara Barton has offered the services of the Red Cross Society for relief work in Galveston.

A MEMORABLE CAMP MEETING.

The Wesleyan Advocate, of Sept. 5, contains a cheering account of a glorious meeting held recently at the Mt. Moriah Camp Ground, in Georgia, at which there were 175, or more, conversions, and 27 accessions to the church. This camp meeting was started in 1831, and during its long history has witnessed some extraordinary displays of divine power, none of which, perhaps, were more wonderful than the manifestations of the Spirit's presence observable this year.

foreign missions, enthroning Jesus—Says the Rev. A. M. Williams, writing of the meeting:

"The crowning service of the season, and the greatest I was ever in, was the one on Tuesday night. We began with a short talk from the presiding elder on, 'What I Have Written I Have Written,' followed by an appeal to the unconverted. Then followed a witness meeting. 'What has Christ done for you during this camp meeting?' Two were often up at one time. Old-timers had new blessings; octogenarians testified to the touch of the old-time power; men, women, boys and girls spoke; the servant of over half a century, and the soul born only a few hours before the meeting. A sister, accustomed to talk, had by circumstances been held back, and sweetly testified that God had wonderfully blessed her in silence. Many came for a blessing, and were not disappointed. A little boy, hardly as tall as the benches, rose way out in the congregation and said, 'I have been blessed; I don't think it; I know it.' Uncle Jack, a negro ninety-seven years old, told with holy unction of what Jesus had done and was doing for him. Dr. Pinson rose and said: 'Many of you would give a million dollars to be in Uncle Jack's black skin fifty years from now, unless you repent.' At the request of this old saint, respected, believed in and loved by everybody, the choir started 'Palms of Victory.' The congregation caught it, and it, through the spirit, caught the congregation. Men wept. Somebody began to wave a white handkerchief; in a moment everybody was singing, waving, and the congregation rose. A wave of holy enthusiasm swept across the large assembly. It was not noisy, but silent, sweet, thrilling. At the close of the hymn the invitation to penitents was given, and accepted with alacrity. In a few minutes the large altar was filled up with seekers, the aisles and side outside in all directions, fully two hundred, of which the large majority were men, responding."

A QUERY.

MR. EDITOR: Will you allow me to ask through the columns of the ADVOCATE if the preacher in charge is included in the order of Church Conference business, or does it refer to the local preacher; and if there are no local preachers present, should the preacher in charge make a report to a Church Conference of his labors since the last meeting? We want some light on this subject, and believe the church, generally, needs it.

Fraternally, J. M. MANLEY.

Arcadia, La., Sept. 3, 1900.

[We think the term "preachers" in this case covers the entire fraternity, traveling and local.—EDITOR.]

THE RIGHT VIEW OF THE MATTER.

One of our most industrious and wide-awake pastors in Tennessee is Rev. F. P. Campbell. He has been getting some subscribers for this paper, but he adds, "I see very little prospect to build up this circuit unless I can get the paper introduced into the homes of our people." He has the right view of the matter. The church paper is the pastor's ally—his most valuable assistant, his most devoted friend in the advancement of all church interests. To him the paper means effective work in stimulating, enlightening and encouraging his people in the work of the kingdom of God. With such a spirit in all our pastors the paper would soon be in ten thousand homes.—Methodist Protestant.

Says the Christian Herald: "The tent work in New York is proving a source of blessing to multitudes. It is easy to see that many are present at the meetings to whom a religious service of any kind is a novelty. They pay close attention, and there are indications that a deep impression is being made."

THE BREWERS UP IN ARMS.

The colossal fortunes made by the brewers at last bid fair to lose some of their water, if not hops. The war tax on beer has angered the rotund gentlemen of the vats, and they have raised the price of their beer. A second time they have raised it. In consequence about two thousand saloon keepers are going out of business in Chicago, Oct. 1. These saloon keepers are, as a rule, mere serfs of the brewers, who have mortgages on their fixtures, which make them dictators. The closing of the 2,000 saloons in Chicago will leave 3,750; five years ago there were 7,000. The brewers want the war tax on beer taken off. Because they want it, we do not.—Central Advocate.

The Influence of the Western World on China is the title of a timely article in the September Century, by the Rev. D. Z. Sheffield, D. D., for thirty years a missionary in the Middle Kingdom. One can learn much about the Boxers from a paper by R. Van Bergen on The Revolution in China and Its Causes. A second instalment of Jean Schopfer's notes on Amusements at the Paris Exposition treats particularly of theaters, panoramas, and other spectacles. Prof. Sterrett gives an account, with photographic illustrations, of his visits to the cave-dwellers of Turkey in Asia, some of whose habitations date back nearly four thousand years. Lovers of personalia will enjoy the third budget of Dr. William Mason's Memories of a Musical Life, in which the principal figure is the Abbe Liszt. Mr. Morley brings us to the period of the military dictatorship in his life of Cromwell. In Lighter Vein contains some amusing English signs from shops in Japan, contributed by the Rev. Francis E. Clark, president of the Society of Christian Endeavor.

NOTES.

Rev. R. W. Bailey's health having improved, he will return and resume the duties of his pastorate at Moss Point the first of October.

***

Bishop Galloway delivered his famous lecture on "Mississippi: Its Yesterday, To-day, and To-morrow," at Summit, Miss., on the evening of the fifth instant.

***

Evangelist J. J. Smylie, of Mississippi, arrived in the Crescent City last Monday morning, and is conducting a meeting this week for Rev. P. H. Fontaine at Gouldsboro.

***

We rejoice to be able to chronicle the fact that on last Sabbath the Sunday law was strictly enforced in the hitherto "wide-open" parishes of St. Bernard and Jefferson. Verily, a better day is beginning to dawn in Louisiana.

***

Rev. F. N. Parker, the beloved and efficient pastor of the Carondelet Street Church, has left the city for a few days in order to get some much needed rest. (He went first to Baton Rouge, and, we understand, will also visit Shreveport.)

***

Our bright young friend, Mr. Ethelbert Galloway, son of Bishop Chas. B. Galloway, expects to enter Vanderbilt University this Fall for the purpose of taking a medical course. He was graduated with honor from Millsaps College last June.

***

Rev. W. D. Bass has just closed a very successful meeting at Bowling Green, Miss., where he has been helping the pastor, Bro. Ellis. There were over fifty additions to all the churches, the majority of the new members uniting with the Methodist Church.

***

The Standard (Baptist) finds that along with the disappearance of preaching on hell, there has come a scarcity of sermons on heaven, and concludes that, in our insistence on the relation of Christianity to the problems of this life, the other life has ceased to be real to us.

***

The piteous flight of the people of Galveston is enough to stir the heart of the nation, and to elicit on every hand the truest sympathy and the most generous charity. Seldom, if ever, in this country has there been such signal occasion for the administration of prompt and large relief.

***

Dr. I. W. Cooper reports that Centenary College had the best opening last week it has had since he became president, and he is greatly encouraged over the outlook. In a letter to Dr. S. S. Keener, received a few days ago, he says: "We feel confident of having 175 or 200 students during the session of 1900-1901."

Rev. H. H. Ahrens, of the New Orleans Ploaynne, will attend the great Moody meeting, to be held this month in Chicago. Some interesting articles may be expected from his pen to the above paper.

***

Rev. John W. Chambers recently assisted Pastor R. F. Witt in a protracted meeting at Hermanville, Miss., which resulted in twenty-four accessions to the church on profession of faith, and three by certificate.

***

On Thursday, Aug. 30, at the residence of the bride's father, near Jackson, Miss., we had the pleasure of celebrating the rites of matrimony between Miss Sallie Lancaster and Mr. C. S. Herron, of Bernard, Miss. We extend our heartiest congratulations to the happy pair, and wish them unalloyed felicity through life.

***

We are in receipt of a brief note from Rev. T. S. Randle, the energetic pastor at Half Way, La., in which he says: "I have held three protracted meetings on my work, which have resulted in great good to the church. Nine have been added to the church and several have been converted. We are praying and hoping for greater results in the future. We have been hindered greatly in our work on account of sickness and rain."

***

We regret to learn that Rev. E. A. Flowers, a worthy superannuate of the Mississippi Conference, is grievously afflicted in body, with little prospect of improvement. His wife is also suffering much from physical affliction, and, in fact, is almost a helpless invalid. Prayer is asked in their behalf. Bro. Flowers has just moved from Wilkinson county to Perth, in Jefferson county, Miss., and is now living with his son Walter at his old home.

***

Rev. P. R. Knickerbocker, the popular pastor at Crowley, La., has just arrived home from his three months' tour in Europe. We quote as follows from a letter received from him a day or two ago: "Found my charge in 'statu quo.' Rev. C. B. Duncan, of Missouri, did me first-class service in my pulpit all Summer, and held the work together admirably. Of course, I am up to my ears in labors, and will be so until Conference. The next thing on the program with us is to raise the Twentieth Century Offering. We expect to make a good report on same shortly. We will show a clear gain in membership of between 60 and 80—more than half by profession of faith. We now number about 450 members."

***

We have been favored with an invitation to attend the marriage of Mr. Walter Wingate Carre and Miss Isabel Colcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hutson Colcock, of New Orleans, La., which happy event will take place on Tuesday evening, Sept. 25, 1900, at six o'clock, in the Sophie Newcomb College Chapel. Bro. Carre is a well-known and highly respected young business man of culture and energy, and is one of the stanchest and most useful Methodist laymen in the city. The young lady whom he is soon to wed belongs to a most excellent family, and is said to possess many graces and accomplishments. We extend in advance our cordial congratulations, and wish them a bright and prosperous voyage through life.

***

Rev. Henry Beach Carre, of this city, who has been absent two years in Europe doing post-graduate work in theology, reached home last Friday morning. Most of his time while absent was spent at the Universities of Berlin and Marburg, and the University of Paris. On his return trip across the Atlantic he was a fellow-passenger with Bishop Hendrix, who was en route home from his visit to the British Wesleyan Conference. Bro. Carre has accepted the chair of Greek and English Bible at Centenary College, and will, for a time at least, devote himself to educational work. Centenary is to be congratulated upon having secured such a splendidly equipped and able teacher. Bro. Carre filled the pulpit last Sunday morning at Carondelet Street Church, his sermon being greatly enjoyed by all who heard him. He also held the night service for the pastor, Rev. Frank Parker, who, we regret to say, was too unwell last Sabbath to leave his room.

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS
Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

MISSISSIPPI.

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss.
EDITOR.

From a personal letter from Rev. W. M. Stevens, I quote the following sad news: "At the State League Conference, held in Vicksburg, my wife, Mrs. S. B Stevens, was elected State President of the Literary Department. Her health has been such that she has not been able to do much effective work in her department, and, as her condition seems to grow worse rather than better, as we hoped (she is now in bed from nervous prostration, and under treatment at the German-American Hospital, Chicago), she requests me to write you, so you can announce same in the ADVOCATE, stating that, in justice to the League work, she must resign her office. I have written the State President, tendering her resignation, with fervent prayers for the League work. Please ask prayers of the Leaguers in my wife's behalf."

The Leaguers of the State will read the above with sorrow. We lose one of our most enthusiastic and useful State officers from the active list. Let prayers be offered for her.

LOUISIANA.

REV. H. R. SINGLETON, Ruston, La.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

A SUCCESSFUL RALLY.

It was the writer's privilege to attend the Opelousas District Epworth League Rally, which met in Lafayette, La., Sept. 3-6. The meeting was a success from every standpoint, and lasting impressions were received. The speeches were of the highest order, and the address of Presiding Elder Carter will be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to have heard it. The singing was an inspiration, and was greatly aided by the magnificent new organ which the church has just purchased. The best of fellowship prevailed, and brotherly love abounded. The host, Rev. C. C. Wier, the beloved pastor of the church, was untiring in his efforts, looking to the comforts of his guests, and the hospitality of the good people of Lafayette was unbounded. The District League Rally has come to stay in the Opelousas district.

Rev. T. B Clifford made an excellent presiding officer, and threw himself, body and soul, in the work of the Conference, and to him, in a large measure, the success of the meeting is due. Prof. Percy Holt, of Crowley, was elected as president, and Mr. Van Carter, of Crowley, secretary.

The Methodist Church in Lafayette is among the most beautiful in the district, and the parsonage is large and comfortable, and Bro. Wier is in high favor with his people.

H. H. AHRENS.

FOREST DISTRICT.

To the Preachers in Charge and Their Assistants in the Forest District, Mississippi Conference, M. E. Church, South:

DEAR BRETHREN: Your attention is called to the fourth round of Quarterly Conferences appearing in another column. This is written to urge you to send on to Dr. Lambuth, Nashville, Tenn., and get full supplies of programs for Rally Day Please be prompt and see that every Sunday-school is supplied, and also that every Sunday-school observes Rally Day. Send six cents in postage stamps and get last report of our Board of Missions. Programs for Rally Day will cost you nothing.

Yours faithfully,

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

EMPRESS EUGENIE.

When Empress Eugenie was rescued from the French mob and escorted to England by Dr. Evans, the American dentist, fresh interest was immediately awakened in the profession of dentistry, and, we doubt not, influenced many a young man to enter its ranks.

These reflections occurred to us while reading the catalogue of the Atlanta Dental College, whose announcement appears in this issue.

NOTICE.

The Annual District Meeting of the Woman's Home Mission Society, Forest district, Mississippi Conference, will be held at Pauiding, Miss., Sept. 28, 1900. A delegate will be expected from each auxiliary. All ministers in the district cordially invited to attend.

ANNA S. HARMON,
Dist. Sec.

NOTICE.

Members of the Ministers' Education Aid Association of the Louisiana Conference will please take notice that it is now time for the payment of their annual dues. Please remit to the undersigned at earliest convenience. ROBERT H. WYNN.

3811 Camp Street, New Orleans.

No other aid so great to the housewife, no other agent so useful and certain in making delicious, pure and wholesome foods, has ever been devised.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

There are imitation baking powders, sold cheap, by many grocers. They are made from alum, a poisonous drug, which renders the food injurious to health.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

Revival at Slidell, La.

MR. EDITOR: One of the best meetings ever held in this place is in progress here now. Rev. J. J. Smylie is doing the preaching. A number have professed conversion; the altar crowded nearly every service; nine have joined the church on profession of faith, and the church greatly revived. Large crowds attend the meeting, the church not being large enough to accommodate the people at some of the services. Several very wicked men have promised to lead better lives and give themselves to God.

Bro. Smylie will go from here to New Orleans to assist Bro. Fontaine in a meeting next week.

J. J. KELLY.

Slidell, La., Sept. 8, 1900.

THE HEALTH PROBLEM is most quickly solved by making the blood pure and digestion perfect by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Its cures of scrofula, salt rheum, dyspepsia, nervousness and that tired feeling are legion.

The non-irritating cathartic is Hood's Pills.

TO THE PREACHERS IN THE MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Under date of July 28, 1900, Mr. J. D. Hamilton, treasurer of the Board of Missions, writes as follows:

"The Board of Missions has reached the time of year when borrowing money from the banks becomes a necessity to meet current demands. The Conferences, taken together, are more than $6,000 behind this time last year, which means an increased interest account.

"Please allow a kind reminder of these facts and an urgent appeal for the best possible effort on your part to stir up the preachers in charge to forward their collections at once, that the money may find its way speedily through you to the general treasury."

If you have any money for this purpose now in your possession, please send it on at once. I am needing money for our domestic missionaries, too, and am ready to receive that.

Up to this date, Aug. 31, I have received for foreign missions from

14	charges	In Forest district	$ 523 60
7	"	In Seashore "	191 66
8	"	In Brookhaven "	177 66
6	"	In Meridian "	163 00
3	"	In Jackson "	123 00
4	"	In Natchez "	86 50
4	"	In Vicksburg "	79 00
			$1,344 36
		Paid to same date, 1899	1,184 41
		Increase	$ 159 95

If the seventy-six charges which have sent nothing had paid as the forty-six have, I would have reported $3,564.84. Some of these forty-six charges are among the poorest in the Conference.

For domestic missions I have received to date from

9	charges	In Forest district	$ 185 25
6	"	In Brookhaven "	96 45
5	"	In Seashore "	84 00
4	"	In Vicksburg "	54 50
3	"	In Meridian "	30 75
2	"	In Natchez "	27 00
2	"	In Jackson "	26 00
			$ 504 55
		Paid to same date in 1899	291 95
		Increase	$ 212 60

If the remaining ninety charges had paid as the thirty-two, I would have reported $1,922.72.

I have been able so far to answer every call made upon me by our domestic missionaries, but unless the treasury is replenished speedily, some of these faithful servants of the church may suffer. The reports made to the Board by these men, attested by their presiding elders, give ample assurance that the money is wisely expended.

I earnestly appeal to you for prompt responses to this call. The amount you have on hand may be small. Add to it if you can, but if you can not, send on what you have at once. The mere statement of the facts should move you to prompt action in such an important matter.

W. L. LINFIELD,
Treas. Miss. Conf. Bd. of Missions.

NOTICE.

Bro. R. W. Bailey, secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the Mississippi Conference, has, on account of failing health, left the State permanently. As he has been the custodian of applications to the Board for help, the brethren who have made out their applications and sent them in, had better get them and forward them to me; and the brethren who want blanks can get them for ten cents apiece at the Publishing House, Nashville, Tenn. In filling out blanks, be sure to comply with the Discipline.

L. S. JONES.

Sept. 1, 1900.

A Grand Revival at Lindsey Chapel.

The meeting began Sunday, Aug. 26, and closed Thursday, the thirtieth. Bro. W. L. Linfield, preacher in charge, was assisted by Bro. D. C. Langford and Bro. D. E. Vickers. Bro. Langford did most of the preaching, and the Word of God was accompanied by the Holy Spirit in such power that the church was wonderfully revived, with fourteen accessions and fifteen conversions, and we feel that the Lord has done great things for us. May the Lord bless these preachers, and give them many souls for their hire!

JOURDAN A. LINDSEY.

Rankin county, Miss., Sept. 3, 1900.

Brodie's Liver Pills
FOR
Biliousness, Dyspepsia,
SICK HEADACHE, WEAK STOMACH,
AND ALL
Disorders of the Liver.

TESTIMONY.

I have used Brodie's Pills for many years in my family, and have found them invaluable in all cases, and, as a Liver Pill, do not think they have an equal. GEO. H. WILEY.

Sold By All Druggists.
Price, 25c. a Box.
I. L. LYONS & CO., Prop's,
NEW ORLEANS LA

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.
This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

IUKA NORMAL INSTITUTE
Iuka, Miss.

Nineteenth year begins Sept. 4, 1900. Terms reasonable—advantages superior. Satisfaction guaranteed to all working pupils. Write for the handsomest catalogue of the season.

H. A. DEAN, Pres.

Johnston Collegiate Institute
GREENSBURG, LA.,

Prepares boys and girls for high-grade colleges. Under the auspices of the M. E. Church, South. Affiliated with Vanderbilt University. Board, lodging and tuition, per session of 40 weeks, $100. Write for Catalogue.

Rev. P. M. BROWN, A. B., Prin.

Stanton College
For Young Ladies,
NATCHEZ, MISS.

Beautiful grounds and buildings, electric lights, pure artesian and cistern water. Home-life judiciously supervised. Bountiful fare and excellent health record.

Classical, Scientific and English Courses, Music, Art, Elocution, Phonography.

Chartered in 1893. Affiliated with University of Mississippi. High Standard; thorough work. Twelve teachers. Boarders limited and given individual attention. Apply early to insure choice of rooms. Terms reasonable.

J. R. PRESTON,
President of Faculty.

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.

Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.

SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 54
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,283 43
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 97
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,325 36
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,236 33

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY

Are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.

Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.

Post & Bowles, New Orleans, La.
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

W. W. Carre & Co.
LUMBER,
NEW ORLEANS LA

Edward McGehee College for Girls,
Woodville, Miss.,

Will open its thirty-ninth annual session Wednesday, September 5th, 1900. Thoroughly equipped for work in the Departments of Mathematics, English, Sciences, Languages, Music and Elocution. Buildings are new and commodious, in perfect repair, and lited with the comforts of a refined home. Located in the hill country, it is free from malarial and other fevers. For Catalogue and terms address
MISS GEORGIA SWANSON, President, Woodville, Miss.

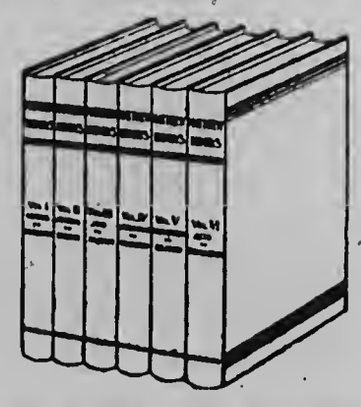
A SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY,
BY DENTISTS, FOR DENTISTS.

The Atlanta Dental College has a corps of ten experienced teachers Largest School in the State and in the South. Owns and operates its Chemic, Pathologic, Bacteriologic, and Ceramic apparatus within the College Building—a self-contained school teaching Dentistry by Dentists. Located in the heart of the city. For further and fuller particulars, address
WM. CRENSHAW, D.D.S., Dean.
Prudential Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Matthew Henry's
Commentary
on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.

Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.

Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.



Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.

3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.

Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.

Cheapest and Best Commentary.

Best cloth binding—good type.

Write to
Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

Forest District High School,
Montrose, Miss.

A Training School for Millsaps College and East Mississippi and Whitworth Female Colleges.

Fine location. Total expenses for month, including board and tuition, between $8 and $11
School opens Sept. 3rd.
For further information address
J. F. GALLOWAY, B. A.,
Principal.

Dickson Normal College,
Both Sexes.

No malaria. No Yellow Fever. A most delightful health resort. Weakly boys and girls grow strong and vigorous. Strong faculty, thorough instruction, splendid advantages in all departments. Special advantages to young ladies and those wishing to teach. Lowest rates of any first-class school in the South. For handsome 48-page catalogue, address,
T. B. LOGGINS, Dickson, Tenn.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy-five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two-thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Grenada Female College
Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.

PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.

W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

CHILDLESS HOMES

Are Desolate Places.

BARRENNESS AND STERILITY can be cured by the use of

G.F.P. GERSTLE'S FEMALE PANACEA

It has brought happiness to many homes that had been desolate for years.

A BABY BOY.

My wife was suffering badly from leucorrhœa or whites, and the doctor did her no good. I began giving her G. F. P. and she improved at the start. Four bottles cured her, and we now have one of the finest baby boys in the country.
ORVILLE RICE,
Garfield, Mo.

If your case is not fully covered by our free book, "HEALTHY MOTHERS MAKE HAPPY HOMES," write in confidence for free advice to the LADIES' HEALTH CLUB, care J. Gerstle & Co., CHATTANOOGA, - TENN.

Druggists Sell G. F. P.

A Good Investment

A postal card, addressed to Rev. P. H. Whisner, Cor. Sec., Box 424, Louisville, Ky., stating your needs and giving your address, plainly written, will bring you, without other expense:

A package of Church Extension Maps to aid you in taking your Church Extension Collections; or,

A blank deed containing the Trust Clause from the Discipline, to use in taking title to that new church or parsonage lot; or,

Full information about our Annuity Plan, which will enable you to give money to the church and yet continue to draw interest upon it as long as you live.

HOLLINS INSTITUTE

Opens its 85th session Sept. 19th, 1900, with accommodations for 225 Young Ladies (boarders). 30 officers and teachers. Eclectic system. Diplomas are awarded in all departments. Departments presided over by University graduates. Located in a region of surpassing beauty and redolent of health. Mineral waters, Sulphur and Chalybeate. Apply for catalogue to
CHAS. L. COCKE, Supt., Hollins, Va.

Vanderbilt Training School,

Elkton, Ky.

JOSHUA H. HARRISON, Principal.

Well located; well equipped; intelligent community; good health; good work. For information address the Principal, Elkton, Ky. Next session will begin Sept. 4.

BELMONT SEMINARY,
BEDFORD CITY, VIRGINIA,

Opens on Sept. 12th. Academic course and music. Full corps of instructors. Modern building heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Climate and water unsurpassed.
D. W. READ, M. A., Prin.,
(U. of V.)

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

FACTS ABOUT PAINT — When Your HOUSE, BARN or ROOF NEEDS PAINTING write SUTCLIFFE & CO., Louisville, Ky. Ask for Book No. 92. It tells how to buy and paint to best advantage. Costs Nothing. Will Save Much.

A RARE BARGAIN.

THE VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thonghts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to Sept., 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

ONLY ONE MOTHER.

You have only one mother, my boy,
Whose heart you can gladden with joy,
Or cause it to ache
Till ready to break;
So cherish that mother, my boy.

You have only one mother, who will Stand by you through good and through ill,
And love you, although
The world is your foe:
So care for that love ever still.

You have only one mother to pray
That in the good path you may stay,
Who for you won't spare
Self-sacrifice rare;
So worship that mother alway.

You have only one mother to make
A home ever sweet for your sake,
Who tells day and night
For you with delight:
To help her all pains ever take.

You have only one mother—just one;
Remember that always, my son,
None can or will do
What she has for you:
What have you for her ever done?

—Early Days.

WHAT ONE LITTLE GIRL DID.

There are ninety villages belonging to the city of Tyre, in Syria. Up to twenty years ago there had not been a Bible or a missionary teacher among them.

At Beirut there was a little Syrian girl, going to a mission school. She had learned of Jesus, and how to read the Bible, the precious book that told of him. Oh, how she loved her Bible! and the more she learned to love it, the more she wanted others to know about it, to love it, too. Are you that way, little reader?

When vacation came she went to her home, which was one of those villages of Tyre of which I have told you. She sat under the trees, reading her precious book. The people came to her and asked her what she was reading. "O such a beautiful, beautiful Book!" she replied. "Do you not want to hear it?" They told her they did. She began to read. Soon the crowd increased.

Every time she sat under the trees, reading, the people would come flocking about her, hungry to have the messages in the precious Book. So many hungry ones, and only one little girl to give them the words of eternal life! But how patiently and faithfully she did her part, all that one little child could do!

When she went back to the mission school, the hungry people sent a message by her, begging for a teacher who could come and stay with them. O how piteously they begged! but there was no teacher to go. There were really not enough for the mission school itself.

The next year the people begged again, and again the next, and again the next year.

At the end of five years what do you think happened? A missionary teacher was sent to them. And whom do you think it was? No less a person than the little girl who had first read to them the precious words of truth, sitting under the shade of the village trees, the little girl now grown to be a woman. What a glad day that was!

There are now in that city where the little girl first taught and read the Bible, twenty-nine Christian schools, and over three thousand children who know Jesus, and it has all come about through that one little girl's patient and earnest seed-sowing.—Little Worker.

Knowledge of the Bible will refine, enlarge and elevate the vocabulary of any one, and the girl who studies her Bible daily, and reads Shakespeare, Scott, Macaulay and Ruskin will be a better talker than she who limits her reading to the daily newspaper or the latest agreeable book. Dickens, Thackeray, William Black, Blackmore, Barrie, Crockett, Mrs. Oliphant and George Eliot are all helpful to those who would be good, bright, varied and entertaining talkers, because in all these authors you continually find wholesome thoughts expressed in forceful and strenuous English, and bit by bit you receive of the wealth these masters of English have so carefully bestowed upon their work.—Ladies' Home Journal.

THE NEW CANCER CURE.

All forms of Malignant Growths Cured by Dr. Hathaway's Serum Treatment.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.

Dr. Hathaway's New Serum Treatment for the cure of Cancer and other malignant growths is as much of an advance in medical science as was vaccination for small-pox. Thousands of cases treated and cured by him have proved this. The method is entirely unlike any other.

T. T. Osby, of Tula Rosa, N. M., stated: "For several years I had what was supposed to be a pipe sore on the lip. It finally developed into a Cancer. In Oct. 1898, I consulted Dr. Hathaway & Co., and then applied their Serum Treatment. One injection cured me."

Mrs. I. N. Rogers, 133 N. Rozborn St., Memphis, Tenn., states: "I had a Cancer in the corner of my eye that extended down on my cheek and nose. Several so-called Cancer doctors and their burning treatments failed; but Dr. Hathaway's new Serum Treatment cured me in six weeks without pain."

Full information, together with Dr. Hathaway's New Book on Cancer, will be mailed free.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.,
DR. HATHAWAY & CO.,
420 B Main St., Cleveland Block, MEMPHIS, TENN.

WHEN THE HEART IS HEAVY.

Worry kills. It wears upon the brain as dropping water wears away stone. The habit must be killed by eternal vigilance, resolution and good sense. Worry, like bad air or an obnoxious person, must be driven out, and the best way to drive either out is by the introduction of the good. You can fill your mind with comforting, calming thoughts, leaving no room for the harassing ones. You can flood out the enemy, just as by pouring a stream of clear water into a tumbler filled with discolored liquid you can soon force out the muddy contents of the glass and leave it filled with liquid crystal. Don't let events depress you. Maintain your equilibrium, and let mind rule matter and good sense judge events. The emotional nature is always watching for a chance to exploit itself. Keep it in reserve, ready for every touch of human feeling, responsive to goodness, honor, cheerfulness and all healthy feeling, but do not allow it to tinge your understanding or in any way affect your sane view of business or the affairs of life. Check expression when bitter or somber feeling has the best of you. To say how sad or perplexed you feel when your heart sinks for the moment deepens your inward troubles, and at the same time spreads it to outside people. You would not spread disease; do not spread mental distress. Your desponding words, bursting impulsively from a full heart in the presence of a friend, add to the burdens of another human being—one, perhaps, already weighed down by cares and anxieties. To so speak is to allow yourself to be overborne by "things" ruled by the natural course of the world. You can not rule the world, it is true, but you have the power to rule your part of it—that is, yourself. Don't hate and don't worry. This is the advice given by a hale and beneficent old man to those who asked him for the secret of length of days. He might have added, Don't get angry.—Ada C. Sweet, in the Woman's Home Companion.

A SENATORIAL VIEW OF SUCCESS.

The question is, What is success in life? writes United States Senator Lindsay, of Kentucky, in the August number of Success. If the accumulation of money is to be regarded as success, then the man who accumulates the largest amount is, of course, the most successful man. It is a very common idea that the acquisition of wealth means the equivalent of success. But the man who stands at the head of his profession, or of an honorable avocation, is certainly successful, too. The men who, in addition to success in business, or success in their professional careers, accomplish the most in promoting the common good and in raising character, are the real representatives of success. In them the world at large has the greatest interest.

A genius is successful, in spite of poverty. He seldom succeeds from the world's point of view, because, as a rule, he lacks a degree of selfishness, and the temperament of application necessary to success. A genius is very humane, very attractive, and generally very worthless; yet he adds much to the sum of human happiness. We forget his shortcomings, and remember only those traits which excite our admiration and feelings of kindly regard. What would the world have been without Burns? What is the world's definition of success? It seems to me to be the fulfilling of one's duty, or calling; the giving of a little more sunlight and music; the benefiting of one's fellow-men.

BREAKFAST.

That every breakfast shall begin with fruit, and every dinner with soup, is a safe rule to establish in every household. It may be broken now and then, perhaps, but never wholly departed from. The breakfast hour decides the day, whether it shall be one of physical comfort or discomfort, and a task well begun is half done. But a hot weather breakfast should differ materially from a Winter breakfast. Oat-meal, which is heating, fattening, and to many impossible of digestion, should, in nearly all cases, be put aside during Summer, and the lighter cereals used in its place. Eggs, beefsteaks, lamb or mutton chops, broiled chicken, creamed chipped beef, codfish, smoked fish, fresh fish, creamed potatoes, tomatoes, raw and cooked, radishes, water and land cresses, Spring onions, green peppers cut in narrow strips, the different fruits, with whole wheat bread, hard sweet butter, and a strong cup of coffee or tea, furnishing a variety of wholesome breakfast dishes within the reach of all, and within scope of every intelligent cook. Now and then there will come a call for a dish of bacon or fried salt pork. After the meat is removed from the pan drop in slices of green tomatoes with tiny strips of green pepper drawn through them, or slices of Summer squash with the green pepper seasoning, sour apples also sliced with skins on, but cores removed, thin strips of raw pumpkin, ripe tomatoes, and serve with the bacon.—Exchange.

ALONE WITH HER DEAD.

We find in a Boston paper the following little incident:

A traveler passing through the city fell ill, and died suddenly at one of the hotels. A woman to whom he was very near and dear was left alone to take the poor body to its distant home. She says: "The hearse drove rapidly to the station, and I followed in a hired hack. The streets were crowded and busy. The street cars rushed along. Multitudes of eager, happy people hurried past. Not one bestowed a glance at the humble little cortege.

"What did it matter to them that I was left alone in the world? I was a stranger to all living men with nothing but my dead, who would never look at me again. My heart grew bitter and hard.

"Suddenly an Irishman driving a wagon halted his team at sight of the hearse, and raised his hat until it passed. It was a little act, common in almost every other civilized country but this, but it brought tears to my eyes. It made me one with my kind again. I hope God will bless that man."—Central Advocate.

POSSESSING AND POSSESSED.

"She owns a beautiful house," said a lady, speaking of an acquaintance. "Oh, no, she doesn't," answered the one addressed; "the beautiful house owns her, and owns her so completely that there is very little of her left for anybody else. I knew her years ago, when she lived in a pretty little cottage, and she was a charming and intelligent woman. She kept up with the literature of the day. She wrote bright papers occasionally for our various societies; she was ready to help in the church work, and was interested in whatever was going on in the community. Then the elegant-house mania seized her, and they built a mansion, putting into it everything they could spare, and a good deal that they couldn't. It is dreadfully hard work to be a millionaire on a limited income, and she is wearing herself out trying to do it. The beautiful house must be beautifully kept; and as there are really not hands enough to accomplish it, the mistress must be everywhere. When night comes she is too tired to read, and confesses that she goes to sleep if her husband attempts to read to her. She no longer has any interest in religious or philanthropic work; she can talk nothing but 'house'—new ways of laundering curtains or serving lunch. No, my dear, she does not own that house; it owns her, and she is a veritable slave."—Forward.

The drunkard is no greater nuisance than he was a hundred years ago, but he is not as tenderly and tolerantly regarded as he was then. Courts and the general public do not care as formerly for the plea that he is a good man when he is sober. The unfeeling answer is returned that his spells of sobriety should come nearer together and his intervals of drunkenness further apart. His offense is not condoned by society as it was in the days when drunkenness, once a religious, became a social rite. Habitual drunkenness is a bar to employment now. The drunkard is blacklisted and boycotted without any formalities.—Baltimore Advocate.

A nap after dinner is worth two hours of sleep in the morning to mother. Mothers, more than most people, wear out if they are not repaired, and it is the duty of the family to see that repairs go on before the dear tenement falters. So many people paint the house and have the homes cleaned and re-papered and the furniture retouched, who never think of repairing the mother. Think of it, to let a mother wear out for want of a little repair! Why, she is costly, and rare, and altogether good to have around, isn't she?—Baltimore Advocate.

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malaria. Fevers. Acts on the liver, forces up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c and $1.00 bottle.

Free Kindergarten Training-School.

The Training-school of the New Orleans Free Kindergarten Association offers an opportunity to well-educated young women who wish to fit themselves for the kindergarten profession. The rate of tuition is low, and board may be obtained at moderate prices. The new term begins October first. For full information address, Miss Katharine W. Hardy, 1202 Annunciation St, New Orleans, La.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address
REV. W. C. BLACK.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co., 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

16,600 frs. National Prize at Paris

QUINA-LAROCHE

A Ferruginous Tonic

Pleasant to the taste; assimilate quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach troubles, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.
22 rue Drouot
PARIS
E. Fougera & Co.
Agents, N. Y.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. Dr. D. R. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,
NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES.
Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY.
Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments.
Fall Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens October 18th.

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address
Secretary of University.

GROCERY MONEY SAVED

Is grocery money earned. And you save it when you buy here.

Hundreds of housewives are glad they sent for King's Price List. They're saving money every week. You might just as well be saving, too.

The Price List shows the littleness of prices; the goods speak most eloquently of the qualities.

The combination wins.

Send for Price List now.

I especially solicit out-of town trade.

KING'S, DRYADES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.

Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for $3.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot cordwood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

MONEY SAVED

In the end by taking the

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION, Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrives
Memphis and Local.....	4:00 p. m	10:00 a. m
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:30 a. m	5:15 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Celebrated Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

WE BUY lamp-chimneys by the dozen; they go on snapping and popping and flying in pieces; and we go on buying the very same chimneys year after year.

Our dealer is willing to sell us a chimney a week for every lamp we burn.

Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" do not break from heat; they are made of tough glass. Try them.

Our "Index" describes all lamps and their proper chimneys. With it you can always order the right size and shape of chimney for any lamp. We mail it FREE to any one who writes for it.

Address MACBETH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sherwood Music School

FINE ARTS BUILDING, 203 Michigan Av. CHICAGO.

William H. Sherwood and Walton Perkins, Directors.

Highest Standard of Art. Faculty of eminent teachers. Catalog free on application.

Fall Term Opens September 10.

WILLIAM R. PERKINS, Sec.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,

MILK · DEPOT,

SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.

CONFECTIONERIES.

DELIVERY FREE.

1733 Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Suite 303—New Orleans National Bank Building,

606 Common St., New Orleans, La.

OBITUARIES.

(Continued from Third Page.)

KELLER—VERNICE LESTER KELLER was born in Monroe, La., Feb. 10, 1895, and died May 10, 1900; and PRENTISS BANCROFT KELLER was born in Monroe, March 17, 1897, and died May 8, 1900; both after an illness of four days with scarlet fever, and within two days of each other.

It was in the lovely Spring-tide, when the flowers of many hues had come from the grave of the dead season to preach of the resurrection, and when the birds of every tribe and clime were singing resurrection madrigals, that our little friends, Vernice and Prentiss, waved their farewells to loved ones and, almost hand in hand, wandered across the boundary of the fair country where there is "no sickness or sorrow or pain or death." Our community bare at Monroe contained no sweeter children, and earth itself no more suitable material to be wrought over into the cherubic or seraphic, and exalted to any high place in the house of many mansions.

Vernice, the oldest, was one of a pair of girl twins, and so sweetly affectionate towards all that even strangers were affected, and even the misanthrope was won. Rare and radiant little maiden that she was, with a strange abandon that laughed at conventionality, she climbed into the hearts of all who came near to her without even saying by your leave, and not only so, but with just as little formality took up her residence there. Perhaps more than one who observed her artless way of doing things, and her habit of taking things for granted for love's sake, has been reminded, like the writer, of our Savior's words, "Of such is the kingdom of heaven," while those nearest to her deemed that the inhabitant of some brighter sphere had come to dwell in their hearts and home. We thought, when we laid her to rest under the banks of lovely flowers—"loveliest flower of them all"—that, like the Lord she had learned to love, our little Vernice was not dead, but risen, for has it not been recorded ages ago, and is it not eternally true, that "love can never die?"

Prentiss was the only boy in our brother's home, and just a baby boy, but perhaps no one ever saw him without envying the happy parents something of the joy that must have come to them with the possession of this treasure. The look of a philosopher blent with the smile of an angel would describe his features, and in his whole appearance and manner there was a prophecy of greatness which will somehow and somewhere be realized, for it was a rare soul that looked out from those quiet eyes upon the great world-sphinx, as if to solve its riddle with a glance.

That our Father in heaven loved such as these with a love that could not endure their absence is our way of accounting for the mysterious providence that took them from the embraces of earthly parents, and from a destiny apparently as bright as that shadowed by any lovely dawn. With hearts so full of love, they could not have resisted the attraction of the great Love sphere, and at that infinite period of bliss they await the coming of the heart-treasures left behind. That any part of our affectional being should be buried in their graves is a mishap of which surely no account could be taken in the other world, and for which only blundering doubt could be held to account in this. No, if we read our Bibles aright, and heed the monitions of the great Spirit sent to instruct us in all mysteries of the realm of love, we shall find these treasures again in "the sweet by and by," and in "the Father's house over the way." Meantime, as parents, relatives, loved ones all, we will hasten away with quicker tread from the companionship of the dying and the dead to greet their immortal spirits in that bright abode where no pestilence can come, and where no winds of grief can blow.

"Beckoning hands of the little ones gone,
Baby voice calling, 'Oh, father, come home!'
Hands of a brother, a sister, a friend,
Out from the gateway to-night they extend.
Beautiful hands, beckoning, hands,
Calling the dear ones to heavenly lands:
Beautiful, beautiful, beckoning hands."

J. M. BEARD.

TROTTER—Little FLOYD, son of Mr. Jas. T. and Mrs. Lucy E. Trotter, was born Sept. 16, 1891, and died at his home, near Sardis, Miss., June 21, 1900. His sickness was only a few days' length, during which medical skill, devoted hearts and friendly hands afforded all the help they could; but he is not, "for God took him." Thus the painful shadow fell on a bright and happy home. This is the first one of a large family claimed by death. It was indeed a happy family. Each member cherished the sacred privileges and royal benefits of home. They were devoted to each other's society and welfare, so that we do not ask, Will one be missed from so many? but say, How great the bereavement felt by so many! Owing to the illness of the pastor, a former pastor, Rev. A. Kendall, was called, and after our Methodist burial service the body of little Floyd was left in mother earth's bosom, while his spirit enjoyed the beauty and fragrance of celestial glory, and the bereaved turned sadly homeward, yet by faith looking through tears at the rainbow of divine promise. May the peace of God fill their minds and hearts, and may each member of the family, by a living faith in Christ, be again united with the little loved one!

BEN P. JACO, P. C.

MURPHY—Died near Fort Jessup, Sabine parish, La., May 29, 1900, ROBERT MURPHY, son of Rev. H. C. and Jessie Murphy. He was born Feb. 15, 1882, making him at death eighteen years three months and fourteen days old. He joined the M. E. Church, South, at Holly Grove in the year 1896. Robert had been afflicted nearly all his life, and suffered, no doubt, more than anyone was aware of; but he bore it all patiently, and we have reason to believe, from his dying testimony, he is now at rest, for in his last words he said it was all right; if the Lord had need for him, he was ready to depart; that all things worked together for good to them that love the Lord.

The writer of this was well acquainted with Robert, and knew him to be a dutiful boy, ever found in his place at church and Sunday-school, and to know he is with us no more makes me feel sad. We know something of the trial of having to give up a precious boy.

May the Lord sustain the parents and bereaved ones, and help them to say from the depth of their hearts, "The Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord!" JOHN FRANKLIN, L. P.

MCNEELY—Died at 4:15 P. M., on Friday, July 13, 1900, GUY CARRADINE, infant son of J. H. and Ollie McNeely, of Colfax, La. He was born March 23, 1899; departed this life aged one year three months and twenty days.

With tearful eyes and aching hearts they fold the baby's hands, and watch its peaceful slumber. Their only comfort is in the promises of Him who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me." Yet, while we join in sympathy for the bereaved parents and loved ones, we know they do not grieve as those who have no hope.

Little Guy was one of the sweetest spirited babies I ever knew. In my absence Rev. A. W. Turner, of Boyce, came up and conducted the funeral service. The remains were borne to the grave with Christian resignation, and he was given back to God. "The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." As a light in the window of heaven, he beckons us up higher.

H. S. JOUNA, Pastor.

LEDBETTER—LEON THOMAS LEDBETTER, son of L. S. and Ida B. Ledbetter, was born in Crawford, Miss., Aug. 19, 1883, and died July 11, 1900.

He was an obedient and affectionate son, a kind and generous brother, and commanded the esteem of all who knew him. He was reared in a Christian home, and early imbibed its influence. He united with the Methodist Church in 1895, and was a regular attendant at church and Sunday-school. He was a clean young man; no evil habit stained his character. His last illness was so sudden and severe, he spoke not of his departure; but we doubt not that the Savior to whom he had dedicated his life was with him to the end.

May the heart-broken father and mother and sister and brother find the promised grace sufficient for them in this bitterest experience that has ever entered their home! is the prayer of their pastor, P. E. DUNCAN.

GRIFFIN—Mrs. NANNIE A. GRIFFIN (nee Currey) was born in Hinds county, Miss., July 24, 1832, and died at her home in Jackson parish, La., May 14, 1900.

Aunt Ann, as she was commonly called, was converted in early life, and joined the M. E. Church, South, in which communion she lived a consistent member until her death. She was a member of a large and influential family. Her paternal grandfather was Dudley Currey, of Fairfield district, S. C.; her maternal grandfather was Stephen Heard, of Hinds county, Miss. She has gone, and as relatives and friends mourn her loss, let us not mourn as those who have no hope.

B. H. SHEPPARD.

Deafness Can Not Be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists; 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

To think of religion in any other sense than as a state of self-denial in knowing not living at all of it, for its whole nature is to direct us by a light, and knowledge, and wisdom from God, which is all contrary to the darkness, ignorance, and folly of our natures.—Law.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa Twenty-five cents a bottle.

We may stand and knock at man's hearts till our own ache, but no opening till Christ come. He can fit a key to all the cross wards of the will, and with sweet efficacy open it, and that without any force or violence to it.—Flavel.

Her His Face
Her face was marred with freckles, his face was sore from shaving. Both were quickly cured with Heiskell's Ointment
the specific for all skin disorders, slight or severe. 50 cents a box.
Heiskell's Soap
Keeps the skin soft, smooth and healthy. Price 25 cents. Sample free.
Johnston, Holloway & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

QUININE THROW AWAY
YOUR QUININE PILLS
and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of
CHILLIFUGE
will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.
Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.
FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

VIRGINIA COLLEGE

FOR YOUNG LADIES. ROANOKE, VIRGINIA.

Opens Sept. 18, 1900. One of the leading Schools for Young Ladies in the South. Magnificent Buildings, with all modern improvements. Steam heat, electric light. Bath and toilet rooms on every floor. Campus of ten acres. Grand mountain scenery in Valley of Virginia, far-famed for health. Twenty-five American and European teachers. Thorough courses leading to Degrees of B. A., and M. A. Unsurpassed advantages in Music, Art and all branches. Students from 30 States. For catalogues address

MATTIE P. HARRIS, President, Roanoke, Virginia.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to September, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to September, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to October, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

BELMONT COLLEGE FOR YOUNG WOMEN, Nashville, Tenn.

Regent, Rev. R. A. Young, D. D., LL.D. Principals: Miss Hood, Miss Heron

"THE IDEAL COLLEGE HOME OF THE SOUTH." Suburban and city life combined. Electric cars to North entrance. Attractions of Park pursuits to out-door exercise. Eight schools in the hands of skilled specialists. Schools of Music, Art and Elocution employ methods of best Conservatories in this country and abroad. Diplomas conferred by schools. Lecture course studiously selected. Best lectures, concerts, recitals, etc., literally patronized. Christian influences. Students attend church of their choice in city. Send for handsomely illustrated blue and bronze Catalogue and other College Literature. (Students from 34 States.)

New Machine Offer.

IMPERIAL No. 4

THE IMPERIAL HIGH-ARM SINGER will be found the perfection of mechanism as regards simplicity, durability and adaptability to the wide range of work embraced in the general family needs.

A Handsome, Light-Running, Lock-Stitch, High-Arm Machine that will not fail to please the most fastidious. Embracing all the advantages with all desirable improvements of other first-class sewing machines, so simple in mechanism that the most inexperienced need no assistance in operating it. Book of instructions with every machine. Any child can learn to run it.

Extra Set of Attachments also free with each machine, consisting of the following: One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to ½ of an inch. One Binder and One Thread Cutter.

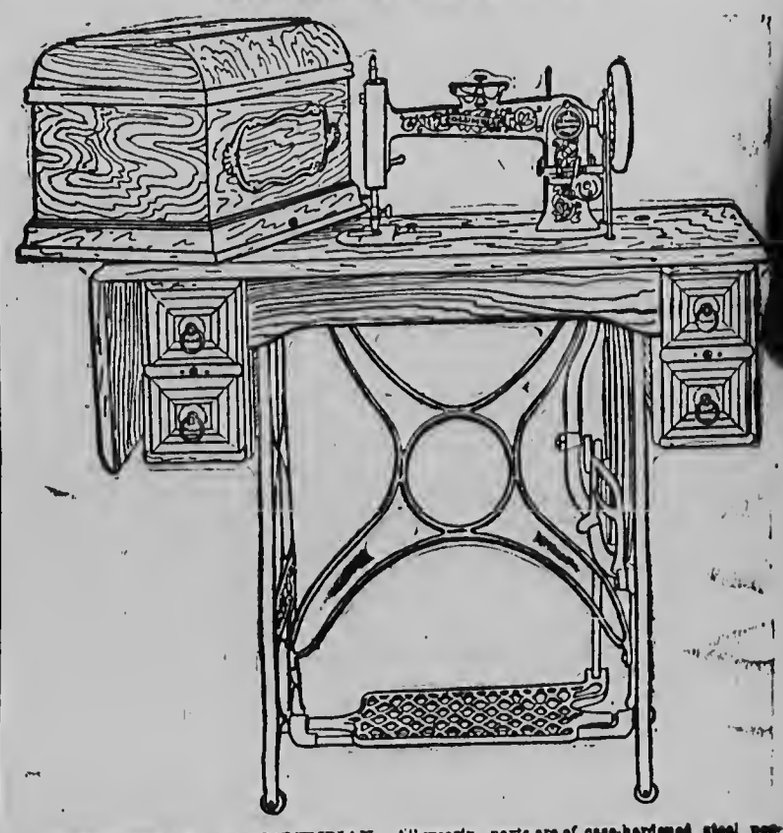
No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $22. Our price, $14.75.

No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $25. Our price, $15.50.

No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of three drawers at each end, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $26. Our price, $16.25.

Furnished Free with every machine are the following named accessories: One Foot Hemmer, One Screw Driver, One Wrench, One Oil Can and Oil, One Gauge Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins and One Instruction Book.

Columbian No. 4.



EXCELLENCE OF THE COLUMBIAN.—All wearing parts are of case-hardened steel possessing great durability, and by the turning of a screw all lost motion caused by wear can be taken up. All parts are fitted so accurately that the machines are absolutely noiseless, and as easy running as fine adjustment and best mechanical skill is possible to produce. No expense or time is spared to make them perfect in every respect, as every machine passes a rigid inspection by competent men before leaving the factory.

NICKEL PLATED.—The balance wheel and many of the fine parts are nickel-plated, with other parts finely enameled and ornamented, giving it a rich appearance.

A Self-Setting Needle and Self-Threading Cylinder Shuttle are used in the Columbian High-Arm Sewing Machine. They are so simple that any one can easily operate them in a few minutes' time, as our Instruction Book is fully illustrated, showing how to do all kinds of fancy work with attachments.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

ADDITIONAL ACCESSORIES.—Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screw Driver, Oil Can with Oil, Cloth Gauge and Thumb Screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated, and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

No. 3—Drop leaf, Bent cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $29. Our price, $17.

No. 4—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $31. Our price, $17.75.

No. 5—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making a seven-drawer machine. Dealer's price, $33. Our price, $18.50.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address REV. W. C. BLACK,
612 Camp St., New Orleans.

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

Epworth Organs are extra good organs

THEY cost more to make than the common kind. But our direct-from-factory selling saves the middle dealer's expense. By saving in the selling, we put more in the making. Customer gets benefit of better organ, or the lower price—or both. The more people know how good the Epworth is—and how we deal—the more our business grows. Write today for catalogue and factory prices. Mention this paper.
WILLIAMS ORGAN & PIANO COMPANY
Methodist Book Concern Building. Chicago

PATENTS

promptly procured, OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch, or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U. S. and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks," FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 28 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The town of Alvin, Tex., has been destroyed by the storm.

Rice crops in lower Plaquemines parish was severely damaged by the storm.

Mayor Capdevielle will not sign permits for a bar room within 300 feet of a school-house or a church.

Li Hung Chang has made a request for an American escort to accompany him on his journey to Peking.

Great damage has been done to the banana plantations in Jamaica by torrential rain and wind storms.

The Sunday law was enforced rigorously on Aug. 9 in New Orleans and in the parishes of Jefferson and St. Bernard.

The police of Rome have secured information from America that the anarchists have condemned the Pope to death.

A Santa Fe train was wrecked at Alvin, Tex., on Saturday night. Seven persons were killed and a large number injured.

Ex-President Cleveland will, according to the Boston Traveler, declare himself in favor of the election of Bryan within the next few days.

An unparalleled storm raged at Port Eads. Board walks, wharves and galleries were washed away and houses were knee deep in water.

The French Government believes the anarchists are planning to kill every crowned head in Europe. There is great activity among the secret police of that country.

The steamer "China," which sailed for Hong Kong from San Francisco, carried nearly $1,500,000 in gold and silver currency for the United States troops in China.

Brig.-Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, commanding the Eastern Department of Cuba, arrived at New York on Sept. 7. He is on a leave of absence, and will visit his home in Virginia.

Farms and rice fields in the southeastern section of the State were reported as having suffered heavily from the wind. Twenty-five per cent. of the harvested rice was reported ruined.

Ex-President Cleveland has declined the President's appointment as a member of the International Board of Arbitration under The Hague treaty. Ex-President Harrison has accepted the appointment.

At a meeting of cotton spinners held in Manchester, England, it was decided not to purchase American spot cotton during the month of September. There will be another meeting of spinners on Sept. 21, when the situation will again be considered.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, military commander of the Department of the East, in Cuba, declined to discuss politics upon his arrival in New York, but stated that "hostile feeling against Americans in Cuba was more intense than he had ever known it to be."

Councilman Zacharie has introduced an ordinance providing for an adequate cleaning of the streets of New Orleans. Councilman Stanley has signified his intention of introducing an ordinance providing for separate cars for white and colored people on the street railway lines.

Ease and Disease.

A SHORT LESSON ON THE MEANING OF A FAMILIAR WORD.

Disease is the opposite of ease. Webster defines disease as "lack of ease, uneasiness, trouble, vexation, disquiet." It is a condition due to some derangement of the physical organism. A vast majority of the "dis-ease" from which people suffer is due to impure blood. Disease of this kind is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies, enriches, and vitalizes the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, pimples, and all eruptions. It tones the stomach and creates a good appetite, and it gives vigor and vitality to the whole body. It reverses the condition of things, giving health, comfort and "ease" in place of "disease."

Damage at Houston is estimated at $250,000.

The United States is preparing to pursue an independent policy in China. The American troops may be withdrawn from all points in China and negotiations started with the imperial government for a settlement of questions at issue irrespective of what other nations may do.

Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, now serving a term in the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth for alleged frauds committed while in charge of the harbor work in the bay at Savannah, Ga., will apply to Judge Thayer of the United States Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus.

Negotiations looking to some compromise arrangement for the withdrawal of the forces of the allies from Peking are in progress. The latest proposition is that the main body of troops be withdrawn, but that an international guard be left in Peking to protect the legations.

The great tropical storm, which was reported off the coast of Florida on Wednesday, reached New Orleans and the southern coast of Louisiana on Sept. 7. The city was flooded, but no fatal accident was reported. A schooner was wrecked on Lake Pontchartrain. Two lives were lost seventy-one miles south of the city on the Mississippi river.

Ex-President Cleveland, it is said, will shortly follow the example of former members of his Cabinet and write a letter giving his views on the presidential campaign. While he is not expected to come out openly and advocate the election of Mr. Bryan, his attacks on the administration policies will, it is thought, leave the impression that he favors Mr. Bryan's election.

The West Indian storm, that centered on the Texas coast on Saturday, deluged Galveston, demolished 4000 homes, killed 2000 persons, destroyed the Orphan Asylum and two hospitals, wrecked the grain elevators and a large number of vessels, completely submerged the city and cut off all telegraphic, telephone and railway communication. In addition to the Galveston disaster the storm is believed to have caused the death of 200 people and done $8,000,000 damage to property elsewhere in Texas.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.
Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.
For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.
For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure.
For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.
Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.
50c and $1 bottles at druggists.
Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. REV. C. C. DAVIS,
Eld. M. E. Church, South,
No. 28 Tatnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth. I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.
R. L. ROCCO,
206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. BEALL,
Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

Cheap Excursion to Denver and Colorado Springs.

On Sept. 3 and 17 the Texas and Pacific railway will sell round-trip tickets to points in Colorado at $39.30, good to return until Oct. 31. Apply at office of T. and P. road, 207 St. Charles St.
A. S. GRAHAM, P. & T. A.

For Sale at a Bargain.

A scholarship in Mooney's School Franklin, Tenn.
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Positions Guaranteed.

We guarantee a good paying position to all music students who graduate at our Conservatory of Music. It is now the largest in the South, with 9 able music teachers and 242 music students, with a great German pianist at its head. Literary courses in connection. Work compares favorably with that done at Boston or Cincinnati, and not one fourth the cost.
For catalogue write to
J. W. BEESON, Pres.,
Meridian, Miss.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Iuka Normal Institute, the pioneer normal of the South, manipulated by Pres. H. A. Dean, who is widely known as one of the foremost, common-sense educators in the land. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

MARRIAGES.

CROSS-YOUNG.—In the Pleasant Valley Church, Webster parish, La., Aug. 12, by Rev. H. Armstrong, Mr. Andrew Cross and Miss Della Young.

KNIGHT—JOHNSON.—At the residence of the officiating minister, Sprig Hill, La., Sept. 5, 1900, by Rev. H. Armstrong, Mr. Ed R. Knight and Miss Corn L. Johnson.

RICE—STONE.—In the city of New Orleans, at 1022 Canal street, Sept. 5, 1900, by Rev. J. W. Lee, Mr. Jno. W. Rice, of Melville, La., and Miss Neva M. Stone, of Galliopolis, Ohio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stone.

COSTLEY—MULLINS.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Ellison Mullins, Sept. 5, 1900, by Rev. R. A. Sibley, Jr., Dr. Linfield Costley and Miss Sallie L. Mullins, all of Franklin county, Miss.

NOTICE.

Our eighteenth annual camp meeting begins at Palmer, Oct. 5, and will continue six or ten days, owing to the interest of the meeting. There will be a public tent on the ground, where meals can be had for twenty-five cents, and lodging twenty-five cents. Anyone wishing to come will get off the train at Wortham, where they will be met by hacks. Call for reduced rates at G. and S. I. R. R.
R. B. BELLEW.
Sanolere, Miss.

Palmer Camp Meeting.

Palmer Camp Meeting will begin on Oct. 5, and continue ten days. Good people, good preaching, and great revivals of spiritual religion, and baptisms of the Holy Ghost and fire, are some of the characteristics of this historic camp ground.

Those who expect to attend this camp meeting will come via the Gulf and Ship Island railroad. Buy tickets to Redmond Crossing. Hacks will meet all trains at this point. Preachers—local and itinerant—are cordially invited to attend this great meeting. G. W. HUFF, P. C.
Wool Market, Miss., Sept. 8, 1900.

If you feel "All Played Out"
Take Horsford's Acid Phosphate.
It repairs broken nerve force, clears the brain, and strengthens the stomach.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Okolona station	Sept. 2, 3
Houston and Wesley, at Houston	8, 9
Tupelo station	10, 17
Okoloea circuit, at Egypt	22, 23
Buena Vista cir., at Pleasant Grove	29, 30
Montpelior circuit, at Pinestine	Oct. 6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie	0
Shaneon circuit, at Shannon	13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona	15
Tremont circuit, at Hopewell	20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem	27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov. 3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton	5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar	10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Soule's Chapel	17, 18
Aberdeen station	25, 20

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sardis	Sept. 15, 16
Como	22, 23
Senatobia	29, 30
Arkabutla, at Brooke	Oct. 5
Cold Water	6, 7
Batesville	13, 14
Courtland, at Pepes	20, 21
Burges, at Love Joy	20
Eureka, at Mt. Olivet	27, 28
Hernando	Nov. 3, 4
Loegtown	8, 9
Pt. Grove	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's	17, 18
Wall Hill	23
Cockrum	24, 25
Tyro	Dec. 1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Water Valley—Wood Street	Sept. 1, 2
Oxford station	8, 9
Grenada station	15, 16
Grenada circuit	22, 23
Tocopola circuit	29, 30
Paris circuit	Oct. 6, 7
Pittsboro circuit	13, 14
Eizy circuit	15
Slate Springs circuit	20, 21
East Grenada circuit	22
Coffeeville circuit	27, 28
Mieter City	Nov. 3, 4
Charleston	10, 11
Cascilla	12
Water Valley circuit	17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street	24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec. 1, 2

R. G PORTER, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.
(In Part.)

Shaw	Sept. 16, 17
Boyle	23, 24
Shipman	20, 30

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

West Point	Sept. 2, 3
Starkville station	9, 10
Macon	10, 17
Shuqualak, at Salem	22, 23
Winstonville, at Hickory Grove	26
Hebron, at Hebron	29, 30
Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct. 6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity	13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel	20, 21
Tibbee, at Mayhew	27, 28
Columbus station	Nov. 4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill	17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs	28
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conference take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona station	Sept. 8, 9
Greenwood station	15, 16
Valden circuit, at Valdee	22, 23
Carrollton and Mcanerny, at Mc-Acerny	29, 30
Winona circuit, at New Hope	Oct. 6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb	13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona	20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green	27, 28
Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov. 3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt	10, 11
Carrollton, at Edoe	17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead	24, 25
Indianola	Dec. 1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sallis, at Bethel	Sept. 15, 16
Tom Nolee, at Tom Nolee	22, 23
Eupora, at Enporn	29, 30
Chesterlaed, at Shady Grove	26
Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct. 6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula	13, 14
Belzone, at Belzona	20, 21
Kosciusko station	7 P. M. 28
Kosciusko circuit, at Smyrna	27, 28
Ethel, at Tabernacle	Nov. 1
Ackerman, at Salem	3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel	10, 11
Chester	17, 18
Lonisville	24, 25
Rural Hill	27
Pickens	Dec. 1, 2
Durant	7 P. M. 2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Missionary Institute, at Pelahatchie. Tues. and Wed.	Oct. 16, 17
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro	Thurs. 18
Carthage, at Carthage	Sat. and Sun. 20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland	Tues. 23
Neshoba, at Pine Grove	Thurs. 25
Indian Mission, at Tail-Chulok	Sat. and Sun. 27, 28
Decatur, at	Tues. 30
Vaiden and Heidelberg, at Vossburg	Sat. and Sun. Nov. 3, 4
Ross Hill, at Paulding	Sat. and Sun. 10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose	Tues. 13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville	Sat. and Sun. 17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton	Tues. 20
Shiloh, at Shiloh	Thurs. 22
New and Hickory, at Newton	Sun. and Mon. 25, 20
Chunkey, at Chunkey	Tues. 27
Lake, at Lawrence	Wed. 28
Morton, at Pelahatchie	Sun. and Mon Dec. 2, 3
Forest, at Forest	Sun and Mon. 0 10

Registers and Records not presented at the third Quarterly Conference will be called for. The pastors will greatly oblige me by seeing that Ques. — is fully answered by the trustees, and that the committees appointed to inventory parsonage furniture, etc., present written reports. Let all co-operate to bring up full financial reports. Let there be no deficit. Let every Sunday-school observe Missionary Rally Day. And be sure to let the Twentieth Century Movement have full sway during this last quarter. Oct. Thanksgiving Day remember our Orphans' Home.

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lumberton and Poplarville, at Poplarville	Sept. 10
Ellisville and Laurel, at Ellisville	15, 16
Biloxi, at Biloxi	29, 30
Coalville, at Palmer Camp Ground	Oct. 6, 7
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground	13, 14
Williamsburg, at Williamsburg	20
East Covington, at Emtneece	21
Vacoleave, at New Prospect	27, 28
Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov. 2
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington	3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port	11, 12
Queen Springs and Scraeton, at Ocean Springs	17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins	24
Bay St Louis	25, 26
Moss Point	Dec. 1
Escatawpa, at Zion	2
Columbia, at Columbia	7
Purvis, at Purvis	8, 9
Hattiesburg	10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Meridian—Central	Sept. 15, 16
Meridian—West End	16, 17
Meridian—East End	Wed. 10
Lauderdale, at Bethel	23, 24
Meridian—South Side	Wed. 20
Wayne, at Sprig Hill	29, 30
Porterville, at Porterville	Wed. Oct. 3
Winchester, at Winchester	6, 7
Leakesville, at Breland's Chapel	13, 14
Waynesboro, at Waynesboro	Wed. 17
DeKalb, at New Hope	20, 21
North Kemper, at Mellen	Mon. 21
Enterprise, at Enterprise	27, 28
Pachuta, at DeSoto	Nov. 3, 4
Binesville, at Scooba	10, 11
Vicville, at Marion	17, 18
Mathersville, at Wiefred	24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon. 26
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec. 1, 2
Daleville, at	8, 0

G. A. GUICE, P. E.

Uneeda Quartet

There is a medley of good qualities in the Uneeda Quartet, a delicious blending of healthfulness, stability and flavor. This is the first appearance of the new members—Uneeda Milk Biscuit and Uneeda Graham Wafer. Two wholesome delicacies, with all the merit that made the fame of Uneeda Biscuit and Uneeda Jinjer Wafer. This completes the Uneeda Quartet.
National Biscuit Company.

Money Is Made Operating Saw Mills on Southern Rivers!

BUT MALARIA, CHILLS AND FEVERS AND GENERAL BAD HEALTH AMONG THE WORKERS MUST BE OVERCOME, ESPECIALLY IN THE FALL MONTHS.

"I employed 100 hands on the Savannah River, and there was great loss of time on account of sickness. I procured Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic and put the men on it. In a short time everyone of the men were well, and reported for duty. Only once afterwards did we need a doctor, and that was to attend an injured man." J. B. LASSITER, Hardeeville, S. C

Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic Cures. Use No Other; It's All You Need.

A. B. GIRARDEAU, SOLE MANUFACTURER, SAVANNAH, GA

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.
(In Part.)

Gloster	Sept 15, 16
Centerville	23, 24
Fayette	20, 30

Trustees will please have their reports according to the Discipline.

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas	Oct 6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon	13, 14
Canton	14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street	20, 21
Terry, at Byram	27, 28
Silver Creek	Nov. 3, 4
Lake City	4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope	10, 11
Beeton, at Midway	11, 12
Tranquil	17, 18
Yazoo City	18, 19
Camden	24, 25
Faunin	Dec. 1, 2
Brandon station	2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues. 4
Steen's Creek	8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Providence, at Camp Ground	Sept 1, 2
Westville, at	8, 9
Mt Carmel, at	10
Pearl, at Mt. Moriah	11
Caseyville, at Bethesda	15, 16
Summit, at Johnston	22, 23
Lincoln, at Bethel	29, 30
Tylertown, at Water Holes	Oct. 0, 7
Adams, at Pisgah	9

Let the preachers in charge see to it that the books are on hand, that Ques. 20 may be fully answered. Please do not entrust this matter to anybody.

H. WALTER FEATHERSTON, P. E.

Brookhaven, Miss.

VICKSBURG DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Hermanville	Sept 1, 2
Warren	8, 9
Anguilla	15, 16
Rolling Fork	16
Utica	22, 23
Satartia	29, 30

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Algiers	7:30 p. m. Sept. 23
Felicity Street	11 a. m. 30
Werlein Mission	7:30 p. m. 30
Carrollton Avenue	Oct. 7
Louisiana Avenue	14
Dryades Street	21
Covington	28
Slidell	Nov. 4
Parker Memorial	11
Plaquemine	18
Rayne Memorial	25
White Castle	Dec. 2
Carondelet Street	11 a. m. 9
Burgundy Street	7:30 p. m. 9

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lecompte and West Alexandria	Sept. 22, 23
Mellville, at Mellville	29, 30
Simsport, at Simsport	Oct. 1, 2
Olla and Pollock, at Summerville	5, 0
Jena, at Froech Fork	13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground	20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce	23, 24
Columbia, at Boeuf River	28, 20
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov. 3, 4
Dry Creek	10, 11
Winfield, at Atlaeta	15, 16
Montgomery, at Montgomery	17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent	24, 25
Brookie	Dec. 1, 2
Alexandria	8, 9

J. D. HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mooringsport, at Mooringsport	Sept 15, 16
North Bossier, at Emma	19
First Church, at 11 A. M.	23
Texas Avenue, at 8 P. M.	23
Bentoe, at Bentoe	26
Pleasant Hill, at Provencal	29, 30
Logansport, at Logansport	Oct. 3
Red River, at Campo Bello	6, 7
Caddo, at Greenwood	10
Wesley, at Campti	13, 14
Florien, at Holly Grove	20, 21
Coushatta, at Coushatta	24
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane	27, 28
Many, at Many	Nov. 3, 4
South Bossier, at Allentown	10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle	17, 18
Pelican, at Bethel	24, 25
Leesville	Dec 2
Manafield	9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

AROADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lisbon, at Sumnerfield	Sept. 29, 30
Farmerville, at Marion	Oct. 6, 7
Downsville, at Downsville	9
Calhoun, at Indian Village	13, 14
Simsboro, at Salem	19
Gilmlaed, at Foster's Chapel	20, 21
Lauesville, at Pine Grove	27, 28
Vernoe, at Wesley Chapel	Nov. 3, 4
Bienville, at Bienville	10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley	17, 18
Minden	19
Haynesville	23
Homer, at Homer	24, 25
Ruston	Dec. 1, 2
Ganeville	7
Arcadia, at Arcadia	9, 10

Local preachers and exhorters will be expected to have written reports. Let the secretaries of Church Conferences be present with their church registers and records of Church Conferences for examination, as the law requires.

B. T. OREWS, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson	Aug. 30
Baton Rouge—First Church	31-Sept. 2
Baton Rouge circuit	30-Sept. 2
Live Oak, at Palmetto	4, 5
Port Vincent, at Manrepas	7-9
Ponchatoula, at Springfield	10, 11
Franklinton, at Mt. Hermon	15, 16
Kentwood, at Tangipahoa	16, 19
St. Helena, at Day's Church	19, 20
Amite City	21-23
Wilson, at Pine Grove	28-30
Clinton	Oct. 2, 3
Baker, at Brookstowe	4
St. Francisville, at Tunica	6, 7
Illoff Creek Camp Meeting	Aug. 17-26

Let there be full written reports in answer to Ques. 13, 15 and 18. Wherever possible, let the cause of the American Bible Society be presented during the quarter. In answer to Ques. 20, let all the Church Registers be produced, and ample time will be allowed for a thorough inspection of same. Let there be full reports upon the Twentieth Century Thank-offering.

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Indian Bayou, at Bethel	Sept. 1, 2
Prudhomme, at Long Point	8, 9
Plaquemine Brule, at P. B.	15, 16
Crowley	22, 23
Lake Arthur	20, 30
Grand Chenlere	Oct. 6, 7
Lake Charles	13, 14
West Lake	20, 21

Special attention is called to questions to be called at these third Conferences.

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Waterproof, at Wesley	Sept. 1, 2
Bonita, at Jones	8, 9
Monroe	9, 10
Floyd, at Oak Grove	15, 16
Delhi	22, 23

J. M. HENRY, P. E.

BELHAVEN COLLEGE (For Young Ladies), JACKSON, MISS.

One of the most thoroughly equipped High Grade Schools in the South. Buildings new and modern, heated by steam and lighted with electricity. Bath rooms for hot and cold water on all floors. Beautiful campus of twelve acres of native forest trees. No school for girls in the South can show such a health record. During the past Winter, noted for epidemics of pneumonia, la grippe, measles and small-pox all over the State, there was not a single case of any of the above diseases or any serious case of sickness of any kind, in the college. The Faculty is composed of specialists in all departments. In Music, Elocution and Art the College offers exceptionally fine advantages. The authorities of the New England Conservatory of Music and Elocution say: "Of all our pupils from the South, those from Belhaven College stand not only in the highest rank in their classes, but are regarded, without exception, as possessing those womanly traits of character and that degree of intellectual development which command instant respect and admiration." Next session begins October 1st, 1900. For our beautiful catalogue, address
L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., President.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 38. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2300

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Humanity is higher than any man-made law. The President had no legal authority for ordering 1,000 army tents and 50,000 rations issued to the Texas storm sufferers, but he acted in the name of humanity, knowing that Congress, without a dissenting voice, would approve the extending of timely aid to the Texas sufferers. Miss Clara Barton, president of the Red Cross, was equally prompt in putting the mechinery of that organization in operation to do, as she said in her appeal for contributions, "faithful, old-time Red Cross relief work among the stricken victims of these terrible fields of suffering and death." The response to her appeal shows that the public agrees with her that "he gives twice who gives quickly." Acting Secretary of the Treasury Spaulding has ordered the revenue cutters stationed at Norfolk and Wilmington to proceed to Galveston, stopping en route at Mobile, from which place they will carry free of charge all supplies donated for the storm sufferers. The commissioners of the District of Columbia have issued an appeal for contributions of money and supplies of all sorts for the sufferers, and the owners of a large building have generously placed it at the disposal of the commissioners, to store the supplies until a sufficient quantity to make up a train-load are accumulated. The supplies will be carried to Galveston free by the railroads.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the District of Columbia held its twelfth annual meeting this week at Calvary Baptist Church. The annual reports show a small gain, both in the number of societies and the total membership, there being now 4,276 active, 712 associate, and 646 honorary members. The Presbyterian societies, which are the largest, lead in total gifts to missions and other benevolent works from active members during the past year, with the Congregationalists a close second, the record being as follows: Presbyterian, $3,088; Congregational, $3 048; Lutheran, $2,179; Methodist Protestant, $2,005; Christian, $1,350; Baptist, $1,446; United Brethren, $946; Methodist Episcopal, $805.

The Department of State has been officially informed of the signing of the protocol for the arbitration of the claims of United States citizens for the seizure of vessels in the North Pacific Ocean for alleged illegal sealing by the government of Russia. This brings to a satisfactory close negotiations which have covered a period of five or six years, and is another step towards the hoped-for time when all international differences will be settled by arbitration.

Dr. Nelson Millard, who again filled the pulpit of the Church of the Covenant, Sunday, preached on "God's Fourfold Relation of Himself in Nature," from a fourfold text—Job xxviii, 5; St. Matthew vi, 28; Psalms civ, and Proverbs xiii, 21. He said, in part: "God so regulates natural forces as to produce at the same time, and by the same laws, conscience for our physical natures, science for our minds, morality for our souls, and beauty for our esthetic natures. Nature's beauty stirs thankfulness and praise; her science awakens our admiration and wonder at the wisdom of God; morality awakens our devotion and worship. These four in combination furnish a powerful thesis for an argument as to the wonderful goodness of God. Let us not look on this goodly land our Father has given us as a garden, but rather look on it as appreciative worshipers. Since God knows his own works, and has made the earth so fair and so beautiful for us, it should appear only the soul of glory. The most impressive thing that can be said about heaven is that we can form no idea of it, and it stands adequately for the future home of our souls."

The Chinese minister submitted to Acting Secretary of State Hill an imperial edict directing Li Hung Chang, who is still in Shanghai, to proceed to Pekin to co-operate with Prince Ching in the peace negotiations with the allied powers, and asked in the name of Li Hung Chang that a United States vessel be designated to carry him from Shanghai to Tekn. The answer was noncommittal as to the edict, and ignored the request for a ship. Gen. Chaffee has asked for instructions as to what answer he shall make to the demands of the missionaries concerning the native Christians, in case he is ordered to withdraw his troops from China, as he may be at any time, he having been notified a week ago to hold himself in readiness to carry out such an order at any time. The demand of the missionaries is that the Chinese Christians shall be taken from Pekin under the protection of the United States troops, and be guaranteed against future ill-treatment from the Chinese, or be taken in safety to some place outside of China. It was stated at the time the allied forces entered Pekin that there were about 3,000 native Christians sheltered in the several foreign legations, and the number is more likely to have increased than decreased since then. It is, of course, fair to presume that no settlement will be accepted by the allied powers that does not include present and future protection for the Christian Chinese, although they seem to have the idea that the United States troops are their only real protectors.

Washington, Sept. 12, 1900.

CENTENARY CONFIDENT.

As a guest of the president, we were privileged to preach to the students in the chapel at 11 A. M., and in the church at 8 P. M., Sept. 9. It is a fine body of young men in every particular.

One hundred and eight students enrolled Sept. 10, and pledges assuring 130 by the end of the week. The best opening for many a year is the judgment of conservatives. Cotton is king, and Centenary will be conqueror.

The grounds and buildings are a delight to the eye, displaying fine taste and large expenditure. The chapel has been so renovated as to make it second to none in the State. Improvement is the order of the day, and we have in the dear old college the miracle of a better resurrection to newness of life. The prophets of disaster must quit the business.

Profs. Northott, Lynch, Sullivan, Evans, Linfield, Upton, Carre and Cooper are capable, consecrated and conspicuous in character and teaching talents.

The Y. M. C. A. has a corps of personal workers of intense zeal, who enjoy a rich opportunity in polishing diamonds in the rough for insertion in the crown of life. Their room is well equipped for its blessed purposes. The Franklin and Union Societies are on the still hunt for literary and oratorical finds. The Fraternities have every "barbarian" spotted worthy of initiation.

We had the pleasure of meeting some noble lads glad to perform menial services to secure the means of pursuing an education in her elusive flight up the royal pathway of learning.

In such a courteous and stimulating atmosphere the mind which can not be awakened to high endeavor must be thrice dull, dead and disconsolate. Dr. Cooper has grit, grace and go in him to such an extent as to be an inspiration to many, and invites sympathy in dollars and boys from all Louisiana Methodism.

H. W. RICKEY.

THE NEW PARSONAGE AT SUMMIT, MISS.

OUR NEW PARSONAGE HOME AT SUMMIT.

MR EDITOR: Many of your readers—especially former pastors and other residents of this section—will be glad to learn that we have completed the building of a handsome and very comfortable parsonage at this place. The old one was unfortunately situated, built almost on the ground, and having stood nearly thirty years the gnawings of time's tooth, was ready to decay; so early in January we began the agitation. Our sisters of the W. H. M. Society aided us with a loan of $400. The mill-men of adjacent towns and our own made liberal donations in material. Our people rallied nobly to the work—Jew and Gentile gave—till in cash and lumber we secured $1,100. A special plea, drawn by one of the heroines of the parsonage, was adopted by our thoughtful Building Committee. We secured the services of Mr. L. G. Chapman, of McComb City, as our builder. He has large experience in modern styles of hip-roof building. He made a nice and complete job in short time. Beginning July 16, he was able to turn over the house, ready for occupancy, Aug. 30. All material used is "A No. 1." Ceiling and wainscotting and flooring are unusually handsome; windows hung with weights; blinds roller-slatted throughout. All doors into hall from the galleries and bed-rooms have ample transoms with spring "lifts;" thus the old trouble of mounting chairs, etc., to regulate this part of ventilation is obviated. We have four living-rooms, dining-room, kitchen, pantry, waste-room, bath-room, hall, and two galleries; also a neat well-shed and platform from near kitchen door. The house is among fine shade trees, faces east, with no outside doors opening toward the north, and many openings southward. Thus we secure the largest measure of comfort for all seasons. We have fire-places, or grates, in all living-rooms, and stove-flues for dining-room and kitchen. Indeed, nothing is lacking for fullest comfort. As to looks, the picture shows for itself, but hardly does justice to the situation. One coat of paint will prevent decay till others can be applied. Means for this do not yet appear. Indeed, we must "compass sea and land" to pay for what is already done. The whole cost, including fencing, will reach $1,450. Of this $350 is yet unprovided for. As one means thereto, our good women are now publishing a special edition of our local paper, The Sentinel. Something is made on advertisements, but we greatly need the additions that ought to come from the sale of this really interesting and instructive literary venture. Some of the best talent of the Southern States is contributed. We urgently request all the brethren to whom copies may be sent to sell as many as possible for our good and needy cause. The balance may be given to those who are interested in choice literature, but unable to pay for it. Thus we might realize a neat sum on a 2,000 edition.

Brethren, please help us thus much. Your people will thank you for putting it before them.

Yours in hope, J. P. DRAKE.

Summit, Miss., Sept. 15, 1900.

Communications.

A NEW EDUCATIONAL MOVEMENT.

BY DOROTHY STILES.

During this month, when the doors of a hundred thousand schools are opening to receive the youth of the land, the mothers and fathers and ambitious young people who must stay at home are hungering for educational opportunities. They realize that, other things being equal, position, usefulness and happiness are in proportion to culture, and they long for some practical plans that will help them to turn their spare moments into school and college terms. Complex modern life and the battle for material existence leave the world no more of the old-time leisure for mental and spiritual culture. And so everywhere people are hungering for intellectual food and craving mental stimulus, and would be grateful for some plan that would offer guidance and help.

These reflections came to me forcibly during a delightful outing this year at Bay View, the great Summer educational center in Northern Michigan. I found there and studied a new educational movement, which I feel sure a great many readers of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will be glad to know about.

A few years ago Mr. J. M. Hall, a young lawyer in the city of Flint, Mich., was at the head of a large young people's Bible class, and in his desire to give the members a better prospect in life, he established a reading circle, which soon became widely known. Others from far and wide began calling for his plans, and to meet the growing demand for self-culture plans, the Bay View circle was established. Mr. Hall still remains at the head of the work, whose headquarters also remain at Flint, Mich.; but without courting publicity, the organization has not only spread over this country, but has entered Canada, Germany, China, and the Hawaii Islands. Mr. Hall's genius in conducting club studies is everywhere being recognized by the women's clubs, of which more than fifty have in the past few months adopted his course. The plans are simple, but there is intelligent system, and history, literature and travel are deftly joined in a reading journey of the most delightful character. I learned that last year the members were on a study tour of Russia and Holland, and that they will spend the coming year in England, Ireland, and Scotland.

During the Summer I often met at the annual gatherings at Bay View the members from many States, and always heard from them the most enthusiastic reports. The members were mostly, like myself, bread-winners, and the course has been carried on in the brief pauses in the day's occupation. But daily I heard in the elegant conversation and saw in the intelligent faces the marked transformation wrought when people read for a purpose.

This is not the place to enter into a description of the plans of the Bay View reading course. A card addressed to Mr. Hall will always secure them. I am concerned more in reviving the hope of the busy women and aspiring young people to again take up the pleasures of books and study, for which this reading course seems to me to offer the best practical plans.

I am sure a great many who are looking for feasible suggestions for Winter reading will thank the editor for publishing this article.

OUR ORPHANAGE AT WATER VALLEY.

MR EDITOR: On account of the extreme short crops throughout the State, I desire to impress upon the friends of our Orphans' Home the importance of a renewed effort in the collections for the Home. I wish to especially call the attention of our ministers to taking collections at small places where it will be impossible for our field agent, Bro. Griffin, to reach. I think our presiding elders should, at each Quarterly Conference, urge the great necessity of each minister bringing this cause before the people.

We have received much for which to be grateful, and I desire to thank the friends and contributors, irrespective of their religious creeds, in behalf of the Home, for their kind support, which has been the means of feeding, clothing, educating and uplifting more than a hundred children to a higher and brighter life. I think that when we earnestly and faithfully present the cause of the Home to the people, it will make an impression on their minds and hearts that will justify us in withdrawing our field agent.

From my latest information all are well at the Home. We are under lasting obligations to Bro. McIntosh, of the Grenada College, for the tuition of one of our girls last session. Bro. Malone, of Oxford College, has kindly offered the tuition of one of the girls the coming session.

In many neighborhoods there are parents who wish to send their children to colleges, and if the merits of these colleges were properly presented to them, they would most gladly patronize them. Let us do what we can for our own colleges.

J. H. SHERARD.

Sherard, Miss., Sept. 11, 1900.

The 20th Century Movement.

ATTENTION!

NORTH MISSISSIPPI PASTORS!

Dr. Hammond, assisted by the presiding elders and this writer, is making strenuous efforts to secure a report from every charge in the North Mississippi Conference on the Thank-offering. To date all have reported save one hundred and fourteen charges. The charges failing to report are distributed as follows:

Sardis district	11
Grenada district	9
Durant district	17
Columbus district	14
Aberdeen district	16
Corinth district	17
Holly Springs district	13
Greenville district	17
Total	114

These charges failing to report are responsible for the miserably poor showing our Conference makes in the September number of the New Century Education.

Dear brother, please report to me at once the amount subscribed and the amount paid by your charge, so that a full and correct report of our Conference may appear in the October number of New Century Education.

Yours truly, J. R. BINGHAM.

Carrollton, Miss., Sept. 15, 1900.

Notes on the Twentieth Century Thank-Offering in the Mississippi Conference.

BY H. G. HAWKINS,
Conference Secretary, Madison, Miss.

It is respectfully and earnestly requested of each pastor in the Mississippi Conference that he fill out and send to me at once the September blank. Shall I say, "It must be done"? It must; and yet I can not visit each one, and stand by him with a climb until the task is performed. I shall have to rely mainly upon perseverance through the columns of the ADVOCATE.

"Exhaustive statistics from each charge every month," is the expression used by Dr. Hammond in a private note to me as Conference Secretary of Education. "Constant pressure on your part" is another expression in the same note.

Instead of nine, twelve of the Forest district pastors sent in the August report. We trust that not one of the seventeen will fail for September. Right now is the time, if it has not already been sent.

September 20 is the time when I should report to Dr. Hammond; but in the hope that every pastor in the Conference will read this, and at once fill and send me the blank, I will withhold the report this time until Sept. 25.

The North Carolina Conference thus far leads all in the amount of her Thank-offering—$102,726. The St. Louis Conference is second, with $97,190. The China Conference has raised in cash and subscription $14,000, and the Brazil Conference $12,000.

The cotton crop is short, but the price is fine. The man who makes twelve bales, and sells at ten cents, gets much more profit than if he had made twenty-four bales and sold at five cents. The corn crop is short, but it has been an extra fine year for fruit and hay. There are many Methodists in South Mississippi who are engaged in the lumber traffic, which has yielded during this year and last a fine profit. Will they make Thank-offerings according as they have been favored? Also there are among our constituency hundreds of merchants, some of whom have become financial princes. Are these deaf to the call of the church and of the coming generation? We are very far from having our $40,000 asked for from the Mississippi Conference.

No true Methodist can really get hold of the Twentieth Century Movement for souls without having the movement get hold of him. It is a revival of primitive Methodism in its most glorified form. It is an attempt to make Methodism such an army of saved and baptized laymen as sang and prayed and proclaimed salvation from Lincolnshire to Lizard Point, in Cornwall. What days those were!—with Whitefield preaching in the fields, his voice penetrating over a mile, the tears coursing down the soiled cheeks of miners and farmers, who came to scoff and stayed to cry for mercy. The songs of salvation were heard deep in the tin mines, over the dripping walls of which the surf roared. The songs of salvation rolled over England, and tens of thousands found their Savior in the crimson stream that purchased their salvation. The course of history was changed by the preaching and the hymns of the Wesleys and their lay colleagues. O for a revival of lay preachers!—Central Christian Advocate.

PRAY, O PRAY FOR ME!

How may I reach that better land
Where troubled souls are free?
Where lies the far-off golden strand
My eyes have longed to see?
The clouds have drifted o'er my way
So dark, I can not see;
But prayer can bring that perfect day—
Then pray, O pray for me!

The portals wide, beyond the night,
Stand open bright as day
To all who, walking in the light,
Still keep the narrow way;
From earthly taint so dark and deep,
The blood can make us free;
The Son of God alone can keep—
Then pray, O pray for me!

The gloom that fills our soul with fear,
Oh wouldst thou drive away,
And let thy smiling face appear
Through all this livelong day!
'Tis thus the sun of hope shall rise,
Beyond life's troubled sea;
When clouds no more obscure the skies,
Then pray, O pray for me!

—Northwestern Advocate.

Communications.

PURITY: ITS NATIONAL SIGNIFICANCE.

(Part of a talk delivered in Stanton College Grove at a Sunday afternoon Y. M. C. A. service by J. C. Ballard, M. D.)

In beginning a talk upon the effect of purity upon the mind and body of men as well as upon the life history of a nation and race, let me say that I believe the Bible and the great sacred books of the world are the most precious of human possessions. They embody the deepest searchings into the most vital problems of humanity in all of its stages: the naive guesses of the world's childhood, the opening conceptions of its youth, the more fully rounded beliefs of its maturity." (White) It shows us "the evolution of man's loftiest aspirations, hopes, loves, consolations and enthusiasms; his hates and fears, his views of his origin and destiny, his theories of his rights and duties, and these not only in their lights, but in their shadows." (White.)

The Bible is the only collection of biographies where the naked, glaring truth is told of its heroes and heroines, and in no instance does it condone, qualify, or palliate a fault, failing, or sin. Its lessons are immortal, and its divine truths the same yesterday, to-day, and forever. So I have selected, as a subject, the words of the first of the long line of men who graced and disgraced the throne of Israel, "I have played the fool." He had tasted sin in all of its deceptive beauty. Exalted from poverty to regal wealth, from obscurity to glaring notoriety, from the humility of labor to the arrogance of royalty, he yet forgot the arm upon which he could lean, the Friend upon whom he could depend. How similar are the closing scenes of his life to those of the wonderful son of Israel's greatest king. Born in a palace amid scenes of barbaric splendor, reared in princely luxury, and drinking deeply of all the pleasures and joys of his time, at its close he says, "All is vanity and vexation of spirit." Both of these men violated the standard of manly purity, as lax as were the laws of those olden times.

"Be ye holy, for I am holy," is the present translation of the text. Here the word "holy" means "pure," and can be substituted without changing the meaning of the sentence. Again, we are told that "without holiness" (or purity) "no man can see the Lord." This is God's command, and needs no comment of mine. Christ says, "Whoso looketh," etc., is guilty. He there makes the look the beginning of sin, and it is true. A look caused a great king to sin, and then to commit murder to hide it. God punished him grievously. So severe was his affliction that he cried out, "My sin is ever before me." Yet, on another occasion he says, "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace," showing that even though his life was impure, he noticed the exalted effect of personal purity.

National life flourishes just in proportion to the purity of its people. Around the family life all safeguards should be thrown. In its privacy and sacredness lie the hope of the perpetuity of this republic. No nation lives when once this stronghold is invaded. Spain, once the controlling power of the world, is rapidly dying. France, once the home of chivalry, and less than one century ago the mistress of Europe, is a decaying nation. And why? No home life, no Lord's day.

The national spirit, the love of home, mother, and country, makes a nation strong. It is the inspiration of her poets and singers, the strength of her soldiers and sailors, and the power that bids her Spartan mothers and gray-haired fathers give their children for their country's honor. This wonderful spirit begins, is nurtured, and reaches full-orbed maturity in the home. No home can be a home without perfect family confidence and loyalty. A wife must trust her husband, and he must be worthy of that trust. Men trust their wives, and it is extremely rare that such trust is betrayed.

There is no study more conducive to thought than the history of the rise and fall of nations and peoples. Since their advent into history the fair-haired people have ruled the world and exerted most powerful influence. But the power leaves when an admixture of alien blood takes place. To illustrate: Greece produced Pericles, Homer, Enolid, and a host of great names familiar to every school-boy in the land; Rome and Troy added names to the immortal list, and the thoughts of these great men still live and exert an influence after the lapse of centuries. The national type was fair hair and skin, flowing beard and blue eyes; but, returning from their conquering expeditions to Africa, they brought home numerous negroes and the mixed races of Northern Africa as slaves. As the years went by the two races became assimilated, and a new people, possessing neither the virtue nor the strength of the originals, came into existence, only to fall an easy prey to the power of adjoining nations. To-day they exert but small influence in the making of the map of the world.

The Anglo-Saxon and the Anglo-Norman people decide all questions of world-policy, and the Latin races are impotent to do more than protest, and why? Because the men born of pure and godly mothers must, in the very nature of events, exert a controlling power. No nation or people exhibit the home power to the extent that England and America do. Here only is the home a fortress, and its invader an enemy to society.

A question I am often asked is this: "Doctor, is it possible for a man to live a pure life? Are not men who try to do so liable to become physical and mental wrecks?" Emphatically, a man can be pure. God never asked an impossibility, and never made a double standard—one for men and another for women. Pure men retain all of their mental and physical powers far longer than impure ones. Nothing so surely destroys manliness, vigor, and steadiness of nerves as intemperate or vicious habits. If it be asked, "What class of men typify America at its best, in point of strength, courage, and all that is included in the term manliness?" my answer would be, "The young men of the navy." Physically, they seem almost perfect, and the official records show how they rank otherwise; yet, according to the theory usually offered, they should be degenerates of the worst class.

Yet these young and old men have made the stars and stripes a world-wide name, and always proven themselves to be heroes in the hour of need. To say that men can not be pure—and he who can be pure one month can be for a year—is to insult every officer of the American navy, and to cast contumely upon the bones of the old heroes sleeping beneath the waves of the ocean.

Never before was so much attention given to the study of heredity and environment as regards the causation of sickness, insanity, and crime. The whole scientific world is studying the problem of the elevation of the masses and the races who are to live after us, and marvelous has been the results. Sanitation and hygiene are achieving wonders. . . . A new race is to take our place, and manage the complex and difficult questions of the future. They are to spring from the loins of the men now living. What will they be? Will they be great in all that makes a man? Will they meet God's model of a man, or will there be no heed paid to the warnings and lessons of past and present history? Is it possible for impure and licentious men to leave no bad impress on their progeny?

These are grave questions for us to consider, and it is time for us to wake up to the opportunities and dangers of the new century so soon to begin. When we look back to the beginning and compare it with the closing of the nineteenth century, we are appalled by the wonder and magnificence of the possibilities of the coming century. What will it show us? What will it give us? Never did the world need men as it does now; men in full possession of all their powers, mentally, morally, and physically; men not afraid to stand alone; men willing to say "No." Purity is the foundation-stone of greatness. "He that ruleth his own spirit is greater than he who taketh a city."

Now, in conclusion, let me say to the young men: Be pure in thought, and you will be pure in action, firm in manliness, and have strength to carve out of the untried future that destiny which awaits you. To fathers I would urge: Enter more into the lives of your sons. Teach them kindly and modestly to trust your judgment in all things, and in the sacred knowledge of the manly life give them wise counsel. Do not let them rely upon the misinformation so commonly current, or the pamphlets of the noisome quack. If you do not know, go to some one who does, and learn, that you may teach correctly.

The safety of our republic does not rest upon trust or anti-trust legislation, "16 to 1," or the "gold standard," "expension" or "imperialism," or any of the so-called issues. All these things are of passing moment, and will be like the famous "Embargo Act," the "54.40, or fight," of President Polk's time, or the "Wilmot proviso," soon relegated to history.

There are burning questions for us to think over; questions which affect us and posterity in all the ages to come; questions, not of to-day, but of the centuries; questions affecting not only this nation, but all Christian nations now, and those that are to follow. Supreme above all are these, "Shall we maintain the Sabbath of our forefathers?" and, "Is the home to be destroyed?"

All the power of Satan and of his cohorts is directed against these two institutions, and when these citadels are taken, the radiant bunting of this republic will be furled forever, and its meaning lost. There will be no "land of the free," no "home of the brave." The free men will be shackled, the women dishonored, and the God who has led us through so much of trial and anguish will turn away his face, insulted, and our name will be handed to history with these words, "They, too, have played the fool."

Let every Christian have for his platform, "My God and his Sabbath; my country and my home." Then will the foundation of this nation be firmer than steel, more enduring than brass, more imperishable than her granite hills, and as everlasting as the heroism that gave it birth.

Correspondence.

FROM SHREVEPORT, LA.

We have just been in Mansfield, holding Bro. Sheppard's Quarterly Conference. Two things greatly delighted us. We found the pastor had returned from Arkadelphia, having undergone with heroism and success several severe surgical operations. He is looking very much better, and feels that God has spared him for some years yet of labor in the vineyard. Bro. Sheppard's many friends will rejoice to hear of his improved condition. He is naturally eager for the fray, but it is to be hoped that he will be careful not to over-do.

We found also that Mansfield Female College opened with the largest number of pupils registered since the Civil War. Never have the prospects of this institution been brighter than at present. Our church in Louisiana is indeed fortunate in having at the head of her college for girls two such successful educators as President T. S. Sligh and his noble wife. They have with them in their work a thoroughly competent faculty, and all tokens indicate that the most successful session in the history of this college will be had this year.

What can the matter be with our rich and not-rich Louisiana Methodists, that they are not raising this year, as thank-offerings, $50,000 for Mansfield, and another $50,000 for Centenary? Much more could they do, and nobody be really hurt!

JNO. T. SAWYER.

Sept. 10, 1900.

OPELOUSAS DISTRICT LEAGUE RALLY.

The Epworth League Rally of the Opelousas district was called to order at Lafayette, Tuesday, evening, Sept. 4, at 8 o'clock, by the district chairman, Rev. T. B. Clifford, and closed Thursday evening at 10 o'clock.

The success of the rally was assured before the time of meeting by all knowing the live chairman, and his record for making things move in Leaguedom.

The attendance was good for the number of Leagues represented. The entire program of about twenty numbers was carried out in full by those appointed. The papers and addresses by the Leaguers were all of a high order, and good results will follow this interchange of ideas and plans.

The Leaguers were encouraged and helped by the presence and words of godly wisdom of the live and talented presiding elder.

The presence and addresses of Revs. Tucker, Drake and Reames added much to the interest and success of the meeting.

We feel sure that the Epworth League has received a new impetus in this district.

The Leaguers of Lafayette turned out in force, and made our stay among them delightful.

GEO. D. PRICE.

Lake Charles, La.

Items from the Field.

POPLAR CREEK, MISS.

I have just closed a good meeting at Bethel, Poplar Creek circuit. The Lord was with us. Eleven accessions to the church—ten on profession of faith. The Lord is blessing us, and the work is going on. We hope to have a good report at Conference.

J. J. GARNER, P. C.

Sept. 9, 1900.

BROOKSVILLE, MISS.

We have just closed an eight days' meeting at New Bethel, on this charge. Bro. Ellis, pastor of Cumberland Church, and the Methodist pastor, held the meeting together. Large congregations, much earnest work on the part of the Christians, ten conversions and six accessions resulted from the meeting. Twelve or fifteen family altars established.

E. S. LEWIS.

Sept. 10, 1900.

ROCKY MOUNT, LA.

Our camp meeting at Concord closed Sunday night (Sept. 1)—a victory from beginning to end. Bros. Robt. P. Howell, J. S. Sanders, Chas. F. Staples, Geo. D. Purcell, and the Cumberland Presbyterian evangelist, Samuel D. Howard, did the preaching, with the writer at the organ. God honored the preaching of holiness as a "second blessing" with about 50 conversions, reclamations and sanctifications. About 20 of this number were sanctified. Bro. Staples says "if we could have a few more meetings like this, everyone would want one but the devil." Glory!

N. F. HOFFPAUIR.

REVIVAL AT WINCHESTER, MISS.

We have just closed an eight days' meeting at Winchester, which resulted in untold good. There were a number of bright conversions. The church has been greatly revived, quite a number testifying that they see their duty plainer than ever before.

Rev. H. M. Ellis, of Meridian, did all of the preaching except the last two sermons, which were delivered by the pastor. Bro. Ellis' preaching was very acceptable to the people of Winchester, who are very appreciative, and show their appreciation in a substantial manner.

F. B. ORMOND.

Waynesboro, Miss., Sept. 10, 1900.

MEADVILLE, MISS.

We have just closed our third protracted meeting on this charge, in each of which God very graciously visited us.

The first was held at Cool Springs, in which Rev. A. D. Miller did the preaching to the edification of all present. We were assisted at Nebo by Rev. R. A. Sibley, Sr., who, notwithstanding his advanced age, has lost none of his zeal for the cause of the Divine Lord.

Rev. M. L. Sullivan did the preaching at Providence, which was very edifying, and enjoyed by all. As a result of these meetings, while there were not many conversions, the church was much benefited, many who had grown cold spiritually were reclaimed, many family altars erected, and not a few new vows and resolutions were made. Eleven persons united with the church on profession of faith, six of whom are very promising young men. We have two protracted meetings to hold yet. Brethren, pray for us.

R. A. SIBLEY, JR., P. C.

REPORT FROM THE SALLIS CHARGE.

We have had several excellent meetings on the Sallis charge this Summer. I did the most of the preaching myself. Have had several accessions on profession of faith, and the members have been edified. Bro. J. B. Mitchell preached one week for us at Sallis, to the delight of all. He is an excellent preacher, and did good work for Millsaps College while here. He is full of zeal and love for the cause of Christ, and preaches the Word of God with power.

On account of short crops, we are afraid our collections will not be paid in full, but think they will be in advance of last year. We will do our best to raise them in full.

Our friend and brother, Robt. K. Knowles (one of our stewards), died in the triumphs of faith Sept. 2, and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Harmonia last Monday, Sept. 3. A good man, an excellent steward, has gone to his reward. We will write his obituary soon and forward to you.

J. W. TREADWELL.

Sallis, Miss., Sept. 8, 1900.

ANOTHER GOOD REPORT FROM COLUMBIA CHARGE.

We write again, as it will be gratifying to some and encouraging to others.

We have just closed a meeting at Hopewell, where God met with us in great power and blessed nearly every one who attended the meeting. There were quite a number converted, many backsliders reclaimed, and thirty-eight additions on profession of faith. Old Hopewell Church has been brought to life, on account of which there is much rejoicing. They bought a nice new organ and raised the money for it, pounded the preacher with everything from a pound of soap to sacks of corn, and gave the preacher who assisted a liberal contribution. We praise God for what he has done for us and through us.

Bro. T. J. Noreworthy assisted in the meeting. He came Saturday and preached twice each day for five days. I have never had better help. His preaching is strong, practical, effectual. It strengthens the loyalty of the people to the church, and binds pastor and people more closely together. He has been a great blessing to my people. Miss Clark, of Lumberton, was with us and gave us her entire time at the organ. She has a fine voice and is a fine performer, and, above that, she is willing and does all she can. She added much to the success of the meeting.

Columbia Church gave us a bountiful pounding Friday night. We feel rich now as well as happy.

The railroad is completed to Columbia now. We have daily trains, which are a great convenience to us.

W. M. WILLIAMS.

REVIVALS ON THE PINE GROVE CIRCUIT.

We are moving along very nicely on the Pine Grove circuit. Have held three meetings since our last report, viz.: at Pine Grove, Killian's Chapel, and Cooper's Chapel.

At Pine Grove I was assisted by Bro. Trevilion, of Fernwood, Miss. Bro. Trevilion did good work, and his visit here was highly appreciated by his many friends. Many of the church members were greatly revived. There were several conversions and four accessions to the church.

At Killian's Chapel we were favored with six sermons by Rev. Paul M. Brown, of Greensburg, La., and two sermons by Rev. Milton F. Johnson, of Baton Rouge, La., the pastor doing the balance of the preaching. The members of the church were quickened to a better life, there were two accessions on profession of faith, and the Sunday-school was reorganized as a result of this meeting.

At Cooper's Chapel we had the best meeting that has been my privilege to attend for several years. There were conversions and accessions at the first service. These people had been much in prayer previous to the meeting, so we did not have to preach a week to get the revival started. About the third day the brethren had to build an arbor, as the house was too small to seat the congregation. The crowds increased at every service. Rev. B. F. Hart, L. P. and Rev. J. L. McManus, of Pontchatoula, assisted me. Bro. McManus did most of the preaching. The Lord came in great power, convicting, converting and saving the people. There were 40 conversions, 26 accessions, and 7 family altars erected as a result of the meeting. We witnessed in this meeting the old-time power as we heard the shouts of new-born souls and the "glory, hallelujahs" from the Christians. We have altogether had ten accessions by certificate and fifty on profession of faith. We hope to be able to bring up a good report on all lines this year. The Lord is continually blessing us in our labors, and we give him all the praise.

F. N. SWEENEY, P. C.

W. F. M. S.

Edited Weekly by North Mississippi, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences.

EDITORS.

N. Miss. Conf..Mrs. J. F. Evans...Eupora, Miss.
Miss. Conf....Mrs. E. D. Jones...Carlisle, Miss.
La. Conf.....Mrs. T. P. Fullilove...

To the Members of the W. F. M. Society in the Seashore District—

DEAR SISTERS: With the close of the "heated term" and the advent of cool Autumn weather, let us shake off the apathy, the indifference—aptly termed the "devil's chloroform"—into which we may have almost insensibly fallen during the Summer months, and work with new zeal and energy.

Let the coming quarter be the best of the year, both financially and spiritually. Our work must not suffer loss. I beg that all pledges be redeemed, and that all who have taken a share in the "Leure Haygood Home and School" send on the money at once, if they have not done so. The school needs to be built at once. I trust you have forwarded whatever amount was promised for publication of Minutes from your auxiliaries.

Dear sisters, listen not to the voice of the discouraged ones, if there be such. 'God rules in the heavens; all's well with the world." "The wrath of man shall yet praise Him."

The troubles in China will, in the end, tend to the furtherance of the gospel. "Christianity is planted there to stay." Our missionaries have made a profound impression upon China. It has been truly said, "To give up now would be to serve notice on mankind that we have lost faith in the gospel."

At the time of the very bitterest persecutions of the early church it was said that "mightily grew the Word of God and prevailed."

Suffer a word of exhortation: I beg every officer and member of every auxiliary to be present at all meetings of her society. Such co-operation is absolutely necessary in order to achieve the best results. Read our literature. Subscribe for the Woman's Missionary Advocate. It is worth double the price asked for it.

Once again I ask corresponding secretaries to report to me not later than the tenth, and that treasurers will be equally prompt in reporting to Mrs. Clara B. Drake, Summit, Miss.

May God bless you, every one!

Yours in love,

MRS. J. S. PARKER,
District Secretary.

Gulfport, Miss.

Said a Baptist noted for his sound common-sense way of looking at things: The critical problem of the denomination in the near future is going to be not so much fighting doubtful doctrines or defending denominational tenets, but the question how to win and to hold the boys and girls for Christ and the church. We have many conversions between the ages of ten and fifteen, comparatively few between fifteen and twenty, fewer still after that. What sort of preaching and teaching and living will win the high school pupils and the young clerks and mechanics just starting out in life after they have passed the most susceptible age for religious influence? What sort of Sunday-school and young people's meeting will make the boy and girl converts grow into working Christians, active, intelligent, interested in missions, familiar with the Bible, able to teach and to lead? We have not solved these questions yet—not by a good deal. We have evolved theories, but the theories somehow do not work themselves. Constant watchfulness, industry, open-mindedness, will be necessary if the next generation of Baptists is to be superior to this.—Baptist Standard.

OBITUARIES.

FOSTER—On July 21, 1900 at Shreveport, La., occurred the death of Mrs. MARGUERITE CRAIN FOSTER, wife of Jacob T. Foster.

The subject of this sketch furnishes a fine illustration of the transforming, illuminating and keeping power of the gospel. Many graces, both of mind and person, were her birth-right inheritance, fitting her to shine in social life, and it is small wonder that her young life felt and for a time responded to the spell of the world's incense. But from the moment her spirit owned the attractive power of a new life made possible in Christ, henceforth her life-witness was consistently and luminously for her Savior. Having chosen "that good part," which shall never be taken from her, she never faltered in her choice. Her "heart was fixed, trusting in the Lord." Her rich inner life issued in abundant outward activities. She was at the same time the organist of her church, a Sunday-school teacher, the manager of the Juvenile Missionary Society, and one of the vice-presidents of the Epworth League. The large place she filled in the religious life of the community may be inferred from the remark of her pastor, who said, "I do not know how I will manage the church without her"—a remark that will be appreciated by all who have stood in a similar relation to her, and felt the inspiration of her Christian sympathy, and witnessed the cheerful and intelligent co-operation of her active hand. Her life was characterized by fervent love to God and sympathetic love for humanity. Her thought and her effort were not confined by local lines, but embraced the vast masses of the heathen world. It is doubtless true that the missionary cause was nearest her heart. Herein we have the clew to her own vigorous spiritual life. Connection, interaction with the divine and human, means life; isolation means death. The wider the tree can spread its roots, the farther it can extend its boughs, the greater its life. This is the meaning of the Psalmist's beautiful image, "Like a tree planted by the rivers of water." The shrub in the desert is out of all relation to the vital forces of the world, and so must wither and die. But the same shrub planted by the rivers lives and grows from year to year. Its union with the living forces of nature is the cause of its growth. Its leaf, also, shall not wither; it shall have an enduring and beautiful life. Isolation from the great upper life of God and from the deep humanities, separated from the sunshine of the Divine Spirit, and from the richness of human interests, the character can not possess excellence and beauty. But the soul that is bound by gratitude to God, and by love and service to its kind, and looks upon the world from the elevation of the cross, lives a life of increasing strength and perennial freshness.

Sister Foster did not live unto herself. Her friends, her family, the church, the heathen, absorbed her sympathies and appropriated her toils. Kindness which never ceased, self-denial which never faltered, forgetfulness of self amid the manifold claims of life—these, with all the kindred virtues of a noble heart and a holy life, formed the staple of her experience, and the manifestations of her character.

Long ago one, writing by the inspiration of the Holy Ghost, said, "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace." To this devoted life, too, God gave the witness of a triumphant death. As the end approached, and she realized the presence and consolations of the Savior, her face was radiant "with the light that never was on land or sea." Blessed light of Christian joy, calm sunshine of gospel peace, a stricken household hails the symbol—type of a purified soul, and a world without a sorrow, tear, or change.

Now, how dark that home without the light of her countenance! How lonely the husband, blessed once with that gracious companionship! How bereaved are they, the parents of such a daughter? But they sorrow not as those without hope. "Thy dead shall live again." Out of the depth of their unspeakable loss, in the deep anguish that follows when the heart cries out, "What and where now are my departed ones"? there falls upon the listening ear of the heart this divine message: "They are before the throne of God, they serve him day and night in his temple, and he that sitteth upon the throne dwelleth among them, and the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them to living fountains of water, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."

J. L. PIERCE.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Home Mission Society of the Methodist Church of Magnolia, Miss., adopted the following resolutions in memory of Sister GERTIE M. VAUGHT. As we have looked around upon our sister workers in the meetings of our society, we have been sadly conscious of her absence from our ranks. Her pleasant voice and sweet face will be with us no more on earth. After a short, but beautiful life, filled with good work, the message came, "It is enough; come up higher."

Resolved, That we cherish the memory of her unselfish and consecrated life, her loving deeds of charity, scattered so profusely in the pathway of suffering humanity.

Resolved, That while we recognize the hand of the loving Father in this dispensation of His providence, and our hearts are made sad, we will endeavor to follow her Christ-like example, and bow in humble submission to His will, and have faith in "Him who doeth all things well."

Resolved, That in the death of our sister the society has lost one of its most devoted, zealous and consistent Christian members.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family as a token of love and condolence from our society, a copy be forwarded to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE and Magnolia Gazette for publication, and a copy spread upon the Minutes of this society.

MRS. A. H. GATLIN,
MRS. JEROME FORD,
MRS. J. E. NORWOOD,
Committee.

WELCH—ISAAC N. WELCH was born near Port Gibson, Sept. 10, 1819; became a member of the Methodist Church at the age of 16, and lived a true, devout Christian life till the time of his death, May 30, 1900. He was married twice, and was the father of nine children by his first wife; three of whom still live.

He was one of the earliest settlers of Redwood, and always took a prominent part in church and religious work in his neighborhood. All who knew him loved and honored him as a devout Christian. In the absence of the preacher he often read the burial ceremony over the dead of his community. So long as he was able, he was always found at his place in church. Sad to say, that when he died no one was near to conduct the funeral exercises over his body. He was a great lover of the Bible and Christian books, "Pilgrim's Progress" and 'Better Land' being special favorites.

A sainted patriot, who was for sixty-four years a consistent Christian, has gone to rest. May we live to meet him in glory!

H. P. LEWIS Jr., P. C.

COLIER—Mrs. LUCINDA C. COLIER (nee Smith) was born in Morgan county, Ga., Dec. 18, 1826, and died July 5, 1900, in great peace with her Lord and Savior. She united with the M. E. Church, South, in 1841; was married to Rev. T. S. Colier (a local preacher), Nov. 30, 1848

Sister Colier was the mother of seven children, only one of which remains to mourn her departure. In 1861 Rev. and Sister Colier moved to Winn parish, La., where they remained until death called them home. She was laid to rest by the side of her husband, who preceded her to the shining portals of heaven twenty years ago.

We extend to the bereaved daughter our heartfelt sympathies and prayers, and commend to her the gospel of comfort her father preached so long ago, which will sustain her now, and finally lead her where God shall wipe away all tears.

W. G. ROBERTS, P. C.

BULLOCK—FERDINAND J. L. BULLOCK, oldest son of Bro. LaFayette H. Bullock and Sister Lena J. Bullock, was born in Boyce, La., May 19, 1895, and died at Melville, La., July 29, 1900.

Little "Fernie" was an affectionate and dutiful child, very bright and full of promise, and was a favorite among us. He was very fond of church and Sunday-school, and loved his pastor very much. His presence will be sorely missed in the Sabbath-school and community. His last illness was a very painful one, and was protracted for fifteen days; abscess in the head being the cause of his death. Sad, indeed, are the hearts of his parents and grandmother in this great affliction! May the Lord, in mercy, comfort and sustain them until they meet dear little Fernie again among the angels in the city of God.

HIS PASTOR.

Melville, La., Aug. 1, 1900.

WELLBORN—CARROLL EUGENE, infant son of L. C. and Mollie Wellborn, born at Columbia, Miss., Dec. 29, 1898; died May 24, 1900.

Little Eugene was sick and suffered a long time. Everything was done for him that could be done. But it pleased God to chasten these parents who loved him so devotedly, and it just seemed that they couldn't give him up. Surely "God's ways are not our ways, nor God's thoughts our thoughts." God help those parents to trust him if they can't understand. We know "he doeth all things well."

W. M. WILLIAMS, P. C.

BARKET—IRA FORD, infant son of H. R. and Emma Barket. Born at Columbia, Miss., Dec. 20, 1898, and died July 27, 1900.

Little Ira was almost perfect in his physical features, and gave promise of being a strong and useful man. He was the joy of the home. The fond parents' hearts are bleeding for their dear, sweet babe. But God has taken him to himself, and you can meet him up there.

"Sweet little darling, light of the home,
Looking for some one, beckoning come;
Bright as a sunbeam, pure as the dew,
Anxiously looking, mother and father, for you."

W. M. WILLIAMS, P. C.

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

"Little Strokes Fell Great Oaks."

The giants of the forest must yield at last to the continual blows of the woodsman. When the human blood has become clogged and impure the little drops of Hood's Sarsaparilla, properly taken, will fell the oak of bad blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas
T. G. MACKIE, L. MIKE, C. K. LINCOLN, JR
324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AXES, ALARM TILLS, CAGES, CLOCKS, CROQUET, BASKETS, BASEBALLS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, DUSTERS,
Enameled Steelware, Freezers, Fishing Tackle,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASSWARE, HAMMOCKS,
Japanned Ware, Ice Chests,
KEGS, LADDERS, LAMPS,
MARBLES, NAIL PULLERS,
OARS, OIL TANKS, REFRIGERATORS, ROPE, TINWARE, TRAPS, WINES, PAPER, PADLOCKS, SOAPS, STATIONERY, WATER COOLERS, WHIPS, WOODENWARE,
Etc. Trade Solicited.

DR. LETELLIER'S Sunflower Tablets.

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any drugstore, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Tract Bld'g, New York City.

Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

FISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS 25 CTS

After Marriage

They are going to be together just as much as before; going to ride the wheel, take little pleasure jaunts, etc., enjoying everything together. Isn't that what many a young couple promise each other? And yet, how very soon the wife begins to say "No, I don't think I care to go. You go alone, dear." Young women don't reckon on the great physical changes which follow marriage. How can they when they are allowed to grow up in entire ignorance of vital physiological facts? They feel languid, weak and nervous. Sometimes there is headache and backache. The pulse no more leaps in answer to the thought of a spin on the wheel. Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, know how promptly the languor, headache, backache, nervousness and weakness are cured by this medicine. Many husbands write in gratitude to Dr. Pierce for the medicine which gives them back the wife's companionship, as it gives her back her health.

"All praise is due to you for your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mr. John W. Coffman, of Hillsburg, Casey Co., Ky. "My wife suffered with female irregularity; was confined to bed every three weeks. After using two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription she was cured, and has not suffered any derangement since. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is a boon to delicate women."

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS.
UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY.
Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O.
Mention this paper.

BELLS
Steel Alloy. Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address,
Old Established
BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY
THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College
New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.
Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.
Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.
A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.
Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.
Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain.

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Read What Is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault, Minn.

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change. . . .

DIRECT LINE TO
Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l. Mgr.,
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt,
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE.
NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO
Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,
AND TO ALL POINTS
North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between
NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers!

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A.
J. R. WELLS, G. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A.
R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

YOU SAVE $40

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the WELLINGTON
has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss
H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to
H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss
and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S
SELF-PRONOUNCING
S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to September, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to October, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1900.

GOING OFF TO COLLEGE.

Vacation days now are o'er, and the reign of the schoolmaster has again begnn. On every hand may be witnessed the glad and inspiring sight of the opening of schools and colleges, which are being thronged by hopefnl yonth, eager for large dranghts at the Pierian spring, yet somewhat reluctant to pnt on the yoke of school rontine. Many a boy or girl who has never been away from home to school before now finds himself or herself amid strange ecenes and strange companions, oppressed by loneliness, anxiety, and homesickness. Going off to college for the first time is indeed an important event in the life of any young man or young woman, and, at best, is fraught with trying experiences. Fortnnately, hazing is almost entirely a thing of the past at American colleges, so that the new stndent is relieved from the fear he once had of fnrnishing sport for the older collegians. The new college boy or girl, just getting started in a new life, is eminently worthy of kindly attention and sympathy, and is nearly always keenly appreciative thereof.

Occasionally a new stndent gives himself np so completely to nostaigia and discontent as to render life away from home nnbearable, and so, in a week or two, beats a cowardly retreat. The long separation from parents and friends, ofttimes necessitated by attendance npon college, is trying indeed, but the yonng man or the yonng woman who has not pluck enough to endnre it for the sake of getting an education is made of poor stnff, and is scarcely likely to accomplish anything noteworthy. The best way to fight off homesickness and nnrest is to plunge boldly into one's tasks, and keep bnsy thereat.

Getting the right sort of start means no little to a college student, on account of its bearing npon his fntnre. The choice of one's companions is of the greatest importance. Many a college boy has wasted his opportnnities and come to dishonor largely because of his failnre to avoid companionship with the indolent and the vicions. Every stndent who wishes to make the most of life would do well to imitate the conrse John Wesley pnrsned when he became a fellow of Lincoln College, Oxford. Animated by a deep desire to improve himself intellectnally and spiritnally, he resolved to get rid of nnprofitable acquaintances, and "to choose such only as wonld help him on the way to heaven." Had he not acted thus wisely, it is scarcely conceivable that he could have become the illnstrious scholar and mighty revivalist that he did become. There are no trner, more lasting or ennobling friendships than many of those formed at college. In some instances they have been worth as much almost as the training received from the study of books. In fact, a college is one of the best places in the world to stndy hnman natnre, and it is no small advantage to an inexperienced, nnsophisticated boy or girl to be thrown daily with a nnmber of others, and thus get larger, truer views of life. Out of the inspiration of the consecrated friendship of three stndents at Williams College in 1806, namely: Samnel J. Mills, Gordon Hall, and James Richards, grew the modern missionary movement, which has affected every denomination in Christendom.

What a mighty debt Methodism owes to the association of godly collegians at Oxford, early in the eighteenth century, nicknamed the "Holy Club"!

The college stndent is fortunate in having his hours of stndy and recreation arranged for him. He is trained to work by the clock, and finds that in order to be successful in his stndies, he mnst be methodical in his habits. Though he may chafe nnder it, the rigid pnnctnality required of him is an invaluable discipline, and, if well learned, will serve him in good stead all through life.

The formation of the habit of thoroughness also is of prime importance to every stndent. The collegian who merely cons his lessons enough to recite fairly well, bnt who does not take the trouble to master what he goes over, though he may manage to scrape through college, will at last discover, when it is too late, that he has made a grievous mistake. The greater the effort required to overcome difficulties in one's stndies, the greater is the mental discipline. Every manly stndent ought to look npon shirking as unmanly and dishonest. One of the worst misfortnnes that can befall a college stndent is for him to fall into slipshod habits of stndy at the beginning of his career. It is always difficult to recover from a bad start.

It is matter for congratulation that physical culture is not now neglected in our institutions of learning, as once was the case. The policy of permitting the body, dnring one's school days, to become enfeebled through lack of proper exercise and recreation, is both foolish and hnrtful. Is not the mind all the more vigorous when the physical man is also vigorous? The stndent who engages in gymnastics and in athletic sports will be all the better for it, provided he does so in moderation.

In saying what we have, we are well aware that college stndents have no end of advice given them. Happy are they, however, who know how to profit thereby.

To the pupils in our several schools through the Southwest, and to the noble and faithful teachers who labor therein, we extend hearty greeting, and wish them all a year of large success.

A WORD TO THE WISE.

The failnre of some Methodist pastors to recognize the weighty importance and measnreless benefit of circulating religious periodical literatnre, particularly our own church papers, among the people, is to us a standing wonder. Not since the art of printing was invented has there been so great a demand as now for newspapers and magazines. These form the staple reading of the masses, whose opinions and convictions are moulded almost entirely by secular journals, which, far too often, put gain before godliness, sensationalism before sound sentiment, and policy before principle. The churches have not yet waked up to the nrgent need of utilizing the tremendous power of the periodical press in leavening society with the truth, and in building up the saints in righteousness.

Methodists claim to be "Christians in earnest," bnt not a few pastors in our Zion seem to be anything bnt earnest in the matter of putting our church papers into the homes of their flocks. No wonder so many of our sheep are lean and limp, and finally stray away from the fold. We are getting waked up over the cause of education, bnt we are afflicted with stupor and dimness of vision as regards the potency for good of the religious newspaper. If John Wesley were living in our day, we believe he would emphatically nrge and plead for the sowing down of every charge with religious periodicals. Never was there a more industrious distributor of books and tracts than he. Newspapers in his day were comparatively little circulated.

PEACE NEAR AT HAND.

There are many indications pointing to a speedy termination of the Boer war in South Africa, which has been in progress for nearly a year. Paul Kruger evidently recognizes that the situation is hopeless, for he has fled to Lorenzo Marques in Portuguese territory, with a view of sailing for Europe as soon as opportunity offers, and has formally resigned the Presidency of the South African Republic, thus severing his official connection with the Transvaal. Gen. Botha, on account of ill-health, has temporarily turned over his command to Gen. Viljoen. The Boer forces are now so scattered and weak that only irregular operations are attempted. Lord Roberts last week issued a proclamation to the Boers, in which, after mentioning that he has 15,000 prisoners, not one of which will be released until those under arms surrender unconditionally, he alludes to the fact that the war has degenerated into a mere guerrilla contest, and concludes with the following warning: "The means I am compelled to adopt are those which the customs of war prescribe as applicable to such cases. They are ruinous to the country, entail endless suffering to the burghers and their families, and the longer this guerrilla warfare continues the more vigorously they will be enforced."

Though the British are almost in sight of complete success, it is a triumph that has cost an immense sacrifice of blood and treasure, and has brought but little glory to British arms, for the enemy have been overcome simply because of the overwhelming numbers against which they had to fight. As the Boers, by their hastiness and obstinacy, precipitated the struggle by declaring war against England, the British were in honor bound to take up the gauntlet that had been thrown down. Under British rule the Transvaal will undoubtedly be wisely and beneficently governed, and the country will be rapidly developed. There is great cause for rejoicing that so deplorable a war is soon to be terminated.

EMPRESS DOWAGER COMING TO HER SENSES.

A special cable to the Times-Democrat from Shanghai, dated Sept. 16, says:

"There are indications that the influence of progressive Chinamen holding high offices is having greater effect on the Empress Dowager than ever before. Another edict, the second issued by the Empress Dowager since her flight from Peking before the advance of the allied forces, was issued at Homa on Sept. 9. In it Her Majesty denounces the Boxers, and blames them for all the present troubles. She orders that if they offer any opposition to the imperial troops, that they are to be destroyed, root and branch.

"This edict is in line with the demands made by Li Hung Chang, and Sheng, director of posts and telegraphs. It is now hoped by the progressives that a stronger edict will be issued commanding an absolute reform in the government before the negotiations begin. It is believed that such an edict would greatly simplify matters.

"It is the belief here among well-informed persons that if, when the negotiations begin, the United States propose a plan of settlement and forcefully urge its adoption, the other powers will accept it. It can be said without fear of contradiction that the United States is the only power which the Chinese trust."

FALL CAMPAIGN FOR REFORMS.

Congress is soon to meet at the crossing of the centuries. What celebration of this supreme centennial could be more fitting than such legislation as would protect native races in our own islands and elsewhere against intoxicants and opium, and so remove the greatest stain of previous Christian centuries? Three bills and a treaty looking to this consummation are pending in Congress, which ends March 4, 1901. One of these bills is the new anti-canteen law. Only such a snow-storm of letters and petitions as kept Brigham Roberts out of Congress can carry these measures through, and others pending and progressing that would restrain gambling, divorce, Sabbath-breaking and impurity. More influential than petitions are personal calls upon Congressmen while they are at home, and most influential of all are the calls of deputations appointed by societies, separately or unitedly.

1. Apply with stamp to The Reform Bureau, 210 Delaware avenue, for petition blanks and other ammunition.

2. See that this matter is presented to every conference and convention and every church. For the benefit of those who desire outside speakers we note that Miss Margaret W. Leitch, former missionary to Ceylon, a well-known speaker in young people's conventions and the W. C. T. U., has consented to aid the superintendent of The Reform Bureau, Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, in conventions and mass meeting. They will speak separately in some cases and together in others. For further information write the Bureau at address given above.

THE DISASTER AT GALVESTON.

It is now apparent that the disaster at Galveston caused by the recent storm was not only of appalling magnitude, but in reality one of the worst that has occurred in modern times. The loss of life is now estimated to be not less than five thousand. The exact number who perished will, however, never be known. The condition of affairs in the ruined city for the first week after the storm was horrible beyond description. The greatest need of the city up to this time has been an abundant supply of disinfectants. On account of the large number of decaying corpses that lay unburied throughout the city, there was grave danger for a while of an outbreak of pestilence. The streets were also left covered with mud and rotting vegetation, and only the promptest measures could have averted the occurrence of additional horrors. The work of burying the dead, of ministering to the needy and suffering, and of bringing order out of chaos, has gone heroically forward in the face of fearful difficulties. Because of looting, the diabolical mutilation of human corpses and other forms of lawlessness indulged in by negroes and toughs, it was found necessary a day or two after the storm to place the city under martial law. The authorities have been sending the women and children out of the city as fast as possible to places of refuge.

On last Saturday a delegation representing one of the wealthiest grain and banking-houses in Galveston called on Adjutant-Gen. Sperry, who is at present in full charge of city affairs, and preferred a request for 150 men to repair a large grain elevator which had been unroofed, mentioning that $2,000,000 worth of wheat was at stake. Gen. Sperry, however, be it said to his lasting honor, promptly, but firmly denied the request, saying that every man in the city who could work was needed to help put the city in proper sanitary condition, so that "the life of the lowliest child in Galveston would be protected from sickness, disease and death." The General thus made it plain that dollars are not to be weighed in the same scale with life and health. His noble decision has awakened gratitude in the hearts of all, and shines out like a ray of heavenly light amid the gloom that overhangs the ill-fated city.

Despite the fact that the greater part of the city is literally in ruins, the survivors, with but few exceptions, talk cheerfully and confidently of rebuilding it. Though perplexed and cast down, they are not in despair, and are exhibiting a most heroic spirit.

A NEW BOOK.

LIFE OF MRS. M. L. KELLEY. By Rev. R. K. Brown, D. D. Added Extracts from Her Journal and Letters Found on an Unexplored Shelf by Her Son. With an Introduction by Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald. 106 pages. Price, 50 cents.

This little volume contains a well-written and charming biography of an elect lady of saintly and lovable character, of deep consecration, of sunny temper, and large usefulness. She was the mother of the distinguished Dr. D. C. Kelley, of our church. Whoever reads the life of this gifted and pious woman is sure to be entertained and greatly edified. A number of interesting facts are given bearing upon missions, particularly as regards the first attempts at foreign mission work by our church. There is also a chapter on slavery, which brings to light some true history that ought to be generally known. Says Bishop Fitzgerald of Mrs. Kelley in the introduction: "The blood of the Scotch Campbells coursed through her veins. . . . She was as strong and elastic as finest steel. She could bend to the needs and caprices of childhood, and she could carry the heavy burdens laid on her with a might born of true faith in God. She magnetized souls by the indefinable power that is given to some men and women above others. She was wise with the wisdom that is love, and she won many, first to herself and then to her Lord."

An excellent portrait of Sister Kelley is given as a frontispiece. The book may be obtained from the author at Nashville, Tenn.

CHURCH DEDICATION AND TWENTIETH CENTURY COLLECTIONS.

I had the pleasure on Sunday, the ninth instant, to dedicate the new and handsome church at Poplarville, Miss. The day was not propitious, rain falling and storms threatening, but the people came, and we had a profitable service. With rather remarkable liberality has that little flock carried to completion the splendid enterprise. United in heart and hand, the work moved steadily forward to the day of joyous dedication. At a cost of three thousand dollars a very excellent and commodious church has been erected—a credit to the congregation and the community.

The dedication sermon, Sunday morning, an address to the Epworth League in the afternoon, a discussion of Christian education and a Twentieth Century collection at night, and a talk to the large student-body of the Academy, Monday morning, quite filled up the hours of my delightful visit to Poplarville.

Seventeen years before, when that town was very young, and I was the young editor of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, I dedicated the first church in Poplarville. It is a small structure, and has recently been sold to the Presbyterians. Some of the noble and venerable representative Methodists present at that first dedication have crossed the river, but their places have been filled by others, young and vigorous, who are dominated by the same spirit. Bro. Rayner and his heroic flock are to be heartily congratulated.

At night, after a somewhat elaborate talk on Christian education, we had a good offering to the Twentieth Century Fund.

On Monday night a large congregation assembled in Lumberton, fourteen miles distant, to hear the same subject presented. The sympathetic attention given was an inspiration, and the offering worthy of that progressive, wide-awake community. The two meetings, in one pastoral charge, yielded in cash and subscriptions to the Twentieth Century Fund $406.50. No doubt other amounts will be contributed, thus placing that pastorate in the list of the most liberal.

Mississippi has vast treasure in that section of the State—lumber wealth scarcely equaled elsewhere in the entire nation. And when denuded of these magnificent forests, the lands, with proper fertilization, will some day support a large population. Though demanded by the exactions of modern commerce, it nevertheless makes one somewhat sad to see great trees falling so rapidly and ruthlessly. After awhile there will be a revival of conscience on the subject of preserving forests. Of course, the lumber market must be supplied, and buildings must be erected in this growing country, but one can not help thinking of the day when these "requiem singers of nature" will be gone, and decaying stumps mark the place where great monarchs stood.

After a never-to-be-forgotten visit to old friends and new, I left on Monday night for a short call that home and other engagements, which will command almost every hour until the morning of the new century.

CHAS. B. GALLOWAY.

Jackson, Miss.

One Hundred Years in the White House, opening the September Ladies' Home Journal, gives some social life of the century, and of the home life of our Presidents since the time the Adamses moved into the Executive Mansion as its first occupants, in November, 1800. The Romances of Some Southern Homes, in the same issue, pictures the most notable historic mansions of the South, and recalls the incidents which made them famous—their brave men and beautiful women. Some new anecdotes attract further interest to the beloved Phillips Brooks, as a man and as a preacher. They are characteristic, and exceedingly well told. Anticipating the rather radical change that fashion has decreed in women's attire, ten special articles are devoted to the Fall and Winter modes. The pictorial features of the September Journal include a page drawing of Loiterers at the Railroad Station, as A. B. Frost sees them; The Wonders of California Gardens, and the beauties of Yellowstone Park. There are numerous practical articles and much else that is helpful in the departments. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

TWENTIETH CENTURY COLLECTIONS.

Bishop Galloway was with us in Poplarville and Lumberton on Sunday and Monday, last, talking Twentieth Century Education to our people. In Poplarville the collection amounted to $81.05, and that in the face of the fact that all resources had just been strained in the building of a new church. In Lumberton the amount of cash and subscriptions summed up to $326.50. This is in accordance with Lumberton's record for liberality.

The Bishop's addresses were eloquent and thrilling, and we feel that we are stronger and better for having had him among us.

B. S. RAYNER.

Sept. 11, 1900.

AN EXAMPLE.

The great example is Christ Jesus. But the Scriptures teach us that, as under-shepherds, the ministry should be an example also. Do our pastors realize that? The best man in the community ought to be the minister. The most self-sacrificing ought to be the minister. And not least, yes, by all means not least, the hardest-working man in the community ought to be the minister. Many pastorates break down at that point; the minister does not work hard enough. He does not work in the parish enough; he does not wear out his boots enough from door to door. A minister should consecrate his legs as well as his brains to his vocation. It would lengthen the "average pastorate" if this were more absolutely done. Many pastorates break down because it is not done.—Central Advocate.

NOTES.

Presiding Elder Sawyer has appointed Rev. John C. Sligh "junior preacher" at Mansfield.

***

We trust that every pastor in North Mississippi will heed the request made in this week's issue by Bro. J. R. Bingham.

***

The pulpit at Carondelet Street Church was filled last Sunday morning by Rev. Henry Beach Carre, who is said to have preached a very fine sermon.

***

The Northern Presbyterian Church reports an increase in communicants during the year of 23,782. This is 15,752 in excess of the number reported for 1899.

***

Rev. R. J. Bigham, D. D., has been selected by the Bishops as a delegate from the North Georgia Conference to the Ecumenical Conference in London, September, 1901.

***

Rev. F. L. Crowson, of the Mississippi Conference, has given up his charge to enter Millsaps College. Rev. P. Howard has been appointed to fill the vacancy on East Covington circuit.

***

Dr. W. M. Leftwich, who has been in the local ranks for a few years, has applied for readmission into the traveling connection. His application is made to the Virginia Conference, and is provoking a slight controversy up that way.

***

A card from Presiding Elder W. S. Lagrone, of the Sardis district, says: "We have closed up the third round of Quarterly Conferences. There are many encouraging and hopeful things in the work. If the preachers and official members will bestir themselves for the next three months, this district will make the best report for years."

***

Rev. A. S. Lutz, of the Louisiana Conference, whose mother and sisters reside in the Crescent City, has been spending a few days with them prior to his departure this week for Vanderbilt, to which he goes to complete another year of his theological course. He preached for Pastor Atkinson at Parker Memorial last Sunday evening, his sermon being highly spoken of.

***

The meeting at Goldsboro, conducted for Pastor Fontaine by Rev. J. J. Smylie, closed last Sunday evening. We are glad to report that it was quite a success. There were a number of conversions and reclamations, and seventeen persons have applied for church membership. The spiritual condition of the church has been greatly improved. Bro. Smylie is an earnest, practical, and impressive preacher, and his efforts are generally attended with excellent results.

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE NOTES.

Rev. T. W. Lewis has just closed a meeting in Carrollton, with eleven accessions to the church.

Rev. J. B. Stone has had good success on the Winona circuit during the protracted-meeting campaign.

Rev. T. G. Freeman has moved his family to Grenada for the benefit of the college.

Rev. Ben P. Jaco is recovering from a long and severe spell of sickness.

Revs. S. M. Thames and H. C. Morehead have returned from their Summer outings. Both have been sick, but we hope they will soon be fully restored to health.

This writer has not been idle during the heated season. I spent the second week in August with Rev. R. M. Davis in a meeting at Emory Church, Byhalia circuit, where we had spiritual refreshing, and some good was accomplished.

The third Sunday I was with Bro. Babb at Red Banks, where he was closing a successful meeting.

August 24-29 I participated in the camp meeting at South Union, Chester circuit, where there was a good work of grace in the church and in the conversion of sinners. Ten were received into church membership.

September 7-10 I was with Rev. R. S. Lawson and the people at Cascilla, doing special Sunday-school work and preaching. When I left the meeting was growing in interest, with prospects of good results. Rev. C. H. Pittman had arrived to assist the pastor.

I acknowledge my indebtedness for a copy of the "Third Year-Book of the Mississippi Conference Sunday-school Board," which I have read with pleasure and profit. Rev. D. Scarborough, secretary and editor, deserves much credit for this excellent publication.

The Canadian Epworth Era says: "Out of two thousand Methodist ministers in Canada, we have only about six hundred on our subscription list." To this the editor of our Epworth Era adds: 'Our experience with the pastors of Southern Methodism is only slightly better than this. What hope is there for our work when so many of the pastors of the church will not give the young people's course even the courtesy of a study?' This statement and question should provoke reflection on the part of those preachers who do not take and read the Epworth Era, Sunday-school Magazine and Children's Visitor. No one who would succeed in his work for and with the children and young people can afford to be without these excellent periodicals.

Grenada College has opened with more than eighty boarding pupils, and a goodly number more to follow. This is the best opening this institution has ever had, which is very gratifying to the president, faculty and friends of the school.

Mrs. Harrison, mother-in-law of Rev. J. S. Oakley, died at the Oakley home, in Chester, Miss., Aug. 24, and was buried in South Union cemetery on the next day, after funeral services conducted by Rev. W. L. Anderson, assisted by several preachers who were present at the camp meeting.

G. W. BACHMAN.

Winona, Miss., Sept. 15, 1900.

IN MEMORIAM.

Miss Cynthia Cade died at the residence of her brother, Charles Cade, near Jackson, Miss., Jan. 13, 1900. She was a dutiful daughter, an affectionate sister, and a kind neighbor. She had been for many years a member of the Methodist Church. She was a devout Christian. Her Bible was her daily companion. After the death of her mother she led the family devotions day by day. She had unbounded faith in the promises of God, and these were her stay and support amid the cares, toils and sorrows of life, and in the trying hour of nature's dissolution. She left a dying testimony to the power of Christ to save. May all her loved ones so live that they may meet her in that unbright clime where sickness and sorrow, pain and death, are felt and feared no more!

ANOTHER "BROTHERLY PROTEST."

I heartily protest against the implication contained in Bro. J. A. Bowen's "Brotherly Protest," of Sept. 13, that we, who signed a correction of some errors lately published by Sister G. H. Mathis, made thereby any sort of an "effort to prejudice the readers of the ADVOCATE against Sister Mathis." We all agree that Sister Mathis is, as Bro. Bowen says, "one of the wisest and most loyal Christian women in our church," and she is hardly "honored and loved by her church" in Columbus more than by ourselves. The fact that in making the program for the State League Conference, at Vicksburg, I allotted to her and her work more time and prominence than to any other department of the League work, is abundant proof that I certainly have a very high appreciation of Sister Mathis as a worker in the Epworth League. "The gifted president of a State League Conference," nor even "the most promising young men of the North Alabama Conference" whom she brought to Christ, nor the pastors and presiding elders he alludes to, have not shown any higher appreciation of the worth of this fine Christian woman than has this ex-president of a State League Conference and busy presiding elder.

But all of this and much more does in no wise alter the fact that Sister Mathis dropped into some very hurtful errors and gave dangerous publicity to them. Bro. Bowen will certainly agree with me that the church's first and highest duty is to heed the great commission and send the gospel to the heathen; and he will surely confess with me that our church falls shamefully below her duty in the foreign mission work. He also knows that the young life, to be trained in the Epworth League, is the hope of the church. Now, as we are striving to get these young Methodists to learn the one great lesson of Christianity and catch the spirit of their Lord, Sister Mathis tells them of the marasmus of a great missionary debt, when no such debt exists; urges them that they are devoting too much attention to missions when they are not giving half the attention they should, and discounts the State League Conference by suggesting that nobody was ready to invite its next session, when hospitality was eager to be extended. These were errors—there were others of minor import—they were dangerous errors, for if the Leaguers accepted them, the League cause and the missionary cause would be fearfully discounted in their estimate. Bro. Bowen knows that they were errors—why should we not correct them? Does Bro. Bowen wish truth suppressed and dangerous errors perpetuated? Would he have us, for love of Sister Mathis, refuse to correct her hurtful errors? I have the highest appreciation of Sister Mathis, and I love my Brother Bowen, but I love truth and the church and the Christ more.

H. WALTER FEATHERSTON.

NOTES FROM THE HOLLY SPRINGS DISTRICT.

MR. EDITOR: We have had some success on the district. About two hundred conversions and accessions; the church revived. The crop prospect here is the poorest it has been for fifty years. In one community one brother who usually makes one thousand bushels of corn will make only twenty-five. In another community one brother who runs thirteen plows on good land offers his whole crop for five bales of cotton. Another, the father of our Bro. J. H. Smith, who planted some fine bottom land, will not make one pound of cotton or an ear of corn. Thousands of acres here will not make anything; yet our collections are coming up as well as usual. Some, where they made good crops last year and are making very little this year, are paying more on the collections than they paid last year. "Where there is a will there is a way."

J. W. HONNOLL.

Holly Springs, Miss., Sept. 14, 1900.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

So many calls have come to me to assist in meetings that I can not find time for them all. I have now all the work I can perform between now and Conference, and I beg that no brother to whom I have not already engaged myself will consider me in arranging for his meetings.

WALTER G. HARBIN.

Moorhead, Miss.

If your Brain is Tired
Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.
Dr. T. D. CROTHERS, Supt Walnut Lodge Asylum Hartford, Conn., says: "It is a remedy of great value in building up functional energy and brain force."

India Famine Relief Fund.

Previously reported	$274 80
Miss Lizzie Powe and Mother, Winchester, Miss.	2 00
W. H. M. Society, Halfway, La.	2 50
Mrs. H. A. Phillips, Opelousas, La.	1 00
Total	$280 10

Gratuitous Advertisement Again.

Some months ago I ran across an editorial in a prominent literary journal which stated that the very best advertisements a bad book got were the denunciations of it in the religious press and from the pulpit, and that it would liberally pay the authors of such volumes to generously compensate such agents, and keep as many of them in the field as possible. I was not much surprised at that, for I had frequently heard that foolish pulpiteers were largely responsible for the circulation of infidel works. But I was surprised beyond measure to find the unique advertisement of a New York liquor house in the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, of Aug. 30, and that, too, from the pen of our beloved Bishop Galloway. The advertisement is complete in every detail. The name of the house and its location, even to the street and number, are given; the brands, ages and prices of the liquors are duly quoted; the guarantee is stated, and the Rev. Dr.'s testimonial is added. I am sure that if I were running such an establishment, and such a notice of it from such a source in such a paper should appear, I would consider a draft for a hundred dollars a small return for such unique and unintentional service rendered.

H. M. ELLIS.

We neither guess nor speculate about it, but state from a conviction of positive certainty, that if the Methodist ministers throughout the connection would devote themselves this Fall to an old-time canvass for increasing the circulation of our Methodist weeklies, more present and permanent good would come from it than from any other work which could possibly be done. The dropping of a Methodist paper week after week, into all our families, is the greatest need of the church.—Zion's Herald.

CHURCH DEDICATION AT POPLARVILLE, MISS.

Sunday, the ninth instant, was a great day for Methodism in Poplarville, Miss. Bishop Galloway, after an eloquent and appropriate sermon, dedicated our splendid new church. This building cost more than $3,000, and is a splendid monument to the liberality and fidelity of our good people there. For their strength they have indeed done nobly. The Building Committee, composed of S. E. Lance, W. J. Hunnicutt, A. L. Rawls, N. Batson, D. F. Archer and J. R. Talley, deserves great credit for this splendid piece of work.

The beautiful and comfortable new seats, at a cost of $725, were purchased by our Ladies' Aid. All honor to these good women! This church, the auditorium of which is splendidly arranged, would seat about 800. The building is an imposing one, and, as a community, we catch new inspiration and, in the name of our King, press onward for greater conquests still.

B. S. RAYNER, P. C.

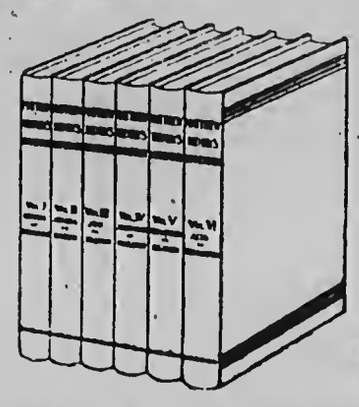
Sept. 10, 1900.

YOUR SON.

If your son is in doubt as to his future life-work, you may determine it for him. There is no more fascinating study than dentistry, and we know of no better equipped school where it is more thoroughly taught in all its branches than the Atlanta Dental College. Two hundred students are in attendance here at this leading Southern institute. Read their announcement in this issue.

Oberammergau: Its Play and Its People, by J. Leland Boogher, is given first place in The American Illustrated Methodist Magazine, for September. A realistic description of a recent performance of the Passion Play is strengthened by illustrations from photographs of the principal actors and scenes in this wonderful drama. S. M. Byrd contributes an interesting paper on Prince Murat as an American Citizen. Ancestral Worship in China is the title of a timely article contributed by the Rev. C. M. Wilcox, Ph.D., editor of The Chinese Christian Advocate, published at Foochow. The Era of the Camp Meeting is the subject treated in the nineteenth chapter of The Illustrated History of Methodism, published serially in the magazine. Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald contributes to this a highly interesting article on The Negro Preacher in the South Before the War. Published monthly by the Methodist Magazine Publishing Co., 223 North Second street, St. Louis, Mo. $1.50 a year.

Brodie's Liver Pills
FOR
Biliousness, Dyspepsia,
SICK HEADACHE, WEAK STOMACH,
AND ALL
Disorders of the Liver.
TESTIMONY.
I have used Brodie's Pills for many years in my family, and have found them invaluable in all cases, and, as a Liver Pill, do not think they have an equal. GEO. H. WILEY.
Sold By All Druggists.
Price, 25c. a Box.
I. L. LYONS & CO., Prop's,
NEW ORLEANS LA

Matthew Henry's Commentary
on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.
Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.
Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.


Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.
3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.
Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.
Cheapest and Best Commentary.
Best cloth binding—good type.
Write to
Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.
Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.
SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 64
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,282 43
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 07
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,325 20
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,235 43

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY
are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.
Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.
Post & Bowles, New Orleans, La.
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

A SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY,
BY DENTISTS, FOR DENTISTS.
The Atlanta Dental College has a corps of ten experienced teachers. Largest School in the State and in the South. Owns and operates its Chemic, Pathologic, Bacteriologic, and Ceramic apparatus within the College Building—a self-contained school teaching Dentistry by Dentists. Located in the heart of the city. For further and fuller particulars, address
WM. CRENSHAW, D.D.S., Dean.
Prudential Building, Atlanta, Ga.

PASTORS AND SCHOOLS.

Says Dr. Lafferty, of the Richmond Advocate:

No one ought to be more interested in our schools than the pastors. They know the schools. The value of a diploma at this college or that is not a matter of guess to the preachers. The boys and girls of their parishioners ought to have the sound advice of these men of God. Education has great value. Unworthy, indeed, is the shepherd who is indifferent and unconcerned as to the mental training of the sons and daughters of his flock. And upon his conscience rests the counsel as to the best school.

Allow an illustration. A girl, won away to a Catholic college, became the propagandist of that church in a Virginia neighborhood. Proselytes followed. She exerted herself as a missionary among the young people. It was somebody's error.

The need of our ministry and people is a revival of the old loyalty to Methodism. The pastor who allows lads from his people to go to this or that school when a word would turn them to our academy or college, is hurting his church and himself. There is a great wastage.

Safety Appliances on the New Passenger Service of the Queen and Crescent Route.

All of the passenger equipment for the new fast train service of the Queen and Crescent Route between Meridian and Shreveport is now being equipped with safety gates and extension platforms, the same as are used with square vestibules, in order that passengers may pass to and from the Dining Car with absolute safety.

Excursions.

The New Orleans and Northeastern railroad announces that, commencing with Wednesday, April 25, it will inaugurate the popular Wednesday excursions to St. Tammany parish, including Covington, Abita Springs, Pearl River, Slidell, and all intermediate stations.

The attractions to sportsmen, as well as the healthfulness of St. Tammany parish, are constantly increasing the popularity of these resorts.

Great improvement has been made, both by the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad and the East Louisiana railroad, in the track, which is being rapidly relaid with heavy steel rails, and in the equipment, thereby affording the excursionist the best of accommodations.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

Makes The Lawn Beautiful.

HARTMAN STEEL ROO LAWN FENCE
adds to the attractiveness and value of the home. Strong and durable; keeps out everything but the sunshine. Unequaled for School Lawns, Church Enclosures, Parks, Cemeteries, Private Lots, etc. Catalogue free.
HARTMAN M'F'G CO., BOX 105 ELLWOOD CITY, PA.
Or Room 121, 309 Broadway, New York City.

WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE,
(ESTABLISHED 1859.)
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.
A. F. WATKINS, D. D., President. REV. M. L. BURTON, V. Pres. and Bus. Mgr.
The session will open Sept. 12, 1900. Unusual advantages are offered by this historic institution.
Campus large and beautiful. Buildings commodious, being thoroughly repaired.
Hot and cold water in the dormitories. Electric lights in every room.
Healthfulness unsurpassed. Course of study comprehensive and thorough.
Faculty carefully selected. Our facilities for doing work in the Departments of Music, Painting, and the Industrial Arts are very fine.
Our Motto: "Do Right."
Our Aim: The development of the highest type of Christian womanhood.
Our Charges are moderate. Write for a Catalogue.
A card addressed to WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE, Brookhaven, Miss., will receive prompt attention

Grenada Female College
Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.
PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.
W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

Stanton College

For Young Ladies,

NATCHEZ, MISS

Beautiful grounds and buildings, electric lights, pure artesian and cistern water. Home-life judiciously supervised. Bountiful fare and excellent health record.

Classical, Scientific and English Courses, Music, Art, Elocution, Phonography.

Chartered in 1893. Affiliated with University of Mississippi. High Standard: thorough work. Twelve teachers. Boarders limited and given individual attention. Apply early to insure choice of rooms. Terms reasonable.

J. R. PRESTON,
President of Faculty

IUKA NORMAL INSTITUTE
Iuka, Miss.

Nineteenth year begins Sept. 4, 1900. Terms reasonable—advantages superior. Satisfaction guaranteed to all working pupils. Write for the handsomest catalogue of the season.

H. A. DEAN, Pres.

PATENTS

promptly procured. OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch, or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to obtain U.S and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks," FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 26 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges. Write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Johnston Collegiate Institute

GREENSBURG, LA.,

Prepares boys and girls for high-grade colleges. Under the auspices of the M. E. Church, South. Affiliated with Vanderbilt University. Board, lodging and tuition, per session of 40 weeks, $100. Write for Catalogue.

Rev. P. M. BROWN, A. B., Prin.

Vanderbilt Training School,

Elkton, Ky.

JOSHUA H. HARRISON, Principal.

Well located; well equipped; intelligent community; good health; good work. For information address the Principal, Elkton, Ky. Next session will begin Sept. 4.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

FACTS ABOUT PAINT — When Your HOUSE, BARN or ROOF NEEDS PAINTING write SUTCLIFFE & CO., Louisville, Ky. Ask for Book No. 92. It tells how to buy and paint to best advantage. COSTS NOTHING. WILL SAVE MUCH

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Iuka Normal Institute, the pioneer normal of the South, manipulated by Pres. H. A. Dean, who is widely known as one of the foremost, common-sense educators in the land. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

A RARE BARGAIN.

THE VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to Sept., 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

THE COWBELLS.

BY ELIZABETH D. PRESTON.

Not because of their own music
As they tinkle down the lane,
But from memories interwoven
Would I hear the bells again,
With their jingle, jingle, jangle,
As up from the woodland tangle
Bess and Moll come home.

Melody I've heard that's sweeter
Swelling from the thrushes' throats;
But there's country peace and quiet
Mingled in the cowbells' notes,
With their jingle, jingle, jangle,
As up from the woodland tangle
Kate and Nell come home.

Possibly because I'm weary
Of the city's ceaseless strife,
That my heart swells out in longing
For the quiet, rural life,
Where with jingle, jangle, jingle
From lowland, dell and dingle
All the cows come home.

—Pittsburg Advocate.

BRAVE FELLOWS.

At a monastery in southern France, American and other visitors are promptly told the story of the exploit of a monk who was once one of the inmates of the convent. The monks belong to a mendicant order, and send out one of their members periodically on begging excursions. The hero of the story—it happened many years ago—had been out on one of these expeditions, and was coming back to the monastery, his purse well filled, when he was attacked in a corner of the wood by a highwayman, who pointed a pistol at his head.

The monk "came down" instantly, crying for help and tossing his purse to the thief, who put it in his coat.

"Ah," gasped the monk, "take it! take it! But what a wigging the prior will give me if he thinks I made no resistance! If you are a highwayman of the fine old school, you will do me a favor."

"Certainly," said the thief. He was anxious to deserve the compliment. "Anything you wish. What is it?"

"I want to prove to the prior that I defended myself heroically against your attack. Won't you please shoot a few holes through that coat?"

He pulled off his cloak and threw it down. The thief courteously pointed his pistol at it and pulled the trigger. There was no report.

"What's the matter?" asked the monk.

"I must own to you," said the highwayman, "that I possess no such commodity as gunpowder."

"Well, you're a queer highwayman. Then please slash the cloak a little with your dirk."

"I am also destitute of a knife," said the thief. "I have no weapon of any kind. I attack none but cowards and fools."

"You do, eh?" exclaimed the monk. "Then I guess I'm as good as you. Come on."

He fell upon the thief, and smote him hip and thigh. When he had made quite sure that he had beaten the wretch into unconsciousness, he repossessed himself of the purse and went on his way to the monastery.—Youths' Companion.

KEEP ONE IRON HOT.

I have in mind two girls, writes Marguerite Brooks, in Success for September, who, although not college-trained, had unusual opportunities for culture and home study. One of them had learned, or rather acquired, a superficial knowledge of shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, drawing, and painting on china, but had not really possessed herself, so to speak, of any one of those things. She is intelligent and widely read, and yet for nearly a year she has been trying in vain to get a position, even at six dollars a week, while she has the mortification of seeing others younger and less intelligent accepted in offices where she has been refused employment. They could say, with some measure of confidence, that they could do at least one thing well, while she, when questioned, gave timid, hesitating replies, and was obliged to confess that she was not master of any one of her crafts.

THE NEW CANCER CURE.

All forms of Malignant Growths Cured by Dr. Hathaway's Serum Treatment.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.

Dr. Hathaway's New Serum Treatment for the cure of Cancer and other malignant growths is as much of an advance in medical science as was vaccination for small-pox. Thousands of cases treated and cured by him have proved this. The method is entirely unlike any other.

T. T. Osby, of Tula Rosa, N. M., stated: "For several years I had what was supposed to be a pipe sore on the lip. It finally developed into a Cancer. In Oct. 1898, I consulted Dr. Hathaway & Co., and then applied their Serum Treatment. One injection cured me."

Mrs. I. N. Rogers, 133 N. Rozborn St., Memphis, Tenn., states: "I had a Cancer in the corner of my eye that extended down on my cheek and nose. Several so-called Cancer doctors and their burning treatments failed; but Dr. Hathaway's new Serum Treatment cured me in six weeks without pain."

Full information, together with Dr. Hathaway's New Book on Cancer, will be mailed free.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.,
DR. HATHAWAY & CO.,
420 B Main St., Cleveland Block, MEMPHIS, TENN.

The other girl had studied telegraphy, penmanship, two or three foreign languages, had attended current literature classes and debating societies, and was broadly intelligent along general lines. But her penmanship was not good enough to recommend her as a copyist; her knowledge of telegraphy was not sufficiently thorough to get her work in an office; she could neither speak nor write any one of the three languages she had studied, nor could she conduct a debate or instruct a class in current literature.

You do not wonder, do you, that this young woman found no place among the world's busy, practical workers?

What I wish to impress upon you, girls, is not to go out in life with the idea that you have so many irons in the fire that one or more will surely succeed. You must be certain that at least one of your irons is at white heat, or your high hope and ambition will end in disappointment and failure.

A HEART-WINNING DEED.

The Christian Endeavor World brings to us an incident of the Rev. Russell H. Conwell, which again proves how much mightier the deed is than the word.

Two young men of the world attended Grace Church occasionally in company with their young lady friends. One evening the young folks fell to discussing Rev. Mr. Conwell. The young ladies declared that their pastor was animated by the best of motives, but the converts to the beer-keg declared, "Conwell is like all the rest of them—he is in it for the almighty dollar." It was of no use for two simple, Christian-hearted girls to argue with omniscience, and the question was dropped. One stormy Winter's night, as these two young men reeled out of a saloon at twelve o'clock, they heard a voice saying:

"My dear child, why did you not tell me before that you were in need? You know that I would not let you suffer."

"That's Conwell," said one of the young fellows.

"Nah! get out," replied his companion; "what's the matter with you?"

"I tell you that was Conwell's voice; let's follow him up."

Through the blinding snow they could distinguish the tall, masculine form of the pastor of Grace Church, with a large basket on one arm, and leading a little girl by the hand. Keeping a sufficient distance to avoid recognition, the young men followed to a home of need the man whose spoken word in the great Temple had failed to lead them to believe in him who "went about doing good," but whose ministry to a needy family at midnight brought the tears of sincere repentance and a cry for mercy. Those young men became consistent members of Grace Church, and vie with others in devotion to their pastor.

THE BOY WHO LEARNED THE WAY.

He was very young—about thirteen—this boy who spent most of his time in the studios watching the artists draw and paint, and wishing he could do the same.

"What kind of pencils do you use?" he said, one day; and they gave him one of the kind. That night he tried to make a figure he had seen one of the artists draw—it seemed so easy. But he could not do the same kind of work.

"Perhaps I haven't the right kind of paper," he reasoned. "I will get a piece to-morrow." Even the right kind of paper did not help him any.

"I need a studio and an easel," were his next conclusions. "I have the desire; surely, all I need now are the necessary surroundings."

A few years of impatient waiting passed before he secured the "necessary surroundings;" and, when he had them all, and still found it impossible to draw, the truth dawned upon him.

"I know now what is wrong," he cried, throwing down his pencil; "I know nothing of the principles of art. I must learn them first."

He was still young when his name as a great painter was known on two continents. He had learned the "principle." A bit of brown paper and a burnt match would then enable him to draw as easily as all the art essentials.—Anne Partlan, in Success.

AS TO BOYS.

The old Jesuits used to say: "Give us a boy until he is thirteen, and anybody else can have him afterward." It was a true saying, and their influence upon their pupils was found to last through life in almost every case. Early years are formative years. No boy or girl can afford to say: "When I grow up, I will give up this or that bad habit, or enter upon this or that right path." In the early years that make character, every day of delay or of wrong-doing counts, and its results may be everlasting.

A boy can be orderly as well as a girl. Upon the great men-of-war of our navy, with not a woman on board, there is an exquisite neatness and order that would do credit to the best housekeeper in the United States. If our sailors are trained to perfect orderliness, why can not our boys be, too?

It is very easy to believe that we know better what is good for us than our parents do. Perhaps we may study out of a more modern geography than they did, and know more about the higher mathematics. But a course of life often teaches more than geography or mathematics can teach; and in that course they are undoubtedly far ahead of us. We make a great mistake in undervaluing our parents' wisdom.

Every day is a new chance to begin a new record.—Selected.

THE COUNTRY GIRL IN THE CITY.

"When the question, 'Should the Country Girl Go to the City?' is asked, I take it for granted that the country girl is all right," writes Elizabeth Cady Stanton in August Success. "The vast majority of country girls are. I do not want to talk about the weak or the feeble, mentally, morally, or physically, but about the complete girl, the character fully armed and equipped for the battle of life. Considering the country girl in this light, I believe she should go to the city, or wherever her business or chosen profession or work leads her. The country boy should do the same; he will do the same. The girl has an equal right with the boy to choose her work or her profession, and if her choice makes it necessary for her to go to the city, she must go; there is no alternative. We are not like men on a chessboard, to be moved about by some power outside of ourselves. We are moved by our own thoughts, our own desires, and each girl must be guided in her choice of a life-work by the divine impulse from within."

EVERYBODY SHOULD KNOW THIS.

This recipe is an original and tested one from an old cook who made use of it for her own personal benefit. This peculiar odor, which permeates the flesh of lambs and sheep, the latter especially, is very offensive to most people, and many who would otherwise enjoy the meat can not eat it on account of this unpleasant attribute. Now, the remedy is simple and inexpensive, for all that is necessary is to take the juice of one lemon and beat it with sufficient butter to make a gravy, and pour this over the meat when boiling, or when putting it in to bake; it applies to frying also.

Another method which she gave and which may possibly be known to others, is to pour the gravy of the meat, when it is done, over some freshly gathered mint leaves, allowing it to remain long enough for the mint to thoroughly flavor it; then pour it back over the meat. This is known as mint gravy.—Christian World.

A WOMAN SHOULD DRESS HER BEST AT HOME.

At home a woman should be guided in her manner of dressing by an even greater desire to please than elsewhere. Her husband may be the most unobservant of men, but he will know when she looks neat and attractive, with hair newly dressed, and some pretty arrangement about the bodice of her gown. The practice of wearing soiled finery at home can not be too strongly deprecated—July Ladies' Home Journal.

Happy those who are able in truth to say: "My Lord and my God!" Here is the noblest inspiration for life, strength for work, comfort in trouble, hope in death. Here is what gives eternity itself its chief interest and joy.—William Forsythe.

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Drug Gists. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co., 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy-five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two-thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

Avoid imitations of Pearline The Automatic Cleanser

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. Dr. D. R. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,
NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES. Classical, Literary, Latin Scientific and Scientific Courses.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY. Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering.

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments. Fall Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens October 15th.

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address

Secretary of University.

GROCERY MONEY SAVED

Is grocery money earned. And you save it when you buy here.

Hundreds of housewives are glad they sent for King's Price List. They're saving money every week. You might just as well be saving, too.

The Price List shows the littleness of prices: the goods speak most eloquently of the qualities.

The combination wins.

Send for Price List now.

I especially solicit out-of town trade.

KING'S, DRYADES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.

Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for 2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and fine cordwood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited

MONEY SAVED

In the end by taking the

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrives
Memphis and Local.....	6:00 p. m	10:30 a. m
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:30 a. m	5:30 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Cla-Mississippi Sugar Country, and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

JESSE FRENCH PIANOS

AND ORGANS HAVE BEEN RECOGNIZED AS THE MOST POPULAR INSTRUMENTS IN THE WHOLE SOUTHWEST FOR NEARLY THIRTY YEARS.

OUR FACTORIES are among the LARGEST in the U.S.

CATALOGS FREE

Jesse French Piano & Organ Co.

HOME OFFICE ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

Branches Agents & Representatives in all LARGE CITIES

Sherwood Music School

FINE ARTS BUILDING, 203 Michigan Av. CHICAGO.

William H. Sherwood and Walton Perkins, Directors.

Highest Standard of Art. Faculty of eminent teachers. Catalog free on application.

Fall Term Opens September 10.

WILLIAM R. PERKINS, Sec.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,

MILK · DEPOT,

SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.

CONFECTIONERIES.

DELIVERY FREE.

1733 Pytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Suite 303--New Orleans National Bank Building,

606 Common St., New Orleans, La

OBITUARIES.

(Continued from Third Page.)

MEMORIAM OF A. B. NICHOLSON.

Peace on thy brow, thy eyelids so calm;
Peace in thy heart, 'neath thy folded palm;
Farewell! the reaper summoned thee home;
Farewell! thy work on earth is done.
Victory was thine, thy crown is won;
Thou art among the heavenly throng;
God giveth thee rest at home with the blest,
Far beyond our feeble sight,
High in yonder realms of light;
Happy forever in Immanuel's love,
Safely anchored in the mansion above.
Unveil thy bosom, thou faithful tomb,
And give his body sacred room;
Take the new treasure to thy trust,
To slumber in the silent dust;
There no angry tempest blows,
While angels watch his soft repose.
So slept Jesus, God's dying Son;
He passed through and blest the bed;
So rest, blest saint, 'till from his throne
Break forth that illustrious morn,
And to earth give his sovereign Word;
Restore thy trust, then thy glorious form
Shall arise and meet the Lord.
Loved one, think of that beautiful home
Where your beloved one has gone;
Our Father hears the sad cry of the grieved hearts that call,
Friends, husbands, children; he loveth them all.
In that beautiful world our spirits all shall meet;
'Tis there our loved ones again we shall greet.

M. L. WHEELAN.

IN MEMORY OF MARY E. WADE.

There was once a lily which sprang up in this world as gentle as the evening dew; yet it was not a lily of the valley, but the lily of her home, which she loved and cherished as long as she remained in it. She was always the sunshine of her brothers' and sister's lives, because of her gentle disposition. At the tender age of seven years she was deprived of a mother's care, but was at once taken to the home of our grandparents, where she remained for five years. While under their care she united herself with the Methodist Church, of which she remained a member until her death. After our father's second marriage she was brought home, and lived with us until her own marriage Nov. 9, 1898, to Mr. I. B. Wade. She spent only a little over a year in her quiet little country home with her husband. In her latter days her sufferings were intense; but, alas! on the morning of the twenty-seventh of March, 1900 the death angel knocked at the door, and, lo! 'twas opened, and the sweet soul passed into another world, leaving a broken-hearted husband with only one consolation—that of meeting her on the other side of the river; and also a sweet baby boy, never to realize a mother's love. Alas! alas! she will answer to the sweet name no more. But, darling sister,

Here we will wreathe around your narrow tomb
A few flowers sweet and wild;
We've culled them for your lonely home;
You loved them when a child.

SISTER.

MEMORIAL OF MRS. SARAH A. HACKLER.

After more than eighty years upon earth, spent in the service of Him she delighted to honor, our sister has fallen on sleep. She was a valued member of our guild since its inception years ago, and her interest never knew any flagging.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Fayette charge appreciate the privilege of laying this faint tribute upon Mrs. Hackler's grave. They do it with reverence, as in the presence of an angel; with satisfaction, as for an honored, useful fellow-laborer; and with grief, as they contemplate the void her absence makes in our ranks.

Resolved, That we inscribe upon a separate page these lines upon the records of our society, sacred to the memory of our sister.

Resolved, That a copy be sent the family of our sister; testimonial to them of the regard in which we held her.

Resolved, That our county paper, the Feyette Chronicle, be requested to print these resolutions according to our custom.

MRS. R. W. CAMPBELL, Pres.
MRS. W. H. H. LEWIS, Sec.

WILSON—Mrs. M. E. WILSON, wife of Mr. Henry Wilson, was born in Pike county, Miss., June 16, 1835, and on Tuesday, June 12, 1900, at her home in Union parish, La., passed quietly into eternity at the age of sixty five years. She and Mr. Wilson were married on Nov. 19, 1859, and since that time she has been a devoted wife, a loving mother, and also a kind and true friend to all who knew her. She was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church, and was always found serving the Lord. Hers was a model Christian life. She was ever found at her post of duty. When contributions were wanted to further the cause of Christianity, she was never found wanting. She seemed to be happiest when worshiping God, and she was always ready to bear testimony to the goodness of God. We thank God for the beautiful life she has lived; one without spot or wrinkle. Her influence will ever abide among her many friends. All her troubles she would take to the Lord, and there she would find comfort. She was ever ready to help the poor, needy, and distressed, and would direct them to a higher Power for comfort, and tell them what Jesus had done for her. She died a noble death; a death that none but a true Christian can die. She always said that a person must have a religion that will give them comfort in the hour of death, and in her case this was strikingly true. In her dying testimony she said that Jesus had called her, and she was ready to go; that she would soon be with the angels of heaven; that she wanted her husband, children, grandchildren and friends to meet her there, and that she was submissive to God's will. She requested them to sing at her grave the song, "Death is Only a Dream." It can well be said, "To know her was to love her." The great esteem in which she was held was manifested by the large crowd that assembled at her burial. The husband, children and grandchildren feel lonely indeed. No one can fill the vacant chair, but we may be made better by trying to imitate her example. May the bereaved be comforted by the mercy of the Lord on high, and may their hearts be healed by the balm of his gracious love!

The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community and of the writer are extended to the bereaved in this, their hour of deepest sorrow.

A FRIEND.

PHILLIPS—Little RUTH PHILLIPS, infant daughter of Robert L. and Lottie Phillips, was born Jan. 23, 1900, and died July 7.

Our heart-strings are broken; there is a vacancy in our home. Her short stay with us was like the visit of an angel. Her departure leaves lingering visions of golden smiles, bright eyes dancing with filial affection.

"Tender softness! infant mild!
Perfect, purest, brightest child!
Transient luster! beauteous clay!
Smiling wonder of a day!
Ere the last convulsive start
Rend thy unresisting heart;
Ere the long-enduring swoon
Weigh thy precious eyelids down;
Ah! regard a mother's moan,
Anguish deeper than thy own!
Fairest eyes! whose dawning light
Late with rapture blest my sight,
Ere your orbs extinguished be,
Bend their trembling beams on me!
Drooping sweetness! verdant flower!
Blooming, withering in an hour!
Ere thy gentle breast unstaine
Latest, fiercest, mortal pains,
Hear a suppliant; let me be
Partner in thy destiny."

Farewell, little Ruth, till we meet you in the resurrection morn.

PAPA.

Peden, Miss.

BUFFKIN—Mrs. ELIZABETH JANE BUFFKIN (nee Barlow) departed this life near Barlow, Miss., Feb. 2, 1900. The subject of this brief sketch was born Oct. 24, 1824, dying in her seventy-sixth year. She was married, Dec. 4, 1843, to Harmon F. Buffkin, who survives her, but in old age and great feebleness is only waiting near by the shores of time, fully prepared and ready for the summons.

Sister Buffkin was happily converted early in life, and was always an earnest, active Christian worker. She was an affectionate wife, devoted mother, and kind neighbor. Five sons and seven daughters were born, of whom three sons and two daughters preceded her to the better world. Two sons and five daughters remain to mourn the loss of dear old mother. Doubtless there was rejoicing in heaven among that blood-washed throng as her pure spirit passed into that realm of light and glory, though her earthly home was made dark and gloomy, and dear ones left deeply their great loss.

May our Father in heaven comfort and sustain the aged husband and all the loved ones left behind! The Lord bless and save all!

HER PASTOR.

Deafness Can Not Be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

As we call our first language our mother tongue, so we may usually call our first tempers our mother tempers; and, perhaps, it may be found more easy to forge the language than to part entirely with those tempers we learned in the nursery.—Law.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

The chief art of learning is to attempt but little at a time. The widest excursions of the mind are made by short flights, frequently repeated; the most lofty fabrics of science are formed by the continued accumulation of single propositions.—Locke.

PIMPLES

on the face, eczema, tetter, freckles, blackheads, ring worm, blotches, and all skin disorders can be cured with

HEISKELL'S OINTMENT

Price 50 Cents a Box.

HEISKELL'S BLOOD AND LIVER PILLS

Purify the blood and tone the system.

Price 25 Cents per Bottle.

JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philadelphia.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, IOWA, Dec. '14.

No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.

MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT. For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Dep't, The CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Druggists sell Large Bottles for $1.00.

WINE OF CARDUI

W. W. Carre & Co

LUMBER,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOB PRINTING

- - All Kinds - -

AT THIS OFFICE.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to September, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

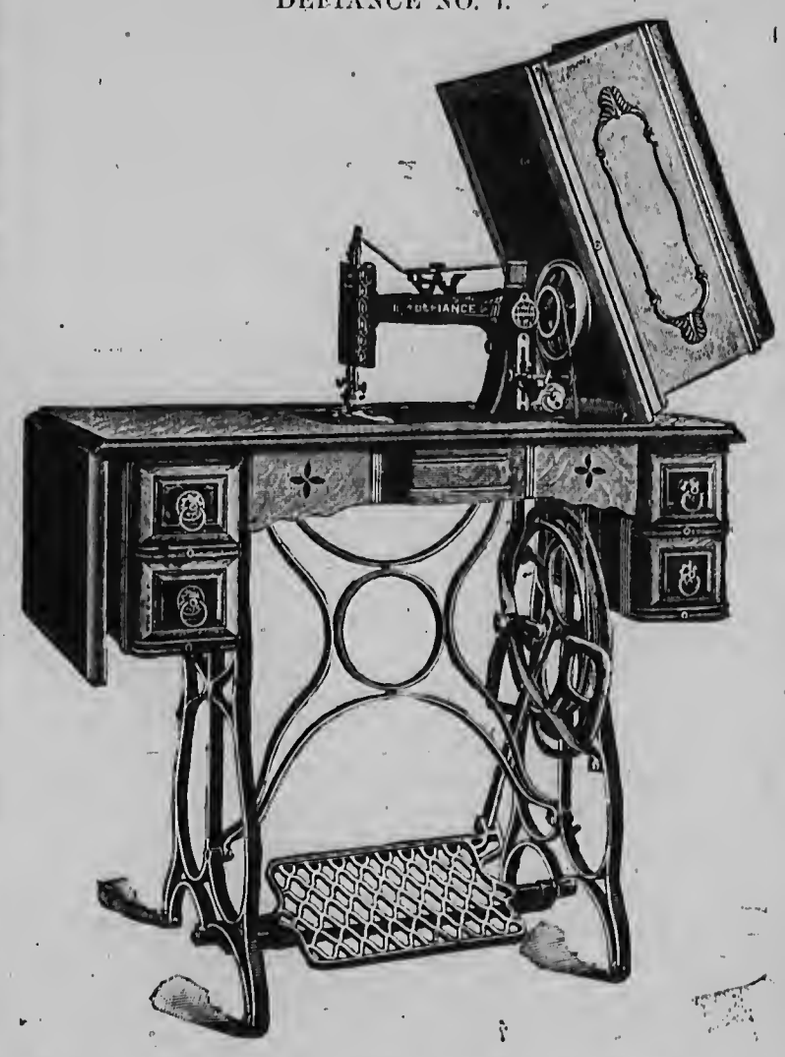
For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

DEFIANCE NO. 4.



The Defiance Machine is the perfection of simplicity, durability, speed, strength and ease of operation.

Construction. It is constructed of the best material in use, every bearing, without an exception, being of steel or case-hardened.

The Mechanical Devices of this machine are a combination of tried mechanical principles. In detail it differs materially from other machines. Its simplicity is at once apparent, and its great durability is admitted by the best mechanical experts.

The Arm is large and roomy, 8x5½ inches in the clear.

No Vibration. This machine does not vibrate. Its motion is easy and quiet.

Lock Stitch. It is a lock-stitch shuttle machine.

Speedy, Light, Quiet. It is as speedy, light and quiet-running as any shuttle machine manufactured.

Double Feed—Positive Four-Motion. The double feed possesses advantages over all others. Its very shape and form obviates all the disadvantages arising from double feeds as they have heretofore been constructed, and combines in this machine all the advantages of both the single and double feed, doing away with the objections to either of them.

The operation of the feed mechanism is positive, giving an accurate four-motion movement to the feed without the use of springs.

The Needle Bar. This machine has a self-lubricating needle-bar, which is always kept clean, well-oiled, and the oil can not drop on the work and soil it.

The Needle is absolutely self-setting. No screwdriver is required in setting, a winged thumb nut being used instead.

The machine is self-threading. Put in the bobbin, draw the thread towards you, through the slot and, it is done.

The Loose Pulley for winding the bobbins without running the machine is so constructed as to admit of an instantaneous stoppage and starting of the machine without stopping the treadle movement—a valuable improvement peculiar to this machine.

Automatic Bobbin Winder. The bobbin winder operates automatically, winding the thread on the bobbin regularly and as evenly as the thread on a spool. Can be operated without running the machine.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine; 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

Additional Accessories. Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screwdriver, Oil Can filled with oil, Cloth Guage and Thumb-screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

DEFIANCE NO. 7½.

This cut shows our new and popular style, the No. 7½ Defiance Drop Cabinet perfectly protecting the machine from dust, and making a convenient and ornamental stand. When machine is ready for use the head is in same position as on ordinary style; when through using, it requires only the turning over of the leaf of table, and the sewing machine head drops into the case or cabinet between the drawers, completely out of sight, forming a handsome table with highly polished top.

No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of one drawer at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $32. Our price, $18.

No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $34. Our price, $19.

No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $36. Our price, $20.

No. 7½ Machine, Drop head cabinet, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $38. Our price, $23.

All the woodwork is of the best quality, either Light Antique or Golden Oak Finish. For Walnut Woodwork add $2 to above list prices.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
612 Camp St., New Orleans

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

THROW AWAY YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of

CHILLIFUGE

will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

A COMPROMISE PROBABLE.

The British authorities, in their reply to the Russian proposition for the evacuation of Pekin, decline to take that step prior to receiving satisfactory guarantees from the Chinese Government for the fulfillment of certain necessary conditions. It now seems highly probable that a compromise will soon be arranged providing for the withdrawal of the forces of all the powers from Pekin to Tien Tsin, on condition that a strong international guard be left there to protect the legations, which will be allowed to remain at the Chinese capital pending peace negotiations.

Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching were, a few days ago, invested by the Empress with full power to treat with the allies, and arrange for a settlement of the present troubles.

In an interview with a foreign correspondent at Shanghai, on the thirteenth instant, the influential Chinese statesman, Sheng, who is the director of railways and telegraphs, expressed the opinion that "the Chinese will not stand the present unsettled conditions much longer, and that if there is no reform in the government, a revolution is bound to come."

No isolated action by any European power is now anticipated.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The Galveston Cotton Exchange opened for business on Sept. 17.

The Henry Clay statue has been taken down and moved to Lafayette Square.

The placing of a German loan in the United States is generally condemned by the Berlin press.

Indications now point strongly to the withdrawal of all the powers from Peking to Tien Tsin.

The Emperor and Empress Dowager of China are said to be in Mongolia, guarded by 8000 imperial troops.

The Chinese outlook is considered unsatisfactory in Berlin, but no isolated action by any power is expected.

There is strong reason to believe that Gen. De Wet, who has caused the British so much trouble, was killed Sept. 7 near Potchefstroom.

Japan distrusts the outcome of the Chinese complications, and will resent anything like the humiliation forced upon her in 1895.

The Russians are said to be rapidly pushing troops into Manchuria, where all indications point to extensive operations before the coming of Winter.

A sharp engagement is reported to have taken place between a company of the Fourteenth United States Infantry and 2000 Boxers. The Chinese were routed.

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, says the Democrats all over the country are working harmoniously, and the outlook is good.

In a letter accepting the Republican nomination for Vice-President, Gov. Roosevelt confined his discussion almost entirely to the paramount issue of imperialism.

Mr. Bryan addressed a large crowd at St. Louis on Sept. 15. He denounced the trust evil, and showed that the Republicans have made no honest effort to suppress monopolies.

United States Engineer Riche says that the storm, so far from hurting the jetties at Galveston, improved them, by causing the water rail to compact, giving a better foundation for the continuation of the work.

President Krueger was welcomed coolly by the Portuguese officials at Delagoa Bay. They have been warned from Lisbon that he must not be allowed to carry on war against the territories recently annexed by Great Britain.

The total relief fund raised in New Orleans on Sept. 15 amounted to $24,495.50. Miss Clara Barton, president of the Red Cross Society, passed through the city on her way to Galveston with relief to the storm sufferers.

"HUNGER IS THE BEST SAUCE." Yet some people are never hungry, and they get weak and sick. Hood's Sarsaparilla helps such people. It creates a good appetite, gives digestive power, and makes the whole body strong.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

England looks upon Kruger's flight as most fortunate. While he remained in the Transvaal free, his influence was great. His capture would have created grievous problems. His flight converts him into an irreducable minimum as a factor in the situation.

Electricity was used to light the streets of Galveston on Sept. 15, a mule car was put in operation on the street railway system, and the gutters were finished. Few, if any, bodies remain to be disposed of; the rigors of martial law is gradually being modified and people are looking for an early resumption of business relations with the outside world.

The contributions for the relief of the tempest blasted city of Galveston, from all parts of the United States and Great Britain, have passed the million-dollar mark, and the amount is still growing. This grand outpouring of charity and beneficence is one of the wonders of the age. It has, perhaps, never been surpassed in any relief work in the world.

The general committee at Galveston has decided to employ skilled and unskilled men for whatsoever work might be necessary in the reconstruction and rehabilitation of the city. The decision is the result of Gen. Scurry's firm stand in refusing to allow a single man to quit the necessary general work of cleaning up in order to work on the repairs to the elevators and other big private interests.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.

For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.

For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure.

For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.

Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.

50c and $1 bottles at druggists.

Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. REV. C. C. DAVIS,
Eld. M. E. Church, South,
No. 28 Tetnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.
R. L. ROCCO,
206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. BEALL,
Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

Club-Women and the City Fathers.

No longer do club-women sit around and wait for the city fathers to promote improvements only when the municipal spirit moves. They promptly appoint a committee, who put on their prettiest bonnets, and proceed to ask the masculine authorities for their soul's desire, and, presto! there is the desired change. In Atlanta, for instance, club-women who are housewives have for some time longed for a town market, but this domestic convenience was not forthcoming. The merchants were equally solicitous. Thereupon members of the Atlanta Woman's Club waited on the city council and made captivating little speeches. In consequence Atlanta is to have a town market "right off." —Bertha Damaris Knobe, in the September Woman's Home Companion.

MARRIAGES.

COPES—McMAHON.—At Rolling Fork, Miss., Aug. 29, 1900, by Rev. Geo. P. McKeown, Mr. Jas. W. Copes, of Chatawa, Miss., to Miss Maggie McMahon.

DEWESE—HENRY.—At Anguilla, Miss., Sept. 12, 1900, by Rev. Geo. P. McKeown, Mr. Miller Dewese to Miss Ora Henry, all of Sharkey county, Miss.

COOK—HARDIN.—At the residence of Mr. Geo. L. Crymes, Brooksville, Miss., Sept. 5, 1900, by Rev. E. S. Lewis, Mr. K. Wells Cook and Miss Rose Hardin, both of Noxubee county, Miss.

CARMICHAEL-PRICE. At the residence of Hon. W. H. McRee, on the Sabbath eve of Sept. 9, 1900, by Rev. J. C. Ellis, Mr. W. T. Carmichael and Miss Florence W. Price, both of Clark county, Miss.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Okolona station	Sept.	2, 3
Houston and Wesley, at Houston		8, 9
Tupelo station		10, 17
Okolona circuit, at Egypt		22, 23
Buena Vista cir., at Pleasant Grove		29, 30
Montpelier circuit, at Palestine	Oct.	6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie		9
Shannon circuit, at Shannon		13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona		15
Tremont circuit, at Hopewell		20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem		27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov.	3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton		5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar		10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Sonic's Chapel		17, 18
Aberdeen station		25, 26

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sardis	Sept.	15, 16
Come		22, 23
Senatobia		20, 30
Arkabutla, at Brooks	Oct.	5
Cold Water		6, 7
Batesville		13, 14
Courtland, at Pepes		20, 21
Hurges, at Love Joy		26
Eureka, at Mt. Olivet		27, 28
Hernando	Nov.	3, 4
Longtown		8, 9
Pt. Grove		10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's		17, 18
Wall Hill		23
Cockrum		24, 25
Tyro	Dec.	1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

West Point	Sept.	2, 3
Starkville station		9, 10
Macon		16, 17
Shuqualak, at Salem		22, 23
Winstonville, at Hickory Grove		26
Hebron, at Hebron		29, 30
Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct.	0, 7
Crawford, at Trinity		13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel		20, 21
Tibbee, at Mayhew		27, 28
Columbus station	Nov.	4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer		10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill		17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs		23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff		24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ' 108, page 75) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona station	Sept.	8, 9
Greenwood station		15, 16
Valden circuit, at Valden		22, 23
Carrollton and McAnerny, at McAnerny		29, 30
Wiluona circuit, at New Hope	Oct.	6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb		13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona		20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green		27, 28
Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov.	3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt		10, 11
Carrollton, at Edon		17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead		24, 25
Indianola	Dec.	1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Shaw	Sept.	16, 17
Boyle		23, 24
Shipman		29, 30
Shelby	Oct.	0, 7
Rulevilie		13, 14
Clarkadale		21, 22
Beleu		27, 28
Lula	Nov.	3, 4
Dubbs		10, 11
Tunica		12
Hillhouse		17 18
Friar's Point		18, 10
Gunnison		24, 25
Rosedale		25, 26
Bolivar	Dec.	1, 2
Greenville		3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Connersville circuit, at Connersville	Sept.	15, 16
Waterford circuit, at Asbury		22, 23
Holly Springs circuit, at Early Grove		29, 30
Byhalia circuit, at Byhalia	Oct.	6, 7
Red Banks circuit, at Red Banks		13, 14
Mt Pleasant circuit, at New Salem		20, 21
Pontotoc circuit, at Pontotoc		27, 28
Potts Camp circuit, at Potts Camp	Nov.	3, 4
Olive Branch circuit, at Olive Branch		10, 11
Shawnee circuit, at Liberty		17, 18
Ashland circuit, at Ashland		20
Randolph mission, at Randolph		24 25
Abbeville circuit, at Abbeville	Dec.	1, 2
Holly Springs station		3

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sallis, at Bethel	Sept.	15, 16
Tom Nolen, at Tom Nolen		22, 23
Eupora, at Eupora		29, 30
Cumberland, at Shady Grove		26
Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct.	0, 7
Lexington, at Tchula		13, 14
Helzona, at Helzona		20, 21
Koschusko station	7 P. M.	28
Kosciusko circuit, at Smyrna		27, 28
Ethel, at Tabernacle	Nov.	1
Ackerman, at elem		3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel		10, 11
Chester		17, 18
Louisville		24, 25
Rural Hill		27
Pickens	Dec.	1, 2
Durant	7 P. M.	2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Water Valley—Wood Street	Sept.	1, 2
Oxford station		8 9
Grenada station		15, 16
Grenada circuit		22, 23
Toccopola circuit		20, 30
Paris circuit	Oct.	6, 7
Pittsboro circuit		13, 14
Elzy circuit		15
Slate Springs circuit		20, 21
East Grenada circuit		22
Coffeeville circuit		27, 28
Minter City	Nov.	3, 4
Charleston		10, 11
Caseilia		12
Water Valley circuit		17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street		24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec.	1, 2

R. G. PORTER, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Flora, at Flora	Oct.	6, 7
Vicksburg—Crawford Street		14
South Vicksburg		14
Mayersville, at Beulah		20, 21
Bolton, at Bolton		27, 28
Rocky Springs, at Shiloh	Nov.	3, 4
Port Gibson		4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel		10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards		11, 12
Warren, at Wesley Chapel		17, 18
Utica, at Utica	Sat.	24
Hermanville, at Hermanville		25, 26
Boiling Fork, at ——	Dec.	1, 2
Anguilla, at ——		2, 3
Satartia, at ——		8, 9

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Topisaw, at Sartins	Oct.	13 14
Bayou Pierre, at Pleasant Valley		20, 21
Magnolia and Osyka, at Magnolia		27, 28
Providence, at Georgetown	Nov.	3, 4
Adams, at Adams		10, 11
McComb City		11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood	11 a. m.	13
Gallman, at Gallman		17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson	11 a. m.	19
Wesson	7:30 p. m.	19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion		24, 25
Westville, at Magee		25, 20
Crystal Springs	7:30 p. m.	26
Tylertown, at China Grove	Dec.	1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton	10 a. m.	5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven	10 a. m.	7
Hazlehurst	7 30 p. m.	7
Caseyville, at Caseyville		8, 9
Summit, at Bogue Chitto	11 a. m.	10
Brookhaven	7:30 p. m.	11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTON, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Gloster	Sept	15, 16
Centerville		23, 24
Fayette		29, 30
Mt. Carmel	Oct.	6, 7
Percy's Creek		10, 11
Woodville		13, 14
Meadville		21, 22
Cane Ridge		28, 29
Barlow	Nov.	3, 4
Wesley Chapel		10, 11
Jefferson Street		11, 12
Homochitto Chapel		17, 18
Washington		24, 25
Liberty	Dec.	1, 2
McNair		8, 9

Trustees will please have their reports according to the Discipline.

W. L. O. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lumberton and Poplarville, at Poplarville	Sept.	10
Ellisville and Laurel, at Ellisville		15, 16
Biloxi, at Biloxi		29, 30
Coalville, at Palmer Camp Ground	Oct	6, 7
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground		13, 14
Williamsburg, at Williamsburg		20
East Covington, at Eminence		21
Vancleave, at New Prospect		27, 28
Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov.	2
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington		3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port		11, 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs		17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins		24
Bay St Louis		25, 26
Moss Point	Dec.	1
Escatawpa, at Zion		2
Columbia, at Columbia		7
Purvis, at Purvis		8, 9
Hattiesburg		10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Meridian—Central	Sept.	15, 10
Meridian—West End		16, 17
Meridian—East End	Wed.	19
Lauderdale, at Bethel		23, 24
Meridian—South Side	Wed.	26
Wayne, at Spring Hill		29, 30
Porterville, at Porterville	Wed.	Oct. 3
Winchester, at Winchester		0, 7
Leaksville, at Breland's Chapel		13, 14
Wayneboro, at Wayneboro	Wed.	17
DeKalb, at New Hope		20, 21
North Kemper, at Melleu	Mon.	22
Enterprise, at Enterprise		27, 28
Pachuta, at DeSoto	Nov.	3, 4
Hinnsville, at Scooba		10, 11
Vimville, at Marion		17, 18
Mathersville, at Winfred		24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon.	26
Miudleton, at Manassa	Dec.	1, 2
Daleville, at ——		8, 9

G. A. GUICE, P. E.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN } Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION } New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN } Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN } St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

START right. In painting, the first or priming coat is important. It is the foundation. It is a mistake to think anything is good enough for it. If a mixture of Zinc, Barytes, etc., is used the paint will surely crack and peel.

The only safe paint for priming is Pure White Lead. It combines with the oil, forming a tough, elastic coat that penetrates and will adhere to the surface. The brands in the margin are genuine.

FREE For colors use National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. Any shade desired is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving full information and showing samples of Colors, also pamphlet entitled "Uncle Sam's Experience With Paints" forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 100 William Street, New York.

Money Is Made Operating Saw Mills on Southern Rivers!

BUT MALARIA, CHILLS AND FEVERS AND GENERAL BAD HEALTH AMONG THE WORKERS MUST BE OVERCOME, ESPECIALLY IN THE FALL MONTHS.

"I employed 100 hands on the Savannah River, and there was great loss of time on account of sickness. I procured Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic, and put the men on it. In a short time everyone of the men were well, and reported for duty. Only once afterwards did we need a doctor, and that was to attend an injured man." J. B. LASSITER, Hardeeville, S. C.

Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic Cures. Use No Other; It's All You Need.

A. B. GIRARDEAU, SOLE MANUFACTURER, SAVANNAH, GA

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas	Oct	6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon		13, 14
Canton		14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street		20, 21
Terry, at Byram		27, 28
Silver Creek	Nov.	3, 4
Lake City		4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope		10, 11
Benton, at Midway		11, 12
Tranquil		17, 18
Yazoo City		18, 19
Camden		24, 25
Fannin	Dec.	1, 2
Brandon station		2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues.	4
Steen's Creek		8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. H. HOLLOMAN, P. E

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mississonny Institute, at Pelahatchie, Tues. and Wed	Oct.	10 17
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro	Thurs.	18
Carthage, at Carthage	Sat and Sun	20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland	Tues.	23
Nashoba, at Pine Grove	Thurs.	25
Indian Mission, at Tall Chulok	Sat and Sun	27, 28
Decatur, at ——	Tues.	30
Y. and Heidelberg, at Vossburg	Sat and Sun	Nov. 3, 4
Rose Hill, at Paulding	Sat. and Sun	10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose	Tues.	13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville	Sat. and Sun	17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton	Tues.	20
Shiloh, at Shiloh	Thurs.	22
N. and Hickory, at Newton	Sun. and Mon	25, 26
Chunkey, at Chunkey	Tues.	27
Lake, at Lawrence	Wed.	28
Morton, at Pelahatchie	Sun and Mon	Dec. 2, 3
Forest, at Forest	Sun and Mon	9 10

Registers and Records not presented at the third Quarterly Conference will be called for. The pastors will greatly oblige me by seeing that Ques. – is fully answered by the trustees, and that the committees appointed to inventory parsonage furniture, etc., present written reports. Let all co-operate to bring up full financial reports. Let there be no doleit Let every Sunday-school observe Missionary Rally Day And be sure to let the Twentieth Century Movement have full sway during this last quarter. On Thanksgiving Day remember our Orphans' Home.

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Algiers	7:30 p. m.	Sept. 23
Felicity Street	11 a. m.	30
Werlein Mission	7:30 p. m.	30
Carrollton Avenue		Oct. 7
Louisiana Avenue		14
Dryades Street		21
Covington		28
Slidell		Nov. 4
Parker Memorial		11
Plaquemine		18
Rayne Memorial		25
White Castle		Dec. 2
Carondelet Street	11 a. m.	0
Burgundy Street	7:30 p. m.	9

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lecompte and West Alexandria	Sept.	22, 23
Mellville, at Mellville		29, 30
Simsport, at Simsport	Oct.	1, 2
Olla and Pollock, at Summerville		5, 0
Jena, at French Fork		13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground		20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce		23, 24
Columbia, at Boeuf River		28, 29
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov.	3, 4
Dry Creek		10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta		15, 10
Montgomery, at Montgomery		17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent		24, 25
Bunkie	Dec.	1, 2
Alexandria		8, 9

J. D HARPER, P. E

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mooringsport, at Mooringsport	Sept	15, 16
North Bossier, at Emma		19
First Church, at 11 A M		20
Texas Avenue, at 8 P. M.		23
Benton, at Benton		27
Pleasant Hill, at Provencal		26
Logansport, at Logansport		29 30
Red River, at Campo Bello	Oct.	3
Caddo, at Greenwood		6 7
Wesley, at Campti		10
Florien, at Holly Grove		13 14
Coushatta, at Coushatta		20, 21
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane		24
Many, at Many		27, 28
Hamilton station	Nov.	3, 4
South Bossier, at Allentown		10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle		10, 11
Pelican, at Bethel		17, 18
Leesville		24 25
Mansfield	Dec	1

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lisbon, at Summerfield	Sept.	29, 30
Farmerville, at Marion	Oct.	6, 7
Downsville, at Downsville		8 9
Calhoun, at Indian Village		13, 14
Simsboro, at Salem		19
Gibsland, at Foster's Chapel		20, 21
Lauceville, at Pine Grove		27, 28
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	Nov.	3, 4
Blenville, at Blenville		10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley		17, 18
Minden		19
Haynesville		24
Homer, at Homer		24 25
Ruston	Dec.	1, 2
Gausville		7
Arcadia, at Arcadia		9 10

Local preachers and exhorters will be expected to have written reports. Let the secretaries of Church Conferences be present with their church registers and records of Church Conferences for examination, as the law requires.

B. T. CREWS, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson	Aug.	30
Baton Rouge—First Church	Sept.	2
Baton Rouge circuit		30-Sept. 2
Live Oak, at Palmetto		4, 5
Port Vincent, at Manrepas		7-9
Ponchatoula, at Springfield		10, 11
Franklinton, at Mt. Hermon		15, 16
Kentwood, at Tangipahoa		18, 19
St. Helena, at Day's Church		19, 20
Amite City		21-23
Wilson, at Pine Grove		28-30
Clinton	Oct.	2 3
Baker, at Brookstown		6
St. Francisville, at Tunica		6, 7
Bluff Creek Camp Meeting	Aug.	17-26

Let there be full written reports in answer to Ques. 13, 15 and 18. Wherever possible, let the cause of the American Bible Society be presented during the quarter. In answer to Ques 20, let all the Church Registers be produced, and ample time will be allowed for a thorough inspection of same. Let there be full reports upon the Twentieth Century Thank offering

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Indian Bayou, at Bethel	Sept.	1, 2
Prudhomme, at Long Point		8, 9
Plaquemine Brusle, at P. B.		15, 16
Crowley		22, 23
Lake Arthur		29, 30
Grand Cheniere	Oct.	6, 7
Lake Charles		13, 14
West Lake		20, 21

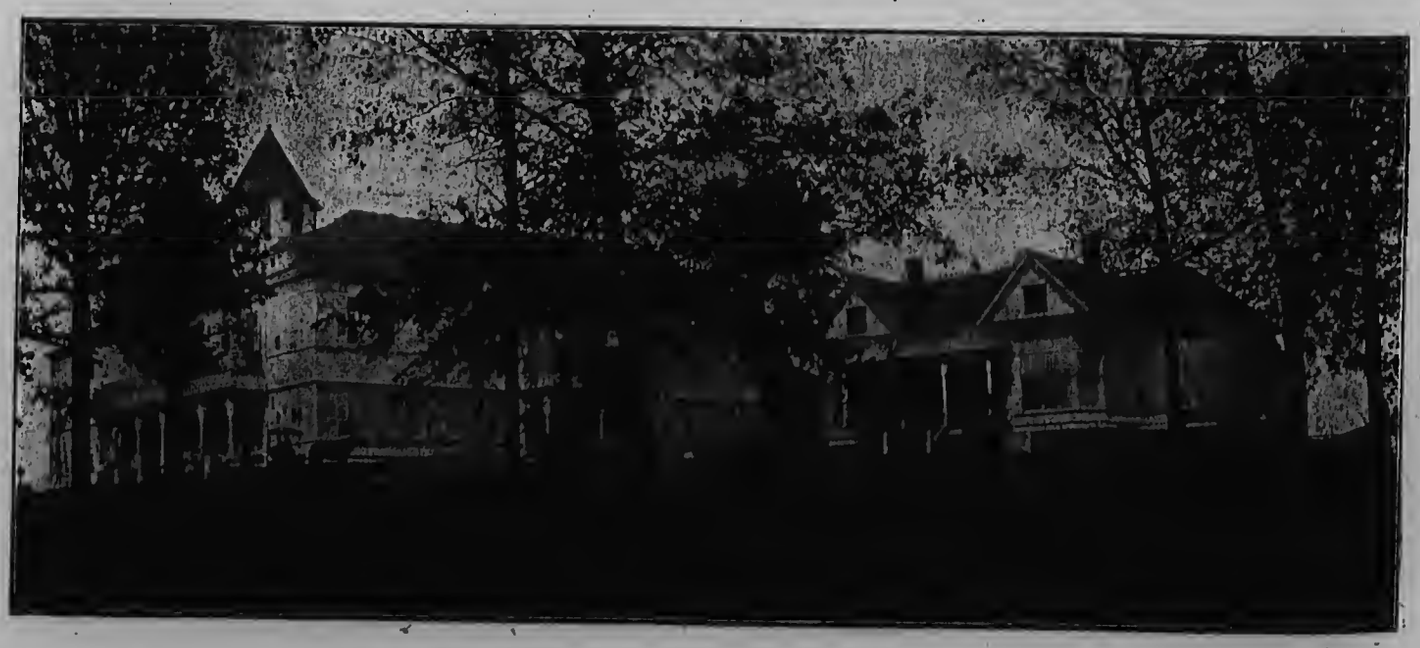
Special attention is called to questions to be called at these third Conferences.

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Waterproof, at Wesley	Sept.	1, 2
Bonita, at Jones		8, 9
Monroe		9, 10
Floyd, at Oak Grove		15, 16
Delhi		22, 23

J. M. HENRY, P. E.



BELHAVEN COLLEGE (For Young Ladies), JACKSON, MISS.

One of the most thoroughly equipped High Grade Schools in the South. Buildings new and modern, heated by steam and lighted with electricity. Bath rooms for hot and cold water on all floors. Beautiful campus of twelve acres of native forest trees. No school for girls in the South can show such a health record. During the past Winter, noted for epidemics of pneumonia, la grippe, measles and small-pox all over the State, there was not a single case of any of the above diseases or any serious case of sickness of any kind, in the college. The Faculty is composed of specialists in all departments. In Music, Elocution and Art the College offers exceptionally fine advantages. The authorities of the New England Conservatory of Music and Elocution say: "Of all our pupils from the South, those from Belhaven College stand out not only in the highest rank in their classes, but are regarded, without exception, as possessing those womanly traits of character and that degree of intellectual development which command instant respect and admiration." Next session begins October 1st, 1900. For our beautiful catalogue, address

L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., President.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 39. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2301

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

TEMPTED AGAIN.

BY LEILA SOUTHARD FROST.

Tempted again! Is there no earthly height
The soul may reach above the realms of sin?
Beyond the mists which cloud the heavenly light,
And where temptation can not enter in?

Tempted again! Alas! how vain the thought
That mortal feet could tread a way so sure,
Where all the coming arts of evil wrought,
Fail in their power to charm with subtle lure.

Think not to tread a secret, chosen path,
And shut out sorrow, weakness, pain and sin;
Go face the tempter till he pales with wrath,
Seeing the victory that he may not win.

Tempted again! But, O how sweet the thought
Beyond thy strength temptations can not be;
He who was tempted knows how sin is wrought,
Beyond thy strength He will not suffer thee.

—New York Observer.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

The President is again in Washington, but only for two or three days. While there are likely to be interesting developments in China at any time, it is officially stated that the President's return to Washington at this time was not caused by any information received from China. It is felt in official circles that the diplomacy connected with a settlement of the Chinese troubles will be as important and as far-reaching as any in which this government ever participated; that it involves the future of American influence in the far East, both commercially and religiously, and that great care will have to be exercised to head off the skillfully devised attempts that will be made to undermine and destroy our influence by those who are for the time our allies, but who have not ceased to be our strong commercial rivals. For those reasons an early settlement is not looked for. Each of the powers is likely to take time to consider well every move made both before and after the opening of negotiations with China. So far it is universally admitted that this government has succeeded in holding the most advantageous position, whether viewed from a military or diplomatic point of view. Its diplomatic attitude has been justified by events, and its army and navy officers have shown rare judgment in dealing with complicated situations, while its soldiers are almost the only ones that have not been charged with looting and other barbarous practices in China. In other words, the United States has lived up to the reputation it bears as a Christian nation.

This is Galveston Day in Washington, and nearly everybody is trying in some way to increase the relief fund. Present indications are that the money contributions of the national capital will exceed $10,000.

Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, who occupied his pulpit for the first time since his return from his vacation, Sunday, preached a most interesting sermon, in which he said: "We may congratulate each other upon the passing delights of the Summer. We forget sometimes that all things that pass are delights. The stormy winds fulfill His word. The clouds are His chariot. The pillar of darkness has within the glory of the Shekinah. Every day is a miracle of His goodness. Galveston from me would be an evil; from Him it is not an evil. Storm, destruction, pestilence, famine move in an all-comprehending, eternal purpose of love. It is much comfort that yonder disaster has summoned thoughtful sympathy the world over, millions of money, trainloads of clothing and provisions attesting so tenderly the kinship of humanity. The strike of the laboring man may be freighted with poverties and disappointments and disasters, but out of its noise and crash, out of the silence of its poverties and despairs, will emerge a wage condition better and more ennobling than the present, just as the present is better and higher than the old feudalism. We congratulate each other upon China. We may see the blessings as Isaiah saw them come trooping ages ago from the 'land of Simini.' The very conditions are a vindication of missions. I am, of course, not of those who heap the blame upon the church. We have a right to enter China with the gospel. It is not, as some contend, an intrusion upon a religion of a people. It can not be said that China has a religion. Three religions have successively entered and secured their influence. China is not, as is sometimes mistakenly supposed, wholly or exclusively Confucian. Christ has as much right there as any other teacher. His church is there by governmental permission, and its protection is assured by treaty rights. He is not there as a merchant, or a globe trotter, or a land grabber. But at the same time it is true that the very presence of Christianity is with attack and agitation. They that have turned the world upside down have come hither also; Christianity is revolutionary. It criticises principles, habits, purposes, and the whole life of man, and literature, and societies, and business, and government. The present conflict had to come. It is the impact of Christian upon heathen civilization. And the gospel is only a part of that civilization. The missionary is a revolutionist; so is the steam engine, and the telegraph, and the newspaper, and the schoolhouse, and the store, and the factory, and the laboratory. Already our Christian civilization has presented upon the stage of China the magnificent illustration of brotherhood, when, in the interests of humanity, the flags of Christendom allied, and their united arms burst open the gates of Pekin. Those gates will not be closed. Revolutions do not go backward. There is now an 'open door,' not for trade only, but for truth and grace and redeemed humanity. That door will not be shut. It is sealed back to the walls by the blood of martyrs."

It was officially announced this week that this government would accept no settlement from China that did not provide for the fullest protection, present and future, of Chinese Christians.

Washington, Sept. 19, 1900.

OUR CHOCTAWS.

To "the People Called Methodists" in the Bounds of the Mississippi Conference of the M. E. Church, South—

DEAR BRETHREN: During the year now rapidly drawing to a close God has greatly blessed our laborers and their labors among our Choctaws. Twenty-five have professed conversion and been received into our church this year. Two have died in the faith. Bro. Donnell is devoted to his work, and our Choctaw preachers, Rev. James Johnson, L. D., and the Rev. Simpson J. Tubby, have worked well. We need two new houses each, to serve the double purpose of church and school-house—neat, plain, comfortable, and comparatively inexpensive buildings. Our Choctaws are poor, very poor, but they will gladly contribute time and labor to help put up the buildings under the supervision of Bro. Douall, who is an experienced carpenter. We need some more lands. A very suitable tract has been bargained for in Neshoba county. One good brother has handed me $50 to help buy the land, but $450 more are needed.

I said we needed two new houses of worship—we need three; but the good people of Jasper county promise to provide that and the land whereon it is to be built. We want Cammack Church and School-house, on Cushtusa Creek, in Neshoba county, completed as speedily as possible.

Miss Florence Kern, of Natchez, a graduate of Whitworth College, with nine years' experience as a teacher and eleven years' experience as a Christian and a member of our church, feels called of God to devote herself to missionary work among the Choctaws, and desires to begin the labor of love Oct. 1. She is capable and well qualified by native and acquired talents and the grace of God to be very useful and successful in this promising missionary field.

Bro. A. D. Miller, Larmon, Miss., is the financial agent of the mission. The few responses to his appeals this year have discouraged him somewhat, but disappointed him more. Let him be made to rejoice by your prompt, numerous and liberal contributions to this holy cause.

The American Bible Society has recently made us a grant of about fifty copies of the New Testament and some of the books of the Old Testament in the Choctaw dialect. Dr. W. R. Lambuth has given us twenty copies of the Discipline, with which are bound hymns in Choctaw. The scarcity of these books make these donations especially grateful. The Lord bless the donors.

Please send your contributions to the Rev. A. D. Miller, Larmon, Miss., or to Rev. W. P. Donnell, Toles, Miss., or to the undersigned.

T. L. MELLEN,
Miss'y Sec'y for Miss. Conf.

Forest, Miss., Sept. 19, 1900.

AN ERROR CORRECTED.

MR. EDITOR: At the request of Chancellor J. H. Kirkland, of the Vanderbilt University, I want to make a correction through your paper. Some time in May, I wrote the secretary of the faculty of Vanderbilt University, enclosing the following letter from Dr. A. H. Tolman, dean of the faculty of the University of Chicago:

The University of Chicago,
Office of the Dean of the Senior Colleges.
Chicago, April 23, 1900.

President J. W. Beeson, Meridian, Miss.—

DEAR SIR: Your letter of the eighteenth to the Recorder has been handed to me in order that I may answer one of the points concerned. I enclose blank for advanced standing. Please have Miss ——— fill this out in full and return to me. There will be no doubt about receiving her without examination and with some advanced standing. Several of your graduates have entered here with some advanced standing, passing through my hands, and my memory is that the whole of them have been a credit to the work of your institution. It would be well for Miss ——— also to send catalog of the institution of the date of her graduation.

Hoping to hear from you soon,
I am, A. H. TOLMAN, Dean.

In my letter I asked that Vanderbilt accord us the same privilege that was given us by the University of Chicago, and the following is an extract, or extracts, from the reply received from the secretary of Vanderbilt:

Vanderbilt University, Chancellor's Office,
Nashville, Tenn., May 9, 1900.

Mr. J. W. Beeson, President, East Mississippi Female College, Meridian, Miss.—

DEAR SIR: I am very glad to hear from you concerning the matter of the entrance of your students into Vanderbilt. I have heard your institution favorably spoken of in many quarters, and in particular by our Prof. Daniels, who has spoken highly of you personally and of your work. The faculty seem to be well selected, and one with which you ought to do good work.

We would be very much pleased to consider the application of any of your young lady students for admission. We decide the application for admission to advanced standing on the merit of the individual cases. This, I think, is the same method of advanced standing employed by Chicago and other large universities of our country.

Yours respectfully,
F. W. MOORE.

This letter I construed to mean that Vanderbilt would admit our students on the merit of the individual cases in the same manner in which our students have been admitted into the University of Chicago with advanced standing. I thought it was a natural and legitimate inference or meaning of the letter, in view of the fact that I had enclosed a copy of the letter from the University of Chicago when I wrote the letter. Chancellor Kirkland writes me that his attention was called to the matter by other parties, and that I was in error in my conclusion.

I wish to leave out of all my advertisements any reference to admission to Vanderbilt University, and to beg pardon for my erroneous conclusion.

I wish to say, however, that our students will still be admitted to Wellesley on certificate from this institution without examination, and are also admitted to the University of Chicago as heretofore with advanced standing without examination, as can be attested by the letters published above.

Yours truly, J. W. BEESON,
Pres. East Mississippi Female College.

THE JUG TRADE.

"We had quite a number of emotions," as Aunt Samantha would say, when we read the letter from Bishop Galloway, in a recent issue of the ADVOCATE, telling how a New York dealer in "liquid fire" had had the temerity to make him a "special offer;" but the number and variety of our emotions increased when, a few days later, we received in our own family a similar offer from a firm nearer home. After taking "a walk in the garden to let our collar down," as Bill Arp has it, we decided to take the advice of Bro. J. W. Chambers, and "chunk the devil with Scripture." Using the "order sheet" the gentleman so kindly enclosed, we wrote in the space left for "remarks" the quotation from Habakkuk ii, 15: "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, and maketh him drunken also, that thou mayest look on his nakedness." This we enclosed in the "self-addressed envelope," and dropped it in the postoffice with a prayer that God would open his blinded eyes ere this woe should be his everlasting doom.

This same "jug trade" is a serious problem. Ruston has long since voted out the open saloon, as has many another town, when, lo! our depot and express office takes its place, and the devil's work goes on unhindered in spite of the wishes of our best citizens. Our State Chautauqua and Industrial College are both located here, and in advertising the same we take great pride in saying, "Strong prohibition sentiment prevails." But when visitors, pupils, and jugs are all unloaded from the same train, I guess they—the visitors and pupils—have a number of conflicting emotions, especially if they thought that clause in our ADVOCATE meant what it said. What are we going to do about it?

Now, Mr. Editor, if you, or "Gilderoy," or "Rex," or any of the other smart brethren or sisters, can tell us how this "lion" may be "bearded in his den," we shall be under many obligations. We are ready to "tackle him" if we only knew how to begin.

MRS. ALICE CARY MCKINNEY.

Ruston, La., Sept. 15, 1900.

A REPLY TO REV. H. S. JOHNS.

MR. EDITOR: In your issue, of Sept. 6, occurs an article from the pen of the Rev. Mr. H. S. Johns, of Montgomery, La., headed "Baptist Bluff." He appends the request that all Methodist papers copy the article. I trust your sense of fairness will dispose you to permit me to remind your readers that I have challenged Mr. Johns (had done so some weeks before he wrote above article) to secure a representative man, to meet a like man on the Baptist side, in a fair, open, amicable and exhaustive discussion (oral) of the "baptizo" matter; and he has never given assurance of his willingness to do so beyond stating that "probably," etc., it could be arranged. Of course, there is nothing binding Mr. Johns to such a discussion. He might consider it inexpedient to enter into such a procedure, and I do not blame him for exercising his liberty in the premises, but I do think his posing as having "bluffed" the Baptists is altogether inconsistent and ungracious under the existing circumstances.

I respectfully request that you publish this fact, and ask all Methodist papers to copy.

Truly yours, A. L. JOHNSTON.

Alexandria, La., Sept. 20, 1900.

The 20th Century Movement.

Mississippi Conference Notes on Twentieth Century Thank-Offering.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS,
Conference Secretary of Education.

Rev. J. H. Foreman, of Rose Hill, was the first to send in the September report. As only one dollar had been added since the August report was made, he wrote: "My first impression was not to make any report at all for this month, but after reading your article in the ADVOCATE, I decided to make report anyway." Good!

Let all understand that the form for each succeeding month is to be filled out just as if none had been made before. Let each report give the "total amount from beginning of movement up to date;" not simply the amount raised during the month. Under heading, "Subscribed," write the total of cash and subscriptions, because, if a person pays the money at once, he is to be considered as a subscriber, though the amount opposite his name is to be marked "Paid" in the Roll Book. In other words, the first item in every report is "the total of everything from beginning of movement to date," and by this first item, under "Paid," is to be written that part of the total which has been collected or paid.

The Rally Day, to be held the third Sunday of October, or as near thereto as practicable, may be used to add to the Twentieth Century Fund of a charge. All Sunday-schools should be preparing to hold these exercises. Specific directions concerning this day have not been lodged in the Book of Discipline, as is the case with Children's Day, but pastors are finding it just as helpful. Programs are sent free. Apply to Walter R. Lambuth, Nashville, Tenn.

A card from Bro. B. S. Rayner, of Lumberton, gives the news that at Poplarville $81.50, and at Lumberton $336.50, have recently been raised on the Twentieth Century Fund. Let other lumber towns be heard from. Let the pastors thereof get Bishop Galloway, or some good substitute, to represent the cause; but, if that can not be, then let the pastors themselves represent the cause at once, and take the collection. At least, give the membership and people everywhere a good chance to give. The time is short. "The gift of a new century is about to be placed in our hands. Let there be a far-reaching advance."

The September report of Rev. M. L. White, pastor of Carthage charge, shows $12.95 raised since the August report. Rev. D. Scarborough writes concerning the report of the Forest charge, "I will try to swell this amount." Good!

Up to this writing no report has been received from some of the foremost pastors. We trust that it is not because they are careless concerning this interest. If so, we trust that they will decide and act as the indifferent judge did in the case of the importunate woman.

W. F. M. S.

Edited Weekly by North Mississippi, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences.

EDITORS.

N. Miss. Conf...Mrs. J. F. Evans...Enpora, Miss
Miss. Conf....Mrs. E. D. Jones...Carlisle, Miss
La. Conf.....Mrs. T. P. Fullilove..

The following communications from the Auxiliaries will be read with interest by sister societies. The special object of our column is to offer a medium of exchange for news from the workers. We hail the receipt of these items as the beginning of work which we hope will bring the Auxiliaries in touch with each other during the long months between annual meetings. We repeat our urgent invitation for postal cards from every society, quarterly at least.

MRS. T. P. FULLILOVE.

Shreveport, La.

DEAR SISTER FULLILOVE: Our hearts are filled with sadness at the death of our dear corresponding secretary. I seem to hear her sweet voice yet on the Conference floor as she said: "I thank God that I did have faith to make the pledge; faith in you that you would do your part, and in him that he will quicken and inspire us to do more than ever before."

Our society is not dead. At the District Conference, Bro. Tucker gave us a fine address on missions, and Dr. LaPrade on Century Fund. We were encouraged and our hearts touched. Our pastor paid a beautiful tribute to dear Helen Johnston. We must go on with seed-sowing, for soon the King will gather in the harvest. Pray for us.

Yours in the work,

MRS. EMMA FOSTER.

Opelousas, La.

DEAR SISTER: I have nothing of much importance to report, but want you to know that our society is still alive. We meet regularly; attendance very good. Hope to get a liberal sum when Twentieth Century collection is taken. Membership diminished by removals.

Yours in the work,

MRS. WALTER SMITH,
Cor. Sec.

Crowley, La., Sept. 4, 1900.

The Shreveport Auxiliary of W. F. M. S. at the September meeting passed the following resolutions of respect to the memory of Mrs. J. F. Foster, requesting a notice of same in the city papers and in the missionary column of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE:

Whereas, Our Father has called from our midst our beloved coworker, Mrs. Foster; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we shall ever cherish with affection the recollection of her untiring services in missionary work from her early girlhood to the last hour of her young life.

Resolved, That her wonderful success as lady manager of the juvenile society, and her zealous work in the adult society, fitted her for the higher and more difficult office of State corresponding secretary.

Resolved, That she lived for a purpose, and the world is better for her having lived. She died, leaving a memory laden with the perfume of a noble, young womanhood.

Resolved, That the grief and tenderness and shadow of the tomb are over and around us, and we stand perplexed before this strange dispensation of Providence, but we bow in submission to his will.

MRS. J. S. YOUNG,
Chair'n Shreveport Aux.

Is a College Education Good for a Business Man?

Harvey E. Fiske, the banker, in an article in The Outlook on "The Value of a College Education to a Business Man," says:

"I am a great believer in laying deep, broad, substantial foundations for all undertakings in life. . . . If a boy intends to become something more than an under-clerk or a small tradesman, he will need the best preliminary education that his parents can afford to give him.

"In the early stages of his career in business a young man will not appreciate what he has missed by not going to college. Assuming that he entered an office or a store at seventeen, and that his friend entered college at the same age, he will feel at twenty-one greatly the superior of his friend in business ability. But five or ten years later the one who had the college training will probably be found to be working more easily, with greater confidence, and with exactly as much success as the friend who had four years the start—if not greater. A college education will strengthen all your faculties, and, rightly used, will be a blessing all through life."

Items from the Field.

REVIVAL AT COURTLAND, MISS.

We have jnst closed a fine revival at Conrtland. Rev. W. L. Graves did the preaching for eleven days. The church was very mnch revived. Some conversions and additions to onr church. We have closed all of our meetings on this charge for 1900. Have had thirty additions to our church. The collections ordered by the Conference are well in hand.

O. L. SAVAGE, P. C.

Sept. 13, 1900.

GULFPORT, MISS.

Please announce in the ADVOCATE that we are now holding services in our lovely new church—one of the handsomest in our Conference. This has been a year of marvelous success in every respect. Eighty accessions to the church to date, and we are expecting many more before the close of the year. The Home Mission Society has just bought and paid for a very handsome organ for the church. We shall claim the Annual Conference in 1901, and also the snb-episcopal residence in the near future. We have also Epworth League and W. F. M. S.

J. S. PARKER, P. C.

Sept. 20, 1900.

MARIETTA CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

I have just closed a glorious revival at Palestine. There were 25, or more, conversions; 10 accessions to the church, many reclaimed, and the whole church has been revived and inspired with fresh courage. The prospect for a good financial report is bright. We have also had good meetings at Hodge's Chapel and Wheeler's, with good results. Twenty-five converts and 20 accessions.

The carpenters are now putting up our large new church at Wheeler's. Four more meetings are yet to be held. Have had no ministerial aid; but the Lord and his people have helped.

H. C. PARROTT, P. C.

Sept. 17, 1900.

REVIVAL AT TYLERTOWN, MISS.

On the seventh we began revival meetings here in Tylertown. Bro. T. J. Norsworthy preached morning and night. Bros. I. L. Peebles and W. M. Williams were also with us. Bro. Peebles gave us two sermons, and Bro. Williams one. Great power attended the preaching throughout the meetings. I know of no minister who preaches with more earnestness than does Bro. Norsworthy. He has done us noble service, and any preacher who wants a revival in his church will do well to secure his assistance.

I am not able to say how many were converted, but I do know that very near all that attended the meeting were greatly blessed. May God bless these noble men for the good they have done us!

B. H. RAWLS, P. C.

Tylertown, Miss., Sept. 17, 1900.

REVIVALS ON THE EBENEZER CIRCUIT.

We have held four meetings up to date on the Ebenezer circuit. At Center Point we had a good meeting, with six additions. The meeting at Liberty Chapel resulted in the church being revived, with three added to her membership. At Bethany we were kindly assisted by Rev. W. J. O'Bryant, who did earnest and faithful preaching, which was much enjoyed. We had a profitable meeting, and much good was done; three joined our church. Bro. O'Bryant is an ex-pastor here, and his presence and association was a source of much pleasure to his old friends and the pastor. We began the first Sunday in September at Ebenezer. Rev. Luther A. McKeown did the preaching from Monday night to the close of the meeting, Friday night. We had a real good revival in the church, with fourteen additions. Bro. McKeown is a good, earnest laborer in the vineyard of the Lord—a man of rare gifts in preaching and revival work. He did us much good here, and rightly won a warm place in the hearts of our people, and they would hail in gladness his return on a like mission. We were hindered by sickness last month, and have two meetings yet to hold. Pray for us.

H. M. YOUNG, Pastor.

Ebenezer, Miss., Sept. 14, 1900.

REPORT FROM SLATE SPRINGS CHARGE.

I have just finished a six weeks' siege of revival work. The charge is much improved, spiritually. Quite a number of backsliders have been reclaimed. Several received by profession and baptism, a number of infants baptized, and the head, heart and hands of the preacher in charge filled to overflowing. I have preached twice a day most of the time. Bro. J. H. Holland, a superannuate from Gulfport, Mississippi Conference, was with me (to my great joy) one week. May God preserve and sustain the dear brother! Have been well during the year to date. I visited Bro. Mack L. Ward yesterday; late of the Quincy charge. He certainly has been sorely afflicted this year; but the refiner's fire is doing a great work in him by God's grace. God bless Bro. S. B. Myers for the very substantial assistance given Bro. Ward in the hour of his greatest need.

I am pressing all collections privately, personally and by committees. I do not take any collections publicly. I also put considerable stress on having the heart warmed and filled with divine love. The purse strings, then, are sure to be unloosed. I feel there is an upward tendency in the church in this section.

W. B. PINSON, M. D.

Slate Springs, Miss., Sept. 12, 1900.

REPORT FROM THE WEST CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

On the West circuit we have five appointments; have held meetings at four of them. I was assisted, first, by Rev. D. C. Foust at Hebron, later by W. G. Harbin, and at the last by the presiding elder, J. H. Mitchell. The preaching was effective. Eleven accessions.

At Midway, the first Sunday night in August, the meeting was begun by Bro. Mitchell, the presiding elder. He was happy in the selection of his subject, and in the treatment of the same, giving the meeting a good start. From that time until the following Saturday, W. G. Harbin did the preaching. Church was revived. Twenty-five additions.

Our third and fourth meetings at West and Bowling Green were conducted by W. D. Bass and his brother, who led the singing. These meetings were successes, resulting in 44 additions to our church and four candidates for membership in other churches.

Bro. Bass is good and efficient help. No one wishing help from the ranks of the evangelists need fear being served with a "milk-and-water" gospel. His preaching is good and sound. His methods are common sense and scriptural. He depends upon the Holy Spirit and the Word to do the work.

R. A. ELLIS.

Sept. 18, 1900.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.

I closed my meeting at Pleasant Valley, four miles west of Guntown, Friday night, the seventh. Rev. H. P. Crowe was with us from Monday morning, and preached with great power. Bro. Crowe, when only a boy preacher, served the Guntown charge, and after an absence of nine years the people who loved him so much when a boy preacher flocked to hear him by the hundreds. The Lord was with us in great power. Seventeen were added to the church, and the community was greatly strengthened by Bro. Crowe's preaching.

The last meeting on my charge was held at Saltillo, which closed this week. Saltillo has been cursed with blind tigers for two or three years, but a week or ten days prior to the meeting the citizens rose in their might and said the blind tigers must go, and they went. Saltillo is now free from blind tigers.

Our church was greatly strengthened at that place. With the exception of one sermon from Rev. W. D. Burroughs, the writer did the preaching. We had one addition to our church. I leave the work this week, and Bro. Burroughs takes charge again. He is improving in health, and hopes soon to be fully recovered. He is serving a good people, and is in great favor with his people.

ROBT. A. CLARK.

Guntown, Miss., Sept. 13, 1900.

REVIVALS ON THE NORTH KEMPER CIRCUIT.

We closed a five days' meeting at Union Ridge, Thursday, the thirteenth. The pastor had no ministerial help. At the close of the altar service, Monday, while a brother was leading in prayer, the Holy Ghost fell upon the people. In less than a minute the people were on their feet, men falling into each other's arms, weeping, laughing, and shouting for joy. For thirty minutes billows of glory seemed to roll over the people.

Bro. J. M. Morse, while visiting the old home at Spring Hill, preached several sermons in our meeting there.

Bro. John D. Crymes was mightily used of God at Mt. Pleasant, preaching with the Holy Ghost upon him.

Bro. P. H. Howse did noble service at Hopewell, the last service reminding one of Pentecost.

The other meetings were held by the pastor unassisted. There were large congregations throughout the season. Good order and good interest were manifest.

Quite a number have been reclaimed, converted, and a few strong characters entirely sanctified. Very few members have been received. The revival was in the church. We are holding Church Conferences, preaching on the General Rules, and taking subscriptions for the parsonage, mission and Twentieth Century Fund.

ROBERT L. PHILLIPS.

Peden, Miss., Sept. 15, 1900.

REPORT FROM THE RALEIGH CIRCUIT.

We have just finished our protracted meetings on this, the Raleigh circuit, Forest district, Mississippi Conference, and send you our statistics.

1. At Raleigh. Help—Rev. D. C. Langford. Preaching, fine; church helped; several conversions and one accession.

2. At Trinity. Help—Rev. R. A. Sibley, Sr. Many conversions and 12 accessions.

3. Bay Springs. Help—Rev. B. F. Lewis. Church greatly advanced; some conversions; 3 sanctified, 5 accessions.

4. At Cedar Grove. No advance.

5. At Pleasant Hill. Help—Pastor and assistant pastor. Twenty conversions, 15 accessions.

6. Mineral Springs. Help—Pastor and assistant pastor. Thirty conversions and 22 accessions.

7. Taylorsville. Help—Pastor and assistant. Church organized with 13 members.

8. Fair Mount. Help—Assistant pastor. Good meeting; 10 accessions.

We have had a good year. Seventy-six accessions since Conference—more to follow; 20 infants baptized; 60 per cent. of Conference collections in hand (cash); two churches organized, and hope to report two new buildings by Conference. We expect to make a good showing at Conference.

R. S. GALE, P. C.,
J. C. WILLIAMS, Ass't P. C.

REPORT FROM LANESVILLE (LA.) CHARGE.

It is with profound gratitude to God that I approach the close of my fourth Conference year on the Lanesville circuit. Many and varied have been our joys and sorrows during these four years; many and varied the causes for rejoicing in the dispensation of the gospel. When we came here the work was in some measure a new one and, consequently, undeveloped; but, in the providence of God, it has been our privilege to witness such growth and expansion that now the work, with slight additions, has been divided into two. Sickness and the monster, Death, have besieged us all along; our hardships and trials have been many, but we rejoice that through it all we have been honored of the Lord in being used by him as a humble instrument to spread his kingdom in these parts and lead hundreds of souls into the light of life.

During this Conference year we have at three of our four appointments had most successful meetings, with more to follow. The Spirit was present in power and demonstration in the conversion of thirty-five, many of whom are the brightest characters in our charge. The number of accessions for the year is thirty-eight. Surely this work bids fair to become a strong factor in this part of the Master's vineyard.

The cotton crop has by no means been marketed, but our Conference collections are two-thirds provided for already, and we have no expectation but that our report at Conference will measure up to the assessment.

During the year I was ably assisted by Bros. Purcell, Smith, and Phipps. One of the most gracious experiences of the year was with Bro. Purcell at his Concord Camp Meeting, on the North Bossier circuit, where, with other brethren, we helped to bring fifty souls into the acceptance of Christ as their Savior, and twenty others into the glorious realization of that perfect love.

August 20 wife and I were suddenly called upon to surrender our precious baby, which, since its birth, April 3, had been the embodiment of health, beauty, and innocence. This is the third sacrifice of our own flesh and blood that we have been called upon to make during our stay at Lanesville; and while the pangs grow keener, we feel that the power of God grows stronger. Our trust is in him, and him only.

We are looking forward with joy and hope to the closing of our fourth and last year here as our best. The people have all been kind, and many of them have bravely supported us in our days of gloom and misfortune. May the choicest of blessings rest upon them and all the people of our Conference!

C. F. STAPLES.

Lanesville, La., Sept. 17, 1900.

AROUND AND ABOUT.

On the morning of Aug. 30 we left home for a trip through Marion and Pike counties to meet engagements to hold revival meetings. Our first engagement being on the Columbia charge, we went via the city of that name, and had the honor of riding on the first train which ever ran into that splendid little town. Upon our arrival we found Pastor Williams (and everyone else who was aware of the coming of the train), I started to say at the depot, but will have to modify that statement by saying where, or near where, the depot will soon be erected. Our trip was attended with many humorous incidents, not experienced on older and better equipped roads. Ever and anon along the route we would encounter two or three flat cars on the main line left there by the construction train, which we would hitch on to and carry along with us until we could find a side track into which to place them. It was amusing to see the crowds of people congregated along the line to see the first train run through their country. You could tell by the way that the sheep and cattle went galloping off in an opposite direction from the train that they too realized that something new was on foot.

But, Mr. Editor, you can imagine our feelings when, as the train stopped, we put our heads out of the window of the car, and saw one of the train men letting down the bars. There was a smile upon every face as soon as the cause of the delay became generally known. However, we reached Columbia safe and sound, to find the citizens of that bustling little city jubilant over the completion of the road. The next morning, in company with Pastor Williams, we started for Hopewell, where we were to hold our first meeting on this trip.

Beginning at 11 o'clock, on Saturday, Sept. 1, we continued until the following Wednesday afternoon. Out of an appointment regarded by some as a hopeless opportunity Bro. Williams has developed a strong and promising congregation. The Holy Spirit was with us from the beginning, and a wonderful meeting was the result. No effort to ascertain the number of conversions was made. On the last day of the meeting thirty-eight persons were received into the church by the pastor. It was indeed a touching sight to me to see nearly a whole family brought into the church at once. All of these were received on profession of faith. Bro. Williams baptized about fifteen. The reception of these persons constituted one of the most solemn services I ever witnessed. Bro. Williams' address to the applicants for church membership was fine indeed. Not one of that class can ever in after years say that they did not fully understand what they were doing when they assumed the sacred vows of the church of God. Pastor Williams has his work well in hand, and enjoys the unbounded love and confidence of the people among whom he labors. He is also sustaining well his reputation for being able to stand more "pounding" than almost anybody. While being entertained at the parsonage at Columbia, we heard a muttering of voices, and on looking out to ascertain its meaning we saw arms filled with bundles and hands with buckets, etc., which were soon deposited on and around a table in the parlor, as tokens of the love and appreciation of the people for their pastor and his family. On the last day of the meeting at Hopewell, as this man of God was hitching "Mack" to the buggy to return to his home, I observed that the spirit of "pounding" had taken hold of the people there, too. Jars, bundles, chickens, barrels of corn were brought in such number that the parson had absolutely to engage the services of a wagon to assist in handling the "pounds!"

After many hearty handshakes, and earnest "God-bless-you's," we left this kind and appreciative people for Tylertown, our next appointment. On entering the town we saw that the indefatigable Rawls was superintending with his characteristic zeal the stretching of our tent, which we had shipped a few days ahead. On Friday night, Sept. 7, we began preaching in the tent. Though hindered considerably by wind and rain, the meeting was a decided success. While the meeting here did not result in a great ingathering, a deep work of grace in the church was wrought. A great many professed conversion, a number claimed to have been reclaimed from a backslidden state, and still others testify that they have been helped to a higher and sweeter Christian experience. Pastor Rawls was hindered considerably by sickness in his family, but stood by us faithfully. Rawls, too, has developed some power of endurance along the "pounding" line, his good people having tested him to the extent of about $25 worth during our meeting there. We have found the people eager for the Word of Life, and we rejoice that the Word has lost none of its old-time power to save.

We are at home now for a little rest.

T. J. NORSWORTHY.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Sept. 17, 1900.

Home Mission Society.

EDITORS.

Mrs. J. B. Stone, of North Miss. Conference
Conference Officers of Mississippi Conference
Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Louisiana Conference

We feel that our church has lost a faithful member, and our Home Mission Society a zealous friend, by the death of Mrs. Linna Parker, our first Conference secretary. Lovely in person and character we shall miss from our midst her sweet presence and Christian influence, realizing that earth is poorer, but heaven richer, by her going. We know that our loss is her eternal gain, but our hearts ache and our tears fall as one by one these dear friends leave us. We realize that the present only is ours; that, like the waves upon the seashore, we come and go, and that very soon our accustomed places shall know us no more. How wise, then, to redeem the time!—to strive for that "better part" which shall not be taken from us! Each one has a special work to do, and no one, in this life, can escape personal responsibility or delegate to another the performance of a duty designed for himself.

Ruskin says: "No one of my fellows can do that special work for me which I have come into this world to do: he may do a higher work, a greater work, but he can not do my work. I may do little or I may do much; that matters not; it must be my own work. And by doing my own work, poor as it may seem to some, I shall better fulfill God's end in making me what I am and more truly glorify his name."

What are we doing, not collectively, but as individuals, personally responsible to God for the use of time and talents? We know the time is short—even threescore years and ten; but we may be here to-day and gone to-morrow. Shall we not be more in earnest when we pray, "Thy kingdom come"? Shall we ask the Lord of the harvest to send forth "more laborers," and neglect the "harvest fields" about our very doors?

We believe in foreign missions and love to think of the glorious gospel of salvation being spread among the nations of the earth; but we also believe in home missions: the two are so united in the great work of bringing the world to Christ that one is only the natural outcome of the other. But "what doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works?" "If a brother or sister be naked and destitute of daily food, and you say, 'Depart in peace, be warmed and filled;' notwithstanding ye give them not those things needful for the body, what doth it profit?"

We must prove our faith by our works. We recognize that there is strength in organization; consequently Christians of different denominations have united themselves into various societies, each having for its object some special plan in this great work of bringing the glad tidings of salvation to all people.

Our Home Mission Society has grown out of the great need of the church for its special work, and God's blessing has rested upon it from the beginning. Its scope is broad enough for each one of us to bear a part, and its object worthy enough for each one to desire to do so.

Art. 2 of the Constitution reads: "The object of this society is to enlist and organize Christian women and children in securing homes for itinerant preachers, in providing religious instruction for the neglected and destitute, and in otherwise aiding the cause of Christ." If we believe the cause to be worthy, shall we not prove our faith by going to work? What are we doing in the Opelousas district, as members of this society, for the various departments of our work? Our mission schools, Twentieth Century Offering, department of supplies, circulation of Our Homes, reading course, systematic giving, etc. Your secretaries can not even hear from the Auxiliaries whether they are living or dead.

Dear friends, let us not be "weary in well doing," for "in due season we shall reap if we faint not." Please send reports. Let us keep in touch one with the other. Let each member of every Auxiliary in the district (not only in this, but in others as well) determine to be responsible for some one thing connected with the work of her society. For instance, one may take an interest in the circulation of Our Homes, another in placing names on the Baby Roll, some other in sending off boxes of supplies or collecting money for our mission schools, and last, but not least, seeing to it that her district secretary gets a report every quarter of everything done during the quarter. Our fiscal year begins March 1, so that reports should be sent from the Auxiliaries to the district secretaries as follows: March, June, September and December.

Opportunities for work are God-given, and every passing moment is laden with their neglect or improvement. Let not the "barren fig tree" be typical of our lives, but let us, in the strength of our God, exemplify in our daily walk the teachings of him we profess to follow. If the door is closed to active work by affliction, we can pray for those who are bearing the "heat and burden of the day." "Call upon me, and I will answer," saith the Lord. If our purse is scanty and opportunity narrow, we can offer our "cup of cold water," our love and sympathy and ourselves to service. "The servant is not greater than his Lord." O friends, there are suffering hearts to comfort, hungry souls to feed, young minds to educate, and erring ones to rescue. "Why stand we here all the day idle?" "The night cometh when no man can work."

ELIZABETH R. KENNEDY.

Lafayette, La.

Correspondence.

REV. J. C. MIMMS AT HOME AGAIN.

MR. EDITOR: I have just returned from an eight months' trip through Egypt, Turkey, Syria, Palestine, Greece and countries of Europe. My health was perfect, and the journey was beneficial to me in every sense. I return to my "loved employ" with renewed energy, and strong determination to vigorously prosecute the work of the ministry. I love my calling, and count it a joy to have an humble place in the ranks of itinerant Methodist preachers. Bro. Campbell, who has been filling my place, is in high favor with the people, and has done work well. He has just closed a fine meeting at Shelby; added fifteen to the church.

Success to the ADVOCATE.

Your brother in Christ,

J. C. MIMMS.

Shelby, Miss. Sept. 17, 1900.

LET THE FIRST BE FIRST.

The soul of man is so made that it can not be satisfied with anything lower than the highest, or less than the best. The soul may be drugged with false pleasures; it may be fascinated with the colors and reflections in the bubbles of the world. But it will waken. It will come to itself. And when that has once been done, it will never sleep again. There will be no anodyne for the worm in hell.—Central Advocate.

W. F. M. S.

Our branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has lost a member, than whom no one exerted a greater influence for good. Mrs. Ellen K. Burrnss, widow of onr beloved Bishop Linns Parker, died Sept. 3, 1900.

For years the presiding officer of this Anxiliary and nntil failing health prevented active service in the Master's vineyard, we shall miss her sweet connsel and gentle, winning manner in onr meetings. Always keenly alive to its best interests and the furtherance of the great cause of foreign missions, she inspired each one with increased zeal and devotion.

For years we have snpported in China a Bible woman, Nelly Parker, who is proving a faithful worker among her conntry women, and is thns perpetuating in a foreign land the name of our beloved friend, while the memory of her godly life will be enshrined within onr hearts for many years to come.

Mrs. Parker was known and loved by our entire church in New Orleans, where the greater part of her life was spent, having come to onr city as a bride in 1858. 'Annt Nelly," as she was lovingly called by the children and young people of the church, has gone before into the land of light, there to await the coming of her devoted sons and loving friends. A woman of strong convictionr, yet gentle in the expression of her opinions, her influence was felt by all who came in contact with her. A life well spent as an affectionate daughter, a devoted wife, a loving, careful mother, a kind and sympathetic friend, has passed away—gone from death into life in the presence of our Redeemer.

Oh, the bliss of life eternal,
Oh, the long nnbroken rest,
In the golden fields of pleasure,
In the mansions of the blest;
But to see onr dear Redeemer,
And before his feet to fall,
There to hear his blessed welcome,
Will be sweeter fer than all.

While, as a society, we monrn the death of this noble woman, we know that after years of suffering and darkness, patiently borne, she has passed into the snnlight of heaven, and the release of her spirit was a triumph over death. "May each one of us join her in the land where there is no more parting!"

To her bereaved sons, we wonld tender our sincere sympathy.

MRS. PHILIP WERLEIN,
MRS. W. H. LAPRADE,
MRS. S. A. MONTGOMERY,
For W. F. M. Society.

OBITUARIES.

RESOLUTIONS.

COCHRAN—Whereas, In the provldence of Almighty God the earthly labors and career of onr Bro. C. C. COCHRAN has come to an end, and we feel so deeply the absence of Bro. Cochran; therefore be it Resolved, That while we deeply feel the loss and realize the absence so sensibly, yet we hnmbly bow to the will of God and offer him hnmble thanks for allowing ns the fellowship of Bro. Cochran.

Resolved, We extend to the bereaved widow and family onr sincere sympathy, and pray God's blessings upon and with them.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our Quarterly Conference Minntes, and offered the county papers and N. O. ADVOCATE for publication.

W. H. ADAMS,
S. E. MOSS.
W. C. BUCK, Sec.,
Committee.

SLOCUM—Resolutions adopted Sunday, Jnly 15, 1900:

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to take unto himself onr lamented sister, Mrs. ETTA SLOCUM; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Methodist Snnday-school of Bunkie, La., of which she was a member, that we hereby express our nnfeigned sorrow; bnt we recognize the wisdom of God to be superior to our wishes, and with snbmission we say, "Thy will be done."

Resolved, That to the bereaved family we extend our heart-felt sympathy, and pray God to comfort their wonnded hearts and guide them to the place of glad reunion.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our departed sister; that a copy be sent to NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE for publication, and that a page of our Minutes be dedicated to her memory.

MRS. MINNIE BUDENZER,
MISS ANNIE ROBERTS,
MISS FLORA WATSON,
Committee.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS 25 CTS

"A Gentle Wind of Western Birth"

Tells no sweeter story to humanity than the announcement that the health-giver and health-bringer, Hood's Sarsaparilla, tells of the birth of an era of good health. It is the one reliable specific for the cure of all blood, stomach and liver troubles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas
T. G. MACKIE, L. MIEG, O. K. LINCOLN, JR
324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
AXES, ALARM TILLS, AGES, LOCKS, CROQUET.
BASKETS, BASEBALLS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, DUSTERS,
Enameled Steelware, Freezers, Fishing Tackle,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASSWARE, HAMMOCKS,
Japanned Ware, Ice Chests,
KEGS, LADDERS, LAMPS,
MARBLES, NAIL PULLERS,
OARS, OIL TANKS, REFRIGERATORS, ROPE, TINWARE, TRAPS, WINES, PAPER, PADLOCKS, SOAPS, STATIONERY, WATER COOLERS, WHIPS, WOODENWARE,
Etc. Trade Solicited.

DR. LETELLIER'S Sunflower Tablets.

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any drugstore, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Trust Bld'g, New York City.
Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

JOYCE—Tribute of respect from the Methodist Snnday-school of Gulfport, Miss.:

Whereas, On Wednesday, Ang. 29, our Heavenly Father, by a mysterious providence, snddenly called from this world the soul of our beloved friend and comrade, FRANK JOYCE, a beloved member of this Snnday-school; And, whereas, We believe him to have been possessed of those qnalities which tend to develop a true and manly character; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Frank Joyce the Snnday-school has lost an earnest worker, his yonng associates a valued companion, and his family a loving son and brother.

Resolved, That we tender them our heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved, That we wonld remind the sorrowing mother that "those who die early fulfill their appointed mission" All are God's, and he gathers his own when it seemeth to him best. The hand that strips life's harvest field also garners in the skies, and death teaches ns that heaven is near at hand.

MRS. J. S. PARKER,
For the Snnday-school.

Passed by a standing vote of whole school.

SMITHWICK—Sister MAHULDA SMITHWICK was born in Habershaw connty, Ga., Feb. 8, 1833, and died at Mathiston, Miss., Ang. 1, 1900. She joined the M. E. Church, South, in 1881, and ever after proved herself true to her church vows. She died in the faith of the gospel. She did not live long after she was taken sick, bnt passed away rather unexpectedly to friends and relatives. She leaves an aged husband to monrn her loss, to whom she had proven herself true for many years. Her life had been mingled with much suffering and grief as well as seasons of joy. She was of that class of devoted wives who remained at home and cared for the comforts of husband and children, while her husband traveled the whole conntry over, administering medicine to the poor, sick and suffering. She is missed at home, bnt will soon be met again in the eternal home beyond.

J. F. EVANS.

Eupora, Miss., Ang. 24, 1900.

FELDER—Miss NETTIE B. FELDER, a danghter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Felder, was born Dec. 2, 1869, and took her departnre to "the land of pnre delight" Jnne 28, 1900. She was reared by devont Christian parents, who tanght the beautiful lesson and example given by our blessed Master: "Train np a child in the way he shonld go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." Therefore, it is not a matter of snrprise that at the early age of thirteen years she joined the church and consecrated her life to God. She had asthma from childhood, and never knew what it was to see a well day; bnt, notwithstanding all this, her life was characterized by a continued growth in grace and deep piety. She was loved most by those who knew her best. Her daily practice was to read her Bible and commnne with her Lord.

By her death Topicaw Church has lost one of its best members; bnt "she hath done what she could," and gone to her eternal reward—there to await the coming of her father and mother, brothers and sisters.

J. J. GOLDEN.

Quinns, Miss.

ANDERSON—Mrs. MALINDA ANDERSON (nee Pnllin) was born in Limestone connty, Ala., Aug. 10, 1833. She moved to DeSoto connty when a child. She was happily married to J. C. Anderson, Feb. 19, 1852. Their home was blessed with eleven children: three with their father preceded her to the better land. Eight live to monrn her loss. She quietly passed away April 5, 1900.

Sister Anderson was one of our best women. She had been a member of the M. E. Church, South, for about forty-three years, and been holding family prayers for twenty years. So it is not strange that her eight children are all members of the church of her choice, and are on the way to heaven, mother's home.

All who knew Sister Anderson join in saying that she was a vessel of honor, raising and training her children for God and heaven. She is gone, bnt her works do follow her. Bro. Anderson having died in 1873, she was left the responsibility of raising and training the family, which, nnder God, she did, as all who knew her will testify.

Farewell, sister, thon art sleeping in thy lone grave. Natnre's tnrmoil is all over, for thy gentle spirit has fled. Her pastor, R. P. GOAR.

MONTGOMERY—On the morning of the sixteenth of June, 1900, the pnre spirit of Bro. SMYLIE E. MONTGOMERY, of Jefferson Street Methodist Church, Natchez, Miss., took its departnre for that home not made with hands in the heavens. Bro. Montgomery was born and reared in the city of Natchez, and was in the thirty-first year of his age. From his youth he was connected with the Democrat, of that city. Of a quiet, peaceful disposition, his friends were legion. All honored him for his genuine worth. His devotion to duty was an inspiration. Though his fatal disease was a lingering one he ceased at once almost to labor and to live.

Early in his life he connected himself with the Jefferson Street Methodist Church. He was a member of its Official Board. For years he filled the position of secretary of the Snnday-school, and the weather was never too hot or too inclement for him to be present. He loved to gather with the children of the church, and after the dread disease forced him to give np the position, he continued to come. Dnring a pastorate of two years the writer fonnd him always ready for every good work. In his office, where all honored him; in his thought for his aged mother and loving sister in the home, in his devotion to dnty in the church—everywhere it may truly be said of him, "Well done, good and faithful servant." T. B. HOLLOMAN.

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

A SORRY SIGHT

It is, to see a strong man shaken like a reed by a paroxysm of coughing, which leaves him gasping for breath. People have suffered with bronchial affections for years, with obstinate, stubborn cough, and growing weakness. They have tried doctors and medicines in vain. At last they have been induced to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with the general result experienced by all who put this wonderful medicine to the test—help at once, and a speedy cure.

For coughs, bronchial affections, weak lungs, spitting of blood, and other diseases of the organs of respiration, "Golden Medical Discovery" is practically a specific. It always helps; it almost always cures.

"I had been troubled with bronchitis and catarrh of the head for eight years; had severe cough, and at times great difficulty in breathing," writes J. W. Howerton, Esq., of Bigfall, Hancock Co., Tenn. "A portion of the time my appetite was poor and part of the time I was unable to do anything. I had been treated by our best country physicians for several years but with little benefit. I had been reading about your medicine for a long time but hadn't much faith in it. Last spring concluded I would try it, and before I had taken one-third of a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I began to mend. I continued taking it until I had taken several bottles. Took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets also. Now I feel like a new man, and can do as hard a day's work as any one."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered, or 31 stamps for cloth binding, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS.
UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY.
Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O.
Mention this paper.

BELLS

Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address,
Old Established
BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY
THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.
Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.
Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.
A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.
Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.
Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain,

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Read What is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word"—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault, Minn

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS
EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change....

DIRECT LINE TO
Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO
Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,
AND TO ALL POINTS
North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between
NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections. Through Sleepers!

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A.
J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A.
R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

YOU SAVE $40

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.,

and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctlyoperating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to October, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to November, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1900.

THE POLICE AGAIN SHAMEFULLY DERELICT IN DUTY.

For about a month and a half the Sunday law has been splendidly enforced in this city, which fact has been noted with deep satisfaction by the better class of citizens, who have been congratulating themselves that at last the police have had honor enough to perform a plain duty. Recent developments, however, seem to indicate that this was a mere "spasm of virtue," so to speak, due to the influence of the mayor, and that we might almost as well expect figs of thistles as to expect the police of themselves to continue faithful in the enforcement of the Sunday law. Notwithstanding the fact that on last Saturday the chief of police issued an order to the precinct commanders calling attention to a previous order relative to the enforcement of the Sunday law, and stating also that they would be held responsible for its enforcement, when Sunday came, nearly all the saloons in the city opened up, and, with but a few exceptions, plied their business all day without molestation. It has come to a pretty pass, indeed, when policemen thus flagrantly disregard explicit instructions from the head of the police department.

We heartily endorse the following strong editorial utterance which appeared in last Monday's Times-Democrat anent this matter:

"The question at issue quite transcends the merits of the statute itself, and relates to the ultimate sovereignty of law, which is the soul of a civilized community. To say that executive officials shall choose the laws which are to be enforced is to preach the gospel of anarchy, pure and simple.

"In the instant case the breach of discipline becomes all the more flagrant, from the fact that there has been no little gossip to the effect that keepers of saloons were promised immunity from the provisions of the Sunday law, in return for liberal contributions to the campaign funds of the Regulars. We do not profess to know whether such assertions have any solid basis in fact; but the present action of the police commanders leads one to infer that there is a good deal of fire beneath the smoke. It has also been asserted that a halt in the enforcement of the law has been called, lest the success of the Democratic ticket at the November election be placed in jeopardy. If that be true, the party is, indeed, in evil case. No political organization in all the world can ever be strong enough to stand in alliance with law-breakers. The conscience of all right-thinking men will revolt against a proposal so monstrous."

We sincerely hope that the mayor will again bring the pressure of his influence and authority upon the derelict policemen.

THE SALOON NO RESPECTER OF MISFORTUNE.

After the occurrence of the terrible catastrophe which recently overtook Galveston, the proprietors of several saloons that had escaped injury opened up for business as soon as the debris could be cleared away sufficiently from their doors. The sale of intoxicants at such a time of general demoralization was like touching a spark to tinder. Inflamed by liquor, the rough and lawless elements soon began to pillage and commit monstrous acts of violence, thus increasing the horror of the situation. Not only did the authorities recognize that the tolerence of the saloon amid such circumstances was madness, but they were deeply incensed at the heartless greed exhibited by these whisky sellers. Yea, the hearts of all the survivors of the storm, except the very scum of the city, revolted at the baseness displayed by the saloon men as well as at the thought of permitting so despicable a business to profit by their misfortune. Hence, as soon as the city was put under martial law, the owners of these dens of debauchery were ordered to close them and leave the island. Similar instructions were given also to the proprietors of gambling dens left intact.

Says the editor of the Texas Advocate in commenting upon the shameful action of these Galveston saloon keepers:

"Think of it! Death and destruction, wailing and lamentation, and the mangled bodies of the dead scattered promiscuously over the street and under the wrecks, placed no check upon some of these heartless wretches engaged in the liquor traffic! As soon as they could recover themselves from the shock of the night, they were ready to make every nickel possible out of the survivors who were so unfortunate as to have an appetite for strong drink. But the manhood of the remnant of the population rose up and expelled them and their business from this scene of human suffering and calamity. The fact is, we have always known that the liquor business was without heart or conscience; but this is the first instance where we have ever known it to defy the dead, mock the living, laugh at calamity, debauch the mangled and the maimed, and defy the awful visitations of Almighty God! We are glad that there was manhood enough left in the Island City, even in the midst of its ruins, to drive from its borders these despoilers of virtue, truth, and benevolence. And what a pity it is that the manhood of this great State and of this Nation does not rise up and hurl from every community this nefarious business that is wrecking more human life and character than all of the storms and waves that ever swept the shores of America! It stands to-day in the presence of the deepest agony of the human heart, and unblushingly grins at woe and misery."

MISSIONARY PROGRESS.

The remarkable progress of modern missionary enterprise in Uganda, in the South Seas, in Burmah, in India, and in many other foreign fields, is nothing short of miraculous, and the record thereof is more thrilling than any romance. When missionaries went out to the Fiji Islands in 1835, they found them inhabited by cannibals of the worst description. A darker region could not be imagined. After only forty years of missionary effort, these islands became thoroughly Christianized. In 1879, Sir Arthur Gordon, an ex-governor of the islands, testified that out of a population of 120,000, fully 102,000 were regular worshipers in the churches, and that in every family there was morning and evening worship. In all the annals of history there is scarcely anything more marvelous than the story of the transformation that has been wrought in the New Hebrides during the last fifty years through the efforts of the venerable Dr. John G. Paton, than whom there is not a greater hero in any army of any nation.

During the recent Ecumenical Missionary Conference, in New York, Dr. Harry Guinness told of the horrors once practiced along the banks of the Congo in Africa. He spoke of seeing a whole village burned and its peaceful inhabitants slain; of little boys beheaded; of women buried alive with their dead husbands; of poor slaves, whose bones had been broken with a club, tied to trees and left to die in mortal agony; of a quivering young girl buried alive to make a pillow for a chief's son. "All this was common ten years ago," said he, "but, thank God, to-day such scenes are an absolute impossibility. Groups of men and women everywhere have yielded to the missionaries, and have become God's servants."

Although the Presbyterian mission in Korea was established only about fourteen years ago, it now has over two thousand members. The celebrated skeptical scientist, Darwin, after extensive travel in foreign lands and close personal observation of the results of missionary enterprise, has left on record this testimony: "The lesson of the missionary is the enchanter's wand."

THE SECRET OF VICTORY.

Every man who endeavors to conquer sin and Satan in and through his own strength fights a losing battle, and comes to find his last state worse than the first. The only hope of victory is through reliance upon Christ, who will supply all of our need through the riches of his grace. Self-distrust is one of the first steps in salvation.

Whoever thou art that wouldest excuse thyself from following Christ because of weakness and self-distrust, remember thou that the Lord will not hold thee guiltless in the great Day of Accounts, for has he not offered thee strength for all thy need? Weak and unworthy though thou art, he came to save thee, and stands ready to cleanse thee from every stain and to enable thee to do his holy will. "The same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him." If thou art willing to yield thyself fully to the Savior, and canst say out of thine heart:

> "Other refuge have I none;
> Hangs my helpless soul on thee," then the Lord will lift thee up and cause thee to rejoice.

THE CAUSE OF FAINTNESS.

The secret of the feebleness, faintness, and pitiable failings of the average Christian of to-day is his lack of prayerfulness. Of how few can it be said that they are given to prayer! In this age characterized by rush and reckless push, church members, as a rule, are not taking the time they should for communion with God. The result of such neglect upon the spiritual life is nearly always disastrous.

> "Restraining prayer, we cease to fight;
> Prayer makes the Christian's armor bright;
> And Satan trembles when he sees
> The weakest saint upon his knees."

Dear Christian, ere you begin each day's labors, do you think to pray? Do you tarry awhile at a throne of God for strength for the day's trials and snares? There is no such thing as a victorious Christian life apart from earnest, daily communion with God.

THE SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The official statistics of the Southern Presbyterian Church indicate that there has been a healthy growth in many directions during the year. An increase of 40 churches and of 4,800 members is reported. The additions on confession of faith exceed those of last year by over 1,000. The contributions to foreign missions exceed those of last year by $30,000, and are larger than during any previous year. The congregational expenditures are the largest ever reported, and the same may be said of pastors' salaries, the average being about $800.

This denomination now has 79 Presbyteries, 1,461 ministers, 2,959 churches, and 225,890 members, of whom 9,705 were added during the year on confession of faith.

AN APPEAL FOR HELP.

MR. EDITOR: Will you not open a subscription list in the columns of your excellent paper, and call for contributions to aid our stricken Methodists in the great storm district, including Galveston and the coast country? We have sustained awful loss of life and property, the extent of which can not be estimated. In the Houston district our church property was damaged over $100,000, and other sections have suffered greatly. We are doing everything in Texas to aid our people in this extremity, but the fearful calamity goes beyond our ability. Therefore, we call upon the church to help us in this fearful desolation. Help us, for Christ's sake!

G. C. RANKIN.
[Editor Texas Advocate.]

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 21, 1900.

We most cheerfully accede to the foregoing request made by Editor Rankin in behalf of our distressed brethren in Galveston and other storm-swept portions of Texas, and shall take pleasure in acknowledging and promptly forwarding all contributions that may be sent to this office for the worthy cause mentioned. While a large sum has been contributed by people all over the country for the relief of the storm sufferers, this has gone into the general fund, and is being used by the general relief committee in rendering the immediate help necessary. Of course, it would be improper for any portion of this general fund to be used in aiding any denomination to re-establish itself. Hence, if our own church property that has been destroyed or injured is to be restored, our Methodist people must come to the rescue. Our brethren in the stricken districts are in sore straits, and are utterly unable to do anything to rehabilitate the church where losses have occurred.

Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss, presiding elder of the Houston district, the one that felt the full force of the storm, states that every charge in it has suffered, nine of our churches being destroyed, and seven more damaged. One parsonage also was lost, and three others were badly damaged. There is cause for deep gratitude that our Methodist pastors and their families who were in the path of the storm all escaped injury, their household and personal effects, however, being nearly all swept away. Our ministerial brethren in the desolated region, it is stated, are manifesting a most heroic spirit and faith, and are determined that no interest of the church shall suffer on their account.

As Dr. Rankin rightly says: "The time has now come when Methodists need to take steps toward raising a fund to help the afflicted of our church, and aid them in repairing and rebuilding our church property."

The Roman Catholics all over the country are busy raising funds for their work in Galveston, and other denominations are doing likewise. Can we afford to do nothing when so much is at stake; when the need of assistance is so urgent? The Methodists in Texas are responding nobly to the call for help from the stricken district, but the emergency is too great for them to be able to meet it adequately. Assistance from other parts of our Zion is much needed, and will be gratefully received. Let all help who can.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.

Says the Texas Advocate, of Sept. 20:

The touching incidents connected with the great storm in Galveston will never all be written, but if such were possible, no series of books would be able to contain them. Many of them, however, will go into permanent record, and they will stand as mementos of courage, heroism, love and tenderness. Among them is one coming all the way from New York, and sent to us by Gov. Jos. D. Sayers, at Austin. The little amount sent to the suffering children, record of which is contained in the following correspondence, does not amount to much in actual cash, but it represents a thousand dollars worth of sympathy and good-will. And all over our broad land just such gifts and expressions from children and grown people have gone by the multiplied hundreds to the coast sufferers. But we here give place to the incident under consideration:

New York City, 469 Lenox Ave.,
Sept. 12, 1900.

Governor Joseph D. Sayers, Austin, Texas—

DEAR GOVERNOR: We send all we have in stamps, "eight stamps in the small envelope." We are two poor little children, and we don't have to go hungry, and we have a house to live in. Please, Mr. Governor, give this to some poor little one who is hungry in Galveston. Thanking you ever so much, we are, dear sir,

INEZ AND CHARLEY LOVEJOY.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 15, 1900.

Miss Ines and Master Charley Lovejoy, 469 Lenox Avenue, New York City, N. Y.—

MY YOUNG FRIENDS: I have just received your kind note of the twelfth instant, with the enclosure of eight postage stamps, to be given to some poor little one who is hungry in Galveston.

No contribution, however large, has impressed me more than the one of which I now acknowledge the receipt.

Instead of sending the stamps thus contributed by you, I shall keep your letter and the stamps for myself, as a souvenir of the great storm at Galveston. I will, however, in lieu of the stamps, put a like amount in the general fund, so that the value of your stamps may go to some little suffering child in Galveston, and your contribution be not lost to it.

Permit me to thank you most sincerely and gratefully for the contribution, and to express the hope that you both may live long and be prosperous and happy. You are beginning in the world in the right way, and I trust that in the future it may be with you to do as you have done on this occasion.

Your friend,
(Signed) JOSEPH D. SAYERS,
Governor of Texas.

A NEW BOOK.

LET THERE BE LIGHT. The Story of a Workingmen's Club. Its Search for the Causes of Poverty and Social Inequality. Its Discussions, and Its Plan for the Amelioration of Existing Evils. By David Lubin. 12 mo. 526 pages. Cloth. G. F. Putnam's Sons.

This volume discusses in dialogue form the great problems of labor and poverty, viewed from the standpoint of the wage-earner, and purports to be an earnest inquiry after truth and the best methods of harmonizing the antagonisms of modern society. Six workingmen, experiencing the evils and imperfections of the industrial and social conditions under which they labor, meet to discuss those conditions and to seek the causes of those evils. Their investigations lead them to the conclusion that the causes of the inequality of which they feel the burden are to be sought in the defects of religious systems. The outcome of their search is a new religion. This book follows somewhat the schemes of Sir Arthur Helps' "Friends in Council," and of Cicero's "Disputations." While it is an interesting and somewhat instructive work, we are far from being ready to accept the conclusions reached. The book is, in fact, a silly attempt to popularize Deism and Rationalism. The greatest need of all classes is not a "new (?) faith," but the old gospel faithfully applied in all the relations of life.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE.

The ninth session of Millsaps College will begin Wednesday, Oct. 3. The occasion will be celebrated by appropriate and attractive ceremonies. Distinguished speakers will deliver addresses in the College Chapel, and all students should be present to participate in the exercises. New students are expected to be on hand Tuesday, Oct. 2. All indications point to a large attendance.

W. B. MURRAH, President.

REASONS FOR LEAN CHRISTIANS.

They own Bibles, but feed on newspapers.

They sing about peace, but do not surrender to get it.

They pray that the kingdom of heaven may come, but block the way by worldly living.

They listen to sermons on unselfishness, but pamper themselves in food and dress.

They wear crosses, but shrink from bearing them.

They praise Christ with their lips, but declare the things he did to be wholly impractical now.—Christian Endeavor World.

NOTES.

The postoffice address of Rev. H. B. Trevilion has been changed from Fernwood, Miss., to Columbia, Miss.

***

Dr. W. H. LaPrade delivered an able address at Parker Memorial Church last Sunday morning on our Twentieth Century Educational Movement.

***

The new Methodist Church at Lake Charles, La., will be dedicated by Bishop Galloway next Sunday, the thirtieth instant. It is said to be a handsome edifice.

***

We are authorized by Bishop Galloway to give notice that the time of the holding of the Louisiana Conference has been changed from Dec. 12 to Dec. 13.

***

Says the Midland Methodist: "Bishop Fitzgerald, during his stay in Asheville, N. C., was so much strengthened that he accomplished a two-mile walk before breakfast."

***

On Sunday, the twenty-third, Bishop Galloway dedicated a church at Hamburg, Ark. While on this trip he spoke in behalf of the Twentieth Century Fund at Monticello, Ark., and also addressed the St. Louis Conference in the same interest.

***

On Thursday, the twentieth, at the residence of the bride's father in Jackson, Miss., we had the pleasure of celebrating the rites of matrimony between Mr. Sam. D. French and Miss Mary Etta Houston. May unalloyed felicity be their lot through life.

Bishop W. A. Candler passed through the city, on the nineteenth instant, en route to Galveston to look after the interests of our church in the storm-devastated region.

***

A card from Rev. G. S. Morehead, of the North Mississippi Conference, says: "We have had great revivals on the Lagrange circuit this year. Bro. J. W. Bell, of Houston, helped me at Lagrange, and did splendid work for us. We all love Bro. Bell."

***

The brethren present at the New Orleans Preachers' Meeting on last Monday morning had the pleasure of listening to a fine address by Rev. H. B. Carre on the subject of criticism of the Bible, including what is termed "higher criticism." Bro. Carre left the city on yesterday for Jackson, La., to enter upon his pedegogical duties at Centenary.

***

We desire to call the attention of the patrons of the ADVOCATE to the fact that only obituaries containing not more than two hundred words are published free. For all words in excess of that number there is a charge of one cent per word. As this information has accidentally been omitted from our obituary columns for two or three weeks, we give it here.

***

A charter has been granted for a railroad from Jackson, Miss., to Fulton, in the same State, via Carthage, Columbus, Aberdeen and Amory. The work of construction will begin as soon as the necessary preliminaries can be arranged. This will make Jackson even more of a railroad centre than it is. It has already sixteen passenger trains in and out every day.

***

We received a card, a few days ago, from Rev. Lyman F. Jackson, of the Western Virginia Conference, in which he says: "The last Conference (Western Virginia) was held in Ashland, Ky., the second in succession, during my pastorate there. I think I may say that it was the most successful in my ministry in many respects. My new appointment is Fairmont, W. Va., a prosperous and growing city on the Monongahela river—7,000 to 10,000 people."

***

We neither guess nor speculate about it, but state from a conviction of positive certainty, that if the Methodist ministers throughout the connection would devote themselves this Fall to an old-time canvass for increasing the circulation of our Methodist weeklies, more present and permanent good would come from it than from any other work which could possibly be done. The dropping of a Methodist paper week after week, into all our families, is the greatest need of the church.—Zion's Herald.

***

Rev. W. D. Bradfield, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, Galveston, in a recent letter to the Texas Advocate says: "St. John's Church is a total ruin. St. John's parsonage stood. Forty of St. John's members are dead; one hundred of her constituency dead. We held a touching service yesterday at Rosenberg Hall, Y. M. C. A. Building. Two accessions on profession of faith. Our three parsonages are partially unroofed; many glasses broken out of the windows. St. James and West End Churches are badly damaged. Our people are stricken sore."

***

We are in receipt of an interesting announcement regarding the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of Vanderbilt University, the exercises of which will embrace Oct. 21, 22 and 23, 1900. The anniversary sermon will be preached on Sunday, Oct. 21, by Bishop E. R. Hendrix. On the same day an address will be made by Bishop Hargrove, president of the Board of Trust, on "The Founders and Organizers of the University." Addresses will be delivered on Monday by Prof. Barnard, of Yerkes Observatory, and by Senator Sullivan, of Mississippi, the first graduate of the Law School. The educational address on Tuesday, Oct. 23, will be delivered by President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale University. On that day Kissam Hall, the gift of Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, grandson of the founder, as a memorial to his mother, will be formally presented to the University by Mr. Vanderbilt. The forthcoming anniversary promises to be a grand occasion, and a large attendance thereupon is confidently expected.

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss.
EDITOR.

MISSISSIPPI.

We are glad to note that so many of the Epworth Leagues are contributing to the support of our Orphans' Home at Water Valley. This is a very fitting service. Let still more of the Leagues take part in this great work of caring for the homeless.

The League is a mightier force to-day than it has ever been in its history before.

It is a deplorable fact that our general organ, the Epworth Era, must be published at a loss. It is a reproach to the young people of Southern Methodism, that we will not pay the running expenses of our own paper. Let Mississippi Leaguers see to it that we contribute our pro rata, at least, to make it self-sustaining.

We are delighted to note that the Columbus Epworth League is beginning the Fall and Winter work with renewed zeal, though it is no more than we must expect with a live pastor and other workers at the head.

All the colleges which have opened seem to promise a very successful year. We hope that each of them may have a live League. No other organization should take the place of an Epworth League in a Methodist college.

There are just a few more weeks in this Conference year. Let every pastor bestir himself, and have his charge in good condition for his successor.

INDIAN MISSION.

The Indian Mission in Mississippi is doing splendidly. Our missionary last year received ten members, and has up to date this year received twenty-five, making thirty-five for the two years. That is certainly doing well. God bless Bros. Mellen, Donnell, and their helpers. There were only two or three preaching-places two years ago. Now they have twelve. They only have one church-building up to date, but they are soon to have three, if the means can be secured. Now, I think that is a splendid showing—wonderful success. Bro. Donnell certainly deserves credit for the degree of success that has crowned his labors.

But the mission needs land and church-houses, also school buildings. How shall we get it, and then it takes money to buy land and building materia', and we have not got it. We need at least $500, and could use profitably $1,000 between now and Conference, if we had it. Where shall we get it? If we do not get at least $500, the work is bound to suffer. We could raise it so easy if all would help. I have appealed so often, and have not received the needed means. Will I receive it now? Or will the work continue to suffer?

Brethren and sisters, allow me to appeal to you again. In the name of Christ, in the name of humanity, allow me to appeal. And please do not turn a deaf ear, or allow me to appeal in vain. Where are the friends, my friends of former years? Where are the friends of the red men, the poor Choctaws? Who will extend a helping hand? Who will help to save them? Please send by money order, or registered letter, to me at Lorman, Jefferson county, Miss. Send at once and all you can spare for a worthy cause. Thanking you in advance, and praying a divine blessing upon all givers, I am, as ever,

Yours for the salvation of the Indians and all men,

A. D. MILLER.

Lorman, Miss.

OFF THE TRACK means great disaster when applied to a fast express train. It is just as bad when it refers to disordered blood or deranged stomach. Hood's Sarsaparilla puts the wheels back on the track by curing the troubles.

Indigestion, nausea are cured by Hood's Pills.

Storm Sufferers' Fund.

Mrs. R. A. Harris, Youngton, Warren county, Miss.....$2 00

Action of the Preachers' Meeting of the M. E. Church, South, New Orleans, La., Sept. 24, 1900.

Resolved, That we heartily approve the action of Mayor Capdevielle in enforcing the Sunday law in this city, and pledge to him our hearty support.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished Mayor Capdevielle, and be published in the city papers.

(Signed) S. S. Keener, W. H. LaPrade, F. N. Parker, M. M Black, H. B. Carre, R. H. Wynn, K. W. Dodson, G. D. Parker, P. O. Lowery, P. H. Fontaine, C. D. Atkinson, J. F. Foster.

REVIVAL AT BOLTON, MISS.

A very gracious meeting closed here Thursday night, having continued twelve days. Bro. D. P. Bradford, of Meridian, was with us ten days and preached twenty excellent sermons. The visible results were twenty-four accessions to the church, twenty-two of whom were on profession of faith. Others will probably join in the near future. An Epworth League will be organized to-morrow night. L. CARLEY.

Bolton, Miss., Sept 22, 1900.

DIED.

At 4.30 o'clock P. M., Sunday, Sept. 9, 1900, at her residence, No. 425 Natchez street, Mary McMorris, nee Mary Wilson, beloved wife of James, and mother of Arthur, Mary, James S., Clarence, Harvey and Jennie, aged 49 years 7 months and 12 days. Interment Monday, Sept. 10.

We are glad to learn that Bro. W. F. Rogers, of the Corinth (Miss.) circuit, is now convalescing after a long and serious spell of typhoid fever. Prayer is requested in behalf of several members of his family who are down with the same fever.

THE CAMP MEETING AT LAKE, MISS.

I am glad to be able to report that the camp meeting at Lake, which began the first of September, and closed the evening of the ninth, was a success in every particular, and the greatest spiritual feast we have had for many years. The good done during the meeting will never be fully known until our Father in heaven reveals it at the last great day. At almost every service there were souls born into the kingdom. I do not know the number, but it was indeed a rich harvest for the Master. It did my soul good to see the young converts, many of my Sunday-school, stand and testify to that vast congregation of the dear Savior's love. Many who were in a lukewarm condition were made to shout his praise. It was a general uplift to the church. There were 41 applicants for membership into the different churches. Of this number 31 belong to this pastoral charge. Rev. W. D Bass, of Corinth, Miss., did most of the preaching. He is a thoroughly consecrated minister of the gospel. He co-operates with the pastors, and teaches the people that their first duty is loyalty to their own preacher.

He preaches the plain, old Methodist doctrine, and stands by the Discipline from beginning to end The old-time religion that made our fathers and mothers happy and carried them home to glory is his theme. We can safely recommend him to any pastor desiring good help.

There were some visiting brethren, among whom was Bro. W. T. Griffin, the wide-awake agent for the Orphans' Home at Water Valley. He preached two excellent sermons and took up a collection amounting to $48. Bros. Jones, Miller, and Crossley rendered valuable service. Besides these there were other Christian workers.

Our circuit bids fair to tally well at Conference, and our aim is to bring up everything in full, despite the failure of crops.

Bro. Alford and wife have rendered us efficient service during their six months' stay. They leave for their home next week, to the regret of the entire circuit. They are Mississippians, and belong to this Conference by action of the Bishop. God bless the ADVOCATE.

Yours for Christ,

W. M. THORNTON.

PROGRAM.

Forest District Missionary Institute, Pelahatchie, Miss., Oct. 16, 17.

FIRST DAY.

9.00 a. m. Devotions.

How to Organize Our Sunday schools into Missionary Societies: and How to Secure Contributions Therein. W. M. Sullivan. Discussion led by P. H. Howse and C. S. Embree.

An Appeal in Behalf of Woman's Home Mission Work. Miss Addie Purnell.

11 a. m. Sermon—Our Debt to the Heathen World: How Incurred and How to Be Paid. M. L White.

2 30 p. m. Devotions.

2.45 p. m. Missionary Finances in the Forest District in 1899. W. L. Linfield.

Are We Improving on These Figures in 1900? If Not, Why? Discussion led by J. G. Galloway and R. S. Gale.

How Shall We Provide for Deficits Now Existing and Secure Full Collections This Year? Discussion led by L. J. Jones and J H. Foreman.

7 p. m. Devotions.

7.30 p. m. The Holy Ghost in Missions. (Acts xiii, 2) P. D. Hardin.

SECOND DAY.

8.30 a. m. Devotions.

9 a. m. The Present Condition of Our Work in China: and What Is Encouraging Therein? W. W. Morse. Discussion led by D. C. Langford and B. W. Lewis.

The Condition of Our Other Fields. E. L. Alford.

10 30 a. m. An Appeal to Pastors to Organize Woman's Foreign Missionary Societies. Miss Sallie Smylie.

11 a. m. Sermon. Our Duties as Pastors to the Work at Home and the Work Abroad.

2 30 p. m. Devotions.

2 45 p. m. Our Choctaw Neighbors. W. P. Donnell.

3.30 p. m. The Twentieth Century Movement in Its Bearing on the Missionary Work of the Church T. J. O. Neil. Discussion led by W. M. Sullivan and W. M. Stevens.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Let complete preparations be made, not only for parts assigned, but also for intelligent discussion of various questions named. Remember that this second Missionary Institute was ordered without a dissenting vote by the District Conference. Let all the preachers come! T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

Forest, Miss., Sept. 20, 1900.

KEENER CHAPEL.

Last Sunday was a great day for Methodism at Ocean Springs, the occasion being the dedication of the church which has just been completed at this place. Although the day was one of the warmest we have experienced this Summer, an unusually large congregation assembled to participate in the services. The altar and chancel were decorated with rare flowers, whose fragrance, blending with the prayers and songs, rose to the Giver of all good as an incense of praise and thanksgiving. An appropriate anthem, "The Lord is in his holy temple," was beautifully rendered by the choir. This was followed by a solo, "Heavenly City," sung with rare pathos by Miss Lucy Shannon.

The services were conducted by Rev. H. W. Van Hook, pastor in charge, assisted by Rev. W. H. Lewis, who preached the dedicatory sermon. All present were edified by the discourse of this young man of God, who preached from Zech. iv, 6, a sermon of great strength, beauty, and appropriateness.

The building was presented for dedication by Rev. O. Switzer, president of Board of Trustees, and the sentence of dedication pronounced by Bishop Keener, whose venerable presence added much dignity to the occasion. The love and esteem in which he is held by the congregation at Ocean Springs was manifested by the unanimous desire to have their beautiful chapel called the "Keener Chapel."

It seemed almost impossible to erect a church of the size and construction of the one which was projected by Rev. W. H. Lewis, and has just been completed by Rev. H. W. Van Hook, but the enterprise was rendered successful by the liberal contributions that have been made.

First, a donation of a parsonage and two finely located lots—the Twentieth Century Offering of Bishop and Mrs. Keener to the M. E. Church, South, at a cost of not less than eleven hundred dollars. Three hundred dollars in lumber, ceiling and money were contributed by the following firms of Moss Point, Miss.: Messrs. Danzler, Denny Bros., Robinson, Moss Point Lumber Co., and Bonds. One hundred and thirty dollars was contributed by friends outside of Ocean Springs, and others in the town who were not members of the church. Credit will be given all who have aided in the enterprise in a published statement in the Democrat-Star, of Scranton.

H. W. VAN HOOK.

Epworth Organs are easy to buy

Examples: Style 401 is $45.00 payable as follows:—$22.50 when organ is received and approved, $11.25 in three months and $11.25 in six months. (Factory prices—no agents.) Send for catalog. Mention this paper.
WILLIAMS ORGAN & PIANO CO.
57 Washington St., Chicago

PATENTS
promptly procured, OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch, or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks," FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 25 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Brodie's Liver Pills
FOR
Biliousness, Dyspepsia, SICK HEADACHE, WEAK STOMACH,
AND ALL
Disorders of the Liver.

TESTIMONY.

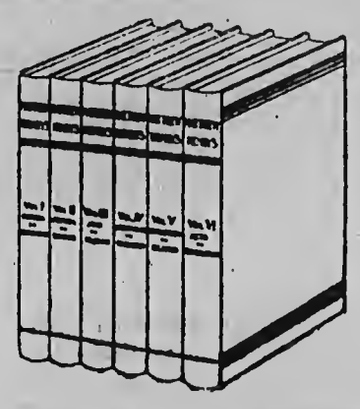
I have used Brodie's Pills for many years in my family, and have found them invaluable in all cases, and, as a Liver Pill, do not think they have an equal. GEO. H. WILEY.

Sold By All Druggists.
Price, 25c. a Box.
I. L. LYONS & CO., Prop's,
NEW ORLEANS LA

Matthew Henry's Commentary
on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.

Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.

Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied: "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.



Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.

6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.
3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.

Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.

Cheapest and Best Commentary.

Best cloth binding—good type.

Write to
Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.

Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.

SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 64
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,282 45
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 09
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,326 26
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,236 35

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY

are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.

Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.

Post & Bowles, New Orleans, La
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

A Slave Holder's Daughter.
By BELLE KEARNEY.
Cloth, 12 Mo, Fully Illustrated. $1.

This is a book which photographs the new South in contrast with the old. It deals especially with the evolution of Southern women—their surprising energy in leaping from the lap of the old, feudal, luxurious life to meet the stern realities of to-day. The author herself belongs by birthright to the old regime, while in full sympathy with the new condition. She writes from the inside, and pictures in her vivid and throbbing pages the situation down in Dixie as it relates to the people, education, the woman question, temperance, the economist, etc. All those who would have an inside knowledge of Dixie's Land as it is to-day should read it.

THE ABBEY PRESS, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Excursions.

The New Orleans and Northeastern railroad announces that, commencing with Wednesday, April 25, it will inaugurate the popular Wednesday excursions to St. Tammany parish, including Covington, Abita Springs, Pearl River, Slidell, and all intermediate stations.

The attractions to sportsmen, as well as the healthfulness of St. Tammany parish, are constantly increasing the popularity of these resorts.

Great improvement has been made, both by the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad and the East Louisiana railroad, in the track, which is being rapidly relaid with heavy steel rails, and in the equipment, thereby affording the excursionist the best of accommodations.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

IUKA NORMAL INSTITUTE
Iuka, Miss.

Nineteenth year begins Sept. 4, 1900. Terms reasonable—advantages superior. Satisfaction guaranteed to all working pupils. Write for the handsomest catalogue of the season.

H. A. DEAN, Pres.

Johnston Collegiate Institute
GREENSBURG, LA.,

Prepares boys and girls for high-grade colleges. Under the auspices of the M. E. Church, South. Affiliated with Vanderbilt University. Board, lodging and tuition, per session of 40 weeks, $100. Write for Catalogue.

Rev. P. M. BROWN, A. B., Prin.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

FACTS ABOUT PAINT When Your HOUSE, BARN or ROOF NEEDS PAINTING write SUTCLIFFE & CO., Louisville, Ky. Ask for Book No. 92. It tells how to buy and paint to best advantage. COSTS NOTHING. WILL SAVE MUCH

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Iuka Normal Institute, the pioneer normal of the South, manipulated by Pres. H. A. Dean, who is widely known as one of the foremost, common-sense educators in the land. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE,
(ESTABLISHED 1859.)
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.
A. F. WATKINS, D. D., President. REV. M. L. BURTON, V. Pres. and Bus. Mgr.

The session will open Sept. 12, 1900. Unusual advantages are offered by this historic institution.
Campus large and beautiful. Buildings commodious, being thoroughly repaired.
Hot and cold water in the dormitories. Electric lights in every room.
Healthfulness unsurpassed. Course of study comprehensive and thorough.
Faculty carefully selected. Our facilities for doing work in the Departments of Music, Painting, and the Industrial Arts are very fine.

Our Motto: "Do Right."
Our Aim: The development of the highest type of Christian womanhood.
Our Charges are moderate. Write for a Catalogue.

A card addressed to WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE, Brookhaven, Miss., will receive prompt attention

Grenada Female College
Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.
PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.

W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

The Noon Hour.

Many a hard working young woman spends her noon hour in an endeavor to get a little rest to carry her through the remaining hours of the day. She is weak and weary, but she cannot give up the occupation which supports her. She must go back to the office and the typewriter, to the store and its duties, with tiresome customers to wait on and exacting employers to please.

For people who are weak and run down there is no medicine so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Many diseases in organs remote from the stomach have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs. When the stomach is "weak" there is a failure to properly digest and assimilate the food which is eaten. Hence the whole body, and each organ of it, suffers from lack of nutrition, so that as a consequence of "weak" stomach, there may be "weak" lungs, "weak" heart, "weak" or torpid liver, "weak" nerves, etc. By curing diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, "Golden Medical Discovery" enables the assimilation of the nutriment necessary for the requirements of a healthy body. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and so increases the supply of blood which is the vital fluid of the body.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Sick and ailing people especially those suffering from disease in its chronic form are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

There is no similar offer of free medical advice which has behind it an institute of national note such as the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., presided over by Dr. Pierce, its chief consulting physician, with the assistance of nearly a score of skilled specialists.

"The Wonderful Medicine."

"I must again send a few lines to you to let you know how I am getting along since taking the wonderful medicine which cured me two years ago," writes Miss Bertha Ebeler, of 1416 Benton Street, St. Louis, Mo. "I still continue in very good health and think there is not a better medicine on earth than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. We would not be without it in the house, and also the little 'Pellets.'

"I have recommended Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to many friends, and they all think it will do just what is claimed for it. 'Tis the best thing for nervousness and for a weak, run down condition that any body could want. I was very nervous and weak last summer. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it just made me feel like a new person. It gives a person new life and new blood. I can now work all day long without feeling the least bit tired. In fact I feel like a new person.

"My mother was also cured by it of a very bad state of stomach trouble about three years ago. I thank you a thousand times for what you have done for me and for your kind advice."

Wasted to a Skeleton.

"About six years ago my health failed," writes Miss Alethea E. Green, of Coopstown, Harford Co., Maryland. "I kept getting down lower and lower, until I could scarcely walk across the floor without struggling and gasping for breath. My home physician pronounced it general debility and catarrh of the throat, but although he did all he could, he failed to even relieve me. I tried various remedies, but all of no avail. I soon wasted away to a mere skeleton. Finally I was persuaded to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., which I did immediately. And on receiving his very kind advice I commenced the use of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Favorite Prescription.' I took fourteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and nine of the 'Favorite Prescription' and to-day I am a well woman. I do heartily thank God and Dr. Pierce for my good health."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in cloth binding, or 21 stamps for the paper covered volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A RARE BARGAIN.

TEN VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to October, 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

WITH FACES LIKE THE MORNING.

"With faces like the morning,"
Would we waken, glad and strong;
Our sorrows left behind us,
A joy note in our song.

"With faces like the morning,"
Would we walk our pilgrim way;
Our faces bright and smiling,
"Through storm, or sunlit day."

"With faces like the morning,"
Would we close our eyes at last;
To open them in heaven,
Earth's toils and sorrows past
—Selected.

HOME MAKING.

There is no possible doubt that we often err in judgment and expression, and it is certain this misfortune will follow our path until the day darkens to its doom and the mistakes of this life are forever ended. But we have no fear that in the deliberate conclusion we propose now, we shall ever be convicted of error, which conclusion is that in no department of our civilization do we so greatly fail as in that of home making.

There is much of marrying and giving in marriage; much of furnishing, fitting and dwelling together, and no doubt many, very many places where there is a reasonable success in securing comparative peace and happiness in connection with the ordinary comforts of life. But that, as a people, we, in this respect, have kept pace with the great onward movement of society, we deny without hesitation, and, furthermore, we assert that the "former days" were better than these; and lacking many of the appliances of our present civilization, even much which we now consider as necessary to ordinary comfort, the homes of the past were far more numerous proportionately, and far superior in quality, considering all the circumstances, to those of the present. And the great cause is the imperfect preparation and training, or the utter want of training, of woman for her true position in society.

In the case of the wealthy, there is little expectation that the woman will give any special attention to household affairs; the butler and housekeeper will attend to everything connected with this department. In the lowest class of society where poverty is the rule, the woman is a mere drudge, while occupying the position of wife and mother; something of her burden naturally falls on her daughter. She learns to cook and attend to the details of the housekeeping because she must, but she will do no better than her mother, and the conditions will be such as to drive the husband and father to the saloon, the children to the street, and all to perdition. Too often the home of the very poor is little more than a kennel, the herding, feeding and sleeping-place of mere animal life, and while this continues, every effort of Christian civilization will be in vain. Any missionary effort that ignores the body will largely fail, for a debased body, born of the lowest conditions, is not apt to contain a sufficiency of mental power to struggle out of the depths, even with the assistance and inspiration of the occasional sermon, tent meeting, or missionary visit.

But to the world generally, the great middle class is far more important. This must furnish the brain and brawn which society needs in its conservation and direction, and to all intents this class is the true expression of our civilization; the others have little influence by vote or voice. And here the evil complained of is most apparent. The schoolmaster is abroad, the appeal for education is heard everywhere, and almost universally the effort is to prepare for a higher position in life; to awaken an ambition which is a practical discontent. The daughters of the land are anxious to prepare themselves for a future, and this future is to be separated, as far as possible, from the dull and plodding details of domestic life. If it is permitted or possible, she will leave her comfortable country home and dare the dangers and trials of the city in the effort to maintain herself and escape from the dullness of country life. And whether in the city or suburb, wherever she may be found, it is certain that she will never be found with an earnest ambition to be a finished housekeeper, and with a patient loyalty to her mother, which, operating together, might produce the highest type of woman. She desires to be independent of the man, if possible, that she may escape the burdens of married life, and if she determines, from affection or selfishness, to marry, there is rarely any idea of establishing a home, but rather to become an inmate of the boarding-house or cheap hotel, that she may give herself to a life of absolute idleness or uselessness. Or if it be necessary, in any sense, to help the husband, her idea is to go out into the same paths he treads and add to the income, instead of decreasing the expense by a careful and wise administration of household affairs.

If the average woman becomes a housekeeper, a home maker, it is a fortunate accident, and as rare as it is fortunate. No wonder so many men prefer the club or the resort of a still lower character. They have no real home, and they frequently pay a fearful price for the establishment which goes by that name, considering how little it is really worth to them. How could it be otherwise? We do not condemn or even criticise the woman, for we can not expect her to rise superior to her surroundings. She is the legitimate product of this civilization, and to condemn her were unjust. She is innocent, cultivated, charming; in a word, she is everything that woman can be except that which she ought, first of all, to be—a home maker. She knows something of art, science, and even philosophy. She has studied faithfully, and has been taught and has learned almost everything except that which is more important than all else. To this no finger has ever pointed, no exhortation ever warned, no teacher has ever labored. While no pains or expense is spared to prepare her for everything else, this is absolutely ignored.

In the ordinary business of life, where nothing is in question except money, we require the most careful training. Technical courses sometimes covering years of laborious endeavor are the legitimate and necessary forerunners of professional positions, and in almost any position, however humble, the novice must wait and work for years as beginner and journeyman before he is counted worthy or able for the place of master workman. But in our social relations we absolutely ignore the plainest laws of common sense, and send a girl—often a mere child—to meet life as a wife and mother, with absolutely no proper preparation for this most difficult of all positions; most difficult of all, and more honorable than all.

Oh! for a return of reason or for the awakening of a higher thought on this subject; for a little less of sentiment, and more of common sense; for less of classic music and books, and more of cradle songs and matronly endeavor. Housekeeping is a "fine" art, and in almost all its branches it is a "lost" art, and the day that shall restore it to its true position importance and dignity, will be the happiest day our civilization has ever witnessed.—St. Louis Advocate.

THE NEW CANCER CURE.

All forms of Malignant Growths Cured by Dr. Hathaway's Serum Treatment.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.

Dr. Hathaway's New Serum Treatment for the cure of Cancer and other malignant growths is as much of an advance in medical science as was vaccination for small-pox. Thousands of cases treated and cured by him have proved this. The method is entirely unlike any other.

T. T. Osby, of Tula Rosa, N. M., stated: "For several years I had what was supposed to be a pipe sore on the lip. It finally developed into a Cancer. In Oct. 1898, I consulted Dr. Hathaway & Co., and then applied their Serum Treatment. One injection cured me."

Mrs. I. N. Rogers, 133 N. Rozborn St., Memphis, Tenn., states: "I had a Cancer in the corner of my eye that extended down on my cheek and nose. Several so-called Cancer doctors and their burning treatments failed; but Dr. Hathaway's new Serum Treatment cured me in six weeks without pain."

Full information, together with Dr. Hathaway's New Book on Cancer, will be mailed free.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.,
DR. HATHAWAY & CO.,
420 B Main St. Cleveland Block, MEMPHIS, TENN.

KISS SOMETHING BETTER.

Don't kiss your dog or let your dog kiss you. In such osculation there is danger of consumption, pneumonia, anthrax, fevers, ringworm, mange, disease of the teeth and rabies. There is equal danger in kissing cats and parrots. The death of a boy reported a few days ago was declared by the doctors to have been due to a disease of the liver, caused by the kiss of a dog, says the Philadelphia Express. The lad had been ill for a year with hydatids of the liver, a disease common in Iceland, where the people eat and sleep with their dogs. Physicians state that almost every disease may be transmitted by a dog, and that no doubt great numbers of persons die as a result of the kissing of pets. Dogs are inclined to acquire the germs of tuberculosis from the expectoration of consumptives. The doctors say dogs may easily give pneumonia, which is caused by the germs called pneumococci. The dog carries it in his nose, and during the process of kissing breathes it into the throat of the person kissing it. It is asserted as an authenticated fact that the common ringworm of children is often acquired from dogs.—New Orleans Picayune.

A SOMEWHAT NEGLECTED VIRTUE.

As a young man is leaving home to seek his fortune in the great metropolis, generally his mother weepingly beseeches him to avoid all places of temptation. His father, as a parting injunction, says, as he wrings his son's hand and looks earnestly into his eyes: "My boy, live within your income and study economy."

That is the most precious advice a parent ever gave to a child—"study economy."

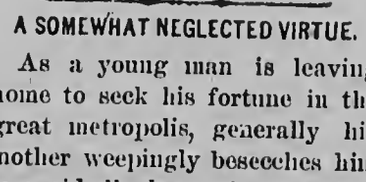
In its narrow sense, the word "economy" has a somberness which makes it disagreeable, because it is generally associated with painful self-denial of those things which we most desire—of those little things which we have set our hearts upon having.

But real economy is the most beautiful word in the dictionary. It is a broad term, and stands for a broad and beautiful science; and it should be understood and practiced in its broadest and most effective sense. In brief, it means getting the most good out of everything.

What is called false economy is often practiced by unthinking people in the matter of not properly feeding or clothing their bodies. That which impairs our capacity for effective work is bad; that which promotes it is good. It is a question whether a man should starve his stomach to cover his back, and it will remain a question until the end of time, each individual case being governed by the circumstances that surround it. If a young man were seeking a situation and had but ten cents in his pocket, it would perhaps be wise and economical for him to go without his breakfast and have his shoes polished.

Study this virtue. It enters into every phase of human affairs. It is as broad and deep as the sea. Practice it with cheerfulness and alacrity, as is its due. It contains the secret of the highest form of success.—Henry Clews in Success.

WHITES



and irregular menstrual periods are wearing on a woman. If you are a sufferer from these troubles, will cure you quickly. In the privacy of your home, away from prying eyes. It saves doctors' bills. Our new book, HEALTHY MOTHERS MAKE HAPPY HOMES, tells all about it, and will be sent free to any address.

G.F.P. { GERSTLE'S FEMALE PANACEA

CURED OF WHITES.

For several months my wife had whites and womb trouble. After several remedies had failed, our physician advised G. F. P. She has taken two bottles of this splendid remedy and is now entirely cured.

GEO. W. McDONALD,
Walk, Ala.

If your case is not fully covered by our free book, "Healthy Mothers Make Happy Homes," write in confidence for free advice to the LADIES' HEALTH CLUB, care L. Gerstle & Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK.

COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR GIRLS.

A graduate of Cornell University writes on "How a Girl Can Work Her Way Through College," in the August Ladies' Home Journal, and argues that the penniless girl determined to gain a collegiate education can and will readily get it. Typewriting and book-keeping, she holds, are helpful to such an undertaking, while the student may also earn money by playing the piano, conducting literary or history classes, choir singing, tutoring, conducting co-operative boarding clubs, selling books, stationery, millinery, and articles of dress-furnishings, making and selling couch pillows, covers and room decorations, cleaning and mending clothing, hairdressing, conducting agencies, writing advertisements, writing and illustrating for newspapers and magazines, etc. This fair graduate points out many roads which will take through college the bright, energetic girl who is not averse to hard, conscientious work.

COLLEGE TRAINING FOR BUSINESS.

One-third of the graduates of our most conspicuous colleges are engaged in business. That they succeed, wherever success is in them, is due largely to their power to think. If a student has a well-trained mind, he is prepared to learn any business with ease. This brings me to the reflection that no business man can be too well trained; and no business can have too well-trained workers in its service. It is the disciplinary effect of a collegiate course that makes it indispensable. Studies should not be taken up for professional purposes earlier than the last year, or, at most, the last two years of the college course. The establishment of colleges of commerce has a peril of substituting knowledge for power, information for ability to think. Being professional schools, they should be co-ordinate with schools of law, medicine, and theology.

Every boy in the United States who really wants a college education can get one. Self-help is encouraged everywhere. In Adelbert College, of the Western Reserve University, we not only have provided many scholarships, but have secured work for scores of students.—Charles F. Thwing, President Western Reserve University, in Success.

10,000 frs. National Prize at Paris

QUINA-LAROCHE

A Ferruginous Tonic

Pleasant to the taste; assimilate quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach troubles, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.

22 rue Drouot
PARIS
E. Fougera & Co.
Agents, N. Y.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. Dr. D. R. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,
NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES.
Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY.
Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering.

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments.
Fall Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens October 18th.

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address
Secretary of University.

GROCERY MONEY SAVED

Is grocery money earned. And you save it when you buy here.

Hundreds of housewives are glad they sent for King's Price List. They're saving money every week. You might just as well be saving, too.

The Price List shows the littleness of prices; the goods speak most eloquently of the qualities.

The combination wins.

Send for Price List now.

I especially solicit out-of town trade.

KING'S, DRYADES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.

Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for 2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot cordwood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

MONEY SAVED

In the end by taking the

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrives
Memphis and Local.....	6:00 p. m	10:00 a. m
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex.....	7:00 a. m	5:50 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Old Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

GET Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" lamp-chimneys; they are made of tough glass, tough against heat; they do not break in use; they do from accident.

They are clear, transparent, not misty. Look at your chimney. How much of the light is lost in the fog?

Be willing to pay a little more.

Our "Index" describes all lamps and their proper chimneys. With it you can always order the right size and shape of chimney for any lamp. We mail it FREE to any one who writes for it.

Address MACBETH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sherwood Music School

FINE ARTS BUILDING, 203 Michigan Av. CHICAGO.

William H. Sherwood and Walton Perkins, Directors.
Highest Standard of Art. Faculty of eminent teachers. Catalog free on application. Fall Term Opens September 10.
WILLIAM B. PERKINS, Sec.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,

MILK · DEPOT,

SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.
CONFECTIONERIES.
DELIVERY FREE.
1733 Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Suite 303—New Orleans National Bank Building,

606 Common St., New Orleans, La

OBITUARIES.

(Continued from Third Page.)

WISE—After a protracted illness Mrs. LOUISA JANE WISE, a venerable mother in Israel, passed peacefully away in Shreveport, La., the eighth of May, 1900. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. William George, of Holmes county, Miss.; born April 15, 1820; was married to Dr. I. S. Wise, of Shreveport, April 9, 1840. Returning to Louisiana, the doctor settled in Greenwood, where they resided till his death, April 12, 1884, and where his widow continued to reside until recently. They had seven children, of whom six are living, viz.: Councellor W. H. Wise, of Shreveport; Drs. Geo. A. and Braxton Wise, M. D.'s, of Bossier parish, La.; Mrs. E. B. Herndon, of Shreveport; Mrs. Lou Flournoy, of Greenwood, and Mrs. Augusta V. Wolf, of Alto, Texas.

Sister Wise had been a member of the Methodist Church for forty years. Her life was a pattern of serene dignity, mingled with thoughtful tenderness, which in later years became that "crown of glory"—the luster of mature womanhood before which the thoughtful instinctively "rise up" to express feelings of admiration and reverential affection. She was cheerful without frivolity, self-possessed without vanity, and firm in principle without austerity. Christ was the rock on which, by simple faith, she built, and when near that most trying ordeal, the passage of the soul into the presence of its God, and the "shadows" seemed to be gathering over the "valley," in answer to a question she said, "Oh, yes; I believe in God my Savior." To her children she was the hand-maid of God, and without irreverence in their prayers, they may use David's words, "Give thy strength to thy servant, and save the son of thy handmaid." Fortunate are the sons and daughters to whom such a patrimony is transmitted.

The above are the condensed reflections of one acquainted with the deceased for a full half century, sharing often the hospitality of that home, which was a school of faith, wisdom and peace. REV. J. HARP.

Shreveport, La.

BUTLER—WALTER BUTLER was born Jan. 19, 1872, and died near McBride, Jefferson county, Miss., June 28, 1900, aged twenty-nine years six months and nine days.

It has been said truly, "Death loves a shining mark," so in the death of this truly noble young man this saying has been verified.

Bro. Walter was beloved and respected by all who knew him, because of the many excellent traits of character and eminent virtues which he possessed. He was especially distinguished for his unswerving Christian integrity. His old preceptor and friend, Dr. Grafton, and all who knew him from early boyhood, testify to his rectitude of life and purity of character. Like Timothy, "from a child he was taught the Scriptures." He studied and loved his Bible. From a child he also learned to render perfect obedience to his parents and to God, and from this rule he never turned aside. One intimately associated with him in business and otherwise says, "Walter's one aim and supreme wish was to live a useful life, and aid in building up society to a loftier and purer standard."

This young man's life and aims are eminently worthy of emulation. He joined the M. E. Church, South, at the age of fifteen, and ever lived a faithful Christian life. He was one of the most efficient Sunday-school superintendents and teachers of the "Bible class" this writer ever had in any charge. We shall miss his cheerful face, wise counsel, and the earnest, gentle spirit which gave such inspiration to us all. Besides a host of friends and relatives, he leaves a devoted father, brother and sister to mourn their great loss. They anticipate a joyful reunion in the great future. We pray that the grace and spirit of Christ may keep all unto life eternal.

PASTOR.

TANNER—Mrs. GRACE TANNER (nee Walker) was born on Pidgeon Creek, Clark county, Ala., Jan. 17, 1824, and peacefully passed away at her home in Jackson county, Miss., Aug. 18, 1900. At the age of thirteen she gave her heart to the Lord Jesus, and for sixty-three years she faithfully followed in his steps. In November, 1844, she was married to Madison Tanner. This union was blessed by seven sons and seven daughters, eleven of whom children survive the parents. For nearly twenty-two years past Sister Tanner had been a widow, and though called upon to bear many sorrows and suffer affliction, yet at all times she manifested the sweet spirit of Christian resignation, and with increasing age her faith grew stronger and brighter.

Nearly a year ago, at our last protracted meeting at Tanner's Chapel, Sister Tanner grasped my hand in the fervency of Christian fellowship, and said, "I don't expect to be able to be present at another protracted meeting on earth, but, thank God, I'll soon be at home over there, where meetings never break up and Sabbaths have no end."

I was at her bedside when the last hour came. It was an hour I shall always remember. One by one the children bid farewell to mother, and then, with eyes suffused with tears, they looked to one another and, with trembling voices, said, "Praise God for the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ."

May the Holy Spirit ever dwell within the hearts of these bereaved ones! May they ever prove as faithful as their now sainted mother, and at last receive the same glorious reward!

J. W. CAMPBELL, P. C.

BOTTOM—Another good mother gone to her reward, who served her generation well to the ripe age of eighty-five and a half years.

Mrs. SOPHIA T. BOTTOM (nee Grunsley) was born in Sumner county, Tenn., Dec. 23, 1814; moved to Cape Girardeau county, Mo., about 1833, and married to Rev. J. H. Bottom, April 5, 1838; moved to Mississippi in 1865; died at the home of her son, T. A. Bottom, July 27, 1900.

The subject of this sketch was converted in early life, and joined the Methodist Church, in which she lived an industrious Christian life. Few have read the Bible as did Mother Bottom. She read the Bible, in connection with Clark's Commentaries, through many times, which made her one of the ripest Bible students of her day. She lived on her feet almost to the last, being confined to her bed but two days before she fell on sleep. She died without a struggle or a groan. She leaves a rich heritage of golden deeds to her only son, who says, "One of the first things I remember of my mother was her kneeling in prayer—a thing uncommon with women of that day." She leaves a multitude of admiring friends, as well as an affectionate son, who was never too tired or sleepy to wait on his mother, and many other loved ones. Let us all meet her in the home of the soul. D. W. BABB.

GROUNDS—JESSE GROUNDS was born in Claiborne parish, Oct. 3, 1837, and died in Bossier City of heart failure, May 2, 1900. He was twice married: first to a daughter of Mr. R. A. Green, Dec. 26, 1859, and next to a daughter of Judge Baker, Aug. 29, 1879. The last companion and several children survive him.

Bro. Grounds was happily converted in early life, and united with the M. E. Church, South, and remained within her communion until death. He was not noisy in his Christian profession, yet his lamp gave a steady and uniformly brilliant light. His piety was of a cheerful type, and he scattered sunshine all around him. He was modest and unassuming, yet he prayed in public when called upon. He is sadly missed in his family, his neighborhood and parish, and the church of God. All miss him, yet they are separated by only one river. Uncle Jesse is not ready for the judgment, for although dead, he yet speaks, and his influence will live on and on, and accomplish good, as long as planets revolve in space. H. ARMSTRONG.

SMITH—Little MARY GOTTIG SMITH, infant daughter of Rev. Chas. F. Smith and wife, has been called to the arms of Him who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me." She was born Dec. 1, 1899, and died July 22, 1900. She was buried in the cemetery at Timpson, Texas, just at sunrise. And the king of day driving away the night was a fitting symbol of the promise of God driving out life's shadows, that after life's sunset and death's darkness a eternal day shall break upon us. And with our brother and sister the sunlight of promise from the Sun of Righteousness shined into the little grave, and they looked away from the sorrow to the crowning day when God's work shall be complete. May the hand of the great Father lead and sustain them!

V. A. GODBEY,
P. E. Pal. Dist., East Texas Conf.

LINDSEY—LOUISA ANN LINDSEY (nee Dranghon) was born Dec. 4, 1810; was married to Joanna L. Lindsey, Nov. 15, 1832, and passed from earth to the "saints' rest," July 25, 1900, from her home near Woodville, Miss.

This aged saint was converted to God and joined the church at the early age of nine years, and for eighty years was a consistent member of the church; first in the M. E. Church, and after the division in the M. E. Church, South. She was devoted to her God, her church (though for a number of years she has been too feeble to attend its services), and to her family. She leaves one son and a granddaughter only of her family, and these mourn not as those without hope.

Her pastor, K. S. EDOCHS.

Deafness Can Not Be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists; 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The more any renewed heart tastes the sweetness of communion with God, by so much more it is disposed for unity and peace with his people.—Flavel.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa Twenty-five cents a bottle.

He is worthy of honor who willeth the good of every man, and he is much unworthy thereof who aseketh his own profit and oppresseth others.—Cicero.

Chin Pimples

are local in nature. They yield readily to Common Sense Treatment.

HEISKELL'S OINTMENT

is a specific for Pimples, Freckles, Tetter, Eczema and all skin disorders. 50 cts. a box.

HEISKELL'S SOAP

clears the pores, makes the skin soft, smooth and white. Price 25 cents. Samples free.

JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philada., Pa.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BAYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN	Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION	New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN	Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN	St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
MORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

GET the opinion of the man behind the brush. Ask the experienced, practical painter, the man who served an apprenticeship, and has thoroughly mastered his trade, what is the best and most durable paint. He will tell you pure "old Dutch process" White Lead.

The brands in margin are genuine and may be relied upon.

FREE For colore uee National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. Any shade desired is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving full information and showing samples of Colors, also pamphlet entitled "Uncle Sam's Experience With Paints" forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 100 William Street, New York.

W. W. Carre & Co

LUMBER.

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOB PRINTING

-- All Kinds --

AT THIS OFFICE.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to October, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

IMPERIAL No. 4.

THE IMPERIAL HIGH-ARM SINGER will be found the perfection of mechanism as regards simplicity, durability and adaptability to the wide range of work embraced in the general family needs.

A Handsome, Light-Running, Lock-Stitch, High-Arm Machine that will not fail to please the most fastidious. Embracing all the advantages, with all desirable improvements of other first-class sewing machines, so simple in mechanism that the most inexperienced need no assistance in operating it. Book of instructions with every machine. Any child can learn to run it.

Extra Set of Attachments also free with each machine, consisting of the following: One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to ½ of an inch. One Binder and One Thread Cutter.

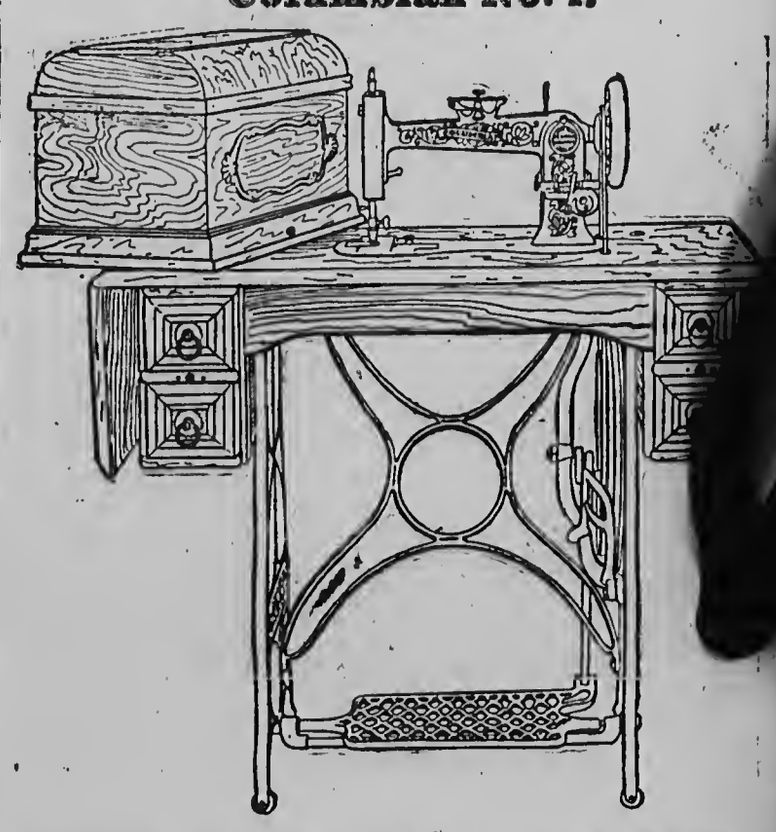
No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $24. Our price, $14.75.

No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $25. Our price, $15.50.

No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of three drawers at each end, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $28. Our price, $16.25.

Furnished Free with every machine are the following named accessories: One Foot Hemmer, One Screw Driver, One Wrench, One Oil Can and Oil, One Gauge Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins and One Instruction Book.

Columbian No. 4.



EXCELLENCE OF THE COLUMBIAN.—All wearing parts are of case-hardened steel possessing great durability, and by the taking of a screw all lost motion caused by wear can be taken up. All parts are fitted so accurately that the machines are absolutely noiseless, and as easy running as fine adjustment and best mechanical skill is possible to produce. No expense or time is spared to make them perfect in every respect, as every machine passes a rigid inspection by competent men before leaving the factory.

NICKEL PLATED.—The balance wheel and many of the fine parts are nickel-plated, with other parts finely enameled and ornamented, giving it a rich appearance.

A Self-Setting Needle and Self-Threading Cylinder Shuttle are used in the Columbian High-Arm Sewing Machine. They are so simple that any one can easily operate them in a few minutes' time, as our Instruction Book is fully illustrated, showing how to do all kinds of fancy work with attachments.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

ADDITIONAL ACCESSORIES.—Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 2 Hemmer and Faller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screw Driver, Oil Can with Oil, Cloth Gauge and Thumb Screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated, and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

No. 3—Drop leaf, Bent cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $29. Our price, $17.

No. 4—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $31. Our price, $17.75.

No. 5—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making a seven-drawer machine. Dealer's price, $33. Our price, $18.50.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans.

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

THROW AWAY

YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of

CHILLIFUGE

will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

'Story of the Galveston Flood.'

By MURAT HALSTEAD,
Author and Journalist.

The above is a simple story of a book that every subscription book agent will hail with delight, and sell so fast that the palmy days of the subscription book business will come back to him with a world of satisfaction.

Mr. Halstead, the eminent author and journalist, is in Galveston, the scene of the awful calamity, and will investigate and write from personal observation the STORY OF GALVESTON AND THE FLOOD.

Not since the Johnstown Flood has such a dreadful calamity befallen any city in the world. The sale of the Johnstown Flood books reached the high water mark in the subscription book business of the country. The demand was so enormous that they simply could not be manufactured fast enough. In the Galveston horror we have a larger loss of life, the destruction more widespread. The whole nation and the world are aroused, and pouring out sustenance and succor to the starving and the dying. The excitement is intense, the demand is enormous; the sale will be unparalleled. Fortunes will be made on this book, and its sale will sweep the country from end to end. Drop everything, and push this with might and force for the next 30 or 60 days, and then reap the harvest.

10,000 Agents Wanted Everywhere.

ACT QUICK. OUTFIT NOW READY.

Beautiful canvassing book and full information, giving illustrations and size of the book, etc., free; 10 cents must be sent for postage. Complete book only $1.50. Freight paid and credit given. Don't lose an hour. Address

R. H. WOODWARD COMPANY,
BALTIMORE.

NOTICE.—A premium given to every subscriber, and our terms and conditions will not be equalled by any other publisher. It will pay you to write to us for an outfit even if you have secured one from some one else.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The allies lost 120 men at the capture of the Pei Tang forts.

The naval force of the United States, on the Asiatic Station will be increased.

The several bureaus of the Chicago municipality are threatened with investigation.

New York's fund for the relief of the Galveston sufferers is only $4000 short of a quarter million.

France, Austria and Italy have agreed to the German note, and Great Britain and Japan will probably do likewise.

An Anglo-American expedition 1500 strong routed the Boxers at Lin Ko Chao, twelve miles from Peking, Sept. 16.

Twenty-five Russians and Germans were blown up by a mine during the advance of the allies on the Pei Tang forts.

The inauguration of General Porfirio Diaz as President of the Mexican Republic for his fifth term is soon to take place.

The presence of 3000 soldiers in the Pennsylvania strike region has put a stop to rioting. There are signs of wavering in the strikers' ranks.

Lieut. Hobson, of Merrimac fame, who has just returned from Japan, says he can not accompany the American fleet to China. He expects to visit his home in Alabama soon.

A proclamation has been issued that Boers who lay down their arms will not be deported, but merely detained in camps. It is believed this will encourage large defections from the patriot ranks.

The question of removing the capital of Florida from Tallahassee will be submitted to a vote of the people Nov. 6. If the capital city be changed, Alabama may annex the western portion of the State.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler, in his army report of the Department of the Lakes, recommends that each recruit intended for foreign service be trained in aiming and firing before being sent on the battle line.

Recent reports from the Philippines, including the statements of liberated prisoners, show that the morale and spirit of the insurgents are as high as they were at the beginning of the insurrection.

McKinley's present Chinese attitude is not popular in England. There is growing belief in Europe that Russia will break away from the concert and occupy Manchuria, whereupon Germany will take Shan Tung province.

In Beaufort county, in the heart of the black district of South Carolina, a negro who exterminated a white family is swaggering around with his friends. The negro sheriff has taken no action and the whites have appealed to the governor.

For Nervous Headache

Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. F. A. ROBERTS, Waterville, Me., says: "It is of great benefit in nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia and neuralgia."

After being closed for a fortnight, the saloons at Galveston were opened on Sept. 24 with the consent of the mayor. One murder resulted.

As the war in the Transvaal is to all intents and purposes at an end, and the hunting down of marauding bands is the only military work remaining, there is obviously no longer a reason to retain the Field Marshal in command. Accordingly it is expected that Lord Roberts will shortly return to England, leaving South Africa about the end of the month.

The answer of the United States to the German note, proposing the surrender of the ringleaders of the Peking outrages as a preliminary condition for entering upon peace negotiations, is an unqualified refusal. The United States will begin conferences immediately with Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang, but will insist on the intimate and proper punishment of the offenders.

A terrible catastrophe visited the town of Morristown, Minn., on Sept. 24. A cyclone swept through the thriving village, destroying much property and causing loss of life. A barn was picked up and dropped on top of a saloon, where sixteen people had congregated, killing seven and wounding four. Many fatalities are reported on farms in the surrounding country. Buildings were tossed about by the wind like paper balls.

The second week of the great anthracite coal miners' strike opened Sept. 24, and developments having an important bearing on the outcome of the struggle are looked for. An effort will be made to start the collieries located in Schuylkill county with the protection of three regiments of the State National Guard, numbering about 2000 men. The operators and mine owners claim that a sufficient number of hands to run many of the collieries are desirous of returning to work if they can be protected from assault from the disorderly element. The sheriff found himself unable to control this element, and hence his request for troops was complied with by the governor.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.
Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.

For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.

For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure

For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.

Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.

50c and $1 bottles at druggists.

Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. REV. C. C. DAVIS,
Eld. M. E. Church, South,
No. 28 Tatnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.

R. L. ROCCO,
206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. BEALL,
Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

Count von Waldersee reviewed 5000 foreign troops at Shanghai on Sept. 22.

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Drug Stores. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co. 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

MARRIAGES.

McDONALD—SCROGGIN.—At the parsonage in Gansville, La., Sept. 19, by Rev. H. M. Banks, Mr. J. E. McDonald to Miss Julia Scroggin.

CHILDREE-DAVIS.—At the residence of the bride, in Smith county, Miss., Sept. 20, 1900, at 2 P. M., by Rev. R. A. Sibley, Sr., Mr. J. M. Childree, aged 76 years, and Mrs. N. M. Davis, aged 66 years, all of Smith county, Miss.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Booneville station.....Sept.	22, 23
Corinth station.....	29, 30
Inka circuit, at Burnsville.....Oct.	6, 7
Iuka station.....	8
Ripley and New Albany, at Ripley...	13, 14
Jonesboro circuit, at State Line.....	17
Ripley circuit, at Wier's Chapel.....	20, 21
New Albany circuit, at Union Hill...	27, 28
Bine Springs, at Bine Springs.....	30
Kossuth, at Bethel.....Nov.	3, 4
Corinth circuit, at Marvin.....	6
Gun Town and Baldwyn, at Saltillo..	10, 11
Mantachie, at Shiloh.....	14
Belmont, at Patterson's Chapel.....	17, 18
Burnt Mills, at Mt. Pleasant.....	20
Jacinto, at Hebron.....	22
Booneville circuit, at ——.....	24, 26
Marietta circuit, at Marietta.....Dec.	1, 2

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Okolona station.....Sept.	2, 3
Houston and Wesley, at Houston....	8, 9
Tupelo station.....	16, 17
Okolona circuit, at Egypt.....	22, 23
Buena Vista cir., at Pleasant Grove..	29, 30
Montpelier circuit, at Palestine.....Oct.	6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie.....	9
Shannon circuit, at Shannon.....	13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona.....	15
Tremont circuit, at Hopewell.....	20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem.	27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at Carolina.....Nov.	3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton..	6
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar.....	10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Sonis's Chapel.....	17, 18
Aberdeen station.....	25, 26

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sardis.....Sept.	15, 16
Como.....	22, 23
Senatobia.....	29, 30
Arkabutla, at Brooks.....Oct.	5
Cold Water.....	6, 7
Batesville.....	13, 14
Courtland, at Pepos.....	20, 21
Burges, at Love Joy.....	26
Eureka, at Mt. Olivet.....	27, 28
Hernando.....Nov.	3, 4
Longtown.....	8, 9
Pt. Grove.....	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's.....	17, 18
Wall Hill.....	23
Cockrum.....	24, 25
Tyro.....Dec.	1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

West Point.....Sept.	2, 3
Starkville station.....	9, 10
Macon.....	16, 17
Shuqualak, at Salem.....	22, 23
Winstonville, at Hickory Grove.....	26
Hebron, at Hebron.....	29, 30
Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove....Oct.	6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity.....	13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel.....	20, 21
Tibbee, at Mayhew.....	27, 28
Columbus station.....Nov.	4, 5
Sturgeo, at Ebenezer.....	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill.....	17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs.....	23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff.....	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conference take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona station.....Sept.	8, 9
Greenwood station.....	15, 16
Valden circuit, at Valden.....	22, 23
Carrollton and McCarroy, at McAnerny.....	29, 30
Winona circuit, at New Hope.....Oct.	6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb.....	13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona.....	20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green.....	27, 28
Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena....Nov.	3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt.....	10, 11
Carrollton, at Eden.....	17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead.....	24, 25
Indianola.....Dec.	1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Shaw.....Sept.	16, 17
Boyle.....	23, 24
Shipman.....	29, 30
Shelby.....Oct.	6, 7
Enlevilla.....	13, 14
Clarksdale.....	21, 22
Eslen.....	27, 28
Lula.....Nov.	3, 4
Dubbs.....	10, 11
Tunica.....	12
Hillhouse.....	17, 18
Friar's Point.....	18, 19
Gunnison.....	24, 25
Rosedale.....	25, 26
Bolivar.....Dec.	1, 2
Greenville.....	3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Conneraville circuit, at Conneraville. Sept.	15, 16
Waterford circuit, at Ashury.....	22, 23
Holly Springs circuit, at Early Grove.	29, 30
Byhalia circuit, at Byhalia.....Oct.	5, 7
Red Banks circuit, at Red Banks.....	13, 14
Mt Pleasant circuit, at New Salem...	20, 21
Pontotoc circuit, at Pontotoc.....	27, 28
Potts Camp circuit, at Potts Camp....Nov.	3, 4
Olive Branch circuit, at Olive Branch.	10, 11
Shawnee circuit, at Liberty.....	17, 18
Ashland circuit, at Ashland.....	20
Randolph mission, at Randolph.....	24 25
Abbeville circuit, at Abbeville.....Dec.	1, 2
Holly Springs station.....	3

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Sallis, at Bethel.....Sept	15, 16
Tom Nolen, at Tom Nolen.....	22, 23
Enpora, at Eupora.....	29, 30
Cumberland, at Shady Grove.....	26
Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel.....Oct.	6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula.....	13, 14
Belzone, at Belzona.....	20, 21
Kosciusko station.....7 P. M..	28
Kosciusko circuit, at Smyrna.....	27, 28
Ethel, at Tabernacle.....Nov.	1
Ackermann, et niom.....	3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel.....	10, 11
Chester.....	17, 18
Louisville.....	24, 25
Koral Hill.....	27
Pickens.....Dec.	1, 2
Durant.....7 P. M..	2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Water Valley—Wood Street.....Sept.	1, 2
Oxford station.....	8 9
Grenada station.....	15, 16
Grenada circuit.....	22, 23
Tocopola circuit.....	29, 30
Paris circuit.....Oct.	6, 7
Pittsboro circuit.....	13, 14
Etzy circuit.....	15
Slate Springs circuit.....	20, 21
East Grenada circuit.....	22
Coffeeville circuit.....	27, 28
Minter City.....Nov.	3, 4
Charleston.....	10, 11
Cascilla.....	12
Water Valley circuit.....	17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street.....	24, 25
Oxford circuit.....Dec.	1, 2

R. G. POSTER, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Flora, at Flora.....Oct.	6, 7
Vicksburg—Crawford Street.....	14
South Vicksburg.....	14
Mayersville, at Beulah.....	20, 21
Bolton, at Bolton.....	27, 28
Rocky Springs, at Shiloh.....Nov.	3, 4
Port Gibson.....	4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel....	10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards.....	11, 12
Warren, at Wesley Chapel.....	17, 18
Utica, at Utica.....Sat..	24
Hermanville, at Hermanville.....	25, 26
Rolling Fork, at —.....Dec.	1, 2
Anguilla, at —.....	2, 3
Satartia, at —.....	8, 9

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Topisaw, at Sartins.....Oct.	13, 14
Bayou Pierre, at Pleasant Valley....	20, 21
Magnolia and Osyka, at Magnolia....	27, 28
Providence, at Georgetown.....Nov.	3, 4
Adams, at Adams.....	10, 11
McComb City.....	11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood.....11 a. m..	13
Gallman, at Gallman.....	17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson....11 a. m.....	19
Wesson.....7:30 p. m..	19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion.....	24, 25
Westville, at Magee.....	25, 26
Crystal Springs.....7:30 p. m..	26
Tylertown, at China Grove.....Dec.	1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton.....10 a. m..	5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven.....10 a. m..	7
Hazlehurst.....7:30 p. m..	7
Caseyville, at Caseyville.....	8, 9
Summit at Bogue Chitto....11 a. m..	10
Brookhaven.....7:30 p. m..	11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTON, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Gloster.....Sept	15, 16
Centerville.....	23, 24
Fayette.....	29, 30
Mt. Carmel.....Oct.	6, 7
Percy's Creek.....	10, 11
Woodville.....	13, 14
Meadville.....	27, 28
Cane Ridge.....	28, 29
Barlow.....Nov.	3, 4
Wesley Chapel.....	10, 11
Jefferson Street.....	11, 12
Homochitto Chapel.....	17, 18
Washington.....	24, 25
Liberty.....Dec.	1, 2
McNair.....	8, 9

Trustees will please have their reports according to the Discipline.

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

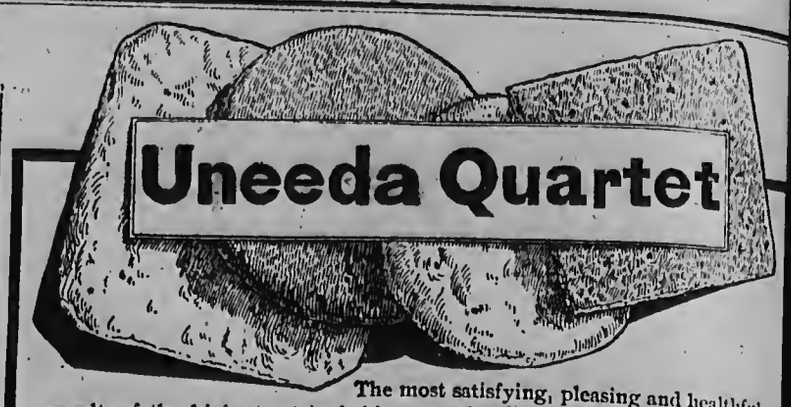
Lumberton and Poplarville, at Poplarville.....Sept.	10
Ellisville and Laurel, at Ellisville....	15, 16
Biloxi, at Biloxi.....	29, 30
Coalville, at Palmer Camp Ground...Oct	6, 7
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground...	13, 14
Williamsburg, at Williamsburg.....	20
East Covington, at Emmanee.....	21
Vancleave, at New Prospect.....	27, 28
Nicholson, at Lacy.....Nov.	2
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington.....	3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port.....	11, 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs.....	17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins.....	24
Bay St Louis.....	25, 26
Moss Point.....Dec.	1
Escatawpa, at Zion.....	2
Columbia, at Columbia.....	7
Purvis, at Purvis.....	8, 9
Hattiesburg.....	10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Meridian—Central.....Sept.	15, 16
Meridian—West End.....	18, 17
Meridian—East End.....Wed..	19
Landerdale, at Bethel.....	23, 24
Meridian—South Side.....Wed..	26
Wayne, at Spring Hill.....	29, 30
Porterville, at Portersville.....Wed..Oct.	3
Winchester, at Winchester.....	6, 7
Leakesville, at Breland's Chapel.....	13, 14
Waynesboro, at Waynesboro..Wed..	17
DeKalb, at New Hope.....	20, 21
North Kemper, at Mallen .....Mon..	22
Enterprise, at Enterprise.....	27, 28
Pachuta, at DeSoto.....Nov.	3, 4
Binnaville, at Scooba.....	10, 11
Vimville, at Marion.....	17, 18
Marbersville, at Winifred.....	24, 25
Shuhuta, at Shuhuta.....Mon..	26
Middleton, at Manassa.....Dec.	1, 2
Dalsville, at —.....	8, 9

G. A. GUICK, P. E.



The most satisfying, pleasing and healthful results of the highest art in baking—the famous Uneeda Biscuit, the sweet Uneeda Jinjer Wayfer, the delicious Uneeda Milk Biscuit, the dainty Uneeda Graham Wafer. The two last have just come, but all the world's a-buying. All the Uneeda goodness is reflected in them. Packed in a wonderful airtight package that keeps them oven-fresh.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY.

Money Is Made Operating Saw Mills on Southern Rivers!

BUT MALARIA, CHILLS AND FEVERS AND GENERAL BAD HEALTH AMONG THE WORKERS MUST BE OVERCOME, ESPECIALLY IN THE FALL MONTHS.

"I employed 100 hands on the Savannah River, and there was great loss of time on account of sickness. I procured Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic, and put the men on it. In a short time everyone of the men were well, and reported for duty. Only once afterwards did we need a doctor, and that was to attend an injured man." J. B. LASSITER, Hardeeville, S. C.

Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic Cures. Use No Other; It's All You Need.

A. B. GIRARDEAU, SOLE MANUFACTURER, SAVANNAH, GA

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas.....Oct	6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon.....	13, 14
Canton.....	14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street.....	20, 21
Terry, at Byram.....	27, 28
Silver Creek.....Nov.	3, 4
Lake City.....	4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope.....	10, 11
Benton, at Midway.....	11, 12
Tranquil.....	17, 18
Yazoo City.....	18, 19
Camden.....	24, 25
Fannin.....Dec.	1, 2
Brandon station.....	2, 3
Brandon mission.....Tues..	4
Steen's Creek.....	8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Missionary Institute, at Pelahatchie, Tues. and Wed.....Oct.	16, 17
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro.....Thurs..	18
Carthage, at Carthage..Sat and Sun.	20, 21
Walnut Grove, et Scotland....Tues..	23
Neshoba, at Pine Grove.....Thurs..	25
Indian Mission, at Tali Chuick..Sat. and Sun.....	27, 28
Decatur, at —.....Tues..	30
V. and Heidelberg, at Vossburg. Sat and Sun.....Nov.	3, 4
Rose Hill, at Pauliding..Sat. and Sun	10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose.....Tues..	13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville..Sat. and Sun	17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton.....Tues..	20
Shiloh, at Shiloh.....Thurs..	22
N. and Hickory, at Newton..Sun. and Mon.....	25, 26
Chunkey, at Chunkey.....Tues..	27
Lake, at Lawrence.....Wed..	28
Morton, at Pelahatchie..Sun. and Mon.....Dec.	2, 3
Forest, at Forest.....Sun and Mon..	9 16

Registers and Records not presented at the third Quarterly Conference will be called for. The pastors will greatly oblige me by seeing that Ques. — is fully answered by the trustees, and that the committees appointed to inventory parsonage furniture, etc., present written reports. Let all co-operate to bring up full financial reports. Let there be no default. Let every Sunday-school observe Missionary Rally Day. And be sure to let the Twentieth Century Movement have full sway during this last quarter. On Thanksgiving Day remember our Orphans' Home.

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Algiers.....7:30 p. m..Sept.	23
Felicity Street.....11 a. m...	30
Werlein Mission.....7:30 p. m..	30
Carrollton Avenue.....Oct.	7
Louisiana Avenue.....	14
Dryades Street.....	21
Covington.....	28
Slidell.....Nov.	4
Parker Memorial.....	11
Plaquemine.....	18
Rayne Memorial.....	25
White Castle.....Dec.	2
Carondelet Street.....11 a. m...	9
Burgundy Street.....7:30 p. m..	9

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lecompte and West Alexandria.....Sept.	22, 23
Mellville, at Mellville.....	29, 30
Simeport, at Simsport.....Oct.	1, 2
Olla and Pollock, at Summerville.....	6, 6
Jena, at French Fork.....	13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground.....	20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce.....	23, 24
Columbia, at Boeuf River.....	28, 29
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches.....Nov.	3, 4
Dry Creek.....	10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta.....	16, 18
Montgomery, at Montgomery.....	17, 18
Plaeville, at Nugent.....	24, 25
Bunkie.....Dec.	1, 2
Alexandria.....	8, 9

J. D. HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mooringsport, at Mooringsport.....Sept	15, 16
North Bossier, at Emma.....	19
First Church, at 11 A M.....	19
Texas Avenue, at 8 P. M.....	23
Benton, at Benton.....	22
Pleasant Hill, at Provencal.....	26
Logansport, at Logansport.....Oct.	29, 30
Red River, at Campo Bello.....	3
Caddo, at Greenwood.....	6, 7
Wesley, at Campti.....	10
Florien, at Holly Grove.....	13, 14
Coushatta, at Coushatta.....	20, 21
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane.....	24
Many, at Many.....Nov.	27, 28
South Bossier, at Alleutown.....	3, 4
Zwolle, at Zwolle.....	10, 11
Pelican, at Bethel.....	17, 18
Leesville.....	24, 25
Manafield.....Dec.	2
	9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lisbon, at Summerfield.....Sept.	29, 30
Farmerville, at Marion.....Oct.	6, 7
Downsville, at Downsville.....	8
Calhoun, at Indian Village.....	9
Limboro, at Salem.....	13, 14
Gibsland, at Foster's Chapel.....	19
Lamesville, at Pine Grove.....	20, 21
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel.....Nov.	27, 28
Bienville, at Bienville.....	3, 4
Valley, at Pleasant Valley.....	10, 11
Minden.....	17, 18
Haynesville.....	19
Homer, at Homer.....	23
Ruston.....	24, 25
Ganaville.....Dec.	1, 2
Arcadia, at Arcadia.....	9, 10

Local preachers and exhorters will be expected to have written reports. Let the secretaries of Church Conferences be present with their church registers and records of Church Conferences for examination, as the law requires.

B. T. OREWS, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Jackson.....	Aug. 30
Baton Rouge—First Church.....31-Sept.	2
Baton Rouge circuit.....30-Sept.	2
Live Oak, at Palmetto.....	4, 5
Port Vincent, at Maurepas.....	5-9
Ponchatoula, at Springfield.....	10, 11
Franklinton, at Mt. Hermon.....	15, 16
Kentwood, at Tangipahoa.....	18, 19
St. Helena, at Day's Church.....	19, 20
Amite City.....	21-23
Wilson, at Pine Grove.....	28-30
Clinton.....Oct.	2, 3
Baker, at Brookstown.....	4
St. Francisville, at Tunica.....	6, 7
Bluff Creek Camp Meeting.....Aug.	17-20

Let there be full written reports in answer to Ques. 13, 16 and 18. Whenever possible, let the cause of the American Bible Society be presented during the quarter. In answer to Ques. 20, let all the Church Registers be produced, and ample time will be allowed for a thorough inspection of same. Let there be full reports upon the Twentieth Century Thank-offering.

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Indian Bayou, at Bethel.....Sept.	1, 2
Prudhomme, at Long Point.....	8, 9
Plaquemine Brusle, at P. B.....	15, 16
Crowley.....	22, 23
Lake Arthur.....	29, 30
Grand Chenieres.....Oct.	6, 7
Lake Charles.....	13, 14
West Lake.....	20, 21

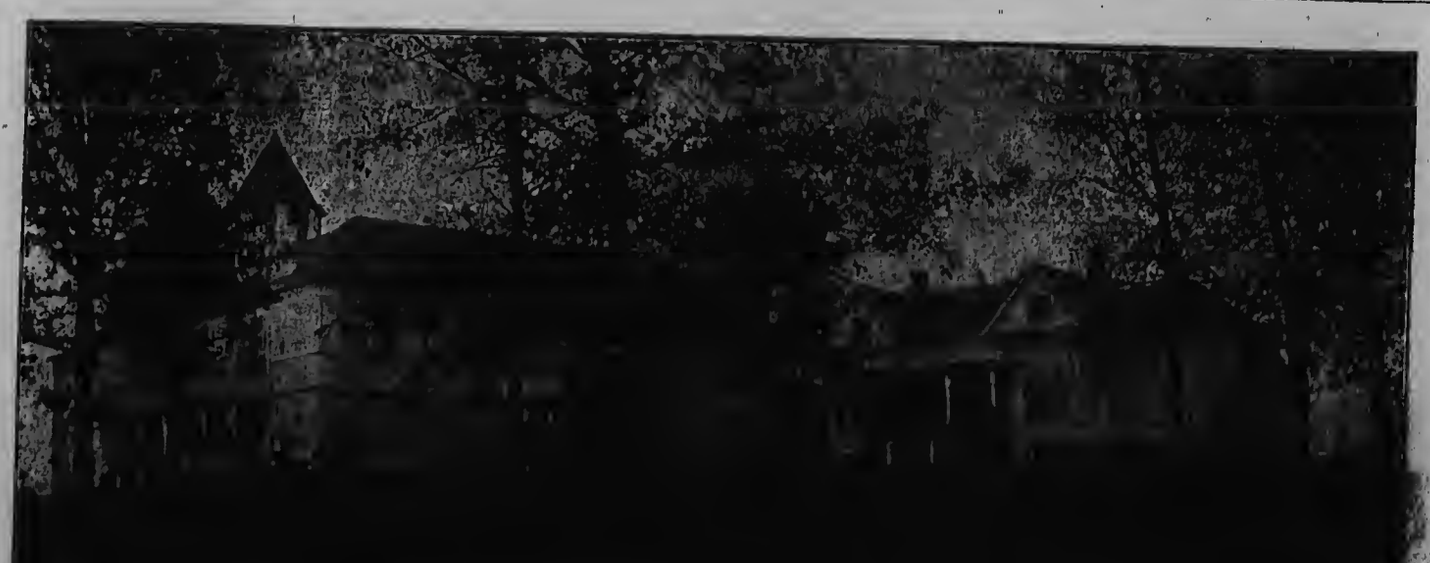
Special attention is called to questions to be called at these third Conferences.

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Waterproof, at Wesley.....Sept.	1, 2
Bonita at Jones.....	8, 9
Monroe.....	9, 10
Floyd, at Oak Grove.....	15, 16
Delhi.....	22, 23

J. M. HENRY, P. E.



BELHAVEN COLLEGE (For Young Ladies), JACKSON, MISS.

One of the most thoroughly equipped High Grade Schools in the South. Buildings new and modern, heated by steam and lighted with electricity. Bath rooms for hot and cold water on all floors. Beautiful campus of twelve acres of native forest trees. No school for girls in the South can show such a health record. During the past Winter, noted for epidemics of pneumonia, la grippe, measles and small-pox all over the State, there was not a single case of any of the above diseases or any serious case of sickness of any kind, in the college. The Faculty is composed of specialists in all departments. In Music, Elocution and Art the College offers exceptionally fine advantages. The authorities of the New England Conservatory of Music and Elocution say: "Of all our pupils from the South, those from Belhaven College stand not only in the highest rank in their classes, but are regarded, without exception, as possessing those womanly traits of character and that degree of intellectual development which command instant respect and admiration." Next session begins October 1st, 1900. For our beautiful catalogue, address

L. T. FITZHUGH, A. M., President.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 40. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2302

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Whatever the outcome may be, it is not the idea of our officials that the action of this government in directing the United States Minister to China to go ahead and arrange the preliminaries for conducting peace negotiations with the properly accredited representatives of the Chinese Government will lead to independent negotiations with China by this government, although it is acknowledged that it may do so. There is an expectation that when Minister Conger and the Chinese envoys have arranged the preliminaries, which will probably include the time and place for the negotiations, method of procedure, and general scope of the negotiations, they will be approved by the other powers. In short, the expectation is that, to a limited extent, this government will occupy the position of mediator between China and the other powers, for the purpose of getting negotiations started. Outside of official circles there is a disposition to wait until more is known of the attitude of the other powers before attempting to express an opinion of what the outcome will be. Meanwhile, all American troops, except a strong legation guard, have been ordered out of China.

Hon. John W. Foster, whose familiarity with Eastern diplomacy and character while Secretary of State, and later as adviser to Li Hung Chang during the peace negotiations which ended the war between China and Japan, has caused him to be regarded as an authority on Chinese matters, has been frequently mentioned as a probable participator in the coming negotiations with the Chinese, either as one of the American envoys, or as adviser to Li Hung Chang, will not go to China. He is now in Washington, and says that he has been asked to go to China by Li Hung Chang and assist in the negotions, but declined because he did not think that he could be of any special service under existing circumstances, and that he had no desire to visit the far East, especially when the inclement season was so near. Mr Foster is no longer a young man, and has to consider his health in all his undertakings.

It has been announced by the War Department that the Philippine Commission, at Manila, will consider all applications for teachers, positions in the Philippines sent directly to them, when accompanied by proper testimonials. The Commission would like to secure a number of capable American teachers for the Philippine schools.

Miss Estelle Reed, superintendent of Indian schools, who has spent seventeen of the twenty-six months she has held that position in the field, making personal observation of the condition and needs of the Indians and the service, traveling during that time 41,138 miles, 2,087 of which was by wagon, pack-horse, and on foot, has submitted her third annual report. She says therein that there is increased enrollment, better accommodations, greater facilities for industrial training, and gratifying improvements over previous years, and that the outlook for the Indian schools is, on the whole, very encouraging. But she thinks it would be still more so if a strict system of compulsory education was in force. In the report she says: "While we, who immediately supervise the schools, realize the magnitude of our work, we do not feel that the whole burden rests upon us. The gradual freeing of the Indian from the reservation system is throwing more and more of the responsibility on him. Our moral work within the educational is one of tremendous import, and our hope is in education, based on character and carried along industrial lines. There is a responsiveness to ethical training in the Indian's soul as well as in the white man's, and when we have taught the Indians the speech of civilization and the crafts required by his environment, he may safely pass from our hands to the saving power of self-support."

The tenth annual convention of the Epworth League of the District of Columbia was held at Foundry M. E. Church this week. The programme was divided into two evening sessions, the first being devoted to business and the second to devotional exercises; an address on "Literature and Life," by Rev. E. L. Watson, and the installation of officers for the coming year. The attendance was large and enthusiastic. The League is in a fairly flourishing condition, with every indication of becoming more so.

Dr. J. E. Gilbert was the principal speaker at a meeting held this week at the Waugh M. E. Church, under the auspices of the American Society of Religious Education, for the purpose of promoting improved study of the Bible and the training of Bible teachers. While the public was gladly welcomed, the meeting was held especially for pastors, teachers, and other church workers, to whom the address of Dr. Gilbert was particularly directed.

Washington, Sept. 26, 1900.

OUR CHURCHES IN THE TEXAS STORM.

Our Methodist Churches on the coast in the Texas Conference have suffered severely by the storm. The damage is mostly within the Houston district, of which Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss is the presiding elder, although there are five churches down in the Brenham district and one in the Huntsville district.

Before the storm there were in the Houston district thirty-five church-buildings. Of these fourteen are now total wrecks, and eleven are seriously injured. Of the remaining ten, most have suffered some damage, although of a character easily repaired.

The desolation in the Houston district, of which Galveston is a part, is simply appalling. The people have suffered so much they can not rebuild without aid from the church at large. They will have a heavy task to restore their own homes and maintain their preachers during the next twelve months.

Unless the churches outside of Galveston, in the intervening region between Houston and Galveston, are restored by Dec. 5, when the Texas Conference meets, the problem of appointments for the Houston district will be most perplexing, not to say impossible. These churches in the villages and rural settlements can be restored in sixty days if the money were in hand.

That it may be in hand, I trust our people everywhere will send contributions to Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss, presiding elder, at Houston. He, with the assistance of Rev. Seth Ward, D. D.; Rev. E. W. Solomon, D. D., and Rev. J. B. Cochran, will superintend the rebuilding of the churches as rapidly as possible. Already funds enough have reached him to begin the work. This money has come from appeals sent out by me from Galveston by telegraph. The case, for the reasons indicated, and for other imperative considerations, called for prompt action on the spot. It will require a longer time to raise sufficient funds to meet the need of our Galveston churches, and to build such a house as is required.

The loss of membership and property in Galveston has been so great it will be necessary to combine St. John's and St. James Churches. St. John's Church is in ruins, and St. James is badly damaged. The two properties will bring enough money to buy an admirable property about midway between their former locations, and leave something over for the building of the new Central Church. The survivors can and will pay something towards the erection of such a church as our people need; but they, too, will need much help from abroad. In this interest Rev. W. D. Bradfield, the former pastor of St. John's, will travel until the session of his Conference, visiting such Annual Conferences as he can reach, and other favorable points. The congregations of St. John's and St. James I have placed under the pastoral care of Rev. C. J. Oxley, who has been the preacher in charge of St. James. Bro. Bradfield was in the midst of the storm, and rendered heroic service in rescuing the living, feeding the hungry, and burying the dead. His appeal must move a heart of stone.

By the plans I have outlined the work of restoring our churches in the storm-swept district can be speedily accomplished, as I trust it will be. Some things we can never restore. Fathers, mothers, wives, children, and all the tender associations of homes which now exist only in sorrowing memory, we can not bring back. We can give our bereaved brethren houses of worship and the consolations of the gospel. That we will do, I am sure.

W. A. CANDLER.

A GRAVE EMERGENCY.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 18, 1900.

Rev. P. H. Whisner, D. D., Louisville, Ky.—

DEAR SIR AND BRO: You have, of course, heard of the fearful and calamitous storm that swept this coast country Sept. 8 and 9. My district is down, and must have help. Ten or twelve churches destroyed, and as many more injured. What can our Board of Church Extension do to help us? Our people in many places have lost everything, and will not be able to do anything to help rebuild for several years, and if we wait till then, we will lose beyond measure. If, in our great need, the Board can give us generous help, we can get back on our feet and resume our work; but, if not, then the interests of the Master's kingdom must suffer, and suffer greatly. The other denominations will get, and are getting, help, and if our Board can turn large appropriations this way, we will rise above what now seems desolation and defeat. We ought to have at least $15,000—more, if we could get it—for immediate use. Can't you get the Board together, and meet this emergency, and take steps to help us? Let me hear from you at once.

Yours in Christian love,

O. T. HOTCHKISS.

Our property loss to the church in this district will exceed $100,000.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 25, 1900.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Black—

MY DEAR BRO: I send you a copy of letter received from Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss, presiding elder of the Houston district, Texas Conference. It shows the awful calamity that has fallen upon our churches in that region, and especially in his district. We must do all we can for their relief. Please, therefore, publish his letter, and ask our people to come quickly to their aid.

There are no funds now in the treasury of the Board of Church Extension that can be used for their benefit, nor will we be at liberty to use any part of the regular collections in that way; so we must depend exclusively on special collections made for that purpose. Our Board will meet Oct. 25, and will be glad to serve our suffering people as far as possible. Let all who will help please send their contributions as soon as possible, and, if possible, before Oct. 25, to this office. We have furnished Bro. Hotchkiss blanks on which to make regular applications to the Board, so that all moneys for our suffering churches may be judiciously and regularly distributed.

Let all who will help please send their money in postoffice orders, or in Eastern exchange, to the undersigned at 705 West Chestnut street, Louisville, Ky. Yours truly,

P. H. WHISNER,
Cor. Sec.

Communications.

LETTER FROM "GILDEROY."

In some sections of Mississippi "Martinism" is rife among our Baptist brethren. This 'ism" began with Rev. Mr. Martin, who is represented to have been a good man. His peculiar views on some points are thought to have been brand-new discoveries, or rather the rediscovery of old doctrines long lost to the view of men. Baptist Churches are dividing over these questions, and setting up opposing altars in the same neighborhoods. In some instances whole churches, pastors and members go over in a body to the "Martinites." In some places the contention among the brethren is sharp and even bitter. The "Martinites" claim to be the ancient, Simon-pure Baptists. They have and hold the truth as taught by Christ and the apostles, or they claim to have. I have not yet found any two "Martinites" who agreed perfectly as touching but one thing. They seem to agree that when one is justified by faith, all his sins, past, present and future, are fully and freely forgiven, and that he is never more guilty of sin, no matter what he does. I confess I am puzzled when apparently sane men look me in the eye and say: "I am eternally saved regardless of what I may do. I may tell lies, steal, kill men, and commit adultery, but I am not guilty, and can not be lost." This puzzles me. I do not know whether to set such a man down as a knave or a fool. This may not be a part of the creed of "Martinism," but it is the idea that every "Martinite" I have talked with gets out of it. In the section where I travel there are a number of "Martinite" Churches. They are a blight and blast to good order and to sound morals wherever they exist. This is not greatly to be wondered at. It is the natural and necessary result that always follows this kind of teaching. When men claiming to be sent of God teach that "sin is no more sin," we may look for a large crop of sinners. Sin is sin, whether the act be committed by a godless sinner or by a Christian sinner. To say that adultery is sin in the sinner and not sin in the professed Christian, is to give the lie to both common sense and to God's Holy Word.

This teaching is not a new doctrine, nor is it an old truth rediscovered. It is an old error revamped, a dead and damnable heresy revived. If Mr. Martin taught this doctrine, he was dealing out the old Antinomianism of several hundred years ago. This view and theory has neither the merit of being new nor true. The fact is, it is a falsehood in opposition to God's truth. Some men are glad to hear that "sin is not sin, and that sinners are just as sure of heaven as if they were already in the bosom of God." This kind of liberty, of freedom from sin, gives them license to indulge in sin to their hearts' content. If this be true, sin becomes a virtue when committed by saints. "It is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me." Sin is a separate, sentient and intelligent entity that dwells in me, but acts separate and apart from me. I am I, and not I, at one and the same time. This doctrine was largely preached when I was a boy. It was then called the "two-seed doctrine"—a seed of good and a seed of evil in the same individual. The seed of good was in the soul, and the seed of evil in the flesh. The soul might be right with God, while the flesh was given over to uncleanness and the works of the devil. This doctrine is old, and it is the doctrine of devils. I know it did not come from God, because it is contrary to every line of God's revealed will. It is a popular doctrine with a large class of loose-living men and women, who want a form of godliness without a particle of the power thereof. It is dominant in some communities in Mississippi, and where it is so it is death to piety, to sound morals, and to good order at church or anywhere else.

The few "Martinites" I have heard preach are strong and urgent on justification by faith, but insist that justification is the one-all for all sin, and the end-all of all moral responsibility in the matter of personal salvation. The excesses referred to in this paper are the logical outcome of this teaching. The preacher may not say so in so many words, but the hearer makes the legitimate and logical deduction. If I have eternal life, it is everlasting and inamissible, and I can not lose it nor destroy it, no matter what I do nor how I live. I have committed my salvation to God, and he is responsible for it, and not I.

GILDEROY.

Sept. 25, 1900.

Shall the General Conference Refer the Licensing of Preachers Back from the District Conference to the Quarterly Conference?

I have observed—specially in the work of this year as presiding elder—that our law of licensing preachers by the District Conference is materially in the way of the progress of the church, in that it diminishes the supply of preachers, both as local and as applicants for the itinerancy. I notice a reference to this fact by Dr. George G. Smith, of Georgia, in last week's issue of the Nashville Advocate, that I heartily endorse. This dearth of preachers, as it has occurred to me, comes largely in this way: First, the District Conferences usually are held in the early part of the year, before the revival season begins throughout our country charges, and here is where our preachers mainly come from. Now, in the revivals, young men are moved by the Holy Ghost to preach, as is often the case, and sometimes they indicate it by their zeal and gifts, or speak of it to the pastor; but the District Conference is now quite a year off, worldly pursuits are engaged in, the Winter season and the lapse of time conspire to help the evil spirit to persuade the young man that, after all, he is mistaken; or other things intervene, and he puts off this important matter till possibly he is driven to the conclusion that it is too late in life. It may be that a growing family, poverty, or debt, is now in the way. Secondly, the District Conference is often a long way off from such as are called to preach. Those who have just felt the call to preach usually need help and encouragement at this critical time. Unnecessary difficulties ought to be removed out of the way. But here, to begin with, forty or sixty miles lie between the applicant for license and the District Conference, which is held, perhaps, right in the midst of crop time. Frequently, the applicant is not able to hire a man in his place while he goes to Conference, or, as is often the case at such a time, there is none to hire. In the next place, we have raised a sort of barrier to entrance upon the ministry (one, however, that is more imaginary than real) by the cry for a better educated ministry. If I understand the matter rightly, our colleges are not to make preachers, but to educate them. In olden times the church had the school of the prophets—not to make prophets; so we need to refer the licensing of preachers back to the Quarterly Conference, that during the revival season, while there is "a refreshing from the presence of the Lord," and men are being moved by the Holy Ghost to preach, they may be encouraged by pastor and presiding elder, licensed to preach, and encouraged to enter Millsaps College at once; then we would double the attendance at college of young preachers in an incredibly short time, and thus supply the demand of our great church with a live, educated ministry.

W. M. YOUNG.

The 20th Century Movement.

Mississippi Conference Notes on Twentieth Century Thank-Offering.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS

Conference Secretary of Education.

The Brookhaven pastor's report shows $838.75 as the total amount from his charge from the beginning of the movement to Sept. 25.

Rev. M. L. White's September report shows $12.95 added to the fund since the Carthage circuit was reported for August.

Let all cash be sent to Maj. R. W. Millsaps, treasurer, Jackson, Miss. Even if the donor gives special direction to what he pays, it should pass through our treasurer's hand, so that his books will correspond with the reports of pastors at the Annual Conference. For instance: If money be raised by the Woman's Home Mission Society for the Scarritt School, let it be sent to Maj. Millsaps, with direction that he forward it to the treasurer of that school. Or, if money be raised for the Soochow University, let it likewise go through our treasurer. So with all Twentieth Century funds.

The pastors should, in filling out blanks, remember that under heading, "Subscribed," is to be written not simply what has been promised and is yet unpaid, but the total of both the paid and unpaid, because even an amount that has been paid is a subscription, just as a man who has paid the price in advance is counted a subscriber to a newspaper.

A young member of the Madison charge who is attending college writes: "Enclosed you will find $1 on the Twentieth Century Movement. I intended in the Summer, at the time I spoke to you, to pay $2.50. I had money of my own then." This illustrates how that, amid the multitude of demands upon people for expenditures, personal and otherwise, a cause like this may suffer through the delay of those who are responsible for representing it.

Science Hall, at Millsaps College, has a splendid room specially adapted to a museum. Special attention was paid to this in designing the floor plans. But there has not been one cent spent by the college in putting up cases, so that the donations of friends can not be properly exhibited. One member of the Mississippi Conference found after the Spring floods several hundred Indian arrowheads. He has expressed a willingness to place these and other Indian relics at the college, if they could be properly protected and exhibited under glass. But the college can offer no guarantee for doing this, as it is without the glass cases. And this is only a sample of many attractions, small and great, that the school misses through lack of equipment. If some friend to the college would give one hundred dollars for the purpose, it would supply the present demand.

Oh, that all the pastors would send reports as promptly as those on the Forest district, so that the secretary could make a comprehensive statement each month to the General Board of Education! Every charge in the Forest district has been heard from except the Indian Mission. The September reports of several show improvement over those of August.

THE DELINQUENTS!

If eight pastoral charges in the Sardis district, six in the Grenada, thirteen in the Durant, ten in the Columbus, twelve in the Aberdeen, seventeen in the Corinth, nine in the Holly Springs, fifteen in the Greenville, will report to me, I will send to Dr. Hammond a full report on the Thank-offering for the North Mississippi Conference. If this information could be secured from any other source, I would not trouble the pastors. Please, dear brother, give me the report from your charge. Some of our most prominent stations, circuits and missions have not reported.

J. R. BINGHAM.

Carrollton, Miss., Oct. 1, 1900.

Communications.

EVIL OCCASIONED VS. EVIL CAUSED.

MR. EDITOR: In the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, of Aug. 16, "Gilderoy" thus delivers himself anent the "isms" among the second-blessing people referred to by Rev. W. W. Hopper some weeks ago: "Bro. W. W. Hopper need not be at all surprised at the unfortunate state of affairs existing among some of the 'second-blessing' people." This we allow, since we need not be surprised at the unfortunate state of affairs existing among people of any blessing. Yet he asseverates, "It is the natural, legitimate and necessary result of their reasoning."

What, my brother; do you mean that this "is the natural, legitimate and necessary result" of preaching entire sanctification attainable by faith? See Wesley's Sermons, Vol. II, Ser. No. 43, pages 347-8: "I have continually testified, in private and in public, that we are sanctified as well as justified by faith. And, indeed, the one of those great truths does exceedingly illustrate the other."

There are two Latin maxims which paraphrase Scripture. "Veritas odium parit." Acts xiii, 8, "But Elymas, the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation), withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith." I. Tim. iv, 1, "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils."

Brother, you are doubtless conscious of the divinely revealed truth, confirmed by church history, that quickened activities of spirits of Belial with doctrines of error have been coetaneous with the Holy Ghost's activity in doctrines of truth. Following the tracks of the Holy Ghost are prints of cloven feet. The Holy Ghost is the "occasion," but not the "cause," of cloven-feet impressions. The doctrine of entire sanctification is the occasion, but not the cause, of "isms." We need spiritual discernment just here. Shall the Holy Ghost cease operations because Satan counterfeits his work? Shall the apostles cease preaching because of Simon the sorcerer? Shall we cease preaching entire sanctification, the work of the Holy Ghost, because Satan is sowing tares in the same field? (Matt. xviii, 7.) Wesley said concerning the same troubles attending the revival in England: "Happy, I can not but call it, notwithstanding the tares which Satan found means of sowing among the wheat. And I can not but adopt the prayer of a pious man in Scotland upon a similar occasion, 'Lord, if it please thee, work the same work again "without the blemisher;" but if that can not be, though it be with all the blemishes, work the same work.'"—Arminian Magazine, 1780.

If we are true to God, this will be our prayer. We will not reject God's work because of Satan's, the wheat because of the tares, the Methodist doctrine of entire sanctification because of evil springing up behind it. I concede your sincerity in the statement, my brother, "I mean not the slightest reflection on the scriptural doctrine of sanctification." But why cavil over the term, "second blessing," since, if you get the experience of entire sanctification, it will be according to Methodist theology and the Scriptures—i. e., by faith, subsequent to regeneration, and consequently a "second" blessing to "you." Moreover, all propagators of entire sanctification are denominated "second blessingists," Wesley included.

Now, my brother, if this is a Methodist doctrine, let us defend those who preach it, leaving "isms," etc., with God. "If a hundred enthusiasts (fanatics) were set aside, we are still encompassed with a cloud of witnesses who have testified, and do testify, in life and in death, the perfection we have taught for forty years."—Wesley, Journal, August, 1768. "Veritas vincit." (II. Tim. ii, 19.)

ROBERT L. PHILLIPS.

Peden, Miss., Aug. 30, 1900.

"ONE GOSPEL."

MR. EDITOR: I have received and examined "One Gospel," by Rev. J. F. G. Finley, of San Bernardino, Cal. I am very much pleased with the book. The blending of the four Gospels into one is excellent. The chronological order and harmony of the Gospel is truly valuable to the Bible student. The outline life of Christ is concise. The division of the text into sections and paragraphs, I think, meets a want of long standing. I would recommend the book to every student of the Gospel.

I have read just this evening in the Methodist Review, of September and October, Article VII., "The Influence of Corporations on Morals and Religion." I wish it could have a wider reading than it will get in that most excellent periodical. It is so appropriate at this time, and so full of just the kind of truth the masses of the people should have.

H. O. WHITE.

Lake Providence, La., Sept. 21, 1900.

Items from the Field.

WEST POINT, MISS.

God has greatly blessed us this year. We have received into the church sixty-nine persons, twenty-five on profession of faith; thirteen of these at our regular Sunday services. Closed a meeting last Friday evening. Twelve received into the church yesterday. Bro. Theo. Copeland, of Attalla, Ala., was with us eleven days of our thirteen days' meeting. He did very effective work. He is a power for good.

J. M. WYATT.

Sept. 24, 1900.

REPORT FROM NEW ALBANY CIRCUIT.

We have just closed our fifth and last protracted meeting on New Albany circuit. We had a great revival of religion at Well's Chapel. There were 50 conversions and 40 accessions to the church there. The Lord has blessed us very greatly. There have been about 95 conversions that we know of, and 84 have joined our church since we came on this charge this year. We have most of our Conference collections secured.

J. B. RANDOLPH, P. C.

New Albany, Sept. 22, 1900.

REPORT FROM REV. W. G. HARBIN.

I have just closed a very fine meeting at Shelby. Visible results: 15 added to the church, backsliders reclaimed, Christians strengthened, $30 raised for Galveston sufferers. Of the 15 added to the church 11 were young men. Bro. W. McN. Campbell is supplying the Shelby charge while the pastor, Bro. Mimms, is in Europe. Bro. Campbell is a young man, but a man of strong convictions, with power to express them. He has a remarkable talent for winning young men, and is a man of tireless energy. His work during the meeting was remarkably owned and blessed of God.

I helped Bro. W. H. Sanders in a good meeting at Faisonia. Twelve were added to the church. Am engaged in the first revival services ever held in Sunflower City. Bro. H. W. Whitnell is helping me.

WALTER G. HARBIN.

Sunflower, Miss., Sept. 20, 1900.

REVIVAL AT SENATOBIA, MISS.

We have just closed an excellent "meeting" at this place. Began Sunday morning, the ninth instant; continued eight days, closing Sunday night, the sixteenth. Notwithstanding there was considerable sickness and some other hindrances, the interest was good and attendance large from the beginning, and increased with each service.

The church, as a whole, was greatly revived. Many publicly renewed their vows and earnestly promised a better and a higher life. A number were converted and openly confessed Christ. Sixteen were added to our church; one to a sister church.

Rev. Jas. B. Mitchell was with us from the beginning to the close. He was abundant and efficient in labors, preaching twice a day, leading the singing, and otherwise contributing to the success of the meeting. We are trying to foster all the interests of the church, and hope to have a good report at the close of the year.

Yours, etc.,

W. W. MITCHELL.

Senatobia, Miss., Sept. 20, 1900.

NOTES FROM THE KOSSUTH CIRCUIT.

This little village is within the bounds of the Kossuth circuit, Corinth district. The circuit to which it belongs has seven appointments and about seven hundred members. Our pastor, Bro. D. C. Foust, is fully alive to the interests of the church, and is doing a fine work along all lines. His people are much in love with him, and he is growing in favor with them all of the time, and we hope that Bishop Hargrove will return him to this work next year. He has just closed his round of protracted meetings. He did most of the preaching himself, and while there were but few conversions, we feel that much good has been accomplished. No man can accomplish the good he should when his work is scattered over so large a territory as this circuit embraces.

Our presiding elder, Bro. Young, is hard at work doing what he can to have his district come up with good reports at Conference. He is a man of God, and we all love him. He begins his fourth round to-day. We are very much in love with the ADVOCATE, and don't see how any Methodist can afford to do without it.

HARDY W. REES.

Rienzi, Miss., Sept. 22, 1900.

STORM AT JEANERETTE, LA.

This seems to be a month of storms. On Saturday evening, Sept. 22, the atmosphere was extremely close, and in order to get the benefit of any breeze that might come from any direction, I moved my chair on the front gallery, which was densely shaded. I was busily engaged in the study of my sermon for the Sabbath. My thoughts were so absorbed on my subject, I was unaware of the approaching storm; it came on so suddenly. I was awakened to the first danger by a cloud of dust, and a buggy containing a lady and her little girl was blown up to the parsonage gate. This was about half-past three in the afternoon. The storm increased in force until near six o'clock; blowing carriages, buggies, and pedestrians all to the parsonage. The force of the storm was composed chiefly of our Methodists, but other Protestants were represented in it. And after the fury of the storm had abated many substantial things were found in the larder.

We lift our hearts in gratitude to God, especially as it seemed to be enjoyed by all, and more especially so by the preacher's wife, who was handsomely remembered. May God bless these people!

C. T. MUNHOLLAND.

Jeanerette, La., Sept. 24, 1900.

MEETING AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL-HOUSE, MISS.

I wish to write you concerning our meeting at the Washington School-house, in the bounds of the Randolph mission. Bro. D. M. Floyd is the preacher in charge. It has been said that it is a "hard place," and so it is in one sense of the word. The people there have not had a protracted meeting in twelve years until this season. Some of the people never saw a Methodist preacher until we arrived. We began Sunday at eleven A. M.; continued until Thursday night following. At the close of the sermon a proposition was made for Christians who were willing to work for a revival to come forward and bow with us in prayer. Five came under these circumstances. We began, the writer doing the preaching. The people gave good attention, and God blessed our efforts. Twenty-one souls were converted, a number of backsliders were reclaimed, and the community was stirred from center to circumference. The result was that we organized a church with 23 members. Bro. Floyd is doing a noble work here. He surely is the man for the place. The Randolph field is white for the harvest, and the outlook is promising. The prime need of the people in this section is churches organized and supplied with regular preaching. We owe much to the school mistress at Washington for help rendered and interest taken. May God bless the good people at Washington!

T. R. STROUP, L. P.

Myrtle, Miss., Sept. 20, 1900.

FOREST CIRCUIT.

We have held four protracted meetings on the Forest circuit this Summer, and our last one will begin on the fifth Sunday in September. The meeting at Oak Grove began on the fifth Sunday in July, and lasted four days, the pastor doing all the preaching. The people listened to the Word patiently, and the Lord blessed us with his presence. We began at Homewood on the second Sunday in August, and ran five days. Rev. W. W. Morse did all the preaching, except one sermon by Rev. R. A. Sibley, Sr. There was no great move among the people, but the congregations were good and the preaching was splendid. One young man joined the church. Good was accomplished.

On the fourth Sunday in August we entered into a union meeting with the Congregational Methodist and Cumberland Presbyterian Churches at Harperville. Revs. H. G. Hawkins and J. C. Long did the preaching. It was with power, and not without effect. This was a glorious meeting. The churches were revived, and there were eight accessions on profession of faith, six of whom joined our church and two the Congregational Methodist Church. Rev. T. J. O'Neal rendered valuable help in this meeting, which lasted five days.

Our next effort was at Pisgah on the first Sunday in September, where we continued five days. Here I was assisted by Rev. B. F. Lewis, who preached the Word in demonstration of the Spirit. He hewed to the line regardless of where the chips fell. Much was accomplished in these five days. The whole community was stirred and the church greatly revived. There were twenty-four accessions on profession of faith and two by certificate. This meeting will be lasting in its results and long remembered by all who attended it.

We are planning and praying for a great meeting here in Forest, where I will be assisted by Bro. J. E. Schoolfield, of Danville, Va. Brethren, pray that we may have a revival. It is greatly needed.

D. SCARBOROUGH.

Sept. 22, 1900.

REPORT FROM VOSSBURG AND HEIDELBERG, MISS.

We have had a fairly good year, we think. The first Sunday in August I began my meeting at Vossburg. We expected to run five days, but continued ten days.

Bro. B. F. Lewis, of Ellisville, did the preaching, and it was of a high order, and my people appreciated it very much indeed. Bro. Lewis does not take it for granted that the Bible teaches certain things, but gives it direct from God's Word. He held our meetings at Vossburg, Enontta and Sandersville. I have never had better work by any man than he did. The number of conversions is not known, but to say there were 25 would place the estimate very low. The Christians were built up and pledged themselves to higher living in their religious lives.

Bro. Carley was ably assisted at Philadelphia by Rev. P. D. Hardin. He did fine work, and good results followed.

I have just closed an eight days' meeting at Heidelberg. Bro. J. W. Chambers, former president of Whitworth College, did all the preaching after the three first days. It was said to be the best at that place for a number of years. Bro. Chambers was in good shape for work. His six years of college work have not taken from him any of his power as a preacher, nor any of his love for the ministry. He was deeply spiritual. His sermons were clear, strong, and full of love to God, and sympathy for the human family. He was much appreciated by my people. He being a former pastor here, it goes without saying that the people were glad to have him. In fact, when any pastor secures the services of Lewis, Hardin and Chambers, he takes no risk. I do not need specialists to help me in revival work as long as we have such men in the regular work. As a result of Philadelphia meeting there were several conversions, some accessions to the church—in fact, they included about all that were left. At Heidelberg, 10 to 12 conversions, 10 accessions to the church, and some difficulties removed that have greatly hindered our progress at that place. The only objections I have heard to all the work was: Some folks do not see how we Methodist preachers can afford to preach; how it is possible for folks to live without sinning, or how it is possible to keep the Commandments. We have had up to date about 70 accessions to the church. We will pay everything in full.

W. M. SULLIVAN, P. C.

NOTES FROM ABERDEEN DISTRICT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

The presiding elder and pastors on the Aberdeen district have been wide awake and hard at work during the Summer, and we trust much good has been accomplished. Most of the time has been spent in protracted meetings. Many have been converted and a goodly number received into the church, with many reclamations and reconsecrations, and a large number of children baptized. Most of us have had more or less sickness in our homes.

Bro. Ward, supply on Quincy circuit, has had typhoid fever in his home since April, resulting in the death of his wife and two children. His wife and little daughter died the same night, and were buried in the same grave. He was forced, because of sickness, to give up his work, and Bro. Derrett will serve it until Conference. Bro. Ward has the sympathy and prayers of the brethren. May the gospel he preaches to others sustain him in these hours of great sorrow!

So far as we can learn, Bro. R. A. Tucker and Prairie circuit are ahead with the Twentieth Century Thankoffering.

Bro. W. A. Bowlin has had great success in revival work. Many have been added to the church on Okolona circuit through his ministry this year, and all of the interests of the church are well looked after by him. Bro. H. P. Crowe is a busy and successful preacher. He has kept his own work in fine condition, and found time to help several of his brethren with their meetings.

Bro. S. B. Myers and the good people at Tupelo rejoice over the completion of their new church and parsonage. This gives them one of the best parsonages in our Conference, and a real nice, up-to-date brick church valued at ten thousand dollars.

Bro. Richard Wilkinson, of Aberdeen station, is an all-round man in the full acceptation of the term. He can preach successfully in a revival, make educational addresses, preach missionary sermons, and is a success when it comes to taking a collection.

Bro. T. H. Porter, of Aberdeen circuit, is doing well, and is regarded as one of the best preachers in our district. He is a valuable man.

Bro. J. W. Ball is still in good favor with the people at Houston.

Bro. J. W. Anderson has been quite sick, but is up now, and busy holding meetings. Buena Vista is extremely fortunate in having such a preacher as Bro. Anderson.

We hear good reports of Bros. Harrison at Amory, Craddock at Smithville, E. A. Tucker at Nettleton circuit, and G. S. Sanders, supply on Tremont circuit, who comes up for admission on trial this year.

Bro. R. M. Evans has had a hard year, himself and family having been sick more or less all of the year. We have no better man than Bro. Evans. May the Lord sustain him in his afflictions!

Bro. Roper, preacher in charge at Montpelier (Bro. T. W. Lewis' ideal pastor), is closing up his fourth year on that charge, and will soon be ready to show what can be done at other places.

Our presiding elder, while young in years and in the work of a presiding elder, is, as we sometimes hear, efficient, proficient, and sufficient. He is giving us some up-to-date information on China and our mission work there.

Okolona station bids fair to make the best report that has gone from it for some years, though we have not built that new church which we hoped to do the first of the year. Neither have all of the sinners here been converted or backsliders been reclaimed; but I believe many have been blessed, some saved, and some made better. Our League and Sunday-school have accomplished much. The crops are not good, but nothing like as short as Bro. Honnoll represents them to be in the Holly Springs district.

J. A. LEECH.

Okolona, Miss., Sept. 22, 1900.

Home Mission Society.

EDITORS.

Mrs. J. B. Stone, of North Miss. Conference
Conference Officers of Mississippi Conference
Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Louisiana Conference

Now that the Summer season has gone, and the delightful days of Autumn are upon us, absentees are returning home, and life takes on a new aspect. We, too, must awake from our slumbers, and keep pace with the times. Our societies have been in "Summer-quarters," and very little has been accomplished during the heated term. October, with its cheery, crisp freshness, calls us to renewed activity, and the campaign opens very properly with the Week of Prayer. A good beginning; who will take advantage of it? If, for any reason, your auxiliary can not observe the specified time—Oct. 8-14—then decide on some other week, and work up to it. Let your Executive Committee apportion the work to the various leaders, and with the fine program furnished in September Our Homes, you can not fail to have an interesting time. We trust every auxiliary will feel bound to its observance.

Our new Conference treasurer will soon publish her report for the last quarter, and let us know just what has been done.

The Minutes of our last annual meeting, after considerable delay, have been distributed. They reflect much credit on the Committee on Publication. Delays are often unavoidable, and in this instance blame attaches to no one.

There being no applicant from our Conference Society for the Myra Smith Scholarship in the Scarritt Training-school, it has been given to Miss Mary Culler White, of Georgia. We had heard of several young ladies who proposed applying for it, but, for various reasons, all others had declined.

By this time we suppose our Conference secretary has returned from Monteagle, and is now to be found in her own home in Greenville.

Items of interest have been distressingly scarce. So you will please pardon this editor for long silence, and next time remember your part of the contract.

MRS J. B. STONE.

The Christian Life.

ONLY HALF A POINT.

A gentleman crossing the English Channel stood near the helmsman. It was a calm and pleasant evening, and no one dreamed of a possible danger to their good ship; but a sudden flapping of a sail, as if the wind had shifted, caught the ear of the officer on watch, and he sprang at once to the wheel, examining closely the compass.

"You are half a point off the course," he said, sharply, to the man at the wheel. The deviation was corrected, and the officer returned to his post.

"You must steer very accurately," said the looker-on, "when only half a point is so much thought of."

"Ah, half a point in many places might bring us directly on the rocks," he said.

So it is in life. "Half a point" from strict truthfulness stands us upon the rocks of falsehood. "Half a point" from perfect honesty, and we are steering for the rocks of crime. And so of all kindred vices. The beginnings are always small. No one climbs to the summit at one bound, but goes one little step at a time. Many think lightly of what they call "small sins." These rocks do not look so fearful to them.—Southern Churchman.

FAITH AND WORKS.

A little girl told a friend who was visiting her father that her brothers set traps to catch the birds. He asked her what she did. She replied: "I prayed that the trap might not catch the birds." "Anything else?" "Yes," she said; "I then prayed that God would prevent the birds getting into the traps," and as if to illustrate the doctrine of faith and works, she continued, "I went and kicked the traps all to pieces."

This reminds us of the story of the boy who, when his father had prayed earnestly that God would feed the hungry, said: "Why don't you answer that prayer yourself? You've got enough wheat in the granary and potatoes in the cellar to feed all the poor people about here." Let us show our faith by our works.—Christian Leader.

No man who buries his talents can live a happy life. The most unhappy people one meets are those who have abundance, but refuse to use it in the way God intended. They are living for themselves, and know it is wrong, and are unspeakably miserable on that account, but can not bring themselves to live otherwise. The most happy people in the world are those who devote their talents, whether great or small, to some good use. This is an infallible receipt for happiness. Let any unhappy man begin at once to do all the good he can, in every way he can, to as many of his fellow-men as he can, and his heart will begin at once to sing for joy.—New York Advocate.

Love is the greatest thing that God can give us, for himself is love, and it is the greatest thing we can give to God, for it will give ourselves and carry with it all which is ours.—Jeremy Taylor.

OBITUARIES.

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, Our sister, Mrs. LIZZIE PRESSLY, has been recently removed from our midst by death; And, whereas, She has for many years been a faithful, zealous and much loved member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Sister Pressly our society has lost one of its best and most useful members, and though she will be greatly missed, yet we bow with submission to the divine will.

Resolved, That we will ever cherish her memory and strive to emulate her virtues.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Minutes of the Society; that they be sent for publication to the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, and the Woman's Missionary Advocate, and a copy also be sent to the bereaved husband, to whom we extend our sincere sympathy.

MRS. P. T. CALLICOTT,
MRS. C. P. WADLEY,
MRS. L. M. LIPSCOMB.

Coldwater, Miss.

TROTTER—Resolutions passed by the New Iberia Methodist Sunday-school, Sept. 16:

Whereas, It hath pleased our Heavenly Father, who doeth all things well, to remove from our midst by death our dear sister and co-laborer, Sister MATTIE TROTTER; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we deeply feel the loss of a faithful sympathizer and diligent worker in our Sunday-school endeavors.

Resolved, That, while we can not understand the Providence that hath removed Sister Trotter from our midst, we know that God knoweth best, and while we mourn her loss, we submit to his divine will, and rejoice that God hath called her up higher.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband, helpless children and sorrowing loved ones, and commend them to our Heavenly Father, who alone can comfort.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the husband, spread upon the Minutes, and be published in the city papers, and that the N. O. ADVOCATE be requested to publish the same.

JOHN T. WHITE,
LOUISE TAYLOR,
ROBERT W. VAUGHAN,
Committee.

CARTER—Miss LENA V. CARTER was born near Aberdeen, Monroe county, Miss., on Dec. 4, 1879. These dates mark the earthly life—tell the beginning and the end of young life of brightness and promise—but can not tell the story of the virtues and graces of our loved one.

The life of Miss Lena was as a beam of sunshine in her circle of companions. Bright, vivacious, happy, she transmitted her geniality and brightness to all with whom she was associated. And this characteristic, added to her natural graces and personal charms, made her the center of a large circle of admiring friends. Miss Lena was a Christian. Converted in her youth, she became a member of the Methodist Church, and gave every evidence of her love for the church and her Lord. In the consciousness of Christ's love she lived, in the calm confidence of Christian faith she died, and in the exultant triumph of Christian hope she entered into heaven.

Here was a brief life—the flower in its blooming drooped and died—but its fragrance reaches to many who yet live, and her influence will abide. The youngest daughter of the household, a mother, a brother and two sisters mourn her loss, and a wide circle of affectionate friends miss her companionship. Let us all so live that we shall meet her in "the beyond."

"ONE WHO LOVED HER."

PARKER—At the session of the Board of City Mission Union of the Home Mission Society, held Sept. 11, 1900, at Burgundy Street Church, in full realization of the loss sustained by the local as well as the Conference Society in the death of Mrs. E. K. PARKER, a resolution was passed that an expression of sympathy be sent each of her sons and sisters, and a copy furnished the N. O. CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE and Our Homes for publication; therefore, as our Father, in infinite wisdom, has called home the spirit of our loved friend and co-worker, Mrs. Nellie Parker, our first Conference secretary, after the patient endurance of long illness, be it

Resolved, That while we mourn her "absence from the body," we may rejoice that "mortality has been swallowed up of life;" that she has reached the goal of her highest aspirations, to be present with the Lord.

Resolved, That as she "walked with God," giving evidence in her beautiful life, we more earnestly strive to emulate her example, "looking unto Jesus," that of each it can be said, "She hath done what she could."

Resolved, That we extend to the family of our sister our deepest sympathy, and pray the Comforter to be their guide through the sorrow.

MRS. W. H. LAPRADE,
MRS. A. A. BARTELS.

New Orleans.

EAST—Died, Mrs. ANN EAST, aged 81 years 11 months 5 days, on June 20, 1900. Sister East was born July 15, 1818. She was twice married: In 1833 to L. Kennedy, who lived only six months; second marriage, 1835, to Langdon East, of whom seven children were the issue, leaving her a widow on Sept. 1, 1870.

Sister Ann East was a native of East Feliciana parish, rearing her interesting family therein. When a young girl she joined the Methodist Church, and numbered among her personal friends Dr. Winans, Drake, and Bros. Fulton, Clinton, Godfrey of the old guard of itinerants. As far as we can ascertain, she leaves to mourn her loss 50 grand- and great-grand children. She passed away after much suffering and pain in body at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Willard Smith, in Wilson, where she had made her home since 1870.

She loved Methodist preachers, and in the days of prosperity and adversity none received them more kindly than this mother in Israel. The railroad men were devoted to "Grandma," and their big hearts devised everything possible to make her comfortable. She gave a clear testimony before she died, and was buried from the Methodist Church in Wilson in the presence of a large congregation, and interred in the family burying-ground at the old home-place. Passing fast away these aged veterans of the cross, may their places be filled.

H. W. RICKEY.

DILLON—Little MARY ETHEL DILLON, daughter of J. A. and Mollie E. Dillon, died at the home of her parents, four miles east of Vicksburg, on the twenty-sixth of August, 1900. She was born on the first of August, 1895, being 5 years and 25 days old.

It was not my pleasure to know this little girl, but it is said that she was a bright, amiable and sweet-natured little child. She had learned to be helpful in the home, and often insisted that she be allowed to share the tired steps of that one whom she loved.

The length of human life is not always an evidence of its fullness, nor its shortness an indication that its mission is ended. While this little one lived she gladdened the hearts of all in the home, but now that mission on earth is ended, and the hearts that were glad are now filled with sadness. But the memory of that little body and the sight of the mossy mound will open fountains of sympathy which nothing else can do. And the soul of that sweet little girl, which has gone into eternity, will attract the thoughts and affections of father and mother toward Him who doeth all things well.

May the Lord comfort the bereaved family in this hour of sorrow and sadness! May they be reconciled to this dispensation of God's providence, remembering that this pure and innocent little child has gone from the temptations of this wicked world to be raptured as a blessed babe in the Paradise of God!

J. R. JONES.

ALDRIDGE—JOSEPH WILLIAM ALDRIDGE, son of J. L. and Mrs. M. M. Aldridge, was born in DeSoto county, Miss., April 11, 1876. He was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, in the Summer of 1888, under the preaching and pastorate of Rev. H. T. Gaines. This life upon earth was brief; a mere span. He had just passed the twenty-fourth mile-stone, and the young and vigorous manhood and heart gave splendid and cheering promise of a long, beautiful and useful career; but, alas! alas! for human hopes. While the keepers of the house were strong, and those that look out at the windows clear and undarkened, the doors were shut in the street, the silver cord was loosened, and the golden bowl was broken, and the dust returned to the earth as it was, and the spirit to the God who gave it.

"Willie," as he was familiarly called by father and mother and all his friends, was a noble and exemplary young man. He was reared in a home where the gentle, sweet light of religion and love pervaded all hearts, and made Christianity, not the gloomy cross it is sometimes seen to be, but a happy, free, glad, victorious, joyous life of progress and triumph.

He was happily married, on Jan. 1, 1899, to Miss Mittie Sue Ellis, who, with her sweet little babe, is left to cherish his memory.

After five weeks of suffering from typhoid fever, Willie passed from earth to heaven, Aug. 24, 1900. He loved his church, his pastor, and the Lord's people. He was always ready and willing to do his part in keeping up the church and cause of his Lord.

L. M. LIPSCOMB.

(Continued on Seventh Page.)

"Every Cloud Has a Silver Lining."

The clouds of bad blood enveloping humanity have a silver lining in the shape of a specific to remove them. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine, which drives out all impurities from the blood, of either sex or any age.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

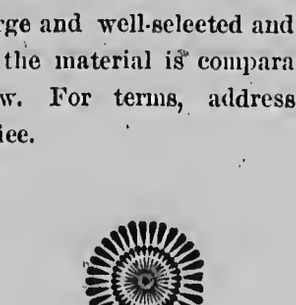
E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas
T. G. MACKIE, L. MIRE, C. K. LINCOLN, JR
324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AXES, ALARM TILLS, CAGES, CLOCKS, CROQUET, BASKETS, BASEBALLS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, DUSTERS,
Enameled Steelware, Freezers, Fishing Tackle,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASSWARE, HAMMOCKS,
Japanned Ware, Ice Chests,
KEGS, LADDERS, LAMPS,
MARBLES, NAIL PULLERS,
OARS, OIL TANKS, REFRIGERATORS, ROPE, PAPER, PADLOCKS, SOAPS, STATIONERY,
TINWARE, TRAPS, WINES, WATER COOLERS, WHIPS, WOODENWARE,

Etc. Trade Solicited.

DR. LETELLIER'S Sunflower Tablets.



MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

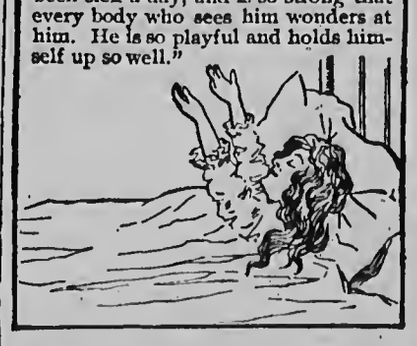
Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any druggists, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Tract Bld'g, New York City.

Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

FISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS 25 CTS

THE DREAM OF MOTHERHOOD COMES TRUE WHEN DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION IS USED.

Mrs. Axel Kjer, of Gordonville, Cape Girardeau Co., Mo., writes: "When I look at my little boy I feel it my duty to write you. Perhaps some one will see my testimony and be led to use your 'Favorite Prescription' and be blessed in the same way. I took nine bottles and to my surprise it carried me through and gave us as fine a little boy as ever was. Weighed ten and one-half pounds. He is now five months old, has never been sick a day, and is so strong that every body who sees him wonders at him. He is so playful and holds himself up so well."



BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS. UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY. Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O. Mention this paper.

BELLS
Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College
New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.

A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.

Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain.

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Read What Is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault, Minn

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P PACIFIC ROUTE

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change. . . .

DIRECT LINE TO
Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE
NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R R
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R R

TO
Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,
AND TO ALL POINTS
North, -:- East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between
NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections. Through Sleepers!

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A. J. R. WELLS, G. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A. R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

YOU SAVE $40

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.,

and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S
SELF-PRONOUNCING
S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce all proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to October, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to November, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1900.

"GIVE THE BOYS A PROHIBITION CARPET."

It seems to us that the people of this country, especially the Christian element thereof, are in danger of putting undue dependence upon legislation for the full accomplishment of greatly needed moral and social reforms. Some go so far as to fancy that almost every social, industrial, and political ill can be cured by statutory enactment of some kind, the law being looked upon as a sort of "deus ex-machina," by whose magic power evils can be easily and speedily brushed away.

Reform laws have in certain instances accomplished wonders, but they can not do everything. There is no question of the fact that in all reform movements, whether social, political, or moral, the valuable agency of the law ought by all means to be invoked in furtherance thereof. To look for permanent results in these directions, unless public sentiment is crystallized into law, is hardly anything else than folly. As Mr. Gladstone has put it: "The aim of the law should be to make it as easy as possible to do right, and as hard as possible to do wrong."

We are a thorough believer in "legal suasion" as well as in "moral suasion," especially in temperance work; yet it should constantly be borne in mind that laws are not self-executive, and that, however excellent in themselves, they must be backed up by strong public sentiment in order to be truly and generally effective. It is not enough that the open saloon be voted out, that splendid temperance legislation be secured. This work must be accompanied and faithfully followed up by the indoctrination of all classes, particularly the young, in temperance principles. Unless the masses are educated to see the monstrous evils of intemperance and the baneful nature and effects of intoxicants, it is hardly to be expected that they will look upon prohibitory laws as anything else than a nuisance and an abridgment of their liberty. In our admiration of the advantages of legal enactment against liquor selling, let us not forget that the evil can be struck a deadly blow, as far as the individual is concerned, by means of proper mental and moral training. To look for temperance laws alone to put a stop to drinking and to beget sentiment in favor of temperance is to expect the impossible.

There is grave need among us of a revival of temperance instruction, and of the more general employment of moral restraint in our fight against the drink evil. In so tremendous a struggle we can not afford to slight or to discard any means at our command.

The September number of the Sunday-school Magazine contains the following strong and timely utterance form Dr. J. H. Carlisle anent the matter of which we have just spoken. He remarks: "The Persians have a fine proverb: 'To one who wears shoes it is as if the whole earth is carpeted with leather.' It would cost a great deal to spread leather all over our yards and the pavements in our city. This is not attempted. But parents can see to it that wherever the boy or girl puts a foot on the ground a piece of leather in shape and size just like that foot is under it. Each one of us carries a leather foot carpet along with us wherever we go. And to us it is really as if all the land around us had a broad leather carpet. It is not an easy task to put in effective working over a State or country laws prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors. There are many and very formidable agencies that will spend money liberally to oppose the passage of any such laws. And if these laws, theoretically perfect, should be passed, these agencies stand ready to oppose and evade them in all possible, ingenious ways. Even in church circles there are difficulties in the way of wise and efficient legislation on this subject.

"May not the homes and schools of our Christian land do something, do much to send out into life a generation of those who do not need prohibition laws to keep them sober and temperate? May they not train up a race of boys and young men who are not sober simply because there are no bar rooms, saloons, or dispensaries legalized around them? May not each young man carry his prohibition outfit with him? May he not carry the Maine law with him wherever he goes? The young may be taught to walk soberly and temperately even if liquors are offered to them for a low price or for no price. Let parents and teachers know their responsibility and privilege. Surely no class in our Sunday-schools will hear this lesson commented on by a teacher who visits the saloon of any kind, or whose breath bears painful witness against him and offends the young. A young man brought up in a drunkard's home may be sober and temperate. The object lesson forced on him so painfully day by day may make him recoil from the cup. A young man brought up in a Christian home where sobriety and temperance are well illustrated may go astray. But it will be some relief to the father in his agony if he can say: 'He did not learn it from me.' The drunken son of a dram-drinking father will find some satisfaction in saying by way of excuse: 'I am only carrying farther the tastes and habits associated with my father's table.'

"Give the boy a prohibition carpet to put his foot on wherever he walks in after life."

PROVIDENCE AND GALVESTON.

The century closes in bloodshed and catastrophe. After such fearful calamities as a Chicago fire, a Johnstown flood, a Russian or Indian famine, a yellow-fever scourge, a Western cyclone, preachers and theologians endeavor to answer the inevitable questions of the human heart concerning God and his relation to such dire disasters. The questions come up again in connection with the destruction of Galveston. In the presence of such an awful destruction of life and property, little peace is afforded our minds by speaking of natural laws. We all know that sea-coast towns are likely to be visited by hurricanes and tidal waves, and they who build on low islands invite great risks; that carelessness with lamps may make terrible conflagrations; that weak dams are liable to burst. But back of all laws and consequences stands God, who holds winds and waves in the hollow of his hands. Man may be directly responsible for a yellow-fever epidemic; but famine, earthquake, volcanic eruption, insect plagues, and ocean storms he can not control. He is as helpless before them as a babe.

Moralists may tell us that we are living under general laws, whose ordinary operation is benevolent. Diphtheria and typhoid fever demand better plumbing and purer water; railroad collisions less careless engineers, switchmen and telegraphers; hard times less previous extravagance. Much suffering is voluntarily inflicted and is preventable. Drunkenness, thriftlessness, licentiousness, undrained swamps, "fire-trap" public buildings with poor exits, cars with stoves and without automatic couplings—all of these are preventable causes of great evils. Man's sin and negligence are responsible, and no moral system of the universe can be conceived without the possibility of sin.

They may tell us that the death of thousands, though more dramatic than the death of individuals every day, under circumstances of distress, involves no other than the usual problem; that man is taught not to put too much emphasis on the material things of life, but to value the higher things of the Spirit; that "sorrows humanize the race," which would otherwise grow brutal, and the outflow of sympathy and beneficence is a great good; that, in every such horror, there are individual displays of courage and self-sacrifice that reveal the greatness of man's soul.

* * * * * * *

Though we may not be able to answer the question why development might not have been secured by methods more agreeable to our human flesh and frailty, practically, we can see that man, like the oak-tree, is made strong by struggling with tempests. God does not pamper us with dainties nor coddle us as infants. In the sweat of the brow and the agony of the soul—in strenuous endeavor, hard toil, mental struggle, heart tortures—lie progress, civilization, conquest, heroism, the measure of the stature of men in Christ Jesus, who was made perfect through suffering.

It is doubtful if we can get much further than this. The ultimate mysteries lie unresolved. The problem of Job is the problem of the race. It is easy to say with Job's friends, that, in material good or evil, the wicked are punished and the righteous are rewarded in this life. It was a handy, ready-made theory, but, upon reflection, it did not harmonize with experience. It was not the only time that a traditional orthodoxy was contradicted by life. There is no answer in the drama to the question of why the good man suffers. God appeals to the manifestation of his wisdom and power in the universe. Job is silenced. He feels that he must trust that wisdom, whether he can understand it or not. His word must be the word of the ages: "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him." We can not find God out unto perfection. We can only say that we have a multitude of reasons for believing in his perfect wisdom and perfect goodness, and that those things which seem heedless, unnecessary, and cruel in nature, and which to us are mysteries beyond our comprehension, we believe are but in the seeming, and we stand with him

"Who trusted God was love indeed,
And love Creation's final law—
Tho' Nature, red in tooth and claw,
With ravin, shrieked against his creed."

"Clouds and darkness are around about him." "I was dumb because thou didst it." We walk by faith and not by sight. This is the very province and field of trust.—Western Christian Advocate.

THE ASSISTANT PASTOR.

The editor of the Central Advocate expresses our sentiments exactly when he says:

"The church paper is the assistant pastor. It keeps the work of the church before the people. It posts them on the benevolences. It inspires them by the general rivalry of good works in other churches. It organizes them into 'the Holy Catholic (or universal) Church.' It is our desire to be an assistant pastor; to help in the routine of the church work; to help collect the pastor's salary, increase the benevolent collections, care for the superannuates, build up the colleges, kindle the class meetings, open the way for lay workers, blend the people into unity, expound the doctrine of holiness and strengthen in the longing for it—in short, be an assistant pastor. Every official member in Methodism, every Sunday-school, Epworth League, missionary worker, ought to take the official church paper. The wide-awake pastor will bend every energy to get his assistant pastor an open door throughout his church. An assistant pastor is not a charity. He is a fellow-helper. A wise workman will have an eye to good tools and an earnest co-operation. No pastor who would really succeed, and who would have his success still evident when he is gone on his way to other fields, will fail to push his church paper."

THE METHODIST REVIEW.

The September-October number of the Bi-Monthly Methodist Review comes to our table laden with reading matter of the finest description, and contains several specially noteworthy articles. In the opening article, the gifted writer, Maurice Thompson, takes a comprehensive glance at "Literature and Life in the Old South." After depicting in living colors the glory of ante-bellum days in Dixie-land, he points out the cause of the scanty product of Southern writers before the War, and calls attention to the suddenness with which the hitherto feeble rivulet developed into a bold and noble stream after the abolition of slavery. Next follows a splendidly written and discriminating critique by Dr. John J. Tigert of James Lane Allen's recent novel, "The Reign of Law." "The Origin of Egyptian Civilization" is the title of an instructive and enjoyable paper by M. B. Chapman, D. D., who shows that according to recent archæological discovery, "human civilization had its origin in the valley of the Euphrates," the biblical record upon this point being thus strikingly confirmed. Prof. Edwin Wiley, M. A., of Vanderbilt University, has a very readable and attractive article on "George Inness: A Painter of the Inward Light." Edwin W. Bowen, Ph.D., Professor of Latin in Randolph-Macon College, ably and entertainingly discusses "Charles Lamb as Critic and Essayist." The well-known writer, Will T. Hale, contributes a charming article on "The Romantic Interest of the Tennessee Mountains."

In our opinion, the most timely, valuable, and thought-provoking article in this issue is one by Jos. W. Van Cleve, Esq., anent "The Influence of Corporations on Morals and Religion." It is a masterly presentation of the subject, and ought to be widely read. We regret that we have not space to reproduce it. In a carefully-prepared paper on "The Small College in the South," Prof. Andrew Sledd, M. A., of Emory College, brings out some startling facts regarding the status of the majority of the schools in the South claiming to be colleges, and makes it evident that a deplorably defective public sentiment prevails among us in respect to education. Prof. Sledd's article ought to be read by every college president and professor and by every member of the Board of Trustees of every college in the South. While some, no doubt, will wince under the facts here presented, the truth ought by all means to be known, and in making it known Prof. Sledd has done the public a real service. "Columbus as a Typical Hero" is the subject of a forceful and meritorious contribution by Prof. Frederick W. Moore, of Vanderbilt University.

The editorial departments are crowded with attractive and helpful matter. The Review is unquestionably a magnificent periodical. We do not see how a wide-awake preacher or layman can afford to be without it.

NEW BOOKS.

THE HEALING OF THE NATIONS. A TREATISE ON MEDICAL MISSIONS. STATEMENT AND APPEAL. By J. Ritter Williamson, Traveling Secretary Student Volunteer Movement. 95 pages. Cloth. Price, 40 cents. Published by Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, 3 West 29th street, New York.

As the author states in the Preface: "This little volume has been written primarily to provide an outline of medical missions, for the use of students and young people in Missionary Study Classes. There has also been kept in mind the far larger circle of Christian people whose interest in the work of missionary medicine has been limited by their scanty information on the subject. It is not such a book as would be read aloud, for instance, at a woman's sewing meeting, but it is rather intended for study and individual perusal. Its aim is to present facts that ought to be pondered in the hearts of Christian men and women in the church of Christ, and the subject makes a special claim upon the consideration of those who are members of the medical and nursing professions."

In this book the appalling need of medical mission work in heathen countries is graphically pictured, and much valuable information is given. We regard it as an admirable and highly useful little volume. It is of such a nature that it can hardly fail to prove of great interest to all earnest, truth-seeking Christians. The author, who is a medical graduate of Edinburgh University, has done his work well.

THE LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF ITINERANT LIFE. An Autobiography of Rev. Simon Peter Richardson, D. D., of the North Georgia Conference. With an Introduction by Rev. John B. Robins, D. D. 12 mo. 288 pages. Cloth. Price, $1. Nashville, Tenn., Dallas, Texas: Publishing House M. E. Church, South; Barbee & Smith, Agents.

We question whether a more thrilling or edifying autobiography has been published during this century than this one just from the press. Dr. Richardson, whose itinerant ministry covered a period of nearly sixty eventful years, was a man of striking originality, splendid intellectual gifts, and great force of character; and in his day and generation accomplished a truly marvelous work in the kingdom of God. Few men in the church have equalled him, either in usefulness or in saintliness. Take him all in all, he was a wonderful man. The story of his life, written at the request of the North Georgia Conference, and which he was spared by a kind Providence to finish, reads like a romance. It is an autobiography that will delight and inspire old and young, saint and sinner, preacher and layman, and is certain to have an immense sale. We feel sure that it will be read with great interest and enjoyment by members of other denominations than our own, for it is a book entirely free from narrow sectarianism. The volume abounds with interesting facts and stirring incidents, the narrative being enlivened by frequent flashes of the author's characteristic humor.

NOTES.

A man may live without God and without hope in the world, but he does not like to die that way.—Exchange.

***

Bishop Galloway is one of the directors of the recently chartered Jackson, Columbus and Northeastern Railroad.

***

Prof. Chas. R. Forster, professor of Latin and Greek in the Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Ga., states that that school opened with 248 students.

***

On our fifth page will be found a report from Dr. W. H. LaPrade, to which it is desired that the brethren of the Louisiana Conference will give special attention.

***

It is greatly to be regretted that Miss Clara Barton's health failed her in the midst of her noble work at Galveston. She has been obliged to return to New York to seek restoration.

***

Raising money by suppers has had no part in the Holston missionary movement. To reach the pocket-book by way of the stomach is to miss the conscience entirely.—Midland Methodist.

***

The chair of elocution and oratory in the academic and biblical department of Vanderbilt University, which was made vacant by the death of Prof. Merrell, has been filled by the election of Prof. L. R. Hamberlin.

***

We are glad to note that the police of this city were unusually vigilant in enforcing the Sunday law last Sabbath. A number of saloon-keepers were arrested who have always heretofore kept open on the Sabbath.

***

A revival meeting is in progress at Capitol Street Church, Jackson. The pastor, Rev. C. F. Emery, is assisted by Rev. T. B. Clifford. The attendance is large and considerable interest is manifested. We hope to chronicle large results.

***

Mrs. S. C. Trueheart, the corresponding secretary, has favored us with a copy of the Twenty-second Annual Report of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of the M. E. Church, South. It is a neat and carefully prepared document, and is replete with facts and statistics of great interest.

***

Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, president of the National W. C. T. U., is quoted by the Chicago Times-Herald as making this very sensible statement: "I do not believe in endless chains, whether they are for prayer or for more worldly matters; and when I received such a petition recently, I consigned it to the waste-basket. The endless-chain idea was started by individual members, and they alone are responsible."

***

Says the Nashville correspondent of the St. Louis Advocate: "Vanderbilt University opened last Wednesday (Sept. 19) with a full attendance. The law department was double that of last year. Bishop Hargrove conducted the devotional services, and Chancellor Kirkland addressed the students, and paid a high and beautiful tribute to the character and work of Prof. A. H. Merrell. A reception was given the new students in the chapel of the university on Friday night."

In the religious census taken in Toronto, only four persons out of 143,000 wished to be enrolled as Free Thinkers, two as Infidels, five as Atheists, and one as a Universalist.—Zion's Outlook.

***

Rev. P. R. Knickerbocker, the progressive pastor at Crowley, sends us the following encouraging news: "Bishop C. B. Galloway was with us on Friday night, and delivered one of his masterful addresses on the Twentieth Century Thank-offering Movement. He secured in cash and subscription $408.45, with more to follow."

***

Rev. B. F. White, pastor of Dryades Street Church, who has been absent several weeks at Alexandria, on a vacation, returned to the city last week much improved. As he did not feel sufficiently strong to preach on last Sabbath, his pulpit was filled at eleven A. M. by Rev. John F. Foster, and at night by the assistant editor.

***

Prof. L. C. Glenn takes the place of Dr. J. M. Safford in the chair of geology in Vanderbilt University. Prof. Glenn is a native of North Carolina, received his bachelor's degree at the University of South Carolina, and Ph.D. at the Johns Hopkins University. He comes to Vanderbilt with the highest recommendations.—Nashville Advocate.

***

A few weeks ago, under the leadership of Pastor P. O. Lowrey, a new Methodist mission was opened on Ursuline avenue, in a center of great spiritual destitution. Services are held on Thursday night of each week, the attendance being gratifyingly large. A Sunday-school, as yet rather small, is conducted on Sunday afternoon. The mission promises well.

***

We trust that prompt and generous response will be made to the appeal by Bishop Candler (printed on our first page), in behalf of our churches in Texas that have suffered such heavy loss by the recent storm. He requests that contributions be sent at once to Presiding Elder O. T. Hotchkiss, Houston, Texas. We will gladly forward to their proper destination all funds sent to this office for the relief of the storm sufferers, or in aid of church rebuilding, and due acknowledgment will be made.

***

We are in receipt of an appreciated letter from Dr. J. B. Fearn, in which he says: "We had a most delightful stay in Chicago at the Moody Bible Institute, and God has blessed us with a more earnest desire to serve him in the winning of souls to his kingdom. We will sail on the 'Coptic,' Oct. 10, and will arrive in Shanghai, Nov. 5, where we will, perhaps, be detained for a while." Dr. Fearn asks us to say that as he will not have any use for them in China, he is desirous of selling the Chinese suits worn by himself and wife when they lectured in New Orleans and elsewhere in the interest of the foreign mission cause. The suits are complete in every respect, and will be sold at a considerable reduction from the cost price. Mrs. Fearn's suit, the Doctor thinks, is worth $25. His own he prices at $20. The two will be sold together for $40. The suits have been sent to Dr. Fearn's sister, Mrs. F. G. Hudson, Yazoo City, Miss., and all who may desire further information with reference to these Chinese costumes are requested to communicate with her.

***

The position of an editor is not enviable, if the matter of leisure to follow one's literary inclinations be considered. He must read much; but his reading is under constraint and of a kind which the necessities of this work indicate. Our people peruse the newspapers as a matter of pleasure, passing over what is not directly instructive or entertaining; the editor must go through his exchanges perforce of duty, and can not choose between paragraphs if he would do justice to his own journal. Between constant shifting of current literature and editing, writing and proof-reading, he finds little time for the study of books. Unless he makes himself an unusually busy man, he will either become a poor editor or a poor student; and he often becomes both. His position is not one to be coveted overmuch. These convictions were expressed years ago, and we find them gathering strength with time.—Editor Epworth Era.

[Our experience fully coincides with that of Editor Dubose.]

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss. EDITOR.

MISSISSIPPI.

Show your faith by your works. Some people are so much afraid that their left hand will find out what the right hand doeth, that they will not allow the right hand to do anything.

No Epworth League should allow its pastor to report a deficit on any of the collections. A band of young people can do great things when they make up their minds to do it.

Now is the time to press the battle. The Twentieth Century Thank-offering is to be raised; the collections ordered by the Annual Conference are to be raised, and, in many cases, more than half of the pastor's salary is yet unpaid. All coming at once, will have a tendency to discourage some, but let the Leaguers come to the front in force, and let us see to it that Mississippi Methodism makes the best report this year it has ever made in its history.

We learn that some of the State officers are resigning. This is to be very much regretted. Now is the time for every one to stay at his post.

It has been five months since the session of our State League Conference, and, so far as we are able to learn, practically nothing has been done. It is impossible to do a year's work in six or seven months. So we think that there has been talk enough; the matter has been discussed and "Protested," then rediscussed, then "Brotherly Protested," then "Brotherly Protested" again, till we have spent half of the year. Now, let us get to work. What do you say? Then all at it, at once.

Let all Leagues take up the new course of study on the first of October. If you haven't secured the books, order them from the Publishing House at once. Cost only $1.75.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

TWENTIETH CENTURY FUND.

I have received reports from the following charges outside the city of New Orleans. I wish to make a statement through the ADVOCATE at an early date, and beg that all preachers in charge report to me at once: 1. Total amount subscribed from beginning; 2. Total amount paid on same.

Brethren, please report, however small the sum.

Charges reported by preachers to date:

Arcadia District—Ruston, Calhoun, Summerville, Homer.

Alexandria District—None.

Baton Rouge District—St. Helena.

Delhi District—None.

Opelousas District—Morgan City, Franklin, West Lake, Patterson, Gladhomme.

Shreveport District—South Bossier, Minton, Grand Cane.

WM H. LAPRADE.

1407 State St., New Orleans, La.

An Interesting Letter from Bro. W. M. Stevens.

The Summer Course of "The Moody Bible Institute" is over; was completed last Tuesday, the eighteenth instant. It was indeed a very profitable course, covering the Gospels, and Revelation, and the books of Psalms, Job, Amos, Hosea, Isaiah and Daniel; also a comprehensive course on the inspiration of the Bible. This course of lectures was delivered by Dr. J. M. Gray, of Boston. A careful examination was held on each subject, and a certificate of proficiency is given to each student who makes 75 per cent. in the examination. I will get my certificate to-day, and will return to my work in a few days, feeling better prepared, by God's help, through the agency of the Spirit, to lead men to Christ and "feed the flock of God."

"The Christian Worker's Convention" is now in session here; a great gathering of brainy, consecrated men and women, from far and near. When I came here, the first of April, I had the ADVOCATE sent to my address at 80 Institute Place, for six months. You will please stop the copy which comes to my address here, and continue to send paper to my address at Lake, Miss., and oblige. May God continue to bless the ADVOCATE, its editors and readers!

Yours truly, W. M. STEVENS.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 24, 1900.

Storm Sufferers' Fund.

Previously reported	$ 2 00
Methodist congregation, Carrollton, Miss.	10 00
Total	$12 00

Home Mission Society.

EDITORS.

Mrs. J. B. Stone, of North Miss. Conference
Conference Officers of Mississippi Conference
Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Louisiana Conference

The programmes for Week of Prayer have been distributed, and the corresponding secretary requests that each auxiliary observe the week faithfully. If not convenient for each society to meet at the time appointed by the Programme Committee, let some other week be selected. We quote from the Fourteenth Annual Report, as to the observance of the Week of Prayer last year, and hope it will be observed by more than ten auxiliaries this year.

"The Week of Prayer was faithfully observed by some Conferences, while others neglected it. This special week, with all the spiritual, intellectual, and financial interests that center about it, is of vital importance. It is the heart whose pulse beats register the strength of the invisible forces within. Conference and auxiliary societies whose interests are closely identified with that of the general society do not fail to observe the week. The Week of Prayer collections amounted to $1,771. Though in excess of last year, it is not equal to the collection of $2,000 raised in 1893-94, when the society was only one-third of its present membership. Plans and preparations for this week laid in the Summer or early Fall exceed in results those adopted in the week or ten days just preceding it. The adoption of a wise plan for the year's work would secure more satisfactory results. (Inestimable effects would follow if the first and second quarters of the year were utilized in bringing up the Conference pledge made at the board meeting, the third quarter to conserve the interests of the Week of Prayer, and the fourth to be improved in perfecting and completing the year's plans.) Is it loyal or disloyal for a Conference Society to say, because it contributes its collections to the general treasury: 'We are sending our money away from home?' All the land is home, and every one a sister! The golden-capped receptacle holds the orange juice at first in distinctly cleft portions, but when fevered hands press the yellow rind and fevered lips drink the sweet nectar, comes it not from all the divisions, a united flow? The seven prismatic colors of light, each distinct, beautiful, are not perfect or capable of highest usefulness until united into one. Each Conference is a whole, and yet each is a part of the whole, incomplete, until blended into perfect unity."

As the Conference secretary was not instructed to pledge any amount for the general work at the Board Meeting, she only promised to do her best (See pledges made on page 79, Fourteenth Annual Report); so she urges that each auxiliary make a special effort to make the Week of Prayer collection as large as possible, and also requests that the money go undirected and not for specials.

ANNA S. HARMON, Editor.

New Orleans Preachers' Meeting.

Present: S. S. Keener, W. H. LaPrade, R. H. Wynn, J. F. Foster, F. N. Parker, G. D. Parker, M. M. Black, P. H. Fontaine, C. D. Atkinson. Absent: K. W. Dodson, B. F. White.

Additions reported: Carrollton, 2; Werlein Mission, 18; Louisiana Avenue, 6; Rayne Memorial, 1; Parker Memorial, 6; Felicity, 1.

Increase was the note sounded.

Pastor Fontaine reported the Gouldsboro revival a success. Rev. G. D. Parker reported a nice collection taken for Galveston Methodism. Burgundy Street Church will be repaired.

The outlook for Sunday-school work in this city is good.

Presiding Elder Keener is well again.

The "True Mission of Protestantism" will be discussed at next meeting. Rev. M. M. Black will lead. C. D. ATKINSON, Sec.

India Famine Relief Fund.

Previously reported	$280 30
Dr. Henry Flowers, Auburn, Miss.	3 50
Total	$283 80

Grand Revival at Searcy, Ark.

I have just closed our Methodist Tent Meeting, conducted by Jno. B. Andrews. In many respects it is the most successful meeting I have ever had. The preaching was O. K. The entire city was moved. For over two weeks 1200 to 1500 people attended in sunshine or rain. All business was suspended at the hours for preaching. Over 250 made a public confession. About 225 have made application for church membership. Many were reclaimed and the church graciously revived. We expect to reap a rich harvest. Love to old friends of Louisiana and Mississippi Conferences.

H. R. SINGLETON.

Searcy, Ark.

The Opening at East Mississippi Female College.

The East Mississippi Female College had the greatest opening yesterday of any in its history. Before the college was opened there were 125 boarders in the building, and now the number runs to 150, and more coming in every day.

President Beeson was compelled to rush the erection of the new annex No. 2 that is now under contract, for he never turns any away, but says there is "always room for one more."

The town patronage was larger than ever before, which shows how much the local people are appreciating this excellent institution.

The conservatory of music is larger than at any opening before, the departments of vocal, violin and stringed instruments all being encouraging, as well as the piano department. The art department bids fair to be larger than ever before, and the stenography, typewriting and bookkeeping are filling up rapidly

The new department of fancy dressmaking and finishing is being encouraged by the dress goods merchants as well as by the ladies of the town who want fine work done at a low price, and also by those who want to study the art in an extensive manner, with the late points from a graduate of the McDowell School in New York.

The new chair of domestic science seems to be very popular, judging from the large number that are already enrolled both from town and in the college.

The college looks beautiful in its new coat of paint, which is the color of Milwaukee brick, with green blinds, making a pretty contrast. Everything about the college looks clean and fresh and in fine sanitary condition, that it must be necessarily very healthy to those who live there.

This institution is not only an ornament to the town but is one of the finest and most thoroughly equipped colleges for young ladies in all the South.—Meridian Daily Star.

Report from the Wilkinson Circuit, Mississippi Conference.

I have just held three meetings with very gratifying results. First, a five days' meeting at Macedonia, embracing the fourth Sunday in August. Results: Twenty-five accessions to the church, a number of conversions, and the church generally revived. The preaching was done by Rev. B. H. Rawls, of Tylertown, Miss. The next meeting was held at Hopewell, and resulted in five accessions to the church. Number of conversions not known. The membership was aroused to renewed zeal and consecration. The meeting was conducted by the pastor, assisted by Rev. C. H. Hastings. The third meeting, held at Mt. Carmel, lasted five days, and resulted in the addition of twelve members to the church. Rev. J. W. McLaurin, of Gloster, Miss., who kindly came out to assist me, did most of the preaching. C. C. GRIFFIN, P. C.

Hiram P. O., Miss.

To Coddle Dirt use soap. To clean clothes quickly use Pearline

Do You Know?
That when your bowels are disordered, and irregularities caused by change of diet or location exist,
Brodie's Astringent Cordial
Will correct all the troubles, and never fails, but
CURES
DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, CRAMPS, BLOODY FLUX, and Such Symptoms.
TESTIMONIAL.
July 25, 1899.
Dear Sirs:—I have used Brodie's Astringent Cordial in my family, and am using the third bottle. It always acts like a charm upon my children, correcting ailments of the bowels better than any medicine I ever tried.
Yours, most respectfully, MRS. A. W. MOORE.
Price: 50 cts. and $1 a Bottle.
I. L. LYONS & CO., New Orleans, La.
Sold by All Druggists.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY AND THE BIBLE HOUSE.

The recent statements in certain papers concerning the financial condition of the American Bible Society and its reasons for offering the Bible House for sale are wholly false and without foundation. The Society's work is enlarging rather than contracting. It has but recently opened agencies in Cuba, Puerto Rico, and Manila. Its agencies in Siam and Central America have been opened within the last ten years. It circulated last year nearly half a million copies of the Bible, or portions of the Bible, in China alone. The average issues for the last twenty years have been about 1,500,000 a year. There have been fluctuations from year to year. Last year the issues were 1,406,801 copies.

Its receipts vary from year to year owing to the uncertainty of the amount received from legacies.

The Society is not in financial straits, and its appropriations for foreign work have never exceeded those of the last few years.

Its domestic circulation has been contracted because the domestic need has been very largely diminished in the settled communities of this country.

The work of the Society will undoubtedly continue, as in the past, to merit and receive the liberal support of the churches. Its only reasons for considering the possible sale of the Bible House are business reasons connected with the value of the property and the desirability of its location for commercial purposes. As the Society does not make any profit on its publications it is not in any way in the competitive trade; its sole object is benevolent. It gives to peoples of all nations correct, well-made, and inexpensive copies of the Bible at the mere cost of production. It also makes large free grants to the poor and needy in this and many lands.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Iuka Normal Institute, the pioneer normal of the South, manipulated by Pres. H. A. Dean, who is widely known as one of the foremost, common-sense educators in the land. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.
Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.
SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 64
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,283 48
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,911 02
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,325 36
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,236 38

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY
are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.
Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.
Post & Bowles. New Orleans, La
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

A Slave Holder's Daughter.
BY BELLE KEARNEY.
Cloth, 12 Mo, Fully Illustrated. $1.
This is a book which photographs the new South in contrast with the old. It deals especially with the evolution of Southern women—their surprising energy in leaping from the lap of the old, fendal, luxurious life to meet the stern realities of to-day. The author herself belongs by birthright to the old regime, while in full sympathy with the new condition. She writes from the inside, and pictures in her vivid and throbbing pages the situation down in Dixie as it relates to the people, education, the woman question, temperance, the economist, etc. All those who would have an inside knowledge of Dixie's Land as it is to-day should read it.
THE ABBEY PRESS, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

W. W. Carre & Co.
LUMBER,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Excursions.

The New Orleans and Northeastern railroad announces that, commencing with Wednesday, April 25, it will inaugurate the popular Wednesday excursions to St. Tammany parish, including Covington, Abita Springs, Pearl River, Slidell, and all intermediate stations.

The attractions to sportsmen, as well as the healthfulness of St. Tammany parish, are constantly increasing the popularity of these resorts.

Great improvement has been made, both by the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad and the East Louisiana railroad, in the track, which is being rapidly relaid with heavy steel rails, and in the equipment, thereby affording the excursionist the best of accommodations.

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

EUGENE FIELD'S POEMS: A $7.00 BOOK
THE Book of the Century. Handsomely illustrated by thirty-two of the World's Greatest Artists.
Given Free
to each person interested in subscribing to the Eugene Field Monument Souvenir Fund. Subscribe any amount desired. Subscriptions as low as $1 will entitle donor to his choice of this beautiful volume,
"FIELD FLOWERS"
(cloth bound, 8x11), as a certificate of subscription to fund. Book contains a selection of Field's best and most representative works and is ready for delivery.
But for the noble contribution of the world's greatest artists this book could not have been manufactured for less than $7.
The Fund created is divided equally between the family of the late Eugene Field and the Fund for the building of a monument to the memory of the beloved poet of childhood. Address
Eugene Field Monument Souvenir Fund,
(Also at Book Stores.) 180 Monroe St., Chicago.
If you also wish to send postage, enclose 10 cts.
Mention this Journal, as Adv. is our Contribution.

IUKA NORMAL INSTITUTE
Iuka, Miss.
Nineteenth year begins Sept. 4, 1900. Terms reasonable—advantages superior. Satisfaction guaranteed to all working pupils. Write for the handsomest catalogue of the season.
H. A. DEAN, Pres.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE,
(ESTABLISHED 1859.)
BROOKHAVEN, MISS.
A. F. WATKINS, D. D., President. REV. M. L. BURTON, V. Pres. and Bus. Mgr.
The session will open Sept. 12, 1900. Unusual advantages are offered by this historic institution.
Campus large and beautiful. Buildings commodious, being thoroughly repaired.
Hot and cold water in the dormitories. Electric lights in every room.
Healthfulness unsurpassed. Course of study comprehensive and thorough.
Faculty carefully selected. Our facilities for doing work in the Departments of Music, Painting, and the Industrial Arts are very fine.
Our Motto: "Do Right."
Our Aim: The development of the highest type of Christian womanhood.
Our Charges are moderate. Write for a Catalogue.
A card addressed to WHITWORTH FEMALE COLLEGE, Brookhaven, Miss., will receive prompt attention

Grenada Female College
Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.
PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.
W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

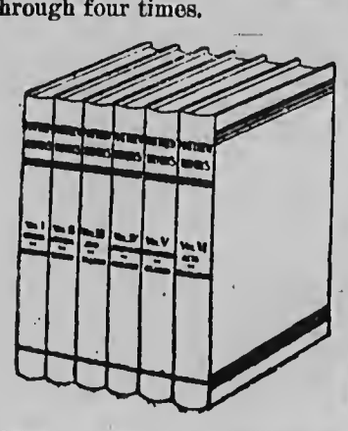
Home of Swamp-Root.

Matthew Henry's Commentary

on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.

Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.

Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied: "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.



Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.

3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.

Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.

Cheapest and Best Commentary.

Best cloth binding—good type.

Write to

Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, · New Orleans

A RARE BARGAIN.

THE VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to October, 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

YOUR WORK.

BY JEANNETTE M'MILLAN.

Just do the daily round of work,
And do it with your might;
Don't fret because it seems so small,
You're fighting the "good fight."

You serve as truly when you stay
At home, and do your part
With loving tact, and watchful zeal;
The Lord knows all your heart.

Don't get discouraged if you "faint,"
And often have to rest;
When we are weak, then he is strong;
Then he can do his best.

It's an honor that he lets us
Do e'en a little thing,
And though we have to wait and rest,
We still may serve our King.

—Christian Intelligencer.

A DINNER PAIL STORY.

BY CHARLES H. DORRIS.

Bessie Jones and Sallie Wattles lived so far from the school-house that every day they took their dinners with them. And such nice dinners, too—snowy bread spread with sweet, golden butter; toothsome chicken, or beef, or hard-boiled eggs; great pieces of pie or cake, sometimes both; a big apple or two, or peaches, plums or pears; sometimes grapes, and sometimes strawberries; and pickles! Certainly the little girls never lacked for enough to eat, and almost always they ate together.

"I wonder why it is," asked Sallie Wattles one noon, "that Kittie Burns always goes off by herself all alone to eat her dinner?"

"It is funny," answered Bessie. "Only yesterday I asked her to eat with us, but she blushed red as a peony, said something I could not understand, and then went off alone, and I thought she was crying after she left me."

"Perhaps she hasn't much to eat," exclaimed Sallie, "and is ashamed."

"Oh! And that makes me remember," said Bessie. "Once last week I saw her stub her toe, and all the dinner fell out of her pail. But there were only a couple of slices of bread, with no butter on them that I could see!"

"That's just it!" said Sallie.

For a moment the little girls lunched away, and then they both spoke at once:

"I say, Bessie!"

"I say, Sallie!"

Then they laughed, and Bessie said: "I know, Sallie, that you were going to say just what I was, that we'd take some of our fruit to poor Kittie Burns. There she is now by the big elm tree, and eating alone as usual."

After hastily brushing up the crumbs and putting away their pails, they ran over by the big tree.

"O Kittie," Sallie exclaimed, "here's a red apple, more'n we could eat, and you must help us out with it. And can't you come over Saturday afternoon and go with me to Bessie's? We'll have such a nice time."

Just then the teacher unexpectedly passed by; and whether she did it purposely or not I can not say, but she was humming loud enough for the little girls to hear:

"Little deeds of kindness,
Little words of love,
Makes this world an Eden,
Like the heaven above."

That noon hour was the beginning of a new life for Kittie, and wonderfully did she develop under its happy influence. And the widowed mother sang many a song when by herself alone because of what Sallie and Bessie had done for her little fatherless girl.—Zion's Herald.

GO TO COLLEGE.

Many young men and women are considering the college question just now. They are counting the cost, and are wondering whether the benefits to be secured from a college course will compensate them for the time and effort involved. But there is really no room for debate. The arguments are all on one side. Young people should attend college:

1. That they may be better prepared for life. Young people are eager to begin early. They should be more eager to begin well prepared. Too many come into active life like Ephraim—"a cake not turned," or a cake half-baked.

2. Because it increases their efficiency. An untrained mind is a dull tool. "If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength."

3. To acquire mental control. The mental faculties will either be an army or a mob. It takes drill to create an army.

4. To widen their horizon. "No perspective, no ambition." The "college outlook" is worth all the "practical experience" that could be obtained in many times four years.

5. For the benefit of the college associations. Contact with teachers and with fellow-students under the happiest circumstances is most valuable. Self-respect, humility, and sympathy are all developed by it.

6. To get a correct philosophy of life. Right views of God, his word, his plan, and his kingdom are fundamental. Right attitudes are essential. "The inquiring love of truth and the devoted love of goodness" are about the best results of a true college training.

7. Because a college education pays. The facts prove that a liberal education adds ten years to a man's life. He is prepared to do at thirty what he would not be able to do until forty without such training.

Not all young people who go through college succeed. Some fail utterly. But the chances of success are multiplied many fold. The world is full of examples of this fact.

Go to college, my boy, or girl. Never mind about the obstacles which may be in your way. Face them resolutely. Conquer them. Go to college even if you have almost no money to pay the bills. Thousands of the best men and women among college graduates worked their way through. What they did you can do.—Epworth Herald.

FROM A BUSHEL OF CORN.

Here is the analysis given by a Kentucky newspaper:

From a bushel of corn the distiller gets four gallons of whisky, which retails at..... $16 80

The farmer gets.....	.25
The U. S Government gets	4 40
The railroad company gets	1 00
The manufacturer gets....	4.00
The drayman gets.....	.15
The retailer gets.....	7.00
The customer gets.....	Drunk
The wife gets.....	Hunger
The children get.....	Rags
The politician gets.....	Office

THE NEW CANCER CURE.

All forms of Malignant Growths Cured by Dr. Hathaway's Serum Treatment.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.

Dr. Hathaway's New Serum Treatment for the cure of Cancer, and other malignant growths is as much of an advance in medical science as was vaccination for small-pox. Thousands of cases treated and cured by him have proved this. The method is entirely unlike any other.

T. T. Osby, of Tnia Rosa, N. M., stated: "For several years I had what was supposed to be a pipe sore on the lip. It finally developed into a Cancer. In Oct. 1898, I consulted Dr. Hathaway & Co., and then applied their Serum Treatment. One injection cured me."

Mrs. I. N. Rogers, 133 N. Rozborn St., Memphis, Tenn., states: "I had a Cancer in the corner of my eye that extended down on my cheek and nose. Several so-called Cancer doctors and their burning treatments failed; but Dr. Hathaway's new Serum Treatment cured me in six weeks without pain."

Full information, together with Dr. Hathaway's New Book on Cancer, will be mailed free.

J. NEWTON HATHAWAY, M. D.,
DR. HATHAWAY & CO.,
420 B Main St. Cleveland Block, MEMPHIS, TENN.

HOW TO SAVE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

In the Ladies' Home Journal Edward Bok takes up the cudgel again against the cramming methods inflicted on school children, and urges as a step toward a reform of the abuse "that every parent who has a child at school will send a note to the teacher that, under no circumstances whatever, will the father and mother permit any home-study by the child.

"This may seem to be a very simple thing to do," he contends, "but often the simplest things are the most effective. If the teachers of this country should, within the next month, receive thousands of notes from parents to the effect pointed out, which they could—and I can speak for hundreds of teachers when I say that they would gladly do so—hand to the heads of their schools, it would practically mean a readjustment of the entire system of study. This may be better understood when it is realized that the entire system of study during school hours in many of the schools is so arranged as to allow for some of the work to be done by the pupils at home. Let this taken-for-granted home study be stopped, and a change would at once have to be made. The studies at school can not be increased in number, for already there are too many. The school hours can not be lengthened, because the tide has set in to shorten them. Hence some studies would have to be thrown out, if home study were eliminated. And this is the result desired."

HIS HEAVY BASKET.

Passing along a busy street the other day, says one, I saw a boy carrying a basket full to the brim, which seemed to tax his strength to its utmost capacity. Indeed, at times it looked by his jerks and extra efforts as if its weight would bear him down beneath it in spite of his plucky determination. I observed to him:

"My boy, that basket is rather heavy for you to carry, is it not?"

"Yes, sir," he replied. Then an even more determined expression came into his bright young face, as he added, "But I'd rather carry it than that my mother should have to do it."

Brave boy! He had the right idea of life, although his clothes were shabby and old.—Selected.

"Mrs. Bryan is a woman of action—a successful woman," says Harper's Bazar. "She has been admitted to the bar—a full-fledged lawyer. She is interested in the reforms in which her sex take to-day the initiative; she is a club woman; she is a student whose mind is a storehouse of information on all subjects that pertain to her husband's duties and ambitions. It was said that the speech in Congress which first brought Mr. Bryan into national prominence was written by his wife. She is eminently able to have done so, and the rumor doubtless arose from the fact that she does assist her husband in his work. Yet, with all the rest, Mrs. Bryan is versed in domestic arts and sciences—a good housekeeper and a good mother. She is a rare instance of the logically impossible woman who accomplishes a man's success at no expense to her own."

A patient was arguing with his doctor on the necessity of his taking a stimulant; he urged that he was weak and needed it. Said he, "But, doctor, I must have some kind of a stimulant; I'm cold, and it warms me." "Precisely," came the doctor's crusty answer. "See here; this stick is cold"—taking up a piece of wood from the box beside the hearth and tossing it into the fire. "Now it is warm, but is the stick benefited?" The sick man watched the wood first send out little puffs of smoke and then burst into a flame, and replied, "Of course not; it is burning." "And so you are when you warm yourself with alcohol; you are literally burning up the delicate tissues of your stomach and brain."—Hurlbut.

A FABLE.

There was once a little toy engine that saw a magnificent locomotive speed along the shining track of the railroad, and the foolish little stationary engine said, "Why can not I be big and go like that?" So it puffed itself up with pride and put on more steam than it ever carried before. It did not move so much as a line, and it was mightily disappointed. "But I can do it!" said the little thing, and put on more steam. Still it did not move. Again it doubled its pressure until it trembled with excitement and could not produce a jot more steam under any circumstances. Still it did not move, and still it was not convinced. Then it did the only thing there was left for it to do—it exploded.

Its likeness is in many men. Instead of doing faithfully the work to which they are adapted and that God has given them to do, they desire to do as some one else is doing, and to occupy a more conspicuous position. Their end is similar to the fate of the little toy engine. After repeated efforts, in which they only appear ridiculous and demonstrate their own foolishness, they utterly collapse.

God has no use for imitations. When you are no longer content to be yourself, your ultimate end is fixed.—Zion's Herald.

IMPERIALISM.

Statesmen are crying out against the dangers of imperialism, and lift their hands in protest against war's destruction of money and men; but the most crushing, pitiless, autocratic, merciless imperialism of all ages is the liquor traffic with its 200,000 saloons, its $1,200,000,000 of capital, and its defiant boast that it controls 2,000,000 voters, and with imperious spirit declares it will destroy the political ambition of any man who dares to offend it. The politicians stand ready to do the bidding of this monster, though temperance and righteousness perish from the earth.—Western Christian Advocate.

DELICIOUS TEA PUNCH.

Put one tablespoonful of Ceylon or India tea into a large pitcher, and pour over one quart of boiling water; cover the pitcher, and stand it aside for ten minutes; strain and add a pound of sugar, the juice of six lemons and two oranges. Stand this aside until very cold. When ready to serve add ice and Apollinaris.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Father—"You seem to look at things in a different light since your marriage." His Newly-married Daughter—"Well, I ought to after receiving fourteen lamps and nine candelabras for wedding presents."—Harlem Life.

"Mama," cried little Willie from the bath-room, "please give me another sponge." "Why, what's the matter with the one you have?" asked the mother. "It's full of holes and leaks awfully," was the reply.—Exchange.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

10,600 frs.
National Prize at Paris

QUINA-LAROCHE

A Ferruginous Tonic
Pleasant to the taste; assimilate quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach troubles, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.
22 rue Drouot
PARIS
E. Fougera & Co.
Agents, N.Y.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. D. E. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,
NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES. Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY. Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering.

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments. Fall Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens November 1st.

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address
Secretary of University.

GROCERY MONEY SAVED

Is grocery money earned. And do you save it when you buy here?

Hundreds of housewives are glad they sent for King's Price List. They're saving money every week. You might just as well be saving too.

The Price List shows the littleness of prices; the goods speak most eloquently of their qualities.

The combination wins.

Send for Price List now.

I especially solicit out-of-town trade.

KING'S, DRYADES ST., NEW ORLEANS.

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.

Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for $2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot cordwood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

MONEY SAVED

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION, Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrives.
Memphis and Local.....	6:00 p. m	10:50 a. m
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:25 a. m	5:00 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Cis-Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

JESSE FRENCH PIANOS

ORGANS HAVE BEEN RECOGNIZED THE MOST POPULAR INSTRUMENTS IN WHOLE SOUTHWEST FOR NEARLY THIRTY YEARS.

FACTORIES are among the LARGEST in the U.S.

CATALOGS FREE

Jesse French Piano & Organ Co.

HOME OFFICE ST. LOUIS MISSOURI

Sales Agents & Representatives in all Large Cities

Sherwood Music School

FINE ARTS BUILDING, 203 Michigan Av. CHICAGO.

William H. Sherwood and Walton Perkins, Directors.

Highest Standard of Art. Faculty of eminent teachers. Catalog free on application. Fall Term Opens September 10.

WILLIAM R. PERKINS, Sec.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,

MILK · DEPOT,

SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.

CONFECTIONERIES.

DELIVERY FREE.

Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Suite 303—New Orleans National Bank Building,

306 Common St., New Orleans, La

OBITUARIES.

(Continued from Third Page.)

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

NORWOOD—MARY BALDWIN BAIRD was born in Wilkinson county, Miss., April 20, 1825; was married to Z. G. Norwood, March 23, 1843, and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sallie Ross, at Martel, Fla., July 16, 1900. In her early married life she came to St. Helena parish, La. It was here from my early childhood that I knew intimately the family. My step-father, Rev. B. Pipkin, who was an intimate friend and near neighbor, baptized every child that came into the home. In 1866 the family moved to East Feliciana parish, La., where, in 1868, the husband and father died, leaving her with a large family, the youngest of which was about a year old. Thus, for thirty-two years, she has lived a widowhood. Mother of ten children in the home at the death of her husband, she leaves only four, the others having preceded her to the other life, nearly all of the six dying in manhood and womanhood.

The last time I saw her she was on a visit to her son, Rev. Noel B. Norwood, then of the Louisiana Conference. Together with her son she met at the old Darlington Church, in St. Helena parish, on the third Sunday in April, 1868. Here, at the old altar hallowed by many sacred memories, we worshiped and wept together for the last time in this life. Soon after with her son, of whom I have spoken, was married in the Mississippi river. This was a severe stroke to her. Having married into the family in 1806, I kept up a correspondence with her, and amid all her afflictions and declining years she would ever speak hopefully of her future home. In 1876 she moved to Fort Worth, Texas, and a few years later to Dallas. Here she made her home. A short time before her death she spent a few months in Chicago with her daughter, Mrs. Fred H. Bowo. From there she went to visit a sister in Texas, returning home a short while before her death. Mrs. Ross and Lemuel, her youngest son, were at her bedside, and ministered to her to her last days. And when she fell asleep in the arms of her Lord her body was laid to rest in her adopted State, in St. John's cemetery.

Her son-in-law,
D. P. SHAUFORD.

BANKS—Whereas, On the twenty-fourth of June, 1900, God, in his own providence, saw fit to call to his heavenly home BRUCE BANKS, a member of this Sunday-school; therefore, be it Resolved, That in the death of this dear little boy his Sunday-school teacher and classmates feel that one of the brightest and most consecrated of their members has been taken from them to "make up his jewels."

Resolved, That while we are bowed in grief at the loss of one of our most loved members; we rejoice in the assurance that his pure little heart had been given to God, and although the summons "to come up higher" came "like a thief in the night," he was found ready "with his lamp trimmed and burning."

Resolved, That in the death of Bruce Banks, Crawford Street Sunday-school bows in humble submission to the decree of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven," for we feel our loss is his gain.

Resolved, To the sorrowing family we extend our heartfelt sympathies, although they sorrow not without hope, as they can feel the assurance that he is safe in the arms of Jesus.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread before the school, sent to his parents, and published in the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Committee: Teacher—Mrs. Scott Phillips; Classmates—Edwin Hopper, Tom Hughes Peck, Albert Richardson, Arthur Lea, Willie Braden.

PITTMAN—Little SUE MABEL ELMINA PITTMAN, of Jones county, Miss., died on the eighteenth day of July, about 6 o'clock A. M., aged two months and nineteen days.

After a few weeks of suffering this sweet little babe, redeemed by the blood of Christ, was called to her heavenly rest, God having provided something better in store for her than even parental love. Her sufferings are all ended now, and she rests in the arms of Jesus. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed comfort the parents.

Farewell, our darling Mabel,
You are gone, and gone to stay;
Delight yourself in glory,
For we are on the way.

GRANDPA.

PRICE—Mrs. REBECCA PRICE, whose maiden name was Kilpatrick, was born in Winston county in 1832, and died at her home near Sims, Miss., April 3, 1900. At the age of eighteen she was happily converted, and joined the Methodist Church. On Oct. 7, 1852, she was united in marriage to Mr. Geo. W. Price, from which union have sprung noble sons and daughters, three daughters preceding her to heaven, seven children (four boys and three girls) of whom, with her beloved husband, remain to mourn their loss.

Such is a brief summary of a noble, godly Christian life—a life whose perfect consistency and transparent beauty won the respect and confidence of all who came within the radius of its influence. She was an affectionate mother, gentle with her children. As a wife, she was of the noblest type, loving, kind, and true.

Mrs. Price was a modest, unassuming Christian. Her religion gave expression to itself in the highest forms of faith and in deeds of purest love. In all the relations of life she was faithful to duty. She had led an active, energetic life, and was engaged in home duties when stricken with paralysis. Her death was calm and serene, beautiful as the going down of the sun. Her name is embalmed in loving, grateful hearts, and her memory is like ointment poured forth. In the resurrection morning many will rise up and call her blessed.

M. E. D.

Sims, Miss.

BRANNAN—BENJAMIN WADE BRANNAN was born in the Cold Springs neighborhood, Wilkinson county, Miss., May 5, 1862, and died at the home of his birth, Aug. 20, 1900.

A noble, useful man has gone to the grave, and a pure, devoted spirit has entered into eternal rest. Beloved by all who knew him, he was almost idolized by the colored people, with whom he had large dealings as owner and manager of several extensive plantations. The central figure in all the country in which he lived; the oracle of council and the arbitrator of differences between neighbors; a most devoted and indulgent husband and father.

Bro. Brannan had very few educational advantages in early life, but being a great reader, he had acquired a large store of information, which he used to good account. He was truly a self-made man. Several times he had held offices of trust in the county, and it was his own election that he was not holding office at the time of his death. He died in the faith, with the full assurance that all was well with his soul. It was the verdict of all that his place could never be filled in the community, and that his memory will ever be green in the hearts of his countrymen. Marvelous were his works and many his deeds of charity, which are left as enduring monuments to his worth and goodness. What a heritage to his little children! Weep not, wife, children, sisters, for you can meet him again in the "house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

A FRIEND.

FORDERER—JAS. NORMAN FORDERER was born Jan. 14, 1894, and died July 23, 1900.

Little Norman, being the only boy in the home, was specially loved by his parents and sister, whom he leaves to mourn his departure. While a tender bud the Lord comes to receive him to his own precious abode; not left to the struggles of life and of disease, but suddenly taken while apparently in perfect health. While in company with his father and sister, as they were crossing the maddened stream, he fell from the log on which they were walking, and was soon borne from view. The father, in attempting to rescue his son, was brought nigh unto death. When the body of the son was found, it was cold and lifeless. He had gone to his eternal abode.

Grieve not, loved ones; the Savior hath said, "Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Does death end all? The white and perfect peace
That kiss es down the lids and calms the brow,
Is it the silence of the dreamless dust?

Ah, no, my friends; we'll meet our loved ones in a fairer world, where storms come no more.

His pastor, J. T. ARNEY.

Roxie, Miss.

WOODY—Among the pleasant memories of last year, spent in the parsonage at Mt. Pleasant, Miss., is a bright little boy, ROBERT OLIVAN WOODY, who lived near by, and who endeared himself to us by his winning ways and welcome visits. A preacher and his family never had better friends than those in little Oliver's home, and young as he was, it was his delight to carry something to the parsonage. He was the son of John W. and Luella Ivy Woody; born April 3, 1897, and after a brief illness went to heaven, Aug. 21, 1900. Only a short while ago these parents had to give up the little baby boy, Albert Ivy.

May the parents and brothers, who have been left here for awhile, think of these dear little ones as safe at home in our Father's house, waiting to welcome them to the haven of rest! May this trial help to draw them heavenward, and while our hearts are sad at much-loved little Oliver can no more cheer our home, we sorrow with a sweet hope.

One who loved him,
CARRIE E. COONALL.

Louisville, Miss.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that can not be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

(SEAL.) A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists; 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A great deal of time is contracted in opportunity, which is the flower of time.—Whichcoot

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Observed duties maintain our credit, but secret duties maintain our life.—Flavel.

Her Face
His Face
Her face was marred with freckles, his face was sore from shaving. Both were quickly cured with Heiskell's Ointment
the specific for all skin disorders, slight or severe. 50 cents a box.
Heiskell's Soap
Keeps the skin soft, smooth and healthy. Price 25 cents. Sample free.
Johnston, Holloway & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT. For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Dep't, The CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Druggists sell Large Bottles for $1.00.

WINE OF CARDUI

JOB PRINTING

- - All Kinds - -

AT THIS OFFICE.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to October, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

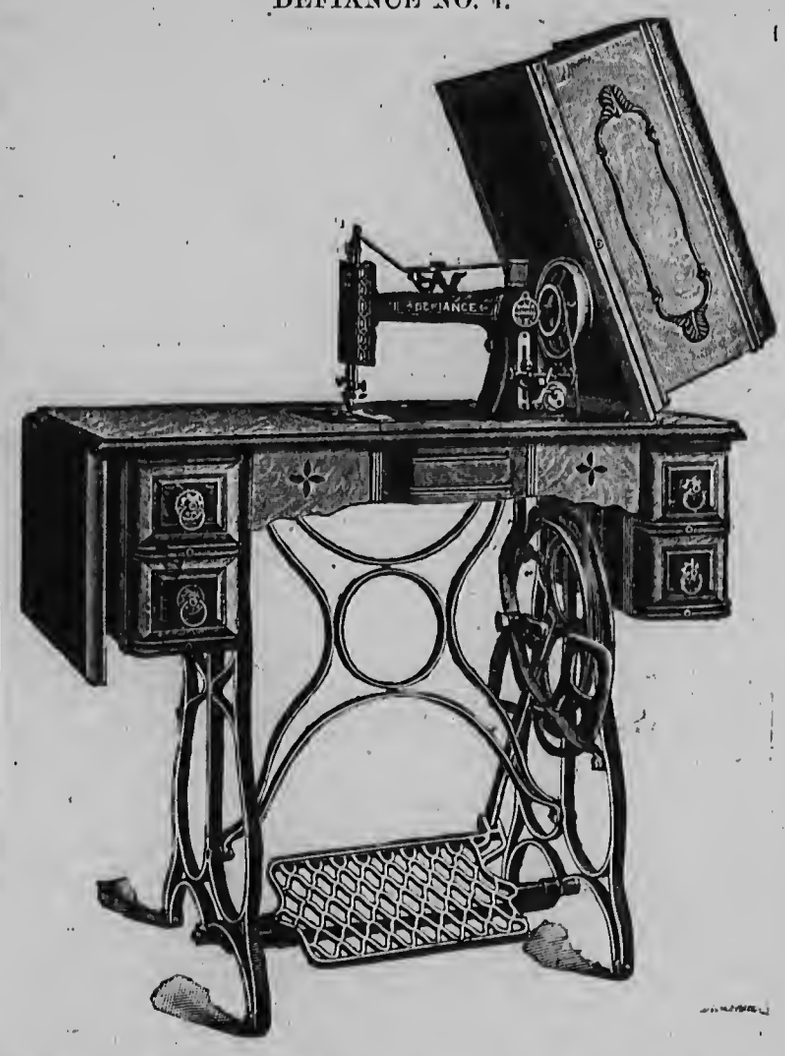
For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

DEFIANCE NO. 4.



The Defiance Machine is the perfection of simplicity, durability, speed, strength and ease of operation.

Construction. It is constructed of the best material in use, every bearing, without an exception being of steel or case-hardened.

The Mechanical Devices of this machine are a combination of tried mechanical principles. In detail it differs materially from other machines. Its simplicity is at once apparent, and its great durability is admitted by the best mechanical experts.

The Arm is large and roomy, 8x5½ inches in the clear.

No Vibration. This machine does not vibrate. Its motion is easy and quiet.

Lock Stitch. It is a lock-stitch shuttle machine.

Speedy, Light, Quiet. It is as speedy, light and quiet-running as any shuttle machine manufactured.

Double Feed—Positive Four-Motion. The double feed possesses advantages over all others. Its very shape and form obviates all the disadvantages arising from double feeds as they have heretofore been constructed, and combines in this machine all the advantages of both the single and double feed, doing away with the objections to either of them.

The operation of the feed mechanism is positive, giving an accurate four-motion movement to the feed without the use of springs.

The Needle Bar. This machine has a self-lubricating needle-bar, which is always kept clean, well-oiled, and the oil can not drop on the work and soil it.

The Needle is absolutely self-setting. No screwdriver is required in setting, a winged thumb nut being used instead.

The machine is self-threading. Put in the bobbin, draw the thread towards you, through the slot and, it is done.

The Loose Pulley for winding the bobbins without running the machine is so constructed as to admit of an instantaneous stoppage and starting of the machine without stopping the treadle movement—a valuable improvement peculiar to this machine.

Automatic Bobbin Winder. The bobbin winder operates automatically, winding the thread on the bobbin regularly and as evenly as the thread on a spool. Can be operated without running the machine.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

Additional Accessories. Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screwdriver, Oil Can filled with oil, Gauge and Thumb-screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

DEFIANCE NO. 7½.

This cut shows our new and popular style, the No. 7½ Defiance Drop Cabinet perfectly protecting the machine from dust, and making a convenient and ornamental stand. When machine is ready for use the head is in same position as on ordinary style; when through using, it requires only the turning over of the leaf of table, and the sewing machine head drops into the case or cabinet between the drawers, completely out of sight, forming a handsome table with highly polished top.

No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of one drawer at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $32. Our price, $18.

No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $34. Our price, $19.

No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $36. Our price, $20.

No. 7½ Machine, Drop head cabinet, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $38. Our price, $23.

All the woodwork is of the best quality, either Light Antique or Golden Oak Finish. For Walnut Woodwork add $2 to above list prices.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans.

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

THROW AWAY

YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of

CHILLIFUGE

will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

PATENTS

promptly procured. OR NOTEE. Send model, sketch, or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U. S. and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks," FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 26 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. PATENT LAWYERS, Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

STOP POUNDING YOUR DOUGH.

Every housewife should secure one of De MUTH'S DOUGH KNEADERS. Makes finest biscuits, whitest and lightest bread. Write for our booklet, "Beaten Biscuit," giving full particulars—FREE.

No work
No worry
No trouble
No pounding

J. A. De MUTH, St. Joseph, Mo.

MISSOURI MILITARY ACADEMY.

New buildings. Campus 100 acres. Model school home. Faculty of MEN—not boys—specialists from best schools of America and Europe.

YANCEY & FONVILLE, Mexico, Mo.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

It is thonght that on Jan. 1 there will still he 100,000 British troops in South Africa.

It is officially announced that Lord Roberts has been appointed commander-in-chief of the British army.

Stock subscriptions to the amount of $30,000 have been made to a new wagon factory company at Winona, Miss.

Mail reports from Tien Tsin confirm the cabled stories of the wreck and ruin attendant upon the military operations there.

It has been announced that a new steamship line would begin running from New Orleans to Puerto Rico on Oct. 20.

A company will be organized to develop extensive anthracite coal deposits in the Cascade Mountain district of Washington State.

Gen. Miles, in his annual report to the Secretary of War, will renew his recommendation for the further use of the automobile in the army.

It is estimated that Queen Victoria's investments in America amount to $15,000,000. She is also said to own large tracts of land in Illinois and Texas.

The Manchu assassin of Baron von Ketteler has been tried by a court-martial. No sentence was pronounced, but the prisoner will be held awaiting further evidence.

An immense crowd attended the meeting of the Anti-Imperialist League of New York at Cooper Union Hall. Carl Schnrz, the principal speaker, was roundly applauded.

The steamship "American" caught fire at her deck in this city, and $30,000 worth of cotton and wheat destroyed. Many firemen, while fighting the flames, were temporarily suffocated.

The striking miners in Pennsylvania have refused the proffered 10 per cent. advance in wages made by the mine operators, and declare they will remain out rather than desert the Union.

Democrats at Victor, Col., at which place Gov. Roosevelt was attacked by a mob, have passed resolutions deploring the violence and discourtesy shown the Republican vice presidential nominee.

The British Government is reported to have warned the Dutch that if Mr. Krueger is allowed to carry bullion or State archives on board the Dutch warship which is to take him to Europe, it will be regarded as a breach of neutrality.

It is reported from Washington via Berlin that Secretary Hay will return to the active discharge of his official duties next week, having made it conditional that President McKinley should give him an absolutely free hand in foreign affairs.

The legality of the "first cousins bill," passed by the Louisiana Legislature, and which prohibits marriage between first cousins, may be tested in the courts, the allegation being made that the law as promulgated differs from the measure adopted by the Legislature.

On Saturday, the first returns of the British parliamentary elections were made. These elections were in the uncontested districts, numbering considerably more than a hundred. These uncontested returns included the re-election of most of the present members of the Ministry and many of the leading Conservatives and Unionist members of the House of Commons.

United States Consul McWade, at Canton, reports the issuance of an imperial edict ordering Tuan, Kang Yi and other officials degraded and punished by imperial courts. The Emperor blames the ministers for the whole trouble, but holds Tuan and others responsible for the bloodshed.

James Howard was yesterday sentenced to be hanged Dec. 7 for the assassination of Gov. Goebel. In passing sentence Judge Cantrill expressed serious doubt as to the validity of the Appellate Court decision under which he was compelled to admit certain strong State evidence.

It seems that a demand for re enforcement has been made not only by General Young, but by every other brigadier in Luzon. With 63,000 soldiers under his command, General MacArthur must remain on the tenterhook until large additions to his army enable him to resume the offensive.

On the German proposition to make the punishment of the Chinese ringleaders a condition precedent to peace negotiations, the powers stand as follows: Great Britain, Russia and France now stand with the United States, regarding this proposition as inexpedient; Japan occupies a middle attitude; Austria and Italy are with Germany.

Within the past few days there has been a change in the situation with respect to China, as far as the foreign powers are concerned. Germany is less persistent in pushing her uncompromising policy of insisting upon the punishment of the Chinese officials as a preliminary to the opening of peace negotiations. Despite claims to the contrary, Austria and Italy are the only powers which have accepted Germany's proposition without qualification.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.

For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.

For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure.

For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.

Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.

50c and $1 bottles at druggists.

Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. REV. C. C. DAVIS, Eld. M. E. Church, South, No. 28 Tatnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.

R. L. ROCCO, 206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. BEALL, Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co, 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

PREDICTED GALVESTON STORM.

LADIES' BIRTHDAY ALMANAC PRINTED PROGNOSTICATION OF GREAT GULF CYCLONE MONTHS AGO.

Chattanooga, Oct. 1: The Galveston Cyclone, which startled the world with horror September 9th, was predicted nearly eighteen months ago by Prof. Andrew Jackson DeVoe, the meteorologist who prepares the weather forecasts used by the Chattanooga Medicine Company in its Ladies' Birthday Almanacs and Cardui Weather Chart and Calendar. Over 15,000,000 of these almanacs and 1,000,000 of the calendars are issued each year, and every copy printed for 1900 showed this prediction. Prof. DeVoe has been making these weather forecasts for years, and has made some truly wonderful prognostications in the past. He foretold the coming of the St. Louis Cyclone four years ago with the same accuracy as the recent cyclone at Galveston when he gave the location and day. In his forecasts for the month of September, 1900, DeVoe says: "On the 9th a great cyclone will form over the Gulf of Mexico and move up the Atlantic Coast. At this season cyclones are likely to form over the Atlantic Ocean and travel westward, causing heavy rains in the Gulf States."

The Chattanooga Medicine Company states that the Ladies' Birthday Almanac for 1901 will be in the hands of the druggists for free distribution in October.

MARRIAGES.

SKINNER—OUICE.—In the Methodist Church at Waterproof, La., by Rev. R. A. Davis, Mr. Charles C. Skinner, of St. Joseph, La., to Miss Sara O. Guice, of Waterproof, La.

PITTS—CARTER.—At the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. James Carter, at Big Cane, La., Sept. 23, 1900, at 10:30 A. M., by Rev. J. W. Lee, Mr. L. Shelby Pitts, of Davilla, Texas, to Miss Carrie C. Carter.

LITERARY NOTES.

No magazine of the day has made greater and more varied improvements in its appearance, contents, and general attractiveness, than Modern Culture, formerly Self-Culture Magazine. Every American reader must feel grateful for the critical and thoughtful paper on American Art at the Paris Exposition, by the wife of Charles C. Curran, an Ohio artist of world-wide reputation. Homer K. Underwood gives an account of Monte Carlo. In the guise of romance the late Sidney Lanier presents the essential spirit of Shakespeare's time in fascinating and instructive form. On the Banks of the James is a spirited colonial story by Wm. McLeod Raine. Scholarship, sympathy with Nature, and fine literary instinct, are the hallmarks of Martha Boekce Flint's paper on the Flora of Chaucer's Poems. The House Behind the Cedars reaches a dramatic climax in this installment, and from this point the reader's interest will never flag. Persuasiveness and breadth of view distinguish G. Mercer Adam's timely paper on Democracy and Empire. The True Story of Stephen Crane is something we all want to know. The University of Michigan is interestingly described by the daughter of Prof B. A. Hinsdale, the eminent historian. A graphic account of the Campaign against Pekin, by Waldon Fawcett, with new and original illustrations, can not fail to attract the reader. The Cuban Teachers at Harvard are faithfully described by one of their chaperones. The 500th anniversary of Chaucer's death is commemorated in the editorials and the Reading Club, while Alice E. Hanscom spins graceful cobwebs to lure the reader to her Quiet Corner. Noteworthy book reviews and departments add to the permanent value of this high-class magazine.

A very notable and timely project is begun in the October number of Scribner's Magazine. There is no factor in the Far East of greater importance than Russia, and just at this time the series of seven papers on Russia of To-day, by Henry Norman, will attract the widest attention. Mr. Norman is well known by his books on international politics and travel. He has traveled all over the world, and is acquainted with its most important political personages. Richard Harding Davis closes his series of vivid descriptions of the Boer War with an account of The Last Days of Pretoria, showing the final steps in the Boer retreat. Mr. Davis concludes by asserting that this has been a holy war, and that the Boer's motives are "as fine as any that have called a 'minute-man' from his farm or sent a Knight of the Cross to die for it in Palestine." Walter A. Wyckoff, author of The Workers, concludes his experiences in the Arctic, giving an account of the life of the interesting Aretic Highlanders, and describing Lieutenant Peary's Winter-quarters and his preparations for a dash to the Pole. John R. Spears' papers, The Slave-trade in America, are concluded with an account of the final suppression of the horrible traffic. Walter Appleton Clark continues his remarkable illustrations to the series. The fiction of the number includes a story of a convict settlement by Lloyd Osbourne, the step-son of Stevenson; a New England story by Arthur Colton, and the last installment but one of Tommy and Grizel. Poems, the Point of View, and a discussion on Architectural Style conclude the number. The brilliant colored cover of the October number is from a design by Maxfield Parrish. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.

This year the Bay View Reading Circle offers a popular reading journey through England, Ireland and Scotland, when their history, literature and institutions will be studied in a thoroughly systematic and most delightful way. The circulars and illustrated Bay View Magazine and helps in organizing local circles can always be obtained by addressing Mr. J. M. Hall, Flint, Mich. The organization now enrolls nearly 8,000 members, and the popularity of its courses with other literary clubs is indicated by the hundreds of woman's and other clubs that have adopted it. This course differs from the Chautauqua course in requiring much less work, is more systematic and less expensive.

Conference Board of Missions of Louisiana Annual Conference.

REPORT OF TREASURER FOR QUARTER ENDING SEPT. 20, 1900

Received for Foreign Missions from

Port Vincent, Rev. S. S. Bogan	$ 37 00
Franklin, Rev. W. W. Drake	10 50
Carondelet St., Rev. F. N. Parker	180 00
Gibsland, Rev. W. E. Akin	17 80
Grand Cane, Rev. H. J. Bolts	13 00
Burgundy St., Rev. P. O. Lowery	16 00
Tchoupitoulas St., Rev. P. H. Fontaine	5 00
Louisiana Ave., Rev. R. H. Wynn	14 68
Louisiana Ave. Sunday-school	22 64
Carondelet St., Rev. F. N. Parker	79 00
Port Vincent, Rev. S. S. Bogan	23 00
Parker Memorial, Rev. C. D. Atkinson	20 00
Farmerville, Epworth League	10 00
Franklinton, Rev. R. Randle	20 00
Pleasant Hill, Rev. J. F. Patterson	10 00
East Feliciana, Rev. J. F. Wynn	17 45
Total	$445 57

DOMESTIC MISSIONS.

Tchoupitoulas St., Rev. P. H. Fontaine	$ 2 00
Carondelet St., Rev. F. N. Parker	5 00
	$ 7 00
Grand Total	$452 57

W. B. THOMSON, Treas.
231 S. Rampart St., New Orleans, La.
Sept. 29, 1900.

Report of Treasurer, North Mississippi Conference, W. H. M. S.

FOR QUARTER ENDING SEPT. 1, 1900

June 15—Balance from first quarter	$ 37 80
Dues for second quarter	20 35
Twentieth Century Fund	75 75
Baby Roll	3 25
Contingent Fund	10 50
Key West School	46 85
Minutes	60
Adult Mite Boxes	3 40
Baby Mite Boxes	1 50
	$300 00

DISBURSEMENTS.

July 1 Paid Conference Secretary	$ 2 00
Postage for Treasurer	1 50
Secretary's Book	50
Minutes	38 00
Dues for second quarter	120 35
Baby Roll	3 25
Key West School	46 85
Mite Boxes	4 90
Twentieth Century Fund	75 75
Total	$293 00
Balance on hand	7 00
	$300 00

MRS. CLARA SHORT, Treas.

Trouble Overcome.

Roanoke, La., Sept. 25, 1900.—Etta Crumpacker, of this place, says she was weak and miserable, and had no appetite. She has been restored to health and strength by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. She strongly recommends it as a blood purifier and building-up medicine.

New Prospect Camp Meeting.

New Prospect Camp Meeting will begin Wednesday night before the fourth Sunday in October, and continue four or five days. Persons coming by rail to Ocean Springs can get conveyance out to the camp grounds. Will use Standard Methodist Hymn Book and Young People's Hymnal. All the preachers of the Seashore district are cordially invited to attend.

H. B. VANDENBURG, P. C.

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Iuka circuit, at Burnsville	Oct. 6, 7
Iuka station	8
Ripley and New Albany, at Ripley	13, 14
Jonesboro circuit, at State Line	17
Ripley circuit, at Wier's Chapel	20, 21
New Albany circuit, at Union Hill	27, 28
Blue Springs, at Blue Springs	30
Kossuth, at Bethel	Nov. 3, 4
Corinth circuit, at Marvin	6
Gun Town and Baldwyn, at Saltillo	10, 11
Mantachie, at Shiloh	14
Belmont, at Patterson's Chapel	17, 18
Burnt Mills, at Mt. Pleasant	20
Jacinto, at Hebron	22
Booneville circuit, at ——	24, 25
Marietta circuit, at Marietta	Dec. 1, 2

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Shelby	Oct. 6, 7
Rulevilie	13, 14
Clarksdale	21, 22
Belen	27, 28
Lula	Nov. 3, 4
Dubba	10, 11
Tunica	12
Hillhouse	17, 18
Friar's Point	18, 19
Gunnison	24, 26
Rosedale	25, 26
Bolivar	Dec. 1, 2
Greenville	3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Arkabutla, at Brooks	Oct. 5
Cold Water	6, 7
Batesville	13 14
Courtland, at Pepsa	20, 21
Burges, at Love Joy	26
Eureka, at Mt. Olivet	27, 28
Hernando	Nov. 3, 4
Longtown	8, 9
Pt. Grove	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's	17, 18
Wall Hill	23
Cockrum	24, 25
Tyro	Dec. 1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct. 6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula	13, 14
Belzona, at Belzona	20, 21
Kosciusko station	7 P. M.. 28
Kosciusko circuit, at Smyrna	27, 28
Ethel, at Tabernacle	Nov. 1
Ackerman, at Salem	3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel	10, 11
Chester	17, 18
Louisville	24, 25
Burnt Hill	27
Pickens	Dec. 1, 2
Durant	7 P. M.. 2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Paris circuit	Oct. 6, 7
Pittsboro circuit	13, 14
Elzy circuit	15
Slate Springs circuit	20, 21
East Grenada circuit	22
Coffeeville circuit	27, 28
Minter City	Nov. 3, 4
Charleston	10, 11
Cascilla	12
Water Valley circuit	17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street	24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec. 1, 2

R. G. PORTER, P. E.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN	Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION	New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN	Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN	St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
MORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

PRACTICAL painters say that when they come to repaint a house which has been painted with ready mixed paint or combination White Lead (so-called), it costs more to prepare the surface than to apply the paint.

The moral is to use only Pure White Lead, because it is not only more durable but is always in good condition for repainting. These brands are genuine.

FREE For colors use National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. Any shade desired is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving full information and showing samples of Colors, also pamphlet entitled "Uncle Sam's Experience With Paints" forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 100 William Street, New York.

Why Poison Yourself With Quinine?

It is bad for your digestion, as every sufferer from chills and fever knows.

JOHNSON'S CHILL & FEVER TONIC

Is a hundred times better, and does in a single day that which slow and uncertain quinine does not do in ten. It gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys so that they do their duty, and it places the patient beyond the danger point in a day; quinine takes at least ten days. It cures obstinate cases of fever that quinine never cures.

It Costs 50c. if it Cures; Not One Cent if it Does Not.

NOTHING ELSE NEEDED IN FEVERS.

A. B. CIRARDEAU, SAVANNAH, GA.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct. 6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity	13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel	20, 21
Tibbee, at Mayhew	27, 28
Columbus station	Nov. 4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill	17 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs	23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Flora, at Flora	Oct. 6, 7
Vicksburg—Crawford Street	14
South Vicksburg	14
Mayersville, at Beulah	20, 21
Bolton, at Bolton	27, 28
Rocky Springs, at Shiloh	Nov. 3, 4
Port Gibson	4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards	11, 13
Warren, at Wesley Chapel	17, 18
Utica, at Utica	Sat., 24
Hermanville, at Hermanville	25, 26
Rolling Fork, at ——	Dec. 1, 2
Anguilla, at ——	2, 3
Satartia, at ——	8, 9

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Missionary Institute, at Pelahatchie
Tues. and Wed.	Oct. 16 17
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro	Thurs., 18
Carthage, at Carthage	Sat. and Sun. 20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland	Tues., 23
Neshoba, at Pine Grove	Thurs., 25
Indian Mission, at Tall-Chulok	Sat. and Sun. 27, 28
Decatur, at ——	Tues., 30
Vend Heidelberg, at Vossburg	Sat. and Sun. Nov. 3, 4
Rose Hill, at Paulding	Sat. and Sun. 10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose	Tues., 13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville	Sat. and Sun. 17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton	Tues., 20
Shiloh, at Shiloh	Thurs., 22
N. and Hickory, at Newton	Sun. and Mon. 25, 26
Chunkey, at Chunkey	Tues., 27
Lake, at Lawrence	Wed., 28
Morton, at Pelahatchie	Sun. and Mon. Dec. 2, 3
Forest, at Forest	Sun and Mon., 9, 10

Registers and Records not presented at the third Quarterly Conference will be called for. The pastors will greatly oblige me by seeing that Ques. — is fully answered by the trustees, and that the committees appointed to inventory parsonage furniture, etc., present written reports. Let all co-operate to bring up full financial reports. Let there be no deficit. Let every Sunday-school observe Missionary Rally Day. And be sure to let the Twentieth Century Movement have full sway during this last quarter. On Thanksgiving Day remember our Orphans' Home.

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Coalville, at Palmer Camp Ground	Oct. 6, 7
Amerions, at Salem Camp Ground	13, 14
Williamsburg, at Williamsburg	20
East Covington, at Eminence	21
Vancleave, at New Prospect	27, 28
Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov. 2
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington	3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port	11, 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs	17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins	24
Bay St. Louis	25, 26
Moss Point	Dec. 1
Escatawpa, at Zion	2
Columbia, at Columbia	7
Purvis, at Purvis	8, 9
Hattiesburg	10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mt. Carmel	Oct. 6, 7
Percy's Creek	10, 11
Woodville	13, 14
Meadville	21, 22
Cane Ridge	28, 29
Barlow	Nov. 3, 4
Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Jefferson Street	11, 12
Homochitto Chapel	17, 18
Washington	24, 25
Liberty	Dec. 1, 2
McNair	8, 9

Trustees will please have their reports according to the Discipline.

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Topisaw, at Sartine	Oct. 13, 14
Bayou Pierre, at Pleasant Valley	20, 21
Magnolia and Osyka, at Magnolia	27, 28
Providence, at Georgetown	Nov. 3, 4
Adams, at Adams	10, 11
McComb City	11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood	11 a. m.. 13
Gallman, at Gallman	17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson	11 a. m. 19
Wesson	7:30 p. m.. 19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion	24, 25
Westville, at Magee	25, 26
Crystal Springs	7:30 p. m.. 26
Tylertown, at China Grove	Dec. 1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton	10 a. m.. 5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven	10 a. m.. 7
Hazlehurst	7:30 p. m.. 7
Caseyville, at Caseyville	8, 9
Summit, at Bogue Chitto	11 a. m.. 10
Brookhaven	7:30 p. m.. 11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas	Oct. 6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon	13, 14
Canton	14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street	20, 21
Terry, at Byram	21, 22
Silver Creek	27, 28
Lake City	Nov. 3, 4
Vaughan's, at New Hope	4
Benton, at Midway	10, 11
Cranquil	11, 12
Yazoo City	17, 18
Camden	18, 19
Faunin	24, 25
Brandon station	Dec. 1, 2
Brandon mission	2
Steen's Creek	8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winchester, at Winchester	Oct. 6, 7
Leakesville, at Breland's Church	13, 14
Waynesboro, at Waynesboro	Wed., 17
DeKalb, at New Hope	20, 21
North Kemper, at Mellen	Mon., 22
Enterprise, at Enterprise	27, 28
Pachuta, at Debosto	Nov. 3, 4
Binnsville, at Scooba	10, 11
Vimville at Marion	17, 18
Mathersville, at Winifred	24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon., 26
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec. 1, 2
Daleville, at ——	8, 9

G. A. GUEST, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Carrollton Avenue	Oct. 7
Louisiana Avenue	14
Dryades street	21
Covington	28
Slidell	Nov. 4
Parker Memorial	10
Plaquemine	17
Rayne Memorial	22
White Castle	Dec. 1
Carondelet Street	11 a. m.. 5
Burgundy Street	7:30 p. m.. 8

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Olla and Pollock, at Summerville	Oct. 5, 6
Jena, at French Fork	13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground	20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce	23, 24
Columbia, at Boeuf River	28, 29
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov. 3, 4
Dry Creek	10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta	15, 16
Montgomery, at Montgomery	17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent	24, 25
Bunkie	Dec. 1, 2
Alexandria	8, 9

J. D. HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Red River, at Campo Bello	Oct. 6, 7
Caddo, at Greenwood	10
Wesley, at Campti	13, 14
Florien, at Holly Grove	20, 21
Coushatta, at Coushatta	24
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane	27, 28
Many, at Many	Nov. 3, 4
Logansport, at Logansport	7
South Bossier, at Allentown	10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle	17, 18
Pelican, at Bethel	24, 25
Leesville	Dec. 2
Mansfield	9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Farmerville, at Marion	Oct. 6, 7
Downsville, at Downsville	9
Calhoun, at Indian Village	13, 14
Simsboro, at Salem	19
Gibsland, at Foster's Chapel	20, 21
Lancaville, at Pine Grove	27, 28
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	Nov. 3, 4
Bienville, at Bienville	10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley	17, 18
Minden	19
Haynesville	23
Homer, at Homer	24, 25
Ruston	Dec. 1, 2
Gansville	7
Arcadia, at Arcadia	9, 10

Local preachers and exhorters will be expected to have written reports. Let the secretaries of Church Conferences be present with their church registers and records of Church Conferences for examination, as the law requires.

B. T. CREWS, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Harrisonburg, at Pine Hill	Oct. 20, 21
Oak Ridge, at Collinston	27, 28
Winnsboro, at Winnsboro	28, 29
Gilbert and Vidalia, at V	Nov. 3, 4
Bastrop	10, 11
Rayville	11, 12
Lake Providence	17, 18
Floyd	19-21
Waterproof	24, 25
Delhi and Tallulah, at T	Dec. 1, 2
Bonita, at Bonita	8, 9
Monroe	9, 10

J. M. HENRY, P. E.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—THIRD ROUND.

Grand Chenlare	Oct. 6, 7
Lake Charles	13, 14
West Lake	20, 21

Special attention is called to questions to be called at these third Conferences.

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

Is your Brain Tired?

Take Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

DR. Y. S. TROYER, Memphis, Tenn., says: "It recuperates the brain and enables one to think and act." Makes exertion easy.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 41. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2303

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

SHINE!

BY EMMA C. DOWD.

Where you are God bids you shine,
Part of his supreme design;
His wise purpose do not mar!
God has placed you where you are.

What tho' clouds beset your way,
Shades that hold no cheering ray!
Seek not pleasure's lamps afar!
God has placed you where you are.

Through the daytime be a sun,
Light and warmth for every one!
God has placed you where you are,
When 'tis night there, be a star!

—Central Advocate.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Official confirmation of the news that the Chinese Government was pushing proceedings for the punishment of the influential officials who were responsible for the Boxer troubles was received with much satisfaction by our officials. They consider that this action on the part of China will aid materially in hastening the opening of peace negotiations, and in enabling the powers to act in concert therein. A report received by the Department of State from the United States Consul General at Shanghai tells of the murder of two American missionaries, Miss Hattie J. Rice and Miss Mary E. Huston, who were connected with the China Inland Mission, and stationed at Luch'eng, in Shansi province. Miss Rice had a sister residing in Hartford, Conn., Mrs. J. Lewis, and Miss Huston's mother lives at Mobile, Ala. The report, which came by mail, is dated Aug. 25. The news of the murder of these two missionaries was cabled at that time, and the above-mentioned relatives notified by the Department.

There isn't the slightest doubt that the War Department is seeking to popularize the army canteen. The following letter from Surgeon-General Sternberg to Adjutant-General Corbin, made public this week, reads as though it might have been written to order: "My attention has been called to a published statement, attributed to me, opposing the army canteen. I presume this statement, as published, is practically what I said some years since when interviewed upon the subject, although I do not at present remember to whom it was given. I did not at first look with favor upon the proposition to sell beer to soldiers at army canteens, but that opinion was not based upon personal observation, as I had not been stationed at a military post since the canteen was established. Owing to the general consensus of opinion among line officers and medical officers of the army who have ample opportunity to observe the effect of the army canteen upon the habits of our soldiers, I am obliged to admit that, from a practical point of view, it seems to have accomplished very desirable results in reducing the amount of drunkenness in the army, and the disposition on the part of soldiers to leave their stations for the purpose of obtaining spirituous liquors."

Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, of the American Red Cross, who has just returned from Galveston, described some of her personal experiences in a public address this week. She says that cash, above all things, is still needed for the relief of the sufferers; that the people have damaged stocks of almost all kinds of goods on hand, but no money.

Dr. Charles A. Stakely, who will assume the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Montgomery, Ala., next Sunday, preached his farewell sermon to the congregation of the First Baptist Church, of which he was pastor for more than thirteen years, Sunday morning, from the text, "Ye are the salt of the earth," and at its close the entire congregation remained to shake hands, tell him good-bye, and wish him God-speed in his new field, or rather his home field, as he was baptized in the Montgomery Church.

Wesley Chapel M. E. Church was filled Sunday morning by pupils and those who had been pupils of its Sunday-school, gathered to do honor to the memory of the late William Rediu Woodward, who was superintendent of the school for fifteen years. After interesting exercises a handsome stained glass memorial window, presented by the pupils, was unveiled. Jesus is depicted holding in his arms a child, and just above his head is the inscription, "Suffer little children to come unto me," and at the bottom, "To the memory of William Redin Woodward."

Rev. F. D. Power celebrated the silver jubilee of his pastorate of the Vermont Avenue Christian Church by preaching a retrospective sermon, covering the growth of the nation, the city, and his church, during those twenty-five years. After dealing with national and municipal events, he said: "If our retrospect of the nation and of the city be full of encouragement, not less so has been our history as a church. The nation, then, had a population of 45,000,000—it has not doubled; the city had 130,000—it has not doubled. We assembled in our little frame meeting-house, scarcely 150 people. We have four times that strength to-day in this congregation, and have increased twelvefold in the city. From one church we have grown to four, and from 150 to a membership of 1,800. To this church 1,346 have been added, and $200,000 have been contributed to the Lord's work; 7,500 services have been held; the pastor has preached 4,000 sermons, and made 35,000 visits."

It is difficult, if not impossible, to say anything new on the subject of courtship and marriage; but as new hearers are always growing up, sermons thereon never lack interested hearers. Rev. H. J. Stevens preached on "The Morality of Courtship and Marriage," saying among other true and interesting things: "Some people think this is not a proper subject to be handled in the pulpit, but I think it is, because it is a subject that is handled in the Word of God. As to courtship, I have only to say that young people should be just as honest when courting as they are in other relations of life. As a general thing, this is not true. There are more falsehoods told and more deceptions practiced among courting people than there is even among politicians."

Washington, Oct. 3, 1900.

FIRST M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, LAKE CHARLES, LA.
DEDICATED SEPT. 30, 1900.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW METHODIST CHURCH AT LAKE CHARLES, LA.

The Lake Charles Daily American, of Oct. 1, contained a lengthy and interesting description of the dedication of the new First Methodist Church at that place, coupled with a full history of the charge. We copy below, in part, the American's account of that important event.

Yesterday (Sept 30) was a red-letter day in church circles in Lake Charles, occasioned by the dedication of the new First M. E. Church, South. Early the congregation began coming in, and by the time the service began the seating capacity was taxed; also the additional 185 chairs that had been placed in the primary room, and vacant spaces in the aisles.

The selections by the choir were all well rendered, Mrs. F. B. Reams deserving much praise for their good work.

Bishop Charles B Galloway, D. D., announced the hymn:

"Great is the Lord our God,
And let his praise be great"

After the singing, in which the congregation joined very heartily, Rev. Robt. J. Harp led in a most earnest, fervent prayer.

Rev. C. W. Carter, D D., presiding elder, then read the Scripture lessons from Gen. xxviii, 10-22, and Heb. x, 19 25.

The pastor here gave out the hymn:

"Behold thy temple, God of grace;
The house that we have reared for thee."

The Bishop then arose and announced his text to the largest congregation ever assembled in any church in Lake Charles; Psalms xxvi, 8, "Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where thine honor dwelleth," and in his own original way entertained and edified the waiting throng.

There remained a balance of three hundred and fifty dollars due upon the church-building, which was very soon and generously contributed by the audience, and the Bishop then asked the trustees to present the building, which was formally done by Dr. T. H. Watkins, president of the Board. Then the Bishop pronounced the formal and simple dedication sentence.

The evening service was a great treat, and enjoyed by a crowded house.

The Bishop was "at home" upon his theme, "The Twentieth Century Movement."

Much credit is due to the earnest, faithful and efficient services of the present pastor, Rev. R. W. Tucker, for through him is very largely due the success that has crowned this effort. Although here but a short time, he has endeared himself not only to his society, but also to many citizens and friends. Here also we would express our high appreciation of the assistance rendered us by friends and citizens. It has been generously given, and through it we have been enabled to build our commodious new church home.

The gothic-shaped windows, with opaque glass and marginal lights of cathedral lights, are very handsome. Incline floor; lit with electric lights. All the fixtures are uniform, finished in oxidized copper. The center chandelier is Frink's silver-plated, corrugated glass reflectolier, with twelve electric lamps and stalactite on bottom, trimmed with cut glass prisms, finished with crown border and ornamental top, and four electric lamps on top.

In the cathedral-like tower hangs one of the famous "Blymyer" bells, 42 inches in diameter, which is the gift of the Sunday-school to the church.

REV. R. W. TUCKER, Pastor at Lake Charles.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE OPENING OF VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY,

OCT. 21, 22, AND 23, 1900.

Like some of the oldest and most famous of American educational institutions, Vanderbilt University, which this month will celebrate its quarter centenary with elaborate exercises, originated within the pale of influence of a great religious denomination, and has grown up under its auspices. Before the war, even, there was a movement started to found a great Central University by the General Conference of the Methodist Church, South, and a charter was taken out. Early in the seventies the movement was renewed; but the efforts to secure the desired large endowment yielded somewhat disappointing results.

Mr. Vanderbilt had his attention called to the opportunity for bestowing an educational endowment in the South through Bishop McTyeire, of the Southern Methodist Church. These men were first brought together by a marriage connection, and mutual esteem and warm personal friendship made them intimates for many years and to the end of Mr. Vanderbilt's life.

Bishop McTyeire, on the occasion of a visit to New York, in 1873, told to Mr. Vanderbilt, as to a friend, the struggle which the church was then making to found a university. The offer of assistance came promptly and unsolicited. Thus the institution was started on a firm financial basis. Bishop McTyeire was made president of the Board of Trust, and was the man who organized the University. Chancellor Landon C. Garland, a Virginian by birth and education, and prominent in educational circles in Alabama and Mississippi, and for many years chancellor of the State University of Alabama, was selected for the first chancellor.

The University was located at Nashville, Tenn., and the citizens of that city contributed $28,000 toward the purchase of grounds. The site selected was a tract of well-elevated rolling-ground, seventy-six acres in extent, two miles west of the public square, and one mile beyond the western limit of the city.

The first building erected was the great University Hall, with a fine basement and three stories of brick and stone, containing a large chapel, library, and thirty other rooms for recitations, laboratories, debating, society halls, and offices. Including this building and several smaller ones and funds for an endowment, Commodore Vanderbilt's gifts amounted to one million dollars. He died in 1877.

In 1879 Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt, son of the founder, erected Wesley Hall, containing lecture halls and dormitories for the Biblical School, the gymnasium and its outfit, and Science Hall; and, in addition, added $300,000 to the endowment. In 1888 Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, grandson of the founder, erected Mechanical Engineering Hall, and by his will added $50,000 to the endowment, which now, including gifts and appreciation of investments, amounts to $1,500,000 safely invested at fair rates.

The last building to be added to the campus is Klassm Hall, a dormitory which will accommodate 200 students, which Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt, a grandson of the founder, has just erected at a cost of over $130,000, and which has been named in memory of his mother. There are also on the campus ten brick residences for professors, an observatory, and six eight-room cottages and a dining-room, the "home of the people," as it is familiarly called—the old dormitory system for the academic students. Last Spring the University received by will from the Furman family, of Nashville, a gift of $100,000 to erect a laboratory building, but the will is involved in litigation, and the funds are not yet available.

In value of buildings and grounds, and in productive endowment, Vanderbilt University surpasses any institution, public or private, in the South; so much so that it has actually suffered from the reputation of being a rich college. In fact, its work has been laid out on a scale commensurate with its resources, and it is as much hampered for lack of funds as any other institution. It has outgrown its present facilities, and needs more buildings and more instructors. The attendance is constantly growing, now reaching 800.

The University includes seven departments: Academic, Engineering, Biblical, and Pharmacy, on the campus, and Law, Medical, and Dental, in the city.

The Biblical Department is the only theological school under the auspices of the Southern Methodist Church, though all of the local Conference colleges give some special attention to the education of ministerial students. The standard of admission to this department has been intentionally placed high. None are admitted who have not had at least two years of training in some college of good standing, and none are recommended for a degree in theology who have not a baccalaureate degree in arts or science. The others receive certificates of graduation. Its graduates are taking high rank in the ministry and the councils of the church.

The standard of the Academic Department is also high, and in the enforcement of this standard, which has resulted in raising the grade of collegiate instruction on the one hand and of preparatory school work on the other, Vanderbilt has accomplished something of permanent benefit to the South, and lasting honor to herself.

In its internal affairs the University has had a very happy career. It has had but two presidents of the Board of Trust and two chancellors in twenty-five years. Bishop McTyeire died in 1888, and was succeeded as president of the Board by Bishop Hargrove. Chancellor Garland died in 1894, at the age of 84, having been chancellor emeritus since June, 1893. His successor is James Hampton Kirkland, Ph.D., who, since 1887, has been professor of Latin. Chancellor Kirkland was born in 1859, and was educated in Wofford College, S. C., and in Leipzig. As chancellor, he has been efficient and successful in matters of financial as well as those of pedagogical character, and has become widely known and honored throughout the South.

In October of 1875 the University was opened with dedicatory exercises extending over two days. This year, on the twenty-fifth anniversary of that occasion, commemorative exercises will be held, concluding with an educational address by President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale University, and a report by Chancellor Kirkland on "Twenty-five Years of University Work, and a Statement of Plans for the Future."

Vanderbilt University, Oct 2, 1900.

HOW TO GIVE.

So far as we know, Jesus gave no money. He did not have it to give. Yet there never was in this world another such dispenser of true alms as he was. He gave encouragement, instruction, love. He told people of higher things.

None of us are too poor to give help in the same way. We may not have silver and gold to bestow, but out of a warm heart we can give coins of love which will mean far more than money, and make us a blessing to many.—Exchange.

BLESSINGS IN DISGUISE.

BY T. T. LYNCH.

Oft when of God we ask
For fuller, happier life,
He sets us some new task
Involving care and strife;
Is this the boon for which we sought?
Has prayer new trouble on us brought?

This is indeed the boon,
Though strange to us it seems;
We pierce the rock, and soon
The blessing on us streams;
For when we are the most athirst,
Then the clear waters on us burst.

We toil as in a field,
Wherein, to us unknown,
A treasure lies concealed,
Which may be all our own;
And shall we of the toil complain
That speedily will bring such gain?

We dig the wells of life,
And God the water gives;
We win our way by strife,
Then he within us lives;
And only war could make us meet
For peace so sacred and so sweet.

—New York Advocate.

Communications.

TWO STRANGE DOCTRINES.

I have recently heard two strange doctrines proclaimed from Methodist pulpits by Methodist preachers (local), under the apparent sanction of Methodist pastors. I esteem those contentions damaging, else I would have nothing to say.

First contention: Man must turn to God "heart foremost," and not "head foremost." I suppose by this is meant that the intellect must be dispensed with, and the will and emotions alone called into exercise. But giving them the benefit of the doubt, I will allow that the moral nature be added to the will and emotions—giving them the whole of man—the intellect excepted. Where do they get their doctrine? Surely not from the Bible. Whatever definition may be given to faith, it must embrace the exercise of the intellect. Faith is the key-note of Christianity.

"He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life." (John iii, 36.)

"He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself." (I. John v, 10.)

"He that believeth on me shall never thirst." (John vi, 35)

"He that believeth on me hath everlasting life." (John vi, 47)

"He that believeth on him is not condemned." (John iii, 18.)

"He that believeth not is condemned already." (John iii, 18.)

"How, then, shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?" (Rom. x, 14.)

"He that believeth, and is baptized, shall be saved; and he that believeth not shall be damned." (Mark xvi, 16)

I know some one will smile that I have treated this contention with seriousness, but if you had seen the sincere souls acting upon it and jeopardizing their spiritual interests, as I have seen, you would excuse my seriousness.

Second contention: That a sinner surrenders, but does not consecrate to God when converted. I quote from memory almost the exact language of one preacher, "The sinner is wicked, and vile, and filthy, and has nothing to give to God." Has nothing to give God? I think all will grant that no new powers are given to an individual when converted or sanctified. These works of grace correct the powers which every individual possesses. Then the sinner has every power that the converted man has; therefore, the sinner has everything to consecrate that the Christian has. Does not repentance imply turning from sin and turning to God? Turning what to God? Surely the life. "Ye can not serve two masters." "He that is not with me is against me." Then, if the converted man is not with (consecrated to) God, he is fighting against God, and is serving the devil. When the disciples left all and followed Christ, had they not consecrated? The rich young ruler lacked only one thing—i. e., leaving all and following Christ; but he went away sorrowful.

I mention these contentions because they are sanctioned in certain high ecclesiastical circles, and because they have borne pernicious fruit wherever preached.

When an individual suspends his intellect and goes "heart foremost" after God, he has somersaulted into an abyss of mysticism, from which come all kinds of vain and wicked imaginations.

When a preacher teaches that consecration is not essential to a Christian life, he openly encourages the laxness found in church life against which all good people are contending. Let us insist that consecration is the "sine qua non" of salvation.

GEO. H. THOMPSON.

Benton, Miss.

CAN WE APOSTATIZE, OR NOT?

Long years ago my attention was called to a system of theology proposing a footing on which to unite the doctrine of decrees, meaning a fixed salvation and fixed damnation from all eternity for God's creatures with what Arminians call a free salvation. I have never seen any distinct bearings that would lead me to the point so authoritatively made by one class of theologians as actually existing. It has ever been a North Pole search to me in my theological navigation. But I have ever been ready to join forces with any preacher who offered a full and present salvation to all the world. But in these union services occasionally a position was taken that I could not find warrant for in my search for truth.

Recently I listened to a preacher of decided ability who warned every sinner to repent, and invited all to Christ. So far, so good. He was holding a series of services. I am sure I felt an "Amen" to all he said up to the point where he made the assertion that he had a right to his opinion, and that others had a right to theirs, after which he clearly stated the doctrine, "Once in grace always in grace." He made himself understood as believing that it was impossible for a man once converted ever to be lost. Without Scripture he illustrated his argument thus: If a boy or man is once your son, he is your son forever. His son was his own son always, everywhere and under all circumstances; if in the penitentiary in chains and in stripes, he was his son and could be nothing else. If under sentence of death under the gallows, with the rope around his neck, he was still unquestionably his son. I understood him to mean by this that one becoming the son of God, in the midst of theft, burglary, and murder, he was still the son of God.

The following counter illustration occurs to me: That boy, that man is your son, has been your son ever since he has had a being, and ever will be your son. That boy, that man—I mean another boy or man—never was your son, and never can be to all eternity. If the preacher's illustration is true, this that came so forcibly to my mind is equally true. But it requires only a little logic to understand that a thing may illustrate and not prove.

Let the reader turn to Matt. xviii, 23-35: The servant lost the forgiveness he once had. Read II. Peter i, 9: He had "forgotten that he was purged from his old sins." Again read II. Peter ii, 20, 21.

J. D. NEWSOM.

Cedar Bluff, Miss.

Correspondence.

REJOINDER TO REV. A. L. JOHNSTON.

In the ADVOCATE, of Sept. 27, Rev. A. L. Johnston, the State missionary of the Baptist Church, makes a feeble response to my article of Sept. 6, but he does not mention about the $1,000 offered for a passage where "baptizo" means sprinkle or pour. I simply took up his and Rev. T. T. Eaton's offer, and produced what was wanted, and they backed down, etc., as stated in my article, "Baptist Bluff."

The facts about the debate he speaks of are as follows: He challenged me to produce a man for joint debate. I offered myself, and this is what he said in the Baptist Chronicle, in one of the issues of June: "As to debate, he wouldn't be afraid to discuss with me. Well, he 'needn't' fear. When debate is in order the call is for representative men, and Johns needn't be afraid of being included under this head."

Of course, after this printed insult I could not have any further correspondence with the gentleman concerning a debate. Perhaps he wrote hastily, and forgot the maxim, "Hard arguments, but soft words."

Let all Methodists take notice that $1,000 was offered for the production of a single passage where "baptizo" meant sprinkle or pour. I produced the passage (several of them), and Dr. Eaton shifted his original proposition to one where "baptizo" had to be translated sprinkle or pour. In other words, he wanted me to do a thing the translators for a thousand years back did not do. I do not think "baptizo," in the ordinance of baptism, has ever been translated, except, perhaps, in one or two minor languages. But in the Latin and English it has been transferred. And where "baptizo" has been translated—Mark vii, 4; Luke xi, 38; Heb. ix, 10—it is translated "wash" or "washings," but never "dip," in all the New Testament.

I have the correspondence to show my willingness to submit the terms to the courts of Louisiana upon the putting up of the money and Rev. Dr. T. T. Eaton's refusal. Let no one suppose the writer to be bitter against the Baptists. I love the great denomination, and would willingly worship side by side with them; but when a church organized not 300 years ago by brag and bluff tries to unchurch everything in creation, it is time to call a halt. Dr. W. A. Whitsitt and Rev. Geo. A. Lofton have both shown the history of the present Baptist Church to date from 1641, and as Dr. Lofton says, it is only a question of time till Baptists will drop their pretentious claim of a succession unbroken back to John the Baptist. The result of this will be to knock the starch out of the good old church and place them on a level with other sister churches. We often hear Baptist preachers call the Methodist Church a "society," when their origin does not come up to the dignity of a decently organized society. But all the world knows the Methodist Church was organized by ordained ministers of the Church of England. But Baptists set themselves up in 1641! Let those interested in church history send to Barbee & Smith, Dallas, Texas, or Nashville, Tenn., for Whitsitt's "A Question in Baptist History," and Lofton's "English Baptist Reformation."

As Methodists, we have known these facts all the time, but these gentlemen are Baptists, brave and true enough to renounce this succession business, which is on a par with Romanism. Dr. Whitsitt was president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville, Ky., and Dr. Lofton wrote the book, "Character Sketches," so well known, and is, I think, pastor of one of the leading Baptist Churches in Nashville, Tenn. H. S. JOHNS.

THE BROOKHAVEN DISTRICT.

No presiding elder, I am sure, ever had a more faithful or efficient set of preachers as his co-workers than has the presiding elder of the Brookhaven district. Advance has been manifest on almost every charge. Many gracious revivals have been held; Sunday-schools, Epworth Leagues and Woman's Missionary Societies have been organized where there were none, and the finances of the charges have been generally toned up. Without intending any invidious distinctions—I have not time nor space here to mention all—I wish to speak of three who have very materially increased the value of the church property on their respective charges.

1. Rev. F. M. Keen, of Magnolia and Osyka, found his Osyka congregation without a house of worship, but with a little money in hand to aid in securing one. When I went to Osyka to his third quarterly meeting, I preached in a neat little church beautifully located, just bought from the Baptists, the deed for which had just been secured. The little flock were greatly enheartened; and the first services in their pretty little church were occasions of special gladness to presiding elder, pastor and people. Bro. Keen wrought very wisely in securing this building at Osyka.

2. Rev. J. P. Drake went into a hired house when he removed to Summit last January. He began a movement for a new parsonage, as the old one had become uninhabitable. Many thought his task a hopeless one, but Drake has as much determination as wisdom and consecration; and so, two weeks ago, I took breakfast with the pastor's happy family in a handsome new parsonage, one of the neatest, best arranged and most comfortable in the Mississippi Conference. Under his guidance and the leadership of his energetic and gifted wife, the ladies of the church wrought nobly, giving large assistance. Who but Drake and his wife could have gotten us such a parsonage at Summit?

3. Rev. L. E. Alford, whose title is Preacher in Charge of Westville circuit, is really general missionary of Simpson county, through which the Gulf and Ship Island railroad has just been built. With a wisdom and foresight unusual to one of his years, he has secured a well-located church lot in every new town planned to be built on this new railroad in the county; and wherever the town has begun to materialize he has opened services and started movements looking to the building of churches. Already in the growing town of Magee he has a church nearly completed, the handsomest of any denomination in the county. Alford is a Millsaps boy, the first preacher boy ever graduated from his alma mater. He has wrought wondrously well in old Simpson.

One other deserves to be classed with these. Rev. Geo. W. Hively, a young local preacher looking to the itinerancy, was placed in charge of Lincoln circuit, one of the churches of which was about rotted down. I held a quarterly meeting there last Saturday and Sunday, and found a neat new church almost ready for use. I held his second quarterly meeting at one of his churches which had just been called. He starts well, and will carry up to the Annual Conference, where he hopes to be admitted on trial, a good recommendation. Hively is a worker.

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN, P. E.

TO THE PREACHERS IN CHARGE IN THE BROOKHAVEN DISTRICT.

DEAR BRETHREN: At your District Conference, in April, you passed the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That each preacher in charge is hereby requested to see that a week of prayer and self-denial be held at each church in his charge, beginning with the first Sunday in November; and that every member of the church be urged to take part in this service, and to deny himself until he feels it, and convert the savings of this self-denial into missionary contributions.

"Resolved, That each member be made to understand that the assessment laid upon his charge is but the minimum expected from it, that there may be a determined effort on the part of each to pay more than the assessment.

"Resolved, That our presiding elder be requested to pursue such a course as he may see proper to secure the deficit on any missionary assessment, if there be such on any charge after the week of self-denial."

These are your own resolutions. I heartily approve them. They were passed by you without a dissenting voice and with much enthusiasm. Now let us carry them out as enthusiastically as you passed them.

1. Read the resolutions to each of your congregations, explaining and exhorting.

2. Plan for the week of prayer and self-denial. It would be well to arrange for missionary mass meetings to be held during this week. Please read Discipline, Par. 357; then Par. 356. If you need assistance for your mass meetings, notify me at once, and I will endeavor to secure aid for you. If you think it better that the mass meetings be held earlier than the first week in November, do so. Be sure that the meetings are held. Let the law be heartily obeyed.

3. Let me know at the end of the week of self-denial the result of your efforts. Be sure to answer at that time these questions:

1st. Will your charge pay its missionary assessment in full?

2nd. If not, what will be the deficit?

3rd. If so, how much in excess can your charge pay to offset deficits on weaker charges?

Please cut out this and preserve it. Give every detail careful attention. Answer the questions carefully and at the right time.

Your brother,

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN, P. E.

W. F. M. S.

Edited Weekly by North Mississippi, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences.

EDITORS.

N. Miss. Conf..Mrs. J. F. Evans...Enpora, Miss
Miss. Conf....Mrs. E. D. Jones..Carlisle, Miss
La. Conf.....Mrs. T. P. Fullilove..

"Reports come in slowly." Thus writes your Conference corresponding secretary. These words hold a meaning. They make bare a condition far from encouraging, and that in a band of missionary workers should not exist. Again: A district secretary asks help to arouse her slumbering auxiliaries. With such facts before us we can but ask, "Why is it thus?"

One sister suggests the oppressively warm weather as a probable cause for inaction, and, as a consequence, there is, in cases of failure to do so, nothing to report. Well, not much. So much greater reason to send reports of what has been done. Each one encourages the hearts of your secretaries, even though it can not show a long list of members, increase in dues, contingent and special funds, with regular and enjoyable meetings, and many subscribers to Woman's Missionary Advocate.

Dear sisters, report promptly and clearly the work of your auxiliary, giving statistics in plain figures, that your district secretary may know what to report to Conference secretary, who, in turn, may be able to make a full and prompt report to the corresponding secretary of the Board.

In addition to heat and its attendant lassitude, affecting the action of mind as well as body, another cause for inaction comes into view: An inadequate conception, by a large number of persons, of the magnitude of this work engaging our attention, and the dire need of those for whose sake it was projected. Those who have all their lives basked in the sunlight of friendship, home, and happiness, can not, without an effort, imagine a state of being directly contrary. But get the mind fully aroused to the importance of a movement, the heart enlisted for the alleviation of pain or sorrow in others; then see that almost with one accord men, women and little children rush to the rescue. Witness the prompt and munificent responses to calls of distress in temporal disasters—fearful famine, widespread pestilence, awful storm-horrors such as recently visited Galveston and adjacent cities. See how help in divers forms poured from swiftly opening purses. Such acts are right, are commendable. "Bear ye one another's burdens," are words of Holy Writ. The world has many phases of suffering that call loudly for relief. Are our ears open to the cry of victims of spiritual famine? Do our eyes watch eagerly for opportunities to rescue victims of a flood of superstition, destructive alike to body and soul? The heathen need is a fact of hoary age, that millions starve for lack of the Bread of Life committed for distribution (in a certain sense) to the followers of Christ. He has said, "Give ye them to eat," and he can so bless the offerings that all shall be fed. All that we have is his. The Scripture declares, "Ye are not your own, for ye are bought with a price." No less a price than the life, the blood of the sinless Son of God. For every soul that blood was shed, and through its application by faith every human creature may become a child of God.

To those who have learned of Christ the Savior is given the charge of leading others to the light. Has this duty been well performed? Again: How can Christians hope to see the fulfillment of the promise recorded in the Psalms, "I will give thee the heathen for an inheritance," if we fail to use our best endeavors to help to bring it to pass? The "commission" of our blessed Lord is not conditional. It does not read, 'Go into all the world and preach my gospel, if circumstances are favorable, if there is no resistance to meet, if no obstacles arise." The command is, "Go" in Jesus' name, to meet any conditions, to rescue the perishing, and bring benighted ones into gospel light. We must go or send to foreign fields, that many sheaves of precious souls may be gathered for the Master.

The trouble in China might be used as an argument against a further occupancy of that country as missionary ground (as some careless people vainly contend), if antagonism to Christianity had never before existed. But what is really the case? Search far back as we may, there can be found times of persecution of the righteous by the wicked. Did the approach of suffering for right so affright the early Christians as to cause them to cease their warfare against sin, to give over their struggles to plant gospel truth in every place? No such fact is recorded. Contrariwise, we read often, after better persecution, even unto imprisonment, torture and death, that those who were scattered abroad gladly preached, and that "the Word of God grew and multiplied." No failure in service there; no faltering. Jesus had said, "I am with you alway," and those, his followers, believed it, and each stood in his place ready for any duty or emergency.

Sisters of the North Mississippi W. F. M. Society, let us also believe that promise, and, in the strength of that faith, heed our Captain's "Go!" The cloud which hangs over our beloved work and workers in China is dark and threatening; yet, after all, the Lord will triumph gloriously. Our duty is plain, our diligence must be redoubled, that a knowledge of the truth may be spread through all the earth, believing, as our dear Miss Gary expressed it, that whether, after this reign of terror, China shall remain as a whole, or, torn asunder, shall be divided among other nations, still she shall yet be presented as Christian China, a gift to our Lord.

That China is in turmoil exempts us no whit from duty to other fields which claim our care and co-operation. Read of each in the Annual Report of our last Board meeting. Read that most excellent periodical, the Woman's Missionary Advocate, replete with gems of missionary intelligence, and bright with stories to impress what one there reads. See the charming Little Worker laden with matter suiting old as well as young. Pray fervently as you read, that the Holy Spirit may enlighten and instruct. If, then, the soul is not stirred to its inmost depths with love to missions and missionaries, and with enthusiasm for their success, I know not what remedy to suggest for the apparent apathy that enshrouds some auxiliaries through listless members. Careful heart-searching, renewed consecration, earnest, prevailing prayer, constitute our ground of hope.

May God guide us into ways of wisdom and unswerving loyalty in this work we have undertaken in his name! MRS. J. F. EVANS.

Enpora, Miss.

Home Mission Society.

EDITORS.

Mrs. J. B. Stone, of North Miss. Conference
Conference Officers of Mississippi Conference
Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Louisiana Conference

ADDITIONAL ITEMS.

Only one auxiliary has been organized during the quarter—Aberdeen, but there are indications that several others will soon be organized. Several district secretaries have been in bad health during the Summer, and unable to work actively.

Our new treasurer, Mrs. Short, sends in a very good report for the quarter, showing the auxiliaries are keeping up their dues. We are now ready to pay the $75 promised to Boyle for their parsonage. This is always a pleasing incident in our work, and makes us feel that we are accomplishing some good. To the treasurer comes the great pleasure of fulfilling the promises made by the society.

The superintendent of supplies, Mrs. Wall, is succeeding well with her department. Maben and Sardis have each sent a box to one of our North Mississippi preachers. He has a wife and three little girls; has three churches on his circuit, fifteen miles apart, and receives $165 for a whole year's work, and has paid out $135 for drugs and doctor's bills. We are sure his family was happy over the contents of the boxes. Starkville has been so greatly blest recently that she wishes to "pass it on," and help some needy brother, and will soon have a box ready. Are there not others who will go and do likewise? Surely, as it is "more blessed to give than to receive," more of us desire this blessing. Let those who will furnish boxes of supplies correspond with Mrs. W. H. Wall, Sardis, and ascertain where help is most needed.

Our Conference secretary has sent a copy of the last General Report to each auxiliary, and hopes extracts from it will be read at the meetings.

Next quarter we hope to give a fuller account of the work.

MRS. J. B. STONE.

DO A LITTLE.

Many a Christian destroys his peace and usefulness because he is not willing to do little things. He wants to speak and pray well, eloquently, edifyingly, or not at all. Because he can not do some great thing he will not do anything. He must sit in the highest seat or nowhere. Now, no one is fit to do great things unless he is willing to do little things. He must be faithful in the least, or he will never be useful in the greatest. If all were willing to add a little to the interest of a meeting, a Sunday-school, or to the strength and influence of the church, there would not be so many praying to be excused. Happy is the man who is willing to do a little, the servant of all, a door-keeper, bell-ringer, fire-builder, lamp-lighter, anything that will serve Christ in the house of God.—Northwestern Advocate.

Items from the Field.

REPORT FROM THE PRUDHOMME CHARGE.

I am winding up my fourth year on the Prudhomme charge. My first protracted meeting began in Prudhomme City the second Sunday in July, and after protracting at four other places—Eunice, Long Point, Iota, and Church Point—I wonnd np at Prudhomme City with another seven days' meeting on the eighteenth instant. During these meetings the Holy Ghost was with us in convicting, converting, and sanctifying power.

The following brethren rendered valuable service: Nelson and Lestie Hoffpauir, Moreland, Shepardson, Baruet, Manley, Cheny, Hayes, and Martin and Willie Hebert.

We received only twenty-one members into the church, as there is bnt little material ontside of the churches. This is a difficult field in which to labor. I expect to organize a church at Iota at my next appointment. In sight of this place is a magnificent Catholic Church, which was completed last year. In it was held a two days' fair for the liquidation of the church debt. They used a carload of beer, and wound up on Snnday with a free fight. Pray for us.

W. J. PORTER.

REPORT FROM CORNERSVILLE CIRCUIT.

We have just closed our meetings for the Summer on Cornersville circuit. The Lord has been with us in power. We have had more than one hundred and fifty professed conversions on the work. Our meeting at Cornersville has just closed with about sixty conversions. We held on eleven days at Cornersville. We are glad to say that the cruel hatchets that have been for so long a time ruining the Lord's tender vines are buried so deep that they will, we believe, never be resurrected. Grey-haired sires who had for many a day refused to speak confessed to God and to each other their sins, and in the sacred altar grasped each others' hand in Christian love. We can not but think that the rejoicing of friends must have even vied with the rejoicing of the angels of God. To God be all the praise, for none other could have wrought the great and lasting good. Many altars have been established both in homes of those who are far along the journey of life and those just launching ont.

It has not been my privilege in life to experience more gracious revivals. God has blessed us more than we can express, for which we, as a circuit and humble servants of God, are exceedingly thankful.

J. H. HOLDER, P. C.

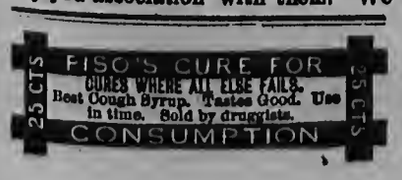
REPORT FROM COUSHATTA (LA.) CIRCUIT.

The Coushatta circuit is still alive "and looking up." The year is fast closing, and we are rounding up for Conference. We expect to be able to say, "Everything in full, Bishop." God has been good to us, and has blessed the efforts of the year in the conversion of 20 souls. We have finished the parsonage—that is, the carpenter work. The people are planning to paint and paper as soon as possible. There is some indebtedness yet that they are trying to pay, and then completion inside and ont will be the order of the day. We have a loyal people that have responded to every call made up to the present. Congregations are good, and the members are seemingly interested in the welfare of the church. The pastors that have preceded the present one have left their tracks behind them. They are not forgotten by this people. They have wrought well, and we "have entered into the field to reap that which they have sowed." May God help us to sow the seed, that others may reap, and we will all sing the song of the harvest home!

We have the collections ordered by the Conference well in hand. The stewards say that everything in their hands will be paid. As to the Twentieth Century Fund, we can not say for certain. We have done nothing for it up to the present. We will be able to tell more about it at Conference. We have met and been associated with some of the brethren, and we can say we have enjoyed association with them. We are at home among the preachers that we have met. In fact, it does not take a great while for a preacher to be at home anywhere. Soon we will meet, and then scatter to our various fields, where we trust that God's hand will lead to victory.

H. W. BOWMAN.

Coushatta, La., Oct. 1, 1900.



FISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS
25 CTS

"A Little Spark May Make Much Work."

The little "sparks" of bad blood lurking in the system should be quenched with Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's great blood purifier. It purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood of both sexes and all ages. Cures scrofula, salt rheum, dyspepsia, catarrh.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

E. F. DYER, Pres't. E. P. MACKIE, Treas
T. G. MACKIE, L. MIEG, O. K. LINCOLN, JR
324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AXES, ALARM TILLS, AGES, CLOCKS, CROQUET, BASKETS, BASEBALLS, ROOMS, RUSHES, DUSTERS,

Enameled Steelware, Freezers, Fishing Tackle,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASSWARE, HAMMOCKS,
Japanned Ware, Ice Chests,
KEGS, LADDERS, LAMPS,
MARBLES, NAIL PULLERS,
ORS, IL TANKS, EFRIGERATORS, ROPE, PAPER, ADLOCKS, SOAPS, STATIONERY,
TINWARE, TRAPS, WINES, ATER COOLERS, HIPS, OODENWARE,

Etc. Trade Solicited.

DR. LETELLIER'S Sunflower Tablets.

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any drugstore, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Tract Bld'g, New York City.

Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

REVIVAL MEETINGS ATTENDED BY REV. IRVIN MILLER.

It was my privilege, a few weeks ago, to help Bro. White in a protracted meeting at Conway, ten miles north of Carthage. The meeting increased in interest from the beginning, and congregations were good—very large at night. The services were held in a large vacant store fixed up hurriedly for the occasion, but it proved to be a very pleasant place to worship. The result of the meeting was eleven accessions to the church, and the Christian people who attended were very greatly revived and blessed. Bro. White has measures on foot (and I have no doubt he will succeed) in building a good church at this place, if he is returned to the work again, and I see no reason why he should not be, for he is doing a fine work on the Carthage circuit, and his people want him back.

After helping Bro. White, I went to Decatur to help Bro. L. J. Jones in his meeting at that point. The meeting commenced on Saturday and closed the next Friday night. Bro. Paul Hardin was with us from Sunday until Thursday, and did some very earnest and effective preaching, and was gladly welcomed by the people whom he had served a few years ago so acceptably. This was one of the most remarkable revival meetings in many respects I have attended in a good while. The congregations were exceedingly large both day and night, and continued so up to the very last service, and a more orderly, well-behaved, and attentive audience I have not had the pleasure of preaching to anywhere. Our friends of other denominations attended, took part with us, and seemed to enjoy the meeting, for which we feel grateful. "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." We had here very excellent singing by the choir, which added very much to the service. There were twelve accessions to the church on profession of faith (and some will join other churches). Christians were wonderfully blessed. The presence of the Holy Spirit was manifest, and God's children were permitted to "sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus." To God be all the glory.

From Decatur I went down to Lake Camp Meeting, arriving there Saturday evening in time for the opening service Saturday night, where I remained until Wednesday evening. The services were conducted by Bro. Bass, from Corinth, Miss. We had up to the time I left the best camp meeting I have attended there in many years, and I have been attending with but few exceptions ever since the camp ground was built, twenty-seven years ago. I learn that the meeting increased in interest to the close.

From the camp ground I went by home, and on to Union, where I assisted Bro. Jones in his meeting there. We had Bro. Howse with us several days. We had fine congregations and a good meeting, bnt only two additions to the church. Bro. Jones is still succeeding well on the Decatur circuit. I leave in a day or two to help him in his last protracted meeting, which will be held with Good Hope Church, eight miles east of Decatur, commencing next Saturday.

IRVIN MILLER.

Walnut Grove, Miss., Sept. 25, 1900.

LOVE WITHOUT SERVICE.

Love without service is like a sunbeam without light. The mother must minister to her child. A friend must seek to be helpful to his friend. The first recorded word of Christ was: "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" and his last, "It is finished." What lies between these words? Constant ministry. When he said, "Let him that is chiefest among you be the servant of all," he outlined the form the Christ-life must take. "Ah, but," you say, "that was all very well for him who came for the accomplishment of a special work, bnt it has no meaning to us." No meaning for us? Are there not as great evils today as when he came? Do not millions bend beneath indescribable sorrow? Have all men even yet the truth? Do all know that they are the children of God? Have the doors between this and the spirit life been thrown open? The very work which faced the Master still remains. He began that which his followers must complete.—Amory H. Bradford, D. D.

"DIDN'T START SOON ENOUGH."

"You didn't run fast enough," said a bystander to a belated Irishman, who had been left behind by a railway train which glided away as he came puffing to the station.

"Yes," said he, "I ran fast enough, but I did not start soon enough."

There are many persons who, by a similar delay, fail to accomplish that which they desire. Some great undertaking is before them. They are sensible of its importance. They talk, discuss, argue, plan, and finally begin to work, and at last put forth herculean efforts, only to find in the end that their time is lost and their labor wasted, and that they have missed the end they sought because they did not start soon enough.—Selected.

We hear the term "brother" used a great deal, and yet we see and hear many unbrotherly things done and said by those who use the term, and toward those to whom they apply it. Does this expression mean anything, or is it only a sham? "Better is a neighbor that is near than a brother far off."—Wesleyan Advocate.

Pretty Hands,

Hands delicately moulded and daintily white are among the chief of woman's charms. When such hands are marred by eruptions, their very beauty draws attention to the repulsive disease. Humors which break out on the body begin in the blood. Soaps and salves may cover up a humor but they can't cure it. There is a cure for salt-rheum and other eruptive diseases, caused by a corrupt condition of the blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures these diseases perfectly and permanently. It carries off the poisons which cause disease. It makes the blood pure and rich. It increases the quantity of the blood supply by increasing the action of the blood making glands. It makes the skin white and clear by making the blood pure.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicant.

"I write to tell you the benefit I have received from your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' after having suffered for three years with salt-rheum," writes Miss Bertha Peters, of Lulu, Monroe Co., Mich. "The humor was on my hands, and I had been treated by our home physician who did not help me. After I begun the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I took seven bottles, and can now say with pleasure that I am cured. Nobody knows the intense pain I have suffered. I could not sleep at night, the stinging, burning, and itching sensation would be so bad, sometimes I could hardly bear it. I thank you for your kind advice."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery" when there is constipation.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS.

UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY.

Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O.
Mention this paper.

BELLS

Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established
BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY
THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.

☞ A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.

Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain,

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Read What is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault, Minn

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS
EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change. . . .

DIRECT LINE TO
Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.
BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO
Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,
AND TO ALL POINTS
North, -:- East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between
NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers.

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office, 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A.
J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A.
R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.
H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.,
and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is the essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S
SELF-PRONOUNCING
S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce all proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to October, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to November, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - - $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1900.

"HIGHER CRITICISM."

A certain class of professing Christians evidently entertain the erroneous notion that all "higher criticism" of the Bible is of the devil, and that to admit any of the conclusions of the higher critics which involve a departure from the traditional view regarding the age and authorship of certain portions of the Scriptures, is to undermine the very foundations of Christianity. Such an attitude toward biblical criticism is both unwise and unfortunate, for it forbids inquiry, it being thereby assumed that all we need to know about the origin of the Bible is already known. Furthermore, the impression is produced in the minds of some that the Word of God can not stand the search-light of investigation.

Christianity, however, has nothing to fear from honest inquiry. It is falsehood that fears the light and shuns the test of evidence. If the Bible be a true book, it will not suffer by even the closest investigation of its origin and authenticity. To fancy that the Word of God ought not to be subjected to the rigid tests of historical and literary criticism, is to regard it with superstitious awe. We hope the day has forever passed when it can be said of religious faith, as it used to be said in the Middle Ages, that "ignorance is the mother of devotion."

It is a mistake to suppose that those engaged in what is known as "higher criticism," as applied to the Bible, have arrogated the term "higher critic," to themselves because of any claim of superior wisdom. The word "higher" has been used by them simply to distinguish what is known as textual, or "lower criticism," from the study of the internal evidence furnished by the various books of the Bible as to their origin and authenticity. We do these men an injustice, then, when we imagine that they are engaged in a disreputable or an unimportant work. The truth, unadulterated by mere tradition or supposition, is what we ought to desire above all things.

There is no question of the fact that, as a result of "higher criticism," the views of most theologians have undergone a radical change as regards the manner of inspiration. The commonly accepted opinion respecting the date and authorship of certain portions of the Bible has also been called in question, and in some instances the higher critics have reached well-defined and well-supported conclusions. But it should be remembered that upon many points they are far from being agreed among themselves, and that the more radical of their conclusions are too far-fetched to be worthy of general acceptance.

Notwithstanding all the smoke and din that have been raised by the critics in their investigations, it is clearly apparent that the traditional opinion regarding the origin of the majority of the books of the Bible has been reconfirmed and strengthened, and that the fundamental truths and doctrines of Christianity are still thoroughly intact.

Says Rev. R. S. MacArthur, D. D., of New York City, in his recent volume, "The Old Book and the Old Faith": "It is certain that a return toward the older view of biblical interpretation is perceptible among great scholars. Prof. Sayce has recently affirmed that the spade is to demolish many of the conclusions of philology; that the tablets tend to establish the traditional view of the historical trustworthiness of the Old Testament; that the literary analysis of the Bible is an unsafe method of reaching results. Prof. Harnack has also uttered his protest against many of the results of modern biblical criticism, and in favor of the older view."

As Dr. Herrick Johnson significantly says, "The most destructive criticism has not been able to dethrone Christ as the incarnation of perfect holiness." The personality of Jesus stands forth in the gospels in matchless grandeur; nor can he rationally be accounted for on any other supposition than that he was the Son of God.

Even if it should be fully established that more than one writer had a hand in composing and compiling the Pentateuch, Isaiah, the Book of Daniel, and other portions of the Bible, this would by no means invalidate their trustworthiness. The truths stated are truths, by whomsoever written. In biblical criticism it is of vital importance to remember that "we should make a distinction between what a book claims for itself, and what others reading it claim for it by way of inference from what it says."

We are much gratified to learn from our esteemed friend, Dr. Henry B. Carre, of Centenary College, who has recently returned from Germany, the home of "higher criticism," where he spent two years doing post-graduate work in theology, that very few, if any, of the modern German higher critics are infidels, bent upon overturning the Bible and Christianity. Nearly all of them, he states, are, in reality, devout, God-fearing men, earnestly inquiring after the truth. This news is certainly encouraging, for the general belief in this country is that a large per cent. of them are bitter enemies to Christianity. Their attitude toward the Christian religion stands out in bright contrast to that manifested by the biblical critics of the eighteenth century, not a few of whom were blatant skeptics and atheists.

While we have scant tolerance for critics of the rationalistic wing, whose chief aim seems to be to eliminate, as far as possible, the supernatural element from the Bible, we feel sure that "higher criticism," despite its extravagancies, has not been devoid of good results. As the editor of the Pittsburg Advocate forcefully expresses it, "In reverent modern biblical criticism is found the strongest man-made bulwark of our faith."

For a minister of the gospel who has done no personal, original investigation along this line to pose as a "higher critic," is, to say the least of it, nauseating and contemptible. Every now and then, however, some preacher who has more brass than brains is silly enough to cast sinrs in the presence of his congregation upon the Pentateuch, the Book of Jonah, or some other portion of the Bible that has been the battle-ground of the critics, merely because he has chanced to read at second- or third-hand the unproved conclusions and theories of some extremist. Thus rashly to discredit the Word of God is to be guilty of a most serious offense.

COMMENDABLE FAITHFULNESS.

If every sheriff were to be as steadfast in the performance of duty as the sheriff of Calcasieu parish proved himself to be recently in the presence of a surging mob, lynch law would soon be at an end. A determined effort was made by a mob at Lake Charles, about a couple of weeks ago, to capture a negro who had been jailed on a charge of criminal assault upon an aged lady, but it soon became evident that the sheriff and his deputies were not to be bulldozed, and the mob had finally to disperse without accomplishing its object. It is much to be regretted, however, that one of the deputies who bravely assisted the sheriff in protecting the prisoner, lost his life in the struggle.

Sheriff Perkins and his deputies merit the thanks of all law-abiding citizens for their fearless fidelity to duty, and we trust that their example will serve as a stimulus to officers elsewhere to be similarly faithful and courageous. Judge Miller also is deserving of praise for remonstrating so vigorously with the mob, which temporarily was turned aside from its purpose.

The outbreaks of mobism that are becoming so common all over the country are indeed an ominous sign. The lynching of a criminal is deplorable and scarcely justifiable under any circumstances, but when it is accompanied by the horrible barbarities that have characterized the doings of the mob in one or two late instances, language is inadequate to express our abhorrence of such monstrous brutality. The perpetrators thereof demonstrate to the world that they are hardly less base and savage than the brute whom they put out of the way. The tolerance of mobism is fraught with more danger than playing with dynamite.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Many of our subscribers are in arrears. Each, perhaps, thinks that as the amount of his indebtedness is small, his failure to pay up will make very little difference. This is a great mistake. Two dollars is not much, but two dollars multiplied by two or three thousand makes a considerable sum. Moreover, many owe us much more than two dollars. We need money to pay for paper, ink, and work. We will esteem it a great favor if delinquents will promptly remit the amount of their indebtedness. To those who will do so we have something to say on our fifth page. See offer headed, "A New Testament Given Away."

THE C. L. S. C.

The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle was organized at the Chautauqua Summer Assembly in 1878. Its purpose is to provide a systematic course of reading in history, literature, science, and art. It secures to those who have been denied college opportunities the college student's general outlook upon the world and life. It also gives college graduates an opportunity to review the studies of earlier years. The Circle is not a college, either in its course of study or its method; but its influence in thousands of homes has been to awaken an interest and enthusiasm in the higher education among young and old.

A regular four years' course is provided, each year being distinct from the rest. The member does not bind himself by any pledge. The individual reader may pursue the entire course alone, but circles of three, or more, are recommended. These circles, or clubs, hold weekly meetings, and pursue regular programs of reading, discussions, papers, etc. Over forty supplementary courses are provided for special students. A monthly magazine called The Chautauquan is published with readings, notes, programs, and announcements. The Chautauquan is considered by many to be unsurpassed for contents of current interest, and for permanent literary, educational, and historic value. Special review outlines are given in the books and required readings. Twenty minutes a day will cover the required reading, and the total expense entailed amounts to $5 a year—less than fifteen cents a week for a period of nine months. A diploma is awarded at the end of the four years' course, and seals are bestowed for written review work and for extra reading. The advantage of a systematic plan of study is apparent to anyone who has had occasion to compare the results of a year of desultory reading with the outcome of a twelve-month, in which the books and magazine articles are read whether few or many have been chosen with a definite aim in view.

The general subjects of the Chautauqua Four Years' Course are as follows:

1900-1: French History and Literature, Greek Lands and Letters, World Politics of To-day, Psychology.

1901-2: German and Medieval History—Nature Study; Roman and Italian Life and Art.

1902-3: English History, Literature, and Art; Nineteenth Century History—Geology.

1903-4: The Expansion of the American People; Socialism, Nature Study, American Literature.

By a selection of historical studies made up from the leading ancient and modern nations, and relating to the systematic readings in science, literature, art, and practical life, a comprehensive view of world developments is offered which supplies the fundamentals of a general education. Our academies and colleges are doing much for higher education, but it is only the few comparatively who can avail themselves of the opportunities which they offer. Chautauqua gives to every-day people the opportunity to enjoy the advantages of an education beyond that furnished by the common schools, and brings the facilities for self-culture to the family fireside.

The C. L. S. C. course for the coming Winter will be of unusual interest. The four required books, newly edited and illustrated and just issued, are:

The French Revolution. Shailer Mathews, University of Chicago.

Grecian History (fully illustrated). James Richard Joy.

From Homer to Theocritus. Edward Capps, University of Chicago.

The Human Nature Club. E. L. Thorndike, Columbia University.

THEY GOT THE COTTON.

MR. EDITOR: Two or three stewards of Hopewell Church, on Wilkinson circuit, finding that cotton was more plentiful than money in their neighborhood, concluded to try to collect cotton for quarterage. They took a wagon, and spent several days going around among the people collecting cotton. They got enough to make a bale, had it ginned, sold it, and brought fifty-two dollars to place on the table at Quarterly Conference—more than that church had ever paid at once before. This was an extraordinary achievement to the eye of even an experienced presiding elder. What these stewards did others can do. If stewards can not collect in one way, they can in another, if their minds are set on doing it.

Would that stewards everywhere would undertake to do their work with the inventive diligence of these brethren. W. L. C. HUNNICUTT.

NOTICE.

If all our preachers would notify us of Methodist boys attending the State University from the bounds of their several charges, they would confer a great favor, and insure early pastoral attention to such students. All local pastors have free access to the student body of the university.

E. N. EVANS.

No. 611 Laurel street, Baton Rouge, La.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE.

It is better for the children to be door keepers in the house of the Lord than to dwell in the tents of the Sunday-school. This means that there is a higher obligation upon the children than even Sunday-school going. It is to go to church, to hear the pastor preach, to sit with father and mother, and to form early the habit of church-going. The church, with its stated preaching, is always first in time, in power over the heart and conscience, in divine appointment as a means of grace and knowledge. Some of us, with due and full appreciation of the Sunday-school, go farther than this and believe that the preaching service, if put a little more in range of the children, is first even educationally.—Prof. H. M. Hamill, in Central Advocate.

The October number of The American Illustrated Methodist Magazine presents a varied and interesting table of contents. The Story of Our New Island Possessions, as Told by Pen and Camera, is given first place, and recites some of the adventures of Jose de Olivares, author, and Walter B. Townsend, artist, in gathering material and views for their recently published book, Our Island Possessions. The story is illustrated from photographs of characteristic scenes in Cuba, Porto Rico, Isle of Pines, the Hawaiian Islands, and the Philippines. The Game of Golf, by "An Old Old St. Andrews Man," is a timely and instructive article on the fascinating game which has, within the past few years, become so popular in America. Illustrations show the proper attitudes in the various plays. Bishop Charles B. Galloway contributes a valuable historical article, Aaron Burr in Mississippi. The career of the fascinating Burr, traitor though he was, is interesting to all readers of American history. His extraordinary genius must always deny him oblivion, but he will never be remembered to be emulated. The twentieth chapter of The Illustrated History of Methodism, Asbury's Helpers and Successors, deals with an interesting and important period in the history of the Methodist Church in the United States. Into the Heart of Old Spain, by James Main Dixon, carries the reader into a country, once the wealthiest and most powerful of nations, but whose progress and civilization were arrested three hundred years ago. Other articles are: The Happy Lifetime of Catherine Gladstone, In the Forefront of the Fire, etc.

NOTES.

The pupils of the Chicago schools contributed $4,330 to aid in relieving the Galveston sufferers.

***

Senator Hoar attributes his good health to the fact that nearly every day for several years he has taken a two-mile walk before breakfast.

***

It is well to remember that some professing Christians are better than their creed. This is far from being the case with the majority, however.

***

Dr. J. W. Thomason, of Huntsville, Texas, has established a medical missionary scholarship in Vanderbilt University. It yields $150 per annum.

***

Rev. John F. Foster, the popular pastor of Felicity Street Church, is at Woodville, Miss., this week, assisting Rev. John W. Crisler in a meeting.

***

Millsaps College had by far the best opening in its history. The enrollment up to Saturday was 180. It will probably reach 200 during the present week.

***

Isn't it strange that so many people should have such poor memories as regards their debts, and such unfailing memories in respect to slights and fancied wrongs?

***

The cuts which appear on our first page were kindly forwarded to us by Bro. A. M. Mayo, the wide-awake and efficient superintendent of the Lake Charles Sunday-school.

***

One of the most generous and touching contributions received by the Galveston sufferers was $40, given from the savings of a poor convict of the Texas State Prison.

***

Of the striking miners, 91,000 work underground, and 52,000 are top men. The larger part of these people are of foreign birth, and many of them are comparatively recent immigrants.

***

In the Century Fund, thus far, the North Carolina Conference leads the way, having subscribed $102,726; St. Louis follows with $97,190, and Holston holds the third place with $64,477.

***

Rev. T. B. Clifford passed through the city one day last week, en route home from Jackson, Miss., where he had been assisting in a meeting, and paid the ADVOCATE office an appreciated call.

***

Bishop Galloway preached the opening sermon, last Sunday, at the Woman's College, Baltimore. En route home, he will address the Holston Conference at Chattanooga in the interest of the Twentieth Century Fund.

***

Our Epworth Leagues contribute twenty thousand dollars annually to foreign missions, and our noble women give to home and foreign missions fully one hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year.—Bishop Hendrix.

***

Dr. W. R. Lambuth says of our work in China: "The increase in membership during the last three years exceeded the ingathering of the last twenty-five, while the growth of the native church during the last decade has been greater than that of the forty years preceding."

***

Our beloved Bishop Keener and his saintly wife returned to the city on last Friday from Ocean Springs, where they spent the Summer. We are glad to be able to report that they are both in fairly good health. May Heaven's richest benedictions rest upon these noble followers of the Master in this, the evening of their lives!

***

Postmaster Van Cott has notified promoters of certain endless chains that such appeals for raising money can not be sent through the New York postoffice in future. The law against the transmission of lottery schemes through the mails is said to be applicable to some of these endless chains, which recently have aroused the suspicions of the authorities.

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., has received an additional gift of $100,000 from Washington Duke, the cigarette manufacturer.

***

Bishop Thoburn, of the M. E. Church, thinks that there are signs of a great spiritual awakening throughout the denomination.

***

Revs. C. T. Munholland and John A. Miller, of the Louisiana Conference, spent last Tuesday in the Crescent City, and favored the ADVOCATE office with a call.

***

The Catholic and Protestant clergy in the anthracite region deserve much credit in their endeavors to prevent the strike. Most of the workmen are of their flocks. The Protestant Ministerial Association of Hazelton has striven for arbitration.—Western Advocate.

***

Rev. R. D. Norsworthy, the cultured and beloved pastor at Bay St. Louis, Miss., in a recent letter to the editor says: "We are getting along nicely in our Gulf-coast home. Our congregations are fairly good. There are signs of improvement in several directions. We have had about 25 additions this year, and finances are fairly well up."

***

The St. Louis Advocate reports that Centenary Church, St. Louis, had 396 additions last year, and 496 during the last two years. Wagoner Place has had 151 additions this year, and 313 during the last two years. Cook Avenue Church has gained 138 new members this year. Evidently, Southern Methodism in St. Louis is growing vigorously.

***

Rev. J. M. Henry, the energetic presiding elder of the Delhi district, sends us the following brief note, which was received too late for insertion in last week's issue: "I am just closing my third round. We have had some good meetings. Preachers hopeful. I think we will make as good report at Conference as was made last year. Much sickness has lessened church and Sunday-school attendance."

***

On yesterday (Oct. 10), at three o'clock P. M., at the residence of the bride's mother, No. 3502 Camp St., Mr. Walter Eugene Barkman, of Arkadelphia, Ark., and Miss Florence Russ were united in the holy bonds of wedlock, the ceremony being performed by Dr. W. H. LaPrade. The bride is the bright and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Florence E. Russ, an elect Methodist lady of this city. An elegant wedding reception followed the ceremony. The happy couple expect to reside in Arkadelphia. May sunshine and happiness ever be their lot in life.

***

The Pope has addressed a letter to the cardinal vicar, in which he sets forth the danger of the free propaganda of Protestantism in Italy, especially in Rome. He observes that this propaganda is permissible by law, but goes on to show how painful to him is the situation resulting from it since he can not oppose the propaganda. The Pope recommends that the cardinal vicar strengthen the work of preserving the faith, and he exhorts Catholics to unite in an effort to minimize as far as possible the damage caused by sectarian propaganda.—Northwestern Advocate.

***

The Episcopal Church is experiencing, both in England and America, an embarrassment in the lack of candidates for the ministry. Especially in England is there serious concern over the increasing population and the decreasing number of candidates for ordination. This is attributed by the church authorities chiefly to lack of proper financial support, but in part also to a feeling that the church lays too much stress on the purely formal functions of the ministry, while it requires and makes possible too little influence on matters vitally related to the moral and spiritual welfare of the people.

***

Some time ago we were favored with a copy of a thesis, in pamphlet form, submitted last June by Prof. J. Magruder Sullivan, of Centenary College, to the faculty of Vanderbilt University, with an application for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy. The thesis, the subject of which is, "Coal Tar Pitch, and Its High-Boiling Fractions, and Residue," gives evidence of much labor, and of no little technical skill in scientific investigation. It goes without saying that Prof. Sullivan was successful in obtaining the coveted Doctor's degree. We owe him an apology for having overlooked his pamphlet so long.

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS

Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.

JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

Storm Sufferers' Fund.

Previously reported	$12 00
Junior Epworth League, Norfield, Miss., forwarded by Mrs. C S. Butterfield	2 70
Blanche Thibodaux, St. Patrick P. O., La.	1 00
Total	$15 70

NOTES FROM THE DISTRICT.

Evidently, Mr. Editor, the pastors on the Jackson district do not appreciate their privileges of sending you postal card reports, or you find them more suited to the waste basket—which? Well, I do not intend to picture them nor to censure you, as I suppose all parties know how to attend to their own business, though most of us think we know how to run a newspaper; neither do I intend to write a communication as long as seventeen postal cards.

At this writing I have just closed the third round of appointments, and the notes run thus in brief: Plenty of preaching, lots of dust, and melting weather. The presiding elder has not been off the district during the year, although he laid plans for two or three outings. There has been a great deal of sickness on the district, which has reached into some of the homes of the preachers. Bro. Ware has been very ill, but at last reports was on the road to recovery. Several of the brethren have done fine service in holding their own and assisting others in protracted meetings. There have been some gracious revivals on the district. Bro. Mifford has just closed a most delightful meeting at Capitol Street.

The third round shows an increase in the finances of more than a thousand dollars over the same time last year. With the exception of three works, all are in advance and several have increased from 25 to 50 per cent. Those charges which are behind made the mistake of postponing until the Fall, and now we fear, because of exceeding short crops, that they will not catch up. Those farthest up began with the year, so showing the wisdom of taking time by the forelock. The crops in the district vary from 25 to 75 per cent. according to section. Corn crops is lamentably short everywhere. Hay has been gathered in greater quantities than ever before; really the crop was never so abundant.

Since my last letter the Gulf and Ship Island road has come into Jackson. Penetrating the country between this place and Hattiesburg, it runs via Steen's Creek and near Prentiss, thus bisecting those two works, and two more wide-awake towns than Alford and Hull I have never seen. They have caught the industrialism of the people along the road and are almost ready to fix up a new district out of the new towns that are springing up along the new line. Methodism is in good hands there.

We dropped down to Hattiesburg for one day recently. While there we met Elder Simmons who had just returned from an enforced (?) vacation of three weeks. We really pitied the fellow. I said, "Yes, the school children had three months, Simmons had three weeks, and I got three days." Pastor Jones we found in high favor with his people. Bro. Harwell was prostrate. My heart moved within me as I looked upon his emaciated form and thought of his younger, stronger days—yea, of those days when we romped together on the old school-ground. We were glad to find him cheerful and patient, resting the will of the Master.

Hattiesburg is no longer a country town. It aspires to the dignity of a city with its water-works, electric lights and ice factory. In fact, it is a great, busy center.

Now we enter upon the home run, the fourth quarter, praying God's blessings of health and success upon all the brethren.

Fraternally,

T. B. HOLLOMAN.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss. EDITOR.

LOUISIANA.

REV. H. R. SINGLETON, Ruston, La. ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

To the League Presidents.

At our State Conference in April, at Arcadia, La., it was decided to assess each Leaguer five cents apiece to help defray the expenses of the State work. Please have the amount collected and forwarded to Miss Emma McNeese, treasurer, Lake Charles, La. We need the money, and it is such a small sum—only 5 cents per capita—surely all of the Leagues in the State can respond at once.

Your prompt attention will be very much appreciated, and may God bless you all, is the sincere prayer of,

Yours "All for Christ,"

GUSSIE B. TOOKE, State Sec'y.

Arcadia, La., Sept. 25, 1900.

To the Pastors of the Louisiana Conference.

I am doing my very best to get the data for the League Directory, as soon as possible, in order to have it completed by Dec. 1, 1900. On Aug. 25 I sent a letter to every preacher in the State—over one hundred—requesting that they answer the questions asked and return letter to me at once. It was a small request, but I have only heard from about one-fourth of the number. What is the matter? Again, let me ask, if convenient, that you please reply, and assure you that the favor will be greatly appreciated by,

Yours in earnest,

GUSSIE B. TOOKE, State Sec'y.

Arcadia, La., Sept. 25, 1900.

Virginia College.

EVERY ROOM IN THE POPULAR COLLEGE FILLED.

Virginia College, the educational pride of Roanoke, the college which has both the best location and faculty in Virginia, is on a boom.

The enrollment of students so far is largely in excess of that of any preceding year, and the management have received applications sufficient to fill every room in the big building.

Good for Virginia College, an institution founded by the greatest educator of young women who ever lived in Virginia, and carried on to the top-notch of excellence by his talented daughters.

Fortunate indeed is the father or mother who has a daughter at Virginia College.

The 20th Century Movement.

Mississippi Conference Notes on Twentieth Century Thank-Offering.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS, Conference Secretary of Education.

D. Hammond writes that he would like to receive by the twentieth of October a fuller report than I have yet been able to send him. He says: "I trust that the pastors will respond to the pressure you are putting on them. We must have complete and regular reports from all the charges."

By the eighteenth of October I wish to make to D. Hammond for the Mississippi Conference a report that will be comprehensive. I earnestly entreat that by the fifteenth each pastor fill out and mail to me "Form C."

Every Methodist man and woman in Mississippi will die. The rich and poor will rest together in the clods of the valley, whether they provide schools that will insure the training of their children amid religious surroundings or no'. The laws of the State of Mississippi are such as prevent anyone on the death-bed from willing property to Christian institutions; therefore, those who mean to help these institutions must do so while they live. Who will listen? There are scholarships, and fellowships, and lectureships, and professors' chairs to be endowed.

A New Testament Given Away.

To every subscriber now in arrears who will pay up his arrearage to date, and pay two dollars additional for his renewal for one year—to October, 1901—we will send, free of charge, a beautiful, morocco-bound, gilt-edged copy of Holman's Self-Pronouncing Testament, pocket size. This offer is made only to those who pay full price. Look at the label on your paper, count the months to October, 1900, and send 16⅔ cents for each month. This will pay your arrearage. Then add $2 for your renewal. Under this offer we can not give commissions to agents. This offer will last until Nov. 1. Don't delay.

W. C. BLACK, 512 Camp St., - New Orleans.

MINISTERIAL AID ASSOCIATION.

DEAR BRETHREN: The death of our treasurer, Dr. C. G. Andrews, makes it doubly necessary that we should have a full meeting at the session of our approaching Conference. Sister Andrews has sent to me notes held by him. As a mark of appreciation of benefit received, I hereby appeal to everyone who has received aid from this association to come prepared to make some payment.

Brother, you ought to do so, though it may cost some sacrifice. Others are appealing to us for aid, and we are dependent on your payments to do for them what we cheerfully did for you. If convenient to make payments soon, send to Rev. W. T. Griffin, at Summit, Miss., or to me at Jackson, Miss.

Yours fraternally,

T. B. HOLLOMAN, Pres.

NOTES BY W. L. ANDERSON.

Rev. J. S. Oakley has just returned from Carrollton, Winona, and Durant, where he has been visiting friends. His health is improving, so that he was able to preach Sunday, Sept. 30, to his old parishioners at Carrollton.

Rev. G. W. Gordon is being assisted in a revival meeting at Ackerman this week by the inimitable "Wild Irishman" of Prohibition fame in Grenada county, Rev. W. J. O'Bryant. A good work is being done.

Rev. J. H. Mitchell is reported in fine spirits as to the outcome on his district (the Winona). The faith and cheerful spirit of such a leader as he are unconquerable. May his most sanguine hopes be realized!

I have discovered that slight curtailment of farm products will have but slight effect on the collections on Chester charge, and I presume others also. The fact is, our staunchest supporters have laid by something for a rainy day. They realize that they are called upon to come up even a little better than common because of the failure of others less fortunate.

Oct. 4, 1900.

Encouraging Report from the Pastor at Biloxi.

We have just closed a meeting of eleven days, with very gratifying results, in the spiritual uplifting of our people. Bro. Chambers was with us, and did all the preaching, except one sermon on last Sunday by Bro. Simmons, our presiding elder—that being the time set for our fourth quarterly meeting. While the collections are not up as well as we would like, yet we hope to make a good report at Conference. We have had a reasonably good year, with much to be thankful for. Only those who have had experience in this coast work can appreciate how great are the difficulties and hindrances met within our work. We have had twenty-seven accessions to the church, seventeen on profession of faith. The Epworth League has raised and applied to the parsonage about $125. The elect ladies of the Aid Society have raised and applied on parsonage debt $185. This amount is large for the few engaged in the work. Through their faith and undaunted effort we have one of the best parsonages in the Mississippi Conference. Our Sunday-school is one of the best in attendance and faithful study of the lessons that I have any knowledge of. V. V. BOONE.

Biloxi, Miss., Oct. 5, 1900.

Do You Know?

That when your bowels are disordered, and irregularities caused by change of diet or location exist,

Brodie's Astringent Cordial

Will correct all the troubles, and never fails, but

CURES

DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, CRAMPS, BLOODY FLUX, and Such Symptoms.

TESTIMONIAL.

July 28, 1899.

Dear Sirs:—I have used Brodie's Astringent Cordial in my family, and am using the third bottle. It always acts like a charm upon my children, correcting ailments of the bowels better than any medicine I ever tried. * * * Yours, most respectfully, MRS. A. W. MOORE.

Price: 50 cts. and $1 a Bottle.

I. L. LYONS & CO., New Orleans, La.

Sold by All Druggists.

Good News for Our Readers

Who have scrofula taints in their blood, and who has not? Scrofula in all its forms is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly purifies the blood. This disease, which frequently appears in children, is greatly to be dreaded. It is most likely to affect the glands of neck, which become enlarged, eruptions appear on the head and face, and the eyes are frequently affected. Upon its first appearance, perhaps in slight eruptions or pimples, scrofula should be entirely eradicated from the system by a thorough course of Hood's Sarsaparilla, to prevent all the painful and sickening consequences of running scrofula sores, which drain the system, sap the strength, and make existence utterly wretched.

WHITE CASTLE, LA.

The White Castle charge is about as usual; some are here, and some are away. For two reasons congregations are small. First, there are only a few who regularly attend church; again, a number of our regular attendants are away for the Summer. The cool breezes of October may remind some of them of the season to return. We are still working at the parsonage debt, and hope soon to report, "No debt." We have two representatives at college, Herman Wilkinson, at Centenary, and Miss Flossie Shaw, at Mansfield. These are from our little Sunday-school. The town in which I live is largely made up of liberal-hearted people—willing to respond to any worthy object. If they were all Christians, what a power they would be! They have sent more than $100 to famine-stricken India, and over $200 to the sufferers at Galveston. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me." May God bless those who have thus contributed! I. T. REAMES.

Oct. 6, 1900.

For Indigestion

Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. GREGORY DOYLE, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "I have frequently prescribed it in cases of indigestion and nervous prostration, and find the result so satisfactory that I shall continue it."

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Iuka Normal Institute, the pioneer normal of the South, manipulated by Pres. H. A. Dean, who is widely known as one of the foremost, common-sense educators in the land. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y

OF NEW YORK.

RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.

Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.

SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 64
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,282 42
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 06
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,226 90
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,136 96

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY

are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.

Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.

Post & Bowles, New Orleans, La

Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

A Slave Holder's Daughter.

BY BELLE KEARNEY.

Cloth, 12 Mo, Fully Illustrated. $1.

This is a book which photographs the new South in contrast with the old. It deals especially with the evolution of Southern women—their surprising energy in leaping from the lap of the old, feudal, luxurious life to meet the stern realities of to-day. The author herself belongs by birthright to the old regime, while in full sympathy with the new condition. She writes from the inside, and pictures in her vivid and throbbing pages the situation down in Dixie as it relates to the people, education, the woman question, temperance, the economist, etc. All those who would have an inside knowledge of Dixie's Land as it is to-day should read it.

THE ABBEY PRESS, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

MARRIAGES.

PITTS—EASTER.—JONES—EASTER.—At New Hope Church, in Monroe county, Miss., Sept. 30, 1900, at seven o'clock P. M., by Rev. T. H. Porter, Mr. Palmer Pitts to Miss Ludie Easter, and Mr. H. C. Jones to Miss Jaule Easter.

GAMBELL-FOSTER.—At the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Williams, Bay St. Louis, Miss., Oct. 2, 1900, by Rev. R. D. Norsworthy, Mr. Harry Cone Gambell to Miss Minnie Pearl Foster, daughter of Rev. W. R. Foster, of the White River Conference.

Arkansas Methodist please copy.

MCLEMORE—BARR.—At the home of the bride, Clay county, Miss., July 29, 1900, by Rev. J. W. Raper, Mr. M. S. McLemore and Miss Ada Barr, all of Clay county, Miss.

WINGFIELD—CRISLER.—In the Methodist Church, Edwards, Miss., Oct. 4, 1900, by the Revs. John W. and Chas. W. Crisler, brothers of the bride, Miss Josephine Crisler, of Edwards, to Rev. Oscar H. Wingfield, of Burnside, Ky.

CROWSON—POPE.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mt. Carmel, Miss., Sept. 13, 1900, by Rev. R. L. Webb, Rev. F. L. Crowson, of the Mississippi Conference, and Miss Elizabeth Pope.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co, 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

T. J. MURRAY,

DEALER IN

STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,

Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.

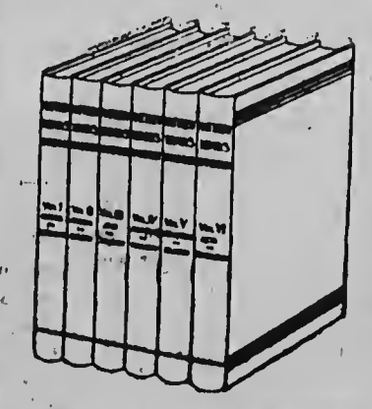
Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for $2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot cordwood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

Matthew Henry's Commentary

on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.

Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.

Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied: "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.



Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.

3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.

Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.
Cheapest and Best Commentary
Best cloth binding—good type.

Write to

Rev. W. C. BLACK, 512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

IUKA NORMAL INSTITUTE

Iuka, Miss.

Nineteenth year begins Sept. 4, 1900. Terms reasonable—advantages superior. Satisfaction guaranteed to all working pupils. Write for the handsomest catalogue of the season.

H. A. DEAN, Pres.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Grenada Female College

Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.

PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.

W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

WHEN BABY COMES.

"Where did you come from, baby dear?
Out of the everywhere into the here.

Where did you get your eyes so blue?
Out of the sky as I came through.

What makes the light in them sparkle and spin?
Some of the starry spikes let in.

Where did you get that little tear?
I found it waiting when I got here."

The fact is as sad as it is true that the baby finds the tear waiting to dull its blue eyes, and stain its soft cheeks. At the first it "has no language but a cry." Its one necessity is but to give expression to its suffering, and for that a tear suffices.

The mother who stoops in anguish over the wailing child would do anything to ease its suffering. But she is helpless. The time when she could have done so much for her child is past. She did not realize that in those anxious nervous days when she shrank from the ordeal of motherhood she was preparing suffering for the baby.

The path of motherhood is soothed and made easy for those who use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives physical buoyancy and mental brightness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages a healthy appetite and induces refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength for her hour of trial, and the confidence and content which come from strength. It makes the birth hour practically painless, and by increasing the natural, food secretions, it enables the healthy mother to enjoy the happiness of nursing her child.

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, or any other narcotic.

A Mother's Gratitude.

"I would like to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I have received from your wonderful medicine, 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. H. C. Anderson, of South Britain, New Haven Co., Conn., (Box 33). "During the first month of expectancy I could not keep anything on my stomach. Was so sick that I had to go to bed and stay for weeks. I tried different doctors, but with little benefit. I read about many being helped by using your medicine, so I thought I would give it a trial. I began to take your 'Favorite Prescription' in November and I had a nice little girl baby in February following. My baby weighed over eight pounds. I was only sick about one hour, and got along nicely afterward; was up and dressed on the eighth day. I never had the doctor with me at all; just the nurse and one or two friends. My friends thought that I was sick a very short time. I think Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is indeed a true 'mother's friend,' for it helped me wonderfully. This makes my second child; with the first one I did not take 'Favorite Prescription.' The little one lived just about two months and she was sick all the time. This last baby is as plump and healthy as any mother could wish."

Much Better Health.

Mrs. Annie Blacker, 629 Catherine Street, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four mishaps, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby. I have recommended your medicines to several of my friends and they have been benefited by them."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A RARE BARGAIN.

THE VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Talks.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to October, 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

DON'T HUNT TROUBLE.

BY COBA AMANDA LEWIS.

Honey, ef you looks fo' Tronble.
You kin fin' him, sho'!
Ef you hunts, you'll fin' him double
Sneakin' 'roun yo' do'.

He so glad tow hab you know him
Up he'll hang his hat—
Stay forebeh - less you show him
You'll hab none o' dat!

Now I gwine tow tell you—enttin—
(Larnt it ye'rs ago)
Ef you drap yore winnow enttin,
An' shet tight yore do'—

Ho suns tire of payin' 'tention
Whar he am despised;
He's jest Tronble—year me mention
When he's recon'lzed!

—Success.

THE JUDGE'S MOTHER.

Mrs. Smith had a paper to write for her club. The subject she had chosen was: "How can women uplift the coming generation?"

She was puzzled to choose the best of the many ways which suggested themselves to her. Should it be through art, lecturing, literature or general reform?

She confided her difficulty to old Judge Adams, who was sitting with her husband on the veranda.

"I can only give you my experience," he said. "I was one of five brothers. All were men who exercised a strong influence in the world, and each one of us owed his bent and force of character to our mother.

"Our father died when we were children. Mother made us what we were. Until we were gray-haired men we went to her whenever we were in perplexity. 'Mother,' we would say, 'what is the right thing to do in this case?' She knew nothing of law or politics, but she always knew the right. I think," said the judge, gravely, "that my mother influenced the next generation to her own more strongly than any other human being I ever have known."

"She no doubt had a powerful mind and a broad education?" asked Mrs. Smith.

"No." The judge smiled. "She got her hold on us in very simple ways. I remember one of them. When we came home from school on cold days, mother was sure to be waiting beside a big fire. Off came our wet shoes and stockings; she rubbed the cold feet warm with her own hands. Then there was always a huge brown jug waiting before the fire with roasted apples and sugar and hot water in it, and each one had his mug of the delicious stuff; and we sat and grew warm, and joked and laughed, and no doubt opened our little hearts to the dear, wise woman.

"All day long she was our comrade. We carried to her all our secrets and miseries when we were men, as we had done when we were boys. Two of us were ministers, two legislators who helped to form the laws of new States, but I doubt if one of us ever took an important step in life without being influenced by the opinion of that one good woman."

Mrs. Smith looked uncertainly at her paper on which she had scribbled "artists, lecturers, civil and political reformers."

"You think, then," she said, "that woman's strongest hold upon the world is at home, through love and a Christian life?"

The judge's eyes twinkled. "I can tell you only what I know. I can not decide for the world," he said.—Youth's Companion.

GOOD EVIDENCE.

While a number of young men in the waiting-room of an English railway were discussing the merits of total abstinence, a policeman came in with a handcuffed prisoner, and listened to the dispute, but gave no opinion.

A minister of the gospel, who was present also, stepped up to the policeman, and politely said:

"Pray, sir, what have you to say about temperance?"

"Well," replied the guardian of the law, "all I have to say is that I never took a teetotaler to prison in my life."—Ram's Horn.

WHAT GIRLS CAN DO.

I know a large family of sisters—eight of them—who used to live in the country, years ago, when they were girls. It was so much in the country that servants were hard to get; and, as the mother was an invalid, the eight girls all learned to help with household work. It ended in each one's taking a specialty, and learning to do it very well. One could iron the daintiest laces and ruffles; another cooked as well as an expert; another was an excellent laundress, and so on. It was delightful to see what thorough work they made of it, and what real "accomplishments" these household arts became in their eyes. They were proud of doing these things well; and when they had servants they trained them so successfully that to have been in their kitchen for a year or two was like having a diploma. "Miss Eleanor H—— taught me how to iron," or "Miss Mary H—— showed me how to wash flannels," was often heard from such servants when seeking another place, and it was always a recommendation in their favor.

All of the eight sisters now, except one, have gone to homes of their own, and the old house in the country is vacant. But I always remember it as the place where I first realized, as a girl myself, what a beautiful thing it was to be able to do household work exquisitely well. I have wished a great many times since that I was able, as Eleanor H—— was able then, to iron some especially dainty bit of a lace and insertion for myself, instead of putting it into the hands of a careless ironer. But I can not, and so I have to see it poorly done, and perhaps torn in the process. And I often have to see good food spoiled in the cooking because I can not direct the cook myself, as Emily H—— would have done.—Priscilla Leonard.

BE GREATER THAN YOUR POSITION.

A distinguished theological professor once said: "If I had a son, I should tell him many times a day to make himself as big a man on the inside as possible."

Young men too often want to be big men on the outside; to occupy positions which fit them as a turtle's shell fits a clam.

Never mind your position, young man. Whatever it may be, try to fill it. The duties which you have to perform may seem trivial; but because it is a small position is no reason why you should be a small man. You may be big inside, you know, if you are small outside.

The young man who applies himself to internal growth, as it were, is bound in time to find a place where he will be able to use every power he possesses.

At any rate, better be a big man in a small place than the opposite. A pinch of powder in a small cartridge can make a deal of noise and drive a bullet a long way. What can it do in a Krupp gun?—Burton M. Balch, in Success.

TELL ALL YOUR SUFFERING FRIENDS WHAT G. F. P. HAS DONE FOR YOU.

Mrs. Alice Chambers, Newberry, S. C.—It affords me great pleasure to state that G. F. P. (Gerstle's Female Panacea) has cured me of Whites and Falling of the Womb.

Mrs. Delsenie Barden, Tampa, Fla.—G. F. P. (Gerstle's Female Panacea) has cured me of Ulcerated Womb and Whites.

Mrs. S. J. Stewart, Atkelson, Ala.—I am being carried safely through the disturbances attendant on Change of Life by G. F. P. (Gerstle's Female Panacea.)

Mr. Jake Howard, Monterey, Texas.—For seven months my wife was unable to sit up or handle her baby. Six bottles of G. F. P. (Gerstle's Female Panacea) has restored her to health.

Mrs. Julia Andrus, Climax, Ga.—I have been entirely relieved by G. F. P. (Gerstle's Female Panacea) of the most intense suffering, produced by a complication of Womb troubles.

If complications arise in your case which you do not understand, write in confidance for free advice to the LADIES' HEALTH CLUB, care of L. Gerstle & Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

A MINISTER'S WIFE'S DUTIES.

"The duty of a minister's wife, it might properly be considered is to keep herself informed concerning the work of the Mission Boards of her denomination," writes "A Minister's Wife," in the September Ladies', Home Journal. "The wife of the minister may be a valuable and yet not an overburdened member of the missionary societies if she quietly hold her societies in league with denominational work. No one else can do this so well, because the minister will supply the needed information. On occasions where it is necessary for the church to be represented in the women's councils it is fitting that the minister's wife should go, if she feels inclined. If she is timid and shrinking, such publicity is torture, and there is no reason why she should force herself to submit to it. She can, in the society, suggest, and, if need be, insist upon delegates to do this work. If she has a wise head and a kind heart, she will not do more than is right, and she will do whatever is necessary; but the parish must realize that there are many demands socially, and that her life is to be planned out in accordance with her own ideas of right. She needs her strength, her brightness, her reposeful home. She should give to the church only such service as every other Christian woman ought to give, and no more, for we are saying to-day, with a new and sensible emphasis: "The church engaged my husband—not me!"

SLEEPING HYGIENE.

Physicians declare one-half the diseases flesh is heir to are contracted by sleeping two in a bed. It is only too true. There is a poison constantly arising from each body, which the other inhales. Two single beds placed side by side will do away with much of the bad effect, and yet one need not feel that they are really alone.

Away with heavy hangings, either above or below the bed.

Keep the head cool while sleeping, but not by a draught of cold air falling upon it.

If a folding-bed must be used, contrive some way to keep it aired and wholesome.

Let the pillow be high enough to bring the head in a natural position—no more or less.

Thoroughly air the sleeping-room every day. Air the beds and bedding as often as possible.

A dark, out-of-the-way, unwholesome corner is no more fitted for a sleeping-room than a parlor.

Beware of a dusty, musty carpet; better sweetness and a bare floor.

Do not fail to provide some means of ventilation during the night.

A feather-bed which has done service for a generation or two is hardly a desirable thing upon which to sleep.—The Inland.

Rev. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts thus answers the latest canteen fallacy: "Numerous papers are arguing that the Administration has done a beneficent work in nullifying the anti-canteen law on the ground that the beer-selling canteen keeps soldiers from whisky-selling 'dives' outside. No proof is given that at any specific place outside saloons has been displaced: in fact, they have increased. But the sufficient and crushing answer is that where most of our soldiers have been through all this anti-canteen controversy, in Manila, Cuba, and Porto Rico, the President and War Department have had full control of saloons on the outside as well as inside."—Exchange.

Among the minor virtues probably the habit of self-control in speech holds the most important place in the life of a woman. The acquirement of this habit must begin early, or it will never be attained save with great difficulty. It must be formed in girlhood if it is not well started in childhood. I have seen the happiness of many a fair life ruined by the want of power to suppress the word of bitterness, contempt and anger, even under what might be called "reasonable provocation." There are times when one's only duty is to keep from talking. There are times when keeping still is wisdom, love, Christianity. —Ada C. Sweet, in the Woman's Home Companion.

OH, FOR THE HONESTY OF THE OLD DAYS!

"Put that back!" exclaimed President John Quincy Adams, when his son took a sheet of paper from a pigeonhole to write a letter. "That belongs to the government. Here is my own stationery, at the other end of the desk. I always use it for letters on private business."

This conscientiousness in regard to what many would consider a mere trifle may appear excessive. But the dividing line between vice and virtue is so fine that the boundary is often unconsciously crossed, and it is just as dangerous for a young person to dally with conscience as it is for a child to toy with a dagger, or to play with fire. He who is honest in small things can always be trusted in great.

There is truth not to be ignored in the old-fashioned rhyme:

It is a sin to steal a pin,
Much more to steal a greater thing.

No matter how little value the thing we appropriate from another may possess, the fact that it does not belong to us should make it sacred.—October Success.

DRINK, CRIME, AND PAUPERISM.

The statistics obtained from the replies of over 1,000 prison governors in the United States to a circular letter addressed to them, and a summary shows that the general average of 909 replies received from the license States gives the proportion of crime due to drink at no less than 72 per cent.; the average from 108 officials in prohibition States gives the percentage as 37. A considerable number of the latter were "boot-leggers," in jail for selling whisky. Out of the 1,017 jailers, only 181 placed their estimate below 25 per cent., and 55 of these were from empty jails in prohibition territory. The relation of drink to panperism is much the same as that of drink to crime. Of 73,045 panpers in all the almshouses of the country, 37,254 are there through drink.—Temperance Advocate.

PERFECT FOODS ARE VERY FEW.

There are very few single foods containing the proper amount of nitrogen and carbon. It is intended that we shall mix our foods to get a perfect diet. The whole wheat grain is very nearly a typical food; it may lack a little fat. Milk and eggs are also nearly perfect. The pulse or chick peas of the East are quite perfect food.—Ladies' Home Journal.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

16,600 frs. National Prize at Paris

QUINA-LAROCHE

A Ferruginous Tonic

Pleasant to the taste; assimilate quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach troubles, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.

22 rue Drouot
PARIS
E. Fougera & Co.
Agents, N.Y.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. O. B. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,
NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES.
Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY.
Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments
Fall Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens November 1st.

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address
Secretary of University.

PATENTS promptly procured, OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks" FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 26 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Facile service. Moderate charges. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. PATENT LAWYERS, Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

EUGENE FIELD'S POEMS: A $7.00 BOOK

THE Book of Century. Handsomely Illustrated by thirty-two of the World's Greatest Artists.

Given Free

to each person interested in subscribing to the Eugene Field Monument Souvenir Fund. Subscribe at any amount desired. Subscriptions as low as $1 will entitle donor to his choice of artistic volume,

"FIELD FLOWERS" (cloth bound, with certificate of subscription to fund. Book contains a selection of Field's tenderest and most representative work) is ready for delivery.

But for the noble contribution of the world's greatest artists this book could not have been manufactured for less than $7.

The Fund created is divided equally between the family of the late Eugene Field and the Fund for the building of a monument to the memory of the beloved poet of childhood. Address

Eugene Field Monument Souvenir Fund,
(Also at Book Stores.) 180 Monroe St., Chicago.

If you also wish to send postage, enclose 10cts.

Mention this Journal, as Adv. is our Contribution.

MONEY SAVED

In the end by taking

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STA. Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrive
Memphis and Local.....	4:00 P. M	10:30 A. M
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:30 A. M	6:00 P. M

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Old Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

MACBETH'S "pearl top" and "pearl glass" lamp-chimneys are carefully made of clear tough glass; they fit, and get the utmost light from the lamp, and they last until some accident breaks them. "Pearl top" and "pearl glass" are trade-marks. Look out for them and you needn't be an expert.

Our "Index" describes all lamps and their proper chimneys. With it you can always order the right size and shape of chimney for any lamp. We mail it FREE to any one who writes for it.

Address MACBETH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sherwood Music School
FINE ARTS BUILDING, 203 Michigan Av. CHICAGO.
William H. Sherwood and Walton Perkins, Directors.
Highest Standard of Art. Faculty of eminent teachers. Catalog free on application. Fall Term Opens September 10.
WILLIAM H. PERKINS, Sec.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,
MILK · DEPOT,
SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.
CONFECTIONERIES.
DELIVERY FREE.
[illegible] Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
Suite 303---New Orleans National Bank Building,
606 Common St., New Orleans, La

OBITUARIES.

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

NOBLIN—Mrs. SARAH WATKINS NOBLIN was born near Livingston, Ala., on the fifteenth of May, 1839, and fell asleep in Jesus, June 18, 1900. Her father, Needham Watkins, first moved from North Carolina to Alabama, but when our friend was about nine years of age he settled permanently in Mississippi. She joined the church in the bloom of early womanhood. A few years later, on the fifth of January, 1863, she was married to Mr. Robert H. Noblin. This was an ideal marriage—a union of hearts as well as hands—and for twenty-nine years they walked life's checkered path together with mutual helpfulness and devotion. God gave them seven children, but three were early taken to the upper fold.

In 1897, when the yellow fever wrought such sad changes in the homes of Edwards, Mr. R. E. Noblin was one of those fatally stricken. His devoted wife bore her bereavement with Christian fortitude and submission, but the shadow of his parting never left her heart during the two years of her sad widowhood. At the time of her husband's death all of the children were married, and settled in homes of their own, save a daughter who watched over the widowed mother with untiring tenderness. Her presence and constant ministrations of this loved one lifted all the burdens of the home life from her shoulders, and was a constant solace to her aching heart.

Serious symptoms developed several months before her death, but she was so serene and cheerful that her children, though anxious, did not realize the end was so near. She seemed, however, to anticipate and quietly to await the summons to "come up higher." The last day of her earthly life was a blessed Sabbath. She appeared to be in her usual health, and with more than her usual strength. She spent nearly all the day in reading her Bible, and returned to its gracious messages again and again before retiring at night; then fell into a peaceful slumber, from which, without a struggle, she awoke in the heavenly home. In death her eyes were closed as in sleep, and an expression of perfect peace was stamped upon her features.

"Asleep in Jesus! O how sweet
To be for such a slumber meet!"

Rev. Charles Ormler conducted the funeral services. His tender prayer and comforting words on the fourteenth chapter of John's Gospel—that chapter so full of solace to stricken hearts—will not be forgotten. The mortal part of our friend was reverently laid away in the old Liberty Cemetery by the sacred dust of loved ones gone before. Her immortal spirit is with those loved ones in the heavenly mansion prepared for them by the Savior's loving hands.

If I were asked to name the most prominent traits in the admirable character of this noble woman, I would say, honesty and sincerity. She was the soul of candor, incapable of falsehood and conventional deceits. To her simple, strong, transparent nature, pretense and parade were alike impossible. She was true and loyal in her friendships, and unstinted in her hearty hospitality. One felt welcome and at home under her roof. For many years she was an invalid, unable to make social visits, and rarely enjoying the privileges of God's house; but no one enjoyed entertaining friends more than she, nor appreciated more sincerely the presence and prayers of the pastor in her home.

Mrs. Noblin was a woman of fine sense and judgment, capable of managing large business interests as well as the affairs of her household. In her religious life she was simple and very unpretentious. She did her duty as she saw it; was humble and sincere. Long years of suffering she bore with cheerful patience, and in sorrow she was submissive. When trials came she did not tell them to the world, but took them to the Burden-bearer. Thus grief and trouble wrought the finished work of grace in her soul. When I saw her a few weeks before her death her heart was full of love to her children, and kindly feeling towards all men. No ungentle, unforgiving thought towards anyone dwelt in her chastened soul.—Well might she have sung:

"The pity I for others feel,
That pity show to me."

Dear, true-hearted friend, we shall meet again in our Father's house.

CLARA B. DRAKE.

CLANTON—On June 2, 1900, "the chariot of God swung low and caught up Col. JEROME CLANTON to the city whose builder is God." Col. Clanton was born July 28, 1828, near Warrenton, N. C., and died June 2, 1900, at his residence near Fairfield, Pickens county, Ala. He was the son of Dr. G. L. Clanton, who moved from North Carolina to Sumter county, Ala., when the subject of this sketch was a boy of five or six years of age. His collegiate and legal education was received in Knoxville, Tenn.

Col. Clanton was a lawyer of considerable ability. He practiced law for a number of years in Eutaw, Ala., where he won much distinction by his brilliancy and eloquence. He entered politics when quite a young man, and filled many positions of trust and honor. He was married three times: first to Miss Frances Jones, daughter of Mr. Jas. Jones, of Hale county, Ala.; second to Mrs. Baldwin, of Pickens county, Ala., and third to Mrs. Farmer, of Pickens county, Ala., Sept. 6, 1894, who lives to mourn the death of this great and good man.

Col. Clanton was a member of Hebron Church, of the M. E. Church, South. His life was so consistent, so humble, so earnest, and yet so intelligent, that he won the absolute confidence and respect of all who knew him.

Col. Clanton died triumphantly. His last illness was of long duration, but his sun set without a cloud. S. L. POPE.

AGNEW—LEWIS BRYANT AGNEW, Sr., was born in Alabama, May 12, 1838, and died at his home near Morton, Miss., on the fifteenth of June, 1900. On the twenty-second of October, 1865, he was married to Miss S. A. Greer, and with her he lived happily till his death. To them were born ten children, nine of whom remain, and with their mother mourn their loss. He was of Methodist parentage; was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, in Alabama in 1866. This same year he moved to Rankin county, Miss., where he remained till 1869, when he moved on to Texas. For six years he made his home there, and then returned to Mississippi, where he remained ever since. He has made the vicinity of Morton his home for eighteen years.

Bro. Agnew was kind-hearted, generous, and a hard-working man, blacksmithing being his trade. Though struggling against peculiar temptations, it was ever his purpose to do right and maintain his hold upon God. During his last illness he expressed himself to his pastor as being prepared for whatever the Lord might see best for him; that he was not afraid to die, his preparation having been made before. He was laid to rest in the place of his choice at the Gravel Pit Graveyard, the funeral service at the house being conducted by his pastor, and at the grave by his Masonic Lodge. HIS PASTOR.

LEA—On Sunday, June 3, 1900 as the sun was sinking in the west, the death angel crossed the threshold and bore away the spirit of Mrs. LUCY LEA. To her death came in a beautiful form. She was one of earth's noblest, and God took her to adorn his home, while we are left desolate. She was ever ready to help the sick and suffering, and her words of consolation to the mourner were as the balm of Gilead. Truly she went about doing good. How sorely she is missed in the home, church, and community! Husband, weep not; sons and daughters, follow her noble example and sweet counsel, and one sweet day you shall all be an unbroken family in God's home. Remember, dear ones, you have a stronger tie that binds you closer to heaven. Another dear one is waiting to welcome you when you cross the silent river of death to an eternal home in heaven.

Some sweet day,
Clothed with celestial grace,
And beautiful with all the soul's expansion,
Shall we behold her face.

A FRIEND.

OWEN—Mrs. MARY W. OWEN, wife of Orson Owen, and daughter of Isham and Elizabeth Harris, was born in North Carolina, Nov. 2, 1809, and died at her daughter's home, Mrs. S. A. Lambeth, near Aberdeen, Miss., Sept. 10, 1900. She spent the greater part of her long and useful life in Monroe county, Miss. She was a consistent member of the Methodist Church for more than fifty years. She was a very quiet, modest woman; a good wife, mother, neighbor, and friend. None knew her but to love her. Though she lived to a ripe old age, and longed to join her loved ones who had preceded her to the "beautiful beyond," yet her family were loath to give her up. May they emulate her example, be sustained by the same power that sustained her, and reach the same heaven to which she has gone! Is the prayer of her pastor, T. H. POSTAR.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that can not be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists; 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

If thou hide thy treasure upon the earth, how canst thou expect to find it in heaven? Canst thou hope to be a sharer where thou hast reposed no stock? What thou givest to God's glory, and thy soul's health, is laid up in heaven, and is only thine; that alone, which thou enclosest or hidest upon earth, is lost.—Enchiridion.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Heart-work is hard work indeed. To shuffle over religious duties with a loose and heedless spirit will cost no great pains; but to set thyself before the Lord, and tie up thy loose and vain thoughts to a constant and serious attendance upon him—this will cost thee something. Flavel.

PIMPLES
on the face, eczema, tetter, freckles, blackheads, ring worm, blotches, and all skin disorders can be cured with
HEISKELL'S OINTMENT
Price 50 Cents a Box.
HEISKELL'S BLOOD AND LIVER PILLS
Purify the blood and tone the system.
Price 25 Cents per Bottle.
JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philadelphia.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY, Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN, Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS, Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK, Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, EckSTEIN } Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION } New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN } Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN } St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO, Philadelphia.
MORLEY, Cleveland.
SALEM, Salem, Mass.
CORNELL, Buffalo.
KENTUCKY, Louisville.

WHEN you see the paint cracking, peeling or falling off the house in shreds, you may be sure it was not painted with Pure White Lead, but with some mixture of Zinc, Barytes, etc.

Pure White Lead unites with Linseed oil to form an elastic coating that never cracks nor peels. It is the good, old-fashioned paint that lasts. To be sure of getting Pure White Lead, see that the package bears one of the brands named in margin.

FREE For colors use National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. Any shade desired is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving full information and showing samples of Colors, also pamphlet entitled "Uncle Sam's Experience With Paints" forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 100 William Street, New York.

W. W. Carre & Co.
LUMBER.
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOB PRINTING
- - All Kinds - -
AT THIS OFFICE.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to October, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

IMPERIAL No. 4.

THE IMPERIAL HIGH-ARM SINGER will be found the perfection of mechanism as regards simplicity, durability and adaptability to the wide range of work embraced in the general family needs.

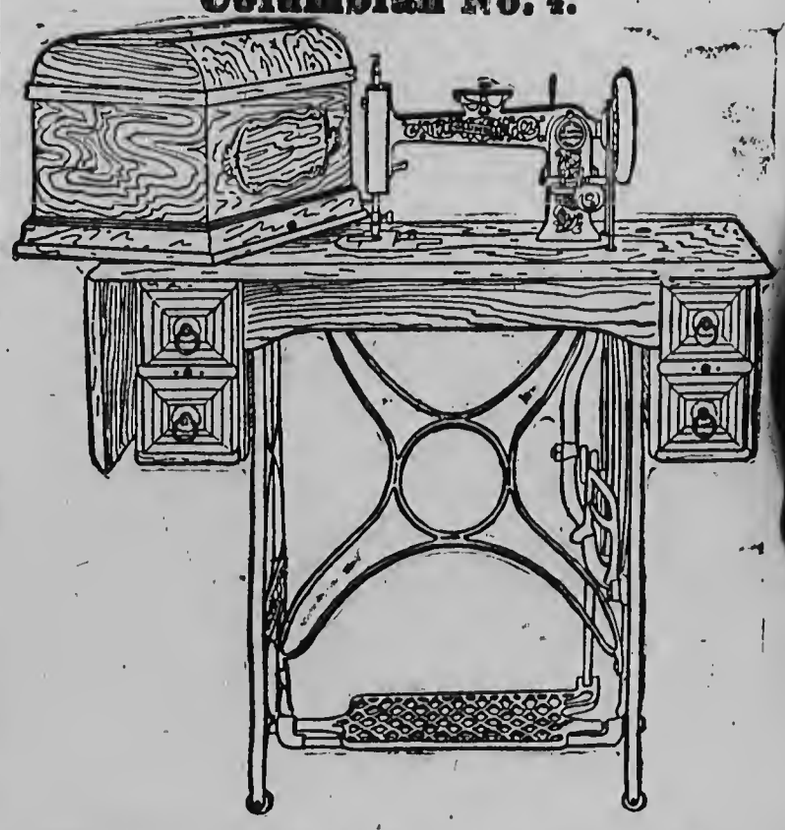
A Handsome, Light-Running, Lock-Stitch, High-Arm Machine that will not fail to please the most fastidious. Embracing all the advantages, with all desirable improvements of other first-class sewing machines, so simple in mechanism that the most inexperienced need no assistance in operating it. Book of instructions with every machine. Any child can learn to run it.

Extra Set of Attachments also free with each machine, consisting of the following: One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to ½ of an inch, One Binder and One Thread Cutter.

No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $24. Our price, $14.75.
No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $25. Our price, $15.50.
No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of three drawers at each end, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $26. Our price, $16.25.

Furnished Free with every machine are the following named accessories: One Foot Hemmer, One Screw Driver, One Wrench, One Oil Can and Oil, One Gauge Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins and One Instruction Book.

Columbian No. 4.



EXCELLENCE OF THE COLUMBIAN.—All wearing parts are of case-hardened steel possessing great durability, and by the turning of a screw all lost motion caused by wear can be taken up. All parts are fitted so accurately that the machines are absolutely noiseless, and as easy running as fine adjustment and best mechanical skill is possible to produce. No expense or time is spared to make them perfect in every respect, as every machine passes a rigid inspection by competent men before leaving the factory.

NICKEL PLATED.—The balance wheel and many of the fine parts are nickel-plated, with other parts finely enameled and ornamented, giving it a rich appearance.

A Self-Setting Needle and Self-Threading Cylinder Shuttle are used in the Columbian High-Arm Sewing Machine. They are so simple that any one can easily operate them in a few minutes' time, as our Instruction Book is fully illustrated, showing how to do all kinds of fancy work with attachments.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

ADDITIONAL ACCESSORIES.—Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screw Driver, Oil Can with Oil, Cloth Gauge and Thumb Screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated, and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

No. 3—Drop leaf, Bent cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $29. Our price, $17.
No. 4—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $31. Our price, $17.75.
No. 5—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making a seven-drawer machine. Dealer's price, $33. Our price, $18.50.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
513 Camp St., New Orleans.

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

THROW AWAY

YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of

CHILLIFUGE

will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

STOP POUNDING YOUR DOUGH.

Every housewife should secure one of De MUTH'S DOUGH KNEADERS. Makes finest biscuits, whitest and lightest bread. Write for our booklet, "Beaten Biscuit," giving full particulars—FREE.

No work
No worry
No trouble
No pounding

J. A. De MUTH, St. Joseph, Mo.

1000 active persons wanted to take orders for

GALVESTON

THE HORRORS OF A STRICKEN CITY

By Murat Halstead.

100,000 COPIES ORDERED before a book was printed. Enormous demand. BIG BOOK. ONLY $1.50. Only reliable, endorsed book, by author of renown. Beware fake books. BIGGEST COMMISSIONS. Our workers clearing from $5 to $30 per day. 30 days credit. Freight paid. OUTFITS FREE. Address to-day. Standard Publishing House, 328-334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

'Story of the Galveston Flood.'

By MURAT HALSTEAD,
Author and Journalist.

The above is a simple story of a book that every subscription book agent will hail with delight, and sell so fast that the palmy days of the subscription book business will come back to him with a world of satisfaction.

Mr. Halstead, the eminent author and journalist, is in Galveston, the scene of the awful calamity, and will investigate and write from personal observation the STORY OF GALVESTON AND THE FLOOD.

Not since the Johnstown Flood has such a dreadful calamity befallen any city in the world. The sale of the Johnstown Flood books reached the high-water mark in the subscription book business of the country. The demand was so enormous that they simply could not be manufactured fast enough. In the Galveston horror we have a larger loss of life, the destruction more widespread. The whole nation and the world are aroused, and pouring out sustenance and succor to the starving and the dying. The excitement is intense; the demand is enormous; the sale will be unparalleled. Fortunes will be made on this book; and its sale will sweep the country from end to end. Drop everything, and push this with might and force for the next 30 or 60 days, and then reap the harvest.

10,000 Agents Wanted Everywhere.

ACT QUICK. OUTFIT NOW READY.

Beautiful canvassing book and full information, giving illustrations and size of the book, etc., free; 10 cents must be sent for postage. Complete book only $1.50. Freight paid and credit given. Don't lose an hour. Address

R. H. WOODWARD COMPANY,
BALTIMORE.

NOTICE—A premium given to every subscriber, and our terms and conditions will not be equalled by any other publisher. It will pay you to write to us for an outfit even if you have secured one from some one else.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

The Prohibition party in Texas has completed its State ticket.

One thousand rebels attacked the market town of Sal Wan on Saturday, and were beaten off.

After repeated promises to pay, Turkey has made no progress in settling the claims of the United States.

The twentieth century thank-offering fund of the Methodist Episcopal Church amounts to nearly $13,000,000.

The contract for the Pacific cable was awarded to the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company for $9,430,000.

The American troops that are to be withdrawn from Peking to Manila are expected to be out of China within two weeks.

A board of survey is to determine whether the battleship "Texas" is too nearly obsolete in type to justify large repair expenditures.

Charges of mismanagement in the distribution of the Galveston relief contributions are denied by Miss Clara Barton, of the Red Cross Society.

A bequest of $100,000 by the late James Gibbes for the establishment of an art school in Charleston, S. C., will be contested in court at New York.

The public school teachers at Galveston have volunteered one month's service to the School Board without pay. This ensures a five months' session.

Prince Ching says he can do nothing in regard to Count von Waldersee's demand for the punishment of Boxer leaders until Li Hung Chang arrives in Peking.

The War Department issued an order stating that absentees from volunteer regiments were discharged from service on the date their organization was mustered out.

Gen. Andre, the French Minister of War, introduced a reform bill abolishing the obligatory dowry of 20,000 francs for officers brides observed since 1845.

Eight thousand Chinese troops, supposed to be Li Hung Chang's veterans, prevented the march of a German force last Friday, compelling them to retire to Tien Tsin.

The allies are storing supplies for six months in Peking. Count von Waldersee will occupy the buildings in the imperial pleasure grounds outside the Purple City as his headquarters.

The American answer to the French note respecting the opening of peace negotiations with China may show an unwillingness on the part of the United States to fully concur in its terms.

A better feeling prevails in the Pennsylvania strike district and a settlement of the trouble is thought to be near. The miners will meet in Scranton, Friday, to decide what course to pursue.

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers will call a joint convention of the anthracite mine workers, so that the strikers themselves may decide whether the proffered 10 per cent. net advance in wages is enough.

A Chinese edict just issued orders Kung Kang, the Grand Councillor, to prostrate himself before the coffin of Baron von Kettelor, and to offer obeisances and sacrifices. The minister at Berlin is instructed to apologize for the murder.

The accidental explosion of 7500 pounds of dynamite in the powder house of the Spruce mine, Minnesota, injured about 200 persons and broke every piece of glass within a radius of two miles. All bottled goods in the adjacent town were demolished.

One of the most important questions to be considered by the American archbishops at their meeting in Washington next week, it is said, will be the advisability of convening a general council of the Catholic Church in this country at an early date.

Archbishop Chappelle's vigorous protest to the Philippine commissioners against the continued holding by the government of the college of San Jose, in Manila, has been made public. The college was seized during General Otis' administration, and Archbishop Chappelle contends that the property should be restored to the Catholic Church, to which, he declares, it belonged.

The British Government has followed in the footsteps of the United States in the Chinese negotiations. It has authorized Sir Claude MacDonald, the British minister at Pekin, to enter into relations with the Chinese officials, just as our government did in the case of Minister Conger. It has left to its minister discretionary power to pass upon the sufficiency of the credentials of Li Hung Chang, Prince Ching and the other Chinese envoys. Although the formal response to the last German proposition has not been returned by Lord Salisbury the United States Government has been informed that, though such an answer may not be made at all, being unnecessary, in the light of recent developments, yet Sir Claude MacDonald will be instructed to make the same inquiries relative to the punishment of the Chinese ringleaders that have been committed to Mr. Conger.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.
Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.

For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.

For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure.

For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.

Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.

50c and $1 bottles at druggists.

Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. REV. C. C. DAVIS,
Eld. M. E. Church, South,
No. 28 Tatnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.
R. L. ROCCO,
206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. BEALL,
Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

LITERARY NOTES.

A score of writers and artists contribute to the October Ladies' Home Journal, and the issue is one of commanding excellence. The number opens with The Story of a Young Man, which, portraying Jesus as a man, and viewing him in the light of his humanity, fills a unique and unoccupied place in current literature. The first of A Story of Beautiful Women tells of the romance of an American girl who married a Bonaparte, and a series of stirring adventures are narrated in the first of the Blue River Bear Stories, by the author of When Knighthood Was in Flower. Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps' new novel, The Successors of Mary the First, which has to do with domestic and suburban life, and is exceedingly funny, is begun in the October Journal. Edward Bok arraigns the Pullman Palace Car Company for teaching false standards of decorative art. Of the special features of interest are: The Longings of a Secluded Girl, A Minister among the Cowboys, Romances of Some Southern Homes, How We Can Lead a Simple Life, and Criticising the Clothes of the Minister's Family. A Georgian House for $7000 and A Farmhouse for $3500 are given, with building plans and details, and A Successful Country Home pictures the exterior and interior of a house of log construction. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

Among the special features of the Woman's Home Companion, for October, are: The Recollections of a Midget, by the Countess Magri, formerly the wife of General Tom Thumb; the first part of an essay on Heroes and Heroines, by Robert Grant; the first of a series of travel articles by Lilian Bell; a description by Edgar Fawcett of the famous pleasure-grounds about London; the presentation of Pope Leo XIII. in the light of a housekeeper, by Edward Page Gaston, and an article entitled The American Girl Musician Abroad, by Edward A. Steiner. These, together with the short stories, several articles on Hallowe'en, and the usual number of articles devoted to the household, make this number one of especial interest. Published by the Crowell & Kirkpatrick Co., Springfield, Ohio. One dollar a year; ten cents a copy; sample copy free.

The October number of McClure's opens with an article on The Strategy of National Campaigns, attractively illustrated by Jay Hambidge. The frontispiece shows Governor Roosevelt and Senator Hanna in conference at Republican National Headquarters, and the strikingly original portraits of Cleveland, Blaine, Quay, Croker, Bryan, and others. Dr. A. Conan Doyle is a contributor to this issue. His Some Lessons of the War is a critique of the bearing of the British troops in the South African campaign. In addition to these articles on campaign tactics and the South African war, there are others on Casting a Great Lens, by R. S. Baker, describing the manufacture of the famous Jena lenses, and on The Ancestry of the Horse, by F. A. Lucas, with diagrams illustrating the family record of the horse during the past two million years. The fiction of the number includes stories by Anita Fitch, Gelett Burgess, E. Hough, Edith Wyatt, Annie Webster, Myra W. Jarrell, and Josiah Flynt and Francis Walton. The Horse-Thief, by E. Hough, is a Western story, told with remarkable bravado and with rollicking humor of style. The Rev. John Watson and the Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady are also contributors to the October McClure's.

FREE

To Sunday School Superintendents Officers & Teachers

Send your address and you will receive our large and beautifully illustrated

Holiday Annual

the finest and most complete Sunday School Catalogue issued. It contains 64 pages and fully describes our Sunday School Publications and Specialties, Christmas and Holiday Goods, Gift Books and Booklets, Calendars, Birthday and Wedding Souvenirs, Medals, Christmas Cards and Decorations, Library Books, Standard Literature, etc. "The Best of Everything for the Sunday School." Address,

DAVID C. COOK PUBLISHING CO.
36 Washington Street
CHICAGO

Special. When you write for the Holiday Annual, ask for free sample copies of our Lesson Helps and Papers. We believe them to be incomparably better and cheaper than all similar publications.

Keeps the Cargo Dry

The "In-er-seal Patent Package" is the package that helped to make the Uneeda Biscuit famous. Its ingenious construction renders it proof against water, dust, odor and germs. "It keeps the cargo dry."

When buying Soda Biscuit, Milk Biscuit, Butter Crackers, Graham Biscuit, Oatmeal Biscuit, Ginger Snaps, Handmade Pretzelettes, or Vanilla Wafers, be sure to get them in the "In-er-seal Patent Package." You can distinguish it by the "In-er-seal" trademark on the end. Look for it at your grocers.

The "In-er-seal Patent Package" is owned by us. The genuine contains only our own products.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Why Poison Yourself With Quinine?

It is bad for your digestion, as every sufferer from chills and fever knows.

JOHNSON'S CHILL & FEVER TONIC

Is a hundred times better, and does in a single day that which slow and uncertain quinine does not do in ten. It gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys so that they do their duty, and it places the patient beyond the danger point in a day; quinine takes at least ten days. It cures obstinate cases of fever that quinine never cures.

It Costs 50c. If it Cures; Not One Cent If It Does Not.

NOTHING ELSE NEEDED IN FEVERS.

A. B. CIRARDEAU, SAVANNAH, GA.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Iuka circuit, at Burnsville	Oct.	6, 7
Iuka station		8
Ripley and New Albany, at Ripley		13, 14
Jonesboro circuit, at State Line		17
Ripley circuit, at Wier's Chapel		20, 21
New Albany circuit, at Union Hill		27, 28
Blue Springs, at Blue Springs		30
Kossuth, at Bethel	Nov.	3, 4
Corinth circuit, at Marvin		6
Gun Town and Baldwyn, at Saltillo		10, 11
Mantachie, at Shiloh		14
Belmont, at Patterson's Chapel		17, 18
Burnt Mills, at Mt. Pleasant		20
Jacinto, at Hebron		22
Booneville circuit, at —		24, 25
Marietta circuit, at Marietta	Dec.	1, 2

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Shelby	Oct.	6, 7
Rulerville		13, 14
Clarksdale		21, 22
Belen		27, 28
Lula	Nov.	3, 4
Dubbs		10, 11
Tecica		12
Hillhouse		17 18
Friar's Point		18, 19
Gunnison		24 25
Rosedale		25, 26
Bolivar	Dec.	1, 2
Greenville		3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Arkabutla, at Brooks	Oct.	5
Cold Water		6, 7
Batesville		13 14
Courtland, at Pepes		20, 21
Burgess, at Love Joy		26
Eureka, at Mt Olivet		27, 28
Hernando	Nov.	3, 4
Lougtown		8, 9
Pt. Grove		10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's		17, 18
Wall Hill		23
Cockrum		24, 25
Tyro	Dec.	1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct.	6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula		13, 14
Belzona, at Belzona		20 21
Kosciesko station	7 P. M.	28
Kosciesko circuit, at Smyrna		27, 28
Bethel, at Tabernacle	Nov.	1
Ackerman, at Salem		3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel		10, 11
Chester		17, 18
Louisville		24, 25
Rural Hill		27
Pickens	Dec.	1, 2
Durant	7 P. M.	2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Paris circuit	Oct.	6, 7
Pittsboro circuit		13, 14
Eizy circuit		15
Slate Springs circuit		20, 21
East Grenada circuit		22
Coffeeville circuit		27, 28
Minter City	Nov.	3, 4
Charleston		10, 11
Cascilla		12
Water Valley circuit		17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street		24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec.	1, 2

R. G PORTER, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Montpeller circuit, at Palestine	Oct.	6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie		9
Shannon circuit, at Shannon		13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona		15
Tremont circuit, at Honewell		20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem		27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov.	3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton		5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbrjar		10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Soule's Chapel		17, 18
Aberdeen station		25, 26

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona circuit, at New Hope	Oct.	6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb		13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona		20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green		27, 28
Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov.	3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt		10, 11
Carrollton, at Eden		17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead		24, 25
Indianola	Dec.	1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Byhalia circuit, at Byhalia	Oct.	6, 7
Red Banks circuit, at Red Banks		13, 14
Mt Pleasant circuit, at New Salem		20, 21
Pontotoc circuit, at Pontotoc		27, 28
Potts Camp circuit, at Potts Camp	Nov.	3, 4
Olive Branch circuit, at Olive Branch		10, 11
Shawnee circuit, at Liberty		17, 18
Ashland circuit, at Ashland		20
Randolph mission, at Randolph		24 25
Abbeville circuit, at Abbeville	Dec.	1, 2
Holly Springs station		3

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct.	6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity		13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel		20, 21
Tibbee, at Mayhew		27, 28
Columbus station	Nov.	4, 5
Sturgeo, at Ebenezer		10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill		17 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs		23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff		24, 25

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mt. Carmel	Oct.	6, 7
Percy's Creek		10, 11
Woodville		13, 14
Meadville		20, 21
Cane Ridge		27, 28
Barlow	Nov.	3, 4
Wesley Chapel		10, 11
Jefferson Street		11, 12
Homochitto Chapel		17, 18
Washington		24, 25
Liberty	Dec.	1, 2
Mehair		8, 9

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Flora, at Flora	Oct.	6, 7
Vicksburg, Crawford Street		14
South Vicksburg		14
Mayersville, at Beulah		20, 21
Bolton, at Bolton		27, 28
Rocky Springs at Shiloh	Nov.	3, 4
Port Gibson		4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel		10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards		11, 12
Warren, at Wesley Chapel		17, 18
Utica at Utica .... West night		21
Hermanville, at Hermanville		24, 25
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork	Dec.	1, 2
Anguilla, at Anguilla		2, 3
Satartia, at Mt. Olivet		8, 9

E. H. MORNER, P. E.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Missionary Institute, at Pelahatchie, Tues. and Wed	Oct.	16, 17
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro	Thurs.	18
Carthage, at Carthage, Sat and Sun		20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland	Tues.	23
Neshoba, at Pine Grove	Thurs.	25
Indian Mission, at Tail-Chulok	Sat and Sun	27, 28
Decatur, at —	Tues.	30
Vaiden, at Vossburg Sat and Sun	Nov.	3, 4
Rose Hill, at Paulding	Sat. and Sun	10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose	Tues.	13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville	Sat. and Sun	17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton	Tues.	20
Shiloh, at Shiloh	Thurs.	22
New and Hickory, at Newton	Sun. and Mon	25, 26
Chunky, at Chunky	Tues.	27
Lake, at Lawrence	Wed.	28
Morton, at Pelahatchie	Sun. and Mon
Forest, at Forest	Sun and Mon	Dec. 2, 3 / 9 10

Registers and Records not presented at the third Quarterly Conference will be called for. The pastors will greatly oblige me by seeing that Ques — is fully answered by the trustees, and that the committees appointed to inventory parsonage furniture, etc., present written reports. Let all co-operate to bring up full financial reports. Let there be no default L t every Sunday-school observe Missionary Rally Day And be sure to let the Twentieth Century Movement have full sway during this last quarter. On Thanksgiving Day remember our Orphans' Home.

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Coalville, at Palmer Camp Ground	Oct	6, 7
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground		13, 14
Williamsburg, at Williamsburg		20
East Covington, at Eminence		21
Vancleave, at New Prospect		27, 28
Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov.	2
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington		3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port		11, 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs		17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins		24
Bay St Louis		25, 26
Moss Point	Dec.	1
Escatawpa, at Zion		2
Columbia, at Columbia		7
Purvis, at Purvis		8, 9
Hattiesburg		10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Topisaw, at Sartins	Oct.	13, 14
Bayou Pierre, at Pleasant Valley		20, 21
Magnolia and Osyka, at Magnolia		27, 28
Providence, at Georgetown	Nov.	6, 4
Adams, at Adams		10, 11
McComb City		11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood	11 a. m.	13
Gallman, at Gallman		17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson	11 a. m.	19
Wesson	7:30 p. m.	19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion		24, 25
Westville, at Mugee		25, 26
Crystal Springs	7:30 p. m.	26
Tylertown, at China Grove	Dec.	1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton	10 a. m.	5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven	10 a. m.	7
Hazlehurst	7:30 p. m.	7
Caseyville, at Caseyville		8, 9
Summit, at Bogue Chitto	11 a. m.	10
Brookhaven	7:30 p. m.	11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTON, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winchester, at Winchester	Oct.	6, 7
Leakaville, at Breland's Chapel		13, 14
Waynesboro, at Waynesboro	Wed.	17
DeKalb, at New Hope		20, 21
North Kemper, at Mellen	Mon.	22
Enterprise, at Enterprise		27, 28
Pachuta, at DeSoto	Nov.	3, 4
Binnsville, at Scooba		10, 11
Vimville, at Marion		17, 18
Marthersville, at Winifred		24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon.	26
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec.	1, 2
Daleville, at —		8, 9

G. A. QUICK, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas	Oct	6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon		13, 14
Canton		14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street		20, 21
Terry, at Byram		27, 28
Silver Creek	Nov.	3, 4
Lake City		4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope		10, 11
Banton, at Midway		11, 12
Tranquil		17, 18
Yazoo City		18, 19
Camden		24, 25
Fannin	Dec.	1, 2
Brandon station		2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues.	4
Steen's Creek		8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved) taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE

OPELOUSAS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Morgan and Berwick, at B	Oct.	2
Patterson		3
Franklin		6
Jeanerette		9
New Iberia		13, 14
Washington and Chicot, at C	Nov.	3, 4
Opelousas		5
Lafayette		6
Abbeville		10, 11
Indian Bayou		12
Plaquemine Brusley, at Rayne		17, 18
Prudhomme, at P		19
Lake Arthur		24, 25
Grand Chenière		26
West Lake		30
Lake Charles	Dec.	1, 2
Gueydan		3
Crowley		8, 9

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Slaughter	Oct.	19-21
Zachery		22
Baton Rouge First Church		24, 25
Baton Rouge circuit, at Antioch		27, 28
Port Vincent, at Bayou Barbary		30
Live Oak, at Friendship	Nov.	1
Pine Grove		3, 4
Pensbatoula, at Hammond		6
Amite City		7
Kentwood and Tangipahoa		10 11
Franklinton		14
St. Helena, at Greensburg		16-18
East Feliciana, at Independence		24, 25
Wilson, at Gayden		28
Clinton		30-Dec. 2
Baker, at Blackwater		4
St. Francisville, at Star Hill		6
Jackson		7-9

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Carrollton Avenue	Oct.
Louisiana Avenue		14
Dryades street		21
Covington		28
Slidell	Nov.
Parker Memorial		12
Pisqueuline		18
Rayne Memorial		25
White Castle	Dec.	2
Carondelet Street	11 a m	9
Burgundy Street	7:30 p m	9

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Olla and Pollock, at Summerville	Oct.	5, 6
Jena, at French Fork		13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground		20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce		22, 24
Columbia, at Boeuf River		26, 27
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov.	3, 4
Dry Creek		10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta		15, 16
Montgomery, at Montgomery		17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent		24, 25
Bunkie	Dec.	1, 2
Alexandria		8, 9

J. D HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Red River, at Campo Bello	Oct.	6, 7
Caddo, at Greenwood		10
Wesley, at Campti		13, 14
Florien, at Holly Grove		20, 21
Coushatta, at Coushatta		24
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane		27, 28
Many, at Many	Nov.	3, 4
Logansport, at Logansport		7
South Bossier, at Allentown		10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle		17, 18
Pelican, at Bethel		24, 25
Leesville	Dec.	1
Mansfield		9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Farmerville, at Marion	Oct.	6, 7
Downsville, at Downsville		9
Calhoun, at Indian Village		13, 14
Simsboro, at Salem		19
Gibsland, at Foster's Chapel		20, 21
Lansville, at Pine Grove		27, 28
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	Nov.	3, 4
Bienville, at Bienville		10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley		17, 18
Minden		19
Haynesville		23
Homer, at Homer		24, 25
Ruston	Dec.	1, 2
Ganesville		7
Arcadia, at Arcadia		9, 10

Local preachers and exhorters will be expected to have written reports. Let the secretaries of Church Conferences be present with their church registers and records of Church Conferences for examination, as the law requires.

B. T. CREWS, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Harrisonburg, at Pine Hill	Oct	20, 21
Oak Ridge, at Collinston		27, 28
Winnsboro, at Winnsboro		28, 29
Gilbert and Vidalia, at V	Nov.	3, 4
Bastrop		10, 11
Rayville		11, 12
Lake Providence		17, 18
Floyd		19-21
Waterproof		24, 25
Delhi and Tallulah, at T	Dec.	1, 2
Bonita at Bonita		8, 9
Monroe		9, 10

J. M. HENRY, P. E.

RICH, WARM, HEALTHY blood is given by Hood's Sarsaparilla, and thus it protects the system from colds, fevers, pneumonia, and other diseases that quickly overcome a weak and debilitated system.

The favorite cathartic is Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 42. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2304

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH,

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

UNCANONIZED SAINTS.

Not all the saints are canonised;
There's lots of them close by;
There's some of them in my own ward,
Some in my family;
They're thick here in my neighborhood,
They throng here in my street;
My sidewalk has been badly worn
By their promiscuous feet.

Not all the heroes of the world
Are apotheosized;
Their names make our directories
Of very ample size.
And almost every family
Whose number is complete,
Has one, or more, about the board
When they sit down to eat.

Not all the martyrs of the world
Are in the Martyrology;
Not all their tribe became extinct
In some remote chronology.
Why weep for saints long dead and gone?
There's plenty still to meet;
Put on your wraps and call upon
The saints upon your street.

—Advance.

MEMOIR OF REV. A. E. CLAY.

REV. A. E. CLAY.

September 1, 1900, at nine o'clock P. M., Rev. A. E. Clay finished his course and entered into his reward. He was abundant in labors, and left a clear testimony in his last hours to his greatest anxiety for his work—the care of the waifs who had been on his heart so long and unremittingly.

Rev. Alfred Elihu Clay was born in Chester, England, June 29, 1852. He was educated in one of the church schools for the ministry in the Church of England, but for some doctrinal reason refused to be ordained, and entered immediately upon the work of rescuing and teaching poor children. His first labors in this work were among the little ones and the outcasts of Manchester, and for three years he devoted to them all of his time and means. Then he joined the Wesleyan Church and entered the ministry. Hearing of the need for ministers in the Southern Methodist Church, he came as a volunteer to fill some vacant appointment. In 1873 he embarked with several others, who landed in New Orleans; some going to the North Mississippi Conference, others to the Mississippi, he alone remaining in the Louisiana Conference. He was appointed in 1874 as assistant pastor with Rev. W. P. Owens to Evergreen and Big Cane circuit, where he did first-class work in the opening of his itinerant service. In 1875 he was sent to Morgan City and Patterson. Here he stayed four years. During this term he built the Morgan City Church. 1880 and 1881 he was stationed at New Iberia; 1882 at Waterproof; in 1883 at St. Joseph and Vidalia; in 1884 appointed to Abbeville, where, under the most adverse conditions, he was enabled, by his enthusiastic energy, to build a church. The next year he was returned to Morgan City and Pattersonville; then, in 1886, he having built a parsonage at Morgan City, it was made a station; he was retained till 1887. 1887, 1888 and 1889 he was at Franklin; in 1890 he was appointed to Dryades Street, New Orleans. In each and all of these appointments he did a good work for the church, looking after the spiritual and material interests. After three years of successful work at Dryades Street, in 1893 he was located at his own request, to enter into the old work of his young manhood on a much more extended scale—that of the rescue of children from abandoned mothers or inhuman parents, who cared not for invalid children; or those who were literally cast upon the sea of human society to float anywhere—the literal strays and floating spars from broken-up families.

As pastor, he was an excellent Sunday-school man, attaching the children to him, delighting in talking to the children and superintending the schools under his charge. As a preacher, he was far above the average, with good analytical powers, a pleasant and forceful delivery, clear, strong voice, a fine singer, with good working knowledge of instrumental music, often leading his own music, presiding at the organ when his musician failed him; delighting in music and song at all his services. His parishioners were deeply attached to him, and his sermons highly praised wherever he had been pastor. All those who heard him, whether they were especial admirers or not, praised his preaching. Always fresh, and sometimes quite brilliant in his sermons, they were entertaining, and held the attention of the audience throughout their delivery.

His crowning life-work was the establishment of the Louisiana Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. It was in the face of many doubters among his ministerial brethren, the members of his church, and the general public, that in 1891 he began to organize for this work. He first got some very pronounced cases of inhuman treatment to children—waifs. From that he organized a society, a mere name at first, but he breathed power and life into it, and with enthusiasm and hope he worked on till it became a great force for good. Like the Salvage Corps on the Atlantic coast, it began, under his able management, to gather in shipwrecked and stranded humanity; to hover and provide for them by putting the orphans into asylums, and those ineligible to enter these havens of protection to be cared for by the society. For two years, with the most arduous labors, he carried on this work in connection with his pastorate without remuneration. In 1893 the society had so aroused the generous-hearted of our city that it became self-supporting, and Bro. Clay was forced to locate, as there was no provision in our law for him to undertake this work and remain an itinerant minister. In 1894 he bought the Waifs' Home on Clio street, and then the year following the Industrial Home at Beauvoir, in Mississippi. He had to possess the most fearless qualities, in conjunction with great tact, to enter a household and take from vicious surroundings the child who was about to be led into the way of the abandoned woman, or to take from a brutal father a boy being treated inhumanly. What courage, and yet what discretion, were needed! But not only did this find in him a readiness of resourceful character; there was also need for one who could push his work before the law-makers at Baton Rouge. He went there in 1893, and had some very salutary laws passed for the safeguarding of young girls against the libertine, and a law which gave him the right to take from improper homes and surroundings children, and put them in the custody of his society; laws which are to live to the memory of his work in the interests and for the welfare of the young of our State. His own enthusiasm and hope were at last instilled into the public heart of our two States as he went into every village and city declaring his cause, and preaching far and near his philanthropic cause, taking collections, and calling for every child who was oppressed or cast off by false parents; or, like spars cast on the shore, with open arms he invited to his haven. He just wanted to know their whereabouts to take them into his arms, and bring them to his Lord and Savior. Into this work entered his brilliant work as a writer, his reports being filled with his own indignation against the human debauchery and the lust of men that produced so many wrecks in the young life of our city. His deep sympathy and yearning for their rescue was there. His tenderness for their isolated position, and that they might be brought back to society, and, above all, his hope and assurance that they might be developed into useful, virtuous, and productive members of society, carried the public mind with him. They rallied to his aid, and by their generosity expressed their confidence in him. His power as a writer thus carried the public mind with him, and his very forceful speeches far and near brought the cities of Mississippi and a few of Alabama, with those of our own State, into sympathy with him, and they gave liberally to his cause. At one of his anniversary meetings the facts and strong presentation of his cause so moved the large heart of a benevolent citizen of a distant State who was passing through the city that he became a very liberal contributor to the great work, and many a time have his gifts come in when the wolf was at the door.

Bro. Clay's huge labors and intense anxiety began to tell on his health in the year 1897 at New Iberia, where he went to deliver a sermon on this work. When he started to go to the church, he found he was partially paralyzed; he had to deliver his message sitting. He recovered from this attack, but in the latter part of 1899 he again was warned of his physical breaking up.

In the first of this year his symptoms became very alarming. Another partial stroke of paralysis came on, and his heart became involved. Ever since July his friends knew his work was finished; he had done the work his Lord had given him to do. His work bore so heavily on his heart there was no stopping. Then, where was the man to take up his work? One of the highest encominms to be passed on a man is that question coming involuntarily, "Who can take his place?" So, from mouth to mouth it went, "Where is the one to take up his work?" There will be none, but the Lord will assuredly raise up some one to carry forward the work he has begun. There will be brought out to carry forward this work, there will be progress with improvement, but the founder's place of the rescue of waifs in New Orleans shall not be taken. He will wear his own crown, for his life-work is before the Father of the fatherless.

This crowning work of our itinerant has given Southern Methodism a place and credit in this city it would never have had without this one who has poured out his life for the lost children of our State. The monument of Napoleon is made out of cannon taken in his wars. Everyone, no doubt, represents a regiment on both sides. What a monument of carnage! This man's monument is built of the rescued from that more awful death of soul; a monument of life; lives snatched from ruinous sin in human society. Sixty now at the Industrial Home will live as his enduring monument of a life fighting against sin and rescuing the outcasts. On the other shore some have hailed him home; those little infants who were tenderly cared for in their disease, and only lingered here long enough to give him an opportunity to lovingly nurse them for a few short weeks, and with a prayer see them depart to be immediately around the Savior's throne. May the comfort of the Holy Spirit be with his widow and family, and the Lord raise up some one to carry forward the great work he has established! "They that turn many to righteousness shall shine as the stars forever and ever." In that day many shall rise up and call him blessed.

Servant of God, well done!
Thy glorious warfare's past;
The battle's fought, the race is won,
And then art crowned at last.

S. S. KEENER.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss., EDITOR.

We give our entire space this week to Mrs. Mathis' reply to some criticisms made on her former article, "The Epworth League: Some Plain Facts."

MRS. MATHIS' REPLY TO THE CRITICISMS.

We have found, since our return home, that our little writing in the League column of the ADVOCATE created a breeze of discussion. We don't object to that. It is fair to every subject to view it from all sides, and, perhaps, if the freedom of discussion had been permitted at the League Conference—where it should have occurred—it need not have come through this channel. We do not understand why the entire discussion was not conducted through our League column. We have an editor, and he merits that courtesy, but this may be another sample of the consideration of "the management." We do not receive these criticisms in the spirit of prejudice. Our friends are above that, we trust. They are only trying to defend their management of the affairs of that Conference, and of those higher officers whom they represent. We spoke of things from our point of view, and we have sufficient company to be entitled to a hearing. If we are mistaken, we are glad to discover the mistake, and an intelligent discussion of plans and purposes should not be denied those who are in the work, and are solicitous of accomplishing as much good as possible. We believe the Leaguers have sufficient intelligence to discuss the advisability and expediency of any plan which they have adopted by vote, especially when they adopted it without understanding its merits, and which they find to be a disappointment and a burden. There are evidently those, especially "the management," who do not think so; hence all business discussion at the Conference was crowded out completely, and a plan of work forced upon the League that is distasteful to very many, notwithstanding the fact that some of the officers did not agree with "the management" as to the course pursued. A spirit of intolerance certainly characterized that management, as many ministers who were present can testify. We have attended many League Conferences, but never one like that. Our critics use the word "missions" in a double sense in their articles, making it include all work at home and abroad for the salvation of the world; yet, when they reduced it to practice at the Conference, it was strictly foreign, and no mention was ever made of work for the unsaved at home. The cause of foreign missions absorbed and overshadowed everything else, and no other great interest of the church received attention. If that is our only and real work, why was not the League made a foreign missionary society at the beginning? Why has it only been brought in by vote? We did not vote on the Constitution.

We are really and truly not opposed to foreign missions, as our work will attest, but we are opposed to such a radical change of the League from its original plan and purpose. The League would never have been organized if the organizations that then existed had not been specials, with the raising of money as the prime object. They failed to meet the demand for intelligent development along all lines; hence a great call by the entire church for another and broader organization. Now, if we run this into specials of any kind, we will defeat the purpose and disappoint the church. We plead alone for a chance in the League to do the legitimate work, and to furnish to the church a school of real training for the future workers. It is not the League's business to furnish specialists of any kind, but to train equally upon all lines. How can that be accomplished with specials crowding out every other interest? Five public services on foreign missions at the Conference; a large mission committee in almost continuous session during the entire Conference. The Holston Plan, which is really a system of mission committees in each district and League to work foreign missions with studies and collections continuous, and that held up and emphasized as the only real work of the League; no other feature of the entire Devotional Department receiving attention; the Charity and Help work set aside with as little discussion as possible; the Literary crowded, and little or no financial provision made for its sustaining. The chairman of the Mission Committee said, "We will appoint the district secretaries as soon as a good mission worker is secured in each district," and yet our friends would not call that a monopoly. Mr. Cobb made the statement that he was employed by the Mission Board to work the mission feature in the Leagues. He also made the statement, which we know to be true from other sources, that a large deficit has been created by the Mission Board appropriating more funds than the church has paid in—about twenty thousand dollars a year. He did not explain any existing provisions for the deficit, but urged systematic collections in the Leagues, and a canvass of the church membership and community to raise funds to cover the deficit. What conclusion could be drawn except that of an accumulating debt? And our critics were the most vigorous advocates of any and all means of raising the money. We are glad the debt, or deficit, has vanished, and we do not need to find it any more, but we guess they want the money all the same. We also know the church was compelled in the past to make a restraining law that no more mission debts should be made by the Board. The church demanded it before the last debt was paid, but this is not a debt, only a deficit.

To us, at least, the Holston Plan worked in the League has only the commendation of withdrawing the special missionaries, but it has the disadvantage of three wrongs and no other rights.

First, it is an indirect way of sustaining the Mission Board in a violation of law, or very near approach to it, which is a bad example to set before the young, and shakes their confidence. Second, its system of committees, studies and collections invades and embarrasses every other part of the work, and makes the legitimate work an impossibility. Third, it makes the collection of money its principal object, which was not embraced in the League object, and throws not only the weight of that mission deficit upon the League, but extends to every other deficit and shortage in collections at home or in any other church. Our Leagues are mainly composed of girls and young ladies. This plan simply puts our girls in the street as continuous church collectors, which will injure them more than can be told, with work enough to do to keep them busy all the year begging. That work may be all right for men and boys, but the minister is paid to do that, and if he is not too inefficient and lazy, he can do it. The girls are either embarrassed or demoralized by the effort, and, as parents, we can't afford to sacrifice our daughters in that way. The astonishing thing to us is, that any intelligent set of Southern ministers should expect the parents to favor such a plan, and if it is forced, there will be a reaction that will astound them all. This is the people's side of this subject, and we have made inquiries of our chief workers and pastors over the entire church. Several of the ministers have also made inquiry, and we have not received one single unconditional approval of the plan. Some favored it at first, and are trying it, who have reasons to believe it an unwise experiment. Some oppose decidedly, and many regret the turn that has been given the League. Several do not hesitate to say a reaction has set in, and was evinced by the small attendance in Atlanta; others fear the cause of missions and the effectiveness of the League have both been injured. This is not in the spirit of harsh criticism, but only a candid desire to do good, and if we are wrong, we are perfectly willing to be set right.

Our calling the plan "The Holston-Cobb Plan" was not intended as a sneer at Mr. Cobb. That was borrowed from some of the Holston people, who think the plan, as we now have it, is very far from what they started with. Personally, we like Mr. Cobb very much, but we don't like his job. It is the job we are opposing, and not the individual. We believe the Leaguers should be carefully instructed upon every great interest of the church, so that when the pastor presents the claim, it may be intelligently responded to by all. We think that is the way the League was intended to help.

Prof. Stotts' plan is very practical, in that it calls on the church to assist the League in purchasing the Reading Course, and in making provision to grasp and secure the young life of the church. As a general thing, the young people can not command very much money, and they must not be pressed to their disgust about that little, especially when the hold the church has on them is not very deep. There were no public invitations for next year's entertainment, as is customary, and we did not hear of the private ones, but we did hear refusals—several of them. A well-organized League is almost a continuous revival in a church, and well worth developing, as any pastor knows who has such.

MRS. G. H. MATHIS.

NOTICE.

We want every preacher, traveling and local, in the Sardis district to meet us at Senatobia, Oct. 30, at 9 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of discussing the collections and the "Twentieth Century Fund" in the Sardis district. We will be glad to have as many laymen as can possibly come. There is not a pastor or local preacher in the district that can not come at a small cost and loss of time. Brother, you and your people will be the losers if you are not there. Please come.

W. S. LACROIX, P. E.

The growth of the M. E. Church, South, in Oklahoma within the past year has been remarkable. Rev. W. D. Matthews has just compiled new statistics showing the increase in this denomination since the last report of Governor Barnes. The figures show an increase of over 2 400 in our membership.—Indian-Okla Methodist.

A North Carolina judge thinks there would be fewer disturbances of public worship if the preachers were more engaging in their talks. It is not so easy for a preacher to "enforce" his remarks as it is for a judge.—Epworth Era.

"Many Methodists," says Bishop Candler, "are wanting in what might be called Methodist self-respect. They long to be like others—others generally less pious than Methodism requires men to be."

For the ADVOCATE.

AUTUMNALIA.

IN MORTE GLORIA.

Gladsome till her latest breath,
Nature knows no gloom in death;
See, e'en now the ripening year
Doth in richest robes appear;
Autumn's dress takes gorgeous hues
From the sunshine and the dews.
While with chemic rays the sun
Dyes the leaflets one by one
Fields and forests gleam and glow,
One vast panoramic show.
Poplars clad in green and gold
Towering tops like banners hold,
Crimson dyes the oak's proud head,
Black gums shine in fiery red,
While vast forests far and near
In gaily changing tints appear.
Fields display more brilliant flowers
Than were theirs in vernal hours;
Swaying ranks of golden rod
Length'ning plumes conspicuous nod;
Seas of floral beauties glow
With more tints than painters know,
While the varying shades declare
Hand Divine paints everywhere.
Hues that angels might admire
Wonder, love and joy inspire.
Strolling through these woodland wilds,
Rapture every sense beguiles;
Shadows from the sylvan height
Broider far the fields of light,
Awe pervades the slumbrous air,
Glory lingers everywhere.
Silence reigns o'erhushing all
Does she hear the leaflets fall?

Oh, how sad so fair a scene
May to-morrow but have been!
For when south wind moistly blows
Every leaf its breathing knows,
Won by its mysterious wooing;
Hence, ere long, they all are going,
Quitting these enchanting bowers
Quivering down in golden showers.

Late in Autumn's frosty days
Pale witch-hazel's leafless sprays
From their unpretentious bloom
Send a rare and rich perfume,
Till the air, with fragrance laden,
Soothes like odors fresh from Eden.
Here I linger hours away;
Here forget the passing day.
Ah! could mortal skill redeem
Aught from time's resistless stream,
These blest days would I dissever;
I would make them mine forever.

H.

Correspondence.

GRENADA COLLEGE.

This has been a most remarkable year for education in Mississippi. All the leading colleges in the State opened with an increased number of pupils over the preceding year, and this facing a year that promises so little from a financial point of view. The cry is heard from the hill-side, farms and delta plantations alike—a cry, that were it not for the magnitude of the suffering in India, which seals our lips against complaint, would be plaintive indeed. Yet all over this section of country a sacrifice is being made somewhere along the line; sons and daughters are at college to-day that three years ago, when the cornucopia of plenty was upturned over the land, would have stood between the plowshares, or served in the kitchen. Why this change of sentiment? The demand for a Twentieth Century Offering has agitated this subject, and done more to awaken the people to a full realization of the necessity of an education than any movement ever put forward in the State. It has been discussed in every hamlet hidden away from railroads and telegraph lines. It has been a leading topic everywhere; consequently many boys and girls are to-day gratifying an ambition for a college career that yesterday would have seemed impossible.

The North Mississippi Conference College for young women, located at Grenada, opened with eighty boarders. Now, in the closing days of the first month, one hundred and five respond to the roll call, with outstanding contracts yet unredeemed besides the faculty, which numbers seventeen. God has been very good and gracious to our college this year, and to him alone is given the honor and praise for thus recognizing the meager effort made for the college during the Summer.

Now the needs of Grenada College claim the attention of our Conference. The comfortable capacity of the college is only seventy-five, but by converting all the practicing and music rooms into bed chambers, renting several rooms in a home near the college, we are able to meet the demand, and are now accommodating more students than ever before in the history of the college. Our chapel is crowded, for the town patronage is very large. We are longing so hungrily for that promised annex. Conference promised to donate the first twelve thousand collected to Grenada and Millsaps Colleges, but the entire amount must be collected before any is distributed.

Now, if the trustees of Millsaps would only visit Grenada College, and see for themselves the condition in which we are placed, they would generously vote to let Grenada have the first six thousand dollars collected. This, with the four thousand subscribed by the people of Grenada, would build an exquisite annex. The unnecessary delay—at least, it seemed to us unnecessary—is crippling our advancement. Millsaps will get the same amount at the same time; but Grenada will get hers much sooner, and relieve our embarrassment. The conditions may have been such, when Conference was in session, that it was necessary to word this resolution as it is, but it is now demonstrated that we need enlargement at once, and this is paramount to all others things with us.

The trustees of Millsaps are pleased to stress the point that they are educating young ministers. There will come a time when these young ministers will need active Christian wives, and we hope to have enough for the ministry and a few to spare for other professions. We simply make this statement, so the brethren may take action.

We need the annex, and hope arrangements may be made so we can have it finished before our June commencement. M. I. HOSKINS.

Grenada College, Oct. 10, 1900.

CARROLLTON AND M'ANERNEY.

The fourth Quarterly Conference was held at McAnerney on Saturday, Sept. 29. The attendance was small on account of sickness and indifference. The reports of the year's work showed that fairly good success had been achieved. A successful revival meeting had been held at each place, resulting in twenty-five conversions and a corresponding number of additions to the church. A good many had been received by certificate, some had been dismissed, and some had died. The present membership is 243: at Carrollton 192, at McAnerney 51. There are 185 pupils in the two Sunday-schools, and the schools are doing a fine work.

The financial interests are in good shape. All the regular annual collections for the various benevolences of the church, and the salary of the pastor and of the presiding elder, will have been paid in full by the close of the Conference year, Dec. 1, next.

In addition to this, two hundred and thirty-two dollars have been contributed for ministerial relief and help; seventeen dollars on Children's Day; ten dollars to the famine sufferers in India; ten dollars to the Galveston flood sufferers; thirteen hundred ninety dollars and forty-two cents to the Twentieth Century Thank-offering, in addition to four hundred dollars paid on this fund last year.

The Woman's Home Mission Society at McAnerney this year raised $94.85.

At Carrollton the Foreign Mission Society raised $157.35; the Juvenile, $31.45; the Home Mission Society raised $201 65, held ten meetings of the society, 52 prayer meetings, distributed 900 leaflets, papers and magazines, made 40 visits to the sick and strangers, sent one box of clothing valued at $65 to the Orphans' Home at Water Valley.

The Conference adopted this paper:

"It affords us pleasure to give expression to our appreciation of the faithful and successful work done by our pastor, Rev. T. W. Lewis, performed under personal and family affliction during the entire year.

"In the midst of constant suffering, great trial, and deep sorrow, Bro. Lewis has given us an example of devotion to duty, patience and cheerfulness which we highly prize, and shall strive to emulate. The continued sickness of Sister Lewis gives us sorrow. We assure her and Bro. Lewis of our sympathy and love, and we pray that divine consolation be vouchsafed them."

This resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That the presence at this Conference of Rev. J. S. Oakley has given us great pleasure. That we hope and pray for his speedy and complete restoration to health."

SECRETARY.

—Carrollton (Miss.) Conservative.

EAST MISSISSIPPI FEMALE COLLEGE.

MR. EDITOR: I see in my "Errors Corrected," in the ADVOCATE, the letter I sent you from the secretary of Wellesley College was left out. In view of the fact that some people have some erroneous conclusions, I think it would be well to publish that letter from Wellesley, a copy of which I enclose; also a letter which I have just received from Chancellor Kirkland. Please publish this note with the other two following.

Yours truly, J. W. BEESON.

Meridian, Miss., Oct. 6, 1900.

Wellesley College, Secretary's Office,
May 24, 1900.

Mr. Beeson, President East Mississippi Female College, Meridian, Miss.—

DEAR SIR: The supplementary statement which we asked was received from you, has been referred to the departments concerned, and is satisfactory. At a recent meeting of the Board of Examiners the right of certification for admission into Wellesley College was extended to the East Mississippi Female College.

Very truly yours,

ELLEN F. PENDLETON, Sec'y.

Chancellor's Office, Vanderbilt University,
Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 3, 1900.

President J. W. Beeson, Meridian, Miss.—

MY DEAR PRESIDENT BEESON: Your letter, of Sept. 13, came while I was sick and unable to attend to any correspondence. It was shown at once to Dr. Moore, chairman of the Committee on Entrance Examinations, and I beg to say that your explanation is entirely satisfactory. I am sure you had no intention of making an incorrect statement.

I trust we may be able at some time in the future to receive some of your students, and in this way pass on your work. I shall make the explanation you desire whenever the matter is mentioned to me again in correspondence or otherwise.

With best wishes for the prosperity of your institution, I am,

Yours very truly,

J. H. KIRKLAND.

Communications.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. L. C. Ward (nee Hyde) was born in December, 1860. At an early age she moved with her parents from the State of Georgia to Mississippi, and settled in Marshall county, near the town of Holly Springs. She was converted and joined the Methodist Church when only thirteen years of age, under the ministry of Rev. J. A. Bowen; was married to M. L. Ward, now a local preacher in our church, on Dec. 24, 1879; died of typhoid fever, Aug. 16, 1900.

Although Sister Ward professed faith in Christ when a mere child, her conception of the gospel was an intelligent one, her conviction deep, and her conversion genuine, as shown by her consistent life, her devotion to her church, and her consecration to the service of God.

It was my good fortune to meet her first the second year of my ministerial labors on the Atlanta charge, and was then impressed with the strength of her faith, and the purity and consistency of her life. I have never met anyone whose confidence in God seemed to be more implicit, or who trusted his promises more fully under any and all circumstances and conditions of life. This I saw tested when her husband spoke of taking work as a supply. She had a large family of children, and most of them were small. She fully understood the character of appointment her husband would receive; yet she would say, "If my husband feels that it is his duty to take work, I am willing to go anywhere, and serve with him any appointment God will provide." This spirit and faith she manifested in all things.

Sister Ward was more than an ordinary woman in many respects. She possessed naturally a bright mind, and to this had been added cultivation in her girlhood days. As a wife, her devotion was true and genuine. Her husband's wish was the law of her life, and his welfare the controlling thought of her mind. She was ever ready to make any sacrifice for his good. And nowhere did her virtue shine brighter than in that most exalted sphere in which woman can move—home. Next to her husband, her children received the devotion, care, love and labors of her life. God blessed her with a large family of children, and to these she gave unceasing care and unremitting service; and her children, quick to understand and recognize a mother's love, leaned unreservedly upon her. How my heart bled as I saw her borne from them, cold in death, and heard the wail of broken-hearted children as they cried for mother.

Sister Ward died in the morning, and in the evening of the same day Lillian, the ten-year-old daughter, followed. How short the separation! How glad the reunion! What a glad welcome mother gave her child! While the husband and remaining children are broken-hearted by this double affliction, they sorrow not as those who have no hope, but are looking forward to a glorious reunion after awhile.

To the grief-stricken husband and father, to the sorrowing children all, I commend the grace of God. May they find in him a comforter, and at last a home in heaven!

S. B. MYERS.

P. S.—Since the death of these, Marvin, the two-year-old boy, has died. He followed in a few days.

S. B. M.

Items from the Field.

ACKERMAN CHARGE, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Assisted by Rev. W. J. O'Bryant, of the North Mississippi Conference, I began a meeting at Wiers, fourth Sunday in last month, and continued five days. The Lord was with us in every service. Bro. Robt. P. Neblett was also with us four days, making full proof of his ministry in leading the music, talking to the children, and in preaching. These brethren endeared themselves to the people of Wiers, and their work will abide. The fifth Sunday in last month I began a meeting in Ackerman, which continued nine days. Bro. O'Bryant was with us in this meeting, and did all the preaching after Monday morning. The Holy Spirit was with us in saving power. Bro. O'Bryant is fine help—good preacher, and a man of as sweet spirit as I ever labored with in a revival. Those who desire evangelists to help them in meetings can have them, but as for me, give me W. J. O'Bryant in preference to any of them. G. W. GORDON.

NOTES FROM RED BANKS CIRCUIT, NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

We are now through with our protracted meetings, five in number. We had good attendance all the while. The church has been much revived at most of the appointments. Many persons renewed their covenant with God for a better life; 33 professed faith in Christ, 24 joined the M. E. Church, South, which gives us an increase of 33 members this year. We are indebted to Bros. G. W. Strickland and G. H. Jacobs for efficient ministerial help. May the Lord reward them abundantly! We followed the old-time custom of calling penitents to the altar. All the conversions occurred there.

Brethren, let us get back to the "old paths." There is no place on earth so well adapted to the penitent's needs as the altar. This work is freer from intoxicants and persons who drink than any charge we ever had.

While crops in this section have been seriously damaged by the continuous rains, I think our finances will all be up.

Some of our people want to know what will be done with the Twentieth Century Thank-offering, seeming to fear it is for the children of the rich, and not the poor, or that the poor will not get any of the benefit of the educational part. But they are very few, and only want an excuse not to give.

We have lost by death some of the best men and women on the work, but still the work goes on.

I notice our Conference meets on Thursday instead of Wednesday, notwithstanding a resolution passed by our Conference a year or two ago, requesting the commencement of our Conference on Wednesday.

D. W. BABB.

REPORT FROM SOUTH WARREN.

We have had good revivals at three of our churches. We were assisted in two of these by Rev. R. Selby, and in the other one by Dr. A. F. and Rev. H. B. Watkins. My people, together with myself, appreciate the efforts of these three men of God, which have resulted in great good to the people because of the power of the Spirit accompanying their preaching. We were also pleased to have Revs. W. W. Hurst and H. P. Lewis, Jr., with us in some of these services, who willingly rendered very valuable and lasting assistance. We have had thirty-one accessions to the church, fifteen of these on profession of faith. Besides this, the church has been somewhat revived spiritually and, I think, financially as well. In consequence, I hope to report all of my collections up in full at Conference. We are working and praying to this end.

It will be remembered by many that on the seventeenth day of last February our church at Bovina was completely destroyed by fire. The outlook at that time for a new church was gloomy indeed. Yet I am glad to say that in just six months to a day from the time the old one was burned we had erected on the same spot a more beautiful church than stood there before. Indeed, we have a church of which we feel proud, and for which we are deeply grateful to God. We have very few members at Bovina. Being united in their efforts, however, they demonstrated fully that in "union there is strength." Thanks to the untiring energy of the good women of the church, especially that of Sister S. V. Cameron; the systematic management of Bro. J. H. Brabston, and the liberal assistance rendered by the Church Extension Board, as well as by brethren and friends, we were enabled on the third Sunday of August to worship our Lord and Master in a modest, lovely and conveniently arranged little church, where but a few weeks before could only be seen ashes of the old one. In behalf of the membership, I desire to express heartfelt thanks to all who have so liberally and kindly assisted in this very important matter.

These people have remembered us very kindly this year in many ways. Some of them have remembered us with substantial expressions of their generosity, which we greatly appreciate. The co-operation that many are giving me is resulting in great good to this charge. This is indeed right. For, without the co-operation and the prayers of the church, a preacher can not accomplish much, even though he may be untiring in his efforts. We are planning for South Warren to tally up in full at the Conference. God bless the ADVOCATE and all of its readers.

J. R. JONES.

FROM CHESTER CHARGE.

Now that "the Summer is ended and the harvest is passed," I will report some impressions gathered and results of the season's campaign.

Our revival meetings have been in the main very satisfactory. The meetings at Antioch, Salem, and Chapel Hill were ran without ministerial aid; but, owing to the united faith and effort of many devout souls, the Holy Spirit was present in great power and sweetness. In these three meetings twenty-five were added to our church and some half-dozen more professed faith in Christ. Many backsliders were reclaimed and the churches greatly strengthened. At Antioch subscription was raised to finish the new church-house, and the contract let. At Chapel Hill a healthy, progressive spirit may be seen in the moral as well as the material outlook. They have finished and, lately, seated a beautiful new country church. They have set their hearts on enforcing the whisky law, and they are sending their young people out to the colleges. At Salem there was one of the best revivals they have had for many years; so say the members; and former pastors know that it is the custom at Salem to enjoy gracious, refreshing revivals. From this church will go forth young Christians to bless humanity and to preach the gospel. We have one local preacher in Millsaps and two candidates in this charge.

At South Union Camp Meeting we had the able assistance of Revs. W. T. Browning, W. J. O'Bryant, G. W. Bachman, T. W. Dye, G. W. Gordon, R. P. Neblett, and J. W. Hall, L. P.; also of Rev. J. H. Holland, a veteran of the Mississippi Conference. No stronger preachers can be had for revival work than Bros. O'Bryant and Browning, who had charge of that special feature. Bro. Neblett's stronghold is the song service. Here he is perfectly at home and hardly surpassed. Bro. Bachman magnifies his great work. His coming is generally unannounced, nevertheless expected; and he in his quiet way is doing more to establish the "kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ" than dozens of roving evangelists (so-called) who come with a great blast of trumpets. For genuine faith, safe counsel, and fraternal fellowship commend us to such as he. Bros. Gordon and Dye did some fine preaching. These two ripe exegetes are noted for their firm contention "for the faith once delivered to the saints." It is wonderful how brethren of so different psychical manifestation as to always be at opposite points of the eclectic needle, when surcharged with the fluid extract of egotistic dynamics, may yet be of the same intellectual fiber when devoid of this and fused into the ecclesiastical needle pointing to the dogmatic star. Individuality, as variety, is the spice of life—and sometimes is the pepper as well.

There have been meetings also at Mt. Nebo and Pisgah. At the former Bro. Neblett did the preaching and captured all hearts. His sweet-spiritedness is just the thing for the children and young people. This in turn catches the older members. "May his tribe increase!" Three were added. At Pisgah we were assisted by Bro. B. P. Patterson, late of Vanderbilt and a member of this Conference, who did faithful work in the pulpit and home.

In all, about forty have joined the church as a result of these meetings. We will be able to report fifty accessions during the year, making a net total of 825 members on the charge, being over a hundred more than in any other charge in the Conference.

I have started a closing canvass for the Twentieth Century Fund and the collections of the Conference. I have only secured seventeen dollars subscription on Twentieth Century Fund, but feel encouraged that I will pay a good sum. The price of cotton and some better yield than was expected is cheering our people for a strong pull.

Most of the churches promise full payment of salary. All will do as well as in former years, notwithstanding the gloomy prospects. Loyalty and fidelity will span any chasm and compass any difficulty.

W. L. ANDERSON.

The Christian Life.

JUST THREE THINGS.

"I once met a thoughtful scholar," says Bishop Whipple, "who told me that for years he had read every book he could which assailed the religion of Jesus Christ, and he said he would have become an infidel but for three things."

"'First, I am a man. I am going somewhere. To-night I am a day nearer the grave than I was last night. I have read all such books can tell me. They shed not one solitary ray upon the darkness. They shall not take away the only guide and leave me stone-blind.

"'Second, I had a mother. I saw her go down into the dark valley where I am going, and she leaned upon an unseen arm as calmly as a child goes to sleep on the breast of its mother. I know that was not a dream.

"'Third, I have three motherless daughters'—and he said it with tears in his eyes—'they have no protector but myself. I would rather kill them than leave them in this sinful world if you blot out from it all the teachings of the gospel.'"—Selected.

A GOOD REPUTATION HELPS OTHERS.

Occasionally I hear someone say with a pious air: "It doesn't matter what people think of me, I know my heart is right." Ah, my friend, but it does matter.

Let me give you an illustration: In sight of my office window is a church tower; on each of the three sides there is a clock face. On one of these one of the hands has been broken, making the clock tell strange tales. Of course, there are people who do not understand the circumstances and are, therefore, misled by it. At heart the old clock is all right, but that doesn't alter the seriousness of the fact that people have been late in meeting their engagements and have missed their trains, because the face is not an index to that which it covers.—The Outlook.

Did you ever notice, on a crowded street, how one man by looking upward can make the whole multitude stop and look up? That is only curiosity to begin with; but if they see something worth looking up at, curiosity gives place to interest. Just so, if your eyes are always looking to Jesus and his brightness is on your face, others will look too. Let it be only from curiosity at first, there is something worth looking at in Jesus, and some who looked first simply because you did, may never cease to look. No one can tell how much help we can give struggling humanity simply by having our faces in the right direction, simply by living good, clean, holy lives. . . . It is our glorious prerogative as we pass by to cast shadows of blessing on men.—Rev. Geo. A. Pauli.

Synopsis of Remarks at the Funeral of an Infant Son of Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Staples

John Stewart Staples was born April 3, 1900, at the parsonage of Lanesville circuit, Louisiana Conference, and died Aug. 20, 1900. God has taken him to himself. The Blessed Master, while among men, said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God." A large part of the population of the heavenly city is made up of the little ones; "For they do always behold the face of our Father which is in heaven." Their living spirits are hid with Christ in God. Heaven's portals resound with their songs and shouts. The Blessed Master of humanity, whose boundless love encompasses all his followers, lifts them from the bed of death into his own mighty arms, and blesses them forever! There is indeed no death for a little child; it simply passes up to the higher life with God through the portals of death.

What an escape little John Stewart Staples has made from the ills of the life which now is! He has put forever behind him the possible pollution of sin. Sin wrecks so many young men, that no mother knows certainly that her grown sons will ever enter heaven; but the salvation of the little child is sure as the promises of God.

The mission of this life is closed and finished, but there is a grander mission in the life to come. It is a mistake to bewail the close of any bright, pure and exalted life! God needs that life somewhere in the larger fields of heavenly service. Truly this is the fortune of a little child. What wonderful ministries shall be his in the Eternal World! And all possibility of any discontinuance of that existence of gracious service and glorious rest shall be forever banished from a city where "sickness, sorrow, pain, and death are felt and feared no more"!

This little child accomplished a lovely mission here; it blessed a parsonage home, and enlarged two hearts for greater capacity to love and sympathize. Here was a flower born to blush with its sweeter affection and bless with its childish smile. From yonder portals three little ones clad in white beckon two parents to come! Shall not your hearts long for your future reunion? Will not heaven be henceforth more real, and shall you falter until you press the shining strand, and clasp again the little ones you love?

COURTLAND P. SMITH.

"Cleanliness is Next to Godliness."

If you would be really clean, begin with your blood. A mottled skin cannot be washed away, eruptions will continue unless the blood is pure. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood by disintegrating and dissolving the bad germs. Hood's is the royal road to real cleanliness, both inward and outward.

Impure Blood—"My face would be covered with scabs from impure blood, but ever since I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, my blood seems to be perfectly pure and I am strong and in good health." J. Hartstern, 760 Grand Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Get only Hood's, because

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

W. F. M. S.

Edited Weekly by North Mississippi, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences.

EDITORS.

N. Miss. Conf..Mrs. J. F. Evans...Eupora, Miss
Miss. Conf....Mrs. E. D. Jones..Carlisle, Miss
La. Conf.....Mrs. T. P. Fullilove..

The following account of Saltillo, Mexico, by our young Mississippi missionary, Miss Lela McNemar, will be read with interest:

Saltillo is a growing and prosperous little city, with a population of 34,000, and is the capital of one of the most important States in the Republic. It is situated in a valley surrounded by mountains. The natural scenery in Mexico is beautiful, with its lovely mountains, clear blue sky, and its gorgeous sunsets some evenings are beyond description. The delightful climate adds more to the beauty of Saltillo than anything else; indeed, it is all one could ask.

A great many Americans spend their Summers here, and no doubt there would be many more if the accommodations were better. Saltillo, of course, lacks a great many of the modern improvements that the larger towns and cities have in the States, but the place is steadily growing. The city authorities are putting in the sewerage system now, building a fine hotel, and also a beautiful market.

The most interesting feature of Saltillo to Christian people is the Christian work that is being accomplished through the instrumentality of the churches and schools. There are three Protestant Churches here: the Baptist, Presbyterian, and the Methodist, each one doing a good work. The first Thursday night of every month the three churches have a union meeting, which, of course, is helpful to all who attend. The pastors of the three churches have also arranged and are now having services at the penitentiary every Sabbath afternoon, each taking turn in conducting the services. As far as I know, the churches here work very harmoniously together—just as it will be if the right spirit exists among Christians. We have preaching in English every Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church. The Presbyterians have two American ministers living here, and the Baptists one. We have only a native minister, Bro. Soto, who is a very faithful worker. Each church has a native pastor. We have very good congregations at the Sunday night services, and also at the mid-week prayer meetings. The attendance at Sunday-school is good. There are a number of good schools here. The Presbyterian Board have a large normal school for girls, and it is doing a fine work, too. The Baptists have a small school. Our school is under the Woman's Board of the Southern Methodist Church. This work was adopted by the Woman's Board in 1887. The Lord has certainly blessed it under the wise supervision of Miss Roberts. It has grown from year to year, till now we have a beautiful place on one of the principal streets, and near the center of the city. From time to time needed rooms and other apartments have been added to the building. Now we have come to that place where we can add no more except by building up—that is, by putting on a second story. We are trusting that before many months pass we may have the means, if it is God's will, to build this second story. The session, which closed in June, was a prosperous one in many ways. School will open the first Monday in September. Our girls come to us from different parts of this State, and also from the adjoining States, and even from Texas. All of the pupils pay something for their schooling, except the very poor. The well-to-do pay liberally, and thus help us to educate their companions who are not so fortunate. Our school is thoroughly graded. The course of study embraces all that is taught in the public schools of the State, and we have two grades of normal instruction in addition. As special studies, we have the Bible, vocal and instrumental music, English, and also practical housework. The Christian element is a feature in our school, for which we are very thankful. It predominates, and its power is realized in its influence over the lives of those who do not profess to be Christians. The girls seem to sing with the spirit and with the understanding. They pray with earnestness in private, in family devotions, in the prayer meetings and the League meetings. Most of them study the Word diligently, and are familiar with many parts of it. I have been surprised at times to find how familiar they are with the Word of God. Miss Roberts has a Woman's Missionary Society, all of the members of which are very poor, yet they give cheerfully out of their poverty to the missionary cause. If the rich would give proportionately of their means, how soon would the problem of evangelizing the world be solved! We have two Bible women who do house-to-house visiting, sowing the precious seed. Pray for the workers in Mexico.

DR. LE TELLIER'S Sunflower Tablets.

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Checked in one day by Dr. LeTellier's Sunflower Tablets, which are a positive cure for Malaria, Chills and Fever. This wonderful vegetable remedy, perfectly harmless, is guaranteed to cure the worst cases. Recommended by prominent physicians. 50 cents a box, at any drugstore, or will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of price. Write for free booklet, giving testimonials.
Sunflower Remedy Co., American Tract Bld'g, New York City.

Charles Barnes, of Lambert's Point, Va., writes: "Your tablets cured me. Send another box for my wife. I can recommend them."

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

FISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS 25 CTS

The first district meeting of the Woman's Home Mission Society of Forest district met in the M. E. Church of Paulding on Friday, Sept. 28, 1900, at 10 A. M.; District Secretary Mrs. D. S. Harmon presiding. After singing, "Standing on the Promises," the opening prayer was offered by Rev. J. H. Foreman. Song, "Footsteps of Jesus," was sung. Scripture lesson, taken from the first chapter of James, was read by Mrs. Harmon. Prayer by Mrs. Nicholson. The song so comforting to all Christians, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," was sung. Enrolment of delegates was next in order. Report of district secretary was read, after which reports of auxiliaries were called for, and the following responded: Rose Hill—Miss Belle Shoemaker. Forest—Written report read by Mrs. C. H. Cope. Pleasant Grove—No report. Chunkey—Written report read by Mrs. Harmon. Morton—No report. Forest Lights—Written report read by secretary. Vossburg—Written report read by Mrs. Harmon. The following committees were appointed: Extension of Work—Miss Shoemaker, chairman. Resolutions—Mrs. Noble, chairman. After singing, a prayer was offered by Mrs. Herrington. "A Sabbath among the Cumberlands," a beautiful paper written by Miss Addie Purnell, touching the observance of the Sabbath, was read by Mrs. Cochran, and by request of the society will be published in the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE. Mrs. Harmon read a request from Miss Purnell, asking aid in behalf of the Liberty parsonage. Adjourned to meet at 2:30 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

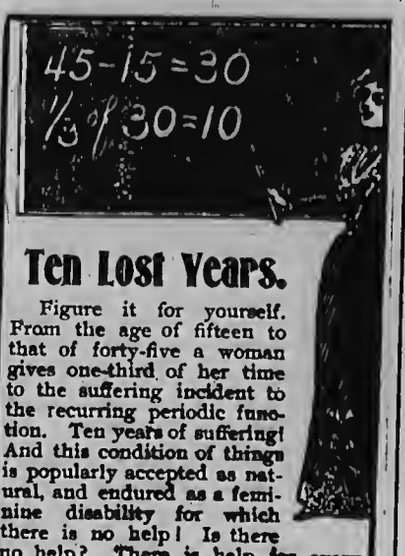
Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. H. Foreman. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Reports of auxiliaries continued. Montrose—Mrs. M. E. Breckinridge. Paulding—Mrs. M. E. Cochran. Paulding Little Workers—Mrs. C. H. Cope. Contrell Auxiliary—Written report read by Mrs. Harmon. A selection from Fourteenth Annual Report was read by Miss Shoemaker, followed by an experience meeting, in which most every member gave evidence of the fact that she was interested in missions. "Systematic and Proportionate Giving" was discussed. A paper was read by Mrs. A. W. Noble on "The Life and Work of Lucinda B. Helm." Hymn, "Revive Us Again," was sung. A most interesting and helpful paper was read by Mrs. C. H. Cope, Conference corresponding secretary, on home mission work. The reports of the committees were read and adopted. After a few interesting remarks by Rev. J. H. Foreman, the first district meeting of the Home Mission Society, Forest district, adjourned with the benediction by the pastor.

MRS. M. E. COCHRAN, Rec. Sec.

Home Mission Society.

EDITORS.

Mrs. J. B. Stone, of North Miss. Conference
Conference Officers of Mississippi Conference
Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Louisiana Conference



Ten Lost Years.

Figure it for yourself. From the age of fifteen to that of forty-five a woman gives one-third of her time to the suffering incident to the recurring periodic function. Ten years of suffering! And this condition of things is popularly accepted as natural, and endured as a feminine disability for which there is no help! Is there no help? There is help for every woman and for almost every woman perfect healing in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It insures regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a temperance medicine—non-alcoholic and non-narcotic.

"I was so weak I did not have breath to walk across my room," writes Miss Isabel Miller, of New Providence, Calloway Co., Ky. "My periods occurred too often and the hemorrhage would be prolonged and the loss of blood very excessive. I also had spells which the doctor said were fainting fits. I did not gain strength from one monthly period to another; was very weak and nervous all the time. Was confined to my bed for three months and the doctor told me I would never be any better. I lived in this way from sixteen years old to twenty-three. I was at last advised by a kind friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and before I had taken two bottles of it I could work all day. I took in all six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and about five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I used no other medicine. I have never had a return of this trouble since."

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS. UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY. Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O. Mention this paper.

BELLS
Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.

A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.

Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain.

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK, 512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Read What is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault, Minn

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change. . . .

DIRECT LINE TO Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr., DALLAS, TEXAS.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE.
NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati, AND TO ALL POINTS North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers.

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A. J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A. R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A. New Orleans, La.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

YOU SAVE $40

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent, Congress Street, Jackson, - - - - Miss.

H. I. HOLDEN, Assistant Salesman, 416 West Capitol Street, Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN, 416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss., and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce all proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to October, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. Any edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to November, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewals in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1900.

"PRAY FOR THE SCHOOLS."

Such is the caption of a ringing appeal recently made to the membership of the M. E. Church by Rev. Dr. W. F. McDowell, Secretary of the Board of Education, in behalf of the schools and colleges of our sister Methodism. Dr. McDowell's request that Methodist educational institutions be remembered in prayer, is both appropriate and important, and ought to meet with general and fervent response.

Why should not Southern Methodists also profit by this excellent suggestion? Why should we not pray for the teachers and students in our schools as well as for our pastors and missionaries? Is it not of vital importance that all our colleges be pervaded with a positively religious atmosphere and with the evangelical spirit? Our institutions of learning should not only be centers of culture, but also centers of moral and spiritual power. It will mean much if the teachers in our colleges, in addition to being erudite and painstaking, are devout and deeply consecrated Christians. A denominational college that is not decidedly Christian has, in fact, little right to exist.

The strategic importance of colleges as moulders of manhood and womanhood ought never to be lost sight of. Since the majority, perhaps, of the boys and girls now attending college are destined to become leaders in society and in business, in thought and in action, we could hardly be guilty of greater folly than to neglect the spiritual feature of their training. While all souls are precious in the sight of God, there is no question of the fact that some converts are worth far more than others. The conversion of one bright college student, on account of the possibilities of his or her usefulness, may mean far more than the conversion of a score of other persons. We should not fail, then, to labor diligently where our work will tell the most, not that any field, however, should be neglected. We could not do a better thing than to pray for a sweeping revival in every one of our colleges as well as in every charge.

In this connection we quote several paragraphs from Secretary McDowell's appeal mentioned above: "In the month of September our students and teachers gathered in our schools and colleges. The eye that could see the movement of the mighty army would witness a most imposing spectacle—more impressive by far than any military movement now going on in the world. More than 150,000 students will assemble in nearly 500 institutions in the United States. More than 15,000,000 children will be enrolled in the common schools of the country. More than 50,000 Methodist Episcopal students will go from Methodist Episcopal homes at home and abroad into our more than 200 institutions of all grades.

"These students come from city and village and country; from homes of culture and wealth, and from homes without either. They are in all lands—pioneers in some lands, the vanguard of the coming host of Christian scholars in heathen countries. They are of 'all sorts and conditions,' but they are of the stuff out of which Methodism has made and must make leaders of men. They do not constitute a privileged class, save in that nobler sense which links privilege with duty; for leadership in Protestantism is not like leadership in Romanism. In Protestantism the culture of one is vitally related to the advancement of the many.

"Pray, then, for the schools! Revivals in them mean so much. It is estimated that in consequence of a single revival in Yale 5,000 people were converted in a single generation. Two hundred graduates of a single one of our institutions report 12,000 conversions in a year and a half. The converted scholar becomes a leader. Lord Salisbury said to Lord Roberts, 'We are learning that this war depends on the generals.' Pray for the schools, for 'if the light that is in them becomes darkness, how great is that darkness!'"

PROGRESS AND PERSEVERANCE.

Judging from the ringing revival reports that have appeared in our various church papers during the past three or four months, there is good reason to believe that Southern Methodism has made considerable gains in new members and converts during the year. The impression is becoming general that the church has already had a large ingathering, and that the presence and power of the Holy Spirit have been unusually manifest in a large proportion of the meetings that have been held.

Says the editor of the Wesleyan Advocate in a recent number of that wide-awake journal: "In the reports that have come to us of revival meetings in Georgia there are marked indications of the divine power having been present. In many of the meetings there were signal manifestations of the work of the Holy Ghost. God seems to be honoring the consecration and zeal of his servants, both in the pulpit and pew."

The Arkansas Methodist, of Oct. 3, contained the following encouraging paragraph anent the revival movement in that portion of our Zion: "Three hundred and forty-seven conversions were reported in last week's Methodist. This is at the rate of 18,000 a year [for Arkansas alone]. Would that we could see the church move at this pace the year around."

Let us, one and all, devoutly thank God for the rich showers of divine blessing that are descending upon so many portions of the field, and let us continue to pray that the entire church may be awakened to new life and power, and that we may have the mightiest revival that has occurred in the history of the church. Why should we not labor for and look for a still greater and more general work of grace among us? Are we so indifferent and slothful as to be satisfied with a partial victory and with moderate success? Are we so faint-hearted that we hesitate to press the battle further? Has not the Master said, "Lo, I am with you alway, even to the end of the world"? Shall we stay our hands when the Lord bids us smite the enemy?

"Forward" should be our watchword, not only as regards the financial part of our great educational movement, but also as regards the revival feature thereof. True Methodism can not thrive save in a revival atmosphere. The chief duty of the church is nothing less than the conversion of sinners.

We trust that no pastor who has failed thus far to have a revival in his charge will relax his efforts or give up the fight until the Conference year is ended. We have now reached, perhaps, the best season of the year for holding meetings in the cities and villages. The time is short. Let us make the most of a golden opportunity. Let all the people help in this all-important evangelistic effort.

"Rescue the perishing,
Duty demands it;
Strength for thy labor the Lord will provide;
Back to the narrow way
Patiently win them;
Tell the poor wanderer a Savior has died."

THE OLD PREACHER.

He is well on the way to the end of his pilgrimage. Three score and ten years, or even more, have passed over his head. His form is not so erect as it once was. He stoops a little when he walks, and, if you will notice him closely, you can not fail to see that he rises rather slowly when he has been sitting. His hair is nearly white. There are wrinkles in his face. They say that he is no longer fit to be a pastor, having lost the activity which is demanded by this moving age. Even his preaching is reported to be less effective than formerly, the result partly of a failing voice and partly, it may be, of diminished intellectual vigor. Yet it is to be noted that he usually sticks to the simple gospel and eschews all unhealthy sensationalism of every sort. There is also an air of prophetic authority in what he says, and at times his feelings are greatly stirred. At the Annual Conferences he is not much heard of. The secretary calls his name, his case is referred to the Committee on Conference Relations, and he is recommended for the superannuated list. By and by the Joint Board of Finance hands him over a dole of, say one or two hundred dollars, and with that and such other small sums as he can rake together he must live another year. Younger men have come to the front and crowded him out. It may be best. We shall not deny it. But this veteran, as he goes off the field, ought to receive a retiring salute. He was young himself once, and strong and earnest. In those days he stood in the thick of the fight, never turning his back on the foe. Go and read his record. From end to end it is free from spot or blemish of any sort. An angel would not be ashamed of it, and God himself looks on it with delight. Let us be careful to profit by it, and not forget to be thankful for it. If these our venerable brethren "be inquired of," we can make answer in apostolic language, that "they are the messengers of the churches and the glory of Christ." While they linger among us we should strive to show them all honor, smoothing their paths at every step, and enriching their closing days with the abundance of our love. By and by we, too, shall pass into the noble order of the superannuates. God grant that we may be as worthy of that distinction as those that have gone before.—Nashville Advocate.

DEATH OF EX-MAYOR FLOWER.

In the death of ex-Mayor Walter C. Flower, who passed away on the eleventh instant in the fiftieth year of his age, at his Summer home in Covington, La., New Orleans has lost one of her most honored and useful citizens, and the State of Louisiana one of her bravest and truest sons. He was a man of splendid ability, incorruptible integrity, and lovable spirit. He has for a number of years been prominent in commercial circles, and was at the time of his death a member of the Board of Administrators of Tulane University. As Mayor of the city of New Orleans for four years preceding the present incumbent, he made a model officer. The various works of public improvement now in progress in this city were begun during his administration. His death is greatly and generally lamented.

REMEMBER CUBA IN THE FINISH.

The Twentieth Century Campaign approaches a close. Will not individuals and churches remember Cuba in the round-up? Our Cuban schools are vastly important, and they ought to be thoroughly equipped with suitable buildings, grounds, and furniture. If each had good buildings, with a chapel attached, they would answer for places of worship as well as for educational purposes. All our Cuban schools are doing well, and all are hindered by lack of proper quarters from doing better. They ought to be equipped to do the best.

During the past Summer, Harvard University was supplied with funds enough to give a Summer course to every public school teacher in Cuba who would accept the offer. In the crowd who accepted the course at Harvard every town in Cuba but two was represented. Is it not necessary to say Harvard's influence is not very Methodistic.

Will not all Southern Methodists provide at least five school properties in Cuba? This is asking but little. With such properties we could have both schools and places of worship at all our present stations.

There can be no reasonable doubt that funds directed to this purpose can be counted on the Twentieth Century Fund.

At the last annual meeting of the Board of Education of our church, held at Nashville, May 2-3, 1900, the following action was taken: "While the call of our Missionary Secretaries for money for the educational work in foreign lands should not be permitted to relax the effort to raise the full $1,500,000 for home work, yet we heartily approve it, and will consider money raised for that purpose a part of the Twentieth Century Fund."

The action of the General Conference requires that the canvass in each Annual Conference shall be "organized in harmony with the plans of the General Board," and the General Board is authorized by the General Conference to modify the plan to meet peculiar conditions.

In view of these acts of the General Conference and the General Board of Education it is clear gifts to our mission schools are within the scope of the Twentieth Century Fund and may be rightfully credited on that account.

Remember Cuba in the round-up, especially the urgent case of Havana.

W. A. CANDLER.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington officials are not disposed to regard the refusal of the Chinese Emperor to return to Pekin as a serious hindrance to negotiations for peace, notwithstanding the views of the refusal cabled from European capitals. The President and his entire Cabinet, except Secretary Root, who has not yet returned to duty, have gone carefully over the entire Chinese situation, including the new proposals made by France, and they see no insurmountable obstacles to an early and satisfactory settlement. The Chinese Government is probably only making a diplomatic move to try to get the allied army out of Pekin in refusing to return there for the present. This was practically admitted by the Chinese Minister to the United States when he said, after expressing regret that his government does not see its way clear to return to Pekin while that city is occupied by the troops of the powers: "It seems to me that the most natural course to get them back would be to remove the conditions that stand in the way of their return. Any fears they may have as to their personal safety, growing out of the exclusiveness of their past life and of the large military force now at Pekin, would be overcome very largely by strong assurances of the powers for the personal safeties of their majesties. Then, as a clear evidence to them that this safety was assured, the foreign forces should be withdrawn from the capital, say to Tien Tsin." It will be noted that the minister refers to assuring the personal safety of "their majesties," thus including the Empress Dowager, who is believed by many to have been as deep in the instigation of the Boxer outbreak as Prince Tuan, who has been degraded and is to be punished. The Empress Dowager is afraid to place herself in reach of the foreigners until given assurances that she will not be disturbed. Whether the powers will be disposed to give those is a matter yet to be determined.

The Baptist ministers of Washington are not disturbed by the charge made by Rev. T. A. T. Hanna before the New Haven, Conn., Baptist Association, and published in the secular press, that heresy existed in the Newton Theological Seminary, near Boston, and in the University of Chicago. Dr. S. H. Greene, president of Columbian University and pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, dismissed the whole thing by saying: "This matter of wavering of faith because of heresy in the Baptist schools is merely a tempest in a teapot." Rev. C. C. Meador, pastor of the Fifth Baptist Church, said the whole matter would probably blow over, or explode, bubble-like, as such things usually did. He explained that the Baptist faith is not a consolidated church, but a denomination; that it has no Synod as the Presbyterians, or Conference like the Methodists, and, therefore, has no higher body to which such charges may be carried. Each church or institution under the Baptist denomination governs itself. He expressed the opinion that the Boards of Trustees of the institutions named would investigate, and if there was sufficient ground for the charges, would ask for the resignations of those responsible.

Dr. T. C. Easton, pastor of the Eastern Presbyterian Church, preached a second sermon in favor of a new creed, and took a more advanced stand than in his first sermon on the subject, some months ago, as may be seen from the following quotation: "We demand a creed that shall proclaim the salvation of our infant dead. We desire to see eliminated forever from the old creed, if we can not have the new, such horrible, unscriptural, and infidel-creating ideas as predestination to everlasting death, that the number of the angels and men thus predestined is so certain and definite that it can neither be increased nor diminished."

A letter was received in Washington this week from Miss Clara Barton, who is personally directing the Red Cross work at Galveston. Of herself she said: "I am needed every minute, and I use every minute, and was never better able to do it than I am now. I had a little temporary illness of two or three days, augmented, no doubt, by the fatigue of my journey, and my tender friends, rather new to me and new to field work, were naturally alarmed, and proposed measures that could not be carried out. I have probably been through twenty illnesses in fields, both in war and peace, far more severe and greatly more prolonged than this, and never told of it." Of conditions in Galveston, Miss Barton wrote: "Labor can no more be had here for nothing than in other places, or even cheaply; the money must be had to pay for all this work. The sum yet received, all counted, is less than a million dollars. Ten thousand persons are without house or home, and Winter less than two months away. Surely there are provisions to be made, work to be done, and help to be given."

This week's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was devoted to "The Foreign Work of the Association," the principal speakers being Mr. C. A. Ober, general field secretary of the International Committee, who has a large share in the administration of the foreign work, and Mr. A. H. Grace, who is now on his way to Allahabad, India, to work as a representative of the Association.

Washington, Oct. 10, 1900.

"A DELIGHTFUL MEETING."

Bro. T. B. Holloman, writing last week to the ADVOCATE, speaks of the revival recently held at the Capitol Street Church, Jackson, Miss., as being a "delightful meeting." And so it was. Of the many revivals in which I have assisted, I count this one as being in many respects the most enjoyable and delightful of them all.

The congregations were large, in some instances necessitating the use of chairs in the aisles. Right readily did the people respond to the propositions made, and, judging from the voluntary expressions of a large number, deep and profound must have been the impressions made by the Holy Spirit.

Several gave their names for membership in the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches. The second week of the meeting embraced the time for the opening of Millsaps College, and many of the young men attended the services and publicly attested to their interest in the same.

Many ministers were in attendance from time to time, and assisted by their presence and their prayers. Prominent among them might be mentioned Drs. W. B. Murrah, J. A. Moore, W. C. Black, A. F. Watkins; Revs. T. B. Holloman, W. H. Lewis, R. Bradley, G. H. Thompson, W. M. Williams, F. L. Crowson, R. A. Clark, and Revs. Hutton and McCue, of the Presbyterian Church.

The pastor, Rev. C. F. Emery, who is both a scholar and a gentleman, as well as a faithful minister, assisted by his estimable wife, left nothing undone that would contribute to the success of the meeting, or the comfort of your correspondent.

And what shall I say of my treatment at the hands of Bro. I. C. Enochs and his good wife, in whose home I was so royally entertained? If I had been a near relative, they could not have been more attentive and considerate with reference to my every want. Such people are the very "salt of the earth," and such a home is as "a city set on a hill." May the blessings of Heaven ever rest in large measure upon them and all theirs!

I hereby tender my sincere thanks to all those who contributed toward the material and substantial evidence of appreciation—large and generous—presented to me just previous to my departure by Bro. I. C. Enochs.

THOMAS B. CLIFFORD.

Morgan City, La., Oct. 12, 1900.

A man with the grace of God upon him attracts attention, whether he labor in the pulpit or in a cornfield. —Northern Christian Advocate.

NOTES.

Hendrix College opened recently with the largest attendance in its history.

***

London has sent $30,000 to the Galveston relief fund, and Paris $20,000.

***

There is said to have been a net increase of 1200 Methodists in Corea last year.

***

The annual meeting of the ADVOCATE Publishing Committee will be held Oct. 31.

***

The new Court Street Methodist Church, Lynchburg, Va., will cost about $65,000.

***

Bishop Galloway preached on Sunday, the fourteenth, at Kosciusko, Miss.—his birthplace.

***

The Southwest Missouri Conference gave $800 to help our Methodism in the storm-stricken district of Texas.

***

At the Louisville Conference, held at Elizabethtown, Ky., recently, an increase in membership of 1,370 was reported.

***

An increase in membership of 750 was reported at the Southwest Missouri Conference, held a few weeks ago at Kansas City.

***

On account of the crowded condition of our columns this week, several important communications had to be left over till next week.

***

Dr. Thomas M. Finney, one of the most useful and distinguished ministers of our church, died at his home in St. Louis on the first instant.

***

We are glad to be able to report that Maj. R. W. Millsaps, who was seriously ill of pneumonia a short time ago at Waukesha, Wis., has entirely recovered.

***

Says one of our exchanges of the M. E. Church: "Lessees of the Georgia penal camps are charged with entrapping innocent negroes and forcing them into the chain gang." This is quite a serious charge. What has our neighbor, the Wesleyan Advocate, to say anent the matter?

***

On Wednesday, Oct. 10, at the residence of the bride's mother, near Jackson Miss., we had the pleasure of celebrating the rites of matrimony between Mr. W. G. Wills and Miss Ella Fondren. We extend our heartiest congratulations, and wish the youthful pair a long life of unalloyed felicity.

***

On Thursday, Oct. 11, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Doolittle, at Newton, Miss., we performed the ceremony which united in the bonds of holy wedlock Mr J. F. Price, of Jackson, Miss., and Mrs. Elizabeth Burton, of Lawrence, Miss. May prosperity and happiness attend them through life.

***

President Hadley, of Yale University, in a noteworthy address of welcome to the Freshman class, uttered the following highly praiseworthy sentiment: "Yale should take the lead in morality even if it should cost a number of students, for a college of Christian gentlemen is more to be desired than a college full of students."

***

Says the Raleigh (N. C.) Advocate, of Oct. 3: "Miss Belle Kearney, of Mississippi, author of 'A Slaveholder's Daughter,' who is traveling in the interest of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, delivered a very fine address before the faculty and students of Littleton Female College last Thursday evening in the College Chapel."

***

Cardinal Gibbons says: "Intemperance has brought more desolation to homes than famine or the sword and is a more unrelenting tyrant than the monopolist." Yet the great political parties, which claim to be fighting monopolists, have not a word in their platforms against the giant evil of intemperance. Where the trusts have slain their thousands, the saloon has slain its ten thousands.—Pacific Methodist Advocate.

***

The success of a family religious paper consists more in what is kept out of it than what is put into it. No one except the man who opens the mail addressed to a weekly paper has an idea of the improper and hurtful matter sent in for publication. Were it to find its way uncorrected into the print, the result would often be most serious. The editor has a sacred duty to perform in determining the proper and helpful matter for the columns of his paper.—Texas Christian Advocate.

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

The 20th Century Movement.

Mississippi Conference Notes on Twentieth Century Thank-Offering.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS,
Conference Secretary of Education.

The total amounts from beginning movement up to date, as reported the Conference Secretary of Education, are as follows:

BROOKHAVEN DISTRICT.

Summit, $68; Gallman circuit, 75; Brookhaven, $838.75; Tylerwn circuit, $16.

FOREST DISTRICT.

Newton and Hickory, $45; Forest rcuit, $41; Hillsboro, $18.60; Carge, $60.95; Trenton, $16; Raleigh, 25; Morton, abont $25; Montrose, .25; Neshoba, $10.80; Chunkey, 0; Vossburg and Heidelberg, $100; ke, $45.35; Rose Hill, $45.60; loh, $49.25; Walnut Grove, 85.

JACKSON DISTRICT.

Capitol Street, $46.25; Yazoo City, 89.25; Silver City, $60; Madison wait, $191; Vaughan's, $66.25; rry, $45.

MERIDIAN DISTRICT.

Waynesboro, $26.05; Wayne, $100; rth Kemper, $9.60; West End, ; Lauderdale, $54.50; Winchester, .10; Central, $229 50; Pachuta, .

SEASHORE DISTRICT.

Escatawpa, $23 25; Lumberton and plarville, $427.55; Brooklyn, .50; Ocean Springs, $130; Ellisle and Laurel, $10; Biloxi, $10.

NATCHEZ DISTRICT.

Nothing reported.

VICKSBURG DISTRICT.

Rolling Fork, $17.75; Utica, $76.50; guilla, $19.10; Warren, $43.05; th Warren, $20.

This gives a total of $6,476.15. ere is, of course, more than this, t this is all that has been reported the Conference Secretary of Education. The pastors of Jackson—t Church, Vicksburg, Natchez, ttiesburg, Moss Point, McComb Crystal Springs, Hazlehurst, on, Brandon, and many others, not hitherto filled out and forded their reports. Send me m C" at once.

Let each pastor who subscribed at tsburg, last December, be sure his own subscription made at time is placed in the roll book his pastoral charge.

The best report that has been made the Secretary thus far is from W. B. Lewis, pastor of Yazoo . The total amount subscribed his charge from the beginning of movement up to date is $3,289.25 ,000 being for Millsaps College, for Whitworth College, and for Soochow University, the lance being undirected.

The General Board of Education, its May meeting, requested that Conferences having control of ools which grant the ordinary mary and undergraduate degrees, which fall below the rank of a lege in the classification of the eral Board of Education, direct schools to cease giving these grees until they advance their work the minimum requirements of all leges.

Dr. J. D. Hammond, the Corresponding Secretary of the General ard of Education, in the conclusion his May report said: "The task before us is to arouse our people, reach every member of our great rch, and to induce each to present ir offering for the opening work the new century. It may seem to after having distributed more a million printed documents, called forth many thousands of sions and addresses on the subject during the time since the movement was undertaken, that enough has been done, but this is not the case. We shall not have done enough until every pastor has been aroused to the point of reaching every member of his charge with the arguments and inducements of the movement."

Twentieth Century Fund.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

Statement of amounts subscribed and payment made on same from beginning of canvass to Oct. 1, as reported to me by preachers in charge. It will be seen that many charges have failed to report. I hope to have reports from all before Nov. 1, for publication. Amount paid has not been reported by several.

WM. H. LAPRADE,
1407 State St., New Orleans, La.

	Subscribed	Paid
ARCADIA DISTRICT.
Ruston	$101 00	$ 37 00
Calhoun	61 25	5 00
Farmerville	31 00	1 75
Homer	31 70	6 20
Downsville	23 50
Lisbon	58 95	47 95
Total	$307 90	$ 97 90
ALEXANDRIA DISTRICT.
None reported.
BATON ROUGE DISTRICT.
St. Helena	$896 00	$ 11 25
Baker	193 64	15 50
Pine Grove	127 00	89 10
East Feliciana	86 00	26 00
Port Vincent	41 50	11 50
Total	$1,344 14	$ 153 35
DELHI DISTRICT.
Harrisonburg	$ 33 00	$ 50
NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT.
Carondelet	$ 683 50	$ 60 50
Rayne Memorial	595 25	288 25
Felicity	170 00	170 00
Louisiana Avenue	257 15	59 65
Dryades	15 00	15 00
Carrollton	582 00	512 00
Parker Memorial	71 28	11 28
Algiers	329 75	161 25
Burgundy	73 00	49 00
Tchoupitoulas and Gretna	99 00	34 00
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville	62 75	19 50
Total	$2,938 68	$1,389 43
OPELOUSAS DISTRICT.
Crowley	$ 408 45	$
Morgan City	125 00	100 00
Franklin	106 00	30 00
West Lake	5 00
Patterson	16 00	16 50
Prudhomme	50 50	28 00
Total	$ 710 95	$ 274 00
SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.
South Bossier	$ 300 00	$ 101 50
North Bossier	27 25
Mansfield	375 00	200 00
First Church, Shreveport	850 00
Red River	212 50
Benton	160 00	4 50
Grand Cane	51 50	10 50
Total	$1,976 25	$ 316 50
Conference Total	$7,310 92	$ 2,231 68

Says the Grenada Sentinel: "It has been agreed that newspaper subscriptions are an infallible test of a man's honesty. They will sooner or later discover the man. If he is dishonest, he will cheat the printer some way; declare that he has paid when he has not; sent money in the mails which was lost; will take the paper and not pay for it on the ground that he never subscribed for it, or move off and leave it coming to the office he left. Thousands of alleged Christians are dishonest in this particular at least. The printer's book will tell fearful tales at the final judgment."

A Generous Contribution.

The following card from Bro. Rickey is self-explanatory:

MR. EDITOR: I forward in this mail a check direct to Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss, Houston, Texas, for $33 45, as the subscription of the Ladies' Aid Society, Clinton Methodist Church. H. W. RICKEY.
Clinton, La., Oct. 11, 1900.

NOTICE.

Editor Norseworthy will give a reliable printer board and tuition to help him on his paper. A good opportunity to attend Centenary College. Write Mr. W. F. Norseworthy, Jackson, La.

A good friend of young men will loan three young men money sufficient to pay their tuition at Centenary College. Get recommendation from pastor and write the president for particulars.

I. W. COOPER.
Oct 13, 1900

Storm Sufferers' Fund.

Previously reported	$15 70
Congregation at Louisiana Avenue Methodist Church	9 50
Algiers Methodist Church and Sunday-school	5 00
Sunday-school at Burgundy St. Church	5 00
A Sympathizer, Opelousas, La	1 00
O. R. Rencher, Enterprise, Miss	5 00
Geo. W. Hively, Bridgeville, Miss	50
Total	$41 70

India Famine Relief Fund.

Previously reported	$283 80
A Sympathizer, Opelousas, La	1 00
Total	$284 80

MILLSAPS COLLEGE NOTES.

Two hundred students make things lively about the campus.

It is a matter of general remark that we never had a more earnest body of students. The proportion of grown men is unusually large.

One of the notable things incident to these opening days is the great amount of interest taken in the Literary Societies. They are filling up rapidly, and this is one of the best of all signs of serious purpose on the part of the students.

We noted with great pleasure the presence at the opening exercises of Bror. Treadwell and Gladney, of North Mississippi. They came with boys from their sections and were heartily welcomed. There are more students from North Mississippi this session than at any time before.

The annual reception given by the Y. M. C. A. on Friday night, the sixth, was the most enjoyable affair of the kind ever held here. Everybody was happy, and good cheer as well as delicious refreshments abounded. For the success of the occasion the Association is greatly indebted to Mesdames Murrah, Galloway, Holloman and Brame.

The formal opening exercises of this, our ninth, session will be long remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be present. It was an enthusiastic time. When the students come together in the College Chapel they found on the rostrum, in addition to the members of the faculty, many of the most distinguished citizens of our State. After the reading of the Sacred Scriptures by the Rev. T. B. Holloman, presiding elder of the Jackson district, prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Black, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Jackson. Dr. Murrah then spoke words of welcome, and inspiring addresses were delivered by Bishop Galloway, Hon. H. L. Whitfield, State Superintendent of Education; Rev. W. M. McIntosh, Chief Justice Whitfield and Col. J. L. Power, Secretary of State. The occasion will be long remembered by those present.

North Mississippi Conference Notes.

A meeting of two weeks' duration has just closed at Wood Street Church, Water Valley. The pastor, Rev. W. S. Shipman, was assisted by Rev. W. G. Harbin, who proved himself an efficient laborer, both in and out of the pulpit. The results were fifteen additions to the church on profession and one by letter, and the membership much revived. Bro. Harbin will aid Bro. Brown at Main Street next week, where it is hoped there will be a great revival.

The Epworth League in Winona is in good working order. They have purchased eight or ten sets of the Reading Course for the current year and are reading the books with interest. Let all the Leagues in Mississippi do likewise, and be sure to send their orders to their colporter at Winona.

Grenada College is in a prosperous condition. There are more than one hundred boarding pupils and a larger local patronage than heretofore. President McIntosh and his faculty are in fine spirits and doing capital work.

"The Year Book of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for 1900," is an up-to-date work, brimful of statistical and other matters concerning every phase of our church work. It ought by all means to be in the hands of every preacher and layman who would keep pace with the work and progress of the church. Send us ten cents in silver or two-cent stamps for a copy.

Those who are indebted to the colporter in any amount, even the least, will greatly help him in the work by an early remittance. Please be prompt, brethren.

G. W. BACHMAN.
Winona, Miss., Oct. 13, 1900.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Do You Know?
That when your bowels are disordered, and irregularities caused by change of diet or location exist,
Brodie's Astringent Cordial
Will correct all the troubles, and never fails, but
CURES
DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, CRAMPS, BLOODY FLUX, and Such Symptoms.
TESTIMONIAL.
July 28, 1899.
Dear Sirs:—I have used Brodie's Astringent Cordial in my family, and am using the third bottle. It always acts like a charm upon my children, correcting ailments of the bowels better than any medicine I ever tried. * * *
Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. A. W. MOORE.
Price: 50 cts. and $1 a Bottle.
I. L. LYONS & CO., New Orleans, La.
Sold by All Druggists.

Interesting Report from Fannin Circuit.

This preacher has been "pounded" with three loads of hay, a sack of flour, sugar, coffee, rice, meat, soda and other good things too numerous to mention. Not only Methodists, but Baptists and others have kindly remembered us in the way of good things. Bro. Billie Williams need not think he is the only preacher who is so kindly remembered by the good people. May God bless all who love the gospel of Christ, and are willing to pay for it!

This preacher has been sick—first with boils, then carbuncles, then fever.

I am indebted to Bro. Holloman, my beloved presiding elder; Bro. Harry Brown, and my son, H. P. Lewis, Jr., for valuable help in protracted meetings; also to Bro. W. W. Murry, local preacher. May God bless all of them!

Our meetings were peculiarly interesting. We think much good was done. Five were received on profession of faith here in Fannin.

We are happy in our work. Have our two youngest boys, James and Osmond, in Millsaps College, where they have been for two years.

I am completing my forty-second year in the ministry, having been received on trial in November, 1857. When I entered the ministry I was a single man; now we have three sons in the Methodist ministry.

Financially, my work is not doing as well as it might. Thirty years ago Fannin circuit was one of the best in the Brandon district; now it is among the poorest in the Conference. Something is wrong somewhere. Just what I hardly know. Year before last only $194.50 was paid the preacher; last year $195 was paid; this year $157 has been paid to date (Oct. 10).

Crops throughout North Rankin are almost failures. There is plenty of hay, but little corn and cotton. We need more religion, more industry, more knowledge about farm life and other things. Pray for us.

H. P. LEWIS.

The boarding department of Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Ga., is said to be fuller than it has ever been in the history of the institution.

WANTED.

A lady or gentleman (lady preferred) to teach private school for family of four children; also to teach music, vocal and instrumental. For further information apply to

R. L. LINDSEY.
Jacoby P. O., La.

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.
Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.
SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,637 94
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,282 42
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 36
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,325 26
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,235 62

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY
are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.
Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.
Post & Bowles, New Orleans, La
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

A Slave Holder's Daughter.
BY BELLE KEARNEY.
Cloth, 12 Mo, Fully Illustrated. $1.
This is a book which photographs the new South in contrast with the old. It deals especially with the evolution of Southern women—their surprising energy in leaping from the lap of the old, feudal, luxurious life to meet the stern realities of to-day. The author herself belongs by birthright to the old regime, while in full sympathy with the new condition. She writes from the inside, and pictures in her vivid and throbbing pages the situation down in Dixie as it relates to the people, education, the woman question, temperance, the economist, etc. All those who would have an inside knowledge of Dixie's Land as it is to-day should read it.
THE ABBEY PRESS, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

A First-Class Book at Half-Price.
To all our subscribers who will pay up all arrearages and pay their subscription one year in advance at the regular rate—viz., to October, 1901—we will sell a copy of the Life and Work of D. L. Moody, by A. W. Williams, at half price. The regular price, post, is $1.25. Our price, on conditions named above, is 63 cents, postpaid. The work is handsomely bound and contains over four hundred pages and over 60 half-tone engravings. Moody is universally conceded to be one of the truly great men of this century. A copy of this admirably written biography ought to be in every home. This offer will last until Nov. 15th. Don't delay.
Address
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

A New Testament Given Away.
To every subscriber now in arrears who will pay up his arrearage to date, and pay two dollars additional for his renewal for one year—to October, 1901—we will send, free of charge, a beautiful, morocco-bound, gilt-edged copy of Holman's Self-Pronouncing Testament, pocket size. This offer is made only to those who pay full price. Look at the label on your paper, count the months to October, 1900, and send 16⅔ cents for each month. This will pay your arrearage. Then add $2 for your renewal. Under this offer we can not give commissions to agents. This offer will last until Nov. 1. Don't delay.
W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN
can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co., 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Free to Inventors.
The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.
This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

Excursions.

The New Orleans and Northeastern railroad announces that, commencing with Wednesday, April 25, it will inaugurate the popular Wednesday excursions to St. Tammany parish, including Covington, Abita Springs, Pearl River, Slidell, and all intermediate stations.

The attractions to sportsmen, as well as the healthfulness of St. Tammany parish, are constantly increasing the popularity of these resorts.

Great improvement has been made, both by the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad and the East Louisiana railroad, in the track, which is being rapidly relaid with heavy steel rails, and in the equipment, thereby affording the excursionist the best of accommodations.

Grenada Female College
The Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.
PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.
W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

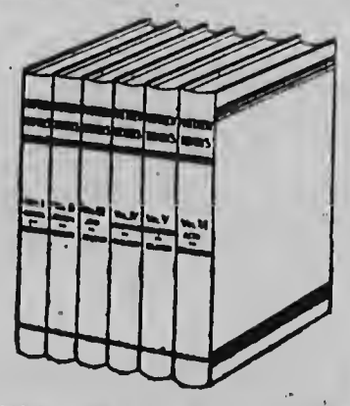
Home of Swamp-Root.

Matthew Henry's Commentary

on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.

Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.

Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied: "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.



Bickersteth: No subsequent commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.

3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.

Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.
Cheapest and Best Commentary
Best cloth binding—good type.
Write to

Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, New Orleans

A RARE BARGAIN.

TEN VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to October, 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

PUT-OFF TOWN.

Did you ever go to Put-Off Town,
Where the houses are old and tumbledown,
And everything tarries and everything drags,
With dirty streets and people in rags?

On the street of Slow lives Old Man Wait,
And his two little boys named Linger and Late;
With unclean hands and tousled hair,
And a naughty little sister named Don't Care.

Grandmother Growl lives in this town,
With her two little daughters called Fret and Frown;
An Old Man Lazy lives all alone
Around the corner on Street Postpone.

Did you ever go to Put-Off Town
To play with the little girls, Fret and Frown,
Or go to the home of Old Man Wait,
And whistle for his boys to come to the gate—

To play all day in Tarry Street,
Leaving your errands for other feet?
To stop, or shirk, or linger, or frown,
Is the nearest way to this old town.

—Northwestern Advocate.

SIMPLER LIVING.

Moralists and philosophers are constantly telling the world that the best elements of human happiness are the simplest and most frugal. There is a constant cry for simplicity of living, but some of those who make this cry are unable to adapt their own lives to their own beliefs. We believe in the beauty and good sense of simple living just as we believe in the highest and best principles of religion, but the weakness of our human nature is so great that we do not live according to that which we know to be wisest and best. It is not strange that there should be a cry for simplicity in an age when it is manifest that a great deal of the unrest and the unhappiness of domestic life are due to too elaborate and expensive living.

Too many people have not the moral conrage to set up a standard of their own based upon their own incomes and their own positions in life. Mrs. A. has not the moral courage to put a straw matting on her floor when she knows that Mrs. B. has a Wilton velvet on her floor. Mrs. D. has not the moral courage to serve simple refreshments at her entertainments when she knows that Mrs. C. serves ices and all sorts of expensive and unnecessary luxuries at her "at homes." The Smiths, with an income of $2,000 a year and one servant, make a strenuous effort to ape the style of living of the Whites, who have $8,000 a year and three servants. The wife of the clerk tries to imitate the wife of her husband's employer. It is an age of vulgar and unwise imitation. The writer overheard a significant bit of conversation between two women on the street car not long ago. One said to the other:

"I am going to get some lace curtains for my parlor to-day. Have you noticed the Barton's new lace draperies? Well, I told my husband that if the Bartons could have lace curtains in their parlor, there was no reason why we shouldn't have them, for my husband has as good pay as Tom Barton."

"You are just right," said the other woman. "I told my husband to-day that if Tom Barton's wife could wear a silk lined dress, I couldn't see why I should not have my next dress lined with silk, and I'm going to have it so, you see, if I do not."

And it was but yesterday that we heard a woman say: "If I could entertain as my friends entertain, I would love to do so; but I can not do it, and so I simply do not try to entertain at all."

Now, what connection is there between the spirit of true hospitality and elaborate entertaining? The fact is, that the over-elaborate method of entertaining in vogue at present is killing that beautiful spirit of true hospitality that prevailed at one time. Elaborate living, elaborate dressing, elaborate entertaining are destroying the happiness of many American homes. There are homes in which the whole end and aim of life would seem to be the accumulation of fine furniture and bric-a-brac, the care of which imposes a great burden on the mistress of the home, and the expense of which makes a mighty inroad in the family income. There are other homes in which the elaborateness of the table is the family weakness. The money expended for unnecessary and positively injurious food in such homes would give a college education to the children, who are not thus educated because their parents "can not afford" to send them to college. All forms of elaborate living impose an unnecessary burden on both fathers and mothers, and destroy the peace and harmony of true home life. Many homes have been wrecked by a constant striving for the unattainable in the style of living. We saw one day a red flag floating from the piazza of a home that had been thus wrecked. A young couple had started out in life under an utterly false standard. It was a standard based not on their own incomes, but on the incomes of others. They adopted a style of living that involved them in debt, and they had neither the courage nor the sense to retrench when they saw the inevitable result of their folly if it was continued.

The remedy for all this wrong living lies largely with the women of the home. There will not be simplicity in home life until the wives and mothers declare that such simplicity shall reign in their homes. Women, far more than men, set the pace for the social world. Women, far more than men, fix the standard of home life. It is true that "The hand that rocks the cradle

Is the hand that rules the world."

It is true that if there is ever a revolution in the world of dress and fashion, a revolution in the laws governing the home life of the day, that revolution must be wrought by the women of the world.—Zion's Herald.

WHAT LADY SOMERSET LEARNED FROM A CRIPPLE.

Lady Henry Somerset is always a prominent figure at the meetings of the International Council of Women, especially when they are held in London. On such occasions her place, the Priory, is thrown open to the American delegates and their friends. It was at a tea in the Priory during the latest London meeting of the council that Lady Henry told how she came to devote a large part of her life to slum work among the children. Lady Henry, by the way, is almost as well known in this line of effort as she is in women's clubs and British temperance work.

"It was this way," she said: "I was moved in that direction by the rare patience and imagination of one little boy. His example convinced me that patience was one of the qualities I needed most, and in seeking it I grew into that work. I was in a hospital on visiting day while the doctors were changing a plaster cast which held a crippled boy's limb. The operation was exceedingly painful, I was told, yet to my surprise the little sufferer neither stirred nor winced, but made a curious buzzing sound with his mouth. After the doctors left I said to him:

"'How could you possibly stand it?'

"'That's nothin',' he answered; 'why, I just made believe that a bee was stingin' me. Bees don't hurt very much, you know. And I kept buzzin' because I was afraid I'd forget about it's being a bee if I didn't.'"—Selected.

SUCCESSFUL MEN.

It reads like a romance out of the Arabian Nights when the facts in the life of Collis P. Huntington, the railroad maguate, who died recently, are rehearsed. That the son of a traveling tinker, a "ne'er-do-well" who could not support his family, which consequently broke up and scattered; that a boy whose education was over before he was fourteen, and who started out penniless from a Connecticut village, to plunge into the unknown West and the regions of the Pacific coast, should, in comparatively brief time, become a capitalist of national power and repute, and die a multi-millionaire, is amazing. It is reported, too, that he is likely to be succeeded in the presidency of the Southern Pacific road by John C. Stubbs, who commenced life in Ashland, Ohio, as a clerk on a dollar a day, and is now drawing a salary from the Southern Pacific of $25,000 yearly. While living in Cleveland, we frequently heard the story from the lips of one of the great "iron kings" there, who controlled one of the largest mills, of how he commenced life as a young man in that city, carrying a hod for a pittance a day. And he was the man who made John Rockefeller—then a clerk on moderate salary—his first loan of $500, to start on his earliest venture. We once told a missionary from India, visiting us, the plain tale of a Cleveland man who, from a peddler with a handbasket on the street, became, by the manufacture of chewing gum, a millionaire many times over, and owner of great stock-farms, famous paintings, and a seat in Congress. (The missionary had never heard of chewing gum, and could not imagine its use. His surprise knew no bounds when the matter was explained to him. He was somewhat grieved, too, to think of what all that money might accomplish converting the heathen. But what would our civilization be without gum, and what an interesting and æsthetic quality would be lacking in our damsels if they were not everywhere working their maxillaries in public places for the benefit of the people!)—Western Christian Advocate.

TOOK HER RELIGION ALONG.

A beautiful instance of Christian integrity is given of a distinguished Christian lady who was spending a few weeks in a hotel at Long Branch.

An attempt was made to induce her to attend a dance, in order that the affair might have the prestige bestowed by her presence, as she stood high in society. She declined all the importunities of her friends.

Finally, an honorable Senator tried to persuade her to attend, saying: "Miss B., this is quite a harmless affair, and we want the exceptional honor of your presence."

"Senator," said the lady, "I can not do it; I am a Christian; I never do anything in my Summer vacation, or wherever I go, which will injure the influence I have over the girls of my Sunday-school class."

The Senator bowed, and said: "I honor you; if there were more Christians like you, more men like myself would become Christians."—All Aboard.

TRIALS OF THE MINISTER'S WIFE.

"The average parish feels a sense of ownership in its minister's wife, her children and her home, and because this interest often uses the eyes of affection, she tries to blind herself to the fact that she has no privacy, no liberty to choose her own friends, no leisure for her own refreshing," writes "A Minister's Wife" of "The Church Engaged My Husband, Not Me," in the September Ladies' Home Journal. "The lack of privacy, and the sacrifice of dignity that must accompany it, are as nothing, however, to the deprivation that most of us feel when we are denied the right to choose our own friends. It is only common sense to suppose that some people in the parish are going to be more congenial companions than others for the minister's wife, who was probably a very human girl once. A minister's wife rarely dares to make close friends among her husband's people, because those whom she has not chosen become offended and critical. She usually succeeds in living on terms of colorless friendliness with all, and perhaps has a somewhat lonely life in consequence. There are intimacies which she does not care for, because she is a woman of sense; there are others which she may not have, because she is a woman of discretion; her friendships are not to be achieved; they are to be thrust upon her, or denied. Greater than any difficulty of this sort is a more practical one regarding hospitality. When a visiting clergyman comes to the church, when missionaries, and secretaries, and evangelists, and lecturers appear, the parish is usually willing to have the minister's wife reap all the blessing from the entertainment of 'angels, unawares.'"

JUDGE WHITE ON SALOONS.

All of the cases, with one exception, that came up in Criminal Court yesterday were attributed directly or indirectly to strong drink. This put Judge J. W. F. White, who was on the bench, on the warpath, and he made the day's session the most lively one for some time. Toward the close of court, and after his honor had lectured until he was tired, he almost feebly said: "Oh, this drink, this drink! Four-fifths of the crime and four-fifths of the wretchedness on this work can be attributed to it. Here's a man who goes and spends his money with a heartless saloon-keeper. Look at him. It's no wonder that I am down on this liquor business."

And any decent man is down upon it.—Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

An untold amount of real humiliation and suffering is inflicted upon men and women striving to serve God in the church, by a lack of appreciation of their point of view. Put yourself in their places. Would not you resent being an object of disapproval, or when the case is bettered, an object of charity? Would you enjoy feeling that your hat, your coat, your dress and your children's clothes were matters of comment, and that the parish felt that the money paid your husband must be spent to please it and not yourself?—"A Minister's Wife," in the Ladies' Home Journal.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

Epworth Organs are easy to buy

Example: Style 401 is $45.00 payable as follows—$22.50 when organ is received and approved, $11.25 in three months and $11.25 in six months. (Factory prices—no agents.) Send for catalog. Mention this paper,
WILLIAMS ORGAN & PIANO CO.
57 Washington St., Chicago

Don't Boggle us Pearline

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. D. E. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA,
NEW ORLEANS.
COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES.
Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses.
COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY.
Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, and Architectural Engineering
H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments
Fall Term of above opens October 1st.
MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens November 1st
LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th
For catalogues, address
Secretary of University.

PATENTS
promptly procured, OR NO FEE. Send model or photo for free report on patentability. How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks FREE. Fairest terms ever offered. Highest references. PATENT LAWYERS OF 28 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Prompt service. Moderate charges.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

EUGENE FIELD'S POEMS: A $7.00 BOOK
THE Book of Century. Handsomely illustrated by thirty-two of the World's Greatest Artists.
Given Free
to each purchaser of a subscription to the Eugene Field Monument Fund. The Fund created to distribute amounts derived from the sale of this book [illegible] of the work of the artists who illustrated this book could be [illegible] manufactured for the purpose. The Fund created to distribute equally between the family of the late Eugene Field and the Fund for the building of a monument to the memory of the beloved poet of childhood.
Eugene Field Monument Souvenir Fund.
(Also at Book Stores.) 180 Monroe St., Chicago.
If you also wish to send postage, etc., to [illegible]
Mention this Journal, as Adv. is our only [illegible]

MONEY SAVED
In the end by taking

and going on a
SUMMER OUTING
To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY
SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1st.
Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION, Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrives.
Memphis and Local.....	4:00 p. m	10:30 a. m.
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:30 a. m	5:50 p. m.

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.
Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Old Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.
Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.
W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

JESSE FRENCH PIANOS

ORGANS HAVE BEEN RECOGNIZED THE MOST POPULAR INSTRUMENTS IN WHOLE SOUTHWEST FOR NEARLY THIRTY YEARS.

FACTORIES are among the LARGEST in the U.S.

CATALOGS FREE

Jesse French Piano & Organ Co.

ST. LOUIS MISSOURI

Agents & Representatives in all LARGE CITIES

Mrs. J. D. Cordell.

MILK · DEPOT,

SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.

CONFECTIONERIES.

DELIVERY FREE.

Bienville St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

A. MONTGOMERY,

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

Suite 303—New Orleans National Bank Building,

36 Common St., New Orleans, La

P. J. MURRAY,

DEALER IN

FIREWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,

Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.

Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a cord load of split ash and oak for $2.25; a load of cane blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot firewood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

OBITUARIES.

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

THURMOND—Resolutions of respect by the Bay Methodist Sunday-school:

Sister MARGARET MILLER THURMOND, whose sudden and unexpected death occurred at 2 o'clock P. M., Sept. 1, 1900, in the city of Baltimore, Md., was born April 9, 1836. She was a daughter of Rev. C. P. and Sallie Etter, who were both East Tennesseans. When Margaret was about four months old the family located in Ripley, Miss., so, from Aug. 10, 1836, to the day of her death, she was a citizen of Ripley. She was converted to Christianity when quite young, and at once joined the M. E. Church in Ripley, Miss., at that time under the pastorate of Rev. Bennett Ross, since which time, down to the hour of her death, she has been a devoted and influential member, and has become well known and highly esteemed all over North Mississippi.

She was happily married in 1854 to Mr. R. J. Thurmond; born unto them eight children, four of whom and her husband survive her. She was buried at Elkin, N. C.

She loved the Sunday-school, and proved it "faith by her works;" always in her place when not when kept away by a good excuse; and of the time teacher of a class of young ladies. At the prayer-meeting Sister Thurmond magnified her office as a true Christian mother by her words of prayer and praise to our Heavenly Father. In fact, in every department of Christian work and enterprise she exemplified the noble, womanly Christian character. She was often chosen by her sisters as their delegate to the meetings of the Woman's Missionary Society, and was secretary of that organization a number of years. The places made vacant by the sudden death of Sister Margaret Thurmond will, indeed, be hard to fill in the various departments of Christian work, and equally so in social circles.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That in the death of Sister Margaret Thurmond our Sunday-school has lost one of its best teachers and most influential members, that the school has ever been blessed with. Respectfully,

MRS. K. A. JONAS,
JNO. Y. MURRAY, M. D.,
J. B. TURNER,
Committee.

Ripley, Miss., Sept. 9, 1900.

DORSEY—IRA BOWMAN DORSEY was born March 21, 1831, on the old family plantation, Point Dare, Terrebone parish, La., and died at his home in Morganza parish, June 3 1900. He was a son of Dr. Holmes Dorsey, died in the Confederate service when the boy was a year old, and he, an only son, was reared with many prayers by his mother. The friends of the family remember him as a bright, manly little fellow, early exhibiting that devotion and faithfulness to his mother that was a marked trait in his character as a mature man with a family of his own. He was educated in Kentucky, and at Prof. Magruder's academy in Baton Rouge. While at school in Kentucky he met a lovely young girl, Janie Alexander, whom, six years later, he brought home as his bride. Fifteen years of wedded happiness was theirs. Three children blessed their union. He joined the Methodist Church at a camp meeting at Midway when quite a boy. Most of the time since he has been one of the most efficient stewards at Oak Ridge. His opinion of his worth as a Christian was humble, but he loved the church, and was a friend of his pastor. He was a brave, cheerful spirit, witty and mirthful, and there was nothing too hard for him to undertake for his friends. His constitution was broken down by hard labor, and when he was attacked with appendicitis, the surgeon ordered not operate. He was calm and rational to the last. Peaceful and without fear, trusting in the God of his fathers, he gave directions for the welfare of his family, and quietly fell asleep in Jesus. The happy home is lonely and desolate for mother, wife, and children, for he was their idol.

F. R. A.

ASHLEY—CASSIE LUOLA ASHLEY was born March 11 1894, and died July 25 1900.

Cassie was a good child. She was taken sick about a week before her death, and told her mother that she would die; that they need not do anything for her, for she could not get well. She also asked that her two sisters be sent for, who were then away from home. She talked of dying and of heaven all the time, and told them not to weep, but to be good, and meet her in heaven.

Cassie joined the church about one year ago, and was a faithful and consistent member of the Sunday-school; always knew her lesson well, and loved her pastor. She was a bright child—too bright and pure for this world. Among her last words was the following beautiful prayer:

"Tired I am, I'll go to rest;
Safe fold me in my little nest.
Heavenly Father, may thine eye
Above my bed watch very nigh.
Forgive the wrong I may have done,
For Jesus' sake, thine own dear Son.

"Oh, may his blood, once shed for me,
From all that's sinful make me free.
Bless parents, brothers, sisters dear;
Bless all I love, both far and near;
Bless all the children, great and small;
I pray thee, Father, for us all. Amen."

She then sung a part of the hymn, "Lily of the valley, he is mine," after which she kissed her loved ones good-bye, and told them to meet her in heaven. C. C. GRIFFIN.

FREGOE—At a meeting of the Argonian Literary Society, held Friday evening, Sept. 14, 1900, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Since our last meeting as a society the spirit of Miss ETHEL FREGOE, one of our best-loved members and an officer of the society, has taken its everlasting flight, we, her sorrowing classmates and friends, do hereby Resolve, That in the death of Ethel Fregoe the society has lost one of its most active and efficient members, the school a much-loved member, her family one of its brightest jewels, and the church and Sunday-school an earnest supporter.

Resolved, That while we deplore her loss, we bow to the chastening hand of God, knowing that he is too wise to err, too good to afflict needlessly.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the afflicted mother and family of our deceased friend, but can only point them to One who "doeth all things well."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the Grenada Sentinel, the West Point ——, and the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, and that a copy of the same be entered on the Minutes of the Argonian Society.

LILA ROANE,
SARAH GWIN,
REISIE GILLESPIE,
Committee.

ALLEN—In memory of my angel baby, born Nov. 28, 1899; died Dec. 1, 1899, near Baton Rouge, La.; infant son of Mattie and Dan A. Allen; our first-born, precious gift of God.

Baby darling, how we loved thee! How we miss the sound of that sweet young voice, so strangely sweet to parents' ears, that now is hushed in death's silent slumber! How joyfully we received thee! How soon wast thou recalled! Thy dear little mission here was soon ended, and thou hast left an aching void in our lonely hearts that can not be filled. Locked in our hearts, with touching memories of the frail blossom whose fragrance has so soon departed from our earthly dwelling, is the tender thought of our little one. "The Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord." May we not mourn for the little lambs who are early taken to the Good Shepherd's bosom, but bow in humble submission to the Father's will?

MAMA.

Liverpool, La.

JONES—Col. THOS. B. JONES was born in Rockingham county, N. C., May 23, 1828, and died at his home near Hernando, Miss., Sept. 4, 1900, having moved to DeSoto county, Miss., when ten years of age, where he lived continually until his death. On Aug. 18, 1852, he was married to Miss Hannah Scott Reid, who, with a family of five grown children, survive him. He was an officer in and, perhaps, the oldest member of the Methodist Church at Hernando. His was a strong Christian character. His example and influence were for good, and his life exemplified the religion he professed. He was highly esteemed and respected by a very large circle of friends, who mourn with his family in their great sorrow. We feel that our loss is his gain, and we bow our head in submission, and are grateful that he was spared to so ripe an age. His life was a success in the true sense of the word, and its force will be felt as a power for good for years to come. A FRIEND.

Hernando, Miss.

BOYKIN—R. B. BOYKIN was born in Smith county, Miss., June 8, 1834, and died in Smith county, Miss., Sept. 25, 1900, aged sixty six years three months and seventeen days. He married Miss Mary E. Dewlok, Feb. 24, 1876. He was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, in Boykin Church, Smith county, Miss., August, 1872. He lived a consistent and religious life up to his death; was stricken with congestion, terminating to the brain; soon became unconscious, from which he never rallied. Although he did not leave words of triumph, his life was a living epistle, known of all with whom he was associated. "Rest from thy labor, dear brother; thy works do follow thee." His mortal remains rests in the Boykin Church Cemetery, only a few feet from where he was converted and joined the church. May God sustain the bereft family. R. A. SIBLEY, Sr.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that can not be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

{SEAL} A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

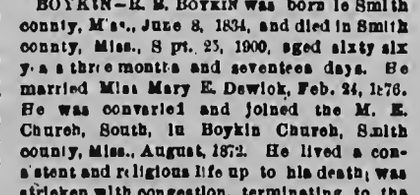
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Uninterrupted sunshine would parch our hearts; we want shade and rain to cool and refresh them.—Anon.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Let friendship creep gently to a height. If it rush to it, it may soon run itself out of breath.—Fuller.



Chin Pimples

are local in nature. They yield readily to Common Sense Treatment.

HEISKELL'S OINTMENT

is a specific for Pimples, Freckles, Tetter, Eczema and all skin disorders. 50 cts. a box.

HEISKELL'S SOAP

clears the pores, makes the skin soft, smooth and white. Price 25 cents. Samples free.

JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philada., Pa.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Aug. 12.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT.
For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Dep't, The CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Druggists sell Large Bottles for $1.00.

WINE OF CARDUI

W. W. Carre & Co.

LUMBER,

NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOB PRINTING

-- All Kinds --

AT THIS OFFICE.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to October, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

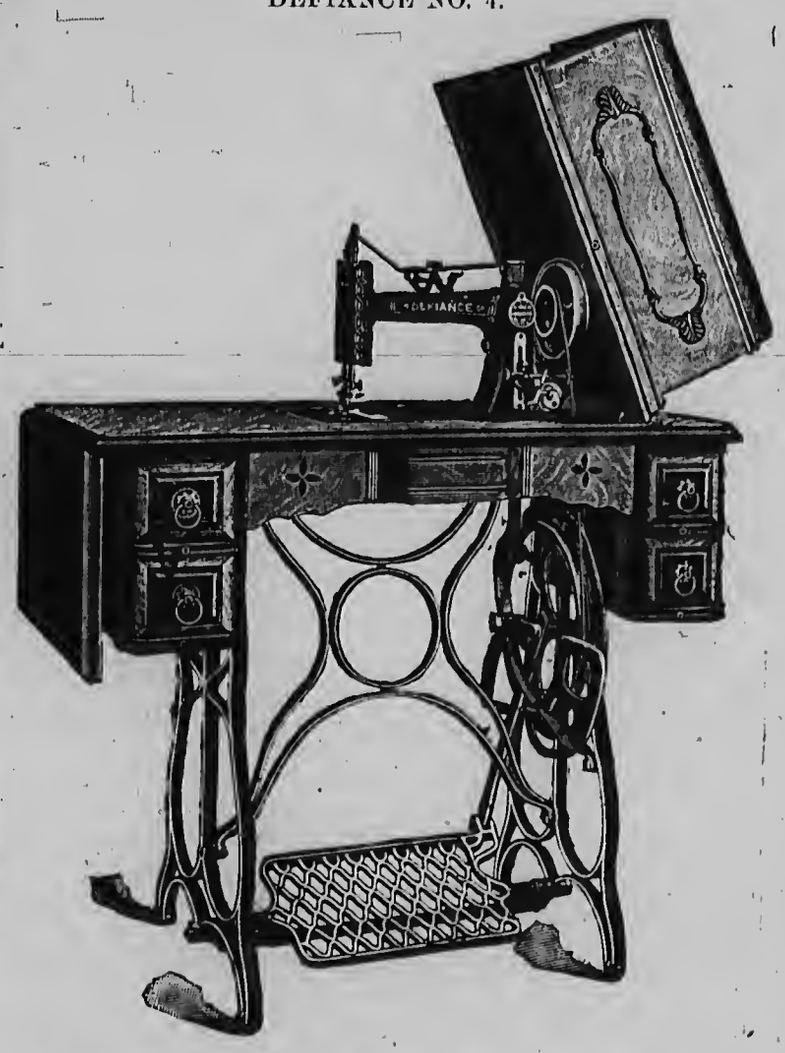
For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

DEFIANCE NO. 4.



The Defiance Machine is the perfection of simplicity, durability, speed, strength and ease of operation.

Construction. It is constructed of the best material in use, every bearing, without an exception, being of steel or case-hardened.

The Mechanical Devices of this machine are a combination of tried mechanical principles. In detail it differs materially from other machines. Its simplicity is at once apparent, and its great durability is admitted by the best mechanical experts.

The Arm is large and roomy, 8x5½ inches in the clear.

No Vibration. This machine does not vibrate. Its motion is easy and quiet.

Lock Stitch. It is a lock-stitch shuttle machine.

Speedy, Light, Quiet. It is as speedy, light and quiet-running as any shuttle machine manufactured.

Double Feed—Positive Four-Motion. The double feed possesses advantages over all others. Its very shape and form obviates all the disadvantages arising from double feeds as they have heretofore been constructed, and combines in this machine all the advantages of both the single and double feed, doing away with the objections to either of them.

The operation of the feed mechanism is positive, giving an accurate four motion movement to the feed without the use of springs.

The Needle Bar. This machine has a self-lubricating needle-bar, which is always kept clean, well-oiled, and the oil can not drop on the work and soil it.

The Needle is absolutely self-setting. No screwdriver is required in setting, a winged thumb nut being used instead.

The machine is self-threading. Put in the bobbin, draw the thread towards you, through the slot and, it is done.

The Loose Pulley for winding the bobbins without running the machine is so constructed as to admit of an instantaneous stoppage and starting of the machine without stopping the treadle movement—a valuable improvement peculiar to this machine.

Automatic Bobbin Winder. The bobbin winder operates automatically, winding the thread on the bobbin regularly and as evenly as the thread on a spool. Can be operated without running the machine.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

Additional Accessories. Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screwdriver, Oil Can filled with oil, Cloth Guage and Thumb-screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

DEFIANCE NO. 7½.

This cut shows our new and popular style, the No. 7½ Defiance Drop Cabinet perfectly protecting the machine from dust, and making a convenient and ornamental stand. When machine is ready for use the head is in same position as on ordinary style; when through using, it requires only the turning over of the leaf of table, and the sewing machine head drops into the case or cabinet between the drawers, completely out of sight, forming a handsome table with highly polished top.

No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of one drawer at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $32. Our price, $18.

No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $34. Our price, $19.

No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $36. Our price, $20.

No. 7½ Machine, Drop head cabinet, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $38. Our price, $23.

All the woodwork is of the best quality, either Light Antique or Golden Oak Finish. For Walnut Woodwork add $2 to above list prices.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans.

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

THROW AWAY YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

CHILLIFUGE

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

STOP POUNDING YOUR DOUGH.

Every housewife should secure one of De MUTH'S DOUGH KNEADERS. Makes finest biscuits, whitest and lightest bread. Write for our booklet, "Beaten Biscuit," giving full particulars—FREE.

No work. No worry. No trouble. No pounding.

J. A. De MUTH, St. Joseph, Mo.

J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AMMUNITION, BASKETS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, ALARM TILLS, BLACKING, BURNERS, BUNGS, CHURNS, CUTLERY, COFFEE MILLS, DRIP PANS, ENAMELED STEELWARE, Fishing Tackle, Seines, Furnaces, GALVANIZED WARE, GLASS LAMPS, GOBLETS, TUMBLERS, Handles, Inks, Japanned Ware, KEGS, LADDERS, LANTERNS, MATCHES, MEASURES, NAIL PULLERS, OIL CANS, OARS, PAPER, PIPES, PADLOCKS, ROPE, RULES, SCALES, SIEVES, SOAPS, SAUCEPANS, STATIONERY, STONEWARE, TACKS, TRAPS, WINES, Tinware, Whips, Wicking, WOODENWARE, Etc.

1000 active persons wanted to take orders for

GALVESTON

THE HORRORS OF A STRICKEN CITY

By Murat Halstead.

100,000 COPIES ORDERED before a book was printed. Enormous demand. BIG BOOK. ONLY $1.50. Only reliable, endorsed book, by author of renown. Beware fake books. BIGGEST COMMISSIONS. Our workers clearing from $5 to $30 per day. 30 days credit. Freight paid. OUTFITS FREE. Address today. Standard Publishing House, 328-334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

DROPSY

Treated Free.

We have made dropsy and its complications a specialty for twenty years. Quick relief. Cures worst cases. Book of TESTIMONIALS and 10 DAYS treatment FREE

DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box K. ATLANTA, GA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Seven arrests were made for violating the Sunday law.

Alexander Harris, local agent of the Cromwell Line of steamships, is dead.

Transatlantic liners encountered unusually heavy seas en route to New York.

Consul Saegaardt says Denmark will not consent for years to come to the sale of the Danish West India Islands.

W. J. Bryan attended the Westcott Congregational Church at Akron on Sunday. He will continue his Ohio tour.

The Boers are active in the Kroonstadt district. Gen. De Wet will make prisoners of burghers who refuse to fight.

New Orleans was placed twelfth on a roll of American cities arranged by the Census Bureau according to population.

Senor Correa, the Nicaragnan minister at Washington, has also been accredited by his government as minister to Mexico.

An interesting court record has been discovered in which the city is out for nearly $2300 on claims abandoned years ago.

Gov. Roosevelt spent Sunday at Spring Station, Ky. He gave out an open letter on the subject of the Ice Trust in New York.

The grand jury at Hot Springs, Ark., has returned over 100 indictments against slot machine owners and gambling houses.

Shipments of mining machinery to South Africa from Chicago, which were stopped owing to the Boer war, have been resumed.

The bartenders at Murphysboro, Ill., have gone on a strike. They demand extra pay for overtime and for working on picnic days.

It speaks well for Ohio justice that twelve men have been arrested in Akron, Ohio, for their part in the negro riot there.

The widowed Queen Margherita of Italy has completed the distribution of her personal effects, and has finally retired from public view.

The Russian suggestion that the International Court of Arbitration of The Hague be given jurisdiction over divergencies of views arising on the question of Chinese indemnities has received the adherence of the American, the French and the Russian Governments. The text of the note has not been made public.

Li Hung Chang has made formal calls at the British and American legations and thanked the Americans for their good treatment of the Chinese.

The joint expedition of 4000 allies, which is to rout the Boxers out of the City of Pao Ting Fu, left Peking Oct. 14, and has reached Lukao Chao.

The postmaster at Galveston has informed the Postmaster General that many of the postal clerks there are in need as the result of the September storm.

The reopening services of Spurgeon's Tabernacle in London are to be brought to a close on October 18 with a united communion service, "for believers of all denominations."

At Madison, Wis., Senator Hanna made a speech, in which he said there are no monopolies in this country except those which are protected by a patent issued by the government.

The President will recommend to Congress the payment of an indemnity to the families of the four Italians who were the victims of a mob at Tallulah, La., about two years ago.

The funeral of Walter Chew Flower, former Mayor of New Orleans, was held from his residence at Felicity and Coliseum streets, on Oct. 13. The interment took place in Metairie Cemetery.

Gen. Roberts has given the Colonial Volunteers, who have been on duty north of the Orange river, permission to return home, but says their leaving now will have the "worst possible effect."

King Leopold of Belgium has arrived in Paris to visit the Exposition, but he will remain incognito during his ten days' stay, except on one day, when he will officially visit President Loubet.

An elaborate plan of the British to surround and capture the Boer Generals, who were to hold a conference with Gen. De Wet at Heilbron, failed because one of the British columns took the wrong road.

The United States have renewed their demand upon the government of Morocco for $5000 as indemnity to the family of Marcus Azzagni, a naturalized American citizen, who was murdered by a mob last June.

The striking miners, in convention at Scranton, Pa., decided to accept the operators' offer of 10 per cent advance, provided, first, that same shall remain in effect until April 1, 1901, and second, that the sliding scale in the Lehigh and Schuylkill regions be discontinued. They agree to leave the matter to arbitration if the operators do not accept these conditions.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.

For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.

For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure.

For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.

Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.

50c and $1 bottles at druggists.

Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. REV. C. C. DAVIS, Eld. M. E. Church, South, No. 28 Tatnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.

R. L. ROCCO, 206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. BEALL, Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

GALVESTON STILL IN SORE STRAITS.

Although a vast deal has been done at Galveston in relieving distress, in restoring order, and in the work of rehabilitation, the situation is still far from being bright. A large proportion of the survivors are in sore straits as regards clothing and shelter, and will have to be helped for several weeks longer. The stoppage of relief work at this juncture would be most unfortunate, for it would inflict untold hardship on thousands of excellent and deserving people. While the public has nobly responded to Galveston's piteous call for help, Miss Clara Barton states that the total amount received thus far is less than a million dollars. "Ten thousand people," she further says, "are without house or home, and Winter is less than two months away." Although the number of people affected by the Johnstown disaster was ten or twelve times less than the number left destitute by the Galveston storm, the relief contributions in the former instance amounted to fully three times as much as the total sum contributed to date for the storm sufferers. Greatly exaggerated reports have gone out as to the amount of the general relief fund.

As if the cup of woe of the unfortunate citizens of Galveston were not already full enough, real estate owners and agents are adding to their misery by taking advantage of their misfortune. The heartless greed that is being manifested by some of these sharks indicates that they deserve the name of conscienceless robbers rather than of men. Their conduct is deserving of the severest reprobation.

Says a dispatch to the Times-Democrat from Galveston, dated Oct. 12: "As Winter approaches, another hardship is inflicted upon the storm-stricken citizens of Galveston. There is a great demand for houses, especially small cottages, and the owners and agents are taking advantage of the unfortunate condition of the stricken city. Poor people, who can not afford to pay the advanced rates, are ejected, and those who can afford to pay them are being forced to the limit. Cottages that have rented for years at $15 and $16 a month can not be had now for less than $25. Many cottages that withstood the storm and formerly rented for $20 can not be had now for less than $30. Complaints are being filed daily, and the citizens have appealed to the authorities for relief. Landlords claim that the demand for houses is great, and that they have a right to get all they can for their property.

"Some real estate speculators are trying to force poor people to part with lots, from which their homes were swept and destroyed by the storm, at sacrifice prices. The effort to gobble up these lots for a song has proved successful in some instances, and the property placed on the market brought from seven to ten times the price paid for it."

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c and $1.00 bottles

MARRIAGES

MILLER—ALEXANDER.—At the residence of the bride's father, Warren county, Miss., Sept. 30, 1900, by Rev. H. L. Norton, Mr. J. W. Miller and Miss Lilly Alexander.

DUPREE—GRAVES.—At Blackburn, Miss., Thursday, Oct. 11, 1900, by Rev. B. F. Lewis, Mr. Thos. P. Dupree and Miss Janie Graves, both of Ellisville, Miss.

STEWART—CUSHMAN.—At the residence of the bride's father, 5.3 Third street, New Orleans, La., Tuesday, Oct. 9, at 7:30 P. M., by Rev. R. H. Wynn, Mr. Archie C. Stewart, of St. Landry parish, La., to Miss Lottie Cushman.

MARTIN—PAYNE.—At the residence of the bride's father, Jackson, Miss., Aug. 26, 1900, by Rev. C. F. Emery, Mr. T. M. Martin and Miss Maude Payne.

VANCE—CARMICHAEL.—At the parsonage of Capitol Street Church, Oct. 1, 1900, by Rev. C. F. Emery, Mr. C. Vance and Miss Lily Carmichael, both of Utica, Miss.

INDIAN MISSION.

MR. EDITOR: Allow me to report amounts received during the year for Indian Mission:

Rev. I. L. Peeblee	$ 5 00
Mrs. R. A. Harris	1 00
Mrs. Frances Winters	1 00
Miss Annah Jones	1 00
A Friend	1 00
A Friend in Virginia	2 50
Mrs. N. B. Coleman	1 00
Rev. W. J. Dawson	1 00
Rev. J. P. Drake	50
Mr. I. E. Breland	1 00
Mrs. E. J. Robinson	5 00
Dr. C. R. Rencher, Enterprise, Miss.	5 00

Many thanks for amounts given. May God bless the givers! We need money so much. Please send something.

A. D. MILLER.

Lorman, Miss., Oct. 9, 1900.

Li Hung Chang will ask that the negotiations between the Chinese Peace Commissioners and the representatives of the powers commence in a few days.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Iuka circuit, at Burneville	Oct. 6, 7
Iuka station	8
Ripley and New Albany, at Ripley	13, 14
Jonesboro circuit, at State Line	17
Ripley circuit, at Wier's Chapel	20, 21
New Albany circuit, at Union Hill	27, 28
Blue Springs, at Blue Springs	30
Kossuth, at Bethel	Nov. 3, 4
Corinth circuit, at Marvin	6
Guu Town and Baldwyn, at Saltillo	10, 11
Mantachie, at Shiloh	14
Belmont, at Patterson's Chapel	17, 18
Burnt Mills, at Mt. Pleasant	20
Jacinto, at Hebron	22
Booneville circuit, at ——	24, 25
Marietta circuit, at Marietta	Dec. 1, 2

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Shelby	Oct. 6, 7
Rulevillle	13, 14
Clarksdale	21, 22
Belen	27, 28
Lula	Nov. 3, 4
Onbbs	10, 11
Tunica	12
Hillhouse	17 18
Frier's Point	18, 19
Gunnison	24, 25
Rosedale	25, 26
Bolivar	Dec. 1, 2
Greenville	3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Arkabutla, at Brooks	Oct. 5
Cold Water	6, 7
Batesville	13 14
Courtland, at Pepes	20, 21
Burges, at Love Joy	26
Eureka, at Mt Olivet	27, 28
Hernando	Nov. 3, 4
Longtown	8, 9
Pt. Grove	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's	17, 18
Wall Hill	23
Cookrum	24, 25
Tyro	Dec. 1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct. 6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula	13, 14
Belzona, at Belzona	20 21
Kosciusko station	7 P. M. 24
Kosciusko circuit, at Smyrna	27, 28
Ethel, at Tabernacle	Nov. 1
Ackermun, at Salom	3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel	10, 11
Chester	17, 18
Louisville	24, 25
Rural Hill	27
Pickens	Dec. 1, 2
Durant	7 P. M. 2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Paris circuit	Oct. 6, 7
Pittsboro circuit	13, 14
Eizy circuit	15
Slate Springs circuit	20, 21
East Grenada circuit	22
Coffeeville circuit	27, 28
Minter City	Nov. 3, 4
Charleston	10, 11
Cascilla	12
Water Valley circuit	17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street	24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec. 1, 2

R. G. PORTER, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Montpelier circuit, at Palestine	Oct. 6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie	9
Shannon circuit, at Shannon	13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona	15
Tremont circuit, at Hopewell	20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem	27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov. 3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton	5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar	10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Soule's Chapel	17, 18
Aberdeen station	25, 26

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona circuit, at New Hope	Oct. 6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb	13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona	20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green	27, 28
Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov. 3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt	10, 11
Carrollton, at Eden	17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead	24, 25
Indianola	Dec. 1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Byhalia circuit, at Byhalia	Oct. 6, 7
Red Banks circuit, at Red Banks	13, 14
Mt Pleasant circuit, at New Salem	20, 21
Pontotoc circuit, at Pontotoc	27, 28
Potts Camp circuit, at Potts Camp	Nov. 3, 4
Olive Branch circuit, at Olive Branch	10, 11
Shawnee circuit, at Liberty	17, 18
Ashland circuit, at Ashland	20
Randolph mission, at Randolph	24 25
Abbeville circuit, at Abbeville	Dec. 1, 2
Holly Springs station	3

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct. 6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity	13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel	20, 21
Tibbee, at Maybew	27, 28
Columbus station	Nov. 4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill	17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs	23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mt. Carmel	Oct. 6, 7
Percy's Creek	10, 11
Woodville	13, 14
Meadville	20, 21
Cane Ridge	27, 28
Barlow	Nov. 3, 4
Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Jefferson Street	11, 12
Homochitto Chapel	17, 18
Washington	24, 25
Liberty	Dec. 1, 2
McNair	8, 9

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY	Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN	Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS	Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK	Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN	Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION	New York.
SOUTHERN, CHIPMAN	Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN	St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO	Philadelphia.
MORLEY	Cleveland.
SALEM	Salem, Mass.
CORNELL	Buffalo.
KENTUCKY	Louisville.

THE brands of White Lead named in margin are genuine. They are and have been the standard for years. They are manufactured by the "old Dutch process," and by a company which is responsible. Unlike the so-called White Leads (mixtures of Zinc, Barytes, etc.), these brands correctly represent the contents of the packages.

FREE For colors use National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. Any shade desired is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving full information and showing samples of Colors, also pamphlet entitled "Uncle Sam's Experience With Paints" forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 100 William Street, New York.

Why Poison Yourself With Quinine?

It is bad for your digestion, as every sufferer from chills and fever knows.

JOHNSON'S CHILL & FEVER TONIC

Is a hundred times better, and does in a single day that which slow and uncertain quinine does not do in ten. It gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys so that they do their duty, and it places the patient beyond the danger point in a day; quinine takes at least ten days. It cures obstinate cases of fever that quinine never cures.

It Costs 50c. If it Cures; Not One Cent if It Does Not.

NOTHING ELSE NEEDED IN FEVERS.

A. B. CIRARDEAU, SAVANNAH, GA.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Flora, at Flora	Oct. 6, 7
Vicksburg—Crawford Street	14
South Vicksburg	14
Mayersville, at Beulah	20, 21
Bolton, at Bolton	27, 28
Rocky Springs at Shiloh	Nov. 3, 4
Port Gibson	4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards	11, 12
Warren, at Wesley Chapel	17, 18
Utica at Utica ... Wed night	21
Hermanville at Hermanville	24, 25
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork	Dec. 1, 2
Anguilla, at Anguilla	2, 3
Saturlia, at Mt. Olivet	8, 9

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Missionary Institute at Pelahatchie, Tues. and Wed	Oct. 16 17
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro, ...Thurs	18
Carthage, at Carthage, Sat and Sun	20 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland, Tues	23
Neshoba, at Pine Grove, Thurs	25
Indian Mission, at Tall Chulok, Sat and Sun	27, 28
Decatur, at Union, Tues	30
Y and Heidelberg, at Vossburg Sat and Sun	Nov. 3, 4
Rose Hill, at Paulding, Sat and Sun	10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose, Tues	13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville, Sat and Sun	17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton, Tues	20
Shiloh, at Shiloh, Thurs	22
N. and Hickory, at Newton, Sun and Mon	25, 26
Chunky, at Chunky, Tues	27
Lake, at Lawrence, Wed	28
Morton, at Pelahatchie, Sun and Mon	Dec. 2, 3
Forest, at Forest, Sun and Mon	9 10

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Coalville, at Palmer Camp Ground	Oct 6, 7
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground	13, 14
Williamsburg, at Williamsburg	20
East Covington at Eminence	21
Vancleave, at New Prospect	27, 28
Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov. 2
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington	3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port	11, 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs	17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins	24
Bay St Louis	25, 26
Moss Point	Dec. 1
Escatawpa, at Zion	7
Columbia, at Columbia	7
Purvis, at Purvis	8, 9
Hattiesburg	10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Topisaw, at Sartins	Oct. 13 14
Bayou Pierre, at Pleasant Valley	20, 21
Magnolia and Osyka, at Magnolia	27, 28
Providence, at Georgetown	Nov. 3, 4
Adams, at Adams	10, 11
McComb City	11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood	11 a. m. 13
Gallman, at Gallman	17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson	11 a. m. 19
Wesson	7:30 p. m. 19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion	24, 25
Westville, at Magee	25, 26
Crystal Springs	7:30 p. m. 26
Tylertown, at China Grove	Dec. 1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton	10 a. m. 5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven	10 a. m. 7
Hazlehurst	7 30 p. m. 7
Caseyville, at Caseyville	8, 9
Summit, at Bogue Chitto	11 a. m. 10
Brookhaven	7:30 p. m. 11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN, P. E.

Brookhaven, Miss.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winchester, at Winchester	Oct. 6, 7
Louisville, at Breland's Chapel	13, 14
Waynesboro, at Waynesboro	Wed. 17
DeKalb, at New Hope	20, 21
North Kemper, at Mellen	Mon. 23
Enterprise, at Enterprise	27, 28
Pachuta, at DeSoto	Nov. 3, 4
Binnsville, at Scooba	10, 11
Vimville, at Marion	17, 18
Marthersville, at Winifred	24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon. 26
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec. 1, 2
Daleville, at ——	8, 9

G. A. GUICE, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocaboutas	Oct 6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon	13, 14
Canton	14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street	20, 21
Terry, at Byram	27, 28
Silver Creek	Nov. 3, 4
Lake City	4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope	10, 11
Benton, at Midway	11, 12
Tranquil	17, 18
Yazoo City	18, 19
Camden	24, 25
Faunin	Dec. 1, 2
Brandon station	2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues. 4
Steen's Creek	8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

For Sick Headache

Take Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. H. J. WELLS, Nashville, Tenn., says: "It acts like a charm in all cases of sick headache and nervous debility."

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Morgan and Berwick, at B	Oct.
Patterson
Franklin
Jeanerette
New Iberia
Washington and Chicot, at C	Nov.
Opelousas
Lafayette
Abbeville
Indian Bayou
Plaquemine Brulee, at Rayne
Prudhomme, at P
Lake Arthur
Grand Chenieres
West Lake
Lake Charles	Dec.
Gueydan
Crowley

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Slaughter	Oct.
Zachary
Baton Rouge First Church
Baton Rouge circuit, at Antioch
Port Vincent, at Bayou Barbary
Live Oak, at Friendship	Nov.
Pine Grove
Pinckneyville, at Hammond
Amite City
Kentwood and Tangipahoa
Franklinton
St. Helena, at Greensburg
East Feliciana, at Independence
Wilson, at Gayden
Clinton	Dec.
Baker, at Blackwater
St. Francisville, at Star Hill
Jackson

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Carrollton Avenue	Oct.
Louisiana Avenue
Dryades street
Covington
Slidell	Nov.
Parker Memorial
Plaquemine
Rayne Memorial
White Castle	Dec.
Carondelet Street	11 a m.
Bergandy Street	7:30 p m.

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Olla and Pollock, at Summerville	Oct. 5, 6
Jena, at French Fork	13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground	20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce	27, 28
Columbia, at Boeuf River	29
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov. 3, 4
Dry Creek	10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta	15, 16
Montgomery, at Montgomery	17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent	24, 25
Bunkie	Dec. 1, 2
Alexandria	8, 9

J. D HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Red River, at Campo Bello	Oct. 6, 7
Caddo, at Greenwood	10
Wesley, at Campti	13, 14
Florien, at Holly Grove	20, 21
Cousbatta, at Cousbatta	24
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane	27, 28
Many, at Many	Nov. 3, 4
Logansport, at Logansport	7
South Bossier, at Allentown	10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle	17, 18
Pelican, at Bethel	24, 25
Leesville	Dec.
Mansfield	9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Carrollton Avenue	Oct.
Louisiana Avenue
Dryades street
Covington
Slidell	Nov.
Parker Memorial
Plaquemine
Rayne Memorial
White Castle	Dec.
Carondelet Street	11 a m.
Bergandy Street	7:30 p m.

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Olla and Pollock, at Summerville	Oct. 5, 6
Jena, at French Fork	13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground	20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce	27, 28
Columbia, at Boeuf River	28, 29
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov. 3, 4
Dry Creek	10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta	15, 16
Montgomery, at Montgomery	17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent	24, 25
Bunkie	Dec. 1, 2
Alexandria	8, 9

J. D HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Red River, at Campo Bello	Oct. 6, 7
Caddo, at Greenwood	27, 28
Wesley, at Campti	10
Florien, at Holly Grove	13, 14
Cousbatta, at Cousbatta	20, 21
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane	24
Many, at Many	27, 28
Logansport, at Logansport	Nov. 3, 4
South Bossier, at Allentown	7
Zwolle, at Zwolle	10, 11
Pelican, at Bethel	17, 18
Leesville	24, 25
Mansfield	Dec.
	9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Farmerville, at Marion	Oct. 6, 7
Downsville, at Downsville	9
Calhoun, at Indian Village	13, 14
Simsboro, at Salem	19
Gibsland, at Foster's Chapel	20, 21
Lansville, at Pine Grove	27, 28
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	Nov. 3, 4
Bienville, at Bienville	10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley	17, 18
Mindeu	19
Haynesville	23
Homer, at Homer	24, 25
Ruston	Dec. 1, 2
Gausville	7
Arcadia, at Arcadia	9, 10

Local preachers and exhorters will be expected to have written reports. Let the secretaries of Church Conferences be present with their church registers and records of Church Conferences for examination, as the law requires.

B. T. CREWS, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Harrisonburg, at Pine Hill	Oct. 20 21
Oak Ridge, at Collinston	27, 28
Winnsboro, at Winnsboro	28, 29
Gilbert and Vidalia, at V	Nov. 3, 4
Bastrop	10, 11
Rayville	11, 12
Lake Providence	17, 18
Floyd	19-21
Waterproof	24, 25
Delhi and Taliulah, at T	Dec. 1, 2
Bonita, at Bonita	8, 9
Monroe	9, 10

J. M. HENRY, P. E.

PERFECTLY HEALTHY people have pure, rich, warm, nourishing blood, good appetite, and good digestion. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives these, and thus it makes people healthy and keeps them so. Get only Hood's.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 43. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2305

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND SOUTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

SERVICE BETTER THAN SECLUSION.

The hermit sage and ansient anchorite
Who went to wilds and made the wolves their friends,
Even they perchance had fonght a better fight,
And served more righteonsly their being's ends,
Had they remained
In the world's pale, and kept for perilous might
Their Faith nnstained—
Had they abandoned even the commune high
Which oft in solitude they held with God,
The lonely prayer, the speechless ecstasy
In which the angel paths of heaven they trod,
And sacrificed
Upon that altar which saw Jesns die,
What best they prized.

—Anthor Unknown.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Onr Regular Correspondent.)

Secretary Hay this week received an important commnnication from Minister Conger. It was not made public, but there are reasons for the belief that it indicates the early return to Pekin of the Emperor and the Chinese Government.

The programme for the fifth annual anti-saloon revival, to be held every evening next week at Hamline M. E. Chnrch, just made public, is an interesting one.

Rev. George S. Dnnoan, pastor of the Eckington Presbyterian Chnrch, has forwarded his resignation from Munich, Germany, having decided to remain in Europe for a year of study and travel.

The W. C. T. U. of the District of Columbia held its twenty-sixth annual convention in the Sunday-school house of Calvary Baptist Church, the address of welcome being delivered by Dr. S. H. Greene, who eniogized the work of the Union, and spoke of the need for further endeavor in the same line. The Union is in a thriving condition, tha report of the treasurer showing no debts, and money in the treasury.

The work of the American Society of Religious Eduoation has grown to snch an extent that Dr. J. E. Gilbert, the secretary, had to have assistance. At the semi-annnal meeting of the regents, held in Washington this week, Dr. Thomas Gordon was elected assistant secretary, and Dr. J. L. Dickens, of Memphis, Tenn., was chosen as snperintendent of the South Central District, embracing six States—Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Lonisiana, and Arkansas. The selection of Dr. Dickens, who is a pastor in the Cnmberland Presbyterian Chnrch, is the inanguration of a new plan, nnder which the conntry will be divided into nine districts, each with its own snperintendent. Dr. Gordon, who will relieve Dr. Gilbert of most of the traveling and ontside work, leaving him free to devote his time mostly to the literary work of the society, is of Scotch birth, bnt has been engaged in pastoral work in the Congregational and Presbyterian Church in this country for twenty years.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. for the election of officers was held this week. Mr. S. W. Woodward was re-elected president. The report of the treasnrer showed the expenditures of the past year to have been $30,000, and the receipts $25,000. In commenting upon that showing, President Woodward said that, [illegible] astonishing, they are the least astonishing part of tha movement in these fields. Onr mission churches are small in nnmbers and poor in this world's goods. They are made np of members who are for the most part recent converts from idolatry, and who mnst needa perform their Christian dnties under tha criticism and persecntion of their former associates, and in the face of centnry-old prejudices. Yet these people no sooner haard of the Twentieth Centnry Movement than they hailed it with joy, and threw themselves into it unreservadly. They not only gave, bnt they gave with a sort of religious exaltation, as if a great privilege had been opened np to them.

When we seek for the meaning of this we can find only one answer. These native converts and their friends, who have given so liberally, saw at once in this movement the Anxiliary, to raise fnnds, which was presided over by Hon. J. B. Wright, ex-commissioner of the District of Colnmbia, and at which addresses were made by Protestant ministers, a Catholic priest, and a prominent Hebrew. The latter said: "I am here as an American citizen, and wish to manifest by my presence my interest in snch a worthy cause. There is no snch thing as nationality or religion in a cause like this. We are all here for one vast pnrpose. I am prouder to wear the badge of the Red Cross than if I had received a decoration from an emperor." As a result of the meeting, a check for $525 was forwarded to Miss Clara Barton.

Three enthnsiastic meetings were held this week to celebrate the sixteenth anniversary of the Central Union Mission, which has the snpport of all the evangelical chnrches. The first was held at the Central Presbyterian Chnrch, the second in the mission anditorinm, and the third and principal meeting was held at Fonndry M. E. Chnrch. The mission is now entirely ont of debt, having within the past year wiped ont an indebtedness of $2,500, besides paying cnrrent expenses. Mr. Justice Brewer, of the United States Snpreme Conrt, was one of the speakers. Mr. H. B. F. MacFarland, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, paid this high tribnte to the work of the mission: "This city owes mnch to the Central Union Mission, and I am glad, as its official head for the time being, to acknowledge this indebtedness. It is not inconsistent with my official position to express the appreciation which every right-minded citizen of Washington mnst feel for the Central Union Mission as one of the forces that make for civic righteousness, as well as and because of the salvation of the individnal. Like the Salvation Army, it reaches out, and, if necessary, down, for men and women in the lowest social depths, and brings them np to the paths of safety and virtne by the efforts of Christian love and patience nnder the direction and with the power of Almighty God." Many of the pastors of the city participated in the meetings.

Washington, Oct. 17, 1900.

THE THANK-OFFERING FROM OUR MISSION CHURCHES.

BY REV. J. D. HAMMOND, D. D.,
Secretary Board of Education.

One of the most significant features of the Twentieth Century Movament is the hold it has taken on our mission fields, both foreign and domestic. If the liberality of the home chnrch in making its thank-offering had been eqnal to that of the church in these fields, the amonnt called for by the General Conference wonld have already been more than donbled, and onr thank-offering, instead of being $1,000,000 np to date, wonld be something more than $3,000,000. From the best information we can get, Brazil has contributed $12,000; China, $19,000; Cnba, $500; Japan, $2,400; Mexico, $5,000.

While these figures are in themselves astonishing, they are the least astonishing part of tha movement in these fields. Onr mission churches are small in nnmbers and poor in this world's goods. They are made np of members who are for the most part recent converts from idolatry, and who mnst needa perform their Christian dnties under tha criticism and persecntion of their former associates, and in the face of centnry-old prejudices. Yet these people no sooner haard of the Twentieth Centnry Movement than they hailed it with joy, and threw themselves into it unreservadly. They not only gave, bnt they gave with a sort of religious exaltation, as if a great privilege had been opened np to them.

When we seek for the meaning of this we can find only one answer. These native converts and their friends, who have given so liberally, saw at once in this movement the prospect of a Christian edncation for their children. They realized that the sort of training sought to be provided by the church wonld establish Christianity in their midst as nothing else conld, and that ont of it their children would get the very best resnlts of Christianity. Then, too, they canght at once the spirit of gratitnde by which the movement is characterized. The chnrch which had sent her treasnre and her missionaries to save them was aronsing itself to a fit expression of its gratitnde at the close of the centnry for the divine blessing and gnidance thronghont its connse, and their hearts responded to the appeal.

Now, the question comes back to the home chnrch: What have these heathen converts to be thankful for that we have not, that they shonld express their gratitnde so mnch more promptly and generonsly than we have done? We have had centnries of Christian civilization back of ns; they have only had pagan snperstition and oppression. We, as a resnlt of onr history nnder God's blessing, are snrronnded on all hands by refining and nplifting influences, and governed by enlightened rnlers according to laws which are the prodnct of the best minds of all the ages. They are snrronnded by influences whose constant tendency is to darken their minds and draw them back into sinful and brutal practices, while their rnlers are for the most part false and cruel, and their laws are bnt the maxims of tyranny and snperstition, administered not for the benefit of the governed, but to gratify the selfish ambitions of their governors. The poorest, most nnfortunate member of the home chnrch has, from the standpoint of temporal advantage, more to stir his gratitude than has the best circumstanced member of the chnrch in a heathen conntry; and yet, when it comes to the actual test, the gratitude of the heathen convert is far beyond that of the home-born Christian. Can it be that onr very seonrity, the greatness of onr wealth, the abundance of our resonrces, the largeness of onr inheritance, have made ns self-satisfied, and that we are beginning to feel that these things are onrs not so mnch by the abnndant mercies of God as by our own great merits? If this be trne, then sad indeed is onr case, and the call of the General Conference shonld have been not to thanksgiving, bnt to repentance. What we most need is not the "garment of praise" with which to adorn ourselves as we march past the tombs of our fathers into the open portal of the new century, but the garment of heaviness and ashes for beauty.

Let the church learn a lesson from onr mission fields, and, ere it be too late, at least come np to the standard of Christian liberality which they have raised for ns. Surely, in view of the far greater benefits which we enjoy, we ought to go far beyond them in the expression of our gratitnde.—Review of Missions, for October.

"ALARMING."

MR. EDITOR: I can not allow the "alarming" allegation made by onr good friend, "Gilderoy," in the ADVOCATE of some weeks ago, and repeated and indorsed by good Bro. Harrison in Our Home of this month, to pass without entering a protest. If the state of things is snch as they claim, it is not wise, to say the least of it, to be airing it so mnch. The qnestion asked by Bro. Lewis, "Is the church spending as mnch energy trying to convert souls as in doing other things?" is answered by "Gilderoy": "It is not. Converting souls, bringing men to Christ and to full salvation, is a secondary and less important consideration." Bro. Harrison says, "This is a fearful indictment, and the truth in it is what makes it hurt."

This is indeed a fearful charge, my brethren. If it is trne, it will bear an action in the chnrch and civil conrts nnder tha plea of "getting money nnder false pretenses." We pretend to be preaching the gospel "to convert souls, and to bring men to Christ and to full salvation," bnt we are doing this to get money. The Lord have mercy on ns! Has the chnrch gone wrong, led by her divinely called ministry?

"Gilderoy" says, "I do not know a single Methodist preacher, from onr Bishops down to the hnmblest circnit rider, whose time and energy is not expended more in raising money than in saving souls."

Now, brother, this is a broad and sweeping statement. Yon have an extensive knowledge of Bishops and circnit riders, I know, bnt yon have certainly "strained at a gnat and swallowed a camel" in this. I know many men in the North Mississippi Conference, and some in the Sardis district, who are spending more energy in soul-saving than in raising money; nor do they have much trouble in raising finances. We know some few men who spend bnt little time or energy in soul-saving. They ought to do something, if it is only to raise money. My observation is, however, they get bnt little of this. There is not a Methodist preacher, from the Bishops down to the hnmblest circnit rider, who does not know that when the people see the preacher is giving himself wholly to the work of soul-saving—willing to become all things to all men that he may save some—raising money is not snch a difficult thing. Bringing men to Christ and to a full salvation is as costly a business to-day as it has ever been to the faithful ministry. It costs no little self-denial and self-sacrifice. I am sorry for the man who substitutes raising money for soul-saving in a godless church.

If the indictment brought by these brethren is true, whose fault is it? The preacher who is spending more time and energy in raising money than in saving men certainly needs a fresh baptism of the Spirit and a new commission to preach. These brethren, with many others, would, perhaps, tell ns that the cause of all this is, that the Bishops and their cabinets make the raising of money the standard of ministerial efficiency. But this is not trne. We have never yet known a Bishop to ask the question, when seeking a man to fill a place, "Is he a good collector?" I have heard it asked: "Is he prudent? Is he wise? Is he studious? Is he a good pastor? Does he mix well? Does he visit tha poor? Is he lazy? Is he industrious? Is he religious? Can he preach?" All of these questions, and more, have I heard, bnt never have I haard it asked, "Is he a good collector?"

My brethren, it is not because we are burdened with raising money in the work of the Lord, but we have partially lost the spirit of the call. Too many of ns seem to be preaching for a living, and not to save souls. We have too many place-seekers, time-servers, too many who are afraid of men. We need our credentials direct from God every day. We need faith in his Word from Genesis to Revelation, backed by a conscious, constant realization of his power, his presence and authority.

Some of the brethren think it is time to imitate tha example of the apostles, and choose out seven laymen, or as many as we need, for this business. If we follow the apostles in this, we must wait until the church brings all and puts it in our possession; until the handling of the money gets to be a burdan and a temptation to us. It was not the raising of money that troubled tha apostles, but the distribution of it.

If we can stir np the chnrch so that the members will bring in to the treasury of the Lord more than we can justly dispose of it, then we are in favor of appointing laymen to take charge of this work. Mark you!—"the seven" were to take charge of the collection; the apostles continued to raise the money. To put this matter in the hands of laymen now would be a ruinous thing. We had as well call home our missionaries, and close up our schools and colleges. We already have laymen to attend to a most sacred part of this work—the raising of the pastor's salary. Do they succeed any better in church finances than the pastors, as a rule?

W. S. LAGRONE.

CALIFORNIA LETTER.

The fiftieth session of the Pacific Annual Conference is over. It was convened in the city of Oakland last Thursday morning, Oct. 4, and adjourned sine die at about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. We had a delightful session. Few have been more so. Everybody was in a good humor. Bishop Dunoan continues to grow on us, and, I am persuaded, we on him. We could not ask for a more courteous presiding officer than he proved himself to be upon this occasion. The Conference showed its appreciation of the fact by passing a resolution by rising vote, thanking him and inviting him to return to hold our District Conferences next Spring, and the Annual Conference in the Fall.

The reports were encouraging. The statistical tables show gains in almost every column, though not large. The only two exceptions are the number of Epworth League members and the amount raised on Conference fund. The figures show a decrease of 273 members of Epworth Leagues. I think this must certainly be incorrect, judging by reports to State Conference which showed gains. The decrease in Conference collections is accounted for by change in manner of assessing same. For a few years, until the past year, the assessment was five per centum of amount raised for support of the ministry, and the pastor was held responsible for its collection. Now it is on the same basis with other collections. We made our largest gains in the Sunday-schools. The number of schools increased 3; officers and teachers, 171; scholars, 881.

Considerable had been done in the way of building churches, and improving and paying debts on churches and parsonages. The entire indebtedness on our church property is only a little over fifteen thousand dollars. In this respect we are better off than any other church in the State. There is still one very troublesome debt, but we hope to see that canceled during tha present year.

President Wilkinson, as Conference Secretary of Education, reported about $6,000 secured on college endowment, and little besides had been done towards raising the Twentieth Century Fund. We must be up and doing, or we will fail to do our share. If there is any school that needs an endowment above all others, it is certainly the Pacific Methodist College. Counting our great State universities, and county, district, city high schools, I am persuaded that no other church school has so much to contend against.

A number of transfers were announced, but most of them had labored with us during the year, having come to us after Conference last year. Five received their appointments with us for the first time, to-wit: W. H. Kincaid, from the Indian Mission Conference; A. V. Harbin, from the Los Angeles Conference, and W. J. Fenton, Z Thomas and L. C. Wilson, from the Columbia Conference; also C. C. Black was retransferred to us from the East Columbia. One accomplished and consecrated young man was received on trial—J. C. Robertson, M. D. He supplied the Fresno circuit, and brought up an excellent report. S. R. Dilly was readmitted. He, too, had served as a supply during the year. His was the Orland charge, where Dowieism had made inroads the previous year. All things considered, his was the banner report of the Conference. He reported glorious revivals, forty accessions, one new church built, another improved, and $1,000 subscribed toward building another.

We lost some also. I believe I have already reported that J. K. P. Dickson, who came to us a year ago and was stationed at Chico, had joined the Campbellites. C. M. Davenport and S. E. Wilson go to the Los Angeles Conference, and our beloved John Hannon, D. D., to the Virginia. How can we ever get along without him! C. O. Steele and D. Baner, superannuated. The former has been with us many years, and has been one of our most faithful and efficient preachers. J. Gruell, 92 years of age, a superannuate, had been transferred to the New Jerusalem Conference.

Upon the whole, the brethren never went to their fields of labor more full of hope. No changes were made in most of the principal stations, and the presiding elders remain as last year. Your humble correspondent is permitted to remain in Salinas City.

W. P. ANDREWS.

Salinas, Cal.

PALMER CAMP MEETING.

Palmer Camp Meeting began on the fifth of the present month and closed last night.

The writer entered the meeting in answer to a call on the tenth, and remained to the close, preaching two or three times daily. The Lord was present in great power. There occurred some of the brightest conversions I ever witnessed. The church is wonderfully blessed. This meeting reminded me of some of those old-time meetings which occurred in the earlier history of Methodism, of which we have heard and read so much. Twenty-one persons, all adults except one or two, joined the church on profession of faith.

Some say this was the best meeting which has ever been known on the ground in its history, while all agree that it will compare favorably with the best. Surely the Lord has blessed old Palmer again and restored her to her former place of usefulness in the church. We witnessed here some of the most wonderful displays of divine power we ever saw. Great billows of glory would roll through the tabernacle, and new-born souls mingled their shouts with those standing on the very border-land of eternal life. Truly this was a great feast of spiritual things.

Several of the brethren were present, both itinerant and local, and rendered faithful service. Bro. Simmons, our faithful and efficient presiding elder, was on hand with his wise council, steering the old ship; but, to our sorrow, had to leave several days before the meeting closed to meet other appointments. He is greatly beloved by this good people. Bro. Huff is a fine fellow to have at the head of a camp meeting. He is wise, discreet and strong. He certainly has the love and affection of his people. Thank God for such a man as G. W. Huff. Bro. Vale, of New Orleans, was with us, and rendered valued service.

We go home to-day for a few days' rest, and then will be off again.

T. J. NORSWORTHY.

Palmer Camp Ground, Oct. 15, 1900.

Over 20 per cent. of the men discharged from the service of the New York Central Railroad Company twenty years ago were dropped from the rolls for drunkenness. Now, however, with 30,000 men in the employ of the company, less than 1 per cent. of those annually discharged owe the loss of their situations to over-indulgence in liquor. This change in conditions has been largely due to the beneficent influence of the railroad department of the Young Men's Christian Association.—Times-Democrat.

THE MASTER BUILDER.

The unhewn marble does not know
The place it has to fill;
That we may fit thy temple's plan,
Lord, shape us to thy will.

We ask not that thy tools, O Lord,
On us may lightly rest;
We only ask thou make us what
Will serve thy purpose best.

Hi as thy column we shall rise,
Engraved with noble line,
Whereon thy goodness is set forth,
The glory all is thine.

Or if some corner be our lot,
Then do not spare thy hand;
And we will trust the shaping stroke
We can not understand.

For still the lowest, darkest place
Remains the place of power,
Whence springs the arch to span the way
In thy triumphal hour.

—Episcopal Recorder.

Correspondence.

FOREST DISTRICT.

To the Preachers in Charge, the Assistant Preachers, Officials and Members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the Bounds of the Forest District—

DEAR BRETHREN: The third round of Quarterly Conferences has ended, and the fourth will have begun before this letter will reach you. The Annual Conference is close at hand. Our respective records for the year will soon be made up and our yearly accounts be rendered. Whatever is to be done must be quickly done, or it will remain forever unfinished.

Your attention is urgently, but kindly called to some matters:

1. Many of the Sunday-schools, but not all, have been organized into missionary societies; yet in some no missionary collection has been taken as required by the law of the church, or effort made to diffuse missionary information among the young people by either pastor or superintendent. This negligence is due to indifference in some instances and in others to a willful disregard of the law of the church and to opposition to missions. No man is qualified for the Sunday-school superintendency who is not willing to conform to the law of the church, or who is opposed to world-wide missions. One who does not heartily favor foreign missions as well as home missions is not a Christian—not even Methodist.

2. In some instances Sunday-school superintendents have willfully refused to comply with the law of the church and positively refused to observe Children's Day. They ought not to be renominated unless they promise to obey church law in the future. A violator of the law is out of place at the head of a Sunday-school.

3. The duty of a preacher in charge is not discharged when he organizes a Sunday-school into a missionary society with constitution and by-laws; much less when he simply declares "this Sunday-school is organized into a missionary society according to paragraph 246 of the Discipline." It is his duty to instruct the Sunday-school, or see that it is instructed, in the great missionary questions of the day; and to see that the monthly collection be taken. Leaflets specially prepared for Sunday-schools can be had from Dr. Lambuth.

4. Wherever the preachers in charge or their assistants have made an honest, earnest effort, either a Woman's Foreign Missionary Society or a Woman's Home Missionary Society has been organized; and wherever the pastor has given any encouragement at all, the society has lived and thriven, and the whole pastoral charge has been benefited.

5. Let every pastor and Sunday-school superintendent co-operate to secure through each Sunday-school at least $2 50 for missions before the Annual Conference. In some $5 or $10 can be easily secured. Make the effort, brethren, I beg of you.

6. Excepting one pastoral charge which heavily discounted the allowances for the support of the ministry last year and settled that deficit with the preacher by reducing the assessment for his support this year, and another in which sickness of the pastor hindered, every charge has been blessed with revivals. In some of the charges the revivals have been sweeping, and every preaching-place has been a veritable Bethel. Raleigh circuit has been specially favored, and reports 91 accessions; Carthage, 67; Vossburg and Heidelberg, 61; Forest, 46; Hillsboro, 3; Walnut Grove, 8; Morton, 17; Trenton, 19; Shiloh, 47; Montrose, 36; Rose Hill, 26; Decatur, 31; Chunkey, 49; Indian Mission, 25; Neshoba, 25; Lake, 38; Newton and Hickory, 11. These figures make a total of 600 additions to our church in the bounds of this district. Praise the Lord.

7. A more intelligent interest has been manifested by our church members in this district in response to the sensible plans adopted by the preachers in their efforts to secure the amounts called for. If the pastors do not relax their efforts, every charge except Walnut Grove will pay the assessments in full. The abandonment of that circuit by the preacher in charge, and the inexcusable opposition and hostility in certain quarters to the local preacher appointed to supply his place, precludes any hope of the members meeting their obligations, although they are numerous enough and financially able to pay five times as much as their apportionment made by the district stewards.

8 The Raleigh circuit—L. J. Jones, P. C.—was the first in the district to meet the assessment for Bible cause, and the first in the Mississippi Conference to pay the assessments for education and church extension. The zealous pastor intends to collect every cent, and more, too. It is expected that the stewards and church members will do their duty by him. It goes without saying that Vossburg and Heidelberg circuit, led by Sullivan and Corley; Morton circuit by Linfield, and Shiloh circuit by Hardin, will pay every assessment in full; and if Newton and Hickory station, Montrose circuit, Rose Hill, Raleigh, Neshoba, Carthage, Lake, Trenton, Forest, Chunkey and Hillsboro circuits do not meet their pledges, Galloway, Morse, Foreman, Gale and Williams, Howse, White and Moore, Stevens and Alford, Langford, Scarborough, Lewis and O'Neil will be among the surprised and disappointed men who go to the Annual Conference in Brookhaven. Notwithstanding short crops of cotton and of corn, our people are abundantly able to meet every money obligation to the church. They can not afford not to meet those just dues. Every assessment is for a righteous cause, and every dollar called for is sorely needed. We must not discriminate against any cause.

9. The treasurer of the Joint Board of Finance advises me of the following payments for Conference claimants: Carthage, $20; Decatur, $25; Rose Hill, $20; Morton, $41.25; Neshoba, $15; Raleigh, $33; Montrose, $30; Lake, $32.50; Vossburg and Heidelberg, $75; Newton and Hickory, $50; Trenton, $16; Shiloh, $55; Forest, $30. Only Shiloh circuit—P. D. Hardin, P. C.—has paid assessment in full. Some brethren have failed to remit according to the orders of the Annual Conference. How can the allowances be paid quarterly to the claimants if the assessments for their support be not collected and remitted promptly? Please remit to Bro. Thornton as you collect, brethren beloved; and do not fail to collect the full amount. Follow Bro. Hardin's example.

10. I am gratified to note that our church schools are having a somewhat increased representation from this district, but regret to note that some of our members are forgetful or neglectful of their vows, and, instead of supporting the institutions of our church, are patronizing private schools, colleges of other denominations, or State institutions. The reasons for our existence as a denomination are the same for the maintenance of our own denominational schools.

11. In some places we are hindered in our work by the existence of so-called Union Sunday-schools, which represent nothing in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, or in the waters under the earth, and are responsible to nobody and counted nowhere. They are usually encouraged by persons inimical to Methodism when their own membership affords no man qualified for the superintendency, or is too weak numerically to organize a school. And our people are unreasonable enough to abandon the vantage ground we hold, and to dissonnt our doctrines and our church. The members of other churches would not be guilty of like folly.

12. Our houses of worship have been improved in many places. O'Neil, at New Providence, on the Hillsboro circuit; Lewis, at Concord, on the Chunkey circuit; White and Moore, at Conway, on the Carthage circuit; Morse, at Garlandsville, on the Montrose circuit, are each planning for a new church building; while Donnell is after ways and means for three buildings for our Choctaws; and Gale and Williams are planning for at least two or three on the Raleigh circuit. Linfield has ceiled the building at Clarksburg and is putting the finishing touches on a new building at Independence, on the Morton circuit. The church at Johns, on the Shiloh circuit, has been painted. A building is sadly needed at Homewood and another at Harperville, on the Forest circuit. And so at Philadelphia, on the Neshoba circuit. "Them that honor me, I will honor, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed." Our people need only to be moved to greater confidence in themselves and to stronger faith in God. This would put the Forest district to the front in the Mississippi Conference, where by right of numbers and of financial ability it belongs. If our 7500 members hated sin and loved God, what could they not do to promote the interests of Christ's kingdom on earth!

Yours faithfully,

T. L. MELLEN.

Forest, Miss., Oct. 15, 1900.

FOREST DISTRICT.

To the Stewards of the Several Pastoral Charges in the Forest District, Mississippi Conference, M. E. Church, South—

DEAR BRETHREN: The Conference year is drawing rapidly to a close, and much remains to be done if the obligations for the support of the ministry are to be met in full. The assessments were nowhere very liberal, nor anywhere based on the prosperity with which the people were blessed last year; and in only a few instances was any thought given to the fact that prices on everything which had to be bought had advanced from ten to fifty per cent. In almost every instance it was said that the assessment was made low so that it should "be sure to be paid in full." Hence every assessment ought to be paid in full by every pastoral charge. The several freshets in the Spring and early Summer, and the dry weather in the latter part of the Summer, and the consequent shortness of the crops, should not be urged or received as an excuse for not meeting the honest debt due your faithful pastors. It is much easier for each one of the hundreds of members to pay the fifty cents, the dollar or two, or the five or ten dollars promised (even if the payment should put the payer to a little inconvenience for a little while), than it is for the preacher to do without the sum of the several amounts withheld. If each of one hundred people fall short only fifty cents, that means a shortage of $50 on the preacher's salary—which he is not prepared to meet. He may have gone in debt because quarterage came in so slowly and so irregularly and so little of it at a time, and he trusted the promises made by the stewards and by the people. Should he leave the circuit by order of the appointing power at the next Conference, and leave debts unpaid (as I am told some of your former pastors did under like circumstances), would not as harsh things be said of those who now serve you as has been said of their predecessors? If a preacher who leaves debts unpaid be dishonest and unfit for the ministry, what is to be said of the unfaithful steward who makes little or no effort to collect the amounts assessed, or of the church member who refuses to pay, pleading poverty and short crops, though spending from $5 to $20 a year for snuff or for tobacco in some other form? Is the responsibility with the preacher or with the lazy steward and the stingy church member?

Comparing the records for 1899 and 1900, the following facts were found to exist at the times of the third Quarterly Conferences:

1. Morton circuit had paid the presiding elder $19.85 less, and the pastor $93.50 more. Chunkey circuit had paid P. E. $1 less, and the P. C. $73.80 more.

2. Shiloh circuit had paid P. E. $7.50 more, and the P. C. $60.60 less. Montrose circuit had paid P. E. $15 more, and P. C. $3.86 less.

3. Neshoba circuit had paid the P. E. the same as at the same date last year, and the P. C. $26.89 less.

4. Lake circuit, assessed $90 for the P. E. and $600 for the P. C., had paid up to third Quarterly Conference $15 to the one and $191.35 to the other, being $37 less on the former and $136.41 on the latter, while Walnut Grove circuit, with two local elders and one local deacon and 473 other members, on an assessment of $500 for the P. C., had paid $121.22, while on the assessment of $70 for the P. E., nothing had been paid. (After the third Quarterly Conference $5 was handed to the P. E.)

5. Decatur circuit had paid $71.88 more to the P. C., and $13 more to the P. E. Raleigh circuit $58.42 more to the P. C., and $17.50 more to the P. E. Vossburg and Heidelberg $46.39 more to the P. C. and the assistant, and $12.50 more to the P. E. Trenton circuit $14.75 more to the P. E., and $40.10 more to the P. C. Carthage $13 more to the P. E., and $35.99 to the P. C. and assistant. Rose Hill $10 more to the P. E., and $28.08 more to the P. C. Forest circuit was credited with $10 more as paid to the P. E., and $10.85 more had been paid to the P. C. Hillsboro had paid $1 more to the P. E., and $9.55 more to the P. C.

6. On the whole, the outlook is encouraging. If the stewards will only bestir themselves, all deficits can be made up and the assessments be paid in full before the Annual Conference, which convenes Dec. 13. Make your collections as nearly full as possible by your fourth Quarterly Conference.

7. Your pastors have been diligent, faithful, and zealous. They have ministered to you in spiritual things; they have preached the gospel in its purity, and frequently in its power. The people to whom they preach should esteem it a privilege, and not a burden, to provide for the welfare of the pastors and their families. Whatever is done for them is accepted by the Lord as if done for himself.

God bless you and supply all your own needs, according to the riches of his glory, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Yours faithfully,

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

Forest, Miss., Oct. 11, 1900.

NOTES FROM CENTENARY.

MR. EDITOR: The interest of Louisiana Methodists which centers in Centenary College gives me excuse for making this draft on your space. The loyal ones who have, in the past, encouraged the college with their liberality, and those who now are entrusting their sons to our training, have right to expect an occasional report from us. It requires no optimist to declare that everything is bright for Centenary now. We have the best set of boys that I have ever seen in a student body. They have given no trouble to the faculty so far, and have created a controlling sentiment for honest, manly pursuit of duty. The Y. M. C. A. is officered by splendid young men, whose zeal, well directed, has already persuaded many of our boys into the circle of religious influence, and we expect much moral tone to be added to our life here by its work. The two literary societies are flourishing, and have on hand and in process two public debates for the instruction and training of their members and the edification of their friends. A most generous and loyal friend of one of the societies recently presented it with forty dollars for beautifying the hall. This is encouragement well placed.

My co-laborers in the faculty are noble fellows, and it is a privilege to be associated with them in the fine work that is being done. Prof. Evans, our vice-president, still holds a high place in the esteem of the student body, and all who know him and his fine English work. Prof. Sullivan is no longer a plain, old-fashioned professor, for we call him "Doctor" now, by virtue of the Ph.D. which Vanderbilt recently conferred on him. Profs. Lynch, from Virginia, and Northcutt, from Alabama, are strong men, whose personality will grow on the students. Prof. Upton, besides being a successful wielder of the birch, is, doubtless, the most popular member of the faculty—when dinner time comes, for at that time the boys, with one accord, seem to seek his quarters. The last addition to our faculty is Prof. Carre, and it is safely predicted that his work with us is going to be a power in the uplift that we see coming. He has impressed himself upon us in these few short weeks, and we look for fine results from his influence among the boys.

I have not mentioned Dr. Cooper, because his acquaintance in this great State guarantees him a favorable and pious verdict at the hands of the educating public. His works talk. He is an undisputed success as a college president.

A word now in regard to our Preparatory Department. With comfortable quarters, good discipline, and a fine spirit among our boys, this department is doing fine work. Some of our finest material is in the Fitting School, and skilled labor upon such boys is giving most satisfactory results. It ill becomes me to speak in laudatory terms of my own department of work, but it is excusable if, as the artificer holds at arms-length the product of his patience and skill, enjoying his extreme gratification incident upon success, I should look occasionally upon the developing talents and increasing possibilities that are the products of my own toil. In the Fitting School we are laying great stress upon the fundamental branches, in which so much former neglect in the public school is evident.

Reading, spelling, dictionary, composition, and other studies that are often treated with contempt as primary, receive our utmost care. It is in these lines that we hope and expect to perfect our preparatory boys before we place them in Latin and Greek. To be able to parse an English noun or construct a simple English sentence correctly is a far more necessary attainment for a Louisiana boy than to be able to read at sight from Cicero or Homer. Our preparatory boys need this, and we are going to give it to them. One aim that we have in view is to render each boy able to write to his parents a well-constructed, correctly-spelled and neatly-written letter once each week. Could any educated man consider this a low aim? But all our boys in these classes are not in need of this elementary work, for many of them come well prepared for the higher work. Let our people send us their boys, for here they are safe.

R. P. L.

Communications.

"Shall the General Conference Refer the Licensing of Preachers Back from the District to the Quarterly Conference?"

No! unless we wish to still further cheapen the now already too easy access into the ministry of the gospel.

Rev. W. M. Young's argument in the ADVOCATE, of Oct. 4, will not bear sifting. "First," he says, "the District Conference is usually held in the early part of the year, before the revival season begins throughout our country charges. . . . Now, in the revivals, young men are moved by the Holy Ghost to preach. . . . But the District Conference is now quite a year off, worldly pursuits are engaged in, the Winter season and the lapse of time conspire to help the evil spirit persuade the young man that, after all, he is mistaken," etc.

Answer: The man truly called of God to preach is not dependent on a single revival season for his impression. It is a living passion with him, arising out of a certain constitutional spirituality, and will abide while his religious consciousness remains. Worldly pursuits (business) should not militate against godliness. If so, where is the doctrine for the moral purity of all our lay members? Besides, the candidate for the ministry had as well be tested in this furnace before he dons the "cloth," for he will the earlier learn the futility of yielding to worldly allurements. Be sure he'll be tested.

Again: The majority now-a-days go to college, and between announcing the call and finishing even one year at college, there are time and means for securing a license. Then, if the young man hails from the country, and is not able at first to meet the Committee on License, give him time to prepare. Keep the standard high, and the conviction and preparation will be sincere and thorough.

There is too much comedy and not enough tragedy in the present-day estimate of the ministerial career. Elisha was a farmer with twelve yoke of oxen. He quit, though, in the midst of a crop, killed his oxen, burned up the yokes. (I. Kings xix, 15.) (See also II. Tim. ii, 4.)

W. L. ANDERSON.

Chester, Miss., Oct. 6, 1900.

W. F. M. S.

Edited Weekly by North Mississippi, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences.

EDITORS.

N. Miss. Conf..Mrs. J. F. Evans...Eupora, Miss
La. Conf.....Mrs. T. P. Fullilove..

FROM THE FIELD.

The Holly Springs District Conference of the W. F. Missionary Society met at Pine Mountain, five miles east of Holly Springs, on Sept. 29, 30. Every auxiliary was represented except two, and it was one of the most spiritual meetings ever held in the district. This community has always been noted for its generous hospitality, and it excelled all former efforts at this season. Miss Hinton, the district secretary, has labored for years among these good people, and her strong womanly personality has left its impression upon every society. She is one woman that would carry a letter to Garcie, if needs be. Mrs. Furr is the president of the local society, which bears the name of an unsung hero who gave his life for the mission cause—"The Richard Freeman Memorial." She is one of God's chosen vessels; an earnest, consecrated women, who is building not for to-day, and her work will tell when time ends and eternity begins.

A consecration service was held on Saturday morning. One by one the delegates reconsecrated themselves to God and the mission work. It was indeed a Bethel, for we saw the gateway of heaven, and felt that sandals must be withdrawn, for the very place itself was holy. The Divine Presence was felt and manifested in each heart. Dinner was served on the ground, and while it was rumored that times were hard and crops were short, we saw no evidence of either in the bountifully spread table. In the afternoon the regular business of the year was dispatched with the accuracy and precision that characterizes all of Miss Hinton's work.

The next morning a missionary rally was held at 11 o'clock, at which the work was discussed, and much information was gleaned by those present in regard to the work the womanhood of the M. E. Church is doing for the Christless women who sit apart under the shadow of an idolatry worse than death.

Sunday night was specially dedicated to the "Mary Hoskins' Young People." Much feeling was manifested, and fourteen new names were added to the roll-call.

Early Monday morning we left the home of our host, Bro. Furr, with sincere regret, for the short stay as guest had been made exceedingly pleasant by kindly attentions from each member of this Christian family. Long will be remembered the drive through the crisp October air, ladened with the invigorating freshness that hinted of coming Winter. The crimson sumac told of the brilliant beauty that sometimes precedes death; the golden-rod flaunted its royal banners high above the grey old fence-rails, while the Autumn daisies quivered and shook on their slender stems, and lifted their golden-crowned heads in the early rays of the morning sun. All these Autumn trophies reminded us that the sweet Summer days, with their rich opportunities, were gone, and the winter of discontent must be made glorious by a struggle after the fulfillment of all the wonderful ideals that have become a part of our life.

M. I. HOSKINS.

The Christian Life.

A PERFECT HEART.

Such an expression is repeatedly found in the Bible. Of King Asa it is said that his heart "was perfect with the Lord all his days." Hezekiah, in his prayer, said, "I have walked before Thee in truth and with a perfect heart." What is meant by such a heart? Is it freedom from all moral impurity? Does it mean that there was no vital imperfection in such men's hearts? Evidently not. It simply means that their whole heart was enlisted in serving God according to their light and ability. There was a wholeness of purpose; there was a singleness of aim. So now, he who loves God with his whole heart loves him with a perfect heart. He is not governed by double motives. He does not give half of his heart to God, and the other half to self and the world. He serves God heartily, hence perfectly. If all Christians would do this, the world would awaken to the fact that Christianity is from heaven.—Zion's Herald.

Christianity wants nothing so much in the world as sunny people, and the old are hungrier for love than for bread, and the oil of joy is very cheap, and if you can help the poor on with a garment of praise, it will be better for them than blankets.—Henry Drummond.

IN MEMORIAM.

Malcom M. Bogard was born near Abbeville, Miss., March 6, 1858. Here he continuously resided until a little less than two years ago. He then moved to Clarksdale, where he was living at the time of his death, which sad event occurred in the city of Memphis, Tenn., where he had gone for medical treatment, Sept. 29, 1900. Bro. Bogard was very highly esteemed by the people of Abbeville, where he had so nearly spent all his earthly life. Reared in a religious home, he became a Christian and joined the Methodist Church in early life. In 1888 he was married to Miss Mattie B. Miller. It is doubted if two hearts were ever more perfectly united. Theirs was a happy home. In the relation of husband and father he was dutiful, affectionate, and kind. He was never so absorbed in his own affairs as not to be ready to do anything possible that would contribute to the public good, or to extend a helping hand to the needy. As a Christian, his ideal was high. But he lived with confidence in the possibility of reaching it by the power of the grace of God. It was his disposition to be thorough; religion with him was not a superficial profession, but an inward experience. He loved the church, and was ever ready to co-operate with his pastor in every good work. For a number of years he had served faithfully and efficiently as steward. We who knew him were not surprised that he was ready when the summons came.

He talked of death in his last moments as one in health would of going on a visit, saying to his sorrowing wife: "Dear, I am dying. I regret to leave you and the children, but I shall soon be at rest in heaven. Meet me there." The bereaved wife and five precious children are left, but they may live together again "in the sweet by and by."

A. W. LANGLEY.

IN MEMORIAM.

Our daughter, Mrs. Mattie H. Trotter, was called from labor to rest on Sept. 12, 1900. She was born Nov. 2, 1870, and was happily married to Mr. A. H. Trotter, of New Iberia, La., May 6, 1891. She leaves a kind husband and two precious little children, her devoted parents, three brothers and three sisters to mourn their irreparable loss.

She was converted and joined the church when quite young, and through the remainder of life adorned her early professions. She was a consistent Christian, and acted conscientiously in the discharge of all her duties in the various relations in life. Her last affliction was of short duration and of such severity as to deprive us of any dying statement; but her life was such as to leave no doubt as to her destiny.

She was a dutiful daughter, an affectionate wife, and a devoted mother, and loving Christian. We expect to meet our dear Mattie again, and bow with Christian resignation to this stroke because of that promise. Her father,

THOS. J. UPTON.

Amite City, La., Oct. 15, 1900.

Items from the Field.

LINCOLN CIRCUIT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

When we came to this charge and found so much to do, and have been able to accomplish so little, it is with reluctance that we attempt to write for the dear ADVOCATE. This youthful charge is doing fairly well. We have held revival meetings at all our churches except Bethel, where we have had no house of worship until now. However, our new church at that point was so near completion by last Sunday that we were able to hold service in it, and, in spite of the rain, quite a good congregation were in attendance. We have received only two on profession of faith, and several by certificate. While we have not reached that state of spiritual vitality that we would like, we are growing. We will also be able to make a fair financial showing. Our little church at Pine Grove, with only eighteen members, has paid already for all purposes nearly $70.

Your assistant editor was kind enough to come up in July and dedicate our church there. His coming was of great joy and benefit to us. Unless those people at Bethel meet with some reversements, some one will have the privilege of dedicating a new church there in the early part of the twentieth century. We thank God and take courage.

GEO. W. HIVELEY.

Bridgeville, Miss., Oct. 10, 1900.

REPORT FROM EAST COVINGTON CIRCUIT.

I have held special revival services at each of the six churches on the East Covington circuit, with more or less success. Have received on profession of faith 12 members, and 4 by letter. At some of the churches the membership was much revived, and the community deeply impressed for good. We are deeply grateful to God that he has blessed us so graciously.

Please allow me to thank the following brethren for valuable services rendered at different places, viz: B. S. Rayner, G. R. Ellis, R. B. Webb, and W. M. Williams, of the Mississippi Conference, and L. E. Taylor, local elder, and Rev. Alex. Newton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Seminary.

Collections will likely fall short, owing in part to short crops and financial pressure.

P. HOWARD, Supply.

Seminary, Miss., Oct. 11, 1900.

CAPITOL STREET METHODIST CHURCH, JACKSON, MISS.

We have just closed a very satisfactory meeting here, which lasted nearly two weeks. Nearly all the preaching was done by Rev. Thomas B. Clifford, though the writer desires to make grateful mention of Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., pastor of First Church; Rev. J. B. Hutton, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and Rev. F. L. McCue, pastor of the West Side Presbyterian Church, who rendered effective and appreciated assistance. The church was greatly revived. There were nine members received on profession of faith.

Bro. Clifford is a safe man for revival work. There is nothing sensational about his methods. He preaches the plain gospel in a straightforward way. There is a force in his delivery that carries with it conviction. Our people were delighted with him.

The attendance on the preaching services has been excellent during the year, and exceptionally good during the Summer months. Financially, the church is ahead of what it has done for several years. We hope to close a very satisfactory year.

C. F. EMERY, P. C.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 12, 1900.

HARRISTON CIRCUIT, NATCHEZ DISTRICT, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

You have heard of a flash of lightning out of a clear sky, but I suppose never of a real storm without any clouds or wind. But we had what is usually called a "storm," or pounding," without any cloud. The people of the Cane Ridge Church and community began to gather at the parsonage about 3 o'clock Friday evening, and continued to come until there were thirty-five or forty—mostly members of Cane Ridge Church, but there were several Presbyterians, one or two Baptists, and some friends not members of any church. We had a delightful evening. After they had all gone we found many tokens of love and friendship, such as sugar, meat, rice, cheese, coffee, potatoes, fruit, and many other very useful things, and, best of all, a nice suit of clothes for myself. So, Mr. Editor, you may look out. I will be dressed up at Conference like a city preacher.

Oh, how can I ever express my gratitude to the good people of Cane Ridge Church and community for their kindness to us! Tongue can not express the feeling of gratitude that fills the hearts of the pastor and his family, but I am sure they could see from our smiles that we were happy and grateful.

May God bless one and all that helped in this kindness to us! Now, I hope to be more faithful to these good people. Amen!

A. D. MILLER.

Lorman, Miss., Oct. 13, 1900.

HOMOCHITTO CHARGE.

We have just closed our fifth protracted meeting, and can gratefully say the work has been wonderfully revived. We have had several accessions, with as many conversions, and several have entered upon the experience of entire sanctification.

We are arranging to build a church at Beulah (this charge), as our old church at that place is not safe to use, and prayerfully request all to remember us in your prayers, that we may work with the hand of God to guide us. There is quite an opening at Beulah for a church, if we can succeed in carrying out our plans for work.

We are moving on slowly with our collections; however, I hope to bring them all up in full.

We are under much obligations to Bros. C. C. Griffin and C. H. Hastings, of the Wilkinson charge, and Bro. Carruth, of the Amite charge, of the M. P. Church, and also to Bro. Will O. Newman, of Meridian, Miss., for faithful services rendered during our meetings. The Lord bless them all for the great good they did among the people of Homochitto charge.

Bro. Newman is one of the most consecrated men I ever knew. He is a power in the hands of God to move sinners and backsliders to the front. But they become something else when they get to the front. Bro. Newman advocates entire sanctification as a second benefit, and I can cheerfully recommend him to all desiring help along this line. The Lord give us more sanctified preachers of the gospel.

J. B. BLACKBURN.

O'Neil, Miss.

We ought to begin life as the source of a river, growing deeper every league to the sea; whereas, in fact thousands are like men who enter the mouths of rivers and sail upward, finding less and less water every day, and in old age they lie shrunk and gaping upon dry gravel. O Lord, save me from such an end! Let the voyage of my life be right across the ocean, whose waters never shrink, and where the keel never rubs the bottom.—H. W. Beecher.

"A Good Name is Better Than Riches."

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good name. A legion of those who owe health to its blood purifying qualities laud it to the skies. It brings the riches of health to those who use it, in the shape of absolutely pure blood, the permanent foundation stone of health.

Weakness—"I was all run down, weak and without appetite. A friend brought me a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began taking it and three bottles entirely cured me." Mrs. M. A. Logan, 127 Post Street, Rutland, Vt.

Blood Purifier—"We think Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal as a blood purifier and invigorator of the system." J. B. Best, Woodbury, N. J.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

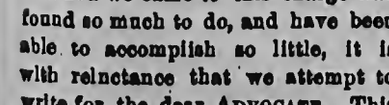
I. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AMMUNITION, BASKETS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, ALARM TILLS, BLACKING, BURNERS, BUNGS, CHURNS, CUTLERY, COFFEE MILLS, DRIP PANS, ENAMELED STEELWARE, Fishing Tackle, Seines, Furnaces, GALVANIZED WARE, GLASS LAMPS, GOBLETS, TUMBLERS, Handles, Inks, Japanned Ware, KEGS, LADDERS, LANTERNS, MATCHES, MEASURES, NAIL PULLERS, OIL CANS, OARS, PAPER, PIPES, PADLOCKS, ROPE, RULES, SCALES, SIEVES, SOAPS, SAUCEPANS, STATIONERY, STONEWARE, TACKS TRAPS, TWINES, Tinware, Whips, Wicking, WOODENWARE, Etc.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.



25 CTS
FISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

IS A TRUE MUSCLE MAKING MEDICINE

It makes muscle by making health. It makes health by curing the diseases which undermine the strength. The starting place of physical deterioration and weakness is generally the stomach. The "Discovery" positively cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Take "Golden Medical Discovery" and you'll get well and strong.

"I wish to express my thanks to you for your wonderful medicine," writes Mr. Geo. Logan Dogget, of Piedmont, Greenville Co., S. C., Box 167. "I was almost past work suffering so much from chronic catarrh and indigestion. Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' was recommended. I used it for three months, and was completely cured of indigestion and greatly relieved of catarrh."

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS. UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY. Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O. Mention this paper.

BELLS

Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.

A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.

Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain,

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Read What is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault Minn

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS T AND P PACIFIC ELPASO ROUTE

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change.

DIRECT LINE TO Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

NEW ORLEANS & NORTH EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati, AND TO ALL POINTS North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers.

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A.
J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A.
R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss

H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.,

and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is an essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce all proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to October, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to November, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1900.

MEETING OF PUBLISHING COMMITTEE.

The Publishing Committee of the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will meet in the ADVOCATE office, Wednesday, October 31, at 11 o'clock A. M. This is the stated time for the Annual Meeting.

S. S. KEENER, Pres't.

THE FUTURE OF CHINA AND OF THE MISSIONARIES.

In any resume of the elements that have contributed to the progress of China, it is simply just to allude to the labors of the missionaries of all nations and all denominations. Truthful history must say of them that they preceded commerce, that their literary and educational labors have instructed foreigners as to China and China as to foreigners, and that their exalted philanthropy has begot among the poor and the rich a great measure of respect and confidence. While it is proper to give to the Imperial Maritime Customs, to the ministers and consuls, and to the great commercial houses, full praise for their labors, we should not forget gratefully to remember those unobtrusive, but influential, agents of progress, whose inspiration came from a holier source than a desire for gain.

The question of the future of the missionaries is clear-cut now, and it lies outside of any consideration as to the intrinsic value of their work. It is this: Conceding all the good that is claimed for missionary work, should it, in view of the present condition of China, be abandoned? That question is to be answered. In the beginning, we must recognize the undoubted fact that the Catholic powers—the Pope, Spain, Italy, and especially France—will never consent that the Catholic missionaries shall be driven out of China. Their interests there are immense. There are twenty-eight Catholic bishops in the Empire, of whom three are in the province of Chihli. There are vast establishments over the country with schools, colleges, and asylums. Curiously, the Catholics have not gone into medical or surgical work, but they fill all other fields, covering industrial schools, carpenter and other shops, and all the forms of labor. The great cathedral at Peking was built mostly by the native Christians. The wealth of the church is enormous. The chief religious societies, the Jesuits, Benedictines, Augustines, Christian Brothers, Lazarists, and Franciscans, are found at many places. You can not turn the dial of progress back. You can not revoke all the treaties. You can not undo the work of three centuries. If the Continental Catholic remains in China, his Protestant colleague will go thither. It is not human nature to stand back and see others occupying fields of danger or of venture, and it is not in Christian nature to disregard the Divine command to go into the world and teach all nations.—Hon. Charles Denby, in the October Forum.

The foregoing notable utterance from our late minister to China makes it plain that the abandonment of that land by Protestant missionaries is not to be thought of for a moment. While the recent disturbances in North China and in other parts of the Empire have necessitated almost the entire suspension of missionary operations in that region, no denomination that we know of contemplates the permanent withdrawal of missionaries from that field on account of its unpromising nature. All talk to that effect is futile and absolutely groundless.

It should be remembered that while bitter hatred of foreigners exists among a large proportion of the Chinese, not all of them are opposed to reform, to Western civilization, and to missionary effort. There is a considerable element, especially among the upper class, who are thoroughly friendly to missionaries, and who are ready to co-operate with them in every movement that looks to the improvement and redemption of China.

The genuine friendship manifested toward several of our missionaries by certain Chinese officials and members of the literati and merchant classes in both Soochow and Sungkiang subsequent to the outbreak in North China, is not less gratifying than it is surprising. Although an edict calling for the extermination of the foreigners had gone throughout the Empire, soon after the disturbance began, the colonel in command of the Chinese soldiers in the walled city of Sungkiang called on our missionaries there, and assured them that he would do everything in his power to protect them and to preserve their property. He even offered to send two gunboats up the canal to be anchored in the canal opposite the homes of Bros. Hendry and Reed, and the residences of Misses Hughes and Leveritt close by. The prefect of the province not only joined him in this offer, but also urged the establishment of a hospital and the extension of our educational work.

Meanwhile, at Soochow, contributions to the Soochow University were pouring in upon Dr. W. H. Park, who, in a late communication to the secretaries of our Mission Board, expresses "his astonishment and satisfaction" [we quote here from the Review of Missions] "concerning the fact that while the whole of North China was in a blaze of insurrection, the scholars and officials of the literary center of the Empire were making liberal gifts to the Twentieth Century Fund, the application of which in our China Mission would be the building and equipment of a Christian institution. One man, next in position to the governor, had given him $300 in cash, a merchant had subscribed $1,100, and he and his friends propose to raise $5,000 more." At the time Dr. Park wrote over $19,000 of the $25,000 desired by our missionaries had been subscribed.

In the face of such encouragements as these, who will have the hardihood to say that our missionaries have no further business in China?

SALOON LICENSE FRAUDS.

Some startling disclosures were made a few days ago by that enterprising journal, the Times-Democrat, regarding the perpetration of gross frauds upon the State of Louisiana by certain employees in the State tax collector's office in connection with the collection of the State license tax imposed upon saloons. It turns out that some of the canvassers who were authorized to collect this license tax, which is fixed by the State at $100, have been in the habit of saying to each saloon-keeper they approached: "Pay me fifty dollars, and I'll see to it that your name does not go on the delinquent list." The canvasser then pocketed the bribe, and arranged matters so that the liquor seller was at no further trouble or expense. Of course, the saloon keepers who have thus been able to compound the license tax, have been only too glad to get off so light. Under this fraudulent arrangement a number of saloons have been operating for a year or more, and it is thought that the abuse has existed for several years. The State has, perhaps, been cheated out of thousands of dollars, and as a natural result of such shameful corruption saloons have unduly multiplied.

This scandal has been unearthed none too soon, and immediate steps ought to be taken to prosecute the offenders. This is but another illustration of the notorious tendency of saloon men to evade the law whenever possible. If, as is claimed by some, the law is defective in regard to the prevention of this particular abuse, and the punishment of those guilty thereof, it is high time that it be amended so as to fully cover the case. We are pleased to note that District Attorney Gurley has already signified his intention of instituting legal proceedings against the offenders in this matter. The further tolerance of such corruption would be demoralizing in the extreme.

OUR LIQUOR TRADE WITH THE PHILIPPINES.

Since the recent annexation of the Philippines, much has been said about the remarkable increase of our trade with those islands, and the leaders in business and manufacture have been congratulating themselves upon the splendid opportunity now offered, as they supposed, for the extension of our commerce in that quarter of the globe. Previous to annexation the largest importation of American goods, which occurred in 1896, amounted to only $162,466 Last year, however, our exports to the Philippines were $2,640,449, which figure marks what would seem to be a gratifying increase.

It has been ascertained, however, that the brewers and distillers of this country are the chief gainers by this increase in our exports, and, to the shame of our army be it said, the bulk of the "wet goods" shipped to the Philippines is consumed not by the natives, but by our soldiers there. An examination of the items of export reveals the fact that $563,950 is for malt liquor, principally lager beer, for our troops, while our exports of whisky to that region, wholly for the use of American soldiers, amounts to $150,252 per year.

Says the Times-Democrat in commenting upon these and certain other facts connected with our increase of trade with the Philippines (political use, however, being made of them): "In fine, the great export trade we are enjoying with the Philippines, in spite of the fact that it is barely 1 per cent. of what it is yearly costing us to hold the islands, consists mainly in the shipment of supplies, and the selling of beer and whisky to our troops, so that whenever our army is withdrawn—if it is ever withdrawn—our export trade will as suddenly disappear."

A GENEROUS GIFT.

Including the recent gift of $100,000 to Trinity College, N. C., by Mr. Washington Duke, the aggregate amount he and his sons have contributed to that institution is not far from $600,000. As Dr. Hoss pertinently remarks in commenting upon this donation:

"The Twentieth Century Movement, which has been lagging a little of late, ought now to take a fresh start. Have we not some other rich man who will go and do likewise? Nearly all our institutions of learning are in close quarters. Many of them are in actual peril. None of them are rich. They must be sustained either by the many small gifts of the poor, or by the bounty of those whom God has intrusted with great wealth. Let us rather say that all classes must unite to put them on a broad and solid foundation, and to provide them with facilities for the more efficient discharge of their functions."

A NEW BOOK.

WHAT A YOUNG HUSBAND OUGHT TO KNOW. By Sylvanus Stall, D. D., author of "What a Young Boy Ought to Know," "Methods of Church Work," "Five-Minute Object-Sermons to Children," etc. Self and Sex Series. 300 pages. Cloth. Price, $1, net. The Vir Publishing Co., Philadelphia, U. S. A.

This book treats in a delicate and discriminating, and yet vigorous, manner of subjects upon which every young husband greatly needs enlightenment, and is evidently the product of a pure and lofty purpose. Besides furnishing important and useful information concerning matters about which hurtful ignorance prevails, it contains an admirable and faithful presentation of the ethics of the marital relationship. It is full of wise instruction and valuable advice, and ought to be in the hands of every prospective or newly-wed husband. We know of no other volume that covers the same ground so judiciously and well. Its circulation can not fail to be promotive of purity, happiness, health, and the well-being of society. Ministers and teachers could do much good by procuring copies of this book to be discreetly loaned. The volume is highly and heartily commended by a number of prominent men and women, such as Edward W. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal; Bishop John H. Vincent, of the M. E. Church; Dr. Josiah Strong, Rev. Chas. M. Sheldon, Eugene Porter, M. D., Professor Materia Medica, New York Homœopathic Medical College; H. J. Boldt, M. D., Professor of Gynæcology, New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital; Mrs. Mary Wright Sewall, Mrs. Frances Sheldon Bolton, editor of Mothers' Journal, and others.

The volume may be obtained from Rev. F. H. Palmer, 50 Bromfield St., Boston.

SIX DOLLARS.

At the suggestion of the presiding elder one sister dedicated all of the Sunday eggs of the year 1900 to foreign missions. Beginning with January, at the fourth quarterly meeting, Oct. 13—nine months—the sister reported up to date $6 from that source—just one-third of the whole amount paid to that cause on the entire circuit for the year 1899. Just a little system is what we need to bring up all of the collections. Dr. Hunnicutt's cotton story, I think, will bear fruit. "So mote it be."

T. B. HOLLOMAN.

SILVER JUBILEE OF VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY.

The following account of the silver jubilee exercises at Vanderbilt University is reproduced from the Times-Democrat:

"Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 21.—The first series of exercises in commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of Vanderbilt University was held at the chapel of the university at 11 o'clock this morning, when Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of Kansas City, preached the commemoration sermon. Every seat in the chapel was filled, while several hundred people occupied chairs in the aisles, and many were standing about the entrances. Seated upon the platform, besides Bishop Hendrix, were: Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of the Board of Trustees; Bishop W. A. Candler, of the Board of Trustees; Dr. Andrew Hunter, of Arkansas, one of the oldest members of the Board, and Dr. W. F. Tillett, dean of the biblical department of the university. Just to the right, and in reserved seats, was the academic party, including members of the Board of Trustees, faculty of the university, and delegates from other educational institutions. In the party, among others, were: Pres. I. W. Cooper, of Centenary College, Jackson La.; Pres. C. E. Dorman, Emory College, Oxford, Ga.; Rev. H. Urquart, editor Alabama Christian Advocate; Rev. C. D. Atkinson, representing the New Orleans Picayune; Prof. Thomas C. Carter, Tulane University, New Orleans; Bishop R. K. Hargrove, Chancellor J. Kirkland, of the university, and other members of the faculty.

"After the invocation Chancellor Kirkland made a brief announcement of the three days' celebration programme. Dr. Tillett then introduced Bishop Hendrix, who delivered the anniversary sermon.

"In the afternoon exercises Bishop Hargrove, president of the Board of Trustees of Vanderbilt University, was the principal speaker, his subject being 'The Founders and Organizers of the University.'"

SECOND DAY'S EXERCISES.

A dispatch from Nashville, dated Oct. 22, says:

"The chapel of Vanderbilt University was filled to overflowing to-day. At 10 o'clock the academic procession formed and marched into the chapel, headed by Bishops Hendrix and Hargrove, of the M. E. Church, South; Chancellors Kirkland, of Vanderbilt, and Fulton, of the University of Mississippi; President Hadley, of Yale, and United States Senator Sullivan, of Mississippi.

"Among the visitors present to-day were: Inman W. Cooper, Jackson, La.; S. B. Brooks, Baylor University, Waco; W. B. Murrah, Millsaps College, Mississippi; Jas. A. Lyon, Southwestern Presbyterian University; Marshall S. Snow, Washington University.

"After prayer by Bishop Hendrix, Bishop Hargrove introduced Chancellor Kirkland, who delivered an address of welcome to the delegates representing many colleges. Chancellor Kirkland's words were received with prolonged applause, and Chancellor Fulton, who was introduced by Bishop Hargrove, responded on the part of the delegates. Letters from many distinguished men, regretting their inability to be present, and expressing best wishes for the future of the university, were read. Senator Sullivan, of Mississippi, then delivered an address on 'The Work of Colleges and Universities for the Nation.'

"In the evening Prof. E. E. Barnard, D. S., of Yerkes Observatory, addressed a brilliant audience at the Gospel Tabernacle on 'The Progress and Achievements in Astronomy During the Last Quarter Century,' his remarks being illustrated with stereopticon views of the heavenly bodies, made from photographs taken by himself. Prof. Barnard is a native of Nashville and was warmly received."

The celebration closed (Tuesday) with an address in the morning by President Hadley, of Yale; A "Report on Twenty-five Years of University Work," by Chancellor Kirkland, and the formal presentation of Kissam Hall by W. K. Vanderbilt. In the evening the reception of the chancellor and Board of Trust took place in University Chapel, followed by a banquet in Kissam Hall.

NOTES.

Mrs. Mary I. Lambuth and Dr. W. H. Park, from Japan, arrived in Nashville a few days ago.

***

The week, Nov. 11-17, will be observed by the Y. M. C. A. throughout the world as a week of prayer.

***

Southwestern University, Texas, has had the best opening in its history. It is a Southern Methodist institution.

***

The English Wesleyan Church has had a net increase in membership during the year of 5,225. The total membership is 452,501.

***

The Methodist Mission at Manila has gathered a church of over 200 Filipinos, with an attendance at its services of about 600 each Sunday.

***

The Holston Conference, which has just been held, paid the assessment for foreign missions in full. Well done for Holston! We wonder how many other Conferences will do likewise?

***

Rev. Geo. D. Parker requests us to say that $35.95 has been contributed by the congregation at Carrollton Avenue for the relief of the storm sufferers, the amount having been forwarded direct to Presiding Elder Hotchkiss.

***

The American Board of Foreign Missions of the Congregational Church reports an increase in the foreign mission collections over last year of nearly $94,000. And yet some people say the foreign missionary spirit is dying out!

***

A New Orleans Methodist who visited Jeanerette, La., recently reports that Pastor R. M. Blocker is meeting with much success in his work, and that he is in high favor with his flock. His prayer meetings are finely attended.

***

Through an inadvertence, we neglected to thank our worthy and progressive neighbor, the New Orleans Picayune, for the loan of the portrait cut of Dr. Clay, which appeared in the ADVOCATE last week. The favor was greatly appreciated.

***

The Northwestern Advocate, of the M. E. Church, says: "The indications are that the reports of 1900 will show an increase of seventy thousand in our membership." We congratulate our sister church upon this prospect of so gratifying an increase.

***

Bishop Galloway, as chairman of our Board of Education, expects to call upon Southern Methodists to hold an old-fashioned "watch-night" service on the night of December 31. Such a request will undoubtedly meet with enthusiastic and general response.

***

On account of an attack of fever Rev. T. W. Adams was unable to fill his pulpit Sunday before last. The morning service was conducted for him by Dr. A. F. Watkins. In the evening Rev. M. L. Burton preached. We trust that Bro. Adams is now entirely well.

***

In this week's ADVOCATE, Presiding Elder Mellen reports 600 additions to the church for this year in the Forest district. Such a showing speaks eloquently of the faithfulness of both pastors and presiding elder. How many other districts can report similar progress?

The statistics of the Pacific Conference, held three weeks ago, show a gain in membership of 662, and a decrease in indebtedness on churches of $4,446.

***

We learn with much regret that Rev. Sam. P. Jones has broken down in health, and that he has been obliged to cancel all his engagements. He has gone to Atlanta for rest and medical treatment. He is under positive orders from his physician not to speak in public for some time.

***

A special to the Times-Democrat from Asheville, N. C., dated Oct. 21, says: "William Dougal Price, of Palestine, Tex., a cadet at the Bingham Military School here, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon in a game of football, and died this afternoon at 4 o'clock. He was playing centre rush. His neck was broken, and he was conscious until a few moments before he died."

***

We are in receipt of a card from Rev. W. Winans Drake, the energetic and beloved pastor at Franklin, La., in which he says: "The old church at this place, which has stood for more than five years, and has long been an eye-sore to the community, has been removed, and work is progressing nicely on a new frame building to cost something over $4,000, and to be ready for the new preacher at the first of next year."

***

The brutal foot-ball business has started up again. We wish the Legislature would take a hand in putting a stop to this maiming and bruising of the young men of our colleges.—Wesleyan Advocate.

There is no question of the fact that foot-ball, as commonly played in match games between rival college teams, is a barbarous sport. The manner of playing the game ought to be considerably modified, or else intercollegiate foot-ball should be suppressed.

***

We are in receipt of a booklet of twenty-nine pages, entitled, "Only Waiting," by Chas. J. Orr, a helpless invalid, who therein gives a pathetic account of his affliction and of his attempts to find healing. The booklet also contains two modest devotional poems. The author is an earnest Christian, and has published this little pamphlet in the hope of selling enough copies to enable him to buy an invalid's bed. The price is 15 cents, postpaid. Address the author at Kanney, DeWitt county, Ill.

***

Dr. Hoss, in writing of his recent visit to the Louisville Conference, mentions that that Conference now has over $30,000 of well-invested funds, the income from which goes to supplement the annual collections for the superannuated preachers. What a pity it is that every Conference in Southern Methodism has not made similar provision for the support of its non-effective veterans. What a vast amount of suffering and hardship would be prevented by the establishment of a permanent fund for such purpose. The small amount which our worthy claimants receive is shamefully inadequate to the needs of most of them.

***

Rev. J. H. Shumaker sends us the following interesting news from Kosciusko, Miss.: "Last Sunday (Oct. 14) was a great day for the Methodists of Kosciusko. Bishop Galloway came and captured all the people. Our Thank-offering to date from this charge is near $200. Fifty or one hundred dollars more will likely be added by the first of January, 1901. Our revival, which closed a month ago, has proven to be permanent. Bro. R. H. B. Gladney rendered most valuable service by his faithful and strong gospel preaching. Surely the hand of God is upon him. He walks and talks with God, and declares the whole counsel of God."

***

In the October Review of Reviews, the editorial department, entitled The Progress of the World, contains an impartial review of the presidential campaign down to its present stage, special attention being given to the letters of acceptance of the several candidates. Other topics editorially treated in this number are the Galveston calamity, the coal-miners' strike, the pending elections in England, and the problem of reconstruction in China. In this number Mr. Charles R. Flint, in reviewing the new book by Professor Jenks on the trust problem, offers several practical suggestions on the financing of industrial enterprises.

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS

Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.

JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

BISHOP GALLOWAY IN MARYLAND.

After delivering the opening sermon at the Woman's College, Baltimore, Bishop Galloway joined a number of Methodists in a trip to two of the historic shrines of American Methodism, viz.: Perry Hall and Camp Chapel. The Baltimore Sun thus speaks of this pilgrimage, the first visit being paid to Perry Hall:

"It [Perry Hall] was the home of Harry Dorsey Gough, one of the most prominent men of his day, and one of the early converts to Methodism. His wife, a daughter of General, afterward Governor, Ridgely, became a leader of Methodist meetings. In their home the plans were formulated for the Methodist Episcopal Church organized during the famous Christmas Conference at the Light Street Church, in December, 1784. Bishop Asbury was always entertained at this mansion when he was on his tours in this section of the country.

"The company then repaired to Camp Chapel, the site of one of the first Methodist Churches in Baltimore county. Here a sumptuous dinner was served, after which exercises were held in the grove adjacent to the church.

"Dr. James M. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate, delivered an address on 'Perry Hall and the Organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church.'

"Rev. Dr. Charles W. Baldwin spoke on 'Methodism and Representative Families in Maryland.' He was followed by Bishop Galloway on 'Early Methodism.'"

The Baltimore Advocate speaks of it as "a red-letter day for the Methodists of Baltimore and Baltimore county."

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss.
EDITOR.

LOUISIANA.

REV. H. R. SINGLETON, Ruston, La.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

As third vice-president of our League, I am trying to have, at least, one lecture per month, and believe that our Leaguers are deriving much good from them. Rev. C. Smith, of Minden, La., has recently favored us with his splendid lecture on "John Wesley and His Legacy." He told us many things in the life of our beloved John Wesley which we, as Leaguers, might well emulate. He said that Wesley's motto was: "Never be triflingly employed." Oh, how much we could accomplish if we would adopt the same motto! There is so much "wasted energy." He also said that the four qualities which made Wesley great were: "Humanity, spirituality, knowledge, and organization." In all of these he was without a peer—in some of them, perhaps, he had equals. Wesley's mission was threefold: 'To spread scriptural holiness; to organize his followers; to furnish a permanent literature. He accomplished his mission in his life.'" . . . "We all believe in the gospel of work as well as the gospel of salvation; then Wesley has left us no better record than the story of his mighty labors." His fellowers in every clime must remember that "there is no excellence without labor." Mr. Smith refuses to deliver his lecture to any League in the Arcadia district simply for his expenses. To those outside of this district for his expenses and the small sum of $5 extra. The lecture is more than worth the money, and any League would be very much benefited by this lecture.

GUSSIE B. TOOKE,
Third Vice-Pres.

The 20th Century Movement.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS,
Conference Secretary of Education.

The total amounts from beginning of movement up to date, as reported to the Conference Secretary of Education, are as follows:

Formerly reported	$ 6,476 15
Canton	92 40
Satartia	132 75
Vimville	11 05
Topisaw	9 75
Matherville	23 95
Shubuta	208 25
Daleville	2 00
	$ 6,956 25

The pastors of Jackson, First Church, Vicksburg, Natchez, Hattiesburg, Moss Point, McComb City, Crystal Springs, Hazlehurst, Brandon, and many others, have not hitherto filled out and forwarded their reports. Send me "Form C" at once.

Let the records of the roll book be neatly written, and let the recording steward of each pastoral charge carefully preserve this roll book along with the other official books.

Several of the one-year pastors have written that no roll books were turned over to them, and no statements given by the 1899 pastors. Each month hereafter we are to make a tabulated list, showing the status of the movement in each pastoral charge from the beginning of the movement to date. Therefore, if any pastor who was moved by the last Conference has failed thus far to give account to his successor of what was achieved in this cause during 1899, let him communicate such knowledge now.

The Topisaw pastor, in sending his report, writes that in ten days all his Conference collections will have been paid, and that his stewards mean to pay the assessment for pastor and presiding elder in full. If all our Mississippi Conference charges would finish all the other financial matters in October, and devote November and December to the Twentieth Century Offering, we would succeed faster in raising our $40,000.

It is encouraging to receive such a report as that sent by Rev. A. T. Bell, of Shubuta and Quitman: Total subscribed, $208.25, of which $127 50 has been paid. But that pastoral charge has not yet come up to the minimum asked for. They have 286 members and a fine set of people.

Rev. T. J. O'Neil, of Hillsboro, writes that since sending his September report he has had fever twenty days.

One other brother pastor reports that nothing has been achieved for this cause in his charge. Such a report is not very encouraging, but it is right to send the report, even if it remains a blank. Send on.

NOTICE.

Rev. W. B. Murrah, president of Millsaps College, will dedicate our church on South Side on the twenty-eighth instant at 7:30 P. M. All former pastors are invited. We are expecting a season of refreshing from the presence of the Lord.

L. F. ALFORD, Pastor.

Meridian, Miss., Oct. 18, 1900.

NOTICE.

Preachers who expect their wives to attend our Annual Conference, please notify me at once.

Presiding elders will please send me right off names of delegates and those who shall "come up" for admission and orders.

J. M. WYATT.

West Point, Miss., Oct 20, 1900.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Storm Sufferers' Fund.

Previously reported	$41 70
H. B. Wages, Franklinton, La	5 00
A Friend, Winona, Miss.	3 00
Total	$49 70

India Famine Relief Fund.

Previously reported	$284 80
Shiloh Church, Mississippi Conference, forwarded by Rev. P. D. Hardin	1 35
A Friend, Winona, Miss.	1 00
Total	$287 15

NOTICE!

To the Pastors of the Mississippi Conference:

I have mailed blanks for reports from our Conference claimants. The Joint Board will act on the information gleaned through these reports. If possible, let the information furnished be accurate. This is essential to an equitable distribution of the funds. Should a claimant in your charge fail to get a blank, please let me know.

I do not ask you to "discriminate" in favor of the Conference Claimants' Fund, but I do ask you not to "omnibus" this with other assessments. Please take this collection on its own merits. Increased prices make it imperative that every cent promised the veterans should be paid. To fail in the promise means disappointment and suffering. The promise was made on the loyalty of thirty-eight thousand Methodists who will surely not disappoint us in the small sum of $6 500. Give them a chance.

Brother layman, hear me for my cause's sake. The claimants on this fund are preachers and widows of preachers who have given the prime of their life to the church. Had they given their attention to the pursuits which you have followed, many of them would now be living in homes of comfort, surrounded with plenty. As a result of their labors, to-day you are enjoying citizenship in a Christian community, and your life and property are safe only through a sentiment which they have created and helped to sustain. They preached the gospel through which salvation came to you and your house. They gave the benison of Christian burial to your parents, dedicated you to God in baptism, and administered the vow which made you and your wife one.

Now, we say they are superannuated, meaning that they are in "old age and feebleness extreme." This relation was not their choice, but, yielding to the judgment of their brethren, they accepted it, in the face of not having where to lay their head. Do not think they should have made provision for this time. You know that in nine instances in ten their salary was fixed at the least possible sum on which they could live, and there has never been a margin from which they could provide.

Pray, don't content yourself with a dollar contribution, but from gratitude give five, ten, or twenty-five dollars. I know whereof I speak when I say many of our claimants lack for comfortable clothing and wholesome food.

Let me call your attention to our Conference Endowment Fund. This is a permanent endowment, the interest of which goes into the fund for Conference claimants. The endowment is small, but we are trying to increase it. If you want to give perpetual assistance to the veterans, send us a contribution for our Conference Endowment Fund.

Yours fraternally,

GEO H. THOMPSON,
Sec'y Joint Board of Finance, Miss. Conf.

For Sleeplessness
Take Horsford's Acid Phosphate.
Dr. PATRICK BOOTH, Oxford, N. C., says: "It acts admirably in insomnia, especially of old people and convalescents."

MARRIAGES.

FRANKLIN—CROOK.—At the Shiloh Methodist Church, Light, Miss., Sunday, Oct. 14, 1900, at 3:30 o'clock P. M., by Rev. Paul D. Hardin, Mr. John Franklin, of Lynwood, Miss., and Miss Jounie Crook, of Light, Miss., both of Rankin county.

NUNNERY—BARRETT.—At the Union Church, Lauderdale, Miss., Wednesday, Oct. 17, 1900, at 8 o'clock P. M., by Rev. G. S. Harmon, Mr. John E. Nunnery to Miss Henrietta Barrett, both of Lauderdale.

CLENEAY—AMACKER.—At the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Capt. Roberts, No. 1200 Franklin street, New Orleans, Oct. 10, 1900, by Rev. Samuel S. Bogan, Mr. Andrew B. Cleneay, of Livingston parish, to Miss Nellie Clothilde Amacker, formerly of Tangipahoa.

HANO—HOYT.—At James Chapel Church, Livingston parish, La., Oct. 17, 1900, at 11 A. M., by Rev. F. N. Sweeney, Mr. Thomas Hano to Miss Beula Hoyt, both of Livingston parish, La.

QUINN—HOLDRIGE.—In the West Alexandria Church, Oct. 11, 1900, by Rev. W. T. Woodward, Mr. W. F. Quinn, of Anite City, La., to Miss Emily Holdrige, of Alexandria, La. No cards.

Do You Know?

That when your bowels are disordered, and irregularities caused by change of diet or location exist,

Brodie's Astringent Cordial

Will correct all the troubles, and never fails, to

CURES

DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, COLIC, CRAMPS, BLOODY FLUX, and Such Symptoms.

TESTIMONIAL.

July 28, 1898.

Dear Sirs:—I have used Brodie's Astringent Cordial in my family, and am using the third bottle. It always acts like a charm upon my children, correcting ailments of the bowels better than any medicine I ever tried. * * *

Yours, most respectfully,
MRS. A. W. MOORE.

Price: 50 cts. and $1 a Bottle.

I. L. LYONS & CO., New Orleans, La.
Sold by All Druggists.

A New Testament Given Away.

To every subscriber now in arrears who will pay up his arrearage to date, and pay two dollars additional for his renewal for one year—to October, 1901—we will send, free of charge, a beautiful, morocco-bound, gilt-edged copy of Holman's Self-Pronouncing Testament, pocket size. This offer is made only to those who pay full price. Look at the label on your paper, count the months to October, 1900, and send 16⅔ cents for each month. This will pay your arrearage. Then add $2 for your renewal. Under this offer we can not give commissions to agents. This offer will last until Nov. 1. Don't delay.

W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., - New Orleans

N. B.—Those of our subscribers who get the New Testament free under our special offer can also avail themselves of any and all our Bible and machine offers.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO
ST. MARK.

CHAPTER 1.

a Baptism and preaching of Jesus. 16 Call of four disciples.

THE beginning of the gospel of Je'sus Christ, the Son of God;
2 As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.
3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his pathe straight.
4 John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.
5 And there went out unto him all the land of Ju-dæ'a, and they of Je-ru'sa-lem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jor'dan, confessing their sins.
6 And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey;
7 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.
8 I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.
9 And it came to pass in those days, that Je'sus came from Naz-a-reth of Gal'i-lee, and was baptised of John in Jor'dan.
10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him:
11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
12 And immediately the spirit driveth him into the wilderness.
13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Sa'tan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.
14 Now after that John was put in prison, Je'sus came into Gal'i-lee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,
15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.
16 Now as he walked by the sea of Gal'i-lee, he saw Si'mon and An'drew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.
17 And Je'sus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.
18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.
19 And when he had gone a little farther thence, he

57

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.

Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.

SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$263,157,637 64
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,382 43
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$467,748,910 06
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,275 94
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,285 00

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY

are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or phrases. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.

Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.

Post & Bowles. New Orleans, La.
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

A Slave Holder's Daughter.

BY BELLE KEARNEY.

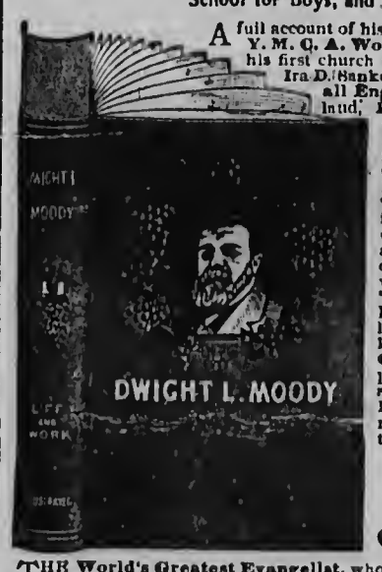
Cloth, 12 Mo, Fully Illustrated. $1.

This is a book which photographs the new South in contrast with the old. It deals especially with the evolution of Southern women—their surprising energy in leaping from the lap of the old, feudal, luxurious life to meet the stern realities of to-day. The author herself belongs by birthright to the old regime, while in full sympathy with the new condition. She writes from the inside, and pictures in her vivid and throbbing pages the situation down in Dixie as it relates to the people, education, the woman question, temperance, the economist, etc. All those who would have an inside knowledge of Dixie's Land as it is to-day should read it.

THE ABBEY PRESS, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

LIFE and WORK of DWIGHT L. MOODY THE GREAT EVANGELIST

The Founder of Northfield Seminary, Mount Hermon School for Boys, and the Chicago Bible Institute.



A full account of his boyhood and early life. Business life in Chicago. Y. M. C. A. Work. Civil War record. Mission Work. Building his first church and Farwell Hall. Convention Work. Meeting Ira D. Sankey. Work after the great Chicago fire. Shaking all England by sermon and song. Great work in Scotland. Return to America. Great Revival in Philadelphia. Continued Evangelistic work. Great World's Fair campaign. Northfield Conferences. Northfield Seminary. Mount Hermon Boys' School. Chicago Bible Institute. Last Campaign in Kansas City. Return to Northfield. Dying words, "Earth recedes, Heaven opens; God is calling me; this is my triumph; this is my coronation day!" In his life he influenced more souls for Jesus than any other man, and in his death God called him, to place on his brow a crown with many stars. As thousands crowded the "Moody Meetings" to hear him preach while living, so now thousands read this thrilling and inspiring volume, that they may preserve and keep fresh in memory the complete record of his Great Life and Work. It contains over 400 pages and over 60 halftone engravings. A handsome volume, showing us the Boy, the Man, the Preacher, the Educator, and the Philanthropist; replete with Reminiscences, Anecdotes and Illustrations.

Bound in Art Vellum Cloth, Stamped in Four Colors, price $1.25

A copy of this thrilling and soul-stirring volume should be in every Christian home.

THE World's Greatest Evangelist, whose burning words have touched the hearts of so many thousands, has passed to his reward. His voice will no more fill large earthly auditoriums, nor stir vast audiences, but his life stands as a monitor to the world's masses. No single figure has influenced so many minds. No single voice has touched so many hearts. No other man has done such a life-work for mankind.

We will send you this magnificent book and the best paper we can make for one year on receipt of price first named above. If you are now a subscriber, we will send the paper one year from the date your present subscription expires. Renew your subscription at once and take advantage of this liberal offer.

A First-Class Book at Half-Price.

To all our subscribers who will pay up all arrearages and pay their subscription one year in advance at the regular rate—viz., to October, 1901—we will sell a copy of the Life and Work of D. L. Moody, by A. W. Williams, at half price. The regular price, post, is $1.25. Our price, on conditions named above, is 63 cents, postpaid. The work is handsomely bound and contains over four hundred pages and over 60 half-tone engravings. Moody is universally conceded to be one of the truly great men of this century. A copy of this admirably written biography ought to be in every home. This offer will last until Nov. 15th. Don't delay.

Address
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans, La

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co, 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Free to inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

Grenada Female College

Conservatory of Music, Art and Elocution.

PROPERTY OF THE NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

Rates reasonable. Attractive location. Perfect sanitation. Electric lights. Complete systems of water and sewerage. Session of 1900-01 opens Sept. 12th. Write for a Catalogue.

W. M. McINTOSH, A. B., President

"It's a bad time to swap horses when you are crossing a stream."

That was Lincoln's famous reply to those who urged him to make a change in generals at a critical period of the Civil war.

Lincoln's saying is worth remembering, especially when you are asked to "swap" Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a bootless bargain, described as "just as good," at the critical time when health is at stake.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine which has a record of ninety-eight per cent. of cures. It is an absolutely reliable family medicine, non-alcoholic and non-narcotic. It always helps; it almost always cures. Why should any one who is seeking a cure for sickness, and is persuaded that the "Discovery" will cure him, "swap" the substance for the shadow at the risk of health?

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. What is popularly termed "weak" stomach is the common cause of various forms of physical weakness,—such as "weak" heart, "weak" "lungs," "weak" or sluggish liver, "weak" nerves, etc. The entire body and its several organs are dependent for strength upon the food prepared in the stomach. The "weak" stomach cannot provide the food-strength for the various organs, which in their turn become "weak" and unable to accomplish the work for which they were designed. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures through the stomach diseases which have their cause in a diseased condition of the stomach and the allied organs of digestion and nutrition.

It enables the perfect digestion and assimulation of food by which the body is built up into a condition of sound health. It purifies the blood, driving out the poisons which breed and feed disease.

Preferred to Die.

"Have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it did me more good than anything I could get," writes Mrs. Julia A. Wilcox, of Cygnet, Wood Co., Ohio, Box 25. "I doctored with three differeot doctors for weak heart, but they did me no good. I was so tired and discouraged if I had had my choice to live or die I would have prefered to die. My husband heard of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and he bought me a bottle. I took that and the first helf seemed to help me. I took six bottles before I stopped. I am perfectly well and am cooking for boarders (I have six), and am taking in washing besides. I will truly say I think your medicine will do all it is recommended to do, and more. It has been a God-send to me. I will be willing to answer any letters of inquiry that any one wishes me to. If you think this will be the means of helping any poor suffering woman to obtain relief you may print it and make any honest use of it you wish to."

Was Bedfast.

"I had been sick for more than a year with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Lucy Hayter, of Jacksboro, Jack Co., Texas. "Several different doctors treated me, but none did me any good. One doctor said I never could be cured, that I had Bright's Disease. I suffered nearly death at times; had spells the doctor called spasms. Was bedfast most of the time for six months. My mother begged me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. With but little hope I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he said he could cure me. I began to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and although I had given up to die, I began to improve from the start, and by the time I had taken twenty-two bottles I was entirely cured. I thank God for the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I weigh more than ever before in my life, and believe I am entirely well."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages, and over 700 illustrations, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper cover, or 31 cents for the book in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A RARE BARGAIN.

FIVE VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to October, 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle

THE CHILDREN IN CHURCH.

BY MARGARET SANGSTER.

In the morn of the holy Sabbath
I like in the church to see
The dear little children clustered
And worshiping there with me.
I am sure that the gentle pastor,
Whose words are like Summer dew,
Is cheered as he gazes over
Those dear little heads in the pew.

Faces earnest and thoughtful,
Innocent, grave and sweet—
They look in the congregation
Like lilies among the wheat;
And I think that the tender Master,
Whose mercies are ever new,
Has a special benediction
For those dear little heads in the pew.

When they hear, "The Lord is my Shepherd,"
Or, "Suffer the babes to come,"
They are glad that the loving Father
Has given the lambs a home—
A place of their own, with his people:
He cares for me and for you,
But close to his breast he gathers
Those dear little heads in the pew.

So I love, in the great assembly,
On the Sabbath morns to see
The dear little children clustered
And worshiping there with me.
For I know that our Heavenly Father,
Whose mercies are ever new,
Has a special benediction
For those little heads in the pew.

—Central Advocate.

HOW BEVERIDGE GOT TO COLLEGE.

Robert Shackleton, in a lengthy article on Senator Albert J. Beveridge in a recent number of The Saturday Evening Post, writes: "After these experiences—he was then only fourteen—young Beveridge determined to carry out his determination to go to college. For a time he sold papers, and out of his profits bought a suit of clothes. He worked in the post-office, drove a dray, and hauled lumber, and, by working continuously, saved a little money. In the meanwhile things looked bright upon the farm; but the great drought of 1878-9 destroyed the crops, and the small sum that the boy had saved went to his father and mother.

"It was then that the promised education seemed absolutely hopeless, but it happened that there was a vacancy at West Point, and the place was thrown open to competitive examination. Young Beveridge took the examination, and did well in every study except one. While he was reading, a wag among the contestants made him laugh, and this incident lost him the scholarship by one-fifth of one per cent.

"When young Beveridge learned that he had lost he was wretchedly miserable. He was standing upon a corner, not knowing what to do or where to turn, when Edward Anderson came along.

"'What's the matter?' he asked.

"'More than enough,' was the reply. 'I failed to get the West Point scholarship, and I don't see how I can ever get a college education.'

"'You go ahead and get ready,' said Mr. Anderson. 'I'll see you through.'

"The offer was accepted. He went ahead and got ready, and gave Mr. Anderson his note for the fifty dollars which he loaned him. Mr. Anderson says that this was the best investment he ever made.

"Young Beveridge's struggle through college was one of pluck and hard work. He won a prize, and his father was able to send him a little money; and these combined to put him through the first term. During the Summer vacation he cut more than 210 acres of wheat, and drove the first self-binder ever seen in that region. With the money earned he was able to return to his studies."

A FAMILY AILMENT.

It was not among people of mean and vicious lives that this strange disease showed itself, but in a family born to ease and refinement and scholarly habits of thought. A clergyman's family, noted for their active piety—the father a keen logician, the mother a leader in church work, the daughter and son energetic members of many charitable and civic organizations for the betterment of the degraded classes.

The old doctor, coming up to the city to spend the day with his old classmate, saw the symptoms of this disorder at the breakfast table. There was no smiling greeting; no morning kiss from the children. Dr. X. gave a curt nod as wife and children entered, which was returned in kind.

The sun shone brilliantly, the roses outside smiled joyously in at the windows. The old doctor spoke of them as he would of children who brought him a welcome. The family stared at him with amused contempt.

"I believe the chambermaid takes care of the flowers," said Mrs. X., severely. "Life is too busy and serious a thing for me to spend it in growing posies."

The family had a talent for unpleasant sarcasm. Dr. X. was noted among his brethren for satire in debate that stung like a poisoned lash. His children each flourished such a little whip and used it incessantly upon each other. No matter how petty the occasion, the gibe was ready.

John had just come from the barber, who had cut his hair too short. Father, mother and sister jeered at him until the young man flushed with anger.

Jane had read a paper before the girls' church society the previous night. The family secretly were proud of it, but each one now had some scathing comment to make on it. The leading articles in the morning paper, Dr. X.'s dyspepsia, his wife's cap, the steak, every subject or thing brought to notice, were attacked with this dry, bitter wit.

The old doctor looked from one refined, intelligent face to the other. "They are like a nest of hornets let loose," he thought. "Is there nothing better for them to do than to sting?"

These people at heart were loyal; they would have given their lives for each other; but to gratify the poor vanity of making a biting jest, they made home life sour and mean and hard.

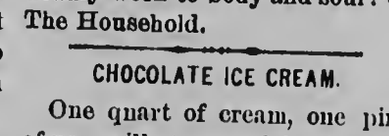
The old doctor did not spend the day. He made an excuse and hurried out of the house. He shook his head as he looked back at it.

"It's a common disease, though it has no name," he said to himself; "but there's none harder to cure, and none that does more deadly work to body and soul!"—The Household.

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM.

One quart of cream, one pint of new milk, two cupfuls of sugar, two eggs beaten very light, five tablespoonfuls of chocolate rubbed smooth in a little milk. Heat the milk almost to boiling, and pour, by degrees, in with the beaten eggs and sugar. Stir in the chocolate; beat well three minutes and return to the inner kettle. Heat until it thickens well, stirring constantly; take from the fire and set aside to cool. Many think a little vanilla an improvement. When the custard is cold beat in the cream and freeze.

THE RECORD OF CURES



is growing larger every day. YOUR NAME should be on the list.

G.F.P. CURES Whites, Painful, Profuse and Irregular Menses, Ovarian Troubles, Falling of the Womb

GERSTLE'S FEMALE PANACEA. and all other disturbances to which females are subject, especially those obstinate cases which for years have resisted all other treatment.

AN OLD CHRONIC CASE.

For five years I suffered from whites and womb trouble, three physicians failing to relieve me. I then began taking G.F.P. and my condition soon improved and I am now practically cured. I take pleasure in recommending it to suffering women. MRS. L. A. ELLIS, Barbourville, Ky.

Write to the Ladies' Health Club, Chattanooga, Tenn., care L. Gerstle & Co., for free advice. DRUGGISTS SELL G.F.P.

THE HABIT OF SKIMMING.

A teacher in the highest grade of the grammar schools in New York tells us that fifty per cent. of the pupils who come to him from the lower grades do not end their sentences with periods, or begin them with capitals.

The papers of students taking the entrance examinations to even the best colleges of this country show incredible blunders in spelling, grammar, and other elementary branches. The name Cyrus, for instance, was spelled in more than twenty different ways by students competing for entrance to Harvard College in one year.

"The manager of an immense business," says a writer in the Youth's Companion, "declares that it costs his house $25,000 a year to correct errors in invoices and other papers—mistakes due to poor writing and poor English."

If it costs so much to correct the avoidable blunders of one house, think what the aggregate cost of the blundering and bungling of the business establishments of the whole country must amount to!

The habit of skimming, of doing things in a careless, superficial manner, is one of the greatest stumbling-blocks to success, and it is a habit to which young Americans are especially prone. In the hurry to rush ahead and achieve in one year or two what it has taken others, perhaps with more ability and more power, years and years of patient toil and waiting to accomplish, they commit blunders and fall into errors which retard, and, perhaps, indefinitely postpone, their advancement.—O. S. Marden, in Success.

MONEY-EARNING FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

It may be a help to those who are teaching little people to earn and save—an important lesson—to read the following list of ways in which children have earned money, as compiled by the Congregationalist:

Washing windows.
Picking apples and other fruits.
Raking up leaves.
Doing errands.
Picking over raisins.
Weeding in the garden and the paths.
Picking up pins at a cent a dozen.
Raising vegetables.
Caring for animals.
Washing and wiping dishes.
Ironing.
Singing for the old folks.
Hemming papa's handkerchiefs.
Dusting.
Beating rugs and mats.
Stoning cherries.
Making and selling paper pillows.
Gathering and selling wild flowers, autumn leaves, etc.
Mending.
Caring for the baby.
Hemming towels, etc.
Waiting on grandpa and grandma.
Reading aloud.
Caring for the table silver.
Making and selling lamp-lighters and iron-holders.
Self-denial of candy, sugar, butter, etc.

BARE FEET ARE SHOD.

Among the many interesting incidents connected with the closing of the saloons in Kittanning, Pa., a leading merchant tells the following:

A woman came into his store very timidly. She was evidently unaccustomed to trading.

"What can I do for you?" inquired the merchant.

"I want a pair of shoes for a little girl."

"What number?"

"She is twelve years old."

"But what number does she wear?"

"I do not know."

"But what number did you buy when you bought the last pair for her?"

"She never had a pair in her life. You see, sir, her father used to drink when we had saloons, but now they are closed he doesn't drink any more, and this morning he said to me: 'Mother, I want you to go up town to-day and get Sissy a pair of shoes, for she never had a pair in her life.' I thought, sir, if I told you how old she was, you would know just what size to give me."—Northwestern Advocate.

MANHOOD OVERTOPS TITLES.

It is one thing to succeed in business according to the ordinary acceptation; it is another and a totally different thing to succeed in life, writes O. S. Marden in Success, for September. Many a man has failed in business, and yet lived a truly successful life, because he has lived up to his highest ideal. The man who does the very best he can under all circumstances, who makes the most of his ability and opportunities, who helps his fellow-man whenever it is in his power to do so, who gives the best of himself to every occasion, who is loyal and true in his friendships, kindly, charitable, and magnanimous toward all, is a successful man, though he may not leave enough money to pay his funeral expenses.

He who regards manhood and character as the supreme objects of life may not be rich in money, but he is rich in a truer and better sense; for manhood is above all riches and overtops all titles, and character is greater than any career.

WHAT DETERMINATION DID.

When young Stonewall Jackson, one of the most awkward, ungainly, and, seemingly, unpromising youths that the South has produced, heard of a vacancy at West Point, he immediately went to Washington, determined to get the appointment, and he got it.

When he reached West Point the other boys laughed at him, but one of them, with more penetration than his companions, said: "That fellow looks like he's come to stay." He did stay.

He worked hard, economized, and saved enough from his cadet's pay, after covering all expenses, to buy his sister a silk dress.

The world knows what battles he fought, what victories he won, in the last years of his life.

It was determination that gave to history this splendid name.—Success.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

REV. W. C. BLACK.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy-five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two-thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

16,600 frs. National Prize at Paris

QUINA-LAROCHE

A Ferruginous Tonic

Pleasant to the taste; assimilate quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach troubles, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.

99 rue Drouot PARIS

E. Fougera & Co. Agents, N.Y.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. D. R. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA, NEW ORLEANS.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES. Classical, Literary, Latin-Scientific and Scientific Courses.

COLLEGE OF TECHNOLOGY. Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Sugar, Civil and Architectural Engineering

H. SOPHIE NEWCOMB MEMORIAL COLLEGE for Young Women, with Art and Boarding Departments. Fall Term of above opens October 1st.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT opens November 1st.

LAW DEPARTMENT opens November 12th.

For catalogues, address Secretary of University.

PATENTS

promptly procured; OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade Marks" FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 26 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. PATENT LAWYERS, Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Excursions.

The New Orleans and Northeastern railroad announces that, commencing with Wednesday, April 25, it will inaugurate the popular Wednesday excursions to St. Tammany parish, including Covington, Abita Springs, Pearl River, Slidell, and all intermediate stations.

The attractions to sportsmen, as well as the healthfulness of St. Tammany parish, are constantly increasing the popularity of these resorts.

Great improvement has been made, both by the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad and the East Louisiana railroad, in the track, which is being rapidly relaid with heavy steel rails, and in the equipment, thereby affording the excursionist the best of accommodations.

MONEY SAVED

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STATION Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrives
Memphis and Local.....	4:00 p. m	10:00 a. m
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex.....	7:30 a. m	5:40 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Ole Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

IF you look at a dozen common lamp-chimneys, and then at Macbeth's "pearl top" or "pearl glass," you will see the differences—all but one—they break from heat; Macbeth's don't; you can't see that.

Common glass is misty, milky, dusty; you can't see through it; Macbeth's is clear.

Tough, clear glass is worth fine work; and a perfect chimney of fine tough glass is worth a hundred such as you can pop, clash on the least provocation.

Our "Index" describes all lamps and their proper chimneys. With it you can always order the right size and shape of chimney for any lamp. We mail it FREE to any one who writes for it.

Address MACBETH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,
MILK · DEPOT,
SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.
CONFECTIONERIES.
DELIVERY FREE.
Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
Suite 303—New Orleans National Bank Building.
206 Common St., New Orleans, La

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.
Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for $2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot stovewood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

OBITUARIES.

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

FUGITT—JOSEPH M. FUGITT was born Oct. 7, 1840, near Shelbyville, Tenn., and died at his home in Prentiss county, Miss., near Booneville. He moved to this State in youth. He entered the Confederate service in the late war between the States before twenty-one, and made a most excellent soldier; was in several hard-fought battles, and came out of the war with a brilliant record. I visited him on the day of election for congressman; found him much interested. He said it was the first time he had failed to vote since his first vote in the war before he was twenty-one.

I have known Joseph M. Fugitt more than thirty years, and I am sure he put more value on his word and prized personal honor higher than is common to men. He hated a sham. As a citizen, Joe Fugitt had but few equals; industrious, energetic, enterprising and successful in most everything he undertook. The community has lost one of her best citizens.

He was married twice; the first time to Miss Mary C. Alexander, Dec. 24, 1867. This union was blessed with two children—a boy and a girl; W. O. Fugitt and Mrs. Katura Sanders. The second time to Miss Sallie M. Gelleye, Nov. 16 1875. This union was blessed with nine children. Two have died—a boy in childhood and Mrs. Florence Alexander—leaving a wife and nine children to mourn their loss.

Bro. Fugitt joined the M. E. Church, South, in the year 1874. The writer of these lines witnessed his conversion. In this, as in everything else, no half-way measures would satisfy him. He sought the pardon of sin at the altar with all his soul, and when the blessing came the transition was truly marvelous. No man who witnessed Joe Fugitt's conversion could reasonably doubt the divinity of religion.

Raised up at the time he was, he did not get an education commensurate with his ability, but this seemed to stimulate him for his children for whom he did much. He was a good husband, a good father, and a good neighbor. His industrious habits of life, his successful business qualifications, his personal integrity, makes his death a great loss; yet his life is a legacy of value to all who love such traits of character. May his dear children emulate his virtues, and finally all meet in a blissful immortality!

W. M. YOUNG.

RATLIFF—Mrs. REBECCA S. RATLIFF (nee Spencer) was born in Hinds county, Miss.; married to W. E. Ratliff, Nov. 20, 1851, and died at her home near Chatawa, Miss., Friday, Aug. 24, 1900.

Sister Ratliff was of pious parentage, her father, Evan H. Spencer, being for many years a class leader in the old Spring Ridge Church, near Terry, Miss. As a natural result, his daughter was converted and joined the church before she was twelve years old.

Sister Ratliff was a Bible reader from youth even down to old age. She made it the rule of her life to read the entire book through at least once a year; and until she was stricken down by disease, a few years ago, she was a faithful attendant upon the services of the sanctuary. During these years she was a great sufferer, but her afflictions were borne with Christian fortitude. She frequently, during these years of pain, expressed a desire to depart and be at rest, her only regret being that of leaving her husband, however.

Sister Ratliff was the mother of seven children, all of whom preceded her to the better land, all of them dying in infancy or childhood. In the beautiful Catholic cemetery near Chatawa, Miss., Saturday, Aug. 25, according to the simple, but impressive ritual of our church, we laid her to rest, confidently expecting to meet her again in the congregation of the just.

F. M. KEEN.

MURFF—Mrs. E. J. MURFF (nee Watson) was born in South Carolina, Nov. 17, 1837, and died at Aberdeen, Miss., while undergoing a surgical operation, Sept. 12, 1900. She was married to Waldemar Murff, June 13, 1871, who preceded her to the "beautiful beyond" about one year. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. M. E. Judon, to mourn her death. She was a member of the Methodist Church from early life. She was a consistent Christian. Everybody who knew her loved her, and laments her untimely death. The greater part of her life was spent in Monroe county, Miss., where the light of her beautiful life still lingers. May God's grace be sufficient for her loved ones and friends! is the prayer of her pastor,

T. H. PORTER.

WILLIS—MARY C. OLDHAM was born in Holmes county, Miss., Dec. 9, 1830, and died Oct. 2, 1900. She became a Christian in childhood, and was attached to the Methodist Church for years. Being an invalid for a very long time, she was unable to be an active worker in the church, but in a quiet, unobtrusive way did many deeds of charity, visiting the sick around her, cheering and comforting, and working for Christ. She often expressed her conviction that she would not live the entire year, and seemed to feel that she would pass away in October, the month in which her own sainted mother's spirit took its flight years before. She desired to live, if it pleased God to spare her to her husband, only daughter, and six grandchildren, but was perfectly resigned to his holy will. She often said that she had a rich inheritance in heaven, as her people who had passed on before were all there awaiting her. She was in her time a devoted daughter, sister, wife, mother, and grandmother, and her name will be loved and honored evermore. Her husband, Mr. E. W. Willis, with whom she had lived lovingly and faithfully for fifty-two years, is indeed bereft, as are her affectionate daughter and grandchildren. May her spirit enter into the eternal joys prepared for her!

ONE WHO LOVED HER.

Baton Rouge, La.

WILSON—On the nineteenth of September, at half-past three in the afternoon, WILLIE BELL, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wilson, of Panola county, Miss., passed to his rest. He was born Aug. 6, 1890. He was taken on Saturday afternoon and died Wednesday. His suffering was intense and brief, but he bore it like a little hero till He who said, "Suffer the children to come unto me," called the little fellow to him. His stay was so short. Our lives are like a vapor; we go so soon. A little over a year ago Clifton Carlisle, his brother, who was five years old, preceded him to the better land; so Willie was not a stranger in the land beyond. We do not understand always, and sometimes think it best if it had been otherwise. Some day we will see that it was God's hand leading us, it may be, over rough places; nevertheless, always to green pastures.

"We hold the children's cherished hands
To lead them through the years,
And as each tender mind expands,
We're filled with anxious fears.

"But should we lose them—no more see
The wee ones in the paths they've trod—
We'd learn they lead far more than we
The way that winds to God."

J. R. WILSON.

GODBOLT—Died at Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 2, 1900, Dr. C. W. GODBOLT, who was born July 23, ——, near Caseyville, Miss.

Dr. Godbolt was a very successful dentist, and practiced his profession for many years throughout the counties of Jefferson and Franklin. He joined old Wright's Church in Franklin county during his early youth, and is still well remembered by the people of that county. His wife was Miss Mary Ceto, of Union Church, Jefferson county, who is still living. He also leaves the following children: Mrs. English, of Meridian; Mrs. Graham, of Meridian; Mrs. Berdon, of Natchez, and Messrs. Lawrence, Farnell, and Hiram Cassidy Godbolt, of Vicksburg. The last years of his life were spent in the practice of his profession at Vicksburg. May God bless his sorrowing loved ones, and may the world be brighter and nobler for his memory, and for the lives of those he leaves behind!

H. B. WATKINS.

Vicksburg, Miss.

HARLAN—CALLIE OLIVIA, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Elizabeth Harlan, died of swamp fever at the residence of her parents, near St. Maurice, La., Sept. 10, 1900, aged sixteen years.

Callie was a young lady admired by all who knew her for her cheery disposition and thoughtfulness of the happiness of others. She was always religiously inclined, and was happily converted in July last at Ebenezer Camp Ground. From the time of her conversion until her death she was devoted to the cause of her Lord. She was taken violently ill. I was present a few moments afterwards, when she recognized me, and said she, too, was going home. Twenty-four hours later she was with the two gone before, and was at rest. The stricken parents are devoted followers of the Lord, knowing where to find their loved ones, and have grace to bear up under this severe affliction. May the five remaining children live to meet them in heaven!

HER PASTOR.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of CATARRH that can not be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

SEAL } A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

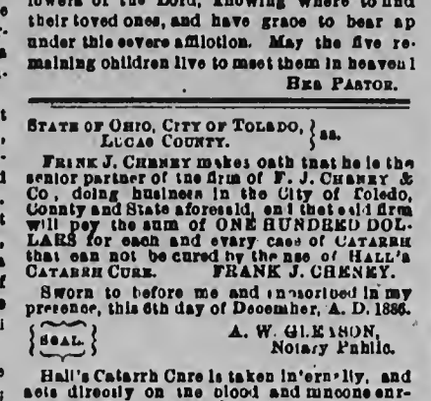
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

This life is a state of probation and exercise like to that (which prefigured and represented it) of God's people in the wilderness, wherein God leadeth us through many difficulties and hazards, in many wants and hardships, to humble and prove us, in order to the fitting us for another more happy state.—Barrow.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

There is nothing substantial and satisfactory but the Supreme Good. In it, the deeper we go, and the more largely we drink, the better and happier we are; whereas, in outward acquirements, if we could attain to the summit and perfection of them, the very possession with the enjoyment palls.—Langhorne.



Her His Face
Her face was marred with freckles, his face was sore from shaving. Both were quickly cured with Heiskell's Ointment
the specific for all skin disorders, slight or severe. 50 cents a box.
Heiskell's Soap
Keeps the skin soft, smooth and healthy. Price 25 cents. Sample free.
Johnston, Holloway & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, ECKSTEIN } Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION } New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN } Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN } St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

OUR interests influence our opinions. The manufacturers of Mixed Paints and so-called White Leads may believe their mixtures are the best because it is greatly to their interest to do so. We believe that Pure White Lead is the best Paint and our belief is confirmed by hundreds of years of use, and the experience of practical painters everywhere.

FREE For colors use National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. Any shade desired is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving full information and showing samples of Colors, also pamphlet entitled "Uncle Sam's Experience With Paints" forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 100 William Street, New York.

W. W. Carre & Co
LUMBER.
NEW ORLEANS, LA

JOB PRINTING
-- All Kinds --
AT THIS OFFICE.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to October, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

IMPERIAL No. 4.

THE IMPERIAL HIGH-ARM SINGER will be found the perfection of mechanism as regards simplicity, durability and adaptability to the wide range of work embraced in the general family need.

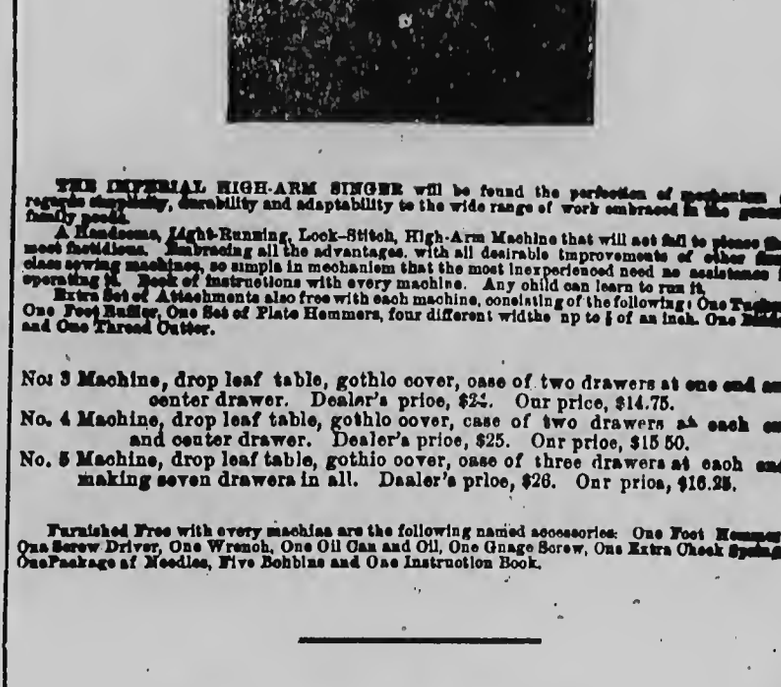
A Handsome, Light-Running, Lock-Stitch, High-Arm Machine that will not fail to please the most fastidious. Embracing all the advantages, with all desirable improvements of other first-class sewing machines, so simple in mechanism that the most inexperienced need no assistance in operating it. Book of instructions with every machine. Any child can learn to run it.

Extra Set of Attachments also free with each machine, consisting of the following: One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to ½ of an inch. One Binder and One Thread Cutter.

No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $24. Our price, $14.75.
No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $25. Our price, $15 50.
No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of three drawers at each end, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $26. Our price, $16.25.

Furnished Free with every machine are the following named accessories: One Foot Hemmer, One Screw Driver, One Wrench, One Oil Can and Oil, One Gauge Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins and One Instruction Book.

Columbian No. 4.



EXCELLENCE OF THE COLUMBIAN.—All wearing parts are of case-hardened steel possessing great durability, and by the turning of a screw all lost motion caused by wear can be taken up. All parts are fitted so accurately that the machines are absolutely noiseless, and as easy running as fine adjustment and best mechanical skill is possible to produce. No expense or time is spared to make them perfect in every respect, as every machine passes a rigid inspection by competent men before leaving the factory.

NICKEL PLATED.—The balance wheel and many of the fine parts are nickel-plated, with other parts finely enameled and ornamented, giving it a rich appearance.

A Self-Setting Needle and Self-Threading Cylinder Shuttle are used in the Columbian High-Arm Sewing Machine. They are so simple that any one can easily operate them in a few minutes' time, as our Instruction Book is fully illustrated, showing how to do all kinds of fancy work with attachments.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

ADDITIONAL ACCESSORIES.—Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screw Driver, Oil Can with Oil, Cloth Gauge and Thumb Screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated, and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

No. 3—Drop leaf, Bent cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $29. Our price, $17.
No. 4—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $31. Our price, $17.75.
No. 5—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making a seven-drawer machine. Dealer's price, $33. Our price, $18.50.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

THROW
AWAY
YOUR QUININE PILLS
and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of
CHILLIFUGE
will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.
Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.
FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

STOP POUNDING YOUR DOUGH.

Every housewife should secure one of De MUTH'S DOUGH KNEADERS. Makes finest biscuits, whitest and lightest bread. Write for our booklet, "Beaten Biscuit," giving full partiouiars—FREE.

No work
No worry
No trouble
No pounding

J. A. De MUTH, St. Joseph, Mo.

DR. LETELLIER'S

Sunflower Tablets.

GUARANTEED
TO CURE
MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Sunflower Tablets is a vegetable remedy, and the surest, safest, and best malaria medicine in the world. Thousands of testimonials to prove it. Recommended by the best physicians. Sold by druggists 50 cents a box or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Free sample to any address

SUNFLOWER REMEDY CO.,
American Tract Building, NEW YORK CITY.

DIPHTHERIA AND CROUP

Cured at last, also Whooping-Cough and Tonsilitis by

DR. JONES' NEW SCIENCE REMEDY.

A marvelous new discovery, Simple, Infallible, Harmless, Failure impossible. Dissolves false membrane or prevents its formation if used early. Keep it on hand for emergencies and save your loved ones. Thoroughly tried and now advertised for the benefit of humanity everywhere. Price $1.00, postpaid, with full directions. If interested, don't fail to ask for circular regarding Dr. Jones' New Science Remedies, (Anti-Germ) for Asthma or Hay Fever, Rheumatism, Consumption, Eczema, and Drunkenness or the Liquor Habit, New Bacteriological Treatment, simple, scientific, Cures by killing the Germs. New trial price, 50 cents each, postpaid.

THE JONES CO., 49 COLUMBUS AVE., N. Y.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Scarlet fever is epidemic at Fort Worth.

The silver jubilee of Vanderbilt University began on Oct. 21.

Charles Dudley Warner died of heart failura at Hartford, Conn.

Hon. John Sherman died at his Washington residence on Oct. 22.

Ten candidates for President and the same number for Vice-President will be voted for Nov. 6.

The United States, next to Great Britain, has tha largest tonnage in shipping under construction.

The 154th anniversary of the founding of Princeton University was celebrated yesterday, on Oct. 20.

Field Marshal Count von Waldersee regards tha Chinese campaign as over and expects to be recalled soon.

Germany and England have formed an alliance to maintain the territorial integrity of China and to keep the ports open.

The appointment of Weyler as Captain General of Madrid has resulted in the resignation of the entire Spanish Cabinet.

Bryan made seventeen speeches in New York State, concluding his campaign at Buffalo, and started for West Virginia.

The South African war has again spread southward and the outlook is dismal for an early resumption in farming and mining.

It is the general belief at Wilkesbarre, Pa., that tha coal strike will be settled this week. Both sides are expected to make concessions.

Mail advices from Panama say the civil war in Colombia goes on. The government controls tha telegraph lines and is suppressing the facts.

Tha Philippines commission has passed a bill appropriating $475,000 gold for the payment of expenses incurred for the benefit of the insular government during October.

The Creek full-blood council of Indians, armed with Winchesters, has refused to take the allotment of lands. Col. Schoenfel, the agent, says he can handle the situation.

Senator Hanna has altered the Republican plan of campaign. Leading Republican speakers will be recalled from the West and sent to New York to offset the favorable impression being made in that State by Bryan.

The correspondence which passed between the State Department and the French charge d'affaires, relative to the French note respecting China, indicates that the United States Government will accept the terms of the Great Britain-Germany compact.

According to the census returns, Porto Rico has a voting population of 201,071, of which over 63 1-2 per cent. are whites. This is only 24 per cent. of males of voting age. The illiteracy is great—70 per cent. of whites and 83 per cent. of colored can not read.

We see it stated that every year since the Mississippi Constitution of 1893 was adopted the list of colored qualified electors has grown larger, while, on the other hand, the number of white qualified electors has grown smaller every year since that date. Here is something for Mississippians to think about.

At a meeting of the Tri-State Medical Society of Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia, held in Chattanooga, recently, steps were taken to secure "medical legislation in those three States for the purpose of regulating or prohibiting the marriage of habitual criminals, persons afflicted with incurable disease, drunkards, and victims of harmful drugs." There is scarcely any doubt that such legislation is greatly needed in every State not already protected.

The special grand jury which has been investigating the riot of Aug. 22, in which two lives were lost and $200,000 worth of property destroyed at Akron, Ohio, has reported. Sixty-six true bills were returned against men and boys. George Brodt, a councilman, and Andrew A. Halter, a leading citizen, are among those indicted. Arson, illegal use of firearms, dynamiting, burglary and rioting are among the offenses charged. The grand jury censures the city officials for not taking more stringent measures to stop the trouble.

According to all accounts from South Africa, the Boers are giving the British no end of trouble. While it is true that the war is over, as far as all concerted movements are concerned, large numbers of the burghers remain unreconciled and are operating in small bands over a wide stretch of country. Their operations are confined largely to capturing weak convoys, stopping railroad traffic and cutting telegraph and telephone wires. As the entire country sympathizes with them, they find no difficulty in securing supplies and shelter.

The Democratic National Congressional Committee has issued a statement saying Bryan will get 60 per cent. of the German vote; labor vote sufficient to carry several doubtful States; 80 per cent of the Gold Democratic vote; Irish and Holland vote; 100,000 anti-imperialistic votes heretofore unknown; almost all tha reform vote; independent votes sufficient to decide certain States; traveling men for McKinley in 1896, all now for Bryan; all Prohibition votes not going to Woolley, and thousands of Republican votes.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

Regulates the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

For biliousness, constipation and malaria.

For indigestion, sick and nervous headache.

For sleeplessness, nervousness and heart failure.

For fever, chills, debility and kidney diseases, take Lemon Elixir.

Ladies, for natural and thorough organic regulation, take Lemon Elixir.

50c and $1 bottles at druggists.

Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Minister Writes.

After ten years of great suffering from indigestion, with great nervous prostration, biliousness, disordered kidneys and constipation, I have been cured by Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, and am now a well man. REV. C. C. DAVIS,
Ed. M. E. Church, South,
No. 28 Tatnall St., Atlanta, Ga.

A Prominent Memphian Writes.

Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta—Having been a great sufferer for three years from indigestion, and been treated by many physicians, who failed to give me any relief. Continuing to grow worse, my brother advised me to try Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir, which remedy he had used for several years. I commenced its use, and must say that your Lemon Elixir is the greatest medicine on earth I have never suffered a day since I commenced using Lemon Elixir.
R. L. ROCCO,
206 Hernando St., Memphis, Tenn.

A Card.

This is to certify that I used Dr. Mozley's Lemon Elixir for neuralgia of the head and eyes, with the most marked benefit to my general health. I would gladly have paid $500 for the relief it has given me at a cost of two or three dollars. H. A. BEALL,
Clerk Superior Court, Randolph Co., Ga.

ANGLO-GERMAN AGREEMENT.

A decided sensation was created in diplomatic circles on last Saturday by the announcement of an agreement between England and China, according to the terms of which the territorial integrity of the Chinese Empire is to be maintained, and her ports are to be kept open. This agreement is pronounced the most important diplomatic event in almost a generation, and, it is claimed, "means nothing less than the re-adjustment of the balance of power in Europe and the world." The third article of the agreement strongly hints at joint action of the two powers for the protection of their interests, in case any other power should seek to obtain territorial advantages in China in view of the present complications. All the other powers interested, particularly Austro-Hungary, France, Italy, Japan, Russia, and the United States, are to be invited to co-operate with Germany and England in carrying out the principles of the agreement, the first two features of which the American government has strongly insisted upon all along. The nature of this new alliance is such as to dispel all prospect of the immediate dismemberment of China, and to materially hasten the settlement of the perplexing Chinese question. The French look upon the agreement with much uneasiness and suspicion.

Says a cable dispatch from London to the Times-Democrat, dated Oct. 20: "As far as the immediate effect on the Chinese question is concerned, there is much to be hoped for. England's splendid isolation disappears, and so do any hopes of a great Russian or other aggrandizement. It is almost inconceivable in the present situation that Russia, alone or in combination with France, would undertake to execute any designs, actively or passively, opposed by all the other powers. Thus disappear, therefore, China's hopes of escaping the just consequence of her crimes by reason of quarrels among the nations. The question, therefore, may soon narrow down to where China will continue to defy united civilization."

Eleventh Year of the Moody Bible Institute.

The Institute starts on its eleventh year with over 250 students, in both men and women, as many as in any previous year. There are three departments of instruction—(1) Biblical, (2) Musical, to train men and women in gospel singing, and (3) Practical, that is, clinical instruction in church, mission, visitation and other phases of actual work, by which the students are not only trained, but also tested as to their fitness for Christian service. This latter branch makes the Moody Institute unique, and has earned for it the name of "The West Point of Christian Work." The demand for trained workers far exceeds the available supply.

FREE
To Sunday School Superintendents Officers & Teachers

Send your address and you will receive our large and beautifully illustrated
Holiday Annual
the finest and most complete Sunday School Catalogue issued. It contains 64 pages and fully describes our Sunday School Publications and Specialties, Christmas and Holiday Goods, Gift Books and Booklets, Calendars, Birthday and Wedding Souvenirs, Medals, Christmas Cards and Decorations, Library Books, Standard Literature, etc. "The Best of Everything for the Sunday School." Address,
DAVID C. COOK PUBLISHING CO.
36 Washington Street
CHICAGO

Special. When you write for the Holiday Annual, ask for free sample copies of our Lesson Helps and Papers. We believe them to be incomparably better and cheaper than all similar publications.

VICTORY IN HOLSTON.

The Epworth League's greatest day of triumph was celebrated last Saturday at the session of the Holston Conference, when the entire assessment for missions was reported paid. Two years ago, when the Leagues began the working of the Holston Plan with a view to this consummation, the deficit in the Conference was over $8,000. In two years this has been wiped out. The League plans have thus realized over $16,000 on missions in the Holston Conference alone. What has been done in the same way in other Conferences will run the sum to a surprising and gratifying figure. Let the whole church hear this news. It is Epworth League News—the missionary assessments of the whole connection may be met if the pastors will only recognize, encourage, and use the Epworth League. So far from affecting the other collections in the Holston Conference, it is asserted that salaries and other interests have advanced twenty-five per cent. This is the League's loudest note of victory in material advancement.—Epworth Era.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Iuka circuit, at Burnsville	Oct. 6, 7
Iuka station	8
Ripley and New Albany, at Ripley	13, 14
Jonesboro circuit, at State Line	17
Ripley circuit, at Wier's Chapel	20, 21
New Albany circuit, at Union Hill	27, 28
Blue Springs, at Blue Springs	30
Kossuth, at Bethel	Nov. 3, 4
Corinth circuit, at Marvin	6
Gun Town and Baldwyn, at Saltillo	10, 11
Mantachie, at Shiloh	14
Belmont, at Patterson's Chapel	17, 18
Burnt Mills, at Mt. Pleasant	20
Jacinto, at Hebron	22
Booneville circuit, at ——	24, 25
Marietta circuit, at Marietta	Dec. 1, 2

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Shelby	Oct. 6, 7
Rulerville	13, 14
Clarksdale	21, 22
Belen	27, 28
Lula	Nov. 3, 4
Dubbs	10, 11
Tunica	12
Hillhouse	17 18
Friar's Point	18, 19
Gunnison	24, 25
Rosedale	25, 26
Bolivar	Dec. 1, 2
Greenville	3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Arkabutla, at Brooks	Oct. 5
Cold Water	6, 7
Batesville	13. 14
Courtland, at Pepes	20, 21
Burges, at Love Joy	26
Eureka, at Mt Olivet	27, 28
Hernando	Nov. 3, 4
Lougtown	8, 9
Pt. Grove	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's	17, 18
Wall Hill	23
Cockrum	24, 25
Tyro	Dec. 1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Ebenezer, at Liberty Chapel	Oct. 6, 7
Lexington, at Tchula	13. 14
Belzona, at Belzuna	20, 21
Koscinsko station	7 P. M.. 28
Kosoinsko circuit, at Smyrna	27, 28
Ethel, at Taberuacle	Nov. 1
Ackerman, at Salem	3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel	10, 11
Chester	17, 18
Louisville	24, 25
Rural Hill	27
Pickens	Dec. 1, 2
Durant	7 P. M.. 2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Paris circuit	Oct. 6, 7
Pittsboro circuit	13, 14
Elay circuit	15
Slate Springs circuit	20, 21
East Grenada circuit	22
Coffeeville circuit	27, 28
Minter City	Nov. 3, 4
Charleston	10, 11
Cascilla	12
Water Valley circuit	17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street	24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec. 1, 2

R. G. PORTER, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Montpelier circuit, at Palestine	Oct. 6, 7
Prairie circuit, at Prairie	9
Shannon circuit, at Shannon	13, 14
Verona circuit, at Verona	15
Tremont circuit, at Hopewell	20, 21
Fulton and Smithville, at New Salem	27, 28
Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov. 3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton	5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar	10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Soule's Chapel	17, 18
Aberdeen station	25, 26

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winona circuit, at New Hope	Oct. 6, 7
Webb circuit, at Webb	13, 14
Black Hawk circuit, at Acona	20, 21
West circuit, at Bowling Green	27, 28
Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov. 3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt	10, 11
Carrollton, at Eden	17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead	24, 25
Indianola	Dec. 1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Byhalia circuit, at Byhalia	Oct. 6, 7
Red Banks circuit, at Red Banks	13, 14
Mt Pleasant circuit, at New Salem	20, 21
Pontotoc circuit, at Pontotoc	27, 28
Potts Camp circuit, at Potts Camp	Nov. 3, 4
Olive Branch circuit, at Olive Branch	10, 11
Shawnee circuit, at Liberty	17, 18
Ashland circuit, at Ashland	20
Randolph mission, at Randolph	24 25
Abbeville circuit, at Abbeville	Dec. 1, 2
Holly Springs station	3

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Columbus circuit, at Piney Grove	Oct. 6, 7
Crawford, at Trinity	13, 14
Brooksville, at New Bethel	20, 21
Tibbee, at Mayhew	27, 28
Columbus station	Nov. 4, 5
Sturges, at Ebeezer	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill	17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs	23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Mt. Carmel	Oct. 6, 7
Percy's Creek	10, 11
Woodville	13, 14
Meadville	20, 21
Cane Ridge	27, 28
Barlow	Nov. 3, 4
Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Jefferson Street	11, 12
Homochitto Chapel	17, 18
Washington	24, 25
Liberty	Dec 1, 2
McNair	8, 9

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Flora, at Flora	Oct. 6, 7
Vicksburg Crawford Street	14
South Vicksburg	14
Mayersville, at Beulah	20, 21
Bolton, at Bolton	27, 28
Rocky Springs at Shiloh	Nov. 3, 4
Port Gibson	4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards	11, 12
Warren, at Wesley Chapel	17, 18
Utica at Utica ... Wed night	21
Hermanville, at Hermanville	24, 25
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork	Dec. 1, 2
Anguilla, at Anguilla	2, 3
Satartia, at Mt. Olivet	8, 9

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Missionary Institute, at Pelahatchie. Tues. and Wed	Oct. 16, 17
Hillsboro, at Hillsboro ... Thurs	18
Carthage, at Carthage ... Sat and Sun	20, 21
Walnut Grove, at Scotland ... Tues	23
Neshoba, at Pine Grove ... Thurs	25
Indian Mission, at Tall-Chulok ... Sat. and Sun	27, 28
Decatur, at Union ... Tues	30
Rose Hill, at Paulding ... Sat. and Sun	Nov. 3, 4
Montrose, at Montrose ... Tues	10, 11
Raleigh, at Taylorsville ... Sat. and Sun.	13
Trenton, at Trenton ... Tues	17, 18
Shiloh, at Shiloh ... Thurs	20
N. and Hickory, at Newton ... Sun. and Mon	22
Chunkey, at Chunkey ... Tues	25, 26
Lake, at Lawrence ... Wed	27
Morton, at Pelahatchie ... Sun. and Mon	28
Forest, at Forest ... Sun and Mon	Dec. 2, 3
	9, 10

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Coalville, at Palmer Camp Ground	Oct. 6, 7
Americus, at Salem Camp Ground	13, 14
Williamsburg, at Williamsburg	20
East Covington, at Eminence	21
Vancleave, at New Prospect	27, 28
Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov. 2
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington	3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port	11, 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs	17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins	24
Bay St Louis	25, 26
Moss Point	Dec. 1
Escatawpa, at Zion	2
Columbia, at Columbia	7
Purvis, at Purvis	8, 9
Hattiesburg	10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Topisaw, at Sartine	Oct. 13, 14
Bayou Pierre, at Pleasant Valley	20, 21
Magnolia and Osyka, at Magnolia	27, 28
Providence, at Georgetown	Nov. 3, 4
Adams, at Adams	10, 11
McComb City	11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood ... 11 a. m..	13
Gallman, at Gallman	17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson ... 11 a. m	19
Wesson ... 7:30 p. m..	19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion	24, 25
Westville, at Magee	25, 26
Crystal Springs ... 7:30 p. m..	26
Tylertown, at China Grove	Dec. 1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton ... 10 a. m..	5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven ... 10 a. m..	7
Haslehurst ... 7:30 p. m..	7
Caseyville, at Caseyville	8, 9
Summit, at Bogue Chitto ... 11 a. m..	10
Brookhaven ... 7:30 p. m..	11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTON, P. E.

Brookhaven, Miss.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winchester, at Winchester	Oct. 6, 7
Leaksville, at Breland's Chapel	13, 14
Waynesboro, at Waynesboro ... Wed	17
DeKalb, at New Hope	20, 21
North Kemper, at Mellen ... Mon	23
Enterprise, at Enterprise	27, 28
Pachuta, at DeSoto	Nov. 3, 4
Binnsville, at Scooba	10, 11
Vimville, at Marion	17, 18
Mathersville, at Winifred	24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta ... Mon	26
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec. 1, 2
Daleville, at ——	8, 9

G. A. GUICE, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Madison, at Pocahontas	Oct 6, 7
Sharon, at Sharon	13, 14
Canton	14, 15
First Church and Capitol Street	20, 21
Terry, at Byran	27, 28
Silver Creek	Nov. 3, 4
Lake City	4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope	10, 11
Benton, at Midway	11, 12
Tranquil	17, 18
Yazoo City	18, 19
Camden	24, 25
Fannin	Dec. 1, 2
Brandon station	2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues.. 4
Steen's Creek	8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

Look For This Design

on the end of the package in which you get your Soda Biscuit, Milk Biscuit, Butter Crackers, Graham Biscuit, Oatmeal Biscuit, Ginger Snaps, Handmade Pretzelettes and Vanilla Wafers. The "In-er-seal Patent Package" brings to your table the best of baking in the best possible manner. It's a luxury worth asking for. At all grocers.

USED EXCLUSIVELY BY
NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Why Poison Yourself With Quinine?

It is bad for your digestion, as every sufferer from chills and fever knows.

JOHNSON'S CHILL & FEVER TONIC

One hundred times better, and does in a single day that which slow and uncertain quinine does not do in ten. It gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys so that they do their duty, and it places the patient beyond the danger point in a day; quinine takes at least ten days. It cures obstinate cases of fever that quinine never cures.

It Costs 50c. If It Cures; Not One Cent If It Does Not.

NOTHING ELSE NEEDED IN FEVERS.

A. B. CIRARDEAU, SAVANNAH, GA.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Morgan and Berwick, at B	Oct. 3
Patterson	4
Franklin	6
Jeanerette	7
New Iberia	27, 28
Washington and Chicot, at C	Nov. 3, 4
Opelousas	7
Lafayette	8
Abbeville	10, 11
Indian Bayou	14
Plaquemine Brulee, at Rayne	17, 18
Prudhomme, at P	21
Lake Arthur	24, 25
Grand Chenieres	28
West Lake	30
Lake Charles	Dec. 1, 2
Gueydan	5
Crowley	8, 9

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Slaughter	Oct. 19-21
Zaccery	22
Baton Rouge First Church	24, 25
Baton Rouge circuit, at Antioch	27, 28
Port Vincent, at Bayou Barbary	30
Live Oak, at Friendship	Nov. 1
Pine Grove	3, 4
Ponchatbula, at Hammond	6
Amite City	7
Kentwood and Tangipahoa	10, 11
Franklinton	14
St Helena, at Greensburg	15-18
East Feliciana, at Independence	24, 25
Wilson, at Gayden	28
Clinton	30-Dec. 2
Baker, at Blackwater	4
St. Francisville, at Star Hill	6
Jackson	7-9

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Carrollton Avenue	Oct. 7
Louisiana Avenue	14
Dryades Street	21
Covington	28
Slidell	Nov. 4
Parker Memorial	11
Plaquemine	18
Bayou Memorial	25
White Castle	Dec. 2
Carondelet Street	11 a m.. 9
Burgundy Street	7:30 p m.. 9

S. S. KLEMER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Olla and Pollock, at Summerville	Oct. 5, 6
Jena, at French Fork	13, 14
Glenmora, at Camp Ground	20, 21
Boyce, at Boyce	23, 24
Columbia, at Boeuf River	28, 29
Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov. 3, 4
Dry Creek	10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta	13, 16
Montgomery, at Montgomery	17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent	24, 25
Bunkie	Dec. 1, 2
Alexandria	8, 9

J. D HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Red River, at Campo Belle	Oct. 6, 7
Caddo, at Greenwood	10
Wesley, at Campti	13, 14
Florien, at Holly Grove	20, 21
Coushatta, at Coushatta	24
Grand Cane, at Grand Cane	27, 28
Many, at Many	Nov. 3, 4
Logansport, at Logansport	7
South Bossier, at Allentown	10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle	17, 18
Pelican, at Bethel	24, 25
Leesville	Dec. 1
Mansfield	9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Farmerville, at Marion	Oct. 6, 7
Downsville, at Downsville	9
Calhoun, at Indian Village	13, 14
Simsboro, at Salem	19
Gibsland, at Foster's Chapel	20, 21
Lanesville, at Pine Grove	27, 28
Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	Nov. 3, 4
Blenville, at Blenville	10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley	17, 18
Minden	19
Haynesville	23
Homer, at Homer	24, 25
Ruston	Dec. 1, 2
Gansville	7
Arcadia, at Arcadia	9, 10

Local preachers and exhorters will be expected to have written reports. Let the secretaries of Church Conferences be present with their church registers and records of Church Conferences for examination, as the law requires.

B. T. CREWS, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Harrisonburg, at Pine Hill	Oct. 20, 21
Oak Ridge, at Collinston	27, 28
Winnsboro, at Winnsboro	28, 29
Gilbert and Vidalia, at V	Nov. 3, 4
Bastrop	10, 11
Rayville	11, 12
Lake Providence	17, 18
Floyd	19-21
Waterproof	24, 25
Delhi and Tallulah, at T	Dec. 1, 2
Boulta, at Bonita	8, 9
Monroe	9, 10

J. M. HENRY, P. E.

YOUR BEST WORK can not be done without good health, and you can't have good health without pure blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great pure blood-maker. It gives appetite, strength and vigor, and cures disease.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 44. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2306

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

This government has very willingly consented to the Anglo-German Chinese agreement, and Secretary Hay is now disposed to regard the outlook more favorable for a settlement that will be entirely satisfactory to Americans than at any time recently. The main points of the Anglo-German agreement—that no territory should be seized by the powers, and that equal trade rights should be given to all—followed Secretary Hay's note of last July, announcing the policy of this government, which has now been practically endorsed by all the powers interested.

Mr. Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, made an interesting address on "China and Its Relations to Missionary Work and to Other Nations," which was the topic discussed at the Autumn meeting of the Washington Congregational Club, of which Judge Brewer is president. He said: "The attention of the civilized world has never been so much monopolized as it is at the present time by the troubles in China. And I think China presents one of the most difficult problems it has fallen to the lot of civilized nations to solve. It is a grave question, indeed. There are as many Chinamen as there are members of the civilized nations taken altogether. They are a homogeneous mass of 400,000,000 people under one ruler and in one domain. They are a people possessed of the strongest racial feelings of any human beings in the world. They never marry outside of their own people; they live but for themselves; they do not care to come in contact with others; they want to be let alone. It is a historic fact that the wall around China was built to keep out the roving hordes of Huns and other foreigners who wanted to get possession of the immensely rich mineral fields and rice plantations of that land. They effectually resisted the attempts of foreign invasion for hundreds of years. No Chinese wall can keep the world out, and our civilization will enter into its realm. They will have our progressive ideas, our civilization, our arms and ammunition, our machinery, our men of learning, our mechanics, and our missionaries. But the day may come when some great man like Napoleon will arise in that empire, organize its army of millions, and then what will the civilized powers do? The present trouble will disappear in a little while. But the time will surely come when the Chinese will make use of the lessons which we have taught them. China will some day be a most powerful nation. There has been much talk about missionaries being at the bottom of the trouble. The missionary's work is not at first agreeable to the Chinaman, and it is not strange that there is a feeling against him when the Chinaman considers the treatment he is receiving at our hands. But the missionary work must go on; it can not stop. No man is so vicious as the man who is skilled in the arts and sciences, but who has no morals. The Chinaman has no morals. The only hope is to send with the man that goes to China to speculate—with the mechanic, the man of the gospel, the man of the Bible—so as to lift him up into the ways of morality and peace."

Rev. F. W. Moot, the new pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, who came from Johnstown, N. Y., preached his first sermons Sunday. He is a comparatively young man, having only been preaching eight years, but he made an excellent impression.

The first half of the anti-saloon revival work services at Hamline M. E. Church has been very successful, and the last half promises to be even more so. At each of the evening services one, or more, of the local ministers delivers an address. D. S. H. Greene presided at this evening's service; Rev. M. R. Fishburn, pastor of Mt. Pleasant Congregational Church, conducted the devotional exercises; President Gallaudet, of the Columbia Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, spoke on "An Educator's View of the Saloon," and Dr. D. S. Lamb, of the Army Medical Museum, on "The Saloon from the Medical Standpoint." The programmes for the other evenings were equally interesting.

Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, military governor of Cuba, who is visiting his family at their Washington home, used the following language in a general conversation on Cuba and the Cubans: "During the present year over 3 000 public schools have been established; 3,600 teachers are employed, and 150 000 are in the schools. This number is constantly increasing, and by the end of the present school year it is believed that we shall have 250 000 children in school. The largest number ever at school under Spanish rule was between twenty-six and thirty thousand. The salaries paid the teachers are all high, exceeding any paid in the United States in corresponding grades, with the exception of three of our largest cities. School desks and supplies for 100 000 children have been purchased, sent to the island, and put up. Enthusiasm for public education is great. The trip of the 1,300 teachers to the United States was most beneficial, and attempts will be made to repeat it next year. The condition of the people of the island, to the best of my knowledge and belief, is one of content, and they realize that wonderful progress has been made, and they feel, as a people, kindly toward and have faith in the people of the United States."

Funeral services were held this afternoon over the remains of Hon. John Sherman, who died Monday at his late Washington residence. Additional services will be held in Mansfield, Ohio, where the interment will be made. As a mark of respect, the President, before leaving Washington, ordered that all flags on public buildings throughout the United States be kept at half-mast until after the funeral.

Washington, Oct. 24, 1900.

LETTER FROM "GILDEROY."

I am now at Big Creek, resting over a few days between quarterly meetings. Rev. J. M. Hampton, now in the last half of his eighty-fourth year, is hale, hearty, and happy, only that rheumatism in his knee joints makes locomotion somewhat difficult for him. He is as bright and cheerful a man of his age as I have ever known.

The preachers have all been faithful and diligent this year, and some of the charges have been blessed with gracious revivals of religion. Many of the pastors—in fact, most of them—have suffered from incompetent financial support. This has been the hardest year, financially, we have had in this hill country for a long time. The crops, both corn and cotton, are very short. Almost nothing has been grown on the branch and creek bottom lands. The hills have done better. Perhaps one farmer in ten will make corn enough to do him. The cotton crop is fully fifty per cent. short of last year. This tells heavily on the support of the ministry and on the collections ordered by the Conference. The pastors are putting forth extra work on the collections, and they hope to do as well as last year, and some few of them will do better. The stewards promise to be diligent in their department, and they hope to make good reports at their last meetings.

The Twentieth Century Thank-offering has been faithfully and strongly presented, but, as yet, there has not been any great enthusiasm among the people on this subject. Somehow the great body of our hill country people take no special interest in matters of higher education. If Mary and John can get education enough to get a first- or second-grade certificate as teachers in our public schools, they have all they need and all their parents want for them. The only object of an education is as a means of making money. The idea of making strong men and women out of the boys and girls has not yet entered the minds of some clever people. Enough education to qualify one for making money is all anybody ought to want, so they seem to think. In this way the work of education is being prostituted to unholy ends. We will have to get over this before the mass of our people will take a lively interest in educational matters and institutions. There seems to be an idea abroad in the land that what are called normal schools and methods is a short cut to education and an incubator process in hatching out young teachers, both male and female. Normal schools are coming to be as thick as hops. The name is taking. It means a short route to the desired end.

In some sections our people are greatly pestered by Antinomian teaching and preaching. It is freely given out that the Ten Commandments are not binding on us now; that God knew no man could keep them, and that he did not intend for men to keep them; that Christ kept them for us, and this releases us from all obligation to keep them. These preachers and teachers dwell particularly on the Seventh Commandment as of no binding force. They say things in public that I dare not put in print. Our preachers will have to buckle on their armor and go out to war again. It is one part of a Methodist preacher's duty "to banish and drive away all strange doctrine." We need to stand for righteousness and holy living in every nook and corner of this land.

In some places our people are divided among themselves on sanctification, not so much on the nature of it as on the manner of it. This trouble is kept at white heat by a class of preachers and teachers known as "holiness evangelists." They come to this section from Kentucky mainly. Some of them are Methodists and some Baptists, or they claim to be. These preachers and teachers rarely ever speak of our pastors and presiding elders, only as "little two-by-four circuit riders and presiding elders." In this way and in many others they ridicule the church and her ministers, doctrines, and modes of worship. It stands these preachers and teachers in hand to keep up this strife, for, unless they do, they are out of a job. They serve the dis affected and contrary element, and they want as many of them as possible. The more the better, and the better pay they get for a ten days' meeting. It is their business to stir up strife. They get their living out of it. If it did not exist, their occupation would be gone. As things are in this section, they are a source of irritation, and keep up a festering sore in the church. They oppose the pastor in everything, contradict him publicly while he is preaching, refuse to support the ministry, claim to save their money for the holiness evangelists, and oppose the collections ordered by the Conference. For this reason I am an open advocate of "come-out-ism." These people ought to set up shop for themselves, and do the Lord's work in their own way, and leave the church to carry on her work in her own way. As it is, they will not work and will not pay, but they sit on the fence and fling mud at the workers in the vineyard all day long. The Mormons and Seventh Day Adventists follow in the wake of these holiness evangelists, hoping to catch some fish made sick by the muddy waters. The latter make ready a people for the former by insisting on the need of separate, distinct revelations direct from God. The Mormons then come along and say, 'Here it is; we have it," and the Adventists say, "We bring you inspired interpretations of God's Holy Word." So far as I know, the devil is the only being that is delighted with this state of affairs.

GILDEROY.

Oct. 18, 1900.

DO WE STRESS TOO MUCH THE COLLECTIONS?

Every now and then some brother echoes the time-worn dolorosa about stressing the collections to the exclusion of "things spiritual." The Bishops are criticised because they inquire carefully of the preachers reporting at Conference about their collections rather than about the revivals held. Others are afraid that the Epworth League will get to caring more for money-gathering for missions than for their literary work and their prayer meetings. The dolorosa has a fiction for its theme, the criticism of the Bishops is utterly unjust, and the fear concerning the Epworth League is as baseless as the fabric of a night-mare.

What is the essence of spirituality? Is it the ability to tell one's experience glibly, or to respond "Amen!" to what pleases one in the prayer or sermon, or the inclination to sit in the 'amen corner" and look pious? Does it consist of numerous experiences, and express itself in "Hallelujahs" and "Praise the Lord," groans and smiles and clapping of the hands? No Methodist can object to shouting when there is something real behind the shout, and all of us preachers do earnestly wish that all of the people would learn again to say "Amen;" but many of us have learned what our Lord long ago knew when he said, "Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of my Father."

I found that those pastoral charges in the Brookhaven district wherein had been held, during the last five years, the greatest number of revivals, reporting the largest number of conversions, were the charges whose life last year was at the lowest ebb, whose Sunday-schools and prayer meetings were the poorest, whose missionary efforts indicated the lowest missionary conscience, and whose membership took least interest in the services of the church. At a Quarterly Conference a preacher reported the Sunday-schools nearly dead, the Woman's Missionary Societies suspended, the Leagues in "articulo mortis," and then, under the next question, reported fine revivals in all the churches. This is not an isolated case. Our Bishops know this, and they well know that the report of numerous revivals and many accessions does not indicate the real spiritual status of a charge. They wish to know what sort of revivals these were, and the best way to find out is to learn of their effects upon the liberality of the members. Spirituality has a financial expression, and may be indicated in the terms of finance. This does not mean that every liberal contributor to the financial needs of Christ's cause is truly spiritual, but it means that every truly spiritual professor of Christianity is, to the extent of his ability, a liberal contributor to the finances of the church. A revival that increases these is a real revival, but "a big meeting" that reduces these is a wretched sham—no revival at all—a menace to the cause of our Lord, and "a stench in the nostrils of Almighty God." That we have such is a deplorable fact which every wise man must face. Our Bishops know this, and they are aware that an increase in the missionary collections is generally the truest indication of an increase in the spirituality of a charge.

So in the League, whose very life is its spirituality, finding its highest and truest expression in an aroused and intelligent missionary conscience, the interesting of the young people in the Holston Plan means vastly more than the nickels they contribute, and it does not mean, as some have vainly dreamed, the turning of Leaguers into beggars for missionary money, but it means for our young Methodism a broader, deeper, truer conception of our Lord's great commission to us, and that means a truer Christianity, a higher spirituality, and a better Methodism for the twentieth century. Thank God for the Holston Plan! It has the spirit of Christ in it, and the providence of God behind it, and will succeed, and in the near future we shall hear, as its first result, the note of victory just heralded from old Holston, "Every cent of the assessments for missions paid."

Something like the following has occurred in a Quarterly Conference:

P. E. "Have your Sunday-schools been organized into missionary societies?"

P. C. "Not yet; it does not seem expedient to do so yet."

P. E. "Brother, you are not left to pass upon the question of expediency of doing this; the law is mandatory."

That P. C. has not deemed the matter as at all important, but at the instance of the P. E. he promises that it shall be done. At the next Quarterly Conference this colloquy occurs:

P. E. "Have your Sunday-schools become missionary societies yet?"

P. C. "Oh, yes; we take a collection in the Sunday-school once per month for missions."

P. E. "Is that all your Sunday-schools do in this matter?"

P. C. "Why, yes; is not that enough? We have gotten $10 from one school; what more can you ask?"

That P. C. has not learned that the nickel from the scholar on missionary Sunday is the very least result hoped for by the church from the Sunday-school Missionary Society. The nickel is but the computable expression of an awakening conscience and a growing intelligence that mean more for missions than ten thousand nickels. The exercises of a real Sunday-school Missionary Society are of manifold more importance than the collection. The collection is a mere bagatelle if stripped of the element of personal self-denial on the part of the child, and unaccompanied by an intelligent conception of the meaning and purpose of it. The collection is an expression of something else.

In a late issue of the New Century Education, Dr. Hammond utters these strong, true, and timely words: 'We hear much about the worldliness of the church, but we often overlook the fact that the most subtle and damning form of it is the love of money. Let us away with this craze for numbers, and help our people to understand clearly that, according to the teaching of God's Word, no consecration amounts to anything that does not involve the consecration of material resources. In the Bible the covetous man is branded as an idolater, and we know such an one has no place in the kingdom."

We have heard much prating about holiness by men who were reducing their contributions to foreign missions, and much boasting indirectly of spirituality by those who, though none the less able, were paying less and less to the church. Let it be known that true spirituality has a financial expression, and its terms are so simple that all may understand them.

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN.

THE DECLINE OF RELIGION IN AMERICA—ITS CAUSES AND ITS CURE.

NO. 1.

Whatever may be the regret with which we acknowledge it, truth compels us to acknowledge the fact that the spirit of religious faith and life is on the decline in our country. This fact is evinced in the comparatively small attendance, in ratio to the population, upon the places of religious worship, the growing displacement of the Christian Sabbath, and the utter disregard of the ordinances of the church by thousands whose names are upon the church rolls. Varnish it as we may, these things can not be successfully denied, and it is much wiser to recognize the true condition, enquire into the cause, or causes, and seek a remedy. Almost everywhere one sees the utter indifference of the masses in regard to religious things, and hears the sneers of the professedly cultured in flippant criticism of the Bible, while even the churches present a state of unrest and a disposition to soften the teaching to the demands of the unbelieving, and there is a disposition upon the part of the pulpit to entertain rather than to instruct the people, by giving them the simple gospel. For this condition there must be a cause, and practical recognition of conditions will not be long in unfolding not only a cause, but several causes leading to these deplorable conditions of unbelief, indifference, and unrest.

One cause, and by no means the least, is found in the defective process of education pursued by the State in relation to the masses—a process in which the Bible is not only banished from the public schools, but whereby no adequate moral instruction is given. With a banished Bible the ground-work of unbelief in a divine revelation is laid, and the structure, resting upon this, can be no better than its foundation, so that the present generation of young men and women, educated to ignore the Bible, are ignorant of it, and regard it and its teaching with no more reverence than any other book, and, indeed, with not so much as other books which, as text-books, they have studied, and which not unfrequently proclaim teachings directly in antagonism to the teaching of the Bible. Is it any wonder, then, that the general trend is away from the Bible, and the places where it is received and taught, so that Sunday-schools are despised and public service in the churches ignored, while the Sunday theater flourishes; while even the business of the world goes on with comparatively little interruption on the day of divinely ordered rest; while the moral law is set aside, so far as practical recognition of it is concerned?

Divorced from faith in God by the processes of public education, the logical course of selfish advancement is pursued, and love of money has developed a spirit of commercialism which has neither taste or time for religious things, even when such things are recognized as of any value. The whole trend of public education is in the direction of the development of this spirit of selfish unbelief.

The cry of the national government is, "Commerce follows the flag," and that which once stood for liberty and right now is made to stand for conquest and gain, while the protection of wealth is the main aim of all legislation, so that the whole current is away from the teaching of Christ, while the moral law is regarded a dream, and the law of the "survival of the fittest" is recognized as the law of practical life, wherein the maxim is, "Might makes right." To this spirit of commercialism nothing is sacred, for it would crush out all things opposed to it, trample under foot the moral law, discard the Christ and his word, outrage the private rights of man, while recognizing nothing of any worth which has not the stamp of mammon, and may not be crystalized into the value of dollars and cents. It measures a man, not by the law of manhood and morals, but by the size of his bank account or the extent of his financial credit, and the Sabbath, the integrity of the home, and the preservation of public moral life, are counted as nothing, provided they stand in the way of the increase of gain and money influence. So absorbed are the great multitude that they have no time for the consideration of the things of God and of the future, being given up to the laying up "treasures upon earth" and with the increase of riches, setting their hearts upon them. Even the church itself is too much engaged in this line, and the pressing and continual calls for money has a tendency to lessen the spiritual life of the membership, and this, in turn, seen by the world, lessens its faith in the power of the gospel, while the course of many who have riches is widening the gulf between them and their brethren of little financial ability. I would not be understood as being opposed to money-giving, for it is both needful and helpful when properly engaged in, but when undue stress is put upon it, spiritual power decreases, and the efficiency of the church life upon the world is sadly reduced. It is a fatal mistake to undertake to rouse the church to giving in order to be spiritual, when the church must be spiritual in order to cheerful and liberal giving in the spirit which the Master would commend, who saw more in the two mites given from principle than in much given grudgingly from policy.

During the past year we have been engaged in begging our one million and a half of people for a million and a half of dollars—an amount which could have been raised for some commercial enterprise with profit in it, in thirty days, from our membership in almost any one of our cities, and yet the dawn of the twentieth century is upon us, and the pitiful sum asked for has not been raised, because the spirit of commercialism—another name for the inordinate love of money—is in as well as out of the church, and is loath to give up money when there is not faith to make investments for eternity, but which give no immediate profits in dollars and cents.

The subject in hand being too important to be treated in a single article in the ADVOCATE, I will, with the editor's permission, pursue it in another.

W. T. BOLLING.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

Somebody near you is struggling alone
Over life's desert sand;
Faith, hope and courage to her are gone:
Reach him a helping hand;
Turn on his darkness a beam of your light;
Kindle, to guide him, a beacon-fire bright;
Cheer his discouragement, soothe his affright,
Lovingly help him to stand.

Somebody near you is hungry and cold;
Send him some aid to-day;
Somebody near you is feeble and old,
Left without human stay.
Under his burden put hands kind and strong;
Speak to him tenderly, sing him a song;
Haste to do something to help him along
Over his weary way.

Dear one, be busy, for time flieth fast;
Soon it will all be gone;
Soon will our season of service be past,
Soon will our day be done.
Somebody near you needs now a kind word;
Some one needs help such as you can afford;
Haste to assist in the name of the Lord,
There may be a soul to be won.

—Selected.

Communications.

MRS. ELLEN KATHERINE PARKER.

If to be loved, trusted, sought as a friend, and grievously missed by those out of whose circle one has recently passed, be a mark of distinction, then the life and death of Mrs. Parker deserve more than a passing notice. She was born in Lawrence county, Ala., May 13, 1839. Her parents moved to North Louisiana when she was about ten years of age. Her father, Rev. John Crenshaw Burruss, had located, but the ideals of the Methodist itinerancy prevailed upon the Louisiana plantation, and from her childhood she followed the holy path of obedience and trust. From her father she derived a genial, sunny temperament. From her mother she derived the rigorous moral constitution of the Puritans, softened by an artist's susceptibility to tone and form and all beauty—traits which made her mother a painter and herself a musician. In 1857 she graduated from Mansfield College. Her education was substantial, based upon the classics and sciences, as then taught, and her accomplishments as a pianist were unusual. She owed more probably to the refined circle of cultivated ladies and gentlemen who constituted the country society in ante-bellum days than to the school, and still more to the painstaking home teaching of her mother and the exemplary lives of both parents.

Miss Burruss was married to Rev. Linus Parker, Jan. 26, 1858. Thenceforth, save during an interval of the war times, her life was spent in the city of New Orleans, the sphere of her husband's labors. She always enjoyed the life of this large and unique city. She heard the great musicians with passionate enthusiasm, and her society-loving, vivacious nature responded quickly and perfectly to the stimuli of her new environment. Here was the appropriate element for an unmeasured capacity for enjoyment. But her husband's work and well-being were her chief concern. She became his confidant and helpmeet, and in the successive stages of his advancement and responsibilities—as pastor, presiding elder, editor, Bishop—she walked by his side and afforded those conditions of home comfort and exemption from the attrition of life that enable men to go forth to meet burdensome duties and cares with reserve of strength and poise of mind. Maternal cares also entered into her busy, responsible life. She directed the education of her children, and their training fell largely to her. She personally cared for their religious instruction, and made Sunday afternoons the stated times of their religious reading with herself. She believed in the sanctity of the home, and deemed it most worthy of woman's best effort. Her love for it was a passion; her life was centered there, and was a vivid manifestation of "the greatest thing in the world." The music and the larger social round were cheerfully laid aside, and whatever ambitions she might once have had gave place to desire for the best things for those she loved. She had built her altar at the fireside, laid her all upon it, and, lo! the sacrifice was provided for her; she had found her life where she had willingly lost it, and, loving to the uttermost, she was beloved in like measure.

Bishop Parker died March 5, 1885, and Mrs. Parker took up the burdens of widowhood. She wrote about this time to her sister: "I can not bear to contemplate the lonely way that lies before me. I can imagine only one thing that could affect me now—that one of my boys might do anything wrong." But even under this great blow her resilient nature rebounded, and she came from the sorest trial of her life strengthened in faith, and found consolation in the Divine Fatherhood.

The shock produced by her husband's death made her an invalid for a time, and more or less during the remainder of her life. But, with exceptions of intervals of physical inability, she was ever active as a worker in the Sunday-school, the church, the various woman's societies, and in outside benevolences. The church was her first care, and she gradually withdrew from all outside modes of benevolence to concentrate her abilities within the church.

Even after years of suffering and often of enforced inactivity Mrs. Parker never lost her youthfulness, and for that reason was attractive to young people as long as she lived. She had a genuine interest in them, and made them her friends. "I used to come into her house a homeless boy," writes one, "and leave it with the echoes of a mother's voice in my heart." Young women especially loved her. One of her young friends writes: "Her friendship was one of the sweetest and most precious things in my life. I counted it as one of my special blessings. I have often thanked God for it. . . . She was my ideal woman—so exquisitely refined, so gentle, so loving, so like the blessed Master."

She was perfected through suffering; the long period of chastening ended Sept. 3. Her life-work was done, her tuteiage for eternity was accomplished through great tribulation, and she was not, for God took her. Her conscious conversion occurred the year before her marriage, and her assurance had been continuous. She said that after her conversion she had no fear of death. During the last year of her life, mistaking physical depression for spiritual darkness, she for a time doubted whether she was accepted of the Lord; but she learned to look only to the Savior, and to rest in him alone. Her trust became perfect. Not a murmur ever escaped her lips, but constant expressions of gratitude for God's mercies in the least things of the daily life. She was kept from church nearly two years, and used to long for the assembly of the saints, and to say how she missed the sermons. She could read little at this time, and that little was her Bible and Commentaries. In a diary of her last sickness she recorded but a few days before her death the comfort and help she had received through the visits and prayers of her pastor. She did not see death, but quietly and unexpectedly slipped away. She lies, where she must often have wished to lay the weary, suffering body, by the side of her husband in the Metairie Cemetery.

The past is a precious heritage. Hers was ever an active mind, which found in letter-writing an employment of far-reaching usefulness. Her gifts of expression were rare, and in the freedom of correspondence her heart could find its true voice. These remain to revive the recollection of the living voice that is stilled. And she herself will receive again the past when she comes with the blessed of the Father to enter into her inheritance. The bereavement of the present is tempered by precious recollections and bright hopes. And her own unfailing cheerfulness under every sombre shadow and burdening care she has left as an example, pointing to the true source of happiness in life—the Christian's joy and strength.

FITZGERALD SALE PARKER.

Jackson, La., Oct. 18, 1900.

COLLEGE ENTERTAINMENTS.

Ministers of the gospel preach against theatres, decollete dresses, and all worldly amusement, but their preaching will never be effective as long as Christian colleges give entertainments of such a nature that they require scant costumes, and all the setting and paraphernalia of a regular theatre, to bring them to perfection. I am opposed to theatres and theatre-going from principle, and because the church to which I belong condemns it. Whenever I attend a college entertainment that smacks of the theatre, I leave with a bad taste in my mouth, and feel like Achan, that I have brought something unclean into the sacred camp of my soul. The world sees only the one night's performance, and judges it a brilliant success, but to those patient, toiling, conscientious teachers who have endeavored to instill ideas of useful knowledge into a mind already filled to overflowing with visions and dreams of the one great coming night, and failed signally, can tell of the heavy hearts they carried from the class-room, with failure marked across each hour of the day. During preparation for such an entertainment girls are cross and peevish; they take offense at the least needed reproof. Why? Because they have been shut up in rehearsals day after day during the time allotted for recreation in the open air and sunshine. Every nerve is stretched to its utmost tension, and the least jar jangles life into a series of discord. They are tired and overworked. They try to carry on their daily recitations, practice and study hours, together with the study of parts, attending rehearsals, planning costumes, the buying and making of which requires money that can ill be spent in such a manner. Petty jealousies and bickerings arise all out of proportion to the offense. Teachers should keep them down, and train girls to conquer such feelings? Well, when girls become human angels, and teachers divine, then they can stem the tide, not before, for teachers themselves become irritated in the atmosphere of nervousness, and friction in the faculty is the inevitable result. But a girl must broaden on all lines when she goes away to college? No, not on all lines, for moral death is sometimes the finished fruit of a seed sown in an unguarded moment.

I am not ultra in my ideas. College entertainments that come in the regular line of school work are improving and instructive. It is necessary to have musicals, recitals, etc. They give a girl self-poise, or rather self-confidence, and show advancement on special lines that are being emphasized. A girl may prepare herself for this work during the regular time allotted for lessons without interfering with her scholastic duties. If money is needed for libraries, apparatus, and the thousand and one things so hard to do without in college instruction, ask each girl to contribute the exact amount her costume would cost, and the sum will be larger than that which would be made from a public entertainment. Besides, teachers will be spared the wear and tear of nerves, demoralization of school work, and no ill-will will be engendered among pupils. Some elastic Christians will say not to tithe the anise and the cummin. Yet Holland was saved from submersion by stopping a small leak in the dyke, and how can we make a complete surrender to the Lord if we keep back a part of the price? We are now at the threshold of a new school year. Let every Christian college in the State speak out in no uncertain tones against spectacular exhibitions, theatrical entertainments, and swell commencements.

MRS. M. I. HOSKINS.

Grenada College.

SOME PROBLEMS FOR SOLUTION.

In mingling with the brethren this year, these questions have come up out of the actual experiences and conditions, and are, therefore, not to be classed among the theoretic problems, but actual, and hence have right to full consideration:

First: Where does a local preacher hold membership—in the Church Conference, Quarterly Conference, or District Conference? If you say in the Church Conference, then the other two Conferences have no jurisdiction as to his official or moral conduct, which is an absurd construction of Section XI., Chap. III., Discipline. If you remove their amenability from the local church, you indict nearly every secretary of Church Conferences in the Southern Church for retaining names that should be dropped from the rolls, and ought not be retained and counted twice in our statistics, as at present. At the same time you deprive the local preacher of a very profitable responsibility which he ought to have—i. e., feeling it his duty to help meet the expenses of the church in salary, etc. Of course, I hold that the local preacher has no local membership, but is a member of the charge at large, a floater within bounds, and is morally amenable to the Quarterly Conference of which he is officially a member, and is officially amenable to the District Conference of which he, like the Sunday-school superintendent, is nominally or ex-officio a member. Now, if anyone can straighten this out, let him have right of way to do so. I submit that a local preacher is to some extent a public servant, and should be as far removed from all local issues as practicable, and, therefore, should be altogether a member of the District Conference, and amenable to that body in both kinds for his conduct. Then allow him local church membership wherever he chooses. This will give him a wider field in which to assist pastors under the direction of the presiding elder and pastors. It will conserve his grace of liberality, and yet give him a becoming position of distinction among his brethren, both lay and clerical.

Second: Are we to be committed to the English Wesleyan conclusion that extensive cultivation is the economic plan with us? Are not the conditions so widely different as to justify just the opposite policy on our part? See the narrow limits of the British Isles, in which the inhabitants are so densely jammed in that little opportunity is allowed for a liberal income among the masses. See them also thoroughly cultivated on the point of liberality in the grace of giving, so that they can bear no more and live. Of course, to reduce the size of the charge in that field is to reduce the pastors' support to no profit. But in the wide territory of America, where so many people are deprived of pastoral oversight because of such extensive charges and numerous church rolls, and that, too, where "one in ten only" contributes anything materially or morally to the support of the church, yet where fully 75 per cent. of the membership have liberal income from store, factory, and farm. A man with six or eight churches in his care never gets around his pastoral duties, and, like the man who can only till twenty acres, but tries to till fifty, the grass grows under his feet all the time, and very little fruit is brought to perfection. I am at present committed to the intensive system, where, vineyard-like, every tree may be digged about and pruned regularly. True, the time was here when this system was impossible for want of laborers, but not so now, when our colleges are annually graduating classes, and sending them forth into the Conferences to take up the work (?) of training and elevating the masses (?).

Third: "What will it profit a church if it gain the whole world and lose its own soul?" Are not formalism and materialism sapping the life of our institutions? And is not the Christian college of to-day responsible? "Oh!" says one, "don't make a scapegoat now of the college, to the exemption of the pastorate and other organized forces in the economy." But, brother, little as you may attach to the statement, the college is the centre of theological thought, and ecclesiastical as well as scientific and philosophic consciousness; has ever been, will ever be. Witness English, French and German history, borne out by American experience. The case was so in Wesley's time. There we get the art of framing to pronounce the shibboleth. What shall the shibboleth be? If in these centres the professional idea of the ministry, the hyper-critical idea of bibliography, and the pedanto-aristocratic notion of the pastorate be fostered, what is to become of the 'divine call to the ministry," "the place of miracles" and supernatural power in the rise and progress of religion, and the Christly standard and pattern by which the masses are to learn true wisdom?

Respectfully submitted.

W. L. ANDERSON.

Chester, Miss.

MORE WORK, MORE MONEY, MORE COMFORT.

In the Nashville Advocate, of date, ——, 1899, there appeared an article from the pen of Dr. D. C. Kelley deploring the tendency of making too many small works, and thereby embarrassing the pastors. Only a few months ago there appeared a similar utterance from the Methodism of England, and in the Arkansas Methodist, of recent date, Dr. J. E. Godbey has the following deliverances (speaking of the St. Louis Conference, and which applies to all): "The average pay of a preacher in this Conference, outside of the St. Louis district, is $350. Yet they are saying that the work at large needs a stronger ministry. How shall it be strengthened? He certainly can not have a library, a private study, or time for study, for how many things is he forced to do to eke out this pitiful living?" Referring to the past as compared with the present, he further says: "The writer traveled circuits in the 60's, and never received less than $800 a year, and board free. That was in this Conference. There is no such circuit work as that now."

This the Doctor attributes to the system of "cutting works to pieces," and suggests doing the "same work with fewer men."

Long before I was placed in the office of elder I was led to ask in many instances, "How do these men live?" And my short experience has only deepened the wonder. Men with families to be cared for, and children to be educated, struggling to live honestly on a pittance! The hod-carrier, the wayside blacksmith, and the cross-road postmaster, receive more than he, and yet the complaint is made that he "loves money more than souls."

I agree with the Doctor in the belief that "many of our circuit preachers would be glad to do double work if it would double the income." Indeed, there would not be a doubling of work; only an opportunity to do more in his legitimate field, and more money to employ much of the manual labor done, which, with a small income, he must do with his own hands.

To my brethren, both clerical and lay, of the Mississippi Conference, I ask, Would not this be better? Better for the pastor, that he may give himself entirely to the ministry, and better for the church in the character of work done? More visits, more prayer meetings, better sermons.

Brethren of the laity, quit asking, "What can he live upon?" and ask, "What ought we to pay him for his work?" No work can honor itself and pay its pastor less than $500, and no pastor, if a man of family, can live comfortably on less.

To the pastors and presiding elders I would modestly suggest a grouping of the churches, wherever possible, to this end. Let those churches which will not pay $100 consent to be evening appointments, and so connect them with stronger churches, that 6 or 8 churches, if need be, constitute one work, paying to its pastor $600 or $700. By thus grouping we can make better use of our domestic missionary money, and put stronger men in the field.

T. B. HOLLOMAN.

Home Mission Society.

EDITORS.

Mrs. J. B. Stone, of North Miss. Conference
Conference Officers of Mississippi Conference
Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, of Louisiana Conference

By-laws of the W. H. M. S. of North Mississippi Conference as adopted at different annual meetings. Published by request of Conference Secretary.

BY-LAWS.

1. The officers of this Society shall include a Superintendent of Juvenile work.

2. The President of the Conference Society shall write each quarter to District Secretaries, giving information and direction in regard to the work.

3. The Conference Corresponding Secretary shall send to District Secretaries each quarter copies of her report to the General Secretary.

4. District Secretaries shall give to Auxiliaries the information furnished them by the President and Corresponding Secretary.

5. The Executive Committee shall have authority to make appropriations whenever there is a sufficient amount in the treasury.

6. No application for help shall be granted unless made in due form upon the blanks furnished Society, having all the required signatures. (See Recording Secretary's Book—page 11.)

7. That it shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary of the Conference Society to arrange with railroads for reduced rates to annual meetings.

(The above was offered by Mrs. Somerville at the fourth annual meeting and was adopted. See Rec. Sec. Book—page 53.)

At the seventh annual meeting the Committee on Methods recommended the adoption of the following as By-laws:

1. That the fiscal year of the Conference Society shall coincide with that of the General Board.

2. District Secretaries, in addition to the statistical reports sent to the Conference Secretary each quarter, shall send to the President an official report of her personal work.

ANNETTE B. GLADNEY,
Rec. Sec.

The Christian Life.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Take church-going and store-going. Every morning the man is at his business; nothing keeps him from it but the grip of some disease which will not let him out of the house. He may feel inert, but he goes. He may have a headache, but off he starts; and when he is there, how interested he is—how absorbed, how alert, how devoted! That is store-going. And now take the same man, and look at his church-going. What a contrast! "I have a headache; I do not think I will go to church." "It rains hard, and it is so cold, I will not venture out." "I feel tired; I will stay at home and rest." And often, when he goes, how he idles about and looks around and lets his mind wander. Yes, you say, but one is business, to which we must attend; we will lose our place or our money; and the other is—well, what is it? Is it an important thing? Is it not God's business? Is it not a very holy, a very solemn, a very urgent affair? Does not the welfare of the soul depend upon it? Can it be neglected with impunity? Think of those words of your Master in Malachi: "A son honoreth his father, and a servant his master; if, then, I be a father, where is mine honor? and if I be a master, where is my fear?"—Clinton Locke, D. D., in Epworth Herald.

JESUS A CONSTANT COMPANION.

Make Christ your constant companion. Be more under his influence than under any other influence. Ten minutes spent in his society every day—aye, two minutes, if it be face to face and heart to heart—will make the whole day different. Every character has an inward spring; let Christ be it. Every action has a keynote; let Christ set it. Yesterday you got a certain letter. You sat down and wrote a reply which almost scorched the paper. You picked up the cruelest adjectives you knew, and sent it forth, without a pang, to do its ruthless work. You did that because your life was set in the wrong key. You began the day with the mirror placed at the wrong angle. To-morrow at daybreak turn it toward him, and even to your enemy the fashion of your countenance will be changed. Whatever you then do, one thing you will find you could not do—you could not write that letter. Your first impulse may be the same, your judgment may be unchanged; you will rise from your desk an unavenged, but a greater and more Christian man.—Henry Drummond.

Believe and be saved. This is the fundamental need. And it is faith's discovery. Faith takes God's testimony of sin, and who knows what sin is but God? What can reveal darkness so well as light? What but holiness can make impurity manifest? What can detect inequality but the line? By the law is the knowledge of sin. And the revelation of the need is the revelation of the remedy. Faith sees nothing strange in the reasonableness of salvation by grace. That is the only way it can come. The ladder must be let down from heaven. There is no human standpoint from which it can be reared. The Creator alone can be the Redeemer. Said a heathen boy to whom the story of the Cross was unfolded, "It is just what I would have expected of him." And so faith says. Faith in the Savior is salvation.—The Christian Intelligencer.

The member of the church needs often to freshen his religion. The disposition often is to drift into mere formalism in worship and in service, if there is service at all; and hence the religion becomes stale and unsavory. The remedy is in earnest, continued prayer, and then in active, constant work for the salvation of others. Make your religion fresh and live; do not allow it to become stagnant and repulsive to others.—Wesleyan Advocate.

The boxes that come from foreign climes are chimsy enough; but they contain spices which scent the air with the fragrance of the Orient. So suffering is rough and hard to bear, but it hides beneath it discipline, education, possibilities, which not only leave us nobler, but perfect us to help others.—Rev. F. B. Meyer.

A Sunday-School Conference.

Bro. G. W. Bachman asked several preachers and laymen to meet him in Columbus recently to consider Sunday-school matters. Three vital questions were presented and freely discussed. First, Home Department; second, Teachers' Meetings; third, "Rally Day." These all are important, and we readily acknowledge their practicability.

Bro. Bachman has some wise and timely suggestions pertaining to them. It would be well to have similar meetings in every district (two or three in a district) to exchange views, devise plans, and inspire one another. The number attending and studying Sunday-school literature ought to be increased one hundred per cent. All of us leaders need to be better qualified to influence, direct, and instruct the old and the young in the Word of God.

The meeting at Columbus was enjoyable and helpful.

J. M. WYATT.

West Point, Miss., Oct. 20, 1900.

How to Organize Our Sunday-Schools into Missionary Societies, and How to Secure Contributions.

(The following was read at The Missionary Institute of the Forest district at Pelahatchie, on the sixteenth, and the presiding elder requested that it be printed in the ADVOCATE.)

These organizations are altogether dependent on the pastor for their existence. The same as other church work, they will prosper or fail according to the interest he takes in them, and it is important that we should study very carefully the best methods of organization, for, when well organized, the pastor can with much less difficulty keep up the interest and continue the work. If the proper persons could be secured for officers, and our people were all in the same financial condition, we would urge an organization, with officers, generally found in other societies, and have monthly meetings for the transaction of such business as might become necessary, and collect monthly dues; but if the pastor could not always meet with them, the interest would die and the societies be gone.

I think the following objections are plausible, and especially in a district like ours: The assessment would be far below the ability and, in some instances, the willingness of the members to pay, and we are opposed to anything placing any limit on the contributions of people who are able and willing to pay. And another objection we must consider is, that we have some of the poorer class who are not able to make regular contributions, and they would stay away from Sunday-school on this account. Then there are other plans that, if carried into practical use, would secure larger sums. Now, the thing we wish to consider is the plan that will secure the most money and create the greatest interest for missions.

The pastor must feel that the success of the work depends entirely on his efforts. He must be full of zeal for the cause of missions, and not in the least afraid to take up a collection; and he, thus filled with the spirit of missions, "which means the spirit of Christ," is prepared to enlighten and awaken in his superintendent the same interest; and if he finds that this can't be done, it is his duty to remove at once from office such man and fill the places with those who will take the proper interest in the work. Having done this, he should explain fully to the school the object of these societies—just what is to be done with the funds paid by them, that it goes for missions only. He should preach to the schools on the subject, and furnish them with leaflets and tracts on missions. Then he should have every school to organize themselves into missionary societies by a rising vote, so as to have everyone stand committed in favor of the same. And he should see to it that the monthly collections are taken on his regular preaching days, and he should be there and make short talks to the schools. If it only be a few words, it will add to the interest of the meeting, and by this it affords him an opportunity to contribute to missions every Sunday. Having done this, there is nothing to do but to take the collections regularly, and the only form he needs is to have the secretary of the Sunday-school to make a note of the amount and report as such. The pastor can no more afford to neglect these organizations than he can the school, the Woman's Missionary Society, or even the organized church itself. It is important that the pastor impress those who are able, that liberal contributions are expected of them, and those who are not able to pay much, that God does not despise the day of small things; that in many instances the smallest contribution from the poorest boy or girl moves his great heart of love, and is pleasing in his sight. The pastor must not think that his work is ended when the organization is perfected, nor can he afford to leave it all to the superintendent, for the average superintendent will neglect it. It requires his persistent, faithful care and help to make it a success. The following are some statistics from Forest district for this year up to Sept. 15:

Name of Charge.	No. of Churches.	No. of S. Ss.	No. of S. S. M. S.	Amt. paid.
Forest	5	5	44	$ 6 88
Newton and Hickory	2	2	10	6 00
Marion	1	1	13	3 00
Hillsboro	1	1	14	3 00
Rose Hill	1	1	12	2 75
Trenton	1	1	11	2 75
Decatur	2	2	37	7 54
Lake	1	1	5	2 00
Vossburg and Heidelberg	2	2	18	4 00
Walnut Grove	1	1	13	3 00
Carthage	2	2	30	7 50
Raleigh	1	1	13	3 00
Indian Mission	1	1	20	5 00
Shiloh	1	1	30	7 50
Chunky	1	1	25	6 00
Neshoba	1	1	30	7 50
Total	23	22	325	$101 82

"Least Said, Soonest Mended."

Be brief. Bad blood means illness. Good blood means cheerful, active men and women and strong, hearty offspring. Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine, contents itself with few words, but it mends broken constitutions, because it purifies the blood, and prepares the body with a systematic defense against disease.

Tired, Headaches—"My disease was one familiar to all women—tired in the morning and had continuous headache. Three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla caused the headache and tired feeling to disappear." Mrs. Josephine Rodier, 525 N. Alfred Street, Alexandria, Va.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AMMUNITION, BASKETS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, ALARM TILLS, BLACKING, BURNERS, BUNGS, CHURNS, CUTLERY, COFFEE MILLS, DRIP PANS, ENAMELED STEELWARE, Fishing Tackle, Selnes, Furnaces, GALVANIZED WARE, GLASS LAMPS, GOBLETS, TUMBLERS, Handles, Inks, Japanned Ware, KEGS, LADDERS, LANTERNS, MATCHES, MEASURES, NAIL PULLERS, OIL CANS, OARS, PAPER, PIPES, PADLOCKS, ROPE, RULES, SCALES, SIEVES, SOAPS, SAUCEPANS, STATIONERY, STONEWARE, TACKS, TRAPS, WINES, Tinware, Whips, Wicking, WOODENWARE, Etc.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days. Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

25 CTS FISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

I find that there are twenty-seven churches in our district without Sunday-schools; eleven Sunday-schools that are not missionary schools. Last year we had 56 Sunday-schools in the district and paid $87.44; this year we have 55 Sunday-schools and paid $101.82—increase of $14 38, some improvement, but not like it should be. Our district is assessed for foreign missions $1,200. If the 55 schools would each pay $2 per month, this would give us $1,320 for the year. There is not a school in the district (outside the Choctaw mission) that can't pay this amount. Brethren, are we not playing with missions? May the Lord help us to do better!

Your brother,

W. M. SULLIVAN.

Vossburg, Miss., Oct. 20, 1900.

LETTER FROM REV. IRVIN MILLER.

I have returned from assisting Bro. L. J. Jones in his last protracted meeting for Decatur circuit, held at Good Hope Church. It was the third quarterly-meeting occasion, and Bro. Mellen, the presiding elder, was present and preached two very able doctrinal sermons—one Saturday on "Infant Baptism," and one Sunday on "Why I Am a Methodist." The Quarterly Conference, on Saturday, showed the finances well up, and was remarkable for the Christian spirit in which it was held. The meeting continued until Wednesday night, and, I think, resulted in great good, although there were no accessions. The church, which is very weak at this point, was greatly revived, and some reclamations which will be useful to the church. A great many not members of our church attended and enjoyed the meeting, and dispensed their hospitality to the preacher freely. Bro. Barney Lewis, of Chunkey circuit, was with us and did some able, faithful preaching, and I believe the good seed sown during this meeting will bring forth fruit later on. Sickness in the community interfered very much with the meeting.

IRVIN MILLER.

Walnut Grove, Miss., Oct. 13, 1900.

The soul and body are as strings of two musical instruments, set exactly at one height; if one be touched, the other trembles. They laugh and cry, are sick and well together—Flavel.

Items from the Field.

NOTES FROM REV. C. M'DONALD.

After a pleasant stay of seven weeks at Providence, we returned to the parsonage. There is now some serious sickness in the charge. For many years this section of country has been very steady—the circuit very near the same; but this year there is a disposition to move to the G. and S. I. R. R., and also I. C. R. R. We have lost in this way some of our members, and are soon to lose others, some of them being among our strongest and best members. Their influence for good will be felt in their new homes. We hope to bring up full reports at Conference.

C. MCDONALD.

Tryus, Miss., Oct. 22, 1900.

REPORT FROM REV. J. H. ROGERS.

I am glad to be able to report that my work is moving on well. We are now through with our protracted meetings, seven in number. We have had good meetings at every church. Sinners were convicted and mourners were converted in the old-time way at the altar, and the church membership has been wonderfully built up. The Lord has been with us in great power. We have had seventy-five conversions in the charge, and fifty-five accessions to our church this year. This gives us a membership of six hundred and twenty. With this large membership we ought to do great things for the Lord. The possibilities of this charge are great. We are building a new church at one point; the lumber is being placed on the ground. We are anxious to get it completed by Conference.

Our fourth Quarterly Conference has come and gone. We had a good time on Saturday. The rain prevented us from having service on Sunday. Bro. "Gilderoy" gave us an excellent sermon. My people are delighted with him. They would be glad for him to stay on this district (Grenada) four years. He is the right man in the right place. He is wise, consecrated, and thoroughly awake to all the interests of the church. Pray for us.

J. H. ROGERS.

Paris, Miss., Oct. 19, 1900.

The Pen in the Hand is worth two in the Mind.

If you have "a good mind to write to Dr. Pierce" take pen in hand and begin. Then you'll avoid the experience of Mrs. M. P. Davis, of Honaker, Russell Co., Va. She writes:

"For seven years I was confined to bed most of the time. I had ulceration of internal organs and female weakness. I had four doctors and they said I could not be cured.....After the doctors said I could not be cured I wrote to Doctor Pierce for advice.....I followed the advice he gave.....I feel better than I ever did. My friends say I do not look like the same woman. I am sorry I did not take Dr. Pierce's medicine when I first began to have poor health. I could have saved what I paid to humbugs."

No one ever regretted writing to Dr. Pierce for advice. Many have regretted not writing sooner.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free, and so obtain the opinion and advice of a specialist in diseases peculiar to women. All correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to defray expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth. Address as above.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS. UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY. Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O. Mention this paper.

BELLS

Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La. In Session The ENTIRE YEAR. STUDENTS May enter At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.

☞ A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.

Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain.

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Read What Is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Maillalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault Minn.

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change....

DIRECT LINE TO Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr. E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt. DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice. BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent. Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D. C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R. R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R. R.

TO Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati, AND TO ALL POINTS North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers.

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A. J. R. WELLS, C. P. A. GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A. R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A. New Orleans, La.

YOU SAVE $40

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the WELLINGTON has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent Congress Street, Jackson, - - - - Miss

H. I. HOLDEN, Assistant Salesman, 416 West Capitol Street, Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to H. I. HOLDEN, 416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss., and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is the essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce all proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to November, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to December, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewals in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, - - - $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1900.

The Christian who is not conscious of any faults is to be pitied.

There is no music equal to the melody of an approving conscience.

Far more real joy is to be found in providing enjoyment for others, than in seeking it for one's self.

In the eyes of some silly, ultra-fashionable people a breach of propriety is a more heinous offense than a breach of the Decalogue.

The minister who does not "condescend to men of low estate" without trace of arrogance is not likely to be a successful fisher of men.

Nobody thinks strange of the man who gets wrought up over politics; yet how harsh and contemptuous ofttimes are the criticisms hurled at the man who becomes wrought up over the sins of his community, and heroically sets to work to rescue the perishing and to put evil-doers to flight.

Among the worst enemies to the spirituality and growth of any church are the Pharisaic folk who regard the church mainly in the light of a club, who despise the poor, and treat with patronizing airs church members who do not belong to their set. True Christian fellowship is something they neither understand nor desire.

FIDELITY GRANDER THAN FAME.

Never were industry, integrity, and capability surer of reward than in this age. It not infrequently happens, however, that individual incorruptibility and faithfulness fail to win the attention and success that such qualities so richly deserve. While in the long run the cause of righteousness always triumphs, many of its faithful advocates die without having received the promise, or the encouragement of present victory. Such failure, however, is only seeming. "None ever fail who die in a good cause."

"Courage, brother, do not stumble,
Though thy path be dark as night;
There's a star to guide the humble;
Trust in God, and do the right."

A RELIGIOUS CENSUS.

The New Orleans Parish Sunday-school Union is now actively preparing to take a religious census of the city. In this laudable undertaking, all the Protestant denominations represented here will co-operate; Thanksgiving Day having been fixed as the day upon which to begin the work, which is to be done entirely by volunteers. As the number who have thus far volunteered their services is far from being sufficient for the complete success of the undertaking, we trust that many other Christians will respond promptly to the call for canvassers. It is too important a movement to be allowed to fail. A cordial invitation will be extended by the canvassers in their rounds to the non-church-goers to attend church and Sunday-school. After the canvass has been completed, and the denominational preferences of the people have been ascertained, the various Protestant pastors will follow up the work with personal visits to the homes of the churchless and indifferent. If faithfully carried out, the project is likely to be productive of great good.

RAILROADING CANDIDATES INTO THE CHURCH.

Some Methodist pastors, we regret to say, are guilty of the reprehensible practice of railroading candidates for church membership into the church—that is, of receiving them immediately upon application without taking time to instruct them as regards our rules and discipline, and without taking pains to ascertain the genuineness of their repentance. In consequence of such undue and unwise haste in this matter, every now and then persons are admitted into the church who are neither in earnest nor in thorough accord with Methodist teaching and polity. A general idea of what Methodism stands for is very different from a clear recognition of the vital principles which she advocates and emphasizes.

We do not overstate the matter when we say that sometimes applicants are received into full membership who have never read our General Rules, and who are totally ignorant as to what responses they should make to the questions which are put to them publicly by the pastor. What sort of members can we expect candidates to make who thus hurriedly assume the sacred vows of the church without really knowing what is expected of them, and without being given opportunity to test their supposed repentance? It is certainly not edifying to hear the parrot-like responses after the pastor which not infrequently characterize the reception of members into the church.

Unless those who desire to unite with the church are thoroughly impressed beforehand with the importance of the step they are about to take, and are made familiar with our tenets, rules and ritual, it will be a difficult matter afterward to induce them to consider these things sufficiently. While the candidate is under conviction, or rejoicing in new-found peace, is the time of all others to instruct him fully regarding the duties and privileges of church membership, and to induct him into Christian service. It seems to us that a good deal of the disloyalty and indifference perceivable among us is due to the woeful neglect of catechetical instruction previous to the admission of young people into the church. The time of one's uniting with the church ought to be made a solemn and impressive occasion. Many of our pastors ought, by all means, to give more attention than they do to preparing candidates for the eventful hour when they are taken into the fellowship of the people of God.

Far better is it for the pastor to keep a candidate waiting one or two weeks, or even a month, in order that he may have opportunity to talk with and pray with him or her, than that such an one should be taken into the church prematurely. Our Baptist friends are fond of throwing it up to us that we constantly receive unconverted people into the church. According to the admission of some of their leading men, however, the Baptist Church is by no means free from unconverted people. What our pastors ought ever to guard against is not the taking in of unconverted people, but of persons who are not truly repentant, and who are ignorant of Methodist doctrine and requirements as well as of the true meaning of consecration.

'But," says some one, "if we keep a candidate waiting, it will discourage him, and probably drive him back into the world." If the candidate is really in earnest, we need not fear that such a result will follow, unless the pastor is shamefully neglectful of him. Religious conviction that gives signs of vanishing in one or two weeks is not of the kind that makes desirable church members. People who have to be "railroaded," as it were, into the church, lest they back out, or join some other church, are not only of questionable worth, but in some cases do us positive harm.

While a return to the six months' probation plan formerly in force among us is inadvisable, both duty and expediency demand that we avoid the other extreme of unseemly and hurtful precipitancy in the administration of church vows.

Of course, there are exceptionable cases where a pastor is fully justified in receiving an applicant into the church instantly. He ought to be very sure, however, that the candidate has intelligent knowledge of the nature of the vows he assumes, and that he is not acting under a mere momentary impulse.

IT STANDS FOREVER.

Time and again skeptics and agnostics have gravely announced that they have discovered the Bible to be a mere book of fables, full of contradictions and inconsistencies, and have predicted that Christianity would soon become an effete and forceless religion. But, despite the fierce and ceaseless attacks made upon it, the Word of God still abides unharmed, and has proved itself to be "an impregnable rock." Never was the Word of God so influential and triumphant as now.

Said Dr. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, of the M. E. Church, recently, in speaking of the popularity of the Holy Scriptures:

"If anybody says to you that the Bible is not read nowadays, ask him if he knows how many copies of the Bible are printed every year, and how many copies it takes to supply the world's demand. The American Bible Society sends out over a million and a half; the British and Foreign of Great Britain sends two and a half times as many, or three million and a half; and there are multitudes of houses publishing the Bible at the rate of millions per annum, so that the entire output of Bibles any given year is ten million copies. There are a great many popular books printed in our day, mostly stories and things of that sort, and large editions of them are published, too. But if you will take the five most popular books that came from the press last year and add up the sum total of their copies, you will find the number of Bibles issued in the same year at least four times as great. And there is this difference between them: A year after those five books are pretty well forgotten. Do you know anybody who is reading 'Trilby' nowadays? Do you know anybody who is sitting up nights to read 'Ships That Pass in the Night'? Those books were popular once, but nobody is reading them now. You can get copies of them cheap in second-hand book-stores. But the same year they were printed there were ten million Bibles sent out, and the year after, when they had stopped printing these other books, there were ten million more Bibles sent out in three hundred and twenty-five different languages. And there are ten million Bibles going out this year, for ten million Bibles are necessary every year to supply the world's demand."

A NEW BOOK.

PAUL OF TARSUS. By Robert Bird, author of "Jesus, the Carpenter of Nazareth." 8 vo. Cloth. 515 pages. Price, $2. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons.

In this volume the story of the life of the Apostle Paul, from his infancy at Tarsus down to his martyrdom at Rome, is given in realistic form and coloring, and with charming beauty of style, the biographical outline furnished by the Scriptures being skillfully filled out with material gleaned from the history, geography, and literature of his birthplace, and of the various countries connected with his career. In thus picturing St. Paul amid ever-changing environment, and with life-like fullness of detail, the author has attempted a most difficult task, but it must be admitted that his effort has been remarkably successful. So far as we are able to judge, the continuous narrative here given accurately and truthfully mirrors the life and times of St. Paul, as well as his varied surroundings.

Says the author in the Preface: "This Life of Paul of Tarsus is written with a fresh aim, and on a new plan. It is intended to be read with the interest of biography and the accuracy of history, in which thoughts, scenes, and events are woven into one. No artist has ever made of Paul a great picture. A controversialist and theologian by long training, his outline is difficult to draw; and yet his travels and writings are half the New Testament. . . . In this book I would present to young readers the living figure of Paul—not so much as the inspired teacher that has often been done, but as the Pharisee whose life was changed at thirty from a fierce and violent hater of Jesus to an ardent lover, who bore the scars of his old life, and lamented them to the end."

Though written primarily for young people, the volume is one that will be read with great delight and profit by older persons as well. A flood of light is thrown upon the varied scenes, events and experiences in the life of the greatest of the apostles. The narrative abounds with vivid description, interesting historical facts and incidents, and with Scripture truth. We regard it as a most admirable and helpful volume. It is a book that not a few ministers could read with enjoyment and profit. For the convenience of the reader, it is divided into short chapters. For sale by F. F. Hansell & Bro., Ltd., 714-716 Canal St., New Orleans.

FOOT-BALL.

In a recent issue of the Texas Christian Advocate there is an account of a foot-ball game which was played by the Vanderbilt team with a team from the University of Texas. All honor to Dr. Rankin for his brave words in condemning the game. For brutality, for training the animal nature of man, for violating the laws of the Christian Sabbath, foot-ball is without an equal among all the recent sports of college boys. This great game was played at Dallas, Texas, on Saturday, and necessitated a violation of the Sabbath if the Vanderbilt boys got back to their classes in time for the Monday recitations. What a pitiable plight they must have been when they got back to Nashville! Bruised, battered, beaten, and brutal in their aroused feelings, they were in no condition to study. In addition to all this add the loss of time, the loss of strength which should have been reserved for nobler pursuits, the loss of money, and not infrequently the loss of manhood occasioned by the diversions and dissipations of such games, and you have a picture that may well arouse the gravest apprehensions of all parents and teachers!

But the shameful part of this whole business is that our leading Christian school should be the most prominent promoter of this harmful diversion. Think of it! The school of the prophets in Methodism was famous, not so much for its scholarship, not so much for the high character of its teachers, but for having the best foot-ball team in the land. Against such sinful diversions I enter my most solemn protest. A Christian college should not promote any such wrongful use of time, money and energy. It is established to make men, and men are great in mind, not in brute force. Let us have done with all such pugilism.

T. W. LEWIS.

PAY YOUR PREACHER.

In two cases out of every three the amount assessed for the support of Methodist ministers is less than a comfortable living. Even if they were to get every cent of it, they would still find it necessary to practice the most rigid economy in order to avoid the inconvs of debt. But in a great many cases they do not get all that is promised. The result is actual hardship of the most serious character.

In the first place, let us say with the greatest imaginable emphasis that the minister's salary is not a charity, but a debt. This is the ground on which the Scriptures put it. The laborer is worthy of his hire. For the service which he renders he is entitled to receive an adequate return. To turn him into a pauper who ought to be satisfied with any miserable dole that is thrown to him is to degrade both him and the church.

It is also worth affirming that it takes just as much to properly feed and clothe the family of a minister as any other family of the same size. The current notion that he can make a dollar go further and do more than a layman can is without foundation in fact. At any rate, the only reason for believing it is this: that so many ministers have been forced by the stinginess or the thoughtlessness of their flocks to make the experiment, and have contrived somehow or other to live through it. But only God knows what it has cost them in the way of pinching economies—endured silently and without bitterness for Christ's sake.

If a minister is to throw his whole soul into his work, he must be freed from secular cares. How can he give himself up to continuous and fruitful study when the pantry and the purse are both empty, and there is no prospect that either will speedily be filled? The age of miracles is past. The ravens no longer feed the prophets of God by the brook, nor the angels under the juniper tree in the desert. It is as much the duty of the church to undertake this task as to pray and go to preaching. The genuineness of any man's piety may fairly be called in question, if he refuses or fails, on being properly instructed, to meet his obligations in this regard.

A deficit of one hundred dollars in a minister's salary may be a heavy burden for him to bear. With this additional amount, which he had a just right to expect, he could pay all his debts, get himself a new suit of clothes for Conference, and have a small sum left to start him in his next appointment. Without it he may go behind with his grocer and his dry goods merchant, and subject himself to the charge of being indifferent about his finances. In any case, it would be much easier for three hundred members to distribute the amount among themselves and pay it than for one man to lose it all. When we think of the cool indifference with which so many of our congregations repudiate their promises year after year, and this, too, in spite of the fact that they are abundantly able to pay them, we wonder that God is so gracious to them.—Nashville Advocate.

NOTES.

See our $1 offer on the fifth page.

***

Georgia negroes are said to own property worth $14,076,489.

***

First Church, Jackson, Miss., has subscribed $2,853 to the Twentieth Century Fund.

***

The condition of Rev. Sam P. Jones is said to be improving, and he hopes soon to be able to resume work.

***

The first edition of Dr. S. P. Richardson's autobiography has been exhausted. Another will be issued at once.

***

Our offer of a New Testament free will hold good until the first of December. See offer on another page.

***

Searching sermons on honesty are sadly needed in this day of tax dodging, speculation, peculation, and mammonism.

***

Sixty-three years ago the Baroness Burdett-Coutts inherited £1,800,000, since which time she has distributed in charity at least £1,000,000.

***

Mr. Washington Duke, of North Carolina, it is stated, has made the largest gifts to the cause of Christian education of any native Southerner.

***

Our brethren of the M. E. Church have secured twelve million dollars of the twenty million they have undertaken to raise as a Twentieth Century Thank-offering.

***

John J. Tigert, Jr., a son of Review Editor John J. Tigert, won the fifty-dollar prize offered for the best entrance examination in Latin and Greek at Vanderbilt University.

***

Mr. S. M. Sayford, the well-known and highly successful college evangelist, has returned to general evangelistic work, and has already a number of engagements for the Fall and Winter. Fortunate is the college that secures his services for a meeting.

***

The American Bible Society has received from Rev. John R. Hykes, D. D., its agent in Shanghai, a complete list of the Protestant missionaries known to have been killed since the beginning of the Boxer movement on Sept. 5. The dead and missing, including women and children, number 178.

***

We had the pleasure this week of greeting and conversing at some length with that affable and scholarly gentleman, Dr. J. Magruder Sullivan, of Centenary College, who, with his family, is making a short visit to friends in this city. He reports that affairs at old Centenary are moving on smoothly and satisfactorily.

***

Rev. Dr. W. H. Milburn, the distinguished chaplain of the United States Senate, was placed on the superannuated list at the late session of the Illinois Conference. As an expression of their love and appreciation, the brethren of the Conference took up a collection amounting to $150 for the Blind Man Eloquent.

On his return from England Bishop Hendrix brought with him a document of great interest to American Methodists—namely, the original manuscript of the journal which John Wesley kept during the two years he spent in America. Several unsuccessful attempts had previously been made to bring this highly prized document to America.

***

In a recent letter to the Wesleyan Advocate, Rev. Geo. R. Loehr writes that our Anglo-Chinese College at Shanghai opened for the Fall session on Sept. 12, with about one hundred pupils in attendance, which is about one-half the usual number. He further says that for many years this college has had more students than any other in Shanghai, and that it still enjoys that reputation.

***

Be it said to the credit of the Hazlehurst (Miss.) bar, that not one of the members thereof will defend a man charged with selling "blind-tiger" whisky. Their example is eminently worthy of imitation by the lawyers in every other town where local option prevails. If the members of the legal profession, generally, would maintain such an attitude toward illicit whisky selling, it would do no little to put a check upon the evil.

***

The Methodist pastors of Macon, Ga., have been conducting a tent meeting in East Macon, with gratifying results. The Macon Telegraph quotes Dr. Pinson, the pastor of Mulberry Street Church, as saying of the services on a certain Tuesday night: "I never saw such a meeting. It looked as if the entire community had professed conversion. I believe there were at least one hundred at the altar at one time, and many joined the church."

***

An intelligent and loyal Methodist lady at Blairstown, La., in renewing her subscription to the ADVOCATE, says: "I stopped the ADVOCATE, thinking I would take some religious paper that the entire family would read. When the ADVOCATE's visits ceased, I felt like a traveler cut off from communication with his family. I concluded that for a real live church member to do without his church paper, would be like sailing a battleship without its national flag."

***

Is it not passing strange that parents who profess to love their children, and who lavish upon them every attention so far as their bodily wants are concerned, should be utterly indifferent about their spiritual needs and well-being? Is not a splendid gem far more precious than its setting? Is not a lovely flower of far more value than the earthen pot that contains it? Likewise is not the spiritual culture of the young of infinitely greater importance than the comfort and adornment of their bodies?

***

We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the marriage of Miss Ruth Featherstun, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. Walter Featherstun, to Dr. Henry Fletcher Tatum, which happy event will take place at high noon on Thursday, November the eighth, in the Methodist Church, Brookhaven, Miss. The bride, who is a daughter of the energetic and scholarly presiding elder of the Brookhaven district, is quite an attractive and highly accomplished young lady, and fortunate indeed is the young man who has won so valuable a prize. May their wedded life ever be full of sunshine and joy. The couple expect to reside in Meridian, Miss.

***

For several years Mr. Charles Broadway Rouss, the famous merchant prince of New York, has offered a standing reward of $1,000,000 to any person who would restore his eye-sight. About five years ago he went blind, and, although over three hundred specialists have done their best on the case, their efforts have been unavailing. A few weeks ago the daily papers contained the pathetic announcement that Mr. Rouss had given up all hope of recovering his sight, and that he had withdrawn his offer. No doubt Mr. Rouss would gladly give all he possesses if only he could recover his lost vision. The man or woman who is in vigorous health, and who has two good eyes, even though he or she may not have a dollar in the world, has no little to be thankful for. How true it is that the best blessings can not be bought with gold!

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

The 20th Century Movement.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS,
Conference Secretary of Education.

The total amounts from beginning of movement up to date, as reported to the Conference Secretary of Education, are as follows:

Formerly reported	$ 6 956 25
Yashoba Ct.... Increase	1 45
Hillsboro Ct.... "	4 50
Tranquil Ct.	31 50
Chunky	8 00
Binnsville	23 25
Fannin	14 50
Carthage	1 00
Benton and Midway	37 00
Green's Creek	98 75
Pecatawpa.... Increase	20 80
Middleton	5 40
Winchester.... Increase	8 95
	$ 7,211 35

DELINQUENT IN SENDING REPORT.

The following charges have made no report to me: First Church, Jackson, Brandon, Sharon, Camden, Lake City, Yazoo Circuit, Vicksburg, South Vicksburg, Edwards, Bolton, Rocky Springs, Hermanville, Flora, Port Gibson, South Side, East End, Porterville, Waynesboro, Wayne Mission, McComb City, Crystal Springs, Hazlehurst, Magnolia, Whitestown, Bogue Chitto, Mt. Carmel, Westville, Caseyville, Adams, Wesson, Beauregard, Providence, Americus, St. John, Whittington, Bay St. Louis, Pearlington, Purvis, Columbia, Hattiesburg, Galloway, Vancleave, Williamsburg, Leaksville, East Covington, Moss Point, and all of the Natchez district. If the pastors of these charges will fill out and send me "Form D" by Nov. 15, I can then make to Dr. Hammond something like a complete report for the whole Conference.

It is not any pleasure to the Secretary to be making out such a list as the above; but it is the easiest way he knows of asking the pastors for their reports. There is not the time for writing to each one. As the brethren report, the names of their charges will be erased from the above delinquent list. If after this appeal there is still no word, I may kindly write to each; and then, if I do not hear, I shall be inclined to ask Dr. Hammond or the Bishop to get some one else to take the job of Conference Secretary of Education.

It is hoped that the collection of unpaid subscriptions will be attended to at once. And where there are amounts that can not be paid by Conference, let legal notes be given payable to "R. W. Millsaps, Treasurer of the Board of Education."

Rev. B. F. Jones, of Hattiesburg, is making some plans to have a Twentieth Century Rally the second Sabbath of November. Hattiesburg should take a place among the foremost of the Conference in her contributions to this great cause.

Rev. D. C. Langford writes that he expects to get more offerings from the Trenton charge than he has yet reported.

The brethren of the ministry should remember to place their own subscriptions made at Vicksburg last December in the roll-books of their respective pastoral charges.

One brother pastor, who regrets that his report is so meagre, writes: "I have done the best I could, dear brother. I would, if I could, have written $1 per member, or more. I would have felt ashamed of this report if I had not stressed the great movement. The cry of this people is: (1) 'We are too poor and can not pay the assessment.' And I have failed to convert them. (2) 'If I pay, it will do good only to the rich, who are able to educate without our help.' These are the principal offsets. Of course, I think I have met all these offsets, but how true is that old adage,

"'Convince a fool against his will,
He's of the same opinion still.'"

Storm Sufferers' Fund.

Previously reported	$49 70
Algiers Methodist Church	7 80
Total	$57 50

To Whom It May Concern.

MR. EDITOR: I send you a photograph of Rev. Elijah Steele, taken from a portrait of his in the possession of Mrs. Martha Steele, at Rockport, Miss., by Miss Etta McDonald of Tryus, Miss. If any person should like to have photographs like this they could be sent for 20 cents each.

Kindly, C. MCDONALD.
Tryus, Miss., Oct. 22, 1900.

FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

It has been brought to the attention of this paper that a baking powder is offered for sale here which contains alum.

Alum is unfit for food, producing indigestion, alum heart, sallow complexion, constipation and attendant ills. It is not fair to our people that such a substance disguised as a baking powder should be sold in order to allow a maker or a grocer a little more profit, regardless of the health of the family.

Good baking powder costs about forty-five cents a pound. Alum baking powder is sold for twenty-five cents a pound or less. The difference in cost between a good and wholesome baking powder and an alum powder would not exceed a dollar for a whole year's supply. People are very foolish to take the risk and suffer ill health for the sake of a few pennies, which after all are not saved.

Good baking powder is one of the most useful things in the household, and we seriously urge our readers to save their health, and money also in the end, by insisting upon having a good brand like Royal, Dr. Price's or Cleveland's.

If requested to do so by our subscribers, we will publish the name of the Alum baking powder sold here.

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."
REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss.
EDITOR.

We are glad to give place for the following very encouraging report from the West Point League:

"Instead of disbanding or going into Summer quarters during the midsummer heated term, we seemed to take a new lease on life; added a number of excellent new members, and did not miss a single Tuesday night meeting, except during our revival services, when we yielded our time to regular preaching services. We stress the Literary feature according to the Chautauqua plan, and have a good class of wide-awake, intellectual Leaguers, who have begun the Reading Course with a view to a League diploma in 1903, having completed one year's work already. Ours is a harmoniously developed, 'all-round' League, each of the four departments receiving a just and commensurate proportion of time and consideration. We have purchased the new course of books, and find them to be up to the League 'high-water mark.' How important it is that we stress the thorough and systematic study of the excellent course which our League Board has provided for us! Any young person will be greatly enriched, both in mind and heart, by a thoughtful perusal of such pure, strong books. The one book, 'The Seventh Earl of Shaftebury,' is alone worth, in interest and inspiration, to any young life the full value of the entire set, as it sells in dollars and cents—yea, infinitely more, if read in the spirit of the blessed Master, who inspired and gave to suffering humanity the 'noble earl.'" (MRS.) J. M. WYATT.
"Third Vice-Pres., West Point League."

From a personal letter from Rev. S. A. Brown, pastor of the Starkville circuit, we glean the following refreshing League news:

"Doubtless you will be glad to know the Epworth League interest is being looked after in this quarter. I succeeded, a few weeks ago, in organizing a League at one of the churches on this circuit, with twenty-five members. Since then five have been added to the roll. We now have thirty young men and women enrolled, and they are active and enthusiastic. Every young man and young lady in the church (which includes all in the community) are now members of the League."

What Has Been Done Can Be Done Again.

I have just held the fourth Quarterly Conference for the Topisaw circuit, of which Rev. J. J. Golden is the preacher in charge. Missionary assessments, both home and foreign, were reported as paid in full, and almost the last dollar on all the others save the salaries. The salaries of presiding elder and preacher in charge will probably be paid in full—one church owing now less than ten dollars out of one hundred and sixty-five. This circuit consists of Topisaw, Sartins and Pleasant Grove. The two last named were last year on the Pleasant Grove circuit, which paid but $13 85 for foreign missions—about three cents per member. This year these two have paid $29.00—over ten cents per member. Last year the Pleasant Grove circuit, with its five churches and 522 members, paid its preacher $181.95: these two churches have paid almost $300. This is the condition of affairs two months before Conference. Every cent assessed will be paid.

How has this remarkable increase been brought about? The process is a simple one: Bro. Golden began at the beginning of the year to arrange for his collections. He induced some forty children to undertake the care of a missionary hen each. From these hens there has come into his missionary fund over sixty dollars. He also induced many of the adult members to agree to pay him monthly small sums ranging from five cents to twenty-five. In this way all of his "Conference collections" have been secured. The stewards caught his spirit, put more system and spirit into their work, and so his salary has been practically assured.

Bro. Golden's success has not been purely financial; he has had gracious revivals at all of his churches, and has received into his churches fifty new members. The improvement in the spiritual condition of his charge is very manifest. It suggests a spiritual significance in Mal. iii, 10. Such a significance does no violence to the old prophet's words.

The sixty or more dollars paid by the children with "the missionary hens" are the least important result of that clever expedient. Forty children have, by means of this plan, been brought into closer touch with the pastor, and into a positive realization of what it means to be church members; and, what is of most importance, have been brought face to face with the great missionary obligation, creating within them a missionary conscience.

Is there any preacher in charge who can not do what Bro. Golden has done?

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN.

North Mississippi Conference.

Obeying the instructions of our last Conference session, I wrote to all the railroads that touch our territory, asking for the adoption of the round-trip ticket system instead of the certificate plan, but at the same rate. The railroads have refused to grant the request, but will grant us the usual reduction on the certificate plan—one fare going, and one-third returning. The preachers are requested to inform all who expect to attend the approaching session of our Conference at West Point, Thursday, Dec. 6, 1900.

T. W. LEWIS.

The Committee and Class of the Third Year are requested to meet in the Methodist Church, city of West Point, Miss., Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Dec. 4, 1900. T. W. LEWIS.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

TAKE HEED!
And if you are troubled with a hacking cough, tightness in the chest, tickling in the throat,
USE
Locock's Cough Elixir.
It is unsurpassed for the relief and cure of all Throat and Lung Troubles. Coughs, Colds and Incipient Consumption yield readily to its medicinal virtues.
TESTIMONIAL.
LINDEN, ALA.
I. L. LYONS, New Orleans—
Dear Sir: Last winter I had a severe cough, pain in the chest and spitting of blood. I procured a bottle of Dr. Locock's Cough Elixir, and am happy to state that four doses relieved me entirely, and I can safely say that I think it is the best cough medicine I ever saw.
E. L. WALSTON.
Price: 50 cts. and $1 a Bottle.
I. L. LYONS & CO., Prop's,
NEW ORLEANS, LA

THE ADVOCATE FOR $1.

From now until the first of January we will take new subscriptions at the rate of $1 for eight months.

The Wesleyan Advocate, of Oct. 17, contained the following noteworthy and encouraging item: "The Holly Springs circuit gives $560 to the Twentieth Century Fund. This charge was last year a mission, and now comes forward with the most liberal thank-offering given by any charge in Georgia."

THE BARBAROUS FOOT-BALL GAME.

Last Saturday the foot-ball team of the Vanderbilt met the team of the State University at the Fair Grounds for a great contest. For an hour and a half they were mixed up in a rough and tumble set to in the presence of about two thousand spectators. Preparation had been made for the emergencies of the occasion, as though a bloody battle was impending. Surgeons, bandages, a negro porter with an ample supply of water, were in evidence, and as the game proceeded the wisdom of this arrangement was demonstrated. A number of the boys were dashed to the ground and run over and trampled under foot with bleeding noses and cut flesh. Several minutes were required to pump wind into the fallen and get them on their feet again. Heads were skinned, ankles were sprained and collar bones suffered. One Vanderbilt boy was knocked senseless for quite awhile. His ribs were fractured, chest severely cut, and his spine injured. The water, the negro, the bandages and the surgeon, were kept busy as the affair progressed. A more brutal performance was never seen on the Fair Grounds. It was more like a prize fight than anything else. Yet it was carried on under the auspices of the great University of Texas and our central church school at Nashville! Foot-ball games conducted on humane principles are all right, but when they assume the barbarous role of savage strength, exerted in the direction of skinning heads, breaking bones, dislocating limbs and injuring spines, it is time to put on the brakes. If our great schools have time to devote to such bloody performances as the one under discussion, then the course of study prescribed for the students by the faculties must be exceedingly limited. There is by nature enough of savagery in the average boy without sending him to a university to develop and acquire additional quantities of it. Such was the battered condition of the Vanderbilt boys at the end of the struggle that the humane Texan spectator did not feel like indulging in demonstrations of enthusiasm over the success of our own University team.—Texas Advocate, Oct. 18.

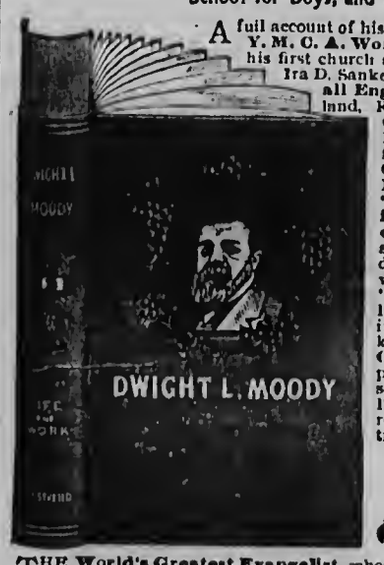
The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. MCCURDY, PRESIDENT.
Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy-holders, for whom it has accomplished results in excess of those of any similar institution.
SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,637 04
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,283 42
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 06
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,325 06
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,235 12

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY
are unassailable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or hrasses. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.
Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.
Post & Bowles. New Orleans, La
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

A Slave Holder's Daughter.
BY BELLE KEARNEY.
Cloth, 12 Mo, Fully Illustrated. $1.
This is a book which photographs the new South in contrast with the old. It deals especially with the evolution of Southern women—their surprising energy in leaping from the lap of the old, feudal, luxurious life to meet the stern realities of to-day. The author herself belongs by birthright to the old regime, while in full sympathy with the new condition. She writes from the inside, and pictures in her vivid and throbbing pages the situation down in Dixie as it relates to the people, education, the woman question, temperance, the economist, etc. All those who would have an inside knowledge of Dixie's Land as it is to-day should read it.
THE ABBEY PRESS, 114 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

LIFE and WORK of DWIGHT L. MOODY THE GREAT EVANGELIST
The Founder of Northfield Seminary, Mount Hermon School for Boys, and the Chicago Bible Institute.



A full account of his boyhood and early life. Business life in Chicago. Y. M. C. A. Work. Civil War record. Mission Work. Building his first church and Farwell Hall. Convention Work. Meeting Ira D. Sankey. Work after the great Chicago fire. Shaking all England by sermon and song. Great work in Scotland. Return to America. Great Revival in Philadelphia. Continued Evangelistic work. Great World's Fair campaign. Northfield Conferences. Northfield Seminary. Mount Hermon Boys' School. Chicago Bible Institute. Last Campaign in Kansas City. Return to Northfield. Dying words, "Earth recedes, Heaven opens; God is calling me; this is my triumph; this is my coronation day!" In his life he influenced more souls for Jesus than any other man, and in his death God called him, to place on his brow a crown with many stars. As thousands crowded the "Moody Meetings" to hear him preach while living, so now thousands read this thrilling and inspiring volume, that they may preserve and keep fresh in memory the complete record of his Great Life and Work. It contains over 400 pages and over 60 halftone engravings. A handsome volume, showing us the Boy, the Man, the Preacher, the Educator, and the Philanthropist; replete with Reminiscences, Anecdotes and Illustrations.
Bound in Art Vellum Cloth, Stamped in Four Colors, price $1.25
A copy of this thrilling and soul-stirring volume should be in every Christian home.
THE World's Greatest Evangelist, whose burning words have touched the hearts of so many thousands, has passed to his reward. His voice will no more fill large earthly auditoriums, nor elir vnal audiences, but his life stands as a monitor to the world's masses. No single figure has influenced so many minds. No single voice has touched so many hearts. No other man has done such a life-work for mankind.
We will send you this magnificent book and the best paper we can make for one year on receipt of price first named above. If you are now a subscriber, we will send the paper one year from the date your present subscription expires. Renew your subscription at once and take advantage of this liberal offer.

A First-Class Book at Half-Price.

To all our subscribers who will pay up all arrearages and pay their subscription one year in advance at the regular rate—viz., to October, 1901—we will sell a copy of the Life and Work of D. L. Moody, by A. W. Williams, at half price. The regular price, post, is $1.25. Our price, on conditions named above, is 63 cents, postpaid. The work is handsomely bound and contains over four hundred pages and over 60 half-tone engravings. Moody is universally conceded to be one of the truly great men of this century. A copy of this admirably written biography ought to be in every home. This offer will last until Nov. 15th. Don't delay.

Address
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Excursions.
The New Orleans and Northeastern railroad announces that, commencing with Wednesday, April 25, it will inaugurate the popular Wednesday excursions to St. Tammany parish, including Covington, Abita Springs, Pearl River, Slidell, and all intermediate stations.
The attractions to sportsmen, as well as the healthfulness of St. Tammany parish, are constantly increasing the popularity of these resorts.
Great improvement has been made, both by the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad and the East Louisiana railroad, in the track, which is being rapidly relaid with heavy steel rails, and in the equipment, thereby affording the excursionist the best of accommodations.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN
can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co., 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

LOOK! A STITCH IN TIME
Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic (new improved taste pleasant), taken in early Spring and Fall prevents Chills, Dengue and Malarial Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists. 50c and $1.00 bottles.

Matthew Henry's Commentary
on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.
Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.
Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied: "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.
3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 net.
Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.
Cheapest and Best Commentary
Best cloth binding—good type.
Write to
Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

New Testament Given Away.

To every subscriber now in arrears who will pay up his arrearage to date, and pay two dollars additional for his renewal for one year—to October, 1901—we will send, free of charge, a beautiful, morocco-bound, gilt edged copy of Holman's Self Pronounneing Testament, pocket size. This offer is made only to those who pay full price. Look at the label on your paper, count the months to October, 1900, and send 16⅔ cents for each month. This will pay your arrearage. Then add $2 for your renewal. Under this offer we can not give commissions to agents. This offer will last until Nov. 1. Don't delay.

W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans.

N. B.—Those of our subscribers who get the New Testament free under our special offer can also avail themselves of any and all our Bible and machine offers.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO
ST. MARK.

CHAPTER 1.

Baptism and preaching of Jesus. 16 Call of four disciples.

THE beginning of the gospel of Je'sus Christ, the Son of God;

2 As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.

5 And there went out unto him all the land of Ju-de'a, and they of Je-ru'sa-lem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jor'dan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat locusts and wild honey;

7 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8 I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

9 And it came to pass in those days, that Je'sus came from Naz'a-reth of Gal'i-lee, and was baptised of John in Jor'dan.

10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him:

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12 And immediately the spirit driveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Sa'tan; and was with the wild beasts; and the angels ministered unto him.

14 Now after that John was put in prison, Je'sus came into Gal'i-lee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,

15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

16 Now as he walked by the sea of Gal'i-lee, he saw Si'mon and An'drew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

17 And Je'sus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little farther thence, he 57

A RARE BARGAIN.

TEN VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to Nov., 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

Home Circle.

"LUCK."

BY EBEN E. REXFORD.

The boy who's always wishing
That this or that might be,
But never tries his mettle,
Is the boy that's bound to see
His plans all come to failure,
His hopes all end in defeat;
For that's what comes when wishing
And working fail to meet.

The boy who wishes this thing
Or that thing, with a will
That spurs him on to action,
And keeps him trying still
When efforts meets with failure,
Will some day surely win;
For he works out what he wishes,
And that's where "luck" comes in.

The "luck" that I believe in
Is that which comes with work,
And no one ever finds it
Who's content to wish and shirk.
The men the world calls "lucky"
Will tell you everyone,
That success comes, not with wishing,
But by hard work, bravely done.

—Central Advocate.

WOMEN WHO DRINK.

Mrs. M. L. Lake, of this city, the third vice-president of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, recently startled an audience in Philadelphia with several very blunt statements regarding the increase of the drink habit among the women of this country. The occasion was the annual meeting of the Union, one quite appropriate for the enunciation of Mrs. Lake's sentiments, and the plainness with which she made her statements gave them a force that could not have been conferred even by her responsible position. Mrs. Lake said:

At many afternoon teas, intoxicating liquor has taken the place of tea to a noticeable extent. There is where the young debutantes begin to acquire the taste for stimulants. Soon they do not care to eat unless they have their cocktails first. The rest follows as a matter of course. There is but one sure cure—stop the manufacture of intoxicating liquor. There are many women from higher classes of society going to the House of the Good Shepherd voluntarily, to get away from liquor. The number is increasing all the time, and at the woman's alcoholic ward at Bellevue, the attending nurses and physicians state that seldom a day goes by that some decent-looking woman is not brought in, or comes herself to be treated. The ratio has gone up frightfully in the past few years.

It is not to be supposed that a woman in Mrs. Lake's position would make such statements unless she knew them to be true, so, until a contradiction has been made, these utterances must be regarded as representing an actual state of fact. It is frightful, however, to contemplate the existence of such a state of things among the women of this country. Degradation among the women means degradation ten times worse among the men. When the women of a Nation become drunkards, its doom is sealed.—St. Louis Advocate.

NUTS AND FRUITS FOR BRAIN-WORKERS.

Dr. Sophie Lepper, the English food specialist, says, in speaking of the peculiarities of various foods:

Blanched almonds give the higher nerve or brain and muscle food; no heat or waste.

Walnuts give nerve or brain food, muscle, heat and waste.

Pine kernels give heat and stay. They serve as a substitute for bread.

Green water grapes are blood purifying (but of little food value); reject pips and skins.

Blue grapes are feeding and blood purifying; too rich for those who suffer from the liver.

Tomatoes. Higher nerve or brain food and waste; no heat; they are thinning and stimulating. Do not swallow skins.

Juicy fruits give more or less the higher nerve or brain, and some few, muscle food and waste; no heat.

Apples supply the higher nerve and muscle food, but do not give stay.

Prunes afford the highest nerve or brain food; supply heat and waste, but are not muscle feeding. They should be avoided by those who suffer from the liver.

Oranges are refreshing and feeding, but are not good if the liver is out of order.

Green figs are excellent food.

Dried figs contain nerve and muscle food, heat and waste; but are bad for the liver.

The great majority of small seed fruits are laxative.

All stone fruits are considered to be injurious for those who suffer from the liver, and should be used cautiously.

Lemons and tomatoes should not be used daily in cold weather; they have a thinning and cooling effect.

Raisins are stimulating in proportion to their quality.—Zion's Herald.

THE BRAVEST ARE THE TENDEREST.

In a popular magazine was related, not many months ago, an incident illustrating the tenderness of Abraham Lincoln. While paying Grant a visit at his headquarters at Corinth, Miss., he became much attached to three kittens he found there, and, when leaving, he gave orders that they should be kindly treated. It is conceded now by all that Lincoln was kind to everything and everybody. He was so much inclined to pardon soldiers for violation of army rules that his cabinet advisers often became impatient with him. It was a quality of his kindness that he could be as tender toward his enemies as to his friends. It was due to this fact that his death was almost as much lamented at the South as at the North. In this trait of Mr. Lincoln's character shines forth the true greatness of the martyred President.

The great and brave are always kind. The little and cowardly are sure to be cruel. A man displays his cruelty whipping horses, and a big boy exhibits his cowardice and cruelty by abusing a smaller and weaker companion. This boy tortures birds and bugs and other helpless creatures, and torments also his little brothers and sisters. He never takes one his size, for he is as cowardly as he is cruel. The brave boy is the one who will not give any human being or beast needless suffering. The man who has some of the pity of God in his soul will be tender in proportion as he is brave. When Captain Philip asked his brave sailor boys not to cheer when the poor Spaniards were going to the bottom of the sea, his words thrilled the world and made a hero of him forever.

"The bravest are the tenderest. The loving are the daring."—Dr. W. S. Danley, in New Century Quarterly.

KEEPING UP APPEARANCES.

None of us are without struggles, but, perhaps, those which attend our trying to keep up an appearance on a little money are, at times, the severest. Under such circumstances it is a hard struggle to exercise judgment without some bitter wounds to personal pride; yet, if we would only pause a moment and consider that those for whose flattery or emulation we are struggling are hardly worth our embarrassing efforts therefor, or that we in reality occupy much less of their passing thoughts than we foolishly imagine, we might suffer less. If one is poor or financially limited, all extravagant aims to hide such a condition are extremely foolish. Our rich friends can not reasonably expect us to cope with them in matters of living, attire or social entertainment, and we can enjoy their benefactions quite as much without straining our wits or purse strings to reciprocate the same.

The mask of wealth is a foolish cover for any face to try to assume, because it usually is a very transparent one, and at any moment liable to be removed, to the wearer's demoralization. Admitting that we are all naturally averse to betraying our straitened financial conditions, we invite still more embarrassments by assuming wealth or anything else we do not possess. Besides, there is no material loss sustained in being deserted by alleged friends to whose society money alone is a passport. Let us be whatever we are, honorably and uprightly, and avoid all foolish pretensions that may eventually prove but pitfalls for our unwary feet.—Great Thoughts.

MAKE THE CHILD'S PUNISHMENT FIT HIS OFFENSE.

The punishment should be proportioned to the offense and grow out of it as a natural consequence. A child who is lazy in the morning and persistently late for breakfast should be deprived, not of a proper amount of food, but of something he particularly likes and might have had if he had been in time, as sugar on the oatmeal, or syrup on the griddle cakes. If he has been promised that he should go for a drive, or a walk, or some expedition, and is not ready at the time for starting, he should be left behind. The bitter disappointment will teach him, as nothing else can do as effectually, the value of punctuality. If he is sent on an errand and does not return promptly, he should not be allowed to taste the nice things made with the sugar or eggs he was so long in bringing. If his errand were of some other nature, he should be made to stay alone in his own room for as long a time as he has kept his mother, or any one else, waiting. —Ladies' Home Journal.

THE BEST TIME AND COUNTRY.

"The best time to be a boy the world has ever known is just this time—just at the outstart of a great, vigorous, forceful, wisdom-loving century," writes Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of the Leland Stanford, Jr., University, in The Saturday Evening Post. "And just the best place to be a boy is right here in the United States, the one part of the earth where a boy can grow up with a reasonable chance of making the most of himself. 'America means opportunity,' says Emerson, and to the right kind of a boy this is the main thing. He does not ask help, he does not need encouragement. All he wants is a chance, and that he can find. There was never a time when men—sober, intelligent, skillful and trustworthy—were so much in demand.

"Now, to the right kind of a boy, a boy with something in him, the best advice that anybody can give is summed up in these two sentences: Keep yourself clean! Go to college!"

THE GEESE AND THEIR LITTLE JOKE.

No one thinks of a goose as a creature capable of enjoying a joke In fact, when a boy is called—good naturedly, of course—a little goose, it is intended to hint that he is something of a stupid. But it is said by Miss Frances Power Cobbe that, saving its arch enemy, the fox, no animal has a keener sense of humor than the goose. Of this she gives an instance in the practical joke played by a flock of geese upon a number of pigs. Having formed themselves into a lane, they forced the pigs to run the gauntlet, biting at them the while, in order that they might enjoy the terror and the squeals of the perplexed porkers.—Exchange.

Twenty-six thousand arrests for drunkenness a year and eight thousand imprisonments is the appalling record of one of the most enlightened of American cities. It means one arrest to every four families. What it means to the taxpayers may be reckoned from the fact that, while the fines collected amounted to less than twenty-five thousand dollars, the cost of maintaining the prisoners took from the public more than one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. The net cost to the city was, therefore, more than one hundred thousand dollars. Were it proposed to appropriate that sum for a library or any beneficent public institution, the matter would be carefully considered, lest the city be guilty of extravagance. A remedy for this yearly tribute to the city's shame and curse is much more worthy of consideration.—Youth's Companion.

COFFEE ICE CREAM.

Three pints of cream, one cupful of black coffee very strong and clear, two cupfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls arrowroot wet up with cold milk. Heat half the cream nearly to boiling, stir in the sugar and, when this is melted, the coffee; then the arrowroot. Boil all together five minutes, stirring constantly. When cold, beat up very light whipping in the rest of the cream by degrees; then freeze.

It is safe to say, from a wide acquaintance with ministers' wives, that they are not sometimes, but always, imposed upon; they are laid upon the Procrustean bed of "ought to be," and anatomical considerations vanish before the joy most people feel in the cheerful task of stretching out or lopping off one or other of the privileges which the majority of the other women in the parish possess to an unlimited degree.—A Minister's Wife, in the Ladies' Home Journal.

A NEW BREAKFAST CUP,

Or, rather, a favorite one of Napoleon's revived, is to blend coffee and chocolate together, pouring each from the pot held two feet high above the cup. It is more restorative than coffee alone, and less rich than chocolate alone.

An Oregon girl sent 15 cents to a Chicago firm which advertised for that money to send a recipe for softening and whitening the hands. This was the reply: "Soak them well in dishwater three times a day while your mother rests." The advice was worth the money.—Exchange.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address
REV. W. C. BLACK.

The Abita Springs Hotel, which was destroyed by fire a short time since, is now being rebuilt, larger and better than before. The main building is to be heated by steam, and made thoroughly comfortable for Winter as well as Summer visitors, and hereafter will be kept open all the year round. Baths and sanitary plumbing, modern and of the very best, will be among the attractive features.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

16,600 frs.
National Prize at Paris
QUINA-LAROCHE
A Ferruginous Tonic
Pleasant to the taste; assimilate quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach troubles, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.
22 rue Drouot
PARIS
E. Fougera & Co.
Agents, N.Y.

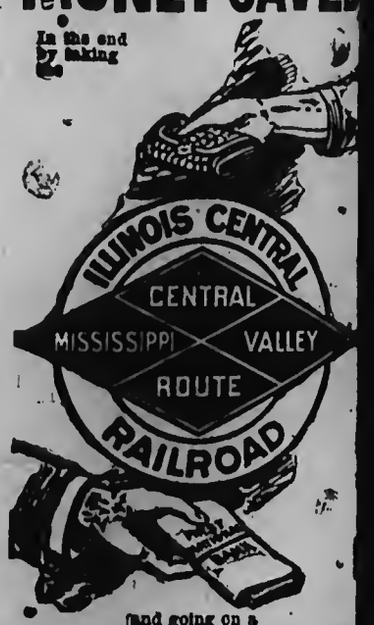
PATENTS
promptly procured, OR NO FEE. Send model, sketch or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks" FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 26 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges.
Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

DR. LELLIER'S

SUNFLOWER TABLETS.
GUARANTEED
TO CURE
MALARIA CHILLS FEVER
Sunflower Tablets is a vegetable remedy, and the surest, safest, and best malaria medicine in the world. Thousands of testimonials to prove it. Recommended by the best physicians. Sold by druggists 50 cents box or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Free sample to any address
SUNFLOWER REMEDY CO.,
American Tract Building, NEW YORK CITY.

DIPHTHERIA AND CROUP
Cured at last, also Whooping-Cough and Tonsilitis by
DR. JONES' NEW SCIENCE REMEDY.
A marvelous new discovery. Simple, Infallible, Harmless, Failure impossible. Dissolves false membrane or prevents its formation if used early. Keep it on hand for emergencies and save your loved ones. Thoroughly tried and now advertised for the benefit of humanity everywhere. Price $1.00, postpaid, with full directions. If interested, don't fail to ask for circular regarding Dr. Jones' New Science Remedies (Anti-Germ) for Asthma or Hay Fever, Rheumatism, Consumption, Eczema, and Drunkenness or the Liquor Habit. New Bacteriological Treatment, simple, scientific, Cures by killing the Germs. New trial price, 50 cents each, postpaid.
THE JONES CO., 49 COLUMBUS AVE. N. Y.

MONEY SAVED
In the end by taking



and going on a
SUMMER OUTING
To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.
A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago. WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

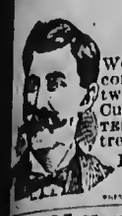
Yazoo & Mississippi Valley
RAILROAD COMPANY
SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1st.
Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STA'T Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrive
Memphis and Local.....	4:00 p. m	10:50 a. m
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:30 a. m	5:50 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.
Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Ole-Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.
Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.
W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt. A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Epworth Organs are easy to buy

Example: Style 404 is $45.00 payable as follows:—$22.50 when organ is received and approved, $11.25 in three months and $11.25 in six months. (Factory prices—no agents.) Send for catalog. Mention this paper.
WILLIAMS ORGAN & PIANO CO.
57 Washington St., Chicago



DROPSY
Treated Free.
We have made dropsy and its complications a specialty for twenty years. Quick relief. Cures worst cases. Book of TESTIMONIALS and 10 DAYS treatment FREE.
DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS,
Box K. ATLANTA, GA.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. Dr. B. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell.
MILK · DEPOT,
SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.
CONFECTIONERIES.
DELIVERY FREE.
[illegible] Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
Suite 303—New Orleans National Bank Building,
[illegible]06 Common St., New Orleans, La

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.
Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for $2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot firewood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

OBITUARIES.

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

SHULL—W. L. SHULL died at his home in Sabine parish, La., near Bayou Scie. He was born April 23, 1844, in Trinity county, Texas, and when a small boy came to Sabine parish, La., with his father and mother. His father died while he was quite young, and he lived with his mother until her death in 1861. He remained on the old place and took care of everything she left in his charge. He served three years in the Civil War, and was always found at his post. He came back home after the war, and remained in this settlement until his death. On Jan. 23, 1868, he was married to Miss Lucie M. Maines. In 1888 the people of the eighth ward chose him for their police member, and he served them well; and in 1900 they chose him again to serve them for four years more. He was always looking out for the interest of his country, and also for the interest of his neighbors who were in need. Bro. Shull was converted and joined the M. E. Church, South, in 1869, in a revival held by Rev. J. M. Franklin at Bayou Scie Church. He was a consistent Christian at home and abroad, and in the Summer of 1896, when the doctrine of holiness was being preached in his neighborhood by Rev. J. B. Williams, he sought the blessing of entire sanctification as a second work of grace, and obtained it. He loved his church, and contributed generously to its support. He had a family older even than he was converted.

Bro. Shull's last words were, "I am willing and ready to go." He passed away on Monday, Aug. 20, 1900, at 2 o'clock P. M. He left a wife and six children, three of whom are married, to mourn their loss. The youngest child is twelve years old.

He walked so close to Jesus' side,
So close that he could hear;
The softest whisper of His voice
In fellowship so dear.

T. J. HOLLADAY.

MYERS—Report of Sunday-school Committee on the death of Prof. S. A. Myers:

In offering this, our report, upon the death of our late companion and co-laborer, Prof. S. A. Myers, your committee realizes that it is more than simply difficult to express in mere words an adequate idea of the great loss we and the religious world have sustained in his removal from the church militant to the church triumphant.

In view of our loss, and in accordance with a time-honored custom, we offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the death of Prof. S. A. Myers his family is bereft of a kind, patient, loving husband and father; the cause of education an able teacher and valiant defender; the church to which he belonged, a devout, devoted member; society, a worthy, valued member, and our country at large one of its most valuable, patriotic, honest, and upright citizens; and whilst our Sabbath-school will miss his counsel, and he is no longer here to cheer and point our youth to a better life, we feel that he has been called hence for God's own great and unfathomable purpose, and that heaven is richer by his advent there.

Resolved, That in all the varied relations of life, whether at home, in society, in the school-room, Sabbath-school, church, or the busy marts of trade, he always evinced the same quiet, gentle spirit, and observed that strict decorum that characterizes a loving, trusting, mild-mannered, even-tempered follower of the lowly Nazarene; and whilst he was a Dunkard in belief, and was a worthy member of that church, he had, during his residence here of two years, worshiped and communed with us, and enlisted heartily in our Sabbath-school work, and his removal has left a vacancy that will be difficult to fill.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our Minutes, and that the secretary be instructed to send a copy to his widow and orphans, and one copy each to the Webster Signal and the NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, with a request for publication.

(Signed) W. J. REAMS, Chairman,
MRS. J. J. HOLMES,
N. M. GRIGSBY,
Committee.

Minden, La., Oct. 7, 1900.

HARLAN—LAURA MAMIE, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Elizabeth Harlan, died of pneumonia fever at the home of her parents, near St. Maurice, La., Sept. 3, 1900, aged six years.

Laura was a sweet child, devoted to her father and mother, considerate in all her actions, and, although young in years, manifested a marvelous devotion to the Sunday-school when able to attend, and to all the interests of the church. She seemed to delight in doing good, and her young life had a saving influence on her playmates. She bid fair to become a noble Christian woman. God saw fit to take her, and she sweetly passed into the arms of her loving Savior. HER PASTOR.

BOTTOM—Capt. T. A. BOTTOM, of Victoria, Miss., has gone to his reward. He was born in Cape Girardeau county, Mo., Sept. 30, 1841. He professed religion while quite a boy, and joined the M. E. Church, South, in which he developed into a rich Christian character, "full of faith and of the Holy Ghost." He was happily married to Miss Mary Hardy, of Mississippi, Oct. 6, 1866. He fell on sleep Aug. 23, 1900.

We have met with but few men who possessed as sweet a spirit as Bro. Bottom. He was always cheerful, and had a smile and a good word for everybody. There was nothing gloomy about his religion. Christ revealed himself through him, and made him "ready for every good word and work."

We miss him so much. Victoria does not seem like Victoria since he left. When at home we met him almost every day. He was always ready for everything that was pure and noble. He was an inspiration to us in our church work; often he acted as rexton. The general inquiry is, "How will we get along without him?" His aged mother died at his home just four weeks before his death, and never did a son wait on a mother with more tender devotion than he, and never did a mother have a higher regard for a son than old Sister Bottom. They loved here, and now the two live together now in heaven. He leaves a devoted companion following him, and many other relatives and friends. "The Lord buries his workmen, but carries his work on."

D. W. BANE.

MARSALIS—On Aug. 31, 1900, we saw the precious remains of little ELLA MAY, daughter of J. G. and Edith Marsalis, deposited in its final resting-place in the old cemetery at Tulip, La. How sad it was, to we who loved her, to realize that her short life of three years and nine months was completed, and that we would never more on earth behold her beautiful face, or administer to her comfort and pleasure! Following was the thought, "She needeth it no"; she is beyond all the pollutions of sin." And we turned away from the newly made mound there, feeling the sweet consolation that the little soul was safe within the gates of pearl.

Unto you, fond parents, dear grandparents, and elder, we would say: Weep not for Ella May; she is now blooming in the "realms of bliss." God does not wish all withered flowers for his garden, but some of those which seem most fair and beautiful. Life is only a suburb of heaven. Ella May is not far; just over there. May the light that now illumes your pathway so brightly continually brighten until you, too, reach the "golden city," where you will join her in the everlasting refrain, "Hallelujah!" One who loved her, N.

HUFFMAN—JOE L. HUFFMAN was born the last day of August, 1878, and died Aug. 15, 1900. At the early age of nine years he joined the Methodist Church at Topisaw under the ministry of Rev. R. S. Gale. On the fourth Sunday in October, 1899, he was united in marriage to Miss Bell Coney. Besides his wife he left his father, three sisters and a brother to mourn his death; but while they mourn, he has crossed over the river to be with his mother, who preceded him two years, lacking one day.

Joe, being the youngest of the children, was specially loved by his parents, brother, and sisters. In his death Topisaw Church lost one of its noble young men.

May God comfort and sustain the bereaved loved ones, and may they strive to enter in at the strait and narrow gate! J. J. GOLDEN.

Quinn's, Miss.

HARLAN—BETTIE BUNKUM, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Elizabeth Harlan, died of swamp fever at the home of her parents, near St. Maurice, La., Sept. 9, 1900, aged twelve years.

Bettie was very much like her sister in her devotion to her parents, though more reserved. Her constant care and thought were in relation to the welfare of her loved ones, and seemed especially fitted to comfort those around her. Bright and cheerful, always ready to speak a good word or perform a good act. Soon made friends by her winsome disposition, and had she lived, would have grown to a beautiful Christian womanhood. When taken sick she expected to follow her sister to the better world. She died trusting her Savior, and is at rest. HER PASTOR.

Catarrh Can Not Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they can not reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it, you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.
Sold by druggists; price, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The immortality of the soul is a subject in which we are all so deeply and intimately concerned, that it argues the most stupid insensibility not to make it the constant object of our reflections. All our actions and all our thoughts must take one of two different directions, according as we cherish or reject the hope of eternity, that it is impossible to act or determine rightly, unless we regulate our conduct and decisions by a continual reference to this main and primary question. Pascal.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

The enthusiast has been compared to a man walking in a fog; everything immediately around him, or in contact with him, appears sufficiently clear and luminous; but beyond the little circle, of which he himself is the centre, all is mist, error, and confusion. Charity is contented with exhortation and example—to persuade rather than persecute; but zeal has usually more of pride, and love of victory, rather than of truth. Colton.

PIMPLES
on the face, eczema, tetter, freckles, blackheads, ring worm, blotches, and all skin disorders can be cured with
HEISKELL'S OINTMENT,
Price 50 Cents a Box.
HEISKELL'S BLOOD AND LIVER PILLS
Purify the blood and tone the system.
Price 25 Cents per Bottle.
JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Philadelphia.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 23.

I was an object to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

McELREE'S
Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

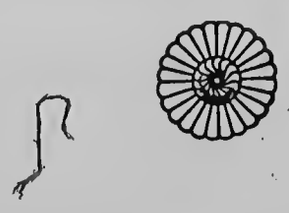
LADIES' ADVISORY DEPARTMENT.
For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, Ladies' Advisory Dep't, The CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Large Bottles for $1.00 at Druggists.

WINE OF CARDUI

W. W. Carre & Co.
LUMBER,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOB PRINTING
- - All Kinds - -
AT THIS OFFICE.



The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to November, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

DEFIANCE NO. 4.

The Defiance Machine is the perfection of simplicity, durability, speed, strength and ease of operation.

Construction. It is constructed of the best material in use, every bearing, without an exception, being of steel or case-hardened.

The Mechanical Devices of this machine are a combination of tried mechanical principles. In detail it differs materially from other machines. Its simplicity is at once apparent, and its great durability is admitted by the best mechanical experts.

The Arm is large and roomy, 8x5½ inches in the clear.

No Vibration. This machine does not vibrate. Its motion is easy and quiet.

Lock Stitch. It is a lock-stitch shuttle machine.

Speedy, Light, Quiet. It is as speedy, light and quiet-running as any shuttle machine manufactured.

Double Feed—Positive Four-Motion. The double feed possesses advantages over all others. Its very shape and form obviates all the disadvantages arising from double feeds as they have heretofore been constructed, and combines in this machine all the advantages of both the single and double feed, doing away with the objections to either of them.

The operation of the feed mechanism is positive, giving an accurate four-motion movement to the feed without the use of springs.

The Needle Bar. This machine has a self-lubricating needle-bar, which is always kept clean, well-oiled, and the oil can not drop on the work and soil it.

The Needle is absolutely self-setting. No screwdriver is required in setting, a winged thumb nut being used instead.

The machine is self-threading. Put in the bobbin, draw the thread towards you, through the slot and, it is done.

The Loose Pulley for winding the bobbins without running the machine is so constructed as to admit of an instantaneous stoppage and starting of the machine without stopping the treadle movement—a valuable improvement peculiar to this machine.

Automatic Bobbin Winder. The bobbin winder operates automatically, winding the thread on the bobbin regularly and as evenly as the thread on a spool. Can be operated without running the machine.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (4 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

Additional Accessories. Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screwdriver, Oil Can filled with oil, Cloth Guage and Thumb-screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

DEFIANCE NO. 7½.

This cut shows our new and popular style, the No. 7½ Defiance Drop Cabinet perfectly protecting the machine from dust, and making a convenient and ornamental stand. When machine is ready for use the head is in same position as on ordinary style; when through using, it requires only the turning over of the leaf of table, and the sewing machine head drops into the case or cabinet between the drawers, completely out of sight, forming a handsome table with highly polished top.

No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of one drawer at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $32. Our price, $18.

No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $34. Our price, $19.

No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $36. Our price, $20.

No. 7½ Machine, Drop head cabinet, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $38. Our price, $23.

All the woodwork is of the best quality, either Light Antique or Golden Oak Finish. For Walnut Woodwork add $2 to above list prices.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

THROW AWAY

YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of

CHILLIFUGE

will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

LaGrippe is at Home Anywhere!

No Locality Offers Safety--
Most Vicious Where Malaria Thrives.

JOHNSON'S CHILL & FEVER TONIC

CURES IT IN ONE NIGHT.

"I took laGrippe; every bone in my body began to ache, and I was compelled to go to bed. I took Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic through the night; no fever came, aching disappeared and next morning I went to business as well as ever. I have since tried it in other cases with like results.
W. W. CALDWELL, Chicago, Ill."

A. B. GIRARDEAU, Sole Manufacturer, SAVANNAH, GA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

France and Russia decided to accept the Anglo German agreement.

Gen. Young reports large additions to the ranks of the Filipino insurgents.

A shipment of $650,000 in gold has left New South Wales for San Francisco.

The evacuation of Cuba by the United States may not take place before 1902.

Washington and Lee University will offer Grover Cleveland the presidency.

Major H J. Hearsey, editor of the Daily States, New Orleans, died on Oct. 30.

It is reported that Lord Salisbury will experience difficulty in forming a new Cabinet.

English military experts are insisting upon an increase of the regular army by 50,000 men.

Gen. Buller is due at Southampton, Nov. 10. There will be a big celebration on his arrival.

Ex-President Krueger of the Transvaal is expected to reach Marseilles about Nov. 11 or 12.

English public opinion continues to manifest itself in indorsement of the Anglo-German agreement.

The Siberian provinces, usually richest in cereals, are suffering on account of the poor harvests.

Renewed activity of the Boers in South Africa has awakened in England a demand for a larger army.

It is reported from Japanese sources that the Empress Dowager of China is seriously ill at Tai Chuen Fu.

De Wet is reported to be in the northern part of Orange River Colony (Orange Free State) with 3000 men.

President McKinley has appointed Thursday, the 29th of November next, as a day of national thanksgiving.

Transvaal refugees at Cape Town will petition Queen Victoria, urging the necessity for their early return to their homes.

A plot to assassinate President Loubet of France is alleged to have been discovered. The Paris police say there is nothing in the story.

Grover Cleveland, former President, in an interview predicted a landslide to William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic candidate for President.

American competition, principally in foreign or English colonial markets, has reached such proportions that Great Britain is now thoroughly alarmed.

The British press is angrily discussing Mr. Chamberlain's alleged financial interest in numerous army and navy contracts arising from the Boer war.

Gen. Kitchener, it is said, will temporarily succeed Lord Roberts, and himself be succeeded by Major General Lyttleton, as Commander in Chief of the South African army.

A project involving the construction of not less than forty warships, most of which are for service in the Philippines, is being considered by the Board of Naval Construction at Washington.

The Filipino rebel captain, Novicio, charged with burying alive an American seaman of Lieut. Gilmore's Yorktown party, has been sentenced to death by a military commission at Balor, North Luzon.

A band of American confidence men have successfully done Berlin and other German cities, passing off Confederate $10 bills, which have been readily accepted at 40 marks each. Victims by the score are reported.

Between 50,000 and 100,000 people attended a Democratic meeting in Chicago on Oct. 27, at which Mr. Stevenson was the principal speaker. There was great enthusiasm. It is claimed it was the largest political mass meeting ever organized in Chicago.

Chairman Jones of the Democratic National Committee has written Col. Hooker of Mississippi that he believes the postoffice authorities have been systematically pilfering his mail. Col. Hooker offered his services to the Democrats to speak in doubtful States, but Chairman Jones did not receive the letter.

The constitutionality of the civil service act for the city of New Orleans, enacted by the last Legislature, has been called in question by citizens who have asked the court for an injunction to prevent the payment to men of salaries alleged to be due from the city. Suit was filed to that end yesterday in the Civil District Court.

New York City was shaken by an explosion on Oct. 29. The big drug building of Tarrant & Co. was blown up. Many people were instantly killed and a large number were seriously injured. A fire followed which destroyed three large business blocks. The chemical-laden building was hurled into the air by the explosion.

The New York City Republicans celebrated the return of Roosevelt on Oct. 26. His home coming was made the occasion for a demonstration. There were long series of receptions and electrical displays at night. Clubs paraded the streets and rallied at Madison Square, where an immense gathering was addressed by the governor, who made a characteristic speech on campaign issues.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

A Pleasant Lemon Tonic.

Cures indigestion, headache, malaria, kidney disease, fever, chills, loss of appetite, debility, nervous prostration, heart failure, and appendicitis by regulating the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys.

Mozley's Lemon Elixir

Cured me of indigestion. I had suffered for ten years. I had tried almost every medicine, but all failed. Since taking Lemon Elixir I can eat any thing I like.
W. A. GRIFFITH,
Reevesville, S. C.

Mozley's Lemon Elixir

Cured me of indigestion and heart disease, after years of suffering when all other remedies and doctors had failed.
N. D. COLEMAN,
Beulah, S. C.

Mozley's Lemon Elixir.

I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for about fifteen years, my trouble being my liver, stomach and bowels, with terrible headaches. Lemon Elixir cured me. My appetite is good, and I am well. I had taken a barrel of other medicine, that done me no good.
CHARLES GIBHARD.
No. 1515 Jefferson St., Louisville, Ky.

Mozley's Lemon Elixir

Cured me of enlarged liver, nervous indigestion and heart disease. I was unable to walk up stairs or to do any kind of work. I was treated by many physicians, but got no better until I used Lemon Elixir. I am now healthy and vigorous.
C. H. BALDWIN,
No. 98 Alexander St., Atlanta, Ga.

Mozley's Lemon Hot Drops.

Cures all Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Hemorrhage, and all throat and lung diseases. Elegant, reliable.

25c at druggists. Prepared only by Dr. H. Mozley, Atlanta, Ga.

Representative O. W. Underwood, of Alabama, in a consideration of "The Negro Problem in the South," in the October Forum, answers Gen. C. H. Grosvenor's plea against negro disfranchisement in the August issue. He asserts that disfranchisement is not a new issue, that practically the negro for twenty years has had no vote, and that existing conditions compel the white man thus to protect himself.

MARRIAGES.

LACKEY—HARMANSON.—At St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Point Coupee parish, La., Oct. 16, 1900, by Rev. J. A. Parker, D. D., Mr. John A. Lackey and Miss Lula Rose Harmanson.

VERLIN—CROWDER.—At Wool Market, Miss., Oct. 10, 1900, by Rev. G. W. Huff, Mr. Charley Verlin to Miss Lillie Crowder.

ARMSTRONG—FAYARD.—At the residence of the bride's father, Rev. Louie Fayard, Coalville, Miss., Oct. 17, 1900, by Rev. G. W. Huff, Mr. James A. Armstrong to Miss Donia Fayard.

RUNGE—FOX.—In the Presbyterian Church, Brandon, Miss., Oct. 25, 1900, at 7 P. M., by Rev. J. A. B. Jones, Mr. Wm G. Runge, agent A. and V. R. R., and Miss Katie Fox, both of Brandon, Miss.

PATTERSON—SANDERS.—In Tangipahoa, La., Oct. 24, 1900, by Rev. Thos. J. Upton, Mr. John W. Patterson, of Mansfield, La., and Miss Daisy D. Sandere, of Tangipahoa, La.

BALL—WHITE.—At the residence of the bride's father, Herbert, Miss., Tuesday, Sept. 18, 1900, by Rev. R. L. Phillips, Mr. Will B. Ball, of Jackson, Miss., to Miss Minnie White.

McBRIDE—WRIGHT.—At the residence of the bride's parents, near Ruston, La., Oct. 17, 1900, by Rev. J. H. Brown, Mr. J. E. McBride to Miss Susie Wright.

GRIGSBY—WILSON.—At the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Redwine, La., Oct. 18, 1900, by Rev. J. H. Brown, Mr. T. M. Grigsby to Miss Daisey Wilson.

THE HALL OF FAME.

The first thirty names to be inscribed on the walls of the Hall of Fame, erected in New York City, a year or two ago, through the munificence of Miss Helen Gould, have just been chosen by the committee appointed for that purpose. Only the names of Americans who are not now living were considered. As might be expected, the list is disappointing to a good many people because of the omission of some names. It would be impossible, however, in considering such a limited number of names to include everybody's favorite celebrity. Twenty names more are to be added, but they will not be selected till 1902. Following is the roll of honor in connection with the vote each name received:

George Washington, 97 (the full vote); Abraham Lincoln, 96; Daniel Webster, 96; Benj. Franklin, 94; U. S. Grant, 92; John Marshall, 91; Thomas Jefferson, 90; Ralph Waldo Emerson, 86; Henry W. Longfellow, 94; Washington Irving, 82; Jonathan Edwards, 82; David G. Farragut, 79; Samuel F. Morse, 79; Henry Clay, 74; George Peabody, 72; Nathaniel Hawthorne, 72; Robert E. Lee, 69; Peter Cooper, 68; Horace Mann, 67; Henry Ward Beecher, 66; Eli Whitney, 66; James Kent, 65; Joseph Storey, 64; John Adams, 61; William Ellery Channing, 58; James Audubon, 57; Elias Howe, 53; William Morris Hunt, 52; Gilbert Stuart, 52; Asa Gray, 51.

Praise for Native Christians

An associated press dispatch from Victoria, B. C., dated Oct. 17, states that the following letter was given by United States Minister Conger to the missionaries at Peking:

"Besieged American missionaries, one and all of you, so providentially saved from certain massacre, I desire in this hour of deliverance to express what I know to be the universal sentiment of our diplomatic corps, sincere appreciation of and profound gratitude for inestimable help which the native Christians under you have rendered toward our preservation. Without your intelligent and successful planning and the uncomplaining execution of the Chinese I believe our salvation would have been impossible. By your courteous consideration of me and your continued patience under most trying circumstances, I have been most deeply touched, and for it all I thank you most heartily. I hope and believe that in God's unerring plan your sacrifices and danger will bear rich fruits in a material and spiritual welfare of people to whom you have so nobly devoted your lives and work. Assuring you of my personal respect and gratitude, very sincerely yours,

"E. H. CONGER."

WE WILL GIVE

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

To the agent sending us the largest list of subscribers for The Ladies' Home Journal and The Saturday Evening Post up to May 1, 1901; $500 to the next largest, and so on. 764 of our agents will share in the distribution of $18,000, besides receiving a good commission for all work done.

Send for particulars

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Philadelphia

Labor troubles are beginning to manifest themselves in the manufacturing sections of the South. North Carolina has just been having a taste of this form of difficulty, which hitherto has been confined almost entirely to the North. Eight hundred mill operatives went on a strike at Haw River on account of the discharge of a female operative who belonged to a labor union. A union delegation immediately demanded that the superintendent who had discharged her be himself discharged. The company having refused to do this, the operatives struck at once, and were joined by those in two other mills. Several days afterward a notice was posted at nearly all of the twenty-five mills in Almanac county to the effect that after the fifteenth of October no labor union operative will be employed. In Almanac county alone there are said to be 7000 mill operatives.

Although California is generally regarded as the "Vineyard State," recent statistics show that New York leads in the culture of the grape; 30,000 acres, New York fruit dealers declare, being devoted to grape culture in the Keuka Lake region, and about 20,000 in the Chautauqua belt. The harvesting and packing of the present crop will require over 6,000 pickers, chiefly women, and it will take nearly 7,000 cars to transport it. Who would have believed that New York is entitled to the palm in this industry?

Think of a Quarterly Conference composed of persons who do not take a religious paper of any description! The writer found such a Conference last year, and put the body to a vote. Not a subscribing soul among them! And they will never see this paragraph unless some more progressive private loans them this copy of the Midland. And yet those same officials clamored for the sending of a certain preacher to serve them! It would be funny if it were not something else.—Midland Methodist.

A HOG

A Western editor has received the following unique letter: "Send me a few copies of the paper which had the obituary and verses about the death of my child a week or two ago. You will publish the enclosed clipping about my niece's marriage. And I wish you would mention in your local columns, if it don't cost me, that I am going to have a few extra bull calves to sell. Send me a couple of extra copies of the paper this week, but as my time is out, you can stop my paper, as times are too hard to waste money on a newspaper."—Exchange.

FREE TUITION.

The Carnegie College, of Rogers, Ohio, in order to introduce its methods of teaching by Correspondence, gives free tuition in Normal, Academic, and Business Courses to one student in each county. Those interested in securing the "Free Scholarship" should address the College.

A recent investigation showed that 93 per cent. of the inmates of the New York House of Industry were sent there for crimes resulting from the use of intoxicants.—Selected.

An appeal has been made to the laymen of the M. E. Church for 100,000 volunteers for vigorous aid in promoting a general revival.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Kossuth, at Bethel	Nov.	3, 4
Corinth circuit, at Marvin		6
Gun Town and Baldwyn, at Saltillo		10, 11
Mantachie, at Shiloh		14
Belmont, at Patterson's Chapel		17, 18
Burnt Mills, at Mt. Pleasant		20
Jacinto, at Hebron		22
Booneville circuit, at —		24, 25
Marietta circuit, at Marietta	Dec.	1, 2

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lula	Nov.	3, 4
Dubbs		10, 11
Tunica		12
Hillhouse		17, 18
Friar's Point		18, 19
Gunnison		24, 25
Rosedale		25, 26
Bolivar	Dec.	1, 2
Greenville		3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Hernando	Nov.	3, 4
Longtown		8, 9
Pt. Grove		10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's		17, 18
Wall Hill		23
Cockrum		24, 25
Tyro	Dec.	1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

DURANT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Ethel, at Tabernacle	Nov.	1
Ackerman, at Salem		3, 4
Poplar Creek, at Bethel		10, 11
Chester		17, 18
Louisville		24, 25
Rural Hill		27
Plokens	Dec.	1, 2
Durant	7 P. M.	2

T. W. DYE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Minter City	Nov	3, 4
Charleston		10, 11
Cascilla		12
Water Valley circuit		17, 18
Water Valley—Main Street		24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec.	1, 2

R. G PORTER, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov.	3, 4
Amory and Nettleton, at Nettleton		5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar		10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Soule's Chapel		17, 18
Aberdeen station		25, 26

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov.	3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt		10, 11
Carrollton, at Eden		17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead		24, 25
Indianola	Dec.	1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Potts Camp circuit, at Potts Camp	Nov.	3, 4
Olive Branch circuit, at Olive Branch		10, 11
Shawnee circuit, at Liberty		17, 18
Ashland circuit, at Ashland		20
Randolph mission, at Randolph		24 25
Abbeville circuit, at Abbeville	Dec.	1, 2
Holly Springs station		3

J. W. HONNOLL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Columbus stat'on	Nov.	4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer		10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill		17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs		23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff		24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Bariow	Nov.	3, 4
Wesley Chapel		10, 11
Jefferson Street		11, 12
Homochitto Chapel		17, 18
Washington		24, 25
Liberty	Dec.	1, 2
McNair		8, 9

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Rocky Springs, at Shiloh	Nov.	3, 4
Port Gibson		4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel		10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards		11, 12
Warren, at Wesley Chapel		17, 18
Utica, at Utica	Wed night.	21
Hermanville, at Hermanville		24, 25
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork	Dec.	1, 2
Anguilla, at Anguilla		2, 3
Satartia, at Mt. Ollvet		8, 9

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

V. and Heidelberg, at Vossburg	Sat. and Sun
	Nov.	3, 4
Rose Hill, at Paulding	Sat. and Sun	10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose	Tues.	13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville	Sat. and Sun.	17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton	Tues.	20
Shiloh, at Shiloh	Thurs.	22
N. and Hickory, at Newton	Sun. and Mon	25, 26
Chunkey, at Chunkey	Tues.	27
Lake, at Lawrence	Wed.	28
Morton, at Pelahatchie	Sun. and Mon
	Dec.	2, 3
Forest, at Forest	Sun and Mon.	9, 10

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Providence, at Georgetown	Nov.	3, 4
Adams, at Adams		10, 11
McComb City		11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood	11 a. m.	13
Gallman, at Gallman		17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson	11 a. m.	19
Wesson	7:30 p. m.	19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion		24, 25
Westville, at Magee		25, 26
Crystal Springs	7:30 p. m.	26
Tylertown, at China Grove	Dec.	1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton	10 a. m.	5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven	10 a. m.	7
Hazlehurst	7 30 p. m.	7
Caseyville, at Caseyville		8, 9
Summit, at Bogue Chitto	11 a. m.	10
Brookhaven	7:30 p. m.	11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Pachuta, at DeSoto	Nov.	3, 4
Binnsville, at Scooba		10, 11
Vimville, at Marion		17, 18
Marbersville, at Winifred		24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon.	26
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec.	1, 2
Daleville, at —		8, 9

G. A. GUICE, P. E.

Pearline

-better
-handier
than Soap

Port Gibson Female College

Port Gibson, Miss.

Port Gibson Female College is one of the oldest female colleges in the Mississippi Conference. For more than fifty years she has been contributing to the training and development of Christian womanhood in this and other States.

Her course of study is academic rather than collegiate, which should commend the school to parents who have young girls to educate. The P. G. F. C. offers superior advantages for less money than any other school of like grade in the State. Methodist Parents who want to educate their daughters can do so as cheaply here as it is being done by the State at Columbus, i. e., if they give their girls the ornate branches.

We give board, including fuel, light, washing, tuition and music, or any one extra, for $160; without an extra, $135. Girls wishing to prepare themselves to teach can enter the middle of January and continue through the session for $75, with music or any other ornate branch; without an ornate branch, $65.

For catalogue address,
L. S. JONES, Pres.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov.
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington		3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port		11, 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs		17, 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins		24
Bay St Louis		25, 26
Moss Point	Dec.
Escatawpa, at Zion
Columbia, at Columbia		4
Purvis, at Purvis		8, 9
Hattiesburg		10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Silver Creek	Nov.	3, 4
Lake City		4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope		10, 11
Benton, at Midway		11, 12
Tranquil		17, 18
Yazoo City		18, 19
Camden		24, 25
Fannin	Dec.	1, 2
Brandon station		2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues.	4
Steen's Creek		8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Washington and Chicot, at C	Nov.	3, 4
Opelousas
Lafayette
Abbeville		10, 11
Indian Bayou
Plaquemine Brulee, at Rayne		17, 18
Prudhomme, at P
Lake Arthur		24, 25
Grand Chenieres
West Lake
Lake Charles	Dec.	1, 2
Gneydan
Crowley		8, 9

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Live Oak, at Friendship	Nov.
Pine Grove		3, 4
Ponchatoula, at Hammond
Amite City		7
St. Helena, at Greensburg		10, 11
Franklinton		14
Kentwood and Tangipahoa		16-18
East Feliciana, at Independence		24, 25
Wilson, at Gayden		26
Clinton	30-Dec.	2
Baker, at Blackwater		4
St. Francisville, at Star Hill		6
Jackson		7-9

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Slidell	Nov.	4
Parker Memorial		11
Plaquemine		18
Rayne Memorial		25
White Castle	Dec.	2
Carondelet Street	11 a m.	9
Burgundy Street	7:30 p. m.	9

S. S. KENNER, P. E.

ALEXANDRIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Natchitoches, at Natchitoches	Nov.	3, 4
Dry Creek		10, 11
Winfield, at Atlanta		15, 16
Montgomery, at Montgomery		17, 18
Pineville, at Nugent		24, 25
Bunkie	Dec.	1, 2
Alexandria		8, 9

J. D. HARPER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Many, at Many	Nov.	3, 4
Logansport, at Logansport		7
South Bossier, at Allentown		10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle		17, 18
Pelican, at Bethel		24, 25
Leesville	Dec.	2
Mansfield		9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	Nov.	3, 4
Bienville, at Bienville		10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley		17, 18
Minden		19
Haynesville		23
Homer, at Homer		24, 25
Ruston	Dec.	1, 2
Gansville		7
Arcadia, at Arcadia		9, 10

B. T. CRAWS, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Gilbert and Vidalia, at V	Nov.	3, 4
Bastrop		10, 11
Rayville		11, 12
Lake Providence		17, 18
Floyd		19-21
Waterproof		24, 25
Delhi and Tallulah, at T	Dec.	1, 2
Bonita, at Bonita		8, 9
Monroe		9, 10

J. M. HENRY, P. E.

SNEEZE AND BLOW, but you can't get permanent relief from catarrh unless you purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla does this, soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces, removes all scrofulous taints, and cures catarrh.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills. 25c.

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 45. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2307

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D. D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND SOUTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

SOME SMALL, SWEET WAY.

There's never a rose in all the world
But makes some green spray sweeter;
There's never a wind in all the sky
But makes some bird-wing fleeter;
There's never a star but brings to heaven
Some silver radiance tender;
And never a rosy cloud but helps
To crown the sunset splendor;
No robin but may thrill some heart,
His dawn-like gladness voicing;
God gives us all some small, sweet way
To set the world rejoicing.

—Selected.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Dr. Lucien Clark presided over the convention for social study, held this week in Hamline Church, under the auspices of the Washington district of the Baltimore Conference. In addition to carefully prepared addresses on various branches of sociology by Methodist pastors, Mr. Fred H. Wines, Assistant Director of the Census, delivered an address on "The Modern Methods of Treating Criminals;" Mr. L. G. Poers on "What the Social Problem Is," and A. F. Craven, Ph.D., professor of sociology in Columbian University, on "The Problem of the City."

Every Christian and patriot can say amen to the following extract from the President's proclamation setting apart Thursday, November 29, "as a day of thanksgiving and praise to him who holds the nations in the hollow of his hand:" "Our commerce has spread over the world, Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended over distant seas and lands. The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvelously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities; and even the tragic visitation which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiments of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are one united people."

In all the Lutheran Churches special anniversary sermons were preached this week to commemorate the birth of Protestantism, Oct. 31, 1517. Dr. J. G. Butler said in his sermon: "It is not the birthday of Lutheranism we celebrate to-day, but rather the birthday of Protestantism. There are more Lutherans in the world to-day than any other Protestant denomination. The fire kindled by the Reformation spread over the larger part of Europe. The various denominations are but divisions of one great army, contending for the same thing." Rev. Frederick W. Moot said: "Of the 150,000,000 Protestants of all creeds in the world, over 50,000,000, or more than one-third, are Lutherans. In the last decade, according to some statisticians, our denomination has risen from the fourth to the third Protestant denomination in this country."

Washington ministers responded nobly to the request of the Anti-Saloon League that they make last Sunday Temperance Day, and attack the liquor evil in their sermons, as may be seen from the striking extracts from the sermons which follow: Dr. G. N. Lucoock, pastor of the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church: "The full beer pail is the advance agent of adversity. And that not only by waste of wages. The competition of modern life, the daring ventures of the human mind coming to the slow consciousness of its power over nature, make and are making the workman with an alcohol brain a castaway." Dr. Easton, of the Eastern Presbyterian Church: "The standing menace to the life of the republic is the saloon. Its sole aim is to blight and destroy the flower of American manhood. Its recent attack on patriotism by the establishment of the army canteen can not be too severely reprobated by every lover of the flag. It makes our national government a partner in the accursed traffic." Rev. A. N. Ward, of the N. C. Avenue M. P. Church: "I am opposed to the saloon because the saloon is opposed to all that is heavenward-reaching in men. I want men to have a chance to be noble and true, and the saloon removes that chance from many a man. This business has no right to exist because, as an institution, it puts a blight upon everything it touches. It demoralizes manhood, breaks up homes, sends forth childhood into the street to beg for a livelihood, and is the sworn foe of God's church." Rev. J. W. Duffy, Mt. Vernon Place M. E. Church, South: "If in the last hundred years there has been any elevation in the saloon, the closest observer has failed to see it. Temperance sentiment has driven it from the more respectable parts of our cities, forced it behind screened windows and doors, and hedged it about with some limitations, but neither its friends nor its foes have noted any elevation. Its business is essentially degrading, and it must ever share in that deeper degradation of which it is the sole cause. Its only claim for an existence is its purpose to wreck character, dishonor womanhood, rob the orphan which itself has made, and diamantle the home. When the bottomless pit is elevated, and hell becomes comfortable and respectable, it may be time to admit the elevation of the saloon." Rev. J. W. Steele, at Hamline M. E. Church: "There never was a time when the saloon power of the country was so united and defiant and aggressive as to-day; never a time when it was of such vital importance that all the enemies of the saloon should combine their forces, and engage in the great life-and-death struggle. And everyone who loves his country and his neighbor and his God should send forth the rallying cry, 'The saloon must be destroyed.'" Rev. Page Milburn, Union M. E. Church: "The church needs not to apologize for its interest in personal abstinence from intoxicating liquors, and in every measure adopted for the repression and prohibition of the liquor traffic. Christianity stands for self-government, personal purity, and victory over sin. The drink habit weakens self-control, is the forerunner of vice, and is a constant impediment to personal religion." Rev. E. N. Kirby, Fifth Congregational Church: "Cetewayo, the old African chief, witnessing the ruinous effects of drink upon his people, said to a British commission, 'Your spirits and your intoxicants are death.' Can we Christians find for this drink evil a better name? Is it not the foundation of physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual death?" Rev. John Van Schaick, Jr., Church of Our Father: "Kipling wrote in horror some time ago of two girls whom he saw reeling down a dark alley-way of Buffalo. It changed him from a position of tolerance to one of hatred for the saloon. Patient women are being murdered in their homes by anxiety, while their loved ones are being murdered in the saloons by whisky."

Washington, Oct. 31, 1900.

DECLINE OF RELIGION IN AMERICA—ITS CAUSES AND CURE.

NO. 2.

While commercialism, treated in a former article, constitutes a cause of religious decline, it is by no means the only cause, and is scarcely more far-reaching in influence than those to which I now call attention. The school of higher criticism has no small responsibility for the spread of agnosticism which now seems rampant. Whatever may have been the honest intention of those who have engaged in this at all times dangerous and now hurtful process, they have only succeeded in throwing a cloud of doubt, to the common mind, about the clearly revealed essentials of the Christian religion, and have given ample material to the more intelligent, but less honest opposers of the Bible, with which to create an ignorant opposition to it.

The great mass of men do not read books, contenting themselves, in the midst of a busy life, with reading only what the newspapers give with reference to them, and the result is that, with the newspapers giving only the portion calculated to decry Christianity in so far as the divine inspiration is concerned, the average man becomes lost in the mist of doubt, and falls into the acceptance of the claim that everything is shrouded in doubt, and that nothing is absolutely known.

If a portion of the Bible is called into question as to its divine inspiration, may it not all be false, and the whole thing a doubtful compilation? Such is the question asked, because the men who ask it have a misperception of the meaning of the critics whose scholarly criticisms they do not read, or, reading—not being familiar with the Bible—they do not understand. Thus educated to doubt the portions of the Bible under criticism, they go a step beyond and doubt it all, and then become perfectly indifferent as to everything connected with it. They cease to go to church, cease to regard the Sabbath, or, indeed, the binding character of the moral law, and then, wise in their ignorance, lose confidence in humanity, themselves included. Thus alienated from faith in God and man, adrift upon a rayless ocean of doubt, they scout the idea of a hell, sneer at heaven, and sink at last to the animal level of life, to which all who ignore the Word of God must come sooner or later, ignorant and careless alike of their ignorance and criminality. The devil never employed more resourceful and effective agents to induce men to forget God than those who constitute the school of higher criticism.

Another source of evil influence, resulting in doubt and indifference to the claims of Christianity, is a class of literature, including the metropolitan press, which, while not professedly infidelic, loses no opportunity in which to sneer at the claims of righteousness, and at the same time magnify the claims of sinful indulgences and deliverances. The prize ring, the debasing play, the saloon and the race track are given full space and defense, while the church is ignored, unless there be occasion to discount it by the publication of the misconduct of a minister, or the departure of some one from the faith. The pulpit is given little or no space, while the lecture of an infidel is given in full, and praised as a liberal deliverance. These papers seek and publish under great headlines all scandal, and become the literary garbage wagons, dumping their moral offal into the homes of the people to render them familiar with impurity. The man who doubts the Scripture is held up as a progressive thinker, while he who holds to the old faith is denounced as a narrow-minded Bourbon, behind the times, and of no value to the material or intellectual world. Thousands read no other literature than these papers, and in their own narrow ignorance accept their deliverances as true, and soon fall into line with the unbelievers, or, at least, grow indifferent with reference to the Bible and the churches, remain away from divine service, and easily fall into debased life, which growing doubt excuses; spending the Sabbath at places of debauchery and amusement, until they ultimately regard the church and the ministry as their enemies, and assail them as such. One has only to spend a Sunday morning about a hotel in the city to see the influence of the city press against the claims of Christianity, and hear the authorities quoted by those who profess to despise the church and all who hold to it.

Another source of indifference to, if not of complete departure from, the faith is found in the secret and so-called benevolent societies which are now so numerous in the land. I am aware that I step on dangerous ground, but I must confess my judgment and conclusion from the standpoint of personal knowledge, having held membership in six of these orders. While there is nothing morally objectionable in any of them, but rather some excellent moral teaching in them all, still in all, save the Masonic, there is a complete ignoring of the Christ, and only an incidental recognition of God in some of them. The moral tone which pervades them, and at the same time the ignoring of Christ, causes thousands of men to rest in them, and ignore any need of atonement for sin, or of a personal Savior provided through the divine mercy. My observation during a pastorate of more than a quarter of a century has caused me to conclude that few men, comparatively, connected with these orders attend any divine service, and that they constitute a decided cause of the indifference of many to the Christian religion, and are side-tracks which take many from the main line of Christian faith. In fact, I have never known a man connected with these orders, save the Masons and Odd Fellows, and who took an active part in them, who, at the same time, enjoyed religion and took an active part in the work of the church, while in some of them an open spirit of skepticism prevails.

These are my impressions, made under most favorable conditions, and in many places far removed from each other, and I am sure they are without prejudice against or in favor of any of them.

Finally, we are compelled painfully to confess that the pulpit is very largely responsible for the condition of indifference so largely prevailing. I would bring no railing accusation against the brethren, and am far from believing that the ministry, as such, is unfaithful, but, at the same time, must acknowledge the fact that certain departures upon the part of some ministers have resulted in much harm to the cause of Christ by yielding to certain conditions which are hurtful to the truth and the highest interest of humanity. Some have created doubt by abandoning the simple proclamation of the gospel, and substituted scholastic processes to the exorcising of their gospel until the constant defense made by them has aroused the doubt in the public mind of their own belief in the divinity of the gospel of Christ, and the promises of Christ to maintain and make it effective when proclaimed in faith and fullness.

Another class, with far more of zeal than knowledge, have lowered the pulpit to the level of the hustings, and as fully discounted the dignity of the holy calling as the other class mentioned have diminished the grandeur and efficacy of the divine power, so that the one class have lessened the belief in the power, and the other the reverence for the holiness of the preached Word. Each has made the mistake of attempting to adjust the truth to conditions rather than seeking to adjust conditions to the truths of Christ, who was the same in the presence of the learned doctors of the law and the humble fishermen of Galilee. Neither the polished, but apologetic essays of the one, beautiful as the aurora and as cold as a frozen sea, or the flippant and well-nigh vulgar deliverances of the other, are calculated to increase a reverence for, or belief in, a divine gospel so thoroughly humanized by those who profess to deliver it.

Still another class of preachers have created grave doubts in the minds of men, and done more to lessen the attendance upon the services of the house of God, than any others. Desiring to have a crowd, and having little faith themselves in the power of the gospel, they seek and publish sensational themes, drawing a curious crowd at first, but ultimately resulting in merely confirming the skeptical, while giving but a stone to those who came crying for bread, until they starve upon the indigestible diet and fall into spiritual death. These thoughtless shepherds, failing in one venture, often turn to abusing those who they have helped to render unbelieving, as though the Lord had authorized them to "beat my sheep," because they would not come up to the place where they had not been fed. We can see but one result of such a process, and that is the increase of unbelief, or, at least, fatal indifference.

While there are other things adding their influence for evil, they must be passed over in a newspaper article, and hence I have confined consideration to the most hurtful of the many influences which are being used to the production of a deplorable state of things which we are called upon to face, made so manifest in the general life of the masses, and which we should recognize in order, if possible, to correct.

W. T. BOLLING.

The Twentieth Century Movement in North Mississippi.

About sixty charges in the Mississippi Conference have reported to Bro. Hawkins an aggregate amount of seven thousand two hundred eleven and 35-100 dollars. However, it is known that the subscription in that Conference is more than ten thousand dollars. One hundred and two charges in the North Mississippi Conference have reported to me thirteen thousand nine hundred eighty-three and 35-100 dollars. It is safe to say that not less than twenty-five thousand dollars have been subscribed in the two Conferences. This is good, but a great mistake is made if we rest here.

This is an appeal to every pastor to use his utmost endeavor to increase the amount of the subscription in his charge, and to see that every dollar subscribed be promptly paid. Hitherto the main effort has been to secure "something from every member." While continuing this effort, let every pastor do his best to secure five, ten, twenty-five, fifty, and one-hundred-dollar gifts from individuals. There are members in your charge able to do this, and many of them will be willing if you can find the right approach to them. Seek it, and may the Lord of the human heart give you access to heart and purse. Great diligence is needed in the closing days of the Conference year. If there be one charge in Mississippi that has given nothing, may that be so no longer.

The pastors will please see that every dollar subscribed is collected. But if any remain unpaid, please leave the list where your successor can readily find it, and in such shape that at a glance he can see who has paid and who has not.

Remit all money collected for the North Mississippi Conference to Rev. J. C. Park, Winona; for the Mississippi Conference to Major R. W. Millsaps, Jackson.

J. R. BINGHAM.

Carrollton, Miss., Nov. 5, 1900.

P. S.—The amount subscribed in the North Mississippi Conference is more than fourteen thousand dollars; but the pastors' reports to me are as stated above.

"OLD-TIME METHODISM."

An address is reported from one of the recent Conferences, in which the speaker vehemently urged the necessity of returning to "old-time Methodism," and warned against all departures from it. Our experience with addresses of this sort is that they sometimes have a small element of truth in them, frequently much confusion, and generally a good deal of fallacy. All depends on what we mean by "old-time Methodism."

The success of our fathers was due to their faith in the living God, their zeal for his kingdom, their insistence on personal religion, their belief in a first-hand experience of the grace of God, their proclamation of God's love and help for all who call upon him. Their success, in short, was due to the vividness and intensity with which they realized the meaning and reality of the gospel of Christ. It was not due to their ignorance, their illiteracy, their social crudity, their mannerisms, their grotesque methods. Their success was not achieved through, but in spite of these things, and their success would have been greater if their zeal and devotion had had the aid of better training, broader knowledge, wider social outlook, and better taste. Good taste is not saving, neither is bad taste. Salvation is not in ignorance, not in boorishness, not in illiteracy, but in the gospel of Christ and active discipleship.

Now, when we are told that we need a return to "old-time Methodism," we must discriminate. If "old-time Methodism" means the spirit of the fathers, their loyalty and devotion, their joy in the Lord, their zeal to bring men into the kingdom, we agree that we should not depart from it. This old-time Methodism should be all-time Methodism, for it is nothing less than the essence of the gospel. But if it means an insistence on ancient forms, phrases, customs, methods, we demur. Methodism is a spirit, a life. The fathers sought to apply the gospel to the circumstances of their time, and their true successor is not one who is mechanically echoing the things they did in the way they did them, but one who is applying the same gospel to the circumstances of our time. He is little thinks of insisting on methods which in the changed circumstances of the time have become worn-out or ineffective, as he thinks of riding across the country on horseback, now that the express train is here. He knows that the true apostolic succession is in the spirit, not in the letter, and he feels perfectly free to drop anything which is outgrown, and to adopt anything which is effective, whether the fathers knew anything of it or not. He is a voice and not an echo, a quickening spirit and not a painted block.

This is the true old-time, all-time Methodism, and we can not have too much of it, or be too loyal to it. But we certainly shall not get it by mechanically imitating obsolete customs or mechanically repeating obsolete ideas. This is to mistake galvanism for life, echoes for living voices, old-time Methodism for old-clothes Methodism—a very different thing.

The source of the early Quakers' power was not in their queer clothes and bad grammar, but in their reliance on the Holy Spirit. And if some modern Quaker should think to recover that power by going back to the leather breeches of George Fox, he would not be more absurd than some of our talkers about old-time Methodism.

It remains to say a word about the fallacy which underlies much of their talk. A careful study and analysis of the statistics of our experience in this matter reveal that many persons talk in this fashion when they have nothing to say, and because they have nothing to say. They talk against space and time, and vainly seek, with empty noise, to fill a vacant mind. But generally it is introduced to beg the question against something which the speaker dislikes or is ignorant of. Changes of policy, improved methods, new truth, better formulations of old truth, are sure to be resisted by stereotyped references to the old paths, the ways of the fathers, old-time Methodism, etc. We venture to hope that in the development of Methodist intelligence we shall soon reach a stage where appeals of this sort will be so ineffective that even the Rev. Jabesh Windbag, D. D., himself will not venture to use them.—Zion's Herald.

TIME TO BE HOLY.

BY W. D. LONGSTAFF.

Take time to be holy,
Speak oft with thy Lord;
Abide in him always,
And feed on his Word;
Make friends of God's children,
Help those who are weak,
Forgetting in nothing
His blessing to seek.

Take time to be holy,
The world rushes on;
Spend much time in secret
With Jesus alone;
By looking to Jesus,
Like him then shalt be;
Thy friends in thy conduct
His likeness shall see.

Take time to be holy,
Let him be thy Guide,
And run not before him,
Whatever betide;
In joy or in sorrow,
Still follow thy Lord,
And, looking to Jesus,
Still trust in his word.

Take time to be holy,
Be calm in thy soul,
Each thought and each motive
Beneath his control;
Thus led by his spirit
To fountains of love,
Thou soon shalt be fitted
For service above.

—Zion's Herald.

Communications.

LETTER FROM "GILDEROY."

Rev. W. S. Lagrone regards my statements about the concern and worry the preachers have over the collections as "alarming." Perhaps there ought to be some alarm over this matter. The state of the case is really worse than I thought it was. Just after I read Bro. Lagrone's article a brother handed me The Reporter, a four-page paper, edited and published by Rev. W. S. Lagrone for the Sardis district, and nearly every article and editorial note in that paper is about the collections, and but little is said about soul-saving and the spiritual interest of the church. I thought, "Physician, heal thyself;" "Out of thine own mouth do I condemn thee." A meeting of the preachers and laymen is called in that district to consider the finances, and not soul-saving. So far as I have seen or heard, Bro. Lagrone himself is spending more time and force on raising the collections than in saving souls. Not a single meeting of the preachers has been called to consider the question of revivals, or how to promote them. I think Bro. Lagrone ought to be "alarmed." He is occupied and preoccupied with the collections. If he can not do anything else, and has no gift or call for soul-saving, it is, perhaps, well enough for him to be engaged in raising money for worthy causes. Some men have great gifts along that line, and, for aught I know, they may be specially called of God to that work. If so, they ought to do it. I would copy some of his utterances in The Reporter in this paper, but it would be like transcribing the whole paper, devoted bodily to the finances.

I suppose Bro. Lagrone replied to my article because he was so guilty of the thing condemned. His second paragraph is not fair. He makes me say what I never said and never thought. I know of no Methodist preacher who is preaching to get money. There is no "false pretense" about it. They state the case plainly, and take the collection because no one else will do it. This the preacher ought to do, and this, likely, he will have to do until we learn some wiser and better way of doing this part of our work. I insist that the preacher ought not to be taxed with this work.

If I am not mistaken, Bro. Lagrone misinterprets the Scriptures and the facts in the case in regard to the action of the apostles. It was not the excess of the funds that led them to choose seven men for this work, but it was the "daily ministrations to the widows." They said, "It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables." If it were not reason then, it is not reason now. This is my contention, and I stand on God's Holy Word. When these seven men were set over this business, the apostles said, "We will give ourselves continually to prayer and to the ministry of the Word." That was wise, and in keeping with the call they had from God. No wonder "the Word of God increased, and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly, and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith." That is exactly what I am pleading for in this country—a ministry free from the service of tables, and given to prayer continually, and to the ministry of the Word.

Bro. Lagrone thinks I have "strained at a gnat and swallowed a camel." Well, I have not swallowed him yet, but I have a good mind to do it. I had rather swallow camels than to strain at gnats. He seems to think I have brought a terrible indictment against our Bishops and circuit riders. I am willing to compare indictments with my good Bro. Lagrone. He says: "We have partially lost the spirit of the call. Too many of us seem to be preaching for a living, and not to save souls. We have too many place-seekers, time-servers; too many who are afraid of men." I never said the like of this in my life, and I do not believe there are many preachers of this kind. I do say that our Bishops and preachers are too much hindered and bothered with the collections to "give themselves continually to prayer and to the ministry of the Word." If this is "straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel," I plead guilty of the charge.

If Bro. Lagrone will name a half-dozen preachers in the North Mississippi Conference who are more concerned and burdened about saving souls than about raising the collections, I will be grateful to him. The causes are all good and the money is needed, greatly needed, but there has grown up among us a wrong method of raising it. We lay this burden on the wrong men, on men called of God to do other work. Our present method of raising the collections tends to secularize the Christian ministry. It tends to keep the preacher always thinking about money and about raising it. Whether we so will or not, it tends toward cultivating in the mind of the preacher an idea that full collections is the proper test of ministerial efficiency. It causes hundreds and thousands of people to think that the preacher comes only to get money. This cripples his ministry, or I think so. I think it would tend to a large increase in the spiritual life of the preacher, and among the members, and toward the salvation of souls, if our preachers were, in some way, set free from the wear and tear of this burden. I see how preachers, as pastors of the flock, ought to be leaders in all the work of the church, but to lead is one thing and to do all the work is quite another thing. The wisest pastor is the one who gets the most people to take a hand in the work of the church. Let us hear from Bro. Lagrone again.

GILDEROY.

Oct. 25, 1900.

DISTRICT DOTS.

Saint Paul, under the inspiration of the Holy Ghost, in his letter to the Galatians enumerates what he calls 'the fruit of the Spirit." Now, common people naturally suppose that a man who professes to be called to preach the gospel would, as a matter of course, bring forth the fruit of the Spirit in his life. Their simple minds demand that much to convince them that he has answered the right call. They, in their simplicity, say, "How can a man be called of God to proclaim the gospel when the results of gospel operation are lacking in his own life?" The questions of these common folk are sometimes quite embarrassing to us preachers, as well as to the scientists. They occupy the standpoint of common sense, and when anything contradicts common sense, they are not satisfied until they find a good reason for it. So, when these common people, who make up a large part of our congregations, see that a preacher's life among them and his words to them do not correspond with the teaching of the old gospel in every particular, it is not hard for them to reach the conclusion that somehow he has missed his way. They read the New Testament, and they do not forget what Paul says on this subject in Romans, second chapter and verses 17-23, inclusive. So that preacher discredits his call to the ministry among his own people, and builds up barriers to the progress of the Lord's cause. It is my opinion, based on careful observation, that the number of such preachers is larger than many suppose.

Now, let me, as the preachers say, apply these general observations. In Saint Paul's enumeration of the fruit of the Spirit, he mentions one thing which, if ever it made a part of the life and preaching of some preachers, seems to have dropped entirely out of both the life and preaching. He mentions "gentleness" as a fruit of the Spirit. This fruit does not appear in a good deal of preaching which is heard in these days. There is a roughness and harshness of language used which is not warranted by the Word of God, nor the example of our Lord. Such preachers try to justify themselves in this matter by asserting that they have "the courage of their convictions," and must be honest enough "to call a spade a spade." Now, I have lived long enough to find out that what many people call their "convictions" is nothing more nor less than their prejudices, and that the man who can not call a spade a spade without whacking you over the head with it, has neither learned the use of language nor the use of a spade! He ought to learn one or the other. Perhaps it would be better for the church and the country if he would learn the use of a spade, and practice his learning on a bit of earth, rather than practice his ignorance of an essential gospel result upon a long-suffering congregation.

Above all places in the world, the pulpit is the place where gentleness should be enthroned in all its beauty and glory. Our people are buffeted and beaten and banged all the week by the world, the flesh, and the devil, and they need a respite on Sunday. But when they go to the house of God, and there meet with a lampooning the devil himself would not descend to inflict, they get discouraged. They go to church to get encouragement, and through that to get strength, and they are abused into discouragement, and lose ground and hope together. I do not blame them if they quit going. That is not the Scripture way of presenting the claims of the gospel, and such preachers ought to be ostracised. Is that too strong? Just imagine our Lord using the language that some preachers of to-day use in the pulpit! The very thought of such a thing is an impertinent irreverence! Just imagine Saint Paul ranting and foaming at the mouth, and uttering the tirades which some of our people hear on the blessed Sabbath day! The mere mention of such a possibility is an insult to the generous and gentlemanly instincts of that great expounder of the gospel!

I have come to the conclusion that while there is a "show" of bravery in this matter, it is only a show. Advantage is taken of pulpit protection to utter words that the preacher dare not utter outside the pulpit. If that is courage, pray, what is cowardice? Saint Paul laid great emphasis on "speaking the truth in love," and he insisted that "the servant of the Lord must not strive, but be gentle toward all," and especially toward those who opposed the truth, and he enforced his teaching by his example. He purposely kept away from Corinth at a critical time to spare the church, lest, "being present, he should use sharpness." He said to the Ephesian elders, "I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears." He did not warn with rough tirades or stinging innuendoes, but "with tears night and day." In this he was simply manifesting the spirit of his Lord, who stood on the brow of the hill, and "wept" over the obstinate and wicked Jerusalem, and who had tender and gentle words of encouragement for everyone who came to him for help! How different some of our present-day pulpiteers! They take every occasion to rail at and abuse the church, and turn over to the deep damnation of hell all who do not submit without protest to their tirades. I wonder if such railers—they are not preachers—ever read the Epistle of Jude? If their cases were not hopeless, they might learn a valuable lesson from the ninth verse of that epistle.

P. E.

BUILD UP WASTE PLACES.

To be called of God to preach means more than to enjoy his blessings and to have a good time. There are two sides to the will of God: one is to enjoy his goodness, the other is to suffer toil and labor. If we, as Methodist preachers, would only be true to our vows, our poor circuits and missions would become prominent and strong charges, and would be able to bear their part of any financial obligation laid upon the church. The itinerant system peculiar to Methodism is a great thing, and preachers entering into it promise faithfully to do such work as is assigned to them, but too often it is the case that we feel ourselves called upon to be competent judges in the matter, and because we do not get the place that we think we merit, we are rather slow to take hold of the people among whom we are sent, and often pass through the year in a careless, sluggish way; the work goes down and the people starve for the Bread of Life.

While a preacher may be kept at one kind of work or on one certain class of charges until his aspirations for better position would be somewhat weakened, yet in such cases he should exercise a living faith, and take all things to his Heavenly Father in prayer. It is no harm to want to be great, for Paul tells us to covet earnestly the best gifts; but the best way to get better places is to be faithful to the work given us. This was Bishop Candler's advice, last Fall, at Greenwood. I do not mean to say that we ought to be faithful merely in order to get a better place, but to build up that to which we are sent. Then, if we are returned, we will have a better place, for it would not be long until all of our waste places would be strong and desirable charges. It may be asked, What is the most successful way to build up these waste places?

I answer: In the first place, a manifestation of real interest in the people, accompanied by a purpose to do better and greater things for the Master, will do much in this direction. The pastor should be as kind and attentive to his flock as he would be required to be were he in more highly cultivated society. He should be as courteous on the Sabbath morning to the lady who has been hard at work during the week as to the one whose means are sufficient to give her a comfortable seat on a reclining chair in the parlor and entertain her guests, and as kind to the plow-boy as to a banker's son.

In the second place, let us see that the law of the church is observed in these country missions, for the law is as good for the country as it is for the city, and the surest way to be on the safe side is to keep the law. With reference to Sunday-schools, I want to say that we ought to instruct our own children in the doctrines of Methodism by all means. The pastor should never suffer his children to go into schools of other denominations or into union Sunday-schools when there is any possible chance to avoid it. I mean to say when he can have one of his own. Follow the law in this matter.

Furthermore, one of the surest ways to build up these waste places is by preaching the doctrine of our church, and distributing our papers and literature. The church paper is one of the best helps a pastor ever had in a broken-down field. It will visit once per week where he can, perhaps, go but once per month or quarter. I never visit a home without urging upon the members to take the ADVOCATE. We do not need to multiply the number of our religious papers, but we want a healthy circulation of those already instituted. The people must know what Methodists believe before they will know whether they are Methodist or not. This instruction must be given in a plain, simple way; not by holding up the defects in the confessions of other denominations, but by telling the people what we believe, and then by proving it by the Bible.

In conclusion, let me say that I have had a good time on Winstonville charge this year. Have had about 35 additions, some Sunday-schools running ever since warm weather, and we think that our report will be favorable. Our people are hopeful, and we give God the praise.

J. H. BASS.

Fern Springs, Miss., Oct. 7, 1900.

AS THE WORLD LOOKS AT IT.

In your issue, of Oct. 25, Bro. W. S. Lagrone has given us something in the way of a reminder, to pray over.

There are many who look upon our church as a kind of machine. Is it a fact that there is any cause for such suspicion? In some instances there is, and far too often our pastor has to "preach money" when the truth is, that he must, or he will receive nothing. The stewards are at fault when the pastor has to assume what is their duty. The pastor who has to "preach" money, right then and there loses to a considerable extent his hold on the world. Let a pastor have stewards that are faithful, and the question of money need not enter into his work. Can he not necessarily preach better with faithful stewards?

Brethren, as stewards, let us be up and doing, and let us not by our neglect of duty close the door of our church to the world by forcing our pastors to mix spiritual and temporal things. Where a pastor is not encumbered with financial matters, can he not be more spiritually minded? Can he not approach the world in such a manner that outsiders will realize that he is not after money? I know whereof I speak. I am associated with the worldly class every day. Our religion can be held in the highest esteem by the world if we will be independent. I admit that there is a class that do not look with favor upon any religious movement, but if the pastor attends to the spiritual interests of the church, then the stewards, by godly lives and conversation, will have little trouble in raising the finances. The truth, brethren, is this: We need more grace and more consecration. Our pastors will then be inspired to "greater things," and the world will take note of us that we have been with Christ.

J. H. MINER,
Steward.

Lumberton, Miss.

Correspondence.

NEWS FROM WESSON.

MR. EDITOR: I am confident that you will be glad to hear of the good condition of the church at Wesson, and that it is a matter of interest to all good Methodists to learn of one of the most loyal churches in our connection.

The conditions confronting the church here differ from those usually found in Mississippi. The Mississippi Mills dominate the place industrially, and either directly or indirectly the whole population is dependent on them. The large majority of our people, indeed, are employees of the mills; hence our people, as a whole, are comparatively poor. True, we have a goodly number of the merchants and professional men of the town, yet the proportion of these to our membership is comparatively small. Naturally, one might suppose that our church would fall behind in collections, but that is not the case. Last year a surplus over all assessments was paid, and a similar record will be made this year. We have a membership of 500, a comfortable church-building, adequately furnished, and an excellent parsonage. Eighty-one members were received last year. Our Epworth League has forty members, and is a live institution. Our Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has twenty members, and was last year the banner society of this district. Our Home Mission Society was the banner society of this Conference. Our Sunday-school has an enrollment of 225, and the attendance is good. Last year there were raised for all purposes $2,204.44. The church is not a "boom" church, the flame of whose piety is like that of a burning straw-stack, hot and bright, but evanescent; rather is it like that of a well-made fire. We have, of course, some light stuff, but it is good for kindling, and some wet wood; also green sticks (seasoning fast, we trust), but there are not a few genuine "back-logs" and fine "fore-sticks." The celestial fire is kept going by the constant supplies of heavenly grace, and the fire from above comes like the steady shining of the sun. The good women of the church constitute a devoted band, and their petitions have influence with the King. The stewards magnify their office, and the Sunday-school superintendent is devoted to his work.

The authorities did a good thing for this charge when they sent Rev. J. M. Morse as our pastor. Some men excel in one or two points, and are deficient in others, but Bro. Morse is good all round. He brings up the collections of the church, but he is not a mere collector. He looks well to every material interest of his people, but he is not a worldly man. He is a charming companion, a safe counselor, a good pastor, but he is, above all, a genuine man, firm as a rock on every moral question, and eagerly desirous that all men everywhere should be transformed by the renewing of their minds, and conformed to the image of Christ. It is the belief of this writer that no man can do more good here than he, and all earnestly desire his return.

Altogether, the church in Wesson is in a prosperous condition, and we ask only the prayers of God's people, that we may have still greater favor with the Lord.

BEN SICKLES.

The Christian Life.

NOT WHERE WE GO, BUT HOW.

The United States soldier must always wear his uniform. To be anywhere without his proper dress is to be a deserter. So the Christian must always show his colors. It is not where he goes, but in what guise, that determines his character. He can go where any man can, provided he go in his own proper character—provided his being there is not a contradiction of his profession, a putting off of his uniform. A Christian may and ought to accept the duties and responsibilities of a citizen, serve in civil office, be a magistrate or policeman if need be, or engage in any legitimate business. Christian men and women are members of various grades and conditions of society, and as such may be called to social duties and associations, and they may properly and freely engage in these so far as they do not involve a denial or contradiction of their Christian profession. But they must not go where their going will be a denial of Christian character, nor engage in action which involves desertion of their colors. The Christian officer may go into the theatre, the liquor saloon, or the gambling den for the preservation of peace, enforcement of law and order, or the arrest of the criminal. To go to such places to share in their dissipations or crimes is to deny his profession and desert his Lord.

A few years ago there retired from the police force of Boston a man who had served in all grades of his profession, and in some of the worst parts of the city. His duties had called him at times into all sorts of places of dissipation, amusement and crime, and among the most depraved classes of people. But in all he had so performed his duty as to win the approval of his superiors and promotion to highest rank in actual service. Yet this man never put off his badge of Christian discipleship. He was known among policemen always as a Christian, and was familiarly spoken of among them as "the Deacon," in recognition of his religious character. At his death he was eulogized by the public press as an efficient officer, and equally as a noble Christian man.

The Christian is to be the Christian always. He is never to lay aside his uniform, nor to go where he can not wear it. There is no provision for "taking a day off." Not where he goes, but in what guise, determines his character. In fact, his Christianity is not dress, but character, and wherever he goes he must take self with him. Not where he goes, but how.—Zion's Herald.

A BLUNDER, OR A SIN—WHICH?

That was a fearful blunder those brave British soldiers made at one time during this terrible war in South Africa when, in the darkness of the night as they sallied out on a sortie, they encountered a band of men whom they took for the enemy, a fierce engagement followed, and after a desperate hand-to-hand encounter they discovered that they had been fighting their own men, and a hundred of them lay dead on the battlefield.

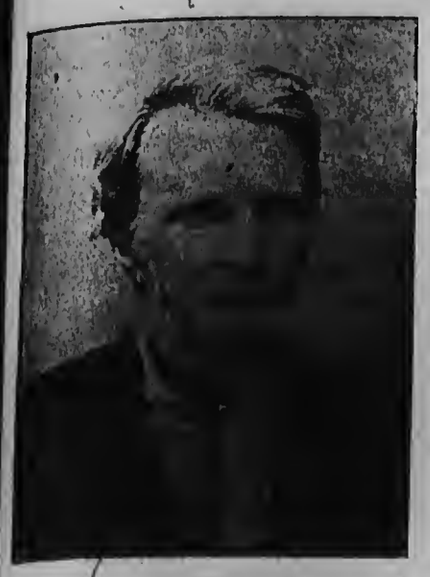
A sadder sight is beheld, a more egregious blunder is made, when professing Christians, members of the same church, "bite and devour one another." Paul's counsel to contending brethren in Galatia is timely to-day, "Take heed that ye be not consumed one of another!"

There is nothing that so effectually grieves the Holy Spirit and compels him to depart from a church as strife and contention. Therefore the repeated warnings of Scripture against this sin, and the earnest and loving entreaties for brethren to cultivate good-will, forbearance, and the mind of the Master. "Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: and be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you." No good ever comes from a personal, family, or church quarrel.

'Let brotherly love continue."

He who inadvertently wounds or injures a brother commits a blunder. He who with open eyes does aught to injure another in reputation or business commits a sin.—Christian Outlook.

An humble confession of sin brings shame to ourselves, but glory to God. —Mason.



JOSEPH M. ROBERTS.

Another old Confederate soldier and Christian warrior has been called from the cares of this life to meet the pleasures and rewards of the life beyond. At Garland, La., Tuesday, Aug. 7, 1900, Joseph M. Roberts died at the age of 85 years. He was born near Norfolk, Va., Aug. 4, 1815. In 1828 he moved to David county, N. C., and was there married to Miss Susan B. Kirby, Nov. 17, 1835. Of this union ten children were born, five boys and five girls—five of whom survive their venerable father—namely, three sons—Sam'l D., James M., and R. Roberts—and two daughters, Mrs. Mary Prosser and Mrs. Elizabeth Bentley.

In 1862 Mr. Roberts moved to Louisiana, and since the year 1865 has been a resident of Garland, St. Landry parish, where he has lived an exemplary life to neighbor and friend.

When but a boy, at the mere age of fourteen years, he embraced religion and united with the Methodist Church, which gives him a Christian record of seventy-one years—a lifetime of itself to be a worker in God's holy vineyard.

He was a true Southerner, and gave to the Confederate cause four of his young sons who went out as soldiers. Two of these brave lads never saw home nor friends again, and in that memorable struggle lost their lives.

The last illness of Mr. Roberts was of short duration. Although very feeble during the last year of his life, yet he was not confined to his room. Previously he had been as hardy as any one could be at his ripe age. He loved to have his friends with him, and delighted in music, and when occasion offered always joined in songs of praise to his Maker.

When death came it had no sting. His children and grandchildren were all with him during his last hours. Just before he died he passed into a perfect quiet, which so resembled death that his loved ones thought that never again they would hear the sound of his voice. He rallied, however, and in accents clear sang this little verse of praise:

"Glory, honor, praise and power
Be unto the Lord forever;
Jesus Christ is my Redeemer;
Hallelujah! praise the Lord."

Then, with gentle admonition to all, he closed his eyes to earth, and passed unto his Maker.

Oh! what a consolation it is to his sons and daughters to know they had such a noble father! May his example ever be in their memories, helping them all through life!

A FRIEND.

Garland, La.

Items from the Field.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON CIRCUIT.

Notwithstanding physical disability that continued for some months, we have made some progress on my work. My father attended to nearly all my ministerial duties from about the middle of May until near the close of September. After forty-eight years historic old Washington received a "second benefit" from his ministry. I received two members last Sunday and three await reception. The Ladies' Aid Society of this place (the officers of which are Miss Olivia Ireland, president; Miss R. Millar, secretary, and Miss Marsh, treasurer), and the society at Kingston, under the efficient leadership of Miss Mattie Foules and Mrs. C. F. Farrar, have expended, the one about $50, and the other about $200 in repairs on the parsonage. We enjoy a neat, comfortable, commodious and delightful home here now.

In the short time before us much is to be done, as "Samantha" would say, "Quick and simultaneous." Pray for us. J. WILSON BROWN.

Washington, Miss., Oct. 27, 1900.

CHURCH DEDICATION AT CAMPTI, LA.

On Friday morning, Oct. 12, we took the train at Coushatta for Campti, to attend our fourth Quarterly Conference and the dedication of our new church at that place.

On Saturday afternoon we assembled to hold the first business meeting in the new church, and I am sure it will long be remembered, for I do not think I ever saw presiding elder, pastor and stewards look so pleased. I discovered the cause of this when the stewards reported that they had a good per cent. of their collections, and felt sure they would "pay out." The presiding elder and pastor felt glad because they had such a faithful Board of Stewards. The member of the W. H. M. Society who was there was elated because every member had paid all her dues. All the stewards were re-elected except two; one was sick and one "was not, for God took him." Bro. Tom Murphey died this year in the prime of life. He was a faithful steward, and did all he could to help collect funds for this new church. May the new stewards be as faithful as our departed brother!

We had a good sermon Saturday night by our presiding elder.

Sunday morning, the fourteenth instant, dawned bright and clear, and a large number of people collected in the beautiful new church, which was ready for dedication. First, a sweet little babe was dedicated to God in holy baptism by her parents; then a collection by the pastor followed, which, however, was not for the new church, it being out of debt. Next came the dedication sermon by Dr. Sawyer, who was at his best, and who treated us to a magnificent and inspiring discourse. How small and unworthy we felt after the beautiful and impressive dedication exercises were concluded. The doors of the church were opened, and four persons came forward! The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was then celebrated, the altar being filled twice with communicants. Before the service closed Dr. Sawyer spoke of how the new church came to be built, mentioning that when Bro. Lynn Atkins came to Campti, he found no church, and went to work, with God's help, to build one, but before he had collected half enough, God took him home; and how his brother, Mr. J. B. Atkins, of Lake End, La., and Bro. E. Hammett, chairman of the Building Committee, have completed the church and turned it over to the M. E. Church, South, out of debt, with a bell, organ, splendid lights; put down a pretty carpet, which a kind sister, assisted by others, had put down. Dr. Sawyer suggested that the church be named the Lynn Atkins Memorial Church, as Bro. Atkins gave the lot near his own home, and, no doubt, he expected to live a long life, and enjoy the gospel as preached from that sacred desk; but God knew best. May God bless his family, the brother who so nobly carried out his last wishes, and all who assisted in the work!

MRS. T. S. RANDLE.

REPORT FROM THE COALVILLE CIRCUIT AND THE PALMER CAMP MEETING.

We are closing our second year on the Coalville circuit, and a more excellent people than these can not be found in any Conference. Consecration and loyalty to their church are characteristic of the people of this charge. Glorious revivals have swept through this work the past two years, and 250 persons have claimed conversion, and very nearly 300 have united with the church. Sunday-schools and prayer meetings are well attended, and spiritual life is felt throughout this entire charge. The high tide of salvation has swept in on the people of this charge and lifted them out of sin into the sunlit clime of a better, brighter, and sweeter life. Fathers and mothers have seen the triumphs of their prayers and faith in the glorious conversion of their children. Blessed old church! how we love thee for having done more for us than all things else in this world! We bless the day when John Wesley stood on his father's tombstone and set in motion a revival of spiritual religion that has rolled like ocean billows across this land and swept all kinds and classes of people into the kingdom of God.

Methodist people are up and doing in this part of the vineyard. We have just closed a grand meeting at old Palmer Camp Ground, which resulted in much good. A mighty victory has been won for God. There were 50 conversions, 21 accessions, and $160 collected. Thirty of this was a special collection for our worn-out preachers. We had fine preaching in this camp meeting. Revs. W. W. Simmons, P. E; J. N. Parker, W. M. Sullivan, H. B. Vandenburg, B. S. Rayner, W. L. Hightower, G. R. Ellis and J. L. Jordan were present, and preached to the delight of every one who heard them. Thursday morning came and Rev. T. J. Norsworthy appeared on old Palmer for the first time in life. Bro. Norsworthy was fresh and in the spirit, and infused new life into the meeting. As all the other preachers, except two, had to leave us that morning, we naturally felt a little blue, but Bro. Norsworthy preached the sweet old story to us, and we just shouted, "On to victory," and on to victory we went. Bro. Norsworthy is a fine revivalist. He is never at a loss for something to say or do. Many souls were saved under his preaching and methods of work. I am proud of our Mississippi evangelist, and recommend him to any preacher desiring the services of an evangelist. Old Palmer is on a boom, and will continue to be as long as we have such men and women as Uncle Sam and Aunt Jane Walker, and Bro. O'Neal and wife, Bro. Fayard and wife, Bro. Bellew and wife, Rev. J. L. Jordan and his beautiful daughters, Bro. James Smith and wife, and Rev. A. Scarborough and wife, and many other good people too numerous to mention.

Some of the old tenters have passed over the river, and are tenting on the other shore, but their influence is seen and felt among us for good. God bless all the preachers and all the people who assisted us in the great camp meeting at Palmer.

GEO. W. HUFF, P. C.

Wool Market, Miss., Oct. 26, 1900.

"Many a Mickle Makes a Muckle."

"Line upon line" is the way a building grows. The "Mickle" in this Scotch proverb is something very small, but the "muckle" is something great. One microscopic bacillus makes impure blood, and "muckle wae" (much disease and disaster) follows. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleans the blood as nothing else can. It brings "muckle" joy at "mickle" cost. Half teaspoonful doses.

Pimples—"Pimples, blackheads and a kind of rash covered my face. A friend advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken three bottles and the pimples are gone." Lizzie Meyerherm, 12 Hunterfly Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

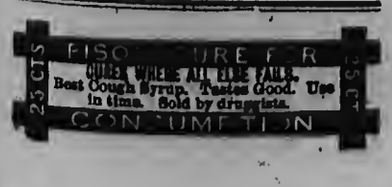
J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AMMUNITION, BASKETS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, ALARM TILLS, BLACKING, BURNERS, BUNGS,
CHURNS, CUTLERY, COFFEE MILLS, DRIP PANS, ENAMELED STEELWARE,
Fishing Tackle, Seines, Furnaces,
GALVANIZED WARE, GLASS LAMPS, GOBLETS, TUMBLERS,
Handles, Inks, Japanned Ware,
KEGS, MATCHES, MEASURES, LADDERS, LANTERNS, NAIL PULLERS, OIL CANS, OARS,
PAPER, PIPES, PADLOCKS, ROPE, RULES, SCALES, SIEVES, SOAPS,
SAUCEPANS, STATIONERY, STONEWARE, TACKS TRAPS, WINES,
Tinware, Whips, Wicking, WOODENWARE, Etc.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days. Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.



25 CTS
PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS

School Teacher's Headache.

It's not a new variety of headache. It's the old pain consequent on conditions which result from study, confinement, and careless eating. It is only one symptom of a derangement of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures headaches by curing the diseases which cause them.

"I was troubled with very frequent headaches, often accompanied by severe vomiting," writes Miss Mary Belle Summerton, of San Diego, Duval Co., Texas. "Bowels were irregular, and my stomach and liver seemed continually out of order. Often I could eat almost nothing, and sometimes absolutely nothing, for twenty-four hours at a time. I was entirely unfit for work, and my whole system seemed so run-down that I feared a severe sick spell and was very much discouraged. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and did so with such satisfactory results that before finishing the third bottle I felt perfectly able to undertake the duties attending public school life, and contracted to do so. I most heartily advise those suffering with indigestion, and its attendant evils, to give this great medicine a fair trial."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels healthy.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS.

UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY.

Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O.

Mention this paper.

BELLS

Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La
In Session
The Entire Year
Students
May enter
At Any Time.

43 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded me by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations.

A store is connected with Soulé College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.

Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain.

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Read What is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give your 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qualifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It should be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in value. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen."—Bishop Whipple, Faribault Minn.

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change....

DIRECT LINE TO

Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr., DALLAS, TEXAS.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.

Write to C. A. SNOW & CO. Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R R
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R R

TO

Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,

AND TO ALL POINTS

North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between

NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers.

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A. J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A. R. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agent
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.,

and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is the essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce all proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to November, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to December, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1900.

TWENTIETH CENTURY WATCH-NIGHT.

BY BISHOP CHARLES B. GALLOWAY.

As president of the Board of Education of the M. E. Church, South, I suggest that on Monday night, the thirty-first of December, a great Methodist watch-night service be held in every church of our vast connection in the interest of the Twentieth Century Fund. The last day of the year, and the last day of the century, ought to be made memorable. Watching the new year come in, and the new century dawn, should be a momentous occasion, like the wonderful spiritual feasts of early Methodism. On Sunday before, in all the circuits and country places, let Twentieth Century services be held, and thank-offerings laid upon the altar of the church. In all villages, towns and cities the greatest feast should be on Monday night. I suggest that pastors begin at once preparing for that night of watching and consecration. Addresses should be delivered by those previously selected on the various triumphs and developments of the now dying century, and an appropriate sermon preached and grateful offerings made, closing with a prayer of consecration as the clock strikes twelve, and then the jubilant singing of Methodism's thrilling watch-night hymn, 'Come let us anew, our journey pursue." Then, with an exchange of new century greetings, we will go out, under the baptism of another Pentecost, to achieve greater things in our Lord's wonderful to-morrow.

Brethren of Southern Methodism, let us make this great watch-night another such spiritual scene as was witnessed in that historic love-feast in Fetter Lane, London, Jan. 1, 1739. If so, the glow and glory of it will abide through the century.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 1, 1900.

A WORLD-WIDE WATCH-NIGHT SERVICE.

Bishop Galloway's suggestion that on the last night of the year 1900, which will mark the close of this most eventful century, and the ushering in of another, every congregation in Southern Methodism unite in holding a watch-night service in the interest of our Twentieth Century Thank-offering Movement, is certainly a most happy one, and we feel confident will meet with a most hearty response throughout the connection. In what more fitting way could we celebrate the death of the old and the dawn of the new century than by thus re-dedicating ourselves to God and laying a thank-offering upon his altar? Instead of letting the occasion be a season of unholy revelry and frivolity, let us make it a season of spiritual refreshing, a glad and glorious feast unto the Lord. What inspiration there is in the thought that the last night of the passing year is to be observed as a holy watch-night, not only by us, but by Methodists throughout the world. Let due announcement be made in every charge respecting this watch-night service, and let pastors and people prepare to make it a grand and gracious occasion.

THE EDIFICATION OF BELIEVERS.

In almost every Methodist congregation some persons may be found who imagine that unless special revival work is going on in the church, little or nothing is being done. They look with disfavor upon sermons that do not appeal largely to the emotions, no matter how instructive they may be, and shortly after a meeting is closed, lose interest in the ordinary services of the church. They seem to think that preaching the gospel consists almost entirely in fervid exhortation and lurid denunciation of sin, and appear to be dissatisfied unless they are in a blaze of religious excitement. Such persons are usually foward in testimony, and in advising the pastor what to do in order to make the church prosper, but they are too often wanting in fidelity and in self-sacrificing service. Every evangelistic effort that is accompanied by great enthusiasm and loud profession they regard as a grand revival, although the after results may fail to justify such a conclusion. The preacher who does not frequently get up a "ronsement," as our colored brethren would put it, they characterize as unspiritual, and often act as if religion consisted almost entirely in worship and testimony.

Far be it from us to discount even in the slightest degree the transcendent importance of evangelistic effort in winning men to Christ, and in building up his kingdom. In doing this work, however, we must avoid the mistake of neglecting the edification of believers, which is also of vast importance. Sermons that are made up mainly of exhortations and fulminations against absent evil-doers are long become exceedingly stale and unprofitable. Is it not the duty of the shepherd to feed the sheep as well as to seek the lost and straying?

Dr. Alexander Bruce, in his excellent work, "The Training of the Twelve," has the following forceful paragraph anent the tendency of just the class of Christians of whom we have been speaking, to regard evangelistic labors as the whole work of the kingdom. "Revival of religion," he remarks, "among the neglected masses is for them the sum of all good doing. Of the more still, less observable work of instruction going on in the church, they take no account. Where there is no obvious excitement, the church, in their view, is dead, and her ministry inefficient. Such need to be reminded that there were two religious movements going on in the days of the Lord Jesus. One consisted in raising the mass out of the stupor of indifference; the other consisted in the careful, exact training of men already in earnest, in the principles and truths of the divine kingdom. Of the one movement, the disciples—that is, both the twelve and the seventy—were the agents; of the other movement they were the subjects. And the latter movement, though less noticeable and much more limited in extent, was by far more important than the former, for it was destined to bring forth fruit that should remain; to tell not merely on the present time, but on the whole history of the world. There would have been a poor outlook for the kingdom of heaven if Christ had neglected this work, and had given himself entirely to vague evangelism among the masses."

A HERO AND HIS DETRACTORS.

The selection of Robt. E. Lee's name as one of "the immortals" whose names are to be inscribed on the walls of the Hall of Fame in New York City, has caused a few Northern editors and politicians to foam at the mouth, so to speak, and served as an occasion for a fresh manifestation of sectional prejudice and blind partisanism. The New York Sun has been peculiarly bitter, and has indulged in an absurd attempt to asperse the character of one of the South's purest and most illustrious sons. The lustre of Lee's name, however, can not be dimmed in the slightest by such contemptible monthings, nor are the main body of the people in the North in sympathy with these would-be detractors from Lee's greatness and nobility of soul. If Lee is not entitled to enduring honor, then neither is Washington or Grant or Lincoln. Every respecter of true manhood, whether he be a Yankee or a Southerner, recognizes in Lee those noble qualities that shine forth in the life of every genuine hero.

CHRISTIAN LOVE.

There seem to be many hazy ideas among people as to what Christian love is. They do not make a proper distinction between it and natural human love. Much that passes for Christian love is merely human love, and not of a very good quality at that. Christian love is the love of Christ implanted in a believing heart. There may not be much of it, and it may be mixed considerably with one's natural love, as seems to be too often the case. And Christian love, as first imparted to the believer, is not cultivated and enlarged by its possessor, in numerous cases, to any particular extent. God's desire is that this love shall be "shed abroad" in the heart, so that it may become a masterful force in one's life. The Christian, by a steady course in prayer, in studying the Bible with a devotional spirit, in a ready willingness to do God's will, may so enlarge and spread this love that it will surcharge his whole heart.

And observe the truth that Christian love is perfect love. It is the perfect love of Christ, bearing rule in the heart and dominating the daily life. Christ never imparted imperfect love in any believer's heart. Hence every true believer has perfect love; and each has it in proportion to his faith and capacity to receive it, and also according to the extent of a personal cultivation of it.

And what does Christian love lead its subjects to do? It leads them to do just as God commands them, so far as they are able to understand his commands. If the Christian refuse to obey a command to him, which he knows comes from God, then he is governed by his natural love, which is love for self-will. He certainly is not governed by Christian love, for this always aims to obey Christ in every respect. Christ's love never operates against itself; and this applies to Christ's love in a believer's heart.

Again, this love leads its subjects to be kind toward all classes of persons. It never prompts one to say or write spiteful words about those who do not agree with him. Nor does it lead one to rejoice in the misfortune which comes to one who differs from him in religious matters. Some time ago I read an editorial in a religious paper in which it was apparent that the writer rejoiced in the alleged falling off in the circulation of a great official organ of the church, because the editor did not advocate the same views that the other editor does. Christian love does not behave like that. It is the natural love, quite depraved, that wishes something bad will happen to those who will not believe in all things just as the exacting, critical Christian does. Finally, I say that this love leads its possessor to be strictly honest. He will pay his subscription to his religious paper, without being asked a dozen times by the publisher.

C. H. WETHERBE.

A CALL TO STAND BY OUR ENTERPRISES.

In a late communication to the Wesleyan Advocate, Dr. Young J. Allen, who has been laboring in China as a missionary for over forty years, thus writes of our opportunity there: "There never was anything like it in the history of missions, and would that I could multiply myself a hundredfold to meet the demands of the occasion. The only way possible, that I see, whereby the church—our church—may do its duty at this hour and in some sense commensurately with the opportunity is to stand by its projected enterprises, to-wit: The college at Soo Chow and the press at Shanghai. I estimate the value of the press alone as potentially worth one hundred missionaries, and as it will be readily self-supporting when once set up, and have for its field of operations the three kingdoms of the Far East, with hundreds—yea, thousands, of missionaries as its voluntary agents in the distribution of its literature, what may it not accomplish among the five hundred million of people thus made accessible to us by the printed page?"

CURIOUS, ISN'T IT?

The class of church members of whom "Stylus" speaks below are by no means confined to the North: "Will some one kindly explain why the evening and night air during the year of a presidential election loses its damp, injurious quality, and becomes really healthful to people of weak lungs? There are men who can not venture out in the evening air to attend a prayer meeting or a preaching service, because of its effect upon their throat or vocal organs, and they are frank to tell their pastor of this and regret their inability. But during presidential year these men will go out nearly every evening, remaining out sometimes till midnight, and they have been known to shout louder and longer than any ranter of the olden time! Will some brother who is an atmospheric authority make this matter clear? Meteorology is surely a great science."—"Stylus," in New York Advocate.

BISHOP GALLOWAY'S ADDRESS.

The large auditorium of the Methodist Church was crowded last Sunday morning and night by an attentive and enraptured audience, who gathered to listen to that peerless pulpit orator, and unrivaled and majestic divine, Bishop Chas. B. Galloway. In the forenoon he delivered his address on the Twentieth Century Educational Movement. For scholarly diction, profound logic and transporting eloquence, the great Bishop is easily the peer of the world's greatest speakers. No skeptic could answer his masterly appeal on the necessity of Christian education.

Preliminary to his address, he made feeling allusion to Kosciusko, the home of his birth and boyhood, and some of the older citizens who were present, which beautifully illustrated the human and social side of the great Bishop's character. As a minister present said, it was indeed a "feast of reason and flow of soul," and all present will long remember the rare literary, oratorical and spiritual treat. At night he preached such a sermon as only he could preach, and our feeble pen will not attempt the vain feat of painting the lily or gilding fine gold.—Kosciusko Herald, Oct. 14.

FOOT-BALL PLAYER PARALYZED.

The following Associated Press dispatch from Berkely, Ca'., dated Nov. 2, speaks for itself:

"Lee Calhoun Duff, substitute centre on the freshmen eleven of the University of California, is totally paralyzed from the shoulders down as a result of an injury received in foot-ball practice last week."

A NEW BOOK.

EDWARD BLAKE: COLLEGE STUDENT. By Charles M. Sheldon. Cloth, gilt top, 75 cents; linen cloth, 40 cents; paper, 25 cents. Sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by Advance Publishing Co., 215 Madison street, Chicago.

This book contains a thoroughly American story of one of those fine products of the soil: the poor, but ambitious boy who "works his way" through college. Never was a truer picture drawn of this splendid type which has appeared in so many of our presidents, judges, legislators and men of affairs. It is a story that will kindle manly ambition in every boy.

The author has decided views about college problems, (such as athletics, the tyranny of money over convictions, responsibility of the teacher for the moral and religious, as well as mental, development of his pupils, which are here forcibly expressed. He does not preach, but he makes his story illustrate his opinions and convictions.

The Spanish-American war is a leading incident of the story. In it, also, are developed the author's very positive and striking views upon the subject of "imperialism," and of war in general. It is an up-to-date, American, and absorbingly interesting piece of fiction.

The woman's edition of the Summit Sentinel, a copy of which lies on our desk, contains, among other good things, a splendidly written and highly meritorious poem by our worthy friend, Sister J. P. Drake, entitled "Room for the Toiler," it being a reply to Edwin Markham's famous poem, "The Man without the Hoe." We think Sister Drake's production would grace any of the high-class magazines. In the same issue of the Sentinel also appears a very entertaining article by Dr. Annie Walters Fearn on "A Summer in Japan."

A UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

On the twenty-ninth instant the Southern Methodist congregations of this city will join in a union Thanksgiving service, which will be held in the Carondelet Street Church. Rev. Dr. W. H. LaPrade has been appointed to preach the Thanksgiving sermon. On that occasion a collection will be taken for the benefit of our Southern Methodist Churches and congregations in the storm-swept district, and it is hoped that the offerings that day will be very liberal, as our churches at Galveston and in the Houston district are still in sore straits, the contributions for their relief to date being far short of what is needed in the work of repairing and restoring lost or damaged church property. By all means let us remember our Texas brethren in their affliction, and gladden their hearts with a large thank-offering.

NEW ORLEANS PREACHERS' MEETING.

MONDAY, NOV. 5.

NOTES.

Every pastor was present.

Additions reported: Algiers, 1; Carondelet, 6, Carrollton, 3; Louisiana Avenue, 1; Felicity, 2; Rayne Memorial, 5; Parker Memorial, 3.

Nearly every pastor reported increase in attendance during the past month.

Seven Sunday-school teachers' meetings have been organized lately.

Conference collections are being stressed just now.

A resolution was adopted to hold a Union Thanksgiving service at Carondelet, led by Dr. LaPrade. The offering will go to Galveston Methodism.

Dr. Keener spoke complimentary of the heroic work being done by Bro. F. G. Hocutt on his circuit.

A good deal of pretended friendly criticism partakes of the nature of slander.

The minister of the gospel who is not free from the taint of jealousy scarcely deserves to be called saintly.

To turn against a friend when he can no longer be used for the accomplishment of personal ends is the very acme of baseness.

Many a believer who professes to live by the Golden Rule shows by his conduct either that he is deceiving himself or that his application thereof is a hollow form.

Mr. Ready-to-Halt has not a few followers in the church of to-day. People of his class are always looking for a more convenient season in which to labor for God and humanity. Conditions never are just to their liking, and so they take things easy. But, alas! a day of reckoning is coming.

NOTES.

Epworth League matter this week will be found on the eighth page.

***

Be sure to read the notice on the fifth page headed, "Renew Now and Save Money."

***

We had the privilege not long since of listening to a most excellent and edifying discourse by Dr. S. S. Keener at the Dryades Street Church.

***

We see it announced that Bishop Hargrove has given $6,000 to Vanderbilt University as a thank-offering to our Twentieth Century Educational Movement.

***

A revival meeting is in progress this week at Lake Charles, La., conducted by Rev. T. B. Clifford. Pastor Tucker reports "good congregations and much interest."

***

Messrs. Barbee & Smith have purchased a fine lot in Nashville, on which, in the near future, a handsome building will be erected for Publishing House uses. The lot cost $22,800.

***

Pastor P. O. Lowrey is engaged in a protracted meeting at Burgundy Street Church. He is being assisted this week by Rev. F. N. Parker. The meeting is daily increasing in interest.

***

We have been favored by the editor, Rev. Wm. P. Turner, with a copy of the Minutes of the ninth session of the Japan Mission Conference of our church, which was held at Hiroshima, Aug. 1-9, 1900. From it full information may be gained as to what our church is doing in the "Sunrise Kingdom."

In accordance with the request of the Book Agents of the M. E. Church, Dr. Daniel Dorchester is bringing his "Religious Progress" down to the present, and a new edition of the work is soon to be issued.

***

On last Sabbath, at eleven A. M., through the courtesy of Pastor Lowrey, the assistant editor had the pleasure of preaching to the noble flock at the Burgundy Street Church. After the sermon a delightful sacramental service was held.

***

The mooted case of "Country-Bred Men vs. City-Bred Men" is the title of a noteworthy paper contributed by Dr. A. E. Winship to the November number of The World's Work. Dr. Winship shows that, contrary to popular belief, the big cities have supplied a larger proportion of our successful men than the country.

***

It is gratifying to note that both the Montana and the New Mexico Conferences paid up their missionary assessments in full. Despite the huge difficulties that our pastors in that section have to contend with, the West is taking the lead. At the Kentucky Conference an increase was reported in the collections for foreign missions.

***

An officer of the National Liquor Dealers' Association delivered an address recently, in which he vigorously denounced the department stores for selling liquor at wholesale prices. He stated that in one department store in New York City over seventeen thousand bottles of beer and liquor were sold in one day and drunk in rooms on the premises. Not a little was sold to women. This is indeed an ominous sign.

***

Rev. Harry Bradford, of Dallas, Texas, was married, at 11 A. M., on the twenty-fifth of October, by Rev. B. F. White, to Miss Hannah L. Raynham, of St. Francisville, La., the rites being solemnized in the St. Francisville Methodist Church. The newly married couple left on the morning of the twenty-sixth for their home in Dallas. The groom is a son of Rev. D. P. Bradford, of the Mississippi Conference. Our best wishes go with the happy pair.

***

An organization called the Holy Name Society has been formed in the Roman Catholic Church for the purpose of preventing and discouraging profanity. Meetings in the interest of this society were recently held in Brooklyn and Albany, and thousands of men walked in line. At the conclusion of one conference a cablegram from the Pope was read conferring the papal benediction upon the work. Protestants would do well to engage in a similar movement.

***

We trust that every Mississippi pastor who expects to hold a Thanksgiving service will be sure to give the people an opportunity to make a special offering on that occasion for the benefit of our Methodist Orphans' Home at Water Valley, which is in great need of funds, and which is in every way deserving of our most cordial and generous support. What worthier benevolence can be named than this? Let us not forget, then, to remember the orphans on Thanksgiving Day.

***

Mr. Llewellyn James Davies, in the November Forum, claims that the horrible conditions now obtaining in China are the fruit entirely of the insincerity and duplicity of the Chinese Government in its relations with foreigners. He exonerates the Chinese people, as a people, from all blame, and in his paper, "The Taming of the Dragon," endeavors to substantiate his opinion and to suggest a new line of punishment for the offenders. He lays down in outline a scheme of reform, and narrates the steps that must be taken before any such scheme can be put into effect.

***

"Pressed Flowers from the Holy Land" is the title of a charming booklet by Rev. Harvey B. Greene, B. D., which contains a collection of twelve flowers gathered from the fields of Palestine, together with an accurate description of each, and appropriate Scripture references. The author has spent three Springs in Palestine, and with the aid of natives has made a large collection of the native flowers, which he now offers for sale in this attractive form. He desires to find agents who will canvass the smaller cities and towns in the interest of this booklet. His address is 175 Stevens street, Lowell, Mass.

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS
Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.
JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

The 20th Century Movement.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS,
Conference Secretary of Education.

The total amounts from beginning of movement up to date, as reported to the Conference Secretary of Education, are as follows:

Formerly reported	$7 211	35
Gallman.....Increase	9	35
Camden	90	00
Meadville Ct	7	75
Forest.....Increase	12	00
Central, Meridian..Increase	60	18
	$7,390	63

DELINQUENT IN SENDING REPORT.

The following charges have made no report to me: First Church, Jackson, Brandon, Sharon, Lake City, Yazoo circuit, Vicksburg, South Vicksburg, Edwards, Bolton, Rocky Springs, Hermanville, Flora, Port Gibson, South Side, East End, Porterville, Waynesboro, Wayne Mission, McComb City, Crystal Springs, Hazlehurst, Magnolia, Whitestown, Bogue Chitto, Mt. Carmel, Westville, Caseyville, Adams, Wesson, Beauregard, Providence, Americus, St. John, Whittington, Bay St. Louis, Pearlington, Purvis, Columbia, Hattiesburg, Galloway, Vancleave, Williamsburg, Leakesville, East Covington, Moss Point, and all of the Natchez district except Meadville. If the pastors of these charges will fill out and send me "Form D" by Nov. 15, I can then make to Dr. Hammond something like a complete report for the whole Conference.

If it be that the blank form has been lost or not received at all from presiding elder, then write on postal the total amount enrolled up to date, how much has been paid, and how much has been specially directed and to what institutions.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

TWENTIETH CENTURY FUND.

Amounts subscribed and paid as reported, Nov. 5, 1900:

ARCADIA DISTRICT.

	Subscribed	Paid
Ruston	$ 101 00	$ 37 00
Calhoun	51 25	5 00
Farmerville	81 60	11 35
Lisbon	53 95	47 95
Homer	81 70	6 20
Downsville	23 50
Total	$ 337 00	$ 107 50

ALEXANDRIA DISTRICT.

None reported.

BATON ROUGE DISTRICT.

St. Helena	$ 896 00	$ 11 25
Baker	193 64	15 50
Pine Grove	127 00	39 40
East Feliciana	66 00	26 00
Port Vincent	41 50	11 50
Live Oak	40 00	2 00
Port Hatonla	48 00	33 50
Baton Rouge circuit	130 00	32 75
Franklinton	150 50	35 00
Zachary	109 00	70 50
Amite City	65 00	24 50
St. Francisville	55 85	21 60
Wilson	43 95	15 70
Clinton	185 00	24 00
Jackson	90 60	35 00
Total	$2,251 44	$ 412 90

DELHI DISTRICT.

Harrisonburg	$ 33 00	$ 50
Delhi and Tallulah	3 00	3 00
Waterproof	29 00	20 50
Bonita	42 75	14 25
Winnsboro	23 85	20 50
Floyd	28 00
Monroe	200 00
Lake Providence	75 00
Mayville	40 00
Bastrop	70 00
Total	$ 539 60	$ 68 75

NEW ORLEANS DISTRICT.

Carondelet	$ 583 50	$ 69 50
Rayne Memorial	601 00	293 25
Felicity	170 00	170 00
Louisiana Avenue	281 15	88 15
Dryades	40 00	15 00
Carrollton	582 00	574 00
Parker Memorial	71 28	11 28
Algiers	319 75	161 25
Burgundy	73 00	49 00
Tchoupitoulas & Gretna	99 00	34 00
Plaquemine and Donaldsonville	52 75	19 50
Total	$2,973 43	$ 1,484 93

OPELOUSAS DISTRICT.

Crowley	$ 408 45
Morgan City	125 00	100 00
Franklin	130 00	40 50
West Lake	5 00
Patterson	16 00	15 00
Prudhomme	50 50	28 00
Total	$ 734,95	$ 184 50

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT.

South Bossier	$ 300 00	$ 101 50
North Bossier	27 25
Mansfield	375 00	200 00
First Church, Shreveport	850 00
Red River	212 00
Benton	160 00	4 50
Grand Cane	51 50	10 50
Caddo	56 00	6 00
Total	$2,031 75	$ 322 50
Conference total	$8,878 17	$2,615 08

It will be seen that numbers of charges (including one entire district) have failed to send me reports. Brethren, please send at once. I wish to publish facts, and am dependent on you for information. If there are errors in above statement, please drop me a line giving correction.

I have the list of contributors at last Annual Conference. Preachers desiring their contributions credited to any special charge, in cases where such amount has not been so included in report sent me, will please notify me.

WM. H. LAPRADE,
1407 State street, New Orleans, La.

ATTITUDE OF RAILROADS.

PROMPT ASSISTANCE RENDERED BY THEM AT GALVESTON.

The popular belief that large corporations are relentless under all circumstances where profits are at stake, has received a gratifying "shock" in so far as the attitude of the railroads since the Galveston storm is concerned, as the following will show:

Morning Post, Raleigh, N. C.: The Concord Tribune says:

"We have all heard a great deal about the corporations being soulless. This may be true. They are at least stern business institutions What we want to say is that when a disaster of the Galveston nature comes the people are absolutely at the mercy of the corporations, and in a measure look to them for relief. Just now the railroad, express and telegraph companies are doing no little toward the relief of the Galveston sufferers, and deserve due credit for what they are doing. It's true they have large business interests there, and suffer from a financial standpoint, but it is due these companies, soul or no soul, to say they can and do do a great good when there is suffering to be relieved."

This is true and just. But for the prompt generosity of these corporations in such emergencies, the suffering would be multiplied many fold. And it is not only the promptness with which they respond, but the free transportation of supplies and all things necessary to alleviate the suffering, whether provided by governmental or individual charity, that deserves commendation. It costs as much to run trains for such occasions as it does to run similar trains for profit. Yet there is not a railroad company or an express or telegraph company in the land that would not be and has not been prompt to render every such service that the emergency could call for without price. When the Philadelphia Press intimated the other day that it had nurses and medical supplies and a trainload of provisions for Galveston, these things had scarcely been gathered together before the Southern had its train of cars and comfortable coaches at the Quaker City depot, and so soon as all could be loaded and gotten aboard was speeding through the South, with absolute right-of-way of trackage, on its mission of mercy. It is due to say that either of the other great systems reaching into the South would have cheerfully performed the same service to the extent of its system.

Yet these great instrumentalities of charity, as well as of enterprise, are the objects of special assault and oppression by the little souls who constitute the demagogue element of society. When these corporations are not cut down in their traffic receipts to the lowest limit, they are singled out for burdensome, unusual and unequal taxation, thus cutting them both ways. And if they object to being thus robbed, they are held up constantly as enemies of the people.

Holiest people are fast learning to place the proper estimate upon the visions and ambitions demagogues, and to appreciate and to protect in all things that are just, those great agencies of good as well as of material development.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

TO OLD SUBSCRIBERS.

Renew Now and Save Money.

From now until Dec. 1 we will take renewals at the rate of fourteen months for $2, provided all arrearages are paid up. Send 16⅔ cents for each month up to November, 1900; then send $2 additional, and we will receipt you to January, 1902.

A Touching Gift.

MR. EDITOR: Herewith paid $1.70 from our Choctaw Christians for the sufferers in India from the poorest people in Mississippi to the poorest people in the world. The collection was taken at the request of Bro. Tom Tubby, and every nickel was contributed by Choctaws—nothing from any one else.

As my recent letter was otherwise so correctly printed, my pen must have slipped and Raleigh was written when Decatur was intended. Bro. L. J. Jones is the preacher in charge of Decatur circuit. Yours faithfully,

T. L. MELLEN.

Forest, Miss., Oct. 31, 1900.

NOTICE.

If would greatly expedite the business of the Board of Church Extension of the Mississippi Conference if the funds were placed in my hands before Conference convenes. Postoffice money order on Vicksburg or express money order on Vicksburg or New Orleans exchange desired.

THOS. A. HOLLOMAN,
Tr. B'd Ch. Ex., Miss. Conf.

Phœnix, Miss., Nov. 1, 1900.

What Would You Give

To be cured of catarrh? If you or your friends have this disease, you know how disagreeable it is. Its symptoms are inflamed eyes, throbbing temples, ringing noises in the ears, headaches, capricious appetite, and constant discharge of mucus. Fortunately its cure is not a question of what you will give, but what you will take. If you will take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great constitutional remedy, which thoroughly purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, you may expect to be completely and permanently cured. The good blood which Hood's Sarsaparilla makes, reaching the delicate passages of the mucous membrane, soothes, and rebuilds the tissues, and ultimately cures all symptoms of catarrh.

NOTICE.

TEACHERS' AGENCY. CHRISTIAN TEACHERS, ATTENTION.

For a nominal fee, and without taking any per cent of the salary if a position is obtained, The Teachers' Bureau of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, gives the most careful attention to the placing of Christian teachers in public and private schools, and in colleges. For further information address, BOARD OF EDUCATION, M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, Methodist Publishing House, Nashville, Tenn.

A QUERY.

MR. EDITOR: Will our Rally Day collections be included in the report of "Twentieth Century" collections, or will they be included in our regular foreign missionary collections? In our Sunday-school at Bond, Miss., we raised the collection in our Missionary Rally service as a "Twentieth Century Thank-offering" for our foreign missionary educational institutions. How will said collection be reported?

Kindly answer through the ADVOCATE for the benefit of all who do not understand it, and oblige,

MRS. E. LOU WHYTE.

Bond, Miss., Nov. 2, 1900.

[All contributions to foreign missionary educational institutions will be counted as a part of the Twentieth Century Fund.—EDITOR.]

MARRIAGES

WILLIAMS—HALLFORD.—At the residence of the bride's parents, near DeKalb, Miss., Oct 31, 1900, by Rev. H. Mellard, Mr. W. B Williams, of West Alabama, to Miss Lizzie Hallford, of Kemper county, Miss.

CHRISTIAN—McKNIGHT.—At Carondelet Street Church, New Orleans, La., Oct. 31, 1900, by Rev. John T. Sawyer, D. D., Mr. Charles Gayler Christian and Miss Addie Sawyer McKnight.

SAMPLE—BETHEA.—At the residence of Rev. W. T. Griffin, Summit, Miss., Sept. 25, by the bride's father, Dr. R. C. Bethea, Mr. S. C. Sample, of Franklin county, to Miss Ella C. Bethea, of Summit.

MERCER—CRICHTON.—At the residence of the bride's father, Mr John Crichton, near East Point, Red River parish, La., Oct. 31, by Rev. T. S. Randle, William D. Mercer, Jr., of Taylortown, Bossier parish, La., to Miss Jo. D. Crichton.

TAKE HEED!

And if you are troubled with a hacking cough, tightness in the chest, tickling in the throat,

USE
Locock's Cough Elixir.

It is unsurpassed for the relief and cure of all Throat and Lung Troubles. Coughs, Colds and Incipient Consumption yield readily to its medicinal virtues.

TESTIMONIAL.

LINDEN, ALA.

I. L. LYONS, New Orleans—

Dear Sir: Last winter I had a severe cough, pain in the chest and spitting of blood. I procured a bottle of Dr. Locock's Cough Elixir, and am happy to state that four doses relieved me entirely, and I can safely say that I think it is the best cough medicine I ever saw.
E. L. WALSTON.

Price: 50 cts. and $1 a Bottle!

I. L. LYONS & CO., Prop's,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

THE ADVOCATE FOR $1.

From now until the first of January we will take new subscriptions at the rate of $1 for eight months.

WANTED.

A lady or gentleman (lady preferred) to teach private school for family of four children; also to teach music, vocal and instrumental. For further information apply to.

R. L. LINDSEY.

Jacoby P. O., La.

HUSTLING YOUNG MAN

can make $60 per month and expenses. Permanent position. Experience unnecessary. Write quick for particulars. Clark & Co., 4th and Locust Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Free to Inventors.

The experience of C. A. Snow & Co. in obtaining more than 20,000 patents for inventors has enabled them to helpfully answer many questions relating to the protection of intellectual property. This they have done in a pamphlet treating briefly of United States and foreign patents, with cost of same, and how to procure them; trade marks, designs, caveats, infringements, decisions in leading patent cases, etc., etc.

This pamphlet will be sent free to anyone writing to C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

When answering advertisements please mention the ADVOCATE.

FREE TUITION.

The Carnegie College, of Rogers, Ohio, in order to introduce its methods of teaching by Correspondence, gives free tuition in Normal, Academic, and Business Courses to one student in each county. Those interested in securing the "Free Scholarship" should address the College.

The Mutual Life Insurance Com'y
OF NEW YORK.
RICHARD A. McCURDY, PRESIDENT.

Is the oldest active Life Insurance Company in the United States, and the largest and strongest Company in the world. It is purely mutual—belonging exclusively to its policy holders, for whom it has accumulated re serves in excess of those of any similar institution.

SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION IN 1843

It has paid to living members	$283,157,627 54
To beneficiaries of deceased members	204,591,283 43
Total paid to members, both living and dead	$487,748,910 96
And now holds for the security of its present members	277,517,325 26
Paid to and invested for its members	$765,266,236 43

THE POLICIES OF THIS COMPANY

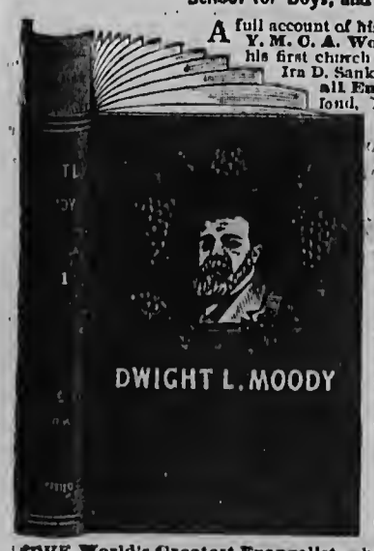
are remarkable for their liberality, large guaranteed values, and entire absence of all technical terms or brakes. Being practically incontestable, they provide a legacy and not a lawsuit.

Persons desiring policies in this Company can secure them from the Company's nearest agent, or if no agent is convenient, by writing to the General Agent, giving date of birth and stating what amount of insurance is desired.

Post & Bowles, New Orleans, La.
Managers for Louisiana and Mississippi.

LIFE and WORK of DWIGHT L. MOODY THE GREAT EVANGELIST

The Founder of Northfield Seminary, Mount Hermon School for Boys, and the Chicago Bible Institute.



A full account of his boyhood and early life. Business life in Chicago. Y. M. C. A. Work. Civil War record. Mission Work. Building his first church and Farwell Hall. Convention Work. Meeting Ira D. Sankey. Work after the great Chicago fire. Shaking all England by sermon and song. Great work in Scotland. Return to America. Great Revival in Philadelphia. Continued Evangelistic work. Great World's Fair campaign. Northfield Conferences. Northfield Seminary. Mount Hermon Boys' School. Chicago Bible Institute. Last Campaign in Kansas City. Return to Northfield. Dying words, "Earth recedes, Heaven opens; God is calling me; this is my triumph; this is my coronation day!" In his life he influenced more souls for Jesus than any other man, and in his death God called him, to place on his brow a crown with many stars. As thousands crowded the "Moody Meetings" to hear him preach while living, so now thousands read this thrilling and inspiring volume, that they may preserve and keep fresh in memory the complete record of his Great Life and Work. It contains over 400 pages and over 60 halftone engravings. A handsome volume, showing us the Boy, the Man, the Preacher, the Educator, and the Philanthropist; replete with Reminiscences, Anecdotes and Illustrations.

Bound in Art Vellum Cloth, Stamped in Four Colors, price $1.25

A copy of this thrilling and soul-stirring volume should be in every Christian home.

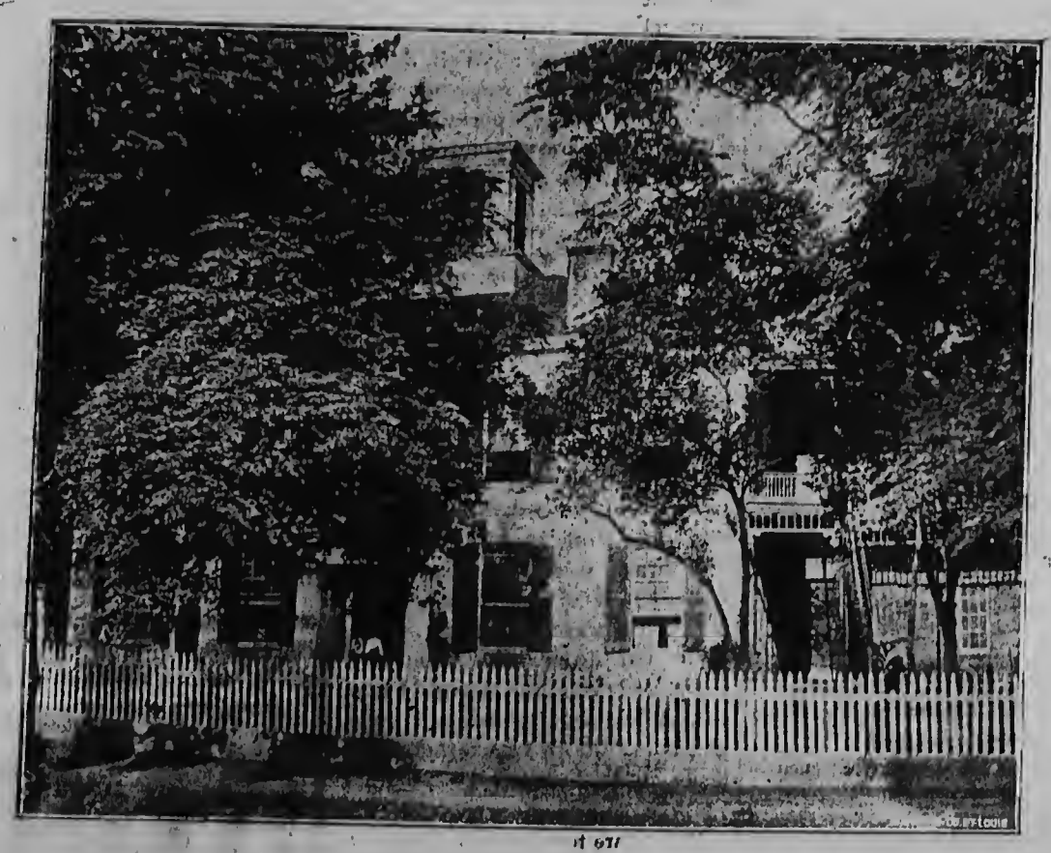
THE World's Greatest Evangelist, whose burning words have touched the hearts of so many thousands, has passed to his reward. His voice will no more fill large earthly auditoriums, nor stir vast audiences, but his life stands as a monitor to the world's masses. No single figure has influenced so many minds. No single voice has touched so many hearts. No other man has done such a life-work for mankind.

We will send you this magnificent book and the best paper we can make for one year on receipt of price first named above. If you are now a subscriber, we will send the paper one year from the date your present subscription expires. Renew your subscription at once and take advantage of this liberal offer.

A First-Class Book at Half-Price.

To all our subscribers who will pay up all arrearages and pay their subscription one year in advance at the regular rate—viz., to Nov., 1901—we will sell a copy of the Life and Work of D. L. Moody, by A. W. Williams, at half price. The regular price, post, is $1.25. Our price, on conditions named above, is 63 cents postpaid. The work is handsomely bound and contains over four hundred pages and over 60 half-tone engravings. Moody is universally conceded to be one of the truly great men of this century. A copy of this admirably written biography ought to be in every home. This offer will last until Nov. 15th. Don't delay.

Address
REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.



Port Gibson Female College,
PORT GIBSON, MISS.
REV. L. S. JONES, A. M., PRESIDENT.

Conservatory of Music and Art Department equal to any in the State. A full corps of competent teachers in the Literary Department.

Full session without any of the ornate branches, $130.

Full session with any one of the ornate branches, $160; with two, $185; with three, $200.

Healthy location, commodious buildings and large, well-ventilated rooms. Electric lights and bath service free. For Catalogue address the President,
L. S. JONES.

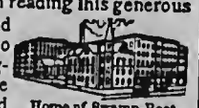
DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Matthew Henry's Commentary

on the entire Bible, with all original illustrations and foot notes.

Doddredge: He is, perhaps, the only commentator so large that deserves to be entirely and attentively read through.

Bickersteth: No subsequen commentary has rendered it less valuable or less disirable in every Christian library.

Whitfield: When asked where he studied theology, he replied: "On my knees, reading my Bible, and 'Henry's Commentary.'" Whitfield read it continually through four times.

3 Vols., complete, only $6.00 net.
6 Vols., complete, only $7.20 uet.

Prefatory notes by Rev. John A. Broadus, D. D., LL.D.

Cheapest and Best Commentary
Best cloth binding—good type.

Write to

Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp Street, - New Orleans

A RARE BARGAIN.

THE VERY VALUABLE BOOKS AT A MINIMUM PRICE.

1. How to Succeed.—Marden.
2. Many Thoughts of Many Minds.—Klopsch.
3. The Wedding Ring.—Talmage.
4. Holiday Stories for Young People.—Sangster.
5. Recitations for the Social Circle.—Harvey.
6. The Secret of a Happy Home.—Harland.
7. The Land We Live In.—Mann.
8. Winter Evening Tales.—Barr.
9. Notable Events of the Nineteenth Century—Ridpath.
10. The Fairy-Land of Science.—Buckley.

These are all first-class books worthy of a place in every home. They are bound in cloth in a style that is both durable and attractive. We will send the whole set postpaid to any subscriber, new or old, who will pay his subscription one full year in advance—i. e., to Nov., 1901—for the small sum of $2. Just think of buying such books at twenty cents each. Send your order at once, as this offer may close very soon. We do not sell them at all to non-subscribers. Pay your subscription and send $2 additional.

Address

Rev. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans.

Home Circle

AUTUMNALIA.

Aves Migrantes.

BY W. L. C. H.

Once in early Autumn days,
So the beech-tree legend says,
Robin Redbreast's youngest son
Died when life had just begun.
Lost by chance from Mother's nest,
Fate denied him other rest.
Downy drapery dipped in dew
Chilled the birdling ere he flew.
Father droops upon the tree,
Mother mourns in minor key,
Birds around in sadness pine,
Dimly, too, the sun doth shine,
Falling leaves drop slowly down,
Sounds are sad, the earth grows brown,
Winds sing dirges in the air,
Gloom sits brooding everywhere.
Sad and rueful was the day
When young Robin passed away;
Curling leaf was shroud and grave,
Drooping branch did o'er him wave.
Silence reigned long time, they say,
On young Robin's burial day.

Yet the sadness soon was past,
Sorrow but a night could last.
Sharpest grief takes quickest flight—
Songs came with the morning light;
Joy thrilled all the birds again—
Joy is stronger after pain.

Hear the mock-bird's Autumn lays,
Mellow as the Autumn days!
Day and night I hear him sing,
Fresh as in the burst of Spring.
Now, too, hear the flute-toned wren
Calling o'er and o'er again,
Till the silvery notes deploy,
Flinging wide the sounding joy.
List! the speckle breasted thrush,
Creeping through the tangled brush,
Chatters threats with baneful eye
At the heedless passer-by.

Now the birds with prudent care
Store away their Winter fare,
For they all appear to feel,
While yet distant, coming ill,
And prepare for it betimes,
Or depart for friendlier climes:
Nature, too, makes them to know
Which should stay and which should go.

Sporting now in airy ocean,
Swallows while in wild commotion,
Congregate at evening hour
Down some chimney throat to pour,
Moved by strangest inspiration,
They prepare for their migration;
Seeming everyone to know
Just the time for them to go.
Thousands upon thousands come,
Gathering for their journey home.

Blue-birds, too, go southward now
Till the time when farmers plow;
Man may hear their concert chime
When they start for distant clime;
Marshalled high in pathless skies
Bird to wandering bird replies.
Plaintive notes borne through the air,
As of angel near despair;
Heard amid our dreamy slumbers
Wake us by their mystic numbers,
Marking tardy hours of night,
Slowly passed in weary flight—
Signal-sounds on high to tell
Heaven and earth that all is well.

HOW TOIL CONQUERED PRIDE.

John Adams, the second President of the United States, used to relate the following anecdote:

"When I was a boy I used to study Latin grammar; but it was dull, and I hated it. My father was anxious to send me to college, and, therefore, I studied the grammar till I could stand it no longer; and going to my father, I told him that I did not like study, and asked for some other employment.

"My father said: 'Well, John, if Latin grammar does not suit you, try ditching—perhaps that will. My meadow yonder needs a ditch, and you may put by Latin and try that.'

"This seemed a delightful change, and to the meadow I went. But soon I found ditching harder than Latin, and the first forenoon was the longest I ever experienced. That day I ate the bread of labor, and was glad when night came on. That night I made some comparison between Latin grammar and ditching, but said not a word about it.

"I dug next forenoon and wanted to return to Latin at dinner; but it was humiliating, and I could not do it. At night toil conquered pride; and though it was one of the severest trials I ever had in my life, I told father that if he chose, I would go back to Latin grammar.

"He was glad of it, and if I have since gained any distinction, it has been owing to the two days' labor in that ditch."—Christian Standard.

OUR OVERFURNISHED HOMES

"More simplicity in our homes would make our lives simpler," writes Edward Bok in a plea for the exercise of better taste in furnishing our homes, in the Ladies' Home Journal. "Many women would live fuller lives because they would have more time. As it is, hundreds of women of all positions in life are to-day the slaves of their homes and what they have crowded into them. Comfort is essential to our happiness. But with comfort we should stop. Then we are on the safe side. But we get on and over the danger line when we go beyond. Not one-tenth of the things that we think are essential to our happiest living are really so. In fact, we should be an infinitely happier and healthier people if the nine-tenths were taken out of our lives. It is astonishing how much we can do without, and be a thousand times the better for it. And it doesn't require much to test this gospel of wisdom. We need only to be natural: to get back to our real, inner selves. Then we are simple. It is only because we have got away from the simple and the natural that so many of our homes are cluttered up as they are, and our lives full of little things that are not worth the while. We have bent the knee to show, to display, and we have lowered ourselves in doing it: surrounded ourselves with the trivial and the useless: and filling our lives with the poison of artificiality and the unnatural, we have pushed the Real: the Natural: the Simple: the Beautiful—the best and most lasting things out of our lives."

"MIGHTY RICH."

A writer in the Outlook describes a ride he once took with an old farmer in a New England village, during which some of the men of the neighborhood came under criticism.

Speaking of a prominent man in the village, I said: "He is a man of means?"

"Well, sir," the farmer replied, "he hasn't got much money, but he's mighty rich."

"He has a great deal of land, then?" I asked.

"No, sir, he hasn't got much land either, but he is mighty rich."

The old farmer, with a pleased smile, observed my puzzled look for a moment, and then explained:

"You see, he hasn't got much money, and he hasn't got much land, but still he is rich, because he never went to bed owing any man a cent in all his life. He lives as well as he wants to live, and he pays as he goes; he doesn't owe anything, and he isn't afraid of anybody; he tells every man the truth, and does his duty by himself, his family and his neighbors; his word is as good as his bond, and every man, woman and child in the town looks up to him and respects him. No, sir, he hasn't got much land, but he's a mighty rich man, because he's got all he wants."

Until the church arouses from her Rip-Van-Winkle sleep and gets on the whole gospel armour, we may expect to see the liquor traffic grow and flourish like the cedars of Lebanon. The saloon will go down just as soon as the churches are converted to God. No truly converted man can vote to perpetuate the saloon—Danville (Ill.) Banner.

NO MAN

WANTS TO MARRY

a sickly woman, and no woman need be sick. The prescription of a famous old German physician, put up under the name of cures them of Painful and Irregular Menses, Whites, and all other forms of female trouble quicker than any other medicine known.

G.F.P. GERSTLE'S FEMALE PANACEA

Insist on having G. F. P. If a substitute is offered, refuse it. Sent to any address, express charges paid, on receipt of price, $1 a bottle, by

L. GERSTLE & Co.
Sole Proprietors,
Chattanooga, Tenn.

Druggists Sell G. F. P.

If your trouble is not entirely covered by our free book, "Healthy Mothers Make Happy Homes," write in confidence for free advice to Ladies' Health Club, care L. Gerstle & Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

THE OLD DOCTOR'S STORY.

"Children, I have a story to tell you," the old doctor said to the young people the other evening. "One day—a long, hot day it had been, too—I met my father on the road to town.

"'I wish you would take this package to the village for me, Jim,' he said, hesitating.

"Now, I was a boy of twelve, not fond of work, and was just out of the hayfield, where I had been at work since daybreak. I was tired, dusty, hungry. It was two miles into town. I wanted to get my supper, and to wash and dress for singing school. My first impulse was to refuse, and to do it harshly; for I was vexed that he should ask after my long day's work. If I did refuse, he would go himself. He was a gentle, patient old man. But something stopped me—one of God's good angels, I think.

"'Of course, father, I'll take it,' I said heartily, giving my scythe to one of the men.

"'Thank you, Jim,' he said. 'I was going myself; but somehow I don't feel very strong to-day.'

"He walked with me to the road which turned off to the town. As he left he put his hand on my arm, saying again: 'Thank you, my son. You've always been a good boy to me, Jim.'

"I hurried into town, and back again. When I came near the house I saw a crowd of farmers at the door.

"One of them came to me, the tears rolling down his face.

"'Your father,' he said, 'fell dead just as he reached the house. The last words he spoke were to you.'

"I am an old man now; but I have thanked God over and over again, in all the years that have passed since that hour, that those last words were: 'You've always been a good boy to me.'"—Exchange.

PROGRESS OF TEMPERANCE.

Temperance reformers have no reason for discouragement. Even while the liquor interest grows more shameless and intolerant in its demands, and prohibitory and license, laws prove ineffectual in so many instances, new allies come over to the temperance side. The managers of the great railway corporations are doing excellent work, and while they are not doing it as reformers, but as shrewd men of business, it tells for temperance just the same. Railroad employees can do but little drinking, if they expect to retain their positions. The managers may not preach total abstinence, or practice it, but they are making rules that will require total abstainers to keep. It is said of the thirty thousand men in the employ of a great railway corporation that there is so little drunkenness that less than one per cent. of the discharges is due to that cause. Twenty years ago the proportion was twenty times as large. The demand for total abstainers increases every year, and everybody who is at work to recruit that body of men may be sure of encouragement from the real business world and the true apostles of political economy.—Zion's Herald.

THE SUPREME GIFT OF EDUCATION.

We are living in a keenly strenuous and competitive age, writes Whitman Barbe, of the University of West Virginia, in Success.

For a dollar you can buy a cyclopedia which contains more facts than you can learn in any course in any college.

A piece of machinery is more exact and self-poised than the best disciplined mind in any school.

Look around you at the other aspirants in the field of action. Some men you will see so fortunate as to be able to make in a single speculation more money than a college president earns in years. Some women by accident of birth or riches move in society circles which are forever closed against the most cultivated and refined women who do not have these advantages.

It behooves you, then, to get the best, the highest equipment. A curriculum should be only the foundation. Build higher; build until you get the right view.

The facts of history; the mathematics, and the idioms may crumble beneath you, but the supreme gift of education—a larger, richer, and more beautiful life—will live forever. It is not so much what he seems to the world to be, but rather what the world and human life seem to him to be, that is really important to the man. The failure to make this distinction leads us to false views of the ends and purposes of education.

HOUSEHOLD PIETY.

Probably one reason why conversions have diminished and the number of candidates for the ministry has fallen off is that there is a decline in household piety. Underneath the church lies the household; there is no such school of Bible-religion as a God-fearing home. Of that "church in the house," parents are the God-ordained pastors. Before the pulpit begins, or Sunday-school begins, the mother has already begun! A prodigious power is this. It sent Samuel out of the arms of Hannah, and Timothy out of the household of Ennice and of Lois; it is the mightiest of human agencies; and to-day the destiny of Christianity is largely dependent upon a conscientious and consecrated motherhood.—Theodore L. Cuyler.

STUDY AND LOVE WIN BEAUTY.

It is said that the uplifted, softened eyes of the Italian women are born of the mind's attitude for generations toward the Madonna, writes Ella Van Poole in Success. It takes generations to establish a type, but anyone can change the general lines of her own face to a higher beauty by the influences of intellectual study, and by the recognition of love. The former gives an expansion of brow, and a frank, independent look to the eyes, which speak of ambition, and power for good. The earth is one of the greatest incentives to the growth of beauty. A plain face will blossom into flower-like grace when visited by love, and this quality of beauty is the quality of holiness.

A lady had in her employ an excellent girl, who had one fault—her face was always in a smudge. Mrs. —— tried to tell her to wash her face without offending, and at last resorted to strategy:

"Do you know, Bridget," she remarked in a confidential manner, "it is said that if you wash the face every day in hot, soapy water, it will make you beautiful?"

"Will it?" said Bridget, "sure, it's a wonder ye niver tried it, ma'am."—Exchange.

PRICE REDUCED.

"The Gospel of Giving" having had a sufficient sale to justify a reduction in price, we will hereafter send it postpaid to any address at the following prices: Ten copies, ten cents; twenty-five copies, fifteen cents; fifty copies, twenty-five cents; one hundred copies, forty cents; two hundred copies, seventy-five cents.

Address

Rev. W. C. Black.

Consistent with its policy to constantly improve its service, the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad is now relaying its track between New Orleans and Slidell, a distance of twenty-nine miles, with new steel rails, weighing seventy-five pounds to the yard.

The entire line has been ballasted in the most approved manner from end to end, and, notwithstanding the increased price of steel, two-thirds of the entire mileage has been relaid with 75-pound new steel rails, and the balance of the line will be relaid as rapidly as the material can be procured.

These improvements are not only an indication of the prosperous condition of the property, but an assurance of safety and comfort to travelers.

The entire Queen and Crescent system, of which the New Orleans and Northeastern forms a part, is now a thoroughly up-to-date system of railroads running the very best equipment in the most modern style.

16,000 frs. National Prize at Paris

QUINA-LAROCHE

A Ferruginous Tonic
Pleasant to the taste; assimilates quickly and thoroughly in all cases of Stomach trouble, Anemia and Poorness of the Blood.
29 rue Dronet
PARIS
E. Fougera & Co.
Agents, N.Y.

PATENTS

promptly procured, OR MONEY BACK. Send model, sketch, or photo for free report on patentability. Book "How to Obtain U.S. and Foreign Patents and Trade-Marks" FREE. Fairest terms ever offered to inventors. PATENT LAWYERS OF 25 YEARS' PRACTICE. 20,000 PATENTS PROCURED THROUGH THEM. All business confidential. Sound advice. Faithful service. Moderate charges.

Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.
PATENT LAWYERS,
Opp. U. S. Patent Office, WASHINGTON, D. C.

DR. LE TELLIER'S

Sunflower Tablets.

GUARANTEED TO CURE

MALARIA CHILLS FEVER

Sunflower Tablets is a vegetable remedy, and the surest, safest, and best malaria medicine in the world. Thousands of testimonials to prove it. Recommended by the best physicians. Sold by druggists 50 cents a box or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Free sample to any address

SUNFLOWER REMEDY CO.,
American Tract Building, NEW YORK CITY.

DIPHTHERIA AND CROUP

Cured at last, also Whooping-Cough and Tonsilitis by

DR. JONES' NEW SCIENCE REMEDY.

A marvelous new discovery. Simple, Infallible, Harmless, Failure Impossible. Dissolves false membrane or prevents its formation if used early. Keep it on hand for emergencies and save your loved ones. Thoroughly tried and now advertised for the benefit of humanity everywhere. Price $1.00, postpaid, with full directions. If interested, don't fail to ask for circular regarding Dr. Jones' New Science Remedies (Anti-Germ) for Asthma or Hay Fever, Rheumatism, Consumption, Eczema, and Drunkenness or the Liquor Habit. New Bacteriological Treatment, simple, scientific. Cures by killing the Germs. New trial price, 50 cents each, postpaid.

THE JONES CO., 49 COLUMBUS AVE., N. Y.

MONEY SAVED

In the end by taking

and going on a

SUMMER OUTING

To the Mountain Resorts of Virginia, the White Mountains, the Seaside of New England, the Thousand Islands, the Lake and Forest Resorts of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Yellowstone Park or the Resorts of Colorado. They are all quickly reached by the double daily train service of the Illinois Central to St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville. Tourist Rates and close connections. Ask your local railroad ticket agent for particulars.

A. H. HANSON, G. P. A., Chicago.
WM. MURRAY, D. P. A., New Orleans.

Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RAILROAD COMPANY

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPTEMBER 1ST.

Trains leave and arrive at CENTRAL STA'N Howard Ave. and Rampart St., Daily.

	Leaves.	Arrive
Memphis and Local.....	4:00 p. m	10:30 a. m
Vicksburg & Natchez Ex....	7:30 a. m	5:50 p. m

Solid Trains with Pullman Sleepers New Orleans to Vicksburg and New Orleans to Memphis.

Direct and favorite route to North Louisiana and Arkansas. Only line through the Ole Mississippi Sugar Country and the far-famed Yazoo Delta.

Ticket Office, Corner St. Charles and Common Sts.

W. A. KELLOND, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt.
A. H. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

"HONESTY is the best policy." Nobody contradicts it.

Your dealer can get lamp-chimneys that almost never break from heat, or those that break continually. Which does he get? Which do you get?

Macbeth's "pearl top" and "pearl glass" are tough against heat; not one in a hundred breaks in use. The glass is clear as well as tough. They are accurate, uniform.

Be willing to pay more for chimneys that last till they rot, unless some accident happens to them.

Our "Index" describes all lamps and their proper chimneys. With it you can always order the right size and shape of chimney for any lamp. We mail it FREE to any one who writes for it.

Address MACBETH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

OPIUM Morphine, Cocaine and other drug habits treated on a positive guarantee. No cure, no pay. Dr. J. B. Richardson, Holly Springs, Miss.

Mrs. J. D. Cordell,
MILK DEPOT,
SWEET CREAM, BUTTERMILK.
CONFECTIONERIES.
DELIVERY FREE.
Corner Prytania St., Cor. Polymnia, New Orleans

S. A. MONTGOMERY,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
Suite 302—New Orleans National Bank Building,
206 Common St., New Orleans, La

T. J. MURRAY,
DEALER IN
STOVEWOOD, COAL, COKE, CHARCOAL, ETC.,
Rampart and St. Andrew Sts.
Families supplied with fuel for heating or cooking. Will put inside your premises a wagon-load of split ash and oak for $2.25; a load of pine blocks for $1.50. Coal, coke and 4-foot wood at same prices as wholesale dealers. Your patronage is solicited.

OBITUARIES.

Obituaries of 200 words published free. For all words in excess of that number send one cent per word.

TORIAN—Miss MATTIE GLENN TORIAN was born in Goliad county, Texas, Jan. 11, 1868, and died a triumphant death at the home of her father, Mr. W. S. Torian, in Lafayette, La., Aug. 2, 1900. Her last days were spent in great physical suffering, but in spiritual joy. She died surrounded by her loved ones, who had tried so hard to keep her longer. She was conscious until the very last, and just before she left earth tried to tell them of the beauty of the vision she beheld. She had all that science could give. Fervent prayer was offered in her behalf by her church and by other christians, but a loving Heavenly Father called her home. It was a sad day for her family and friends when they followed her to the little Protestant Cemetery in the suburbs of Lafayette.

In the record book of the M. E. Church, South, in what might appear to be a death-bed sentence, "Mattie G. Torian; received Aug. 19[illegible]; died Aug. 2, 1900." but this is not the case. She had previously confessed Christ publicly, and was waiting for her brother to return home and join the church with him according to an agreement. The first day she got sick she told her mother that if she became dangerously sick, to send for her pastor and have her received into the church, as she did not want to die out of the church. She left a father and mother, and four brothers and four sisters, and an uncle and other relatives, to mourn her loss.

"Our mourning is all at an end
When raised by the life giving Word;
We see the New City descend
Adorned as a bride for her Lord,
The city so holy and risen;
No sorrow can breathe in the air,
No gloom or affliction or sin,
No shadow of evil is there."

Her pastor, C. C. WREN.

MOORE—ALMA ADELIA MOORE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Moore, was born March 20 1883 and "fell on sleep" Sept. 25, 1900.

The youngest of the family, she was the cherished treasure of a devoted father and mother, and affectionate brothers and sisters. Loved by a host of friends for her genial, sympathetic disposition, we are at a loss to find words to express the sadness caused by her death. Under the training and example of pious parents, she entered the Sunday-school at the early age of six years, where she remained a faithful scholar to the time of her last illness. On Oct. 18, 1891, in her tenth year, she made a public profession of faith in her Savior by joining the church.

More than once has she cheered the heart of the writer by telling him that she was blessed by his preaching. At all times she was an active, consistent worker in the church, Sunday-school, and League. Last June she graduated with honor from the Jackson High School, and the members of her class paid their last tribute of affection by attending in a body the funeral, which took place from Capitol Street Methodist Church, of which her father is an official member. The large concourse of people that filled the church and accompanied her remains to the cemetery attested the universal esteem in which this lovable young girl was held. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. F. Emery, assisted by Bishop C. B. Galloway and Dr. W. C. Black. As she was tenderly laid beneath the sod, which was covered with flowers by loving hands, we felt that the influence of her pure, noble young life would not soon be forgotten.

C. F. EMERY.

SHEDD—The subject of this sketch, W. H. SHEDD, was born in Jefferson county, Ala., A. D. 1845. He moved with his parents to Mississippi when a boy. He volunteered and entered the Confederate War in 1862, and made a brave soldier. He was wounded in the battle of Chickemauga on Sept. 19 or 20, 1863, which resulted in the loss of one of his legs. He came home, and was for some years a wild boy, but changed up in his spiritual life during the pastorate of Bro T. Y. Armstrong on the Neshoba charge. His neighbors say he had been a true, good and brave man for the twenty-two years preceding the time when I became acquainted with him. I knew him personally for one year and nine months, and preached at his church every month during this time, and he was always in his place in the church for Sunday-school and preaching except once, and then he was in bed sick. He frequently shed tears under the influence of the gospel.

I talked to Bro. Sheid just before he died, and he said that he was all right, and did not fear to die. He was taken ill on Thursday, but did not take his bed until Friday morning, and died the same day at 12:17 o'clock, Sept. 21, 1900. Congestion got in its deadly work before his danger was realized. He left no family, never having married, but leaves a sister and nieces and nephews to mourn their loss. The church has lost a good, faithful member; the county a good citizen, and the community a true and tried friend.

(Rev.) P. H. HOWSE.

LANGLEY—MARY ELIZABETH LANGLEY (nee Hightower) was born in Georgia, Aug. 21, 1821. In her eighteenth year she professed religion and joined the M. E. Church, and for sixty years was a faithful member of the same, and diligently bore her cross from young maidenhood to a green old age. For eight years she was confined to her room an invalid, and the most of that time confined to her bed. Through all those years of suffering not a murmur was ever heard from her lips. At times her sufferings were such that often she and family would think the end had come. Her children standing around her bed expected to see her breathe her last. Of such times she would say, "There is not a shadow between me and glory," expressing a willingness to endure all this pain as long as it was God's will she should suffer. Though oblivious to passing events, her mind was ever clear and bright as to the state of her soul and her hope of heaven.

November 25, 1840, she was married to the Rev. H. A. Langley—an old-time Methodist local preacher. As the result of this marriage she became the mother of twelve children. The husband and three of these preceded her to the spirit world. Two daughters and seven sons survive, one of whom—A. W. Langley—is a member of the North Mississippi Conference.

On April 7, 1900, this dear mother and true woman "fell on sleep" in Jesus.

J. D. NEWSOM.

Cedar Bluff, Miss.

ATKINS—SCHALLIE WADE ATKINS, infant son of John and Jessie Atkins, departed this life on the seventeenth of September, 1900, aged three years eleven months and eleven days.

Wade was a beautiful and loving child. He was devoted to his parents. Many times has he put his little arms around their necks and kissed them good-night. He was one of the brightest little boys of his age that I have ever known. His mind was so strong, clear, could converse with anyone with so much intelligence. He talked to his mama about heaven; he had learned the Lord's Prayer. His short life was like the morning flower, blooming only a short time, and then closing its foliage for the shadows of the eve; but he has gone on to bloom in the Beulah land forever. To the bereaved parents we say: Look up; God doeth all things for the best. While we can not understand why it was that little Wade was taken so young, after while these sorrows will be made known to us. Christ says, "Suffer little children to come to me." Your darling boy has gone on before you. He can not come back to you, but you can go to him. Some sweet day, when the toils of life are over, you will see little Wade again in the home of the blessed. Oh, may we all cross over the river and rest under the tree-shade of life!

G. S. MOSENHEAD, P. C.

JONES—Mrs. KATIE L. JONES, daughter of R. E. and L. A. Jones, and wife of Walter E. Jones, was born in Jackson parish, La., Oct. 20, 1870; joined the M. E. Church, South, in 1890, from which date she lived an exemplary Christian life to the day of her death (Sept. 9, 1900).

It was not my pleasure to know the young sister long, having been her pastor only this year. I was with her, however, the day before her death, and asked her if, while she was so sick and weak, she trusted in the Lord, to which she replied, "I don't know what I would do if I did not trust in the Lord." She was perfectly resigned to the will of the Lord, and died consciously and triumphantly; left husband and three little children.

That the Lord may sanctify this affliction to the stricken and bereaved, is the sincere wish and earnest prayer of her pastor,

J. H. BROWN.

Catarrh Can Not Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they can not reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it, you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

Sold by druggists, price, 75c.

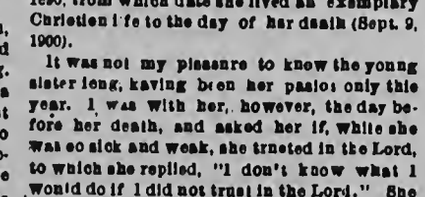
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A child of God ought to be happy, for the simple reason that he is God's child. The normal state of a child is happiness. When it is well, and is well provided for, it is usually as happy as it can be. A moping child calls for a doctor. If our souls are well, and if we are in the hands of our Father, and we are sure he is providing for us, what is there to keep us from being happy? We may have our cares and worries, but a soul in health and strong in faith soon shines through the clouds, as the sun shines through a Spring shower, and as a child's laughter comes while its cheeks are yet wet with tears.—Exchange.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

The kingdom of God is not come when God's will is our law, but when God's will is our will. When his will is our will we are free children, and nothing in all nature is free enough to be a symbol for the state of these who act immediately from the essence of their hidden life, and the recognition of God's will in that essence. Macdonald.



Chin Pimples

are local in nature. They yield readily to Common Sense Treatment.

HEISKELL'S OINTMENT

is a specific for Pimples, Freckles, Tetter, Eczema and all skin disorders. 50 cts. a box.

HEISKELL'S SOAP

clears the pores, makes the skin soft, smooth and white. Price 25 cents. Samples free.

JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & CO., Phileda., Pa.

ARMSTRONG & McKELVY Pittsburgh.
BEYMER-BAUMAN Pittsburgh.
DAVIS-CHAMBERS Pittsburgh.
FAHNESTOCK Pittsburgh.
ANCHOR, EOKSTEIN } Cincinnati.
ATLANTIC, BRADLEY, BROOKLYN, JEWETT, ULSTER, UNION } New York.
SOUTHERN, SHIPMAN } Chicago.
COLLIER, MISSOURI, RED SEAL, SOUTHERN } St. Louis.
JOHN T. LEWIS & BROS CO Philadelphia.
MORLEY Cleveland.
SALEM Salem, Mass.
CORNELL Buffalo.
KENTUCKY Louisville.

IT IS quite generally believed, particularly by large consumers and practical painters, that Pure White Lead is the best paint. It is because of this belief that manufacturers of the so-called White Leads, mixtures of Whiting, Barytes and Zinc, brand them "White Lead," "Pure White Lead," etc., etc. You can avoid these by making sure that the brand is right.

FREE For colors use National Lead Company's Pure White Lead Tinting Colors. Any shade desired is readily obtained. Pamphlet giving full information and showing samples of Colors, also pamphlet entitled "Uncle Sam's Experience With Paints" forwarded upon application.

National Lead Co., 100 William Street, New York.

W. W. Carre & Co.
LUMBER,
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

JOB PRINTING
-- All Kinds --
AT THIS OFFICE.

The "Combination" Bible.

A SUPERB EDITION

of the Holy Scriptures, showing at a glance at the foot of the pages all changes made by the revisers.

New Type. All Proper Names Self-Pronouncing. The Most Valuable Collateral Matter.

There is a steady and increasing demand for first-class Bibles. Everybody is anxious to obtain a copy of the best edition of the Holy Scriptures. Old editions are constantly being replaced by Bibles that are in every way more attractive, and there is practically no limit to the demand.

OUR "COMBINATION" FEATURE.

Hitherto the King James and Revised Versions have been printed in parallel columns, but this makes comparisons of texts tedious and unsatisfactory, and makes the book very unwieldy. We have overcome this difficulty by "combining" the two Versions on the same page, showing at a glance in foot-notes all the Changes, Additions and Omissions made by the Revisers.

THE OLD VERSION PRINTED IN FULL.

The King James Version is the basis, and this Version is read straight along from the text, while the Revised Version is read from the text in combination with the foot-notes. Our "Combination" Feature has met with universal approval and is strongly endorsed by leading Divines and Biblical Scholars.

It is only by a comparison of the two Versions that the greatest benefit can be obtained from reading the Holy Scriptures, and this comparison every reader can easily make by our simple arrangement for showing the changes made by the revisers. This is the greatest triumph of Bible Publishing the World has ever known.

OUR OFFER.

To those unprogressive people who do not read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE we sell this Bible at the publisher's retail price—$4.25. To our subscribers we sell it at the very low rate of $2. The only condition attached to this offer is that the subscriber must pay his subscription one full year in advance, viz.: to November, 1901. We will send it postpaid to any person who will send us three new cash subscribers at the regular rate. For six new cash subscribers at the regular rate we will send two "Combination" Bibles, postpaid.

For fifty cents additional we will send a Bible with index.

For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved in gilt letters on the outside.

Address REV. W. C. BLACK.

P. S.—We can give no commission on renewals in connection with the above offer.

New Machine Offer.

IMPERIAL No. 4.

THE IMPERIAL HIGH-ARM SINGER will be found the perfection of mechanism as regards simplicity, durability and adaptability to the wide range of work embraced in the general family needs.

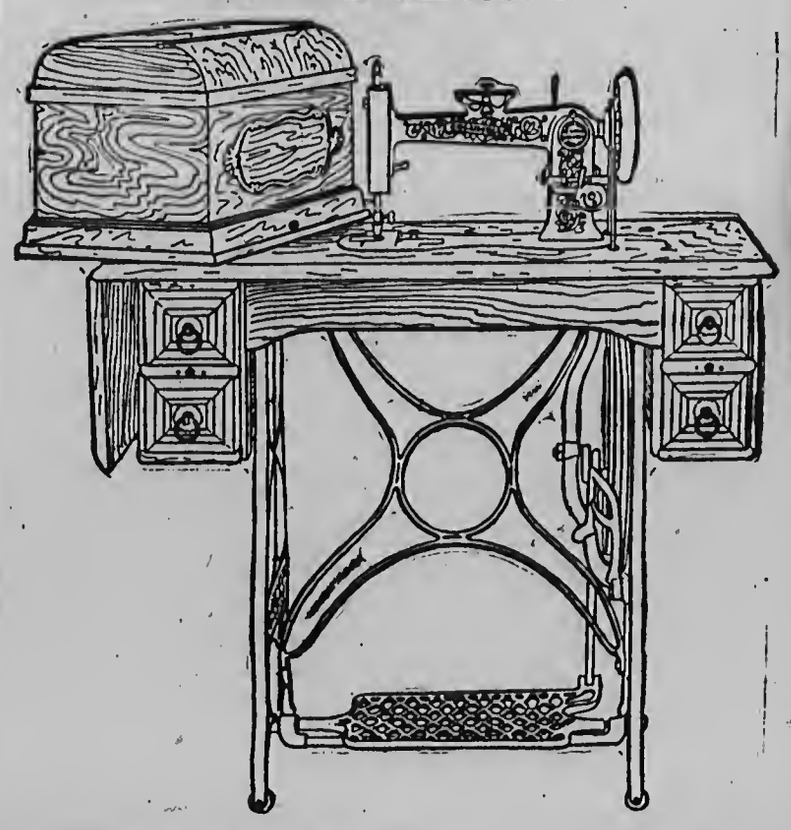
A Handsome, Light-Running, Lock-Stitch, High-Arm Machine that will not fail to please the most fastidious. Embracing all the advantages, with all desirable improvements of other first-class sewing machines, so simple in mechanism that the most inexperienced need no assistance in operating it. Book of instructions with every machine. Any child can learn to run it.

Extra Set of Attachments also free with each machine, consisting of the following: One Tucker, One Foot Ruffler, One Set of Plate Hemmers, four different widths up to ½ of an inch. One Binder and One Thread Cutter.

No. 3 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $22. Our price, $14.75.
No. 4 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $25. Our price, $15.50.
No. 5 Machine, drop leaf table, gothic cover, case of three drawers at each end, making seven drawers in all. Dealer's price, $26. Our price, $16.25.

Furnished Free with every machine are the following named accessories: One Foot Hemmer, One Screw Driver, One Wrench, One Oil Can and Oil, One Gauge Screw, One Extra Check Spring, One Package of Needles, Five Bobbins and One Instruction Book.

Columbian No. 4.



EXCELLENCE OF THE COLUMBIAN.—All wearing parts are of case-hardened steel possessing great durability, and by the turning of a screw all lost motion caused by wear can be taken up. All parts are fitted so accurately that the machines are absolutely noiseless, and as easy running as fine adjustment and best mechanical skill is possible to produce. No expense or time is spared to make them perfect in every respect, as every machine passes a rigid inspection by competent men before leaving the factory.

NICKEL PLATED.—The balance wheel and many of the fine parts are nickel-plated, with other parts finely enameled and ornamented, giving it a rich appearance.

A Self Setting Needle and Self-Threading Cylinder Shuttle are used in the Columbian High-Arm Sewing Machine. They are so simple that any one can easily operate them in a few minutes' time, as our Instruction Book is fully illustrated, showing how to do all kinds of fancy work with attachments.

Extra Attachments, in velvet-lined case, sent free with each machine: 1 Tucker, 1 Ruffler with shirring plate, 1 Hemmer set (6 widths) and Binder, 1 Braider (Foot and Slide), 1 Thread Cutter.

ADDITIONAL ACCESSORIES.—Each machine is supplied with the following outfit: 1 Hemmer and Feller (one piece), 10 Needles, 6 Bobbins, 1 Wrench, 1 Screw Driver, Oil Can with Oil, Cloth Gauge and Thumb Screw, and a Book of Instructions. The Book of Instructions is profusely illustrated, and answers the purpose of a competent teacher.

No. 3—Drop leaf, Bent cover, case of two drawers at one end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $29. Our price, $17.
No. 4—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of two drawers at each end and center drawer. Dealer's price, $31. Our price, $17.75.
No. 5—Drop leaf table, Bent cover, case of three drawers at each end and center drawer, making a seven-drawer machine. Dealer's price, $33. Our price, $18.50.

The chief difference between Numbers 3, 4, and 5 is in the furniture—i. e., the number of drawers. If you do not want to pay for the extra drawers, you need not do so. We sell these machines under a ten years' guarantee, by which we mean that if any part gives out by reason of any defect therein, the manufacturer will replace the same free of charge. Moreover, we allow the purchaser to test the machine ten days. If at the end of ten days you are not satisfied, you have only to drop us a postal card, and your money will be refunded.

OUR OFFER.

We will send any one of the above-described machines at the prices named, and also send the ADVOCATE free for six months. The only condition attached to this offer is that subscribers who are in arrears must first pay up all arrearages to date. It would be well to avail yourself of this offer at once, as we can not promise that it will last very long. Notice that you take no risk whatever. We do all the risking. Address

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

P. S.—The machine will be shipped direct from the factory in the North.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

As a result of the presidential election on Tuesday, McKinley and Roosevelt, the Republican nominees, were elected.

William L. Strong, the last mayor of the old City of New York, died on Nov. 2

Charles M. Hays has been elected president of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

The First National Bank of Lumberton, Miss., has been authorized to begin business.

The iron and steel workers' strike at Bessemer and Ensley, Ala., has been declared off.

The governor of Mississippi has named delegates to the Southern Industrial Convention.

The Egyptian cotton crop is reported to be unsatisfactory, both in quantity and quality.

The Republican speakers who went to Slidell, Saturday, were not permitted to hold their meeting.

A monument to the late President Carnot of the French Republic has been unveiled at Lyons, France.

Capt. Atkinson, with thirty four men, rescued two Americans who had been captured by the Philippine insurgents.

The police investigation of the New York explosion has narrowed the list of missing and unaccounted for down to eighteen.

Sir Thomas Lipton has gone to Glasgow to sign contracts for the construction of the new challenger for the America's cup.

Gen. Roberts has appealed to his countrymen to refrain from turning the welcome of the home coming troops into a drunken orgy.

The Indian agents of the United States Government have protested against the alleged unlawful seizure of lands by aggressive whites.

The American Liner St. Paul reached New York, last week, with her machinery room damaged and her propeller and part of her tail shaft gone.

The disbursing officer in the Philippines has applied for permission to purchase Mexican silver for the payment of native employees of the government.

Judge St Paul dismissed the injunction forbidding the payment of salaries to the new Civil Service Commissioners. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court.

The Paris Exposition authorities have closed the Transvaal Pavillon because of failure to remove certain inscriptions on the walls said to be insulting to England.

Capt. Devereux Shields, who was recently captured by Filipinos and rescued by Gen. Hare, will leave Manila for home Nov. 15. He resides at Natchez, Miss.

The foreign ministers at Peking agreed that the treaty obligations had not been respected by the Chinese, and that some other guarantees are absolutely necessary.

Although the troops of some of the European powers continue to campaign in various parts of Northern China, negotiations for peace are actively in progress at Pekin.

A. B. Steele, of Atlanta, Ga., has given $5000 to the Orphans' Home of the Methodist Church, South, at Decatur, Ga., the Home of the Friendless, Atlanta, and the Agnes Scott Institute, at Decatur.

An American missionary has collected indemnities in Chou Chon and Liang Hsiang for the murder of Chinese converts. Another has collected money and secured a land grant in Tung Cho for the same purpose.

The charter of the American Rice Growers' Distribution Company was published at Crowley, La., on Nov. 5. Five million dollars must be paid up before the concern starts business, which it is expected to do Wednesday.

Cardinal Gibbons, in a sermon, took the position that there is nothing in the political situation to warrant the belief that the election of either candidate will in anywise seriously affect the future welfare and prosperity of the American republic.

At a Japanese banquet at Shanghai in honor of the Mikado's birthday, the Tao Tai proposed the health of the Mikado and the Japanese consul general proposed the health of the Emperor of China. The Japanese, Chinese and European officers, it is said, fraternized.

Astounding frauds in sugar importations have been revealed in Philadelphia by The Times of that city. The Times states the United States Government has been defrauded out of $8,000,000, and that the sugar importers, from whom the trusts buy sugar, have been defrauded out of $4,000,000.

It is reported from Washington that the officials of the Navy Department have finally agreed upon a programme of ship-building to be submitted to Congress. This programme is said to be the most extensive ever suggested at any one time, and will include as many as 32 new vessels of an aggregate tonnage of more than 120,000 tons. The programme includes 3 battle-ships of 15,000 tons, 2 armored cruisers of 15,000 tons, 6 gunboats of 2,000 tons each, gunboats of 600 tons each, 10 gunboat of 200 tons each. 3 colliers of 15,000 tons, 1 repair ship of 7000 tons, and 1 marine transport of 7000 tons.

New Testament Given Away.

To every subscriber now in arrears who will pay up his arrearage to date, and pay two dollars additional for his renewal for one year—to November, 1901—we will send, free of charge, a beautiful, morocco-bound, gilt-edged copy of Holman's Self-Pronouncing Testament, pocket size. This offer is made only to those who pay full price. Look at the label on your paper, count the months to November, 1900, and send 16⅔ cents for each month. This will pay your arrearage. Then add $2 for your renewal. Under this offer we can not give commissions to agents. This offer will last until Dec. 1. Don't delay.

W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St., New Orleans

N. B.—Those of our subscribers who get the New Testament free under our special offer can also avail themselves of any and all our Bible and machine offers.

HOW ARE YOUR NERVES? If you are easily "flustrated," can't sleep, and feel unrefreshed in the morning, your nerves are weak. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by making the blood rich and pure.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

THROW AWAY YOUR QUININE PILLS

and all the other cure-or-kill medicines you have been taking for chills and fever. One bottle of will do you more good than anything in the world. Its good effects are felt immediately, chills and all malarial troubles disappearing like magic. It is free from quinine, and is as pleasant and sweet to take as orange syrup. It enriches the blood, and builds up the system. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. per bottle.

CHILLIFUGE

Every bottle sold under a guarantee, or money refunded.

FINLAY, DICKS & CO., Ltd., New Orleans.

LaGrippe is at Home Anywhere!

No Locality Offers Safety--
Most Vicious Where Malaria Thrives.

JOHNSON'S CHILL & FEVER TONIC

CURES IT IN ONE NIGHT.

"I took laGrippe; every bone in my body began to ache, and I was compelled to go to bed. I took Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic through the night; no fever came, aching disappeared and next morning I went to business as well as ever. I have since tried it in other cases with like results.
W. W. CALDWELL, Chicago, Ill."

A. B. GIRARDEAU, Sole Manufacturer, SAVANNAH, GA.

IF YOUR present employment does not take up all of your time, it is quite possible that you can double your income by taking the agency for your town for

The Ladies' Home Journal AND The Saturday Evening Post

You can surely make every minute of your time profitable. We want energetic workers to secure new subscribers and renewals.

We Allow Liberal Commissions

Also, liberal rebates for large clubs. And, in addition, we are going to reward 764 of our most successful agents with $18,000 at the end of the season. You may make five hundred or a thousand dollars during the winter in addition to commissions that would ordinarily be deemed ample compensation for the work. Write.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
PHILADELPHIA

EPWORTH LEAGUE DEPARTMENT.

"ALL FOR CHRIST."

REV. THOS. H. DORSEY, Arcola, Miss.
EDITOR.

From a letter, not intended for publication, from Prof. Hayes, our State League president, we take the privilege of quoting the following:

"For some time I have been intending to put myself in correspondence with you in regard to the League work of the State.

"At the time of my election as president of the State Conference, I was, comparatively, a stranger in the State, and I have been necessarily delayed in getting the work in hand. Now, that I am prepared to take hold vigorously, I find myself confronted with grave difficulties of organization. Three of the State officers have recently resigned. Mrs. O. B. Stevens, third vice-president, resigned on account of ill health. Prof. G. F. Boyd, of Kosciusko, has been appointed to fill this place Miss Josie Critz, State treasurer resigned on account of her election as teacher in Sullins College, Virginia. Mrs. J. M. Wyatt, of West Point, has been appointed to take her place. And now Miss Vic Thompson, after long, faithful service as State secretary, resigns because of the pressure of her school duties.

"I am now asking presiding elders to make nominations for District Secretaries.

"I met with Columbus Leagues last Sunday in delightful services. The League is a power in the Columbus charge.

"Our West Point League is doing magnificent work. The last year's reading course has been completed. The work was done thoroughly and evoked remarkable interest. The League has already been supplied with the next year's course, and work upon it will begin next Tuesday night."

From a number of endorsements of Mrs. Mathis' articles on the "Epworth League—some Plain Facts," etc., which have come to this office, we select the following from Dr. J. M. Weems, of Meridian. Others are on this line—enough of them to prove to the observer that the Leagues of Mississippi are fixed in their purpose not to follow any would-be leader out of bound.

DR. WEEMS ON THE LEAGUE.

I was at Vicksburg during two days' sessions of the State Epworth League there, and during this time the Missionary Department, under the direction of Bro. Cobb, was given the right of way. I believe as strongly in the cause of missions, and the development of our young people in the largest liberty of thought and action in support of that cause, as any one. But I do most earnestly protest against the unconstitutional effort of Dr. DuBose and others to deflect our Epworth League organization from all other equally important objects of its being, and the making of it another missionary society in the church. And I further protest against these same parties intermeddling, without law or precedent, with the affairs of our local churches, districts and Conferences. The evidence is abroad in the land that if these brethren would give themselves up to their appointed duties, and let others with their duties alone, both themselves and the whole church would be better off

JAS. M WEEMS,
Pastor Central Methodist Church.
Meridian, Miss.

REVIVAL STIRRING DANVILLE, VA.

Evangelist Clarence Strouse preached with great power last night, and the service was a most remarkable one. The meeting has now been in progress two weeks, and it is the general sentiment that Danville has never seen a revival of greater power. There have been about three hundred professions so far during the meetings. Evangelist Strouse believes in the old-fashioned altar, and he has it crowded every night. The leading Danville preachers are delighted with the meeting and the preaching of the evangelist, as well as his honest methods. It is truly a union meeting.

Evangelist J. E. Schoolfield, under whose ministry Mr. Strouse was converted, has been much interested in the meeting. He says Mr. Strouse is second to no evangelist of whom he knows. He considers him the most successful.

The meetings close to-night, but, on account of the great interest and the large attendance, Mr. Strouse is being urged to continue another week. He will decide to-night.—Danville Daily Register, Danville, Va., Oct. 28, 1900.

A QUEENLY DEED.

A cablegram from Lisbon to the New York Journal, dated Nov. 4, says:

"The Queen of Portugal, at Cascais, a fashionable seaside resort, to-day made a thrilling rescue, which has made of her a heroine in the eyes of all her subjects.

"The Queen, who has been staying at the royal palace at Cascais, was on the beach to-day, idly watching Catalao Croom, her boatman, bringing his boat to shore. Suddenly a huge wave overturned the boat. Croom's arm was broken, and he was overcome by the undertow, which carried him beneath the waves.

"The Queen is an expert swimmer, and seeing that her boatman was drowning, she sprang into the sea in her clothing before any of her attendants could prevent her. With rapid strokes she swam to the boatman's side, and held him up until persons on the shore put out in boats and rescued both the Queen and her boatman.

"Croom was taken to the royal palace, where he is being nursed by the Queen. She is none the worse for her experience."

QUARTERLY CONFERENCES.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

CORINTH DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Kossuth, at Bethel	Nov. 3, 4
Corinth circuit, at Marvin	6
Gun Town and Baldwyn, at Baldville	10, 11
Mantachie, at Shiloh	14
Belmont, at Patterson's Chapel	17, 18
Burnt Mills, at Mt. Pleasant	20
Jacinto, at Hebron	22
Booneville circuit, at —	24, 25
Mariette circuit, at Mariette	Dec. 1, 2

W. M. YOUNG, P. E.

GREENVILLE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Lula	Nov. 3, 4
Dubbs	10, 11
Tunica	12
Hillhouse	17, 18
Friar's Point	18, 19
Gunnison	24, 25
Rosedale	25, 26
Bolivar	Dec. 1, 2
Greenville	3

J. W. DORMAN, P. E.

SARDIS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Hernando	Nov. 3, 4
Longtown	8, 9
Pt. Grove	10, 11
Pt. Hill, at Baker's	17, 18
Wall Hill	23
Cockrum	24, 25
Tyro	Dec. 1, 2

W. S. LAGRONE, P. E.

GRENADA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Winter City	Nov 3, 4
Charleston	10, 11
Cascilla	12
Water Valley circuit	17, 18
Water Valley Main Street	24, 25
Oxford circuit	Dec 1, 2

R. G PORTER, P. E.

ABERDEEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Nettleton circuit, at Carolina	Nov. 3, 4
Amory and Nettleton	5
Aberdeen circuit, at Greenbriar	10, 11
Quincy circuit, at Soule's Chapel	17, 18
Aberdeen station	25, 26

W. W. WOOLLARD, P. E.

WINONA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Itta Bena and Sidon, at Itta Bena	Nov. 3, 4
McNutt, at McNutt	10, 11
Carrollton, at Eden	17, 18
Moorhead, at Moorhead	24, 25
Indianola	Dec. 1, 2

J. H. MITCHELL, P. E.

HOLLY SPRINGS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Potts Camp circuit, at Potts Camp	Nov. 3, 4
Olive Branch circuit, at Olive Branch	10, 11
Shawnee circuit, at Liberty	17, 18
Ashland circuit, at Ashland	20
Randolph mission, at Randolph	24 25
Abbeville circuit, at Abbeville	Dec. 1, 2
Holly Springs station	3

J W. HONNOLL, P. E.

COLUMBUS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Columbus station	Nov. 4, 5
Sturges, at Ebenezer	10, 11
Starkville circuit, at Steel's Mill	17, 18
Lagrange, at Double Springs	23
Cedar Bluff, at Cedar Bluff	24, 25

Let all members of Quarterly Conferences take special care to be in attendance, and let local preachers have written statements of their work. (See Discipline, ¶ 168, page 75.) Also let Boards of Trustees make full reports in writing.

W. T. J. SULLIVAN, P. E.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.

NATCHEZ DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Barlow	Nov. 3, 4
Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Jefferson Street	11, 12
Homochitto Chapel	17, 18
Washington	24, 25
Liberty	Dec. 1, 2
McNair	3, 9

W. L. C. HUNNICUTT, P. E.

VICKSBURG DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Rocky Springs at Shiloh	Nov. 3, 4
Port Gibson	4, 5
South Warren, at Wesley Chapel	10, 11
Edwards, at Edwards	11, 12
Warren, at Wesley Chapel	17, 18
Utica, at Utica ..... Wed night	21
Hermanville, at Hermanville	24, 25
Rolling Fork, at Rolling Fork	Dec. 1, 2
Anguilla, at Anguilla	2, 3
Satartia, at Mt. Olivet	3, 9

E. H. MOUNGER, P. E.

FOREST DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Y. and Heidelberg, at Vossburg..Sat. and Sun	Nov. 3, 4
Rose Hill, at Paulding..Sat. and Sun	10, 11
Montrose, at Montrose	Tues.. 13
Raleigh, at Taylorsville..Sat. and Sun.	17, 18
Trenton, at Trenton	Tues.. 20
Shiloh, at Shiloh	Thurs.. 22
N. and Hickory, at Newton..Sun. and Mon	25, 26
Chunkey, at Chunkey	Tues.. 27
Lake, at Lawrence	Wed.. 28
Morton, at Pelahatchie..Sun. and Mon	Dec. 2, 3
Forest, at Forest	Sun and Mon.. 9 10

T. L. MELLEN, P. E.

BROOKHAVEN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Providence, at Georgetown	Nov. 3, 4
Adams, at Adams	10, 11
McComb City	11, 12
Fernwood, at Fernwood	11 a. m.. 13
Gallman, at Gallman	17, 18
Beauregard, at North Wesson	11 a. m.. 19
Wesson	7:30 p. m.. 19
Mt. Carmel, at Mt. Zion	24, 25
Westville, at Magee	25, 26
Crystal Springs	7:30 p. m.. 26
Tylertown, at China Grove	Dec. 1, 2
Pearl, at Tilton	10 a. m.. 5
Lincoln, at Brookhaven	10 a. m.. 7
Hazlehurst	7 30 p. m.. 7
Caseyville, at Caseyville	8, 9
Summit, at Bogue Chitto	11 a. m.. 10
Brookhaven	7:30 p. m.. 11

H. WALTER FEATHERSTUN, P. E.
Brookhaven, Miss.

MERIDIAN DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Pachuta, at DeSoto	Nov. 3, 4
Binnsville, at Scooba	10, 11
Vimville, at Marion	17, 18
Mathersville, at Winifred	24, 25
Shubuta, at Shubuta	Mon.. 26
Middleton, at Manassa	Dec. 1, 2
Daleville, at —	8, 9

G. A. GUICE, P. E.

SEASHORE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Nicholson, at Lacy	Nov. 3
Pearlington and Logtown, at Pearlington	3, 4
Gulf Port, at Gulf Port	11 12
Ocean Springs and Scranton, at Ocean Springs	17 18
Brooklyn, at Wiggins	24
Bay St Louis	25, 26
Moss Point	Dec. 1
Escatawpa, at Zion	2
Columbia, at Columbia	3
Purvis, at Purvis	8, 9
Hattiesburg	10

W. W. SIMMONS, P. E.

JACKSON DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Silver Creek	Nov. 3, 4
Lake City	4, 5
Vaughan's, at New Hope	10, 11
Benton, at Midway	11, 12
Tranquil	17, 18
Yazoo City	18, 19
Camden	21, 25
Fannin	Dec. 1, 2
Brandon station	2, 3
Brandon mission	Tues.. 4
Steen's Creek	8, 9

Pastors will please see that local preachers and Trustees have written reports before the Conference.

T. B. HOLLOMAN, P. E.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

OPELOUSAS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Washington and Chicot, at C	Nov. 3, 4
Opelousas	5
Lafayette	8
Abbeville	10, 11
Indian Bayou	14
Plaquemine Brulee, at Rayne	17, 18
Prudhomme, at P	21
Lake Arthur	24 25
Grand Cheniere	28
West Lake	30
Lake Charles	Dec. 1, 2
Gheydan	6
Crowley	8, 9

C. W. CARTER, P. E.

BATON ROUGE DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Live Oak, at Friendship	Nov. 1
Pine Grove	3, 4
Ponchatoula, at Hammond	6
Amite City	7
St. Helena, at Greensburg	10, 11
Franklinton	14
Kentwood and Tangipahoa	16-18
East Feliciana, at Independence	24, 25
Wilson, at Gayden	28
Clinton	30-Dec. 2
Baker, at Blackwater	4
St. Francisville, at Star Hill	6
Jackson	7-9

F. S. PARKER, P. E.

NEW ORLEANS DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Slidell	Nov. 4
Parker Memorial	11
Plaquemine	18
Bayne Memorial	25
White Castle	Dec. 2
Carondelet Street	11 a m.. 9
Burgundy Street	7:30 p. m.. 9

S. S. KEENER, P. E.

SHREVEPORT DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Many, at Many	Nov. 3, 4
Logansport, at Logansport	7
South Bossier, at Allentown	10, 11
Zwolle, at Zwolle	17, 18
Pelican, at Bethel	24, 25
Leesville	Dec. 2
Mansfield	9

JOHN T. SAWYER, P. E.

ARCADIA DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Vernon, at Wesley Chapel	Nov. 3, 4
Bienville, at Bienville	10, 11
Valley, at Pleasant Valley	17, 18
Minden	19
Haynesville	23
Homer, at Homer	24, 25
Ruston	Dec. 1, 2
Gansville	7
Arcadia, at Arcadia	9, 10

B. T. CREWS, P. E.

DELHI DIST.—FOURTH ROUND.

Gilbert and Vidalia, at V	Nov. 3, 4
Bastrop	10, 11
Rayville	11, 12
Lake Providence	17, 18
Floyd	19-21
Waterproof	24, 25
Delhi and Tallulah, at T	Dec. 1, 2
Bonita, at Bonita	8, 9
Monroe	9, 10

J. M. HENRY, P. E

$200 A MONTH SURE (and industrious man or woman anywhere, without experience necessary) following our instructions, exhibiting and taking orders from Dairymen, Creameries and every one using cream. Wonderful invention of the age—the greatest mechanical wonder of the age of a cow—the greatest mechanical wonder of the age of a cow—the greatest mechanical wonder of the age of a cow

Christian Advocate.

VOL. 47.—NO. 46. NEW ORLEANS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1900. WHOLE NO. 2308

Rev. W. C. BLACK, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. BLACK, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHED FOR THE LOUISIANA CONFERENCE, MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE AND NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE, METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT NEW ORLEANS AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER

THE COMMON OFFERING.

BY HARRIET M'EWEN KIMBALL.

It is not the deed we do,
Though the deed be never so fair,
But the love that the dear Lord looketh for,
Hidden with holy care
In the heart of the deed so fair.

The love is the priceless thing,
The treasure our treasure must hold,
Or ever the Lord will take the gift,
Or tell the worth of the gold,—
By the love that can not be told.

Behold us, the rich and the poor,'
Dear Lord, in thy service drawn near;
One consecrateth a precious coin,
One droppeth only a tear;
Look, Master—the love is here!

—New York Advocate.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Secretary Hay's latest dispatches from Minister Conger indicate progress, not in the negotiations with the Chinese Peace Commissioners, but in reaching an agreement among the representatives of the powers interested as to the exact nature of the demands that shall be made on China. No doubt is entertained at the Department of State as to the prompt acceptance by China of the programme when once it has been agreed upon by the powers. A portion of that programme has already been unanimously adopted by the foreign ministers in Pekin, all of whom are actively participating in the conferences, but has not been made public, and is not likely to be until final action has been taken.

The cablegram sent to the President by Gen. Wood, by request of a majority of the delegates to the Cuban Constitutional Convention, which assembled at Havana this week, indicates a better feeling towards the United States than had been outlined in previous publications in our papers. Following is the cablegram: "The delegates elected to the Constitutional Convention, assembled at their inaugural meeting, greet with profound gratitude and affection the President of the United States of North America, and they are satisfied with the honesty demonstrated in the fulfillment of the declarations made in favor of the liberty and independence of the Cuban people."

Dr. A. S. Fiske preached a strong and interesting sermon, at the Gunton Temple Memorial Church, in commemoration of the Christian missionaries murdered in China, taking his text from Revelations xiv, 13, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." He said, in part: "In our century has sprung up again that old exceeding grandeur of soul, which forgets self to remember man and Christ, his Savior. The world's greatest works, heroic things, things sublime, are being done to-day as never before since the days of the apostles. They are being done by modest and humble men and women, who, with no dreams of fame, but with Christianity and love only for men, whom they live and die to save, whose only gains are earthly loss. In these days has come to these groups of heroes in one great empire their time of testing. One hundred and fifty of them have given the last full proof of their devotion, and won their martyr crowns amidst horrors beyond those of earlier times. Fifteen thousand of their meek converts have been tortured to death, not accepting deliverance through denial of their God. Nor have they faltered when any strange thing has befallen them. They remembered the twenty-five years of horrible persecution through which Madagascar passed till a princess converted to their persecuted faith came to the throne. They recalled Uganda, with its massacred missionaries and its hundreds of converts facing death without flinching for Jesus' sake. They recalled that the way to Christian triumphs in every land now civilized and Christian, had been through the fires of persecution and blood of martyrs. There was no flinching. No missionary left his post till orders came from the Boards at home, or from the consuls of their provinces, or from friendly or hostile native officials, that they better go. Of the living who passed through those great tribulations with heroic faith equal to that of those triumphant dead, let it be said, some of them are worn, aged, and broken by their terrible experience; some are marred for life by their beatings and savage hackings; but no one of them fails of courage or confident faith of China's swifter and more complete redemption. Not one of them who does not believe that the souls of these Chinese martyred Christians are worth all that has been suffered; not one of them who is not eager to re-enter the blood-stained stations, and to rebuild the smoking ruins of homes, churches and schools—to gather the fugitive congregations of their churches and redouble all their work; not one of them breathes revenge, but only such just penalties upon Chinese authorities as shall ensure safety for the future."

Miss Rue Sellars, who has been employed in missionary work in Nanital, India, for nine years, and who is now on a vacation, delivered an address on her work and experience to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Washington district this week. She demonstrated that missionary work in India was accomplishing great results for the people, and declared that Christianity was taking India by storm, and was gradually, but surely, penetrating the whole country. The same meeting was addressed by Rev. Ira La Fetra, who has been engaged in missionary and educational work in South America, mostly in Chile, for some years. He declared that there was as much need of missionary work in a country where the Roman Catholic faith prevails, as it does throughout South and Central America, as in heathen lands.

Regardless of personal opinions of the result, there is a feeling of relief in Washington that the political campaign is over. It is not a pleasant thing to say, but it is true that many men and women have a dread of a national political campaign, because experience has shown that they act as national demoralizers to an alarming extent. It seems absolutely impossible, no matter how high the plane upon which it may be started, to prevent a presidential campaign degenerating into an exchange of personal abuse of the candidates and their friends, instead of the calm and judicial arguments for and against the principles represented by the rival candidates, as it should be. That is why so many experience a feeling of relief and thankfulness that the next one is nearly four years off.

Washington, Nov. 7, 1900.

DECLINE OF RELIGION IN AMERICA—ITS CAUSES AND CURE.

NO. 3.

It is an easier matter to make a diagnosis of a malady than to provide a remedy; but in the case in hand all the manifestations point to sin as the malady, and for this there is but one cure. This remedy is Christ applied through faith, and brought to men by means of the gospel. Christ is the only Savior of men, faith in him the only condition, and "God has chosen by the foolishness of preaching to save men." The cure, then, for our sickness is Christ presented by a living ministry from pulpit and paw, in theory and practice, until men will see in the lives of men the demonstration of saving power, and thus letting "your light so shine that others, seeing your good works, shall be constrained to glorify God."

Do not dismiss this with careless assent, but let us consider what it involves. Clearly, it involves a revived and spirit-baptized ministry. Whatever the learning, or whatever the zeal, both are powerless without the personal presence of Christ and the indwelling Spirit, for only "by one Spirit are we baptized into one body," and made efficient to do the work of the Lord. The gentle polish of John and the fiery zeal of Peter each held wonderful possibilities for Christ and humanity, but neither the one or the other could be effective until they received "power from on high," and we had as well realize in the beginning that want of this power must, at our best, leave us as helpless to arouse men as was Sampson, shorn of his locks in the lap of Dalilah, void of strength. The great revival we need, just as surely needs to begin in the ministry, which must be in close and living touch with Christ through the Holy Spirit, in order to effectively convey Christ, the only remedy for sin, to men. He warns us, "Without me ye can do nothing," and he bids us to "tarry at Jerusalem until ye receive power from on high."

It is an awful thing to be a Christian minister, for while no position is so high, no responsibility is so great as that which devolves upon him. Into this sacred place no man should dare come without a clear divine call, for he who enters otherwise is sure to fail, and at the same time become a curse to his fellow-men. St. Paul trembled before his task, and said that "no man is sufficient for these things;" yet, if any man could be naturally fit for them, surely he was. He found his ground of service in being "an apostle called of God," and who could "do all things through Christ, who strengtheneth me," and on this ground of divine authority, and leaning on this power for aid, every true minister of Christ must stand. If not, he will speak as the scribes, and not "as one having authority." He will attempt to please the people rather than the Master, and fall a victim to the conditions which, in his folly, he assists in creating. With clear consciousness of his divine call to the work, he will speak with authority and power, while, at the same time, with tenderness like unto Him who wept over Jerusalem, for his heart will be filled with 'the love of God shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost," as he goes forth to "seek and to save" the lost. Then learning will be sanctified to holy use, and eloquence put to proper use, as "knowing the terror of the Lord, we persuade men." Here on ministerial souls we need the revival fires first to burn, that we may all go forth "burning" as well as "shining" lights, speaking not simply with human wisdom, "but in the power and demonstration of the Holy Ghost." This condition of the ministry will bring again the preaching of the great doctrines of the cross—of repentance, faith, justification, regeneration, assurance, and sanctification—which honor God, and will be honored of him to the conviction and conversion of multiplied thousands, so that, as it was in the days of our fathers, so will it be again. The wanderer would be reclaimed and Zion rejoice in the renewal of her strength, while the life of the church would be full and effective. Our offering would increase under the law, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." The world, which now sneers, would first wonder and criticise, then oppose, and at last would cry out, "Men and brethren, what must we do to be saved?" There would then be no crying out for want of congregations, for the one permanent drawing force which will fill our churches is the simple old gospel proclaimed by men of cool heads and warm hearts touched by the Holy Spirit, and filled with love for God and man, under the influence of "the love of God shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost given unto us," which would enable us to reach the souls of men.

Are we willing to pay the price of such a revival, which must cost us popularity with the world, and bring us face to face with the enemies of God in fierce conflict, in which the armor of Saul must be cast aside, and we go forth with the simple sling of faith and the smooth stones of the gospel to meet the Goliath of sin, encased in covetousness and armed with lust, now facing and defying the church, the army of the living God? The church will be weakened in numbers, for many of those who are in the church, but are of the world, would continue to love pleasure more than God, and range themselves upon the side of his enemies when the real conflict came; but with a regenerated membership fewer in numbers, but greater in power for good, it would prove the promise, "Upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Under seemingly hopeless conditions every great revival has come, and demonstrated the presence and power of the living Christ. So was it when John Knox cried, "O God, give me Scotland, or I die;" when Luther unchained the Word of God, and made mind and conscience free, and when John Wesley, crying, "The world is my parish," went out and wrote a chapter in the history of the world, bearing testimony to the power of God in the gospel when proclaimed by a consecrated and spirit-baptized ministry.

Let our young ministers read the history of Methodism, and see what they must endure in order to a great revival, and see whether each one can say, 'Here am I; send me," for as sure as sin is entrenched in the church, so sure is it that it will require a fierce battle to dislodge it; and the faith to take up the challenge of sin in the pulpit and in the pews, in the home and in business, made in this time so prolific of indifference and unbelief, is the need.

The Pauline spirit is our need by which we may be enabled to truly say we are Christ's in the fullest sense, "by whom I am crucified unto the world, and the world is crucified unto me." When the ministry comes to this point of power with God, we will have power over men through him who giveth assurance, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world." If we fail in this, all else will be but the use of lotions good only for cutaneous troubles, but which can have no effect upon the disease which "lies deep within."

Jesus Christ is the only cure for our disease, and Christ saves men by men, and calls us to be his instruments in the salvation of men. The old-time power of the church will return when the ministry has the old-time faith and courage. The faith which deposits all values, which dares to plant itself on the divine promises, and to go forth to do, and, if need be, to die, is the great need, for this is the faith which the Master will honor, who has said, "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me."

It seems that we have reached the "perilous times when many shall depart from the faith," and the Lord is calling his people loudly to "come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and I be unto you a Father, and ye shall be unto me sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty." Will the church dare to follow the Master? If so, all will be well, and out of the conflict she will come with a glorious victory, but, if not, then must she flounder, helpless, in the drifts of sin, weak in her fancied power and ignorant in her fancied wisdom, the dissipator of divine force and the laughing-stock of the world.

Coupled with a revived ministry, which will beget through the gospel a revived and forceful membership, we need a genuine revival of Christian education. The curse of the church to-day is ignorance, and the State system of education only increases the damage, and furnishes no remedy. Our fathers were not only men mighty in the power of God, but they were wise men, laying foundations deep and broad, upon which we have been enabled to build. Honoring learning, they did not forget that "the wisdom of man is foolishness with God," and, therefore, they provided well for real Christian education, wherein men and women became wise in the things of God. We need not merely institutions of learning, but institutions of Christian learning, where the Word of God is honored and taught by men and women who have an experimental insight into and knowledge of its teaching; who, in all the paths of learning, trace the footprints of the Infinite; whose love for man constitutes the central thread of the cloth woven in the loom of human history.

While I have never seen a State institution of learning in which God was fully honored and Christ set forth as the hope of men, yet I have seen some in which this was nearer done than in some so-called Christian schools, in which the arts and sciences are nudely magnified, and the Word of God scarcely recognized in the course of teaching, and from them come young men and women learned in the things of the world, and well-nigh ignorant of the things of God.

Any system of education which does not equally develop the soul culture with that of the mind is unworthy the name of Christian, and should not receive the endorsement of the church of Christ, for no bird with a single wing, however strong it may be, can be capable of long and continuous flight, and no young man or woman whose soul powers are not equally developed with the mental can retain long and effectively Christian faith and life. A called ministry well furnished in the school of the prophets, not armored simply with human learning, but with the knowledge "of God and Jesus Christ, whom he hath sent," must be our greatest force, and such men, guided by the learning of "the wisdom that cometh down from above," must be the divinely chosen means for the operation of the gospel, through the Spirit, upon the souls of men. The highest culture and the humble spirit of faith are not antagonistic, but should go in perfect companionship in order to "glorify God in body and spirit."

While we need the Pauline spirit of faith and consecration, we need also the mental furnishing of the great apostle, that in the work of the ministry zeal and knowledge may go hand in hand. Such a ministry will, with faith and culture, go forth, "not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in the power and demonstration of the Holy Ghost," and the old-time power will be felt until the church rises to the great work of seeking and saving the lost. The love of God yearning to save men is not lessened, the power of the Divine Spirit to convict is not lost, and the pledge of the Lord to honor his word is not withdrawn. If the results are less, the fault is with us, and we should honestly enter into self-examination, and seek "the old paths, that we may walk therein" and find "rest for your souls." Let us, as ministers, seek for the highest spiritual place, the clearest personal experience, the greatest zeal, and the spirit of wisdom in "the excellency of the knowledge as it is in Christ Jesus," and all the things which trouble us will pass away. The voice divine will calm our troubled sea, the bladering waters will roll aside, and the church of God "go forward" to conquer the tribes of the alien and possess the land.

I am aware that I have written nothing new, nor have I essayed so to do, but I simply call attention to things which are old and yet ever new, and have only voiced the longings of my own soul to feel and see the old-time power of revival in the midst of the people called Methodists. "Lord, revive us!"

W. T. BOLLING.

A SUGGESTION FOR THANKSGIVING DAY.

The church has responded to the appeals for the rebuilding of the wrecked churches in the storm-swept region of Texas, so that all the churches outside of Galveston will be replaced by Dec. 5, when the Conference meets.

We have now to secure funds for the Galveston Church. The work of restoring the city is going forward rapidly. We shall need a church there which will cost not far from $25,000. Of this amount we have secured several thousand dollars. The sale of former locations will more than pay for the new location. But beyond this amount the Galveston people can do little for themselves. They will do well to maintain their pastor during the next year. Let me, therefore, beg the whole church to come to their help.

It has been suggested that our people direct their offerings on Thanksgiving Day to this purpose. This is a wise and beautiful suggestion, and I trust it will be adopted by every congregation in the connection.

Thanksgiving Day this year in Galveston must be a sad one. Vacant chairs in homes that withstood the storm, and other cases where even the homes are gone, will bring keen pangs to many hearts. We can not restore the sacred objects of their memory and love, but we can give them a church in which to worship God, and to find heavenly consolation. It should be such a house as will be a speaking reminder to the generations to come of how our great church came to the help of our afflicted brethren in their hour of sore distress. It should be worthy of us, and it should be such as will adequately express our love to our bereaved people in Galveston.

Send all offerings to Rev. O. T. Hotchkiss, Houston, Texas.

W. A. CANDLER.

MILLSAPS COLLEGE NOTES.

We are now well advanced into the first quarter of the session. The enrollment has gone above two hundred, and the students are doing splendid work.

The first issue of the Collegian will appear soon. Prof. Bishop is taking great interest in this publication, and the names which appear on the staff give assurance of success. B. E. Eston, of Taylorsville, is editor-in-chief; H. O. White, of Carthage, is the literary editor; T. W. Holloman, of Phœnix, is the alumni editor; D. C. Enochs, of Brandon, is the exchange editor; Allen Thompson, of Kentwood, La., is the business manager, with John Howell, of Canton, and George Crosby, of Fayette, assistants.

XXX.

THE DISBELIEVER IN FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The man who doesn't believe in foreign missions has been prominent of late. China furnished him a pretext for some foolish talk. Then he got into the newspapers. Some papers which enjoy, above all other things, a slap at the church, gave him space. He thinks there will be a decline in the collections. But there won't. He never gave anything, and people who have given are going to give more, because they see in the mighty movements now going on the handwriting of God. The Missionary Committee will have more interest in its sessions this year than ever before. What a fool the man reveals himself to be when he says he has "no use for foreign missions!"—"Styles," in New York Advocate.

It is announced that the ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the District of Columbia have decided to seek the abolition of the inaugural presidential ball, and the substitution therefor of a reception by the President. Such a change is certainly to be desired.

THINGS THAT OTHER PEOPLE DO.

BY S. E. KISER.

The man who does his best to make the world a better place,
Whose heart is pure, who dares to look his neighbor in the face,
Is not the one who takes delight in holding up to view
And scoffing at the foolish things that other people do.

The man who gains the noble height where fame and honor wait
Wins no delight from petty spite, he gives no heed to hate;
For he has little chance to reach the distant summit who Gives up his time to smudging things that other people do.

I like the honest man who tries to keep away from sin;
I like the man who seeks to rise, but does no wrong to win;
The world is brighter for the day spent in his presence who Can keep from finding fault with things that other people do.

—Pittsburg Advocate.

Communications.

A NEGLECTED DUTY.

Two sad occurrences coming within my pastoral experience during the past week lead me to write upon a subject that has for some time been upon my heart.

A young man, twenty-two years of age, living less than a hundred feet from the pastor's home, but practically a stranger to him, died after a few days' illness without a single word of Christian consolation. After the death, when the pastor was called upon to officiate at the funeral, it was learned that the young man was a member of the Methodist Church in Texas and the son of godly Methodist parents, his father being a local preacher; that he came here to engage in business employment and drifted away altogether from church privileges. His parents are now heart-broken. The practical point that I wish to draw from this incident is, that a church certificate or a letter from his pastor in Texas, to a preacher or other Christian worker in New Orleans, might have averted the sad issue.

Three days later the pastor was called upon to bury a young man, nineteen years of age, who had been mangled by a railroad train. In this case I also learned afterwards that before coming to New Orleans he had been a Christian. The lesson is the same.

These two incidents are samples of what is constantly occurring and what will continue to occur in spite of the most unremitting diligence on the part of pastors and their co-workers. Individuals and even entire families are constantly moving from town and country to city, and unless they are possessed of unusual Christian devotion, soon take their place among the vast majority of a Sabbath-breaking, non-church-going city population. Without deliberate intention, but through hesitation to worship among strangers and under necessarily changed conditions of church life, or through changed business conditions which ignore the sanctity of the Sabbath, or through the glittering attractions of worldliness and vice, they soon become fixed in a backslidden state. In many cases this might be averted by a prompt visit of welcome from the pastor and his workers, which, without information from their home churches, is dependent upon mere accidental discovery.

Of course, people also move from city to town and country, and the obligation remains the same, but the disastrous result is not so frequent.

In many cases, I fear that a pastor's dislike to report losses in membership has caused him to retain the names of persons removing, instead of following the Discipline, paragraph 137. But even when this duty has been performed, it is often insufficient, the certificates being carefully put away for safe keeping in trunks, and a personal letter to the pastor, or some other means as the particular circumstances may suggest, is highly important.

I once heard the late Dr. D. I. Purser say: "New Orleans is a burying-ground for Baptists." It is no less true regarding Methodists

I received not long since a membership certificate issued by a M. E. Church pastor in Kansas, to which was attached blank to be filled out by the pastor of the church where the member joined, and returned, this blank giving the name of the church with which the member united and the date when the certificate was presented. This plan is of value in that the pastor issuing the certificate is made acquainted with the disposition made of it, and it is especially helpful when the exact locality to which the individual has removed is not known.

It seems to me that if pastors would more faithfully carry out the disciplinary provision to furnish certificates to members at the time of their removal, there would not be such a large accumulation of lost-sight-of names that have to be dropped. Often members removing fail to attend worship at all simply because the old church connection was not broken and there is no obligation felt to establish a new connection. For this reason pastors should, except under peculiar circumstances, urge them to take their certificates with them, rather than encourage them to retain their membership where they do not live.

ROBERT H. WYNN.

"Shall the General Conference Refer the Licensing of Preachers Back from the District to the Quarterly Conference?"

Under the above caption I wrote an article for the ADVOCATE, setting forth some reasons why the licensing of preachers should be referred back from the District to the Quarterly Conference. In the ADVOCATE, of Oct. 25, Bro. W. L. Anderson attacks my position with a positive "No; unless we wish to cheapen the already too easy access into the ministry of the gospel."

Bro. Anderson's allegation in the above statement is a reflection on the great church to which we belong, for the Quarterly Conference, as the authorized body to license proper persons to preach, stood the test of the ages, furnishing the church with a live, aggressive ministry whose glorious history we rejoice in. How is it to-day, with this authority transferred to the District Conference? The cry has come from different parts of the church that we are not making progress as we should, because we have a dearth of preachers, especially in the local ranks. Some of our preachers, who are much older and have much more experience than either Bro. Anderson or myself, declare that the change of the law on this subject has already proved hurtful.

Now, from actual observation I wrote what I believe to be some of the causes why the present law is hurtful, and the reasons why we should go back to the time-honored and God-blessed Quarterly Conference. Then Bro. Anderson laid down a proposition that, it seems to me, he can not sustain. He says: "The man truly called of God to preach is not dependent on a single revival season for his impression. It is a living passion with him, arising out of a certain constitutional spirituality, and will abide while his religious consciousness remains."

In putting this proposition to the test by my own experience, it is not true in any particular, neither does it stand the test of Scripture. We are warned not to "grieve the Holy Spirit of God." The impressions of the Holy Spirit on the mind and heart will weaken usually in proportion as the Spirit is resisted; hence the importance of giving encouragement to young converts. Why not those who are called of God to preach? In my own case I resisted the call ten years. I am sure I never would have been an itinerant preacher but for the help and encouragement I got from dear Bro. Kendall (God bless him!) and that long line of great presiding elders who magnified the Quarterly Conference by licensing men to preach, and helping and inspiring them to noble effort. We may well be proud of such a glorious period in our history.

Again: Bro. Anderson surprises me by his statement that "the majority now-a-days go to college." This he can not sustain; and if we granted that the majority of those who go into the itineranoy went to college, who would have the hardihood to say that the majority of those who are called to preach go to college? And if the way was open, as I insisted in my article that it should be, who that is acquainted with the facts that does not believe we would have more young preachers in college to-day than we have?

As to Bro. Anderson's last proposition, I confess I am not sure of his meaning. "There is too much comedy and not enough tragedy in the present-day estimate of the ministerial career"—unless, as applied to my article, comedy means that licensing preachers in the Quarterly Conference is light and ridiculous, and, by tragedy, the licensing of preachers by the District Conference is awful and awe-inspiring. If such be his meaning, he runs the risk of putting himself in a ridiculous light before his brethren.

W. M. YOUNG.

THE COLLECTIONS AGAIN.

It seems that the collections are disturbing some of the brethren, and at this fact I must confess that I am delighted, provided it enables us to see ourselves just as we are. I think that we should honestly and conscientiously strive not only to see the good of our methods, but also the wrong of the same, if there be any, and be sure to cease the wrong. Some of the brethren believe honestly that too much attention is given to the collections, while others, who are just as honest, do not believe that there is.

Now, it appears to me that instead of brethren writing as if they were striving to outwrite one another, it would be better to sift this matter most thoroughly, and see whether or not we are stressing money collecting more than the conversion of souls and right living. Let us not forget that it is quite possible for an individual to pay liberally to the collections, and at the same time be quite immoral in his conduct. This we all know is possible. Besides this, we also know that it is possible for even a minister of the gospel to become so exceedingly zealous about the collections as to forget in part, if not wholly, that there is something more necessary in order to enter the kingdom of God, and to remain in the same, than the mere collecting of money. Knowing these things to be possible, is it not, therefore, safer for us, as a church and as individual Christians, to prayerfully consider this matter fully, and steer the right direction, rather than to drift to the extreme of stressing our collections too much, or to that of not stressing them enough? Let us not forget that we are liable, in our zeal for the collections, to set a premium on even him who gives liberally of his dishonest gains. Many men hope by their contributions to compensate for their dishonest dealings, and to purchase for themselves a home in heaven. This can not be done, and we know it; but if we are not careful, we will give them grounds to believe it can be done. And, too, if we are not careful, we shall be disposed not only to lose respect for those who do not pay as we think they should, or do not pay at all, but also lose in a degree, if not wholly, an interest in their salvation. We have already heard paying brethren, stewards, and even ministers, speak not only discourteously of those who did not pay, but to declare them to be no account, and yet the Scriptures say, "Be ye holy in all manner of conversation." (I. Peter i, 15.) "Speak evil of no man." (Titus iii, 2.) Let us not make a god or a religion of the collections. Many who pay do not do so cheerfully, but they pay from force of circumstances, and we know it. Their giving is not edifying at all. They do not secure the love of God, neither do they keep it by such giving. The collection can be stressed too much, and also too little, and in the wrong way.

ISAAC L. PEEBLES.

"CAN WE APOSTATIZE, OR NOT."

Under this caption Bro. Newsom discusses in the ADVOCATE, of Oct. 11, the untenable error of "Once in grace, always in grace." He called attention to a futile effort of a Calvinist preacher to prove this fallacy by referring to the natural relations of father and son after the flesh, saying, "His son was his son always, everywhere, and under all circumstances," etc.

Now, of course, this idea arises from a misinterpretation of John iii, 3-5, which is but a figure to illustrate the "effect" of the change of heart, and not the "manner" of it. For, first, the physical birth is involuntary and unconditional to the subject, while the spiritual regeneration is conditioned on the voluntary choice of the subject, aided by divine grace, which is alike for all. Certainly the fatal relation of involuntary sonship after the flesh argues nothing concerning the free, voluntary spiritual sonship, which is a state of adoption only, and which may be espoused or renounced at will.

Again: Spiritual life consists in being properly related to God or in proper adjustment to God. The whole vegetable kingdom slumbers when wrapped in the embrace of Winter, and should this wintry condition be protracted too long, resuscitation would fail, but Spring coming in its season, all of a given latitude, being again brought back to the right relation to the physical sun, revives again. The brooklet is unlocked and the fountains of life are set flowing, because of proper adjustment to the only source of physical life. So, also, "except" this proper spiritual relation be espoused, "you can not see the kingdom of God," and the light and life thereof. The one is physical and divinely controlled; the other is spiritual and humanly chosen. The earth must come and go as God wills. The human soul should do so, for it would then be ever "alive unto God," but may refuse God's counsels, and lapse into spiritual apathy, and finally into spiritual death, unless the danger is seen and flight speedily made.

W. L. ANDERSON.

Chester, Miss., Oct. 12, 1900.

"COLLEGE ENTERTAINMENTS."

MR. EDITOR: In your last issue there was a splendid article on the above-named subject from my friend, Mrs. Mary Inge Hoskins. It does my soul good to read such timely utterances from the pen of one so gifted, and I am sure it will lead to good results. I have long since put myself on record as opposed to any form of entertainment that smacks of the dance or the theater. If parents want their children taught these things, let them send their daughters elsewhere than to a Christian college, especially a Methodist college. Of course, no Methodist college would agree for its friends even to infer that it taught or permitted such things, but all serious people know that the spectacular performances and the theatrical exhibitions given at some of these swell commencements are training-schools of these things. Many a father has groaned in the spirit when called upon to defray the expenses of commencement, especially when his daughter was going to graduate; and many a fond mother has wept tears of disappointment when she realized that her daughter returned from college with her head full of the world.

Why is it that so many of our girls come back from college so worldly-minded, so frivolous, and so fond of gayety? I have heard of some girls who learned how to dance while attending a Christian college. If a girl didn't know how herself, her room-mate would teach her.

All this tendency to show is on a par with church entertainments, where "the publicans and sinners are fed at two-bits apiece" to help purchase a carpet for the church. Think of Lydia getting up an oyster supper, or Paul having a donkey party to raise money to build the house of the Lord in Macedonia. It is no wonder our people are cold and formal, for we have compromised the church, and permitted her pure garments to trail in the dust. Our girls are to be trained, not for the world, or foolish society, but for the best service to God and humanity. Then let us forbid whatever does not contribute to this end.

T. W. LEWIS.

W. F. M. S.

Edited Weekly by North Mississippi, Mississippi and Louisiana Conferences.

EDITORS.

N. Miss. Conf.—Mrs. J. F. Evans...Eupora, Miss
La. Conf.....Mrs. T. P. Fullilove..

ATTENTION, AUXILIARIES!

Miss Marshall has just sent out the following letter to the auxiliaries of the W. F. M. S. of the Mississippi Conference:

My Dear Sister—

The end of the nineteenth century is near at hand, bringing with it the limit of our opportunities for redeeming our pledges to the Twentieth Century Educational Fund. The cause for which we made these pledges is sacred, and the pledges themselves are binding, so it behooves us to bestir ourselves, and see to it that the end of the century does not come and find us delinquent in meeting our obligations and derelict in the performance of our duty. Let us strive to begin the twentieth century with our records clear for the duties of that period, without anything to bring up which belonged to the duties of the past. Of the entire amount pledged to the Laura Haygood Memorial, the treasurer has received only seventy dollars; yet not much more than two months remain in which to raise the balance. How important, then, that we should lend our energies to this one purpose until it is achieved, and then we will have a clear conscience to take up our other duties.

Let all the auxiliaries that have pledged amounts to the Twentieth Century Fund look after the interests of this fund immediately, and as soon as possible send the full amount to our treasurer, Mrs. J. P. Drake, Summit, Miss., so that she will be able to report this fund paid in full by the last of December, 1900. I would urge the president of each auxiliary to press this claim at once.

Hoping for a ready response in the form of prompt remittances to our treasurer for this special fund, I am,

Yours in the work,

ADDIE V. MARSHALL,
Pres. W. F. M. S., Miss. Conf.

As stated above, only seven of the twenty-five shares in the Laura Haygood Memorial pledged at our late Conference have been redeemed—three by Capitol Street (Jackson) Auxiliary, and four by Meridian Central). Moss Point, Yazoo City, Biloxi, Vicksburg, First Church, Jackson; Hattiesburg, Brookhaven, Mayersville, Capitol Street Young People, Shubuta, Quitman, Waynesboro and Enterprise are yet to be heard from. We feel sure that these pledges will be redeemed. What we urge is that this be done at once. Perhaps other auxiliaries not represented by delegates at Conference would like to honor the memory of our sainted missionary. To them we would say, lest they should not be already informed, that the sum of ten dollars constitutes a share; that each shareholder, whether an auxiliary or an individual, is entitled to a certificate adorned with the noble face of Laura Haygood. Let all of us who can, individually or unitedly, honor her blessed memory, and thus help to perpetuate her self-sacrificing work in China.

Oh, let every auxiliary in the Mississippi Conference be represented in this great Twentieth Century Movement! Let us work and pray and "deny ourselves," that we may bring up our full quota of the $100,000 asked of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society! Hopefully,

CLARA B. DRAKE,
Treas. W. F. M. S., Miss. Conf.

Summit, Miss.

Selections.

"HIGHER CRITICISM" AND EVANGELISM.

BY DEAN MARCUS D. BUELL,
Of Boston University School of Theology.

The writer having heard much confident and even passionate assertion to the effect that the newer historical and analytical methods of Bible study were actually undermining the faith and chilling the evangelistic zeal of our younger ministry, resolved to make an investigation which might yield some exact and reliable information on the subject. Having at hand the addresses of upwards of four hundred Methodist preachers, who, as graduates and former students of Boston University School of Theology, have become familiar with the methods and results of the so-called "higher criticism," he sent them, on the first day of March last, a circular requesting each one to report the number of conversions which had taken place under his ministry during the eighteen months preceding, and also during the six months preceding. Replies from about two hundred and ten preachers had been received and placed on file when this article was begun. The returns furnished by the first two hundred preachers, taken just as they came, are as follows:

CONVERSIONS OCTOBER, 1899, TO MARCH, 1900.

10 preachers report	1,583	conversions;	average,	158.3
20	"	"	2,418	"	"	120.9
50	"	"	3,893	"	"	77.6
100	"	"	5,134	"	"	51.3
200	"	"	6,023	"	"	30.1

CONVERSIONS SEPTEMBER, 1899, TO MARCH, 1900.

10 preachers report	2,665	conversions;	average,	266.5
20	"	"	4,232	"	"	211.6
50	"	"	7,310	"	"	140 2
100	"	"	9,089	"	"	90.89
200	"	"	12,399	"	"	61.99

After deducting from the last table the figures reported by the 38 preachers who were in the school at Concord or Boston prior to the year 1885, the writer found that the remaining 162 had been pupils of Prof. Mitchell, the present professor of Hebrew and Old Testament exegesis. These 162 preachers report for the 18 months ending March, 1900, 9,650 conversions, or an average for each preacher of 59.6.

In the face of the depressing decrease of no less than 21,731 in the membership of our church as reported for the year 1900, the returns tabulated above are as gratifying as they are instructive. They seem to confirm what not a few had long suspected, viz.: that the teaching of a reverent and believing "higher criticism" in our schools has nothing to do with the humiliating decline in the evangelistic success of our church as a whole. Nay, rather, the figures point the other way. The actual fact is that the very preachers for whom modern methods of Bible study have clothed the Old Testament record with the historical reality of the New Testament Gospels, are found in the very front rank of successful evangelists.

To followers of John Wesley there is, of course, nothing anomalous in this union of scientific study of the Scriptures with aggressive evangelism. It was Wesley who, on the one hand, said to his preachers, "You have nothing to do but save souls," and on the other hand said, "As to all opinions that do not strike at the root of Christianity, we think and let think." The root of Christianity he defined in the context to be the believer's personal attitude toward the divine Christ, who is the Savior of souls. It was John Wesley, the incomparably successful evangelist, who had drunk so deeply of the foremost German biblical criticism of his day, as embodied in the works of his contemporary, Johann Albrecht Bengel of Tubingen, that he frankly prefaced his own "Notes on the New Testament" with the statement that he believed he could better serve the interests of religion by translating from the "Guomon" than by writing volumes of his own notes.—Zion's Herald.

WHAT DOES A REVIVAL MEAN?

It means:

A deeper knowledge of God.

A more perfect understanding of our relations to him.

A greater desire to do his holy will.

A more intimate sense of the divine presence.

A greater love for God's Word.

A more thorough appreciation of its meaning.

A stronger faith in its promises.

More perfect submission to its teachings.

A greater love for the means of grace.

A more intense desire to profit by them.

Greater enjoyment in private devotions.

More faith and liberty in prayer.

A stronger sense of my obligations to the church.

A greater willingness to do my whole duty in the church.

A deeper love and closer fellowship with the church.

A more perfect consecration of myself to the work of the church.

A more solemn sense of my duty to the unconverted.

A stronger desire for the coming of the kingdom of God.

More earnest prayer for the baptism of the Holy Ghost.

Greater love and zeal in the work of the Lord Jesus Christ.—Exchange.

ONE BY ONE.

There are many of us willing to do great things for the Lord, but few of us are willing to do little things. The mighty sermon on regeneration was preached to one man. There are many who are willing to preach to thousands, but are not willing to take their seat beside one soul, and lead that soul to the blessed Jesus. We must get down to personal effort—this bringing one by one to the Son of God. We can find no better example of this than in the life of Christ himself. Look at the wonderful sermon that he preached to that lone woman at the well of Samaria. He was tired and weary, but he had time and the heart to preach to her. This is but one of many instances in the life of the Master from which we may learn a precious lesson. If the Son of God had time to preach to one soul, can not every one of us go and do the same? . . . The trouble is that we are afraid to speak to men about their souls. Let us ask God to give us grace to overcome this man-fearing spirit. There is a wife, but she dares not speak to her husband about his soul. There is a father that does not speak to his son about his soul. We want to speak to our neighbors about these things. We call it a little work, but let me say to you that it is a great work. If we do this, we might turn ten thousand to the Son of God.—D. L. Moody.

MISSISSIPPI ORPHANS' HOME.

As the Conference year draws near the close we are constrained to write this in the interest of the orphan children being cared for at the Mississippi Orphans' Home at Water Valley. This work has moved along smoothly and the Home was never in a more prosperous condition. The number of inmates has been over fifty during the entire year. Better health could not have been expected, and the Home work has impressed itself on the people as being for the permanant good of many orphans.

Certainly no work comes nearer the heart of our Savior and his church; and the Lord has taken care of it so far. They are not only clothed and fed, but are tanght to work, sent to school and tanght the religion of our Lord Jesus Christ. The nnmber could and should be increased, as many applications come from needy ones.

Five of the girls have been placed in college throngh the generons offer of the female colleges of our church in the State. Two in North Mississippi, and the others at Whitworth, East Mississippi and Port Gibson, without cost of board or tuition. Mnch has been done, and mora of this charitable work can be done if the church will help. Every pastoral charge (and many of them do this) shonld present the matter to each congregation at least once a year. And preparation shonld be made and a grand rally had on Thanksgiving. Give the people an opportnnity and they will help. Many who have made their regular contribntions for other pnrposes will gladly give to this. There are many other calls, bnt none more worthy than this.

Let na take care of onr orphans and thna save to our church these children, many of whom have been going from us, and these children will never forget the church that cares for and traina them. No money is expended by us that will do more permanent good for onr fnture. Let us remember them with onr offerings Thanksgiving.

'Our Home" paper, only 25 cents per year, will keep yon posted on this work, or you can give $2.50 to the Home, and we will send it free.

Yours for the Orphans,

W. T. GRIFFIN, Financial Agt.

Summit, Miss.

MISSIONARY INSTITUTE.

The Missionary Institute of Forest district, Mississippi Conference, was held at Pelahatchie, Miss., Oct. 16, 17, 1900, with Rev. T. L. Mellen, presiding elder, in the chair.

This second Missionary Institnte was held in compliance with a resolution nnanimously adopted by onr District Conference, last Spring. Only six pastors were present and two local preachers. An excellent program had been prepared, which was carried ont as far as possible with the small attendance. An interesting paper was read by W. M. Snllivan on "How to Organize onr Snnday-schools into Missionary Societies, and How to Secnre Contributions Therein." This paper will be sent to the ADVOCATE for pnblication. W. L. Linfield read a paper on "The Missionary Finances in the Forest District in 1899." Bro. Linfield read statistics showing that the amount collected to date is considerably in excess of this time last year, and the brethren present seemed hopefnl of full collections this year.

Our work in China was discussed by several of the brethren. Bro. Mellen gave us a stirring address on he Twentieth Century Movement and its bearing on the missionary work of the church. W. P. Donnell, preacher in charge of the Choctaw Mission, and Simpson J. Tubby, one of his assistants, addressed the institnte in reference to their work. We rejoice in the progress of this important work. Bro. Donnell reported twenty-five accessions this year and two additional church-buildngs to be erected soon.

Miss Addie Purnell, president W H. M. Society, and Miss Sallie Smylie, corresponding secretary W. F. M. Society of the Mississippi Conference, were present and represented these important branches of our work.

Three sermons were preached before the institute; two by T. L. Mellen, and one by P. D. Hardin.

Pelahatchie entertained us royally; the only complaint was that there were not enongh of us to go aronnd. Those of us who attended the institute were greatly benefited thereby. All went away with greater zeal for the cause of our Master, both at home and abroad, and regretting that so many of the brethren who shonld have been there missed this feast of good things.

P. D. HARDIN, Secretary.

Light, Miss.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

"Cleanliness is Next to Godliness."

If you would be really clean, begin with your blood. A mottled skin cannot be washed away, eruptions will continue unless the blood is pure. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood by disintegrating and dissolving the bad germs. Hood's is the royal road to real cleanliness, both inward and outward.

Impure Blood—"My face would be covered with scabs from impure blood, but ever since I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, my blood seems to be perfectly pure and I am strong and in good health." J. Hartstern, 760 Grand Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Get only Hood's, because

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For Sale at a Bargain.

The Advocate Job Printing Outfit, embracing presses, type, stands, cases, etc. The outfit is large and well-selected and most of the material is comparatively new. For terms, address this office.

J. C. MORRIS CO. LTD.

324-330 TCHOUPITOULAS STREET,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

AMMUNITION, BASKETS, BROOMS, BRUSHES, ALARM TILLS, BLACKING, BURNERS, BUNGS, CHURNS, CUTLERY, COFFEE MILLS, DRIP PANS, ENAMELED STEELWARE, Fishing Tackle, Selues, Furnaces, GALVANIZED WARE, GLASS LAMPS, GOBLETS, TUMBLERS, Handles, Inks, Japanned Ware, KEGS, LADDERS, LANTERNS, MATCHES, MEASURES, NAIL PULLERS, OIL CANS, OARS, PAPER, PIPES, PADLOCKS, ROPE, RULES, SCALES, SIEVES, SOAPS, SAUCEPANS, STATIONERY, STONEWARE, TACKS, TRAPS, WINES,

Tinware, Whips, Wicking, WOODENWARE, Etc.

OPIUM WHISKY and other drug habits cured in 30 days Sanatorium treatment. Book and particulars FREE. B. M. WOOLLEY, M. D., Atlanta, Ga.

CHURCH SUPPERS.

"Raising money by snppers has had no part in the Holston missionary movement. To reach the pocketbook by way of the stomach is to miss the conscience entirely."—Midland Methodist.

The above, Mr. Editor, I take from the colnmn of "Notes" on the editorial page of yonr paper of Oct. 4. I am glad to know that the Holston plan does not inclnde the qnestionable means of getting up church suppers to raise missionary money. I believe that more ought to be said in our press and pnlpit on this snbject. It seems too much like "doing evil that good may come." It is not giving on the part of those who participate, for they receive the valne of their money. In giving to the Lord we do not want to receive anything in retnrn except the grace of God and an approving conscience The church snpper encourages intemperate eating, which is opposed to the teaching of the apostle, "Be temperate in all things." It brings the church, the Lamb's Bride, in contact with the world, the flesh and the devil. The Lord deliver us from questionable ways of getting np money for his cause.

E. B. PARTIN, M. D.

Hickory, Miss., Oct. 11, 1900.

Items from the Field.

DECATUR, MISS.

After reading Bro. T. L. Mellen's letters in the ADVOCATE (dated Oct. 15 and 11) I have been wondering in mind as to how many of the presiding elders and preachers in charge believe that they will have a full report at Conference. I have seventy dollars yet to raise, and it promises would answer, I could say we will have everything in full. Brethren, let us ask God to help us daily in our collections, and be sure to visit every home in the bounds of our work, pray, present the claims, and by the time we get around we will have the amonnt.

L. J. JONES.

Oct. 27, 1900.

COLUMBIA CHARGE, LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.

I have just closed a fine meeting at Beouf River. The preaching was done by Rev. J. D Harper, presiding elder of this district. Every sermon was first class and to the point. I have never witnessed a better meeting for the same length of time. Four accessions and quite a nnmber of bright conversions. I have lost a great deal of time on the acconnt of sickness with myself and family, and the small-pox scare, which lasted two months.

We are advancing spiritnally and financially. I take this method of informing the brethren of the Conference that, no preventing providence, I will be on hand when the roll is called at the Capitol City.

G. D. ANDERS, P. C.

REPORT FROM THE LISBON AND SUMMERFIELD CHARGE.

We are now closing onr fonrth year on the Lisbon and Snmmerfield charge, and must soon end onr pastorate with this good people. Many fond memories, however, will linger with us. Onr association with and work among the people here have been very pleasant.

We will report at Conference a net increase of thirteen for this year, and a net increase in membership for the four years of sixty-three. Our assessments will all be paid in full, which was the case last year. Many have professed conversion dnring the four years, and we feel that while we have been blessed in onr labors, the work wronght was graciously received. But as the time for parting draws nigh, how reinctantly we shall take leave of those we have served and loved! God bless the noble people of Lisbon and Summerfield charge. We have on this charge four appointments, four good church-buildings, and a very good parsonage located at Lisbon among kind and loyal people. The pastor who succeeds me will find this a delightful charge.

B. H. SHEPPARD, P. C.

Lisbon, La., Oct. 23, 1900.

REPORT FROM BOYKINS, MISS.

MR. EDITOR: The NEW ORLEANS CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE has been a visitor to onr home for many years, and it's a welcome one indeed, bnt as I've not seen any report from onr part of the work, I thonght I would write. Abont the second day of June we began a meeting, which lasted ten or twelve days. The meeting was conducted by Bro. J. N. Whitehead, who is a true man of God. He makes the Word of God very plain and simple to his hearers. Our people were moved as they had never been before, and were made to rejoice in the light. When Bro. Whitehead returned to us abont the second Snnday in August they began walking in the light. I never saw snch victory at one time; every soul in the house was at the altar, or as near to it as they could get. Many souls were saved; about twenty-two professed entire sanctification. When the meetings began we had abont six people who wonld lead in prayer, and now I think there are thirty-four. God has wonderfully blessed us. We have two prayer meetings—a general prayer meeting on Sunday evening, and we, the ladies, have a cottage prayer meeting on Wednesday evening. Several women have been gloriously sanctified. The Lord is with, us, and we are giving him the honor, for we know he is all and in all. Pray for us always. Yonr sister in Christ,

SCRAP PITTMAN.

Boykins, Miss., Nov. 6, 1900.

PROTECTION FOR EVERY WOMAN IS FOUND IN Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

"I am the mother of four children," writes Mrs. Euphemia Falconer, of Trent, Muskegon Co., Mich. "My first two babies were still-born, and I suffered every thing but death. My friends all thought I could never recover. I was reduced to 109 pounds. When I was three months along for my third child I was taken with hemorrhage or flooding and came near having a miscarriage from female weakness. For two months I was under the care of our doctor, but was getting weaker all the time until one day I happened to come across one of your little books and I read it through, and the next day I sent and got three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of 'Pellets.' I improved so fast I continued to take your medicine until baby was born, and he is healthy and all right. My health has been good ever since. I now weigh 165 pounds."

"Favorite Prescription" makes Weak Women Strong, and Sick Women Well.

BLYMYER CHURCH BELLS. UNLIKE OTHER BELLS SWEETER, MORE DURABLE, LOWER PRICE. OUR FREE CATALOGUE TELLS WHY. Write to Cincinnati Bell Foundry Co., Cincinnati, O. Mention this paper.

BELLS

Steel Alloy Church and School Bells. Send for Catalogue. The C. S. BELL CO., Hillsboro, O.

Church Bells, Chimes and Peals of Best Quality. Address, Old Established BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY THE E. W. VANDUZEN CO., Cincinnati, O.

SOULÉ Commercial College

New Orleans, La
In Session
The ENTIRE YEAR
STUDENTS
May enter
At Any Time.

42 years renowned as a leader. No false promises made, no charlatanism practiced. Over 100 Gold and Silver Medals, Diplomas, etc., awarded us by American and European Expositions. Commercial Course includes Expert Accounting and Auditing, and is Guaranteed Higher and Superior to any other in the South. We own our college building, and have unequalled facilities and an unexcelled faculty.

Graduates hold leading positions all over the country. Instruction all personal.

Having numerous business connections, and being universally and reputably known, we have superior advantages in aiding students to secure situations

A store is connected with Soule College in which students do actual business with real goods and actual money, and they keep the books in the latest labor-saving forms.

Students enter at any time. English, Academic, Shorthand and Business schools. All separate faculties. Send for catalogue.

Address GEO. SOULÉ & SONS.

For Sale at a Bargain.

A scholarship in Mooney's School, Franklin, Tenn.

REV. W. C. BLACK,
512 Camp St, New Orleans, La.

Read What is Said of the 'Combination' Bible.

"I give yonr 'Combination' Bible my commendation and endorsement without one qnalifying word."—Bishop Scarborough, Trenton, N. J.

"It shonld be in the hands of every clergyman."—Bishop Leonard, Cleveland, O.

"One of the most valuable forms in which the Holy Bible has been presented to the public."—Bishop Clark, Providence, R. I.

"Unique in plan, extraordinary in scope and exceptional in valne. The arrangement of the two editions is most helpful."—Bishop Huntington, Syracuse, New York.

"I have carefully examined it from end to end and find it complete in all things. I give it my unqualified and emphatic endorsement."—Bishop Mallalieu, Buffalo, N. Y.

"There are great advantages in it for students, and especially for teachers. I give the plan of combining the two versions my most cordial approval."—Bishop Merrill, Chicago, Ill.

"The Combination and self-pronouncing features make it the most practically useful Bible that has ever been published."—Bishop Spalding, Denver, Colo.

"I consider it as a great gift to every Bible student, and I hope that it will find a place in the hands of every Sunday-school teacher in our country."—Bishop Dudley, Louisville, Ky.

"It is a most valuable contribution to biblical typography and literature, a mine of information."—Bishop Atwill, Kansas City, Mo.

"The best, for use of teachers and students, ever published."—Bishop Wilson, Baltimore, Md.

"It is one of the most perfect editions of the Bible I have ever seen. —Bishop Whipple, Faribault Minn

See our offer on another page.

4 IMPORTANT GATEWAYS 4

TEXAS EL PASO T AND P ROUTE PACIFIC

2 - Fast Trains - 2 Daily

For St. Louis, Chicago, and the East.

Superb New Pullman Vestibuled Buffet Sleepers. Handsome New Chair Cars. Seats Free.

Only Line Running Through Coaches and Sleepers to New Orleans Without Change. . . .

DIRECT LINE TO Arizona, New Mexico, AND California.

L. S. THORNE, Third Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Mgr.
E. P. TURNER, General Pass'r and Tkt. Agt.
DALLAS, TEXAS.

YOU CAN PATENT

anything you invent or improve; also get CAVEAT, TRADE-MARK, COPYRIGHT or DESIGN PROTECTION. Send model, sketch, or photo. for free examination and advice.

BOOK ON PATENTS FREE. No Atty's fee before patent.

Write to C. A. SNOW & CO.

Patent Lawyers. WASHINGTON, D.C.

QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE.

NEW ORLEANS & NORTH-EASTERN R.R.
ALABAMA & VICKSBURG RY.
VICKSBURG, SHREVEPORT & PACIFIC R.R.

TO

Birmingham, Chattanooga, Asheville, Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati,

AND TO ALL POINTS

North, East, North-East, AND South-East,

Only 24 Hours Between NEW ORLEANS AND CINCINNATI

Dining Car Service on New York and Cincinnati trains.

Vestibuled Trains, Fast Time, Close Connections, Through Sleepers.

Full information cheerfully furnished on application.

Ticket Office: 211 St. Charles St.

J. L. BOYD, D. P. A.
J. R. WELLS, C. P. A.
GEO. H. SMITH, G. P. A.
E. J. ANDERSON, A. G. P. A.
New Orleans, La.

For perfect alignment, durability, simplicity and easy operation the

WELLINGTON

has no peer.

Prof. H. I. Holden, acknowledged expert in all matters pertaining to Typewriters, says: "I unhesitatingly recommend the Wellington for its many superior qualities."

Rev. W. C. BLACK, Agen
Congress Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss

H. I. HOLDEN,
Assistant Salesman,
416 West Capitol Street,
Jackson, - - - - Miss.

Correspondence solicited.

When your Typewriter fails to write satisfactorily, drop a card to

H. I. HOLDEN,
416 W. Capitol St., Jackson, Miss.,

and have it put in perfect order. Machines from other cities can be shipped by Express with entire confidence. All work skillfully executed and satisfaction guaranteed. Perfect alignment is the essential point in correctly operating a Typewriter.

HOLMAN'S

SELF-PRONOUNCING

S. S. Teachers' Reference Bible.

Text Conforms Exactly to the Oxford Teachers' Edition.

The self-pronouncing text enables the reader to pronounce all proper names at a glance.

This Bible is printed from Large, Beautiful and Clear New Type. All Proper Names are Divided into Syllables and Every Vowel is Marked and the Syllables Inflected, showing the Sounds and Accents as they are given in a Dictionary, thus enabling the reader to properly pronounce every word. This feature is a great improvement and a strong recommendation for this Bible over others.

This Bible contains the celebrated Oxford Teachers' Helps together with a complete series of New Maps illustrating the geography of Palestine and the surrounding countries from the earliest times, and embodying the most recent discoveries, renders this Bible especially desirable to teachers and students of the Holy Scriptures.

Imperial Seal Binding, Tuck Edges, known as "Divinity Circuit," Linen Lined, Round Corners, Red under Gold Edges, Price, $2.25.

This book in Bourgeois type will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price ($2.25) to any address; but to that select class who read and pay for the NEW ORLEANS ADVOCATE, we furnish it on the following terms: Pay your subscription one full year in advance, viz., to November, 1901, and we will send it to you, postpaid, for $1.50. An edition in more expensive binding will be furnished at $1.80. (A little later you will have to pay to December, 1901.)

For fifty cents additional we will send Bible with index. For twenty-five cents additional we will have your name engraved on the outside in gilt letters.

P. S.—We can give no commission on subscriptions or renewal in connection with the above offer.

Christian Advocate.

OFFICE: 512 CAMP STREET NEW ORLEANS.

SUBSCRIPTION, . . . $2 PER ANNUM
Ministers and wives of deceased Preachers, $1

All Preachers of the M. E. Church, South, are authorized Agents, to whom payments may be made.

All correspondence with the ADVOCATE, literary or business, and all money due or to become due, should be addressed to Rev. W. C. Black, D. D., CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, 512 Camp St., New Orleans, La.

Rev. W. C. Black, D.D., Editor and Publisher.
Rev. M. M. Black, M. A., Assistant Editor.

PUBLISHING COMMITTEES.

LOUISIANA CONFERENCE.
REV. S. S. KEENER, D. D.
REV. F. N. PARKER.
REV. JOHN T. SAWYER, D. D.

MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. R. J. JONES.
REV. A. F. WATKINS.
REV. L. CARLEY.

NORTH MISSISSIPPI CONFERENCE.
REV. W. T. J. SULLIVAN, D. D.
REV. J. T. MURRAH.
REV. H. C. MOREHEAD.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1900.

Some foolish church members put dignity above duty.

To pray as you go is even more important than to pay as you go.

The worst tyranny any man can suffer from is the tyranny of evil habits.

There is a vast difference between preaching the truth and preaching it in love.

We ought to be content with our station in life, but never with our spiritual state.

Many a man who is thoroughly orthodox in his opinions is extremely heterodox in conduct.

A type of religion that does not make its possessor charitable in speech is wofully defective. "Love thinketh no evil."

"The church kicker," says some one, "never gets kicked out of the church." But, alas! he often drives others out who are worth a dozen of his sort.

"A genuine revival," says Dr. Theodore Cuyler, "means a trimming of personal lamps." How about your lamp, brother church member? Is it burning brightly, or is it going out?

Archbishop Ryan is quoted as having said recently that the Roman Catholic Church will never be afraid of Protestantism so long as it is disorganized and disunited. While there is a good deal of sober truth in this statement, it is nevertheless a fact that the various branches of Protestantism were never so united and fraternal as now. The spirit of fraternity among the churches is growing perceptibly. The bitter denominational controversies that used to be so frequent are now almost entirely things of the past. The leading Protestant denominations are co-operating in this country in many directions, especially in the crusade against the liquor traffic, on the question of Sabbath observance, and in rescue and charity work.

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP.

The spirit of cordial fellowship which is supposedly characteristic of all Methodist Churches is now and then conspicuous for its absence. There is no question of the fact that the manifestation of sociability and brotherliness on the part of church members toward strangers and newcomers has a wonderfully magnetic effect. A hearty hand-grasp and a kindly welcome will help almost as much in building up a congregation as good singing or fine preaching. Not many people will continue to attend a church where scarcely any notice is taken of them. Form and fashion should not be allowed to stand in the way of true fraternalism.

A young man once said to his pastor, as he pointed to a certain millionaire in his congregation: "If that man only knew what an influence he could have over young men by noticing them, shaking hands with them, and inviting them to come to church, he could fill this church."

Heaven deliver us from churches where the members are too stiff and respectable to visit Christians outside their own exclusive circle, or to speak to a stranger without being introduced.

METHODISM AND THE CITIES.

A good deal has been said of late about the slow progress Methodism in America is making in the large cities as compared with her hitherto phenomenal success in the rural districts, and as compared with certain other Protestant denominations. Our church is evidently not reaching the masses in the great centers of population as she did in England during the early days of her history. In consequence of this the claim is being made by some modern-day church-men, who are not as wise, however, as they might be, that Methodism is not suited to city people and city ways, and that we might as well recognize the fact that our church is destined to be supplanted in the cities by other forms of Christianity. Whatever may be the cause or causes of our indifferent success in some of the larger cities, Methodists have not yet become so deficient in courage and zeal and self-respect as to be ready to retreat from the field. We firmly believe that Methodism is adapted to all sorts and conditions of men, and that she possesses adaptability enough to adjust herself to changed conditions, whether in the cities or in the country. We have a great deal to learn yet as to the best methods of city evangelization, but the problem is being studied more and more, and we are coming to realize wherein we have made mistakes. There must be a return to the old-time aggressiveness and enthusiasm that distinguished the efforts of John and Charles Wesley and the pioneers of Methodism. Let us not be content with merely holding the fort, as it were, but let us push the battle into the enemy's camp.

Unquestionably, the hindrances to religious progress are infinitely greater in the cities than in the country, but if Methodism continues to stand for a pure and full gospel, and gives unmistakable evidence that she is still "Christianity in earnest," her sons and daughters need have no fears about her ultimate success in the great centers of population.

The mightiest triumphs of the gospel in Paul's day were won in the proud and shamefully corrupt cities of the Roman Empire, nor is Christianity any the less efficacious to-day in the great urban strongholds of sin when the disciples of the Master are strong in faith, united and persevering in effort, and wise in action. For ten years or more the Wesleyan Methodists have been carrying on a wonderful evangelistic movement in the slums of London and several other large cities of England, known as the "forward movement," which has been attended with the most gratifying results. In fact, the masses are being reached just as they were in the days of Wesley, and in some degree the same methods are being used that he employed so successfully.

According to the census returns for the year 1900, while the increase in population for the whole country during the past decade is 21.6 per cent., the urban population during the same period has increased 31.92 per cent. The 161 cities of over 25,000 population now contain fully one-fourth of the entire population of the United States. While we have as yet few large cities in the South, the development of manufactures among us is rapidly bringing about a change in this regard, and in the course of the next ten or fifteen years the grave problems presented by the cities will be as significant to us as they now are in the North.

As the drift of population is constantly toward the cities, and as they are becoming more and more the centers of power and influence in all directions, it is clear that no denomination can be true to the gospel commission or hope to hold its own unless it puts forth mighty effort among the vast mixed multitude of the cities. In them the great political and moral battles of the future are to be fought. The metropolitan pulpits need to be manned with our best-equipped and most consecrated men. The failure of the churches in the cities means disaster to the whole country.

We heartily agree with the following utterance upon the subject under discussion from Rev. Frank Mason North, D. D., of the M. E. Church, who recently said:

"For one, I do not give place to the thought that Methodism was commissioned chiefly as a rural denomination—that it is good for the hamlet, the village, the town, but without place in the great centers of our land. If Methodism can not conquer in our cities, it can not conquer at all. If we can not get men converted—Italians, Germans, Bohemians—and bring them to Jesus Christ, we can not be the leaders of the great religious movement of America. We who are gathered together year after year in these national union conventions have come to the conviction that, so far from being exempt, Methodism has an imperative mission for this latter-day civilization, and that a church which can go into every land and preach the gospel in every language is commissioned to preach the gospel in every city, and in every language in that city, to the multitude gathered there for all that the city brings of good, who are in danger of all that the city brings of peril."

Since the foregoing was written, the New York Advocate has come to our desk, in which (the issue of Nov. 8) we find an able and exhaustive article by Rev. Frank Mason North, D. D, Corresponding Secretary of the National City Evangelization Union of the M. E. Church, on "The Census, the Cities, and the Church." Dr. North gives statistics regarding 136 cities of 25,000 population and over, the cities of the South, however, not being considered in his investigation, and shows that while the population in these 136 cities, comprising nearly one-fourth of the total population of the country, has increased 33.6 per cent., the Methodist communicants have increased 31.8 per cent. "This is a better showing," he remarks, "than pessimists have feared, a worse one than optimists have hoped."

A GENERAL MISSIONARY CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN NEW ORLEANS.

A brief note to the editor from Dr. W. R. Lambuth, dated Nov. 10, 1900, conveys the following interesting information:

"The Board of Missions decided at its meeting in May to hold a General Missionary Conference, to continue for six days, beginning with April 24, 1901. The Executive Committee met on the sixth instant, and after a careful consideration of the several invitations, determined to accept the generous offer of our friends in your city, and hold the Missionary Conference in New Orleans. I trust that from this time on our people will join us in earnest prayer that God will bless that gathering—one which will be fraught with so much interest in connection with our great missionary work."

OUR TEACHERS' AGENCY AT NASHVILLE.

We wish to call the attention of our readers, especially those who are interested in education—and all Methodists are interested in education—to the notice of our Teachers' Agency, or Bureau, which appears in another part of our issue. Let our teachers, and those employing teachers, keep constantly before them this truth: that an education which is not saturated with the principles of Christianity is not education in its highest, truest sense. The Methodist Church was born in a university, and its greatest work has been done by men sent out from colleges and universities not only to preach, but to teach. Recognizing that the strength of the church, and the strength of society at large, lies in the young life, we have, in connection with the work of our Board of Education, established a Teachers' Bureau, the purpose of which is to supply all classes of schools with Christian teachers. It is not proposed to make money, but to advance the interests of the highest education. Is it asking too much that all Methodists, as well as all Christian people, engaged directly as well as those engaged indirectly, give this enterprise of our Board of Education their hearty support?

CHURCH CERTIFICATES, AND ELSE.

On our second page will be found a timely article by Rev. R. H. Wynn, pastor of Louisiana Avenue Church, in which he calls attention to the sad results frequently occasioned by the neglect of pastors to furnish with church certificates members who have removed, or are about to remove, to the city or to some other charge. Many losses to the church and much backsliding would be prevented if, in addition to providing removing members with church certificates, pastors would write to some Methodist itinerant in the city or town to which such persons have gone, informing him of the fact that they are Methodists, and asking him to look them up, if possible. Surely, no Methodist preacher ought to be guilty of the folly of being more concerned about the size of his church roll, and of a reputation built therenpon, than he is about the real welfare of souls and of the church in general. This is a most important matter, and we hope that every pastor will give earnest heed to Bro. Wynn's suggestions.

MISERABLE CHRISTIANS.

It would seem that there are many such ones. I have met quite a large number. They take on their hearts a great burden of concern for what they regard as being the best welfare of Christ's cause. They see a vast deal to mourn over. They lament that "old-fashioned piety" has mostly departed from the earth. There is scarcely any revival of religion in these days equal to those in the last generation. Sinners are not converted in the way that they used to be. There are no such birtheries as once characterized the birth into Christ's kingdom of sinners.

The preaching, too, is very unlike that of olden days. These old, miserable Christians can recollect the time when there were many giant preachers, whose sermons slew score of sinners at one sweep. No such preaching now! And what about the spirituality of Christians? Oh, there isn't any, to speak of! Of course, there is some of it, here and there, in our own church, as a whole, but it is awfully scattering! And what about intemperance? Why, it is simply dreadful! The churches of the land are, for the most part, in league with the liquor traffic—at least to some extent and in some way. Even our Christian President is in collusion with liquor dealers. He actually prefers to serve their interests rather than the cause of temperance. Isn't it perfectly dreadful? Yes, according to the eyes of the miserable Christians, who see everything bad and nothing that is good. When they attend prayer meeting they take part, and what a solemn part it is! Oh, the lamentations which they utter! How melancholic their prayers are! How they groan over the broken walls of Jerusalem! What weeping there is over the universal desolation!

Now, dear reader, I do not say that there is no occasion for Christians to feel sad over the evils which may be found in church and society; but I do think that too many Christians make themselves unnecessarily miserable. They have gotten into the bad habit of seeing the dark side of every situation, and such a habit unfits them for appreciating the many good and great things which God has done and is doing, even in our own land. There are tens of thousands of God-fearing men and women in this country. The gospel is still preached in many pulpits with great spiritual fervor and mighty effect. Missionaries, in our own country and abroad, are rapidly extending the boundaries of the kingdom. Rejoice and be glad, for Christ is still alive in heaven! The devil is not having everything in his grip!

C. H. WETHERBE.

RETURNING TO THE WORK.

We are indebted to Dr. W. R. Lambuth for the following important communication anent the outlook in China:

Politically speaking, affairs in China are still in a very unsettled condition. Slowly, however, "The Powers" seem to be coming to understand each other, and are approximating an agreed policy in dealing with the situation. The most hopeful feature, from a secular point of view, is the firmness with which the viceroys of the central and southern provinces stand for reform and good government. From a Christian standpoint, there is absolutely nothing to discourage either our missionaries on the field or the church at home. Indeed, our missionaries, who were temporarily called to Shanghai during the general panic, are anxious to return to their work. Some of them have already done so, and all seem sure that a wider and more effectual door is opening to them. The following extracts from a letter just received from Bro. J. L. Hendry will be read with interest. He writes from Sung Kiang, China:

"I am happy in having the opportunity of addressing another letter to you from this city. Indeed, I might have done so some time ago, as I was down here for a week looking after the work.

"During the past few months, when so much ruin was wrought in other parts of the country, the Lord in mercy has shielded his little flock here, so that not one of them is lost. How my soul does praise him for his protection! You can have no idea of how happy the friends are to see us again; even our outside friends appear glad to have us back. They regard our return as rather a guarantee of peace.

"Our native pastors have deported themselves during these trying times in a highly commendable manner. Those who could do so have remained at their posts. Bro. Tsian, the pastor at Kan Li, has stayed right through with his entire family, and has kept his chapel open for the preaching of the Word. It is wonderful to see how he has been kept and sustained amid all the excitement.

"So far as can be seen, this region is peaceable. The officials assure us that it is safe in this city, but are not so certain regarding the country places, where there are many rowdies, and in deference to their opinion, I shall exercise due caution. They advise our waiting until peace is made before entering again upon our work as usual. What can be done with reasonable safety, you may rest assured, will be done. All of our native pastors are now at their posts. Still they realize the difficulties of the situation. It is only too true that just now the masses are not in the proper frame of mind to listen to the gospel. In the meantime, however, we shall do what our hands find to do with all our might. It will not be long, I hope, until a greater door than usual will be opened for the promulgation of the Word.

"Bro. Reed is also here, having left Mrs. Reed in Shanghai, where I have left my family too. He is opening his school to-day. While the opening is rather small, he hopes that the number of students will increase as the prospect for peace improves.

"I am wondering when our physician is coming. He could take up the medical work right now, and do much to allay fear and prejudice. Our medical work here has been kept up the whole Summer. Unless the authorities at home soon come to understand the situation, much valuable time and opportunity will be lost. While our wives and little ones may not now return with us to our work, we can do so, and be of great assistance to the members and probationers. The matrons and orphans returned to Sung-kiang last week. The little children are doing nicely.

"I hope that you will not hold our co-laborers in the United States. Let them come on to the field; the way will soon be clear for them."

A NEW BOOK.

MAN AND HIS DIVINE FATHER. By John C. Clarke, D. D. 12 mo. 364 pages. Cloth. Price, $1.50. Chicago: A. C. McClurg & Co.

This book is a bold, masterly and admirable treatise on systematic divinity along the line of conductive philosophy, and deals vigorously and, in the main, satisfactorily with a number of puzzling as well as interesting philosophical and theological problems. In the first part, the author sets forth the principles of a rational philosophy of the human person and of a personal God. The main body of the book, however, is taken up with the consideration of the teachings of Scripture from the philosophic standpoint, some rather novel conclusions being reached. Dr. Clarke claims to have discovered the Bible to be "a treatise on philosophy, the foremost teacher of first principles, the earliest teacher of the philosophy of personal doing, and of causation, and even the introducer of modern words, phrases, and principles that are now most approved as rational and philosophical." The author's interpretation of Old Testament literature is subject to criticism on account of its excessive discerning of symbols. Some of his etymological tracings and conclusions also seem to us rather questionable. An important and useful chapter is devoted to an examination of the philosophy of Philo.

The closing chapter contains a strong, refreshing and luminous presentation of the doctrine of the vicarious atonement of Christ as a necessary element in human salvation. The author, who is a well-known thinker and conservative theologian, says of his purpose in the preface: "The book aims to bring cheer and hope to human souls. All are puzzled with the problems of their own being and happiness. This is philosophy, and all men are philosophers; but largely without method, and with poor logic, and no first principles. Hence, there is little agreement; and what is called 'Reason and Common Sense' is, in a great degree, nonsense. In the chaos of opinions we try to find the line and system of plain truth."

It is a highly instructive, thought-provoking and inspiring volume, and is evidently the product of a vast deal of thought and toil.

NOTES FROM THE SEASHORE DISTRICT.

As I have not seen any late news in the ADVOCATE from the Seashore district, permit me to say we are moving on nicely on all lines. I think 12 or 15 pastors will be paid their salaries in full, and 8 or 10 will bring up every collection in full. A large number have been converted, and many added to the church. All are hard at work getting ready for Conference.

W. W. SIMMONS.

NOTES.

Foot-ball is already responsible for four fatalities this season.

***

Let no pastor count too much on being able to do great things the last Sabbath before Conference.

***

Almost without exception, the pastors of this city are hopeful of bringing up their collections in full.

***

We were in error in stating in our last issue that Rev. Henry Bradford is a son of Rev. D. P. Bradford. He is a relative, but not a son.

***

The Sunday-schools of our church contributed last year to missions the sum of $46,546 47, the net increase over the preceding year being $5,993.47.

***

Prof. Henry B. Carre, of Centenary College, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city, and was a welcome visitor at the preachers' meeting on Monday morning.

***

Rev. G. W. Huff, of the Mississippi Conference, paid the ADVOCATE office an appreciated call on last Saturday. He was not at all well, and is having a tussle with severe cold.

***

In last week's issue the title of Edwin Markham's famous poem was erroneously given as "The Man without the Hoe." It should have been, "The Man with the Hoe."

***

We desire to call special attention to a communication on the third page from Rev. W. T. Griffin anent our Orphans' Home at Water Valley. We hope that every pastor in Mississippi will act upon Bro. Griffin's suggestion.

***

We had the pleasure, on last Sunday evening, of listening to an exceedingly thoughtful and helpful sermon at the Carondelet St. Church by Pastor F. N. Parker, who, in spite of having had to battle with many grave difficulties in his work, will carry up an excellent report to Conference.

***

A card, dated Nov. 9, from Rev. J. S. Parker, the pastor at Gulfport, Miss., says: "We have just closed a great revival meeting in our new church at this place. Thirty-five conversions and thirty accessions to the church, making over one hundred accessions this year. Every assessment will be paid in full."

***

We are in receipt of a letter from Rev. W. B. Lewis, the popular pastor at Yazoo City, Miss., in which, after sending us several renewals to the ADVOCATE and the names of one or two new subscribers, he gives the following encouraging church news: "We are rounding up the year's work successfully in Yazoo City. All our collections will be up in full. Up to date there have been thirty-four accessions to the church during the year—twenty-three on profession of faith. We have had many bright conversions, and some have gone on to perfect love. The spiritual life of the church is healthy. We dwell together in unity. Congregations large; Sunday-school flourishing; prayer meetings well attended."

THE PIANOS AND ORGANS

Represented in our exclusive agencies embrace all the requirements of a perfect high-grade instrument. We make terms to suit, and guarantee our goods.

JUNIUS HART, - 1001 CANAL.

Storm Sufferers' Fund.

Previously reported	$57 50
Mrs. R. G. Rapp, Winnsboro, La., for sufferers at Galveston, $1; for rebuilding churches, $1	2 00
Rev. A. S. J. Nelll, Winnsboro, La., for rebuilding churches	5 00
Total	$64 50

The 20th Century Movement.

BY HENRY G. HAWKINS,
Conference Secretary of Education

The total amonnte from beginning of movement up to date, as reported to the Conference Secretary of Education, are as follows:

Formerly reported		$7 390 63
Biloxi	Increase	5 00
McComb City		11 25
		$7,406 88

DELINQUENT IN SENDING REPORT.

The following charges have made no report to me: First Church, Jackson, Brandon, Sharon, Lake City, Yazoo circuit, Vicksburg, South Vicksburg, Edwards, Bolton, Rocky Springs, Hermanville, Flora, Port Gibson, South Side, East End, Porterville, Waynesboro, Wayne Mission, Crystal Springs, Hazlehurst, Magnolia, Whitestown, Bogue Chitto, Mt. Carmel, Westville, Caseyville, Adams, Wesson, Beauregard, Providence, St. John, Whittington, Bay St. Louis, Pearlington, Purvis, Columbia, Hattiesburg, Galloway, Vancleave, Williamsburg, Leaksville, East Covington, Moss Point, and all of the Natchez district except Meadville. If the pastors of these charges will fill out and send me "Form D" by Nov. 17, I can then make to Dr. Hammond something like a complete report for the whole Conference.

If it be that the blank form has been lost or not received at all from presiding elder, then write on postal the total amount enrolled up to date, how much has been paid, and how much has been specially directed and to what institutions.

We note in the ADVOCATE that the Sunday-school at Bond, Miss., by the rally raised Twentieth Century money to be directed to the foreign mission educational work. Also the school at Biloxi, Rev. V. V. Boone, pastor, reports money raised by Sunday-school rally. Let all such funds be forwarded to Maj. R. W. Millsaps, Jackson, Miss., with directions as to what he shall do with it. He is the treasurer of the Twentieth Century Fund for the Mississippi Conference.

Louisiana Conference.

TWENTIETH CENTURY FUND.

CORRECTION.

Louisiana Avenue Church, report of amount paid should have been $183.15, instead of $83.15.

WM. H. LAPRADE.

INDIAN MISSION.

To the Friends of the Indian Mission in Mississippi:

DEAR BRETHREN AND SISTERS: We need money for the missions very much. We want church-houses and land very much. Who will help? Please send to me at Lorman, Miss., or hand to your pastor to hand to me at Conference. Don't forget us. Please help now. We have received since last report the following amounts. A friend, $1; Mrs. R. A. Harris, $1.

Yours in the work,

A. D. MILLER.

Lorman, Miss., Nov. 6, 1900.

NOTICE.

The Board of Missions of the North Mississippi Annual Conference will meet in the Methodist Church, in West Point, December 5, at two o'clock P. M.

Let every member be present at this meeting if possible.

